Foreward

In 1971 I was appointed by the Administrative Board of Salem United Methodist Church to write the history of the church.

When I began to search for old records and especially the membership lists, I was told they had been lost or destroyed. The earliest list to be found was in 1952.

Most of the other denominations in North Carolina have been more careful to write and preserve the history of their churches than the Methodists. It has been said, the reason we Methodists have so little material in the early history of Methodism is because the early leaders of the church regarded duty more than honor, and the present good more than future praise. Very few of the early preachers kept diaries and if they did, only recorded where they preached and the text. However, Bishop Francis Asbury was the exception.

The history of the church could not be written without including the people who came to this section of North Carolina in the early eighteenth century, built their homes and established a thriving community.

I want to express my thanks and appreciation to the following: Rev. Carson O. Wiggins, our present pastor, who assisted me with the research in compiling the history. O. J. Paris, who proofread the manuscript; Brenda Long Dodson and Carol S. Smith who assisted with the typing. Virginia M. Hamby who typed the manuscript and to whom I owe a debt of gratitude for her assistance in checking and compiling the records used in this history. Ted and Dorothy J. Crawford for old photographs and family papers relating to Salem from 1827-1927; to Edgar Smith for his report on the Methodist Men's Club; Clayton Hamby for the report on the Boy Scout troop and his assistance in checking records of obituaries of the Memorial Association. Allene J. McPherson and Annie Belle B. Tapp on the Junior and Senior Methodist Youth Fellowship organizations, to Nina S. Dodson, Ed Payne, Marie P. Buckner and Ilene T. Riddle who loaned old photographs.

Introduction

John Wesley, founder of Methodism, was born in England in 1703 and died in 1791. He was one of nineteen children and much credit was given to his mother, Susanna Wesley, for his Christian upbringing. He was educated at Charterhouse School and Oxford University and ordained as a minister of the Church of England.

At Oxford University he was known for his methods of getting things accomplished, hence the name METHODISM came into use. He published many books and also wrote several hymns.

Methodists are said to have been known in North Carolina as early as 1760. Joseph Pilmore, an Anglican Clergyman, was sent to America by John Wesley to preach the gospel. He arrived at the small Currituck Sound community on September 28, 1772 and preached the first Methodist sermon in North Carolina at the Currituck courthouse where the two hundredth anniversary of the United Methodist Church was celebrated on September 28, 1972. At first the churches were organized as Societies, and the first society is reported to have been organized in 1774 by Robert Williams. The conference at Baltimore in May 1776 created the Carolina circuit, the first to lie wholly in North Carolina, but its exact boundaries are not known.

The Methodist Episcopal Church was organized in America in 1784 at the Christmas Conference in Baltimore and Francis Asbury was the first Bishop. He was born in England, August 20, 1745 and died in Virginia in 1816. Francis Asbury did not believe in lay representation and one writer said of him: "Bishop Asbury was born and nurtured in the land of kings and bishops and that which is bred in the bones is hard to be gotten out of the flesh."

*He came to North Carolina in 1780. Details of his trip were carefully noted: Sunday, 23rd. of July, 1780 . . . We passed Haw River, wide but shallow . . . then we had to travel the pathless woods and rocks again after much trouble and fear and dejection, we came to Taylor's preaching-house. Wednesday, August 2nd . . . Rode seven miles to Hillsborough and preached in the house of Mr. Cortney, a Taveran, to about two-hundred people. They were decent and behaved well; I was much animated and spoke loud and long.

John Wesley—Founder of Methodism

In 1776 there were 683 Methodists in North Carolina.

In 1777 the preachers were: John King, John Dickens, Lee Roy Cole, and Edward Pride. In 1778 they were paid eight (8) pounds in Virginia Currency each quarter.

North Carolina was a member of the Virginia Conference until 1837 when Virginia gave up its territory.

John Wesley refused to the last to consent to a separation from the Church of England, but he saw the necessity in America and gave his consent in the following words:

"As our Americans are now totally disentangled both from the State and the English hierarchy, we dare not entangle them again either with the one or the other; they are now at full liberty, simply to follow the Scripture and the Primitive Church, and we judge it best that we should stand fast in that liberty wherewith God has so strongly set them free."

Salem was served by Circuit riders of the Methodist Episcopal Church from the late seventies to 1827, when Salem withdrew from the M. E. Church to join the Methodist Protestant. These preachers were dedicated men who felt the call to take the word of God to the settlers which necessitated traveling long distances often over hazardous roads.

The Methodist Episcopal Church was peculiar in several respects, especially in its unlimited exercise of the legislative, executive and judicial powers of the church; these were vested by the traveling preachers in themselves and their successors, to the entire exclusion of all members of the church. No provision was made for any layman to vote directly upon any question in any church meeting.

A publication called "The Mutual Rights" was published in 1824 at Baltimore, Maryland, in which several members of the Methodist Episcopal Church wrote on the subject. The Baltimore Union Society was formed and it also encouraged Societies to be organized in all parts of the United States. This periodical publication was founded so they could express their views on an equitable church representation and church reforms.

The first Union Society in North Carolina was formed at Sampson's meeting house in Halifax County, November 6, 1824. It was known as the Roanoke Union Society. It was the first to be formed after the one organized in Baltimore, therefore the second oldest in the United States. The Baltimore and Roanoke Union Societies became the models after which nearly all the other reform societies were organized until the Conventual Articles of 1828 offered a set form.

The Methodist Protestant Church originated in protest against what its followers regarded as a lack of democracy in American Methodism. At this time the Methodist Episcopal church did not admit laymen to membership in the annual and general conferences. The Methodist Protestant Church was also in opposition to episcopacy which had practically absolute power over the ministry and the power to call meetings of the general conference. In 1828 the first name that was chosen for the Methodist Protestant Church was the Associated Methodist Church, but in 1830 when the Constitution was adopted it was changed to its present name. In 1828 the North Carolina Annual Conference, the oldest in the Methodist Protestant Church, was formed. Here a constitution was drawn, recognizing Christ as the head of the Church and all elders in the church as equal, which secured to every adult layman the right, to vote, and to be represented in every church meeting.

The Methodist Protestant Church did not have Bishops. The conference had a president which is equal to a Bishop. The basic difference lay in the power of these chief officers to appoint the preachers and the period of time for which they were elected.

