

MEALS ON WHEELS AND YOU!

What is Meals on Wheels? This program is designed to serve one hot, nutritious home-delivered noon meal to local residents who for health reasons are unable to provide adequate food for themselves. The homebound, convalescing, blind, disabled, and elderly are served. Recipients pay for their meals according to their means, some the full price of $2.25, some $1.00, some 25¢.

How does it work? Meals are delivered by volunteers working in teams of two persons. All the food is delivered in insulated carrying-cases and the individual trays are light-weight plastic. Routes are planned to take only one hour of the volunteer's time from start to finish. If volunteers choose not to drive or help deliver, they may help in the Trinity Methodist church kitchen packing trays and preparing the vegetables. The work is light and the program very efficiently organized. Most trips take less than an hour. One can volunteer for an hour a month, an hour a week as a regular worker or as a substitute. Our church urges you to volunteer for this worthy outreach program. The work is immeasurably rewarding. Try it just once! You'll like it.

SHARE WITH OTHERS ON THANKSGIVING DAY

Thanksgiving Day is November 22nd...a time to give thanks for the bountiful blessings that are ours. The Council on Ministries would like to suggest a way to give Thanksgiving this year special meaning - invite an international student from Duke University to share Thanksgiving with you. Each year, close to 500 students from around the world come to Durham for undergraduate and advanced studies at Duke. Many are far from home for the first time, and most have no special place to spend Thanksgiving Day. With the University dining halls closed, Thanksgiving can be a quiet and lonely experience for them.

In conjunction with the International House at Duke, the Council on Ministries would like to match up Duke Memorial families desiring to have a special guest for Thanksgiving with interested international students. If this idea has appeal to you, please contact Margaret Anne Biddle at the church office before Sunday, November 11. The following week, we will contact the International House at Duke and make arrangements to match up students with their hosts.

We urge you to give special consideration to this idea. Participating in this program could easily give special meaning to your Thanksgiving this year.
