

June 2, 1936.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. Holton and the minutes read and approved.

Russell Ranson and Reba Cousins reported for the committee on delegates to the Leadership Schools at Junaluska. They suggested that three people, if possible, be sent, one from each of the age-group divisions; their suggestions included Edna Lawson, superintendent of the Beginners' Department, a young person from the Young People's Department yet to be selected, and Horace Fowler, vice-president of the Pastors' Aides Class, who might be able to go on his own. Mr. Lentz was added to the committee, and the committee given the power to send one delegate, at least, from the children's division, if it could devise the way to get the money, as the condition of the treasury made it impossible to appropriate any.

Prof. Wilson reported that the Senior-Young People's group was functioning much better organized as one department, under the conditions now existing, and expressed the idea that this plan should be continued on for a while.

Mr. Allen reported on Mrs. Abernethy, as suggested at the last meeting, and showed why it seemed unwise to invite her to take her old place in the Beginners' Department, as Mrs. McDonald held the secretary's place there, as Mrs. Abernethy had not been a teacher.

Upon request of the counselor, the following possibilities for workers in the Intermediate Department were suggested: E.L. Haywood, A.A. Long, George Manning, and Philip Umstead.

It was reported that a successor for Jane Wilson would be needed for one year as she was leaving for Library School. Lottie Maye Roberts was suggested for the place, but final decision was left until the next meeting.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. Kiffin and the minutes were read and approved.

Miss H. Johnson and Miss G. Johnson reported for the committee on the progress of the book which is being prepared. They suggested that three copies of the book be sent to each of the groups. Their suggestions included that each group should of the members' government, a young person from the Young People's Department yet to be selected, and Harold Fowler, vice-president of the district, Alice Glass, who might be able to do on his own.

It was added to the committee, and the committee given the power to send one delegate, at least, from the children's division, if it could advise the way toward the work, as the condition of the treasury made it impossible to appropriate any.

Miss H. Johnson reported that the Young People's group was functioning well and was organized as one group. Under the conditions now existing, and expressed the idea that this plan should be continued for a while.

An action reported on Mrs. Abernethy, as suggested at the last meeting, and showed why it seemed wise to invite her to take her place in the Young People's Department, as Mrs. Johnson had held the secretary's place there, as Mrs. Abernethy had not been a teacher.

Upon request of the committee, the following possibilities for workers in the Intermediate Department were suggested: L. L. Hayward, L. Lane, George Smith, and Miss D. Smith.

It was reported that the Young People's group would be ready for one year as she was leaving for Lakeland School, Lottie May reported was suggested for the place, but that decision was left until the next meeting.

A Workers' Council meeting and supper was set for the next meeting on July 7. The Board meeting is to be held at 5:30, supper at 6:15, leaving place for the Board of Stewards meeting and Quarterly Conference afterwards, the stewards to be invited to the supper meeting.

Mrs. Paschall asked for some help for a rug for the Nursery Department, and it was agreed that it should be gotten by individual contributions, several present offering some.

The Church-hour Nursery was discussed some, it being reported that not many children had been to it as yet. Mrs. Paschall agreed to keep it open on during the summer, hoping that by the fall it would have a firmly established place in the church. It was suggested and decided to present it at the Workers' Council supper next time.

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned.

Those present were: Mr. Smith, Mr. Holton, Prof. Wilson, Mrs. Paschall, Mr. Lentz, Russell Ranson, and Reba Cousins.