Origin of the Name of Alamance County

The name of "Alamance" was first attached to two streams flowing through the county, (Big Alamance and Little Alamance) and was later given to the county itself. One claims that it is of Indian Origin coming from the word "anamons," (not known); but the most likely explanation is that the first settlers coming from the Alemanni region of Germany transferred the name to the two streams and through a form of evolution finally became Alamance which seems to substantiate the belief that the streams and county derived their name from the Alemanni settlers who lived on the banks of these streams.*

Alamance was formed from Orange County and became a county in 1849.

Early Settlers of Salem Community

During the early part of the eighteenth century many settlers came to North Carolina and settled near Haw River which is now Alamance County, but at that time was Orange County.

Some of the early names in Salem Community were: Bradshaw, Crawford, McDaniel, O'Daniel, Morrow, Paris, Ray, Steele, Stewart and Turrentine including the English and Scotch Irish Thompsons.

These settlers were seeking new homes and religious freedom. Land was very cheap and the Scotch Irish and English immigrants bought this land and established their homes in what is now Southern Thompson Township in Alamance County. I was told by an old citizen who was also told by one of the early pioneers that the first place of worship was just a "brush arbor" and Baptists, Presbyterians and Methodists all worshipped here.

These settlers had caught the spirit of freedom in this new land and several hundred citizens had organized themselves into an association called the Regulators for the purpose of regulating grievances against the abuse of power under Governor Tryon. This led to the Battle of Alamance, May 16, 1771.

Battle of Alamance

*May 16, 1771 was the beginning of the Revolutionary War on the banks of Big Alamance Creek. In addition to the honor of being the scene of the first battle fought, the claim is also made that his section was the center of more Revolutionary War combats than any other county in North Carolina. Governor Tryon had 1200 men and the Regulators numbering 2000 men. Tryon in his haughtiness had trampled the rights of the settlers and they rose up in defiance calling themselves the Regulators. Nine of Tryon's men were killed and sixty-one wounded. Regulators—twenty killed and three-hundred wounded. This was the first Battle of the Revolution and the Regulators were defeated. It was the beginning of the great conflict between England and her American Colonies.

Robert Thompson asked Governor Tryon to hear the Regulator's Grievances, but this infuriated Governor Tryon so much that he snatched a musket from a near-by soldier and shot Robert Thompson. We think that his ancestors are buried one-half (1/2) mile from the present Salem Church. Two graves, one of the English Thompsons, has the following inscriptions:

"Thomas Thompson born in England, the English Pioneer came from Pennsylvania married Ellander Hulda Hager and they came to North Carolina with a family of fourteen boys and girls. Ancestor of North Carolina English Thompson and of the West."

"Scotch Irish, John Thompson came to North Carolina in 1750, married a Woody, settled on Haw River. Ancestor of Scotch Irish Thompson in North Carolina and at the West."

War clouds were gathering and soon we were fighting the Revolutionary War for freedom against our mother country-England. After the war ended the people begin to think of a place to worship.

Brief Sketch of Bethlehem Church

1822-1922

Written by Reverend Rufus C. Morrow
For the Centennial Celebration

The first session book of Bethlehem Church has been lost and they had to rely on a brief history by William J. Bingham who depended on the memory of the members who were living at the time, 1847.

Bethlehem Church was organized in the fall of 1822 and Dr. D. I. Craig believes Bethlehem to be the reorganization of Salem Church which dates from 1770. Whether all the Presbyterians left Salem for Bethlehem in 1822 they do not know.

The church was named Salem which means "Peace". The first place of worship was a brush arbor. It was a union or community church—free to all denominations. The Presbyterians were first to organize a class at Salem, just when, we have no records, perhaps about 1780-1790. Joseph Thompson, son of James I, was an elder in the Presbyterian Church. After the Presbyterians, came the Baptists. The date is not known how long they held a class here.

Just how many times Salem has been rebuilt, we do not have the recorded facts. This is the third frame building, built in 1903, that has stood on this plot. It is reasonable that one or more log houses were built prior to the erection of the first framed house. The first framed house was 36 x 40 feet, closed in but not ceiled. Between 1855 and 1860 an addition of 12 feet was added to the south end of the first building, making the house 36 x 52 feet. This house was ceiled and had very comfortable seats. This church was never painted. Mr. John Newlin Thompson makes no mention in his paper of a section of the church that was set aside for the slaves to worship; but an older citizen, Mr. John Apple, said he remembered when attending church at Salem there were pews set aside for the slaves to worship with the congregation.

The framed structure was begun in 1901 under the pastorate of Reverend W. W. Amick. In 1902, the building committee was composed of George Wagoner Thompson, Jack Crutchfield, Robert Crutchfield and Joe Durham.

The committee, as committees do, failed to agree on the final plans which included a large vestibule in front. This vestibule was to be used as a place where the men could hang their hats and where mothers could take their babies when they needed special care. At this time, nurseries were unheard of in the country churches. Three of the committee voted to have the vestibule, but Mr. Joe Durham said it would cost too much, which resulted in Mr. Durham resigning from the committee and also the church. He later joined the Methodist Protestant Church at Saxapahaw. Mr. James Bradshaw and Mr. Graham Crawford were added to the committee and the church was finished in 1903. This church contained timber that was in the first and second churches. This church was dedicated the first Sunday in October, 1903 by Dr. J. F. McCulloch, Editor of the Methodist Protestant Herald, Greensboro, North Carolina. In 1903 Mr. Graham Crawford planted ten (10) sugar maples on the grounds of Salem Church in honor of his children. Two Sunday School rooms were added to this church in the early twenties.

Salem Methodist Church on the Salem-Chapel Charge was dedicated Sunday, October 25, 1953, with Superintendent of the Durham District, Dr. E. L. Hillman, bringing the message and leading the dedicatory rites. Assisting were two former pastors. Reverend John R. Poe of Burlington, Reverend W. K. Babington of Swepsonville, the present pastor, Reverend W. A. Seawell, and chairman of the building committee, Mr. T.R. Crawford.

The church was completed at a cost of $4,500.00, and the new two-story brick veneer building contains a sanctuary which seats 250 and twelve classrooms. The church hut located close by contains facilities for social occasions. Citizens of the community gave labor, material, and money to complete the project. The Duke Foundation also made a contribution. The building committee consisted of T. R. Crawford, Chairman, W. J. Smith and Walter G. Shore.

Salem is the fifth oldest church in Alamance County. Cane Creek Friends Church was established on October 7, 1751, Hawfields Presbyterian Church in 1755, Providence Christian Church in Graham in 1763, and Spring Friends Meeting in 1773. Salem is the oldest Methodist Church in Alamance County.

