Dear Dr Caldwell:

The latest WTJ has come and it is great! I look forward to getting the second volume of the 14th issue when it is ready.

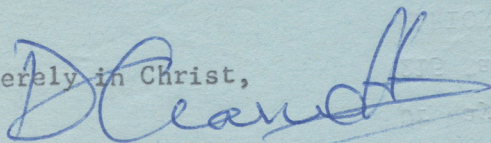

The time has come for me to order another 5 sets of the WTJ for volumes 1-13. Then, in addition, I would have you send me an additional 10 volumes of both numbers 1 and 2, in the 14th issue.

Concerning costing: previously, I think you charged me at the student rate. However not all of these will go to students, and I am hoping to penetrate the library market in various colleges over here. How would it be if you set a rate at 40% (or more) off your normal retail price? Perhaps the committee would consider this. I would like to suggest

- (i) that you allow Essential Christian Books to be your Australian distributor for the WTJ to all except paid up members of the WTS;
- (ii) this would mean, that all orders would be filled by me and that Essential Christian Books would have the sole distribution rights in Australia, for non-members of the WTS, theological libraries and general institutions over here.
- (iii) this arrangement would encourage me to order larger quantities, to promote the WTJ throughout the country and to commend the Wesleyan position more widely.

Let me know what you think about these propositions.,

Sincerely in Christ,

Rev Dallas Clarnette
