Marion, Indiana

Dear Dr. Carter:

If nothing else we certainly manage to maintain an active correspondence with one another. I do appreciate your promptness in taking care of these matters relating to the Journal.

Despite the delay in publishing date, I still think the offer of Pilgrim Press is a very desirable one, and it would be my judgment to go ahead and work with them. Would it be possible to enter into some kind of contractual agreement with them so that they would know that our materials would be coming to them in the early winter of each year so that they can schedule work and get it ready for us earlier than they are able to do at this time.

Below is listed the information you have requested with reference to preparing the copy for the publisher.

Wilber T. Dayton - Th.D., Chairman Division of Biblical Literature, Asbury Theological Seminary.

Merne A. Harris - Ph.D., Dean, Vennard College, University Park, Iowa.

Gilbert M. James - Ph.D., Associate Professor of The Church in Society, Asbury Theological Seminary.

Charles W. Carter - Th.M., Chairman Division of Philosophy and Religion, Taylor University.

Arthur M. Climenhaga - LL.D., Executive Director National Association of Evangelicals.

Jerry Mercer - M.Th., Assistant Professor of Religion, Azusa Pacific College.

Roy S. Nicholson - D.D., Chairman Division of Religion and Professor of Bible, Central Wesleyan College, Central, South Carolina

I trust that this information will meet your needs, but please feel free to check with me if I can be of further help to you.

Sincerely yours,