One night Joe Bacon and his friend Bill Straugh attended a revival at Salem Church. Salem, a few miles to the northeast of Saxapahaw was a Methodist Protestant and today is Methodist. Both men were converted at the service, and it was after this experience in the early 1880's that they united their efforts with Samuel E. Woody in starting an union Sunday School.*

Salem Methodist Protestant Church

Salem withdrew from the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1827, and Mrs. Lettie Thompson Crawford and Rachel Thompson Morrow were the first members to join the newly organized Methodist Protestant Church.

The following ministers were Circuit Riders who served Salem Church from the time it withdrew from the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1827 until 1892; but I was not able to find dates or how long they served Salem.

Reverend James Christie
Reverend Alexander Albright
Reverend Alson Gray
Reverend James Dean
Reverend C. F. Harris
Reverend George E. Hunt
Reverend G. A. T. Whitaker
Reverend R. R. Micheaux
Reverend J. C. Dean
Reverend J. R. Ball
Reverend C. A. Pickens
Reverend C. A. Cecil

Rev. J. R. Ball was Superintendent and Rev. A. M. Loule was assistant on the Orange Circuit during 1867-1868. Rev. J. R. Ball served the Orange Circuit in 1889-1890.

Copy of 1892 Deed

In 1892 the Trustees of Salem Methodist Protestant Church, George Stafford (Grandfather of the Astronaut—Tom Stafford,) J. T. Ray, John S. Crutchfield and Thomas W. Thompson purchased a tract of land consisting of 3.36 acres from Samuel Thompson, John Alvis Thompson and wife Priscilla Jones Thompson, J. T. Bradshaw and wife Nellie Thompson Bradshaw, witnessed by Johnston Paris, J. P.

In 1892 Rev. W. C. Kennett was pastor and the high boxed in pulpit was in vogue. Pastor Kennett was not very tall and had to almost "tip-toe" to see his hearers. Rev. Kennett didn't like this pulpit so he went to work for a change. Mr. George Stafford (Grandfather of the Astronaut Tom Stafford) took down the old box, lowered the platform, then fastened the book board to a wooden screw so the preacher might lower or raise the board to suit his height.

At the 1894 annual conference the committee on boundaries recommended the division of Orange Circuit and the Saxapahaw Circuit was formed. The following ministers have served Salem Church from 1892-1939.

Rev. W. C. Kennett 1892-1896
Rev. D. A. Highfill 1897-1898
Rev. W. W. Amick 1898-1901
Rev. J. H. Bowman (John) 1901-1903
Rev. G. H. Austin 1903-1904
Rev. W. W. Amick 1905-1906
Rev. D. A. Highfill 1906-1907
Rev. W. M. Pike 1907-1908
Rev. H.S.B. Thompson (Bud) .. 1908-1909
Rev. J. H. Bowman 1909-1910
Rev. George W. Holmes 1910-1915

Rev. H. L. Isley (Hubert) 1922-1927
Rev. O. C. Loy, Jr. (Lum) 1927-1929
Rev. Talton J. Whitehead 1929-1932
Rev. W. M. Loy (Bill) 1932-1935
Rev. E. A. Bingham (Deceased) . 1935-1938

Copy of 1936 Deed

1936 the Board of Trustees of Salem Methodist Protestant Church purchased a tract of land containing 88/100 of an acre from John Clarence Thompson, Sr. and wife Maggie Snipes Thompson. This land was bought for the extension of the cemetery.

During the pastorate of Rev. E. A. Bingham the church hut (Fellowship Hall) was built. The members of Salem gave of their time and what little money they had for these were the depression years. The size of the hut was 30' x 75'. A kitchen was built later, size 14' x 16'. It is also used as a community center.

Mr. Leo Quakenbush gave a history of the building of the hut. He deserves much credit for his work along with other faithful members of Salem.

The hut was dedicated the first Sunday in October 1938 and Rev. E. A. Bingham preached the dedicatory sermon.

Rev. M. C. Henderson (Deceased) . . . 1938-1939

The year 1939 was a memorable date in the Methodism for it marked the reunion of three branches of American Methodist, namely;

- The Methodist Protestant Church
- The Methodist Episcopal North
- and the Methodist Episcopal South.

The following pastors served Salem from 1939 to 1974:

Rev. T. B. Hough (Retired) 1939-1940

Rev. I. T. Poole (Deceased) 1941-1945

During his pastorage the pulpit furniture was given by Mr. Prince Battle Paris in memory of his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. James Monroe Paris.

Rev. D. A. Petty (Deceased) 1945

Rev. John R. Poe (Retired) 1946-1950

Rev. J. D. Robinson 1950

Rev. W. K. Babington 1951

We became Salem-Chapel Charge.

Rev. W. A. Seawell 1952-1956

During his pastorage Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Thompson gave the Alter Set in honor of their son, Rev. George William Thompson.

The walnut table in the vestibule was given by Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Hamby in 1954.

Rev. R. Z. Newton (Deceased) . . 1956-1958

During his pastorage restrooms were added to the hut with other improvements.

Rev. W. D. Sabiston, III 1959-1960

During his pastorage $500.00 was raised for improvement and completion of the church hut started by Rev. R. Z. Newton. A new light and railing for the entrance was installed. Candle lighters were presented to the church by Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Buckner and Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Bradshaw. During the summer of 1960, Mr. Robert Little had charge of the Summer Youth Program which was ten weeks of supervised recreation to young people—ages 4-20.

Rev. R. M. Clinard 1961

Rev. W. L. Crowell 1962-1963

Rev. H. T. Ferguson 1964-1967

During his pastorage $600.00 repairs to parsonage—storm windows and gutters were installed.

During the pastorage of Rev. H. T. Ferguson, the children of Mr. and Mrs. William Jesse Smith gave the Baptismal Font as a memorial to their parents.

$1,600.00 was spent for fire escapes for the church. Repairs, painting and a new roof on the church hut.

Social Concerns Methodist Protestant Church (Slavery)

The English people did not believe in slavery; and since Methodism was born in England, the American Methodists were against slavery, especially the Northern states. The writer's maternal ancestors were English and did not own slaves but supported the Confederacy during the war between the states.

Slavery finally divided the Methodist Episcopal Church into the North and South Methodist Episcopal Church in the year 1844, but they were reunited in 1939.

