LAWS OF NEW YORK—CHAPTER 99

AN ACT to facilitate the unification and integration of the missionary organizations and societies of The Methodist Church and for that purpose to incorporate Woman's Division of Christian Service of the Board of Missions and Church Extension of The Methodist Church.

Became a law March 12, 1942, with the approval of the Governor.

Section 1. All persons associated, or who may become associated, together in the corporation hereinafter named are constituted a body corporate under the name and style of "Woman's Division of Christian Service of the Board of Missions and Church Extension of The Methodist Church."

§ 2. The objects of said corporation are religious, philanthropic and educational, designed to diffuse more generally the blessings of Christianity and education in every part of the world and to promote and support Christian missions, missionary schools and all phases of religious activity at home and abroad; to develop and maintain Christian work among women and children at home and abroad; to cultivate Christian family life; to enlist and organize the efforts of Christian women, young people, and children in behalf of native and foreign groups, needy childhood, and community welfare; to assist in the promotion of a missionary spirit throughout the church; to select, train, and maintain Christian workers; to cooperate with the local church in its responsibilities, and to seek fellowship with Christian women of this and other lands in establishing a Christian social order around the world.

It may conduct and carry on its work directly as well as through corporate or other agencies of The Methodist Church now existing or hereafter established, including all agencies and corporations of the Methodist Episcopal Church, the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and the Methodist Protestant Church, which are now united in The Methodist Church, and through such denominational, inter-denominational, or other agencies as it may determine.

Said corporation shall be under the direction and control of the General Conference of The Methodist Church.

§ 3. The management and disposition of the affairs and property of said corporation shall be vested in its members who shall collectively constitute its Board of Managers. The Board of Managers may delegate its power and authority to an executive committee. The number of its members, qualifications for membership, method of choosing members, number and qualifications of members to serve on the executive committee and the method of choosing such committee shall be as heretofore, or as from time to time hereafter, prescribed by the General Conference of The Methodist Church. The managers and executive committee appointed as prescribed by said General Conference at its last previous session shall be entitled to act as such from and after the time this act shall take effect, until successors, chosen as prescribed by the General Conference shall assume their duties.

§ 4. Said corporation shall have perpetual succession, may adopt a common seal and alter the same at pleasure, may sue and be sued, may acquire property for corporate purposes by grant, gift, purchase, devise or bequest, and hold or dispose of the same subject to such limitations as may be prescribed by law, may sell, transfer, lease, mortgage or otherwise dispose of such property, whether held in trust or otherwise, without obtaining leave of any court, may borrow money and secure the same by mortgage or otherwise, shall be competent to act as trustee in respect to any gift, devise or bequest pertaining to the objects of the corporation, may accept contributions to its funds subject to annuity, and may make such by-laws and rules for the management of its affairs as may be consistent with law and with its constitution which shall be adopted and may be altered from time to time by or under the authority of the General Conference of The Methodist Church, and shall have all the general powers and privileges of a corporation organized under the corporation laws of the state of New York.

§ 5. Said corporation is organized exclusively for charitable, religious and educational purposes and not for profit. None of its members, executive committee or officers shall have any share or interest in its assets or earnings; no shares of stock shall be issued and no part of its net earnings shall inure to the benefit of any private individual and no part of its activities shall be attempting in any way to influence legislation.

§ 6. In the judgment of the legislature the objects of this corporation cannot be attained under general laws, and the provisions of this act shall be liberally construed with a view to effecting its objects and promoting its purposes.

§ 7. This act shall take effect immediately.

Report of Department of Christian Social Relations and Local Church Activities.—Mrs. James Oldshue, Chairman; Miss Thelma Stevens, Executive Secretary; Mrs. Oldshue presented the following report and recommendations, which were adopted:

Methodist women face grave situations at this time of global warfare. The nature of peacemaking is clarified if we see that it begins at home, that it involves "the presence of justice" in one's local community. Proposals to smash Germany and Japan and take over the policing of the distant parts of the globe sometimes tend to divert attention from evils near at hand and within our power to correct. It is important that we see that abuses and failures within our own society weaken all recommendations we make for world order. If we are realistically interested in peacemaking, let us make the United States a proving ground for democracy.