In the 1780 minutes of the annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, this question came up: "Ought not this conference require these traveling preachers who hold slaves to give promises to set them free?"; and the answer was—yes. Another question, "Does this conference acknowledge that slavery is contrary to the laws of God, man and nature, and hurtful to society, contrary to the dictates of conscience and pure religion, and doing that which we would not others should do to us and ours? Do we pass our disapprobation on all our friends who keep slaves and advise their freedom?"; the answer was, yes.

In the minutes of 1784, these two questions came up: "What shall we do with our friends that will buy and sell slaves? If they buy with no other design than to hold them as slaves and have been previously warned, they shall be expelled and permitted to sell on no consideration." "What shall we do with our local preachers who will not emancipate their slaves in the states where the laws admit it? Try those in Virginia another year and suspend the preachers in Maryland, Delaware, Pennsylvania and New Jersey." The Methodist Protestant Church in the Southern states and the Methodist Church in the Northern states were divided in 1858 because of the slave issue but were reunited in Baltimore in 1877.

The Negro was not forgotten after the close of the war and the conference of 1865 agreed: "That it is expected that all our preachers shall do what they can to promote the religious interest of the African race within the bounds of our District." Again in 1869, the following was adopted: "Resolved that each itinerant be and is hereby requested to act in a missionary capacity to the colored people in the bounds of their circuits."

Not all the slave holders were "Simon Le-grees" for the slave holders in the Salem Community were known for their kindness and consideration of their slaves. They worshipped at Salem Church for there were seats assigned to them. After the war they continued to live in this community and made good citizens. "Uncle George" and "Aunt Neesie" Thompson reared a large family of boys and girls. "Uncle George" was an outstanding brick layer and chimney builder and he traveled far and near building chimneys. "Uncle Wesley" and "Aunt Lethia Newlin" Paris were outstanding black citizens of Salem Community. "Uncle Wesley" gave the land on which Paris' Chapel United Church of Christ is now located. The Salem Memorial Association erected a marker to the memory of the slaves who were buried in the adjoining cemetery.

In 1838 the Methodist Protestant Church denounced the use of alcohol other than for medicinal purposes, and were opposed to the manufacture and sale of alcohol beverages. The ministers in charge of circuits and stations were requested to admonish any brother who may indulge in its use.

Cedar Cliff Community

Cedar Cliff on Haw River—two and one-half miles north of Salem Church was a thriving community before and after the war between the states. There was a general store, blacksmith shop, cotton gin (after the Civil War) and grist mill, which during the war ran day and night grinding wheat and corn for the Confederate Army. There was a wooden bridge across the river so the people from the other side could cross to have their wheat and corn ground and to buy such staples as coffee and sugar. Part of the old race is still there. I was not able to find out who ran the grist mill before 1882 or who was the postmaster before 1883.

After the war in 1883, Mr. Graham Crawford, the father of John and Ted (T. R.) Crawford of Graham, Mrs. Pearl Crawford Thompson of Burlington and George Crawford of Raleigh, ran the Grist Mill until 1901 when he moved his family to the present Crawford homestead near old Cedar Cliff. His wife, Mrs. Nettie Thompson Crawford, served as postmistress of Cedar Cliff during these years. The old Cedar Cliff property is now owned by Sellers Manufacturing Company of Saxapahaw, which joins the farm of Mr. William Edward (Ed) Payne and his wife, Lee Ora Petty Payne.

Note: Cedar Cliff was the post office address of the Salem Community and Salem Academy.

Reconstruction Days

The year was April of 1865, the war was over and the terrible days of reconstruction were started. The men returned to devastated farm lands—and the northern army had taken all the good horses and left their old nags. John Thompson (Big John as he was called) was very wealthy and had several fine horses. The writer was told by an old citizen of Salem Community that a band of northern soldiers who were camping near his home—which was (1/4) mile from Salem Church—now the Austin home, had tried to steal his horses by breaking the lock on the barn door which he was guarding that particular night. He called to the soldier to halt, but he didn't and Big John shot him. This really caused trouble—the soldiers came and ransacked his home, taking all the valuables and also his horses. It was said of him that he died a poor man.

In the struggle of building up their farms with a limited number of farm hands their church was not neglected, for the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church met at Salem, November 7-13, 1866, and ministers and delegates were entertained in the homes of the Salem people for one week. They had so little of the worldly goods, but they have always been noted for their hospitality which they were glad to share with the people attending the conference.

1865-1870 were turbulent years of the Reconstruction. On March 7, 1870 Governor Holden declared Alamance County to be in a state of insurrection and ordered Colonel George W. Kirk, the notorious Tennessee bushwhacker, to take charge of the troops and march into the county. This was known as the Kirk-Holden War. The soldiers were a disorderly set of men who roamed thru the county making arrests. Eighty-two men were arrested in Alamance County and confined to jail and treated with great brutality and cruelty. The existing state government was corrupt and inefficient and this led to the organization of the Ku Klux Klan that was organized solely for the protection of the white population. After the Klan was organized, crimes of all sorts decreased rapidly. When the Klan movement got beyond the control of its leaders in Alamance it was disbanded. The Ku Klux Klan was active in the Salem Community, but the writer was not able to obtain the names.*

Governor Holden was impeached on March 23, 1871 for high crimes and misdemeanor in office. An older citizen, Mrs. Vina Thompson, told the writer that she was a littler girl when Kirk's men came by her house. Her father had died from complication of measles (pneumonia) in a Richmond hospital during the war and her mother was left a widow with three little girls—the soldiers were rude and tried to get her to tell who belonged to the Klan and where they were, but she refused.

Education in Salem Community Salem Academy

There were no public schools in the Salem Community. There had been a few subscription schools prior to 1861. Several parents would hire a teacher and the salary would be divided among the parents. The citizens of the community wanted a school beyond the grammar grade so they got together and built the Salem Academy. I was not able to find the date when the school was founded or when it was closed. A map of Alamance County in 1893 in the Register of Deeds office in Graham shows both the academy and church very close together. It was one of the leading Academies in Alamance County in the later part of the 19th century and I was told several Methodist ministers did their preparatory work here. Reverend George W. Holmes, one of the leading ministers of the Methodist Protestant Church, attended Salem Academy before going to Old Trinity College, now Duke University, from which he graduated in 1880. He had the honor of seeing three of his sons graduating at the same time in 1914 from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill: James Eugene Holmes, John Albert Holmes, and Ralph Wendell Holmes.

The writer's father, James M. Paris, said the first organized baseball team in Alamance County was at Salem Academy. George and Ben Williamson of Saxapahaw were on the team with him. These three names were the only members of the team that I was able to get.