This will make us more rather than less concerned with international issues. However enmeshed we become with the needs of our communities, we must see their correlation with the needs of the world community. There should be no such complete absorption in the immediate as will make the world situation of no concern. The two concerns belong together and each lends realism and urgency to the other.

One of the most vital issues for us today is preparation for the employment of those who may be dropped from jobs when peace comes. Since employment is an integral part of peace, we believe that all church women should study the situation to determine where they can best throw their influence to remedy this situation as a step to building a lasting peace.

We recognize that the social, economic, and public-health aspects of the narcotic problem are of such magnitude that Methodist women must reaffirm their principles of total abstinence and increase their efforts in support of approved educational and legislative procedures that may work effectively toward the solution of this problem.

Racial tensions and anti-Semitism have increased during the past year. The treatment of minorities in America has been a constant embarrassment to the United States in the present world conflict. If this country is to take its place of leadership in planning for peace and in the postwar world there must be a closer relation between the theory and practice of democracy. Likewise, the church by the nature of its faith is constrained to become more adequately Christian in its own practice. It is deadening to the effort to achieve brotherhood to assume that we have it when it has not yet been achieved. The jurisdictional organization of our church tacitly accepts the principles of segregation. Methodist women have an obligation to stimulate within the church an increasing awareness of the contradiction between our Christian ideals and our plan of organization.

We recognize that the current world situation is producing an unusual strain on family living, the home itself should be a unit of democratic living where decisions are arrived at co-operatively. The democratic spirit and the attitude of Christian appreciation bears its finest fruit when family life is conducted on a basis of mutual superiority. If each member recognizes the contribution of the other there results a creative fellowship in which differences add color, richness, and completeness to family experiences.

In light of these situations we make the following recommendations:

I. General Recommendations

We recommend:

1. That one of the approved studies for 1944-45 be "Christians and the New World Economy."

2. That the Department of Missionary Education prepare a Bible study using the theme, "The New Testament Teachings on Race."

3. That the department set up workshops in various geographical areas of the church with emphasis on phases of postwar planning with interracial leadership and for interracial groups.

(a) That a free leaflet be issued suggesting techniques for setting up similar workshops in local, district, and conference groups.

4. That the future policy of the department be that of centering its efforts on one or two timely emphases selected from the department's general program.

5. That the department formulate a statement of undergirding principles based on the social tenets of The Methodist Church, to be used as a guide by the department in building its annual programs.

6. That The Methodist Woman and The World Outlook be requested to include some time during the coming year, the following articles:

(1) Guidance in interpreting subtle propaganda on alcoholic beverages.

(2) Alcoholism as social, economic, and public-health problems.

(3) Alcohol education in the public-school program.

(4) The dramatic and sacrificial struggle of the coal miners.

(5) What is involved in full employment.

(6) An article showing the financial obligation of The Methodist Church to the historic peace churches for the maintenance of Methodist Youth in Civilian Public Service Camps challenging the support of interested persons.

(7) Information on "The Christian Family."

7. That a legislative committee be formed, composed of one member from each of the seven resource committees, to assist in the analysis of proposed measures before Congress. The information thus secured to be used at the discretion of the secretary.

8. That a seminar be authorized for 1944 similar to the Garrett Seminars of 1942-43 with a $50 subsidy allocated to each jurisdiction, and that the jurisdiction and conference societies promote the seminar and where possible provide similar subsidies for their leaders.

9. That seminars and studies in the area of Christian Social Relations and Local Church Activities be planned for the jurisdiction schools, and the department provide a $10 subsidy for each conference secretary attending.