Money was very scarce after the war and the citizens of Salem Community did not have the money to build a dormitory, so the students boarded in homes and some of the boys worked as hired boys to pay for their board. Mr. Thomas Thompson from the Orange Chapel community attended Salem Academy and worked as a hired boy for the writers grandfather, George Thompson, to pay for his board. He said he ate his first ice cream there which was flavored with whiskey. Mr. Graham Crawford stated that the different families of the community told the teachers at the academy that if the students failed to pay their tuition the community would make up the deficit; this showed how much they loved their school.

Mr. Bedford Thompson was one of the teachers and Miss Bert Bradshaw taught piano. I remember seeing the baby grand piano at the William Payne's home when I was a little girl.

Methodist Protestant Children's Home

Children's Home was established in 1910 by the Women's Missionary Society in Denton and moved to High Point, North Carolina in 1913. It was closed after the reunion of the Methodist Churches in 1939 and the children were transferred to the Methodist Children's Home in Raleigh and it is now used as a Retirement Home for the Presbyterians.

Each year, usually the First Sunday in June, was designated as Children's Day and for several years Mr. Henry G. Paris, Sunday School Superintendent, Miss Minnie Thompson and Miss Ilene Thompson, with the assistance of some Sunday School teachers, prepared the program and each child dressed in his best

"bib and tucker" was delighted to be on the program. The collection on that day was sent to the Children's Home in High Point; this was one collection that everyone was glad to contribute for the benefit of the orphans.

A certificate of appreciation by the Board of Trustees of the Children's Home of the Methodist Protestant Church for a contribution of Salem Methodist Protestant Church toward the campaign to raise $8,750.00 to pay for the farm that was purchased in 1918 for the Children's home in High Point. The certificate was awarded to Reverend J. Clyde Auman, Pastor of Salem Church, Saxapahaw Charge.

Young People's Work

Methodist Protestant Christian Endeavor Society

Christian Endeavor Societies were organized in North Carolina Methodist Protestant Churches as early as 1892, but it was not until 1908 that a Conference of Young People's Work was organized and Rev. A. G. Dixon was the first field secretary.

Rev. Talton J. Whitehead stated that the Christian Endeavor Society at Salem was organized in 1930, with Mr. T. R. (Ted) Crawford as its first President. Christine Bradshaw followed Ted as president, but I was unable to find the names of the presidents and other officers of the Society from 1930 to 1941, when the Methodist Youth Fellowship was organized. The Methodist Protestant and the Methodist Episcopal Churches were united in 1939.

Daily Bible Vacation School

The Daily Bible Vacation School was started in 1931 when Rev. Talton J. Whitehead was the pastor at Salem. The Bible School took the place of the Children's Day Program which was usually held one Sunday in June.

Methodist Youth Fellowship

The Methodist Youth Fellowship was organized in 1941 while Rev. I. T. Poole was Pastor; the first president was Clayton Hamby. George William Thompson and Hight Hamby followed Clayton Hamby.

The MYF gave a Parament Set for the pulpit in 1969.

During 1971 the Junior MYF was organized with the leadership of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Crutchfield and Mr. & Mrs. Jack McPherson, who were the senior counselors. The Junior MYF presented these counselors with an engraved silver tray for their appreciation in 1971.

On August 5, 1973 Salem United Methodist Church honored Mr. & Mrs. Truby Crutchfield, Mr. & Mrs. Michael Crabtree, Mr. & Mrs. Wiley Fuller and Mr. & Mrs. Darryl Andrews for their dedication and leadership to the Youth of the Church during the year 1972-73. Certificates of appreciation were given to each couple by the pastor, Rev. Carson Wiggins, on behalf of the church.

Linda Crutchfield presented gifts to Mr. and Mrs. Crutchfield and to Mr. and Mrs. Fuller who had served as counselors for the Junior Methodist Youth Fellowship. Kenneth Hamby presented gifts of "The Living Bible" to Mr. and Mrs. Crabtree and Mr. and Mrs. An-draws, who had served as counselors for the Senior Youth.

Also, each youth group included the names of their counselors on the Memorial Plaque that hangs in the church lobby.

Ministers who have gone out from Salem

Reverend William Holt Thompson first married Elvira Arnold from Virginia. She died during the year 1865 or 1866. He then married a widow, Mary Lane Manny Emery. He is buried in Salem Cemetery and has a memorial window to him and his wife, Mary Manny, in the Salem Church.

Note: Reverend William Holt Thompson was appointed by President Andrew Johnson as the First Collector of Internal Revenue in 1866 for the Fifth District of North Carolina at a salary of $5,000.00.

Reverend Joseph David Thompson, a brother of William Holt Thompson, married Betty Baldwin and moved to Texas.

Reverend David Hartwell Thompson married Mary Otey from Bedford County of Va.

Reverend J. Edwin Thompson married Rosa Peques.

Reverend Ludolphus Edward Thompson married Louetta Vines McCreary of Lexington, North Carolina, and Reverend Daniel Thomson of Alamance County.

Reverend John Paris, D.D., son of Henry and Mary Johnston Paris was born September 1, 1809 and died October 6, 1883. He attended high school near Hillsborough and the University of Maryland. He was married twice. His first wife, Miss Bellamy of Edgecomb County, died leaving no issue. His second wife was Miss Marie Yancy of Mecklenburg County, Virginia. They were married December 19, 1849 and had eight children. He served several years in the Virginia Conference but returned to the North Carolina Conference in 1865. He was President of North Carolina Methodist Protestant Conference in 1879. He is the author of three books: "History of the Methodist Protestant Church", "Baptist Looking Glass", and "The Methodist Protestant Manual." "History of the War by an Army Chaplain" was never published in book form but was published serially in "Our Living and Our Dead." He served four years as a chaplain in the Confederate Army. Reverend J. L. Michaux said of him: "He was a close student of Ecclesiastical history and of the doctrines and policy of the Methodist Protestant Church."

Reverend George William Thompson, son of

Raymond Alfred Thompson and Jessie Jones Thompson was born October 5, 1926. He graduated from Chapel Hill High School in 1943. He entered High Point College in 1947 and graduated in three years. He graduated in 1953 from the Duke University Divinity School with a Bachelor of Divinity degree. Reverend Thompson was licensed to preach at Efland Methodist Church, April 26, 1946. He was ordained a Deacon in 1953 and an Elder in 1955.

He has also studied at Princeton Theological Seminary, Princeton University, and completed the course of Clinical Training in Pastoral Care at the North Carolina Baptist Hospital in Winston-Salem, North Carolina.

In 1965, he attended a special seminar for ministers at Drew University in the Continuing Theological Education Program for one month of intensive study and interviews with the faculty.

In January of 1969, he led a Confirmation Lab for the three cooperating conferences: North Carolina, Western North Carolina and Virginia. He has served for the past several years on the Western North Carolina Conference of Education and Missions.

He was a delegate to the World Methodist Conference in London, England in 1966. He is listed in the latest edition of "Who's Who in the Methodist Church."

He is married to the former Miss Jo Anne Wyatt of Winston-Salem, North Carolina and they have four children. He has served the following churches:

1951-1957 Sedge Garden Church, Winston-Salem District

1957-1959 Calvary Church, High Point District

1959-1963 Morris Chapel Church, Winston-Salem District

1963-1966 Aldersgate Church, Gastonia District

1966-1970 Christ Church, Greensboro District.

1970-1973 Ardmore Church, Winston-Salem Forsyth District

He is now a staff member of the Western North Carolina Conference-Council on Ministries of the United Methodist Church—with his present home and office in Statesville.

Military Service

We do not have the names of the people who served in the Revolutionary War, but I am sure several did since the Regulators fought Governor Tryon's men in the Battle of Alamance, May 16, 1771. The people of Salem Community have always been patriotic to answer the call to defend their country when necessary.

There are many unmarked graves in the Salem Church Cemetery that probably dates back even to Pre-Revolutionary Days.

War Between the States Civil War

The following are Confederate soldiers buried in Salem Church Cemetery:

Captain R. N. Carter, killed in action at Melverin Hill, Virginia, July 1, 1862.

Johnston Paris

William Paris

John Alvis Thompson

Josiah Thompson

James Monroe Thompson

Exception: Captain John Paris served as a chaplain and is buried in Fairview Cemetery, Lagrange, North Carolina.

Pioneer Thompson Cemetery

Buried in the old Pioneer Thompson Cemetery are brothers:

James Thompson

Samuel Lafayette Thompson

Bradshaw Family Cemetery

Family cemetery of the pioneer Bradshaw family, who were some of the early settlers in Salem Community, is located near Dwight Burke's home, one-mile from Salem Church.

James N. Bradshaw died May 27, 1863 from a wound received at Chancellorsville, Age 21. "Always brave to his friends; always at his post in danger."

George G. Bradshaw, died on the Potomac, December 5, 1861, at the age of 22. A member of Company F 6th Regiment, North Carolina State Troops.

Salem Methodist Messenger Church Reporters

The reporters for the "SALEM METHODIST CHURCH MESSANGER" were: Leo Quakenbush, Ruth Smith, Ola P. Crutchfield, Mrs. Roxie P. Paris, Hilda Quakenbush, Mrs. C. P. Reavis and Mrs. Telza H. Pendergraph.

Mrs. Bettie T. Smith was secretary of the SALEM METHODIST CHURCH MESSANGER and was responsible for mailing the Messenger to all our boys from Salem Community who were serving in the armed forces.

It was during World War II while Rev. Ivey T. Poole was pastor of Salem a publication called the "SALEM METHODIST CHURCH MESSANGER" was published each month and sent to our boys in the Armed Services. In the April issue of 1945, a few days after the death of our president, Franklin Delano Roosevelt, the following excerpt appeared:

"The entire community was shocked and grieved because of the sudden passing of our President and Commander in Chief of our Armed Forces. At the Church Services last Sunday, comments on the death of the President, his record as a great leader, and the national crisis occasioned by his untimely passing were made. It was suggested by Mr. Jesse Smith that the church send a letter to our new president assuring him of our loyalty and prayers. On April 16, 1945 a letter was mailed to President Truman, a copy of which reads as follows:

My Dear Mr. President:

On the walls of Salem Methodist Church, a rural church of Alamance County, North Carolina hangs a Service Flag with Forty Five blue and two gold stars. At the services of this church yesterday, the congregation joined in prayer to Almighty God that He would guide and sustain you in the great task that has so recently fallen on your shoulders. The congregation wants you to know that they have pledged themselves to continually support you with their loyalty and prayers to the end that you may lead our great nation in taking its rightful place of leadership among the nations of the earth for a warless world and for the enthronement of the high principles of the Prince of Peace.

Sincerely yours,
THE SALEM METHODIST CHURCH

Ivey T. Poole, Pastor

The following is a copy of the reply to this letter:

May 2, 1945

My Dear Mr. Poole:

Please accept the President's heartfelt thanks for your kind message of April sixteenth. It is a source of real strength to him to know that he is being remembered in your prayers.

Very sincerely yours,

William D. Massett
Secretary to the President

Sunday School

In 1866, the Methodist Protestant Conference urged all District Superintendents to organize Sabbath Schools and in 1869, Joseph Causey was selected as field agent to organize Sabbath Schools in Methodist Protestant Churches.

In 1875, each minister was to preach on the importance of organizing Sabbath Schools and to encourage all church members and children to attend for religious instruction.

Salem-Chapel Charge Parsonage

In 1952 the trustees of Salem Methodist Church; Paul Pendergraph, John Crutchfield, Ted Crawford, Jesse Smith and Raymond Thompson along with Phillips Chapel Methodist Church Trustees, J. C. Shore, W. J. Davis, and Bill Wood purchased a tract of land in Thompson Township Alamance County on Highway 54 for the purpose of erecting a parsonage for Salem-Chapel Charge. This tract contains 1½ acres and was purchased from Reid Wilson, Tom and Ethylene Bradshaw Payne.

The building committee was composed of the following:

Mr. Arthur Wilson Dodson, Chairman
(Deceased)

Mr. William Jesse Smith (deceased)

Mr. Parker Edwards from Phillips Chapel.

The brick veneer parsonage was completed in 1955, has eight rooms and one bath. An oil furnace was first used which proved unsatisfactory since the two rooms on the second floor had no heat and in 1970 electric heat was installed.

The parsonage was dedicated Sunday, October 16, 1955.

Women of the Church

Women of the Methodist Protestant Church

At the first General Conference in 1834 a Missionary Society was organized and in 1880 a permanent Missionary Enterprise in Japan was established.

The North Carolina Branch of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society was organized at Grace Church in Greensboro, March 30, 1900.