10. That the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America be asked to prepare a syllabus on "Education for New Homemakers" which can be used by the local church. We further recommend that the United Council of Church Women be asked to co-operate in the promotion of this study.

II. The Church and Community Needs

We recommend:

A. That we urge the women of the local societies

1. To foster in the community a recognition of alcoholism as an immediate and long-time problem of public health and mental hygiene and encourage the community to provide medical and psychiatric care for alcoholic patients and that they discourage present tendencies in some communities toward "jail treatment" of alcoholics, since this serves no rehabilitative purpose and tends toward further demoralization of the alcoholic and his family.

2. To study state and national laws protesting those tendencies which weaken laws regarding the sale of alcoholic beverages and supporting those which are protective in nature.

3. Through the secretary of Christian Social Relations and Local Church Activities to co-operate with and secure the co-operation of school people and Parent-Teachers' Associations in carrying out adequately the provision of state laws requiring instruction on alcohol and other narcotics.

4. To work for the development of educational methods in the understanding of the ballot as an instrument for promoting general welfare.

5. To support Federal aid to public education provided the administration of schools remains under local supervision and that Federal funds be used without discrimination.

6. To be watchful to prevent curtailment of local educational funds with the attendant detrimental effect on recreational and educational opportunities.

7. To urge upon their congressmen the continuation with adequate financial support of the FSA and OPA, and also to examine the practices of these and other agencies to see that all people are serviced in a democratic manner.

8. To study church agencies in the light of current trends in social work, comparing methods and effective practices with those of other community agencies in order to avoid duplication and to bring about effective co-operation.

9. To learn the provisions of the Lanham Act under which care for children can be made available and the local secretaries are urged to see that funds are used in needed areas.

10. To continue their concern for the administration of courts, rehabilitation of prisoners, and treatment by public officials of suspected violators of the law.

B. We further recommend:

That we urge the church to study the effectiveness of its program in meeting the needs of industrial and low-income groups in the light of the growing response to the various cults and sects.

C. That special study and action be directed toward the provisions for juvenile and adolescent protection and that a packet on this be made available with a free pamphlet expediting its use.

III. The Church and Postwar Planning

We recommend:

1. That continuous and vigorous influence on public opinion be directed toward a peace that will liberate minorities and insure them rights as absolute as those of majorities, that will abolish to the utmost racial discrimination, that will give labor full rights of organization, and insure to all who are employable a reasonable chance of productive employment, and that will re-establish the foundations of civilization.

2. Recognizing the significance of the Moscow and Atlantic City (UNRRA) Conferences and the fact that foundations for future peace and for building a new world order are being laid now by the United Nations, we recommend that Christian groups give strong support to the formation of an organization in which all the peoples of the world may have representation when political decisions which determine the future world order are made.

3. In view of the danger of postwar trends toward unfair displacement of women employed in industry, we recommend that the Woman's Division authorize the calling of a small findings conference of experts for the purpose of securing relevant facts with their Christian and ethical implications, bearing on these discriminatory plans and practices, such facts to be publicized as early as possible. We further recommend that the Department of Christian Social Relations and Local Church Activities, in co-operation with other interested lines of work in the Woman's Division, initiate and plan such a conference.

4. Realizing that through their government the people of the United States own new plants valued at $21,000,000,000 and that Christians have an immediate responsibility to see that these plants will not be taken over for a song at the close of the war by selfish financial interests, we recommend that the local societies watch processes of conversion of such plants into the production of actual necessities of all people, and that suggestions and constructive protests be made to the proper authorities at the critical time.

5. That we support the intent and substance of H. R. 2861, sponsored by John H. Dingill and the companion S. R. 1161 introduced by Senator Robert Wagner, insofar as it provides for extension of Old Age and Survivors Insurance to farm laborers and domestic workers, self-employed persons, and employees of non-profit institutions.