Miss Annie L. Forest, traveling missionary, came to Salem in 1924 and organized a Missionary Society. Lala Paris was first president and served for one year. She resigned to go to college and Mrs. Mollie Paris Durham and Mrs. Ola Paris Crutchfield served as president until it failed to function.

Mrs. Ola P. Crutchfield related to the writer how difficult it was to secure funds for the society during the depression years. The old saying, "Where there is a will there is a way," proved true. Mrs. Ola P. Crutchfield and Mrs. E. L. Bingham (wife of the pastor) who served Salem 1935-1938 tied a chicken coop to the '35 Ford and went from home to home of the members who paid their dues with chickens. These chickens in turn were sold to peddlers (for cash) who in turn sold them in Greensboro and Durham.

Women of the United Methodist Church

After the Methodist Protestant and the Methodist Episcopal churches were united in 1939, the Women's Society of Christian Service was organized in March of 1941 at Salem.

The recording secretary's minutes from March 1941 to May of 1949 have been lost, but the minutes of March 1961 stated that it was the twentieth (20th.) anniversary of the Society and Mrs. Vyvian Crutchfield Franklin was the first president. She was responsible for getting the memorial plates of the Old Salem Church manufactured by a china firm in Ohio. The proceeds from their sale was applied to the building fund of the church. A life membership pin is awarded to a member who has done outstanding work in the society and Mrs. Vyvian Crutchfield Franklin, the first president, was awarded one in 1947. Mrs.

Franklin was very active in all activities of the society, especially in serving suppers to the different civic clubs for the benefit of the church building fund.

During the year 1949 the budget for missions was raised from $40.00 to $60.00. Donations and proceeds from the Halloween Harvest Festival went to the church building fund. The Exchange Club of Graham was served a picnic supper which netted $100.00 toward the building fund. Mrs. Nezzie Crutchfield Smith and Mrs. Jessie Jones Thompson were awarded Life Membership Pins. Soap wrappers were sent to the Children's Home in Raleigh to help pay on the ceiling in the dining room and two bundles of clothes were sent for Overseas Relief. The Woman's Society presented the parsonage family (Poe's) with a knife in their silver pattern.

Methodist Men's Club

"Be Ye Doers of the Word and not Hearers Only."

The Methodist Men's Club was organized during the pastorate of Rev. John R. Poe in 1947. The club was composed of men from Swepsonville, Phillips Chapel and Salem and met once a month until 1952 when Swepsonville became a station.

In 1950 the club sponsored a boy at the Children's Home in Raleigh, James Sadler. Clothes were bought twice a year ($150.00), also gifts were sent him at Christmas and birthdays. James was a guest of the different club members during summer vacations and Christmas holidays. He visited in the Salem community in 1970 and at that time was married—living in Maryland and having two children.

In 1952 a charter was issued to Salem-Chapel Charge and is open to all men of the church—dues $17.50 yearly. At first they had supper meetings, but now they have breakfast meetings alternating between Phillips Chapel and Salem. For the past several months the group has met at various restaurants for the breakfast meetings.

Presidents serve one year alternating from church to church. The following are past presidents from Salem:

George Phillips	Curtis Dodson
Clyde Buckner	Lueallen Smith
Elmore Dodson	Edgar Smith

The club sponsored the Boy Scout Troop number 169. They meet once a month and have a guest speaker.

Boy Scouts

There was a Scout Troop organized at Salem in the fall of 1941 with Mr. T. R. (Ted) Crawford as scoutmaster.

The following boys were members of this troop:

George William Thompson
 Ernest Thompson
 John Smith
 Clarence Smith
 Sabert Davis
 Siamon Williamson
 Charles Williamson
 Ed White
 Richard (Dick) White
 James Cook
 Bobby Franklin
 James (Doc) Franklin

Mr. Charlie Cates from Graham taught First Aid to the Scouts during the first part of the World War II.

Due to the gas rationing and since the boys lived long distances from Salem, the troop disbanded to be reorganized later in 1964.

In April 1969, a joint effort of the two churches resulted in the formation of a Cub and Webelos Pack being formed to supplement the Boy Scout troop at Salem. The new pack would take care of boys eight, nine and ten years of age. Mr. Jerry Ray was elected as Cubmaster, Mrs. Patricia Dodson was Den Mother, and Rev. Carson O. Wiggins served as Webelos Leader.

Salem Church is very proud of Kenneth M. Hamby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Hamby who was the first boy from Troop No. 169 to receive the Eagle Scout Award (1-10-72), which was presented March 5, 1972 during a ceremony at Salem Methodist Church. Taking part in the service were the Rev. C. O. Wiggins, pastor; Willard Johnson of Burlington, chairman of advancement for the Cherokee Council, who made the presentation; Edgar Thompson, the scoutmaster under whom Kenneth made Eagle rank; and Willie McPherson, scoutmaster at the time. Active in scouts for four and one-half years, Kenneth has served as assistant senior patrol leader, den chief and senior patrol leader and is a member of the Order of the Arrow. He has also obtained the bronze and gold palm, the mile swim award and hiked three portions of the Appalachian trail. The Eagle Scout award is one of the highest awards in scouting and only an average of one out of fifty ever achieve this rank in scouting. The Methodist Men's Club from the Salem-Chapel Charge sponsors Boy Scout Troop 169, of which Kenny is a member.

The "God and Country" award was presented to Kenneth M. Hamby, May 21, 1972 which was Youth Sunday at Salem. The title of his speech was, "The Responsibilities of A Christian in the Choice of a Career". He said, "A Christian, however, has added responsibilities in the choice of a career. A Christian in choosing a career will want to abide by Christian beliefs and ideals. He will choose between right and wrong, the life of dishonesty or the life of integrity as a person." Presenting the award was the pastor, the Rev. Carson O. Wiggins.

Kenny attends Southern High School, plays trumpet in the band, and served as a Senate Page in 1971.

George Morgan (Buddy) Paris

George Morgan (Buddy) Paris, received his Boy Scout Eagle Badge on Sunday, October 24, 1964 at Salem Methodist Church. Buddy Paris, a member of Explorer Scout Post Number 65, was awarded the badge of Eagle rank at a Court of Honor held at Salem Methodist Church where he is a member.

Neil Chafin, Assistant Scout Executive of Alamance District, presided over the ceremony and Ted Crawford, Buddy's cousin, made the badge presentation. John M. Jordan, Post Advisor, awarded a number of merit badges and badges of rank to various other members of the post. Paris is a freshman at Chowan College and a recipient of Sellers Manufacturing Company Eagle Scout Scholarship which every scout in troop and post number 65 is eligible to receive. The scholarship amounts to $2,000.00 for a four year term. Paris is a 1964 graduate of Southern High School and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Paris of Route 2, Graham, N. C.

The state of Salem Church in June 1969 was one of bleakness. The church year 1968-1969 had financially been bad, the church falling short of their conference budget by eleven hundred dollars ($1,100.00). Several local bills were also unpaid. The faith of the people was there, but was dimmed by the lack of leadership. As the people struggled to organize and commit themselves to the task before them, there came that resurgence of confidence that can only come as the Spirit of God moves upon the people.

The choir was reorganized with Mr. Kenneth Williams as the director, which has added much to the worship service. New hymnals were purchased at the cost of $455.00. Mr. and Mrs. William Franklin and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Thompson gave the white choir robes as a gift in memory of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Franklin, Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. Wright Thompson.

Finances began to pick up and the church was able to pay all current expenses as well as $330.00 on the last year's benevolences.

Special days have played an important part at Salem and Senior Citizens Day is held the third Sunday in September in the Fellowship Hall. It is sponsored by the Good Samaritan Class, who prepares and serves a buffet luncheon to all senior citizens.

Mother's Day was observed and Mrs. Mary Ingold Smith was the first recipient to receive the honor of being the Mother of the Year at Salem. The Salem Messenger, which had not been printed in several years, was again started in August of 1970, to be printed each month.

1970-1971

The Methodist Youth Fellowship (M.Y.F.) makes a trip annually to White Lake over the weekend and the pastor holds services which everyone enjoys and he (the pastor) gets to know the youth of Salem.

The first annual Great Day of Methodist Singing was held this year which is enjoyed by everyone.

Easter Sunrise Services are held each year at Salem.

A new well was drilled at the parsonage and electric heat installed.

The First Youth Day was held at Salem in 1971. This is the day in which the youth of the church have complete charge of the worship service and other activities. The Youth-of-the-Year Award was instituted by the pastor, Rev. Carson O. Wiggins in 1971. The purpose of this award is to recognize that in Salem Church there are many young people who exemplify values and principles that the church has so long held necessary to make good citizens in our community. A panel of impartial judges read the applications. The award consists of $10.00 from the pastor and a plaque inscribed "Salem United Methodist Church Youth Award". To date the following have been awarded:

Deobrah and Olin Wiggins
1971

Kenneth Dean Stafford
1972

Kenneth McPherson Hamby
1973

The Fellowship Hall was painted and repaired. The Young Adult Class bought a new A. B. Dick Mimeograph Machine and the Junior MYF purchased a new Remington Electric typewriter for the church office.

A new public address system was given by Miss Lenore Franklin. A new refrigerator, couch and curtains were placed in the parsonage.

A new pulpit Bible was given by Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Buckner in memory of Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Paris.

Four new offering plates were given by Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Hamby. Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Thompson gave a new desk to the church office for the mimeograph machine and storage of supplies.

There had been some discussion regarding Salem going station and the members began to think of ways and means to raise the money. A committee was appointed to plan a fall festival to raise money for this project. The committee was composed of the following: Mrs. Joan Thompson Woody, Chairman; Mrs. Katherine Shore Scott, Mrs. Viola Smith, Mrs. Ruby J. Thompson and Mrs. Carson Wiggins.

The people of Salem church are noted for their cooperation and they gave both their time and money to make the festival a success. As the result of the 1971 fall festival $2,869.42 was raised.

Since the fall festival of 1971 was such a success the members voted to hold one in the fall of 1972. The committee was composed of the following: Mrs. Joan Thompson Woody, Chairman and Mrs. Katherine Shore Scott, chairman for the auction. It was heart warming to see how hard everyone, men, women and children, worked to make it a success. Proceeds from the supper was $3,202.49 and the auction raised $965.17 which totaled $4,167.66.

Kenneth Hamby renovated the church office as one of his projects for his "God and Country" award.

The Young Adult Class had a "Hee Haw" Variety Show in May which netted $403.36.

The Good Samaritan Class gave a luncheon at the Fellowship Hall September 16, 1973 honoring the Senior Citizens of Salem Community.

The Junior and Senior MYF had a Halloween Carnival in October and raised $259.48.

The Beginners Class taught by Mrs. Mary and Carol Smith made pin cushions and raised $100.00 for the Parsonage Building Fund.

Again this year, we had as our fund raising project, a fall festival. Joan T. Woody was chairman and Katherine S. Scott had charge of the auction. The amount cleared was $5,047.17. Our building fund for a parsonage when we go "station" now stands at $22,269.-52.

The Great Day of Methodist Singing was held Sunday, November 4, 1973.

Salem United Methodist Church paid all of the Conference askings and all local bills for the year ended December 31, 1973. There were no bills outstanding at the year end.

For the first three months of 1974, all bills were paid and the Conference askings were paid for one fourth of the year. For the first 2½ months of the year, 1974, Salem United Methodist Church was one of the top churches in the Burlington District for paying Conference askings.

National Methodist Shrines Within the Bounds of North Carolina Conference

Methodism did not take root in America until the late 1760's although John Wesley organized an evangelical group within the Church of England at Savannah, Georgia in 1736.

Eastern North Carolina was among the sections of the original Colonies where Methodism began to flourish before the Societies were organized into the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1784.

Green Hill House

In April, 1785, near Louisburg, the Green Hill House was the scene of the first annual conference of the newly organized Methodist Episcopal Church which had its inception in the famous Christmas Conference in 1784 held at Lovely Lane Chapel in Baltimore, Maryland. In a spacious "Upper Room" twenty preachers from thirty-one circuits on the continent met with the newly consecrated Bishops Asbury and Coke and reported nearly 1000 new members. A lay preacher and colonial political leader, Major Green Hill, served as host for this and three future conferences, two in 1792 and one in 1793.

Whitaker's Chapel

The North Carolina Annual Conference, the oldest conference in the Methodist Protestant Church, was organized in Whitaker's Chapel on Friday, December 19, 1828. Whitaker's Chapel, which was first erected in 1740, is located near Enfield, North Carolina.

In April, 1970, the general conference designated the Chapel as the Fifteenth Shrine of American Methodists. This designation climaxed a six-year effort on the part of North Carolina Conference Historical Society and followed the restoration of the Chapel by the late J. Waldo Whitaker, who preserved the 19th century atmosphere.*