6. That in a study of postwar problems, attention be given to the influence of alcohol and other narcotics in relation to the conservation of human and material resources and economic adjustments between nations, and to the whole pattern of international trade.

7. That church women acquaint themselves with the present method of treaty ratification in Congress and work for a more democratic method for same.

IV. The Church and Family Solidarity

We recommend:

1. That women utilize the opportunities for religious development emerging in the normal routine of life; and that they develop Christian living in the family by means of worship within the home, within the church, and by the observance of special occasions.

2. (a) That education for counseling in the field of Christian Marriage and Family Life, and other related areas, be made available by the Woman's Division of Christian Service to persons preparing for work as deaconesses and missionaries.

(b) That the Woman's Division suggest through proper channels that increased provision be made in pastors' or conference-wide schools for courses to help pastors to counsel in the area of marriage and family life.

3. That we urge the provision of opportunities for wholesome companionship, community-wide recreation programs, and vigilant care lest children be exploited by commercialized recreational agencies.

4. That we seek to establish family solidarity through active support of measures for the protection of juveniles and others by the elimination of outlets for the sale of alcohol and other narcotics.

5. That local societies in co-operation with other agencies make a study of their child-labor laws and their abuses.

V. Ways of Building Group Unity

1. In view of the increasing racial tensions and the growing anti-Semitic propaganda, we call attention of Methodist women that any racial and group discriminations are contrary to the ideals of democracy and Christianity. Methodists are called upon as individuals and groups to actively combat such tendencies by seeking to trace rumors to their source and by refusing to spread suspicion and distrust.

We recommend:

2. That we lend our support to the formation of interfaith and interracial groups, which build upon the common elements of our religious heritage and human interest.

3. That a simple leaflet be prepared as a primer enunciating clearly democratic principles, and acquainting people with antidemocratic and devious techniques practiced by Fascists.

4. That church women be alert to the opportunities for creating occasions for larger and more inclusive fellowship in observing the great Christian festivals of Christmas and Easter, as well as for fostering an appreciation of the achievements of great artists.

5. That in carrying forward the program of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, study and action groups be formed on the basis of common interests and geographic proximity in order to further co-operation and fellowship across jurisdictional lines.

6. That general meetings of the church be held where there will be no segregated arrangements and that church-wide programs of promotion and inspiration be planned for all groups without regard to race.

7. That church women concern themselves in their local communities that democratic procedures be followed in setting up groups representative of the entire community to study community-wide problems and needs and how to meet them.

8. That recognition be given to the alcohol problem as one affecting all groups in the community, furnishing opportunity for building group unity through study and action.

9. That church and trade-union groups come together for better understanding and to co-ordinate their energies and programs for the common welfare.

10. (a) Continued work for Federal antilynching legislation.

(b) Continued work for removal of restrictions on voting:

1. Poll Tax.

2. White primary.

(c) Safeguard absentee military ballot.

Additional Recommendations

I. We recommend:

1. That, in consideration of the expanding responsibilities and enlarging program of the department, the funds allocated by the Woman's Division to the department be increased.

2. That the department shall make recommendation to the Woman's Division for such workers in the department as may be essential for the supervision and promotion of the on-going work of the department.

(a) That an associate secretary be added to the staff immediately, and that $3,000 be provided for salary and travel. (Referred to the Finance and Estimates Committee, requesting them to try to adjust the budget so this can be done.)

3. That there shall be a Committee on Finance and Estimates composed of those members of the department who are members of the Committee on Finance and Estimates of the Woman's Division. It shall do such work as the need may require. The committee to study the needs of the department.

4. That the department exert itself in renewed effort to acquaint women in the societies and Wesleyan Service Guilds of the local church with increased opportunities for national and international service in areas covered by the department.

These opportunities can only be realized as they increase their giving to the total work of the Woman's Division.

5. The department suggests that it would be desirable for the Woman's Division to bring together early in the quadrennium a small group of leaders in the Division to study the function and scope of the several departments for the purpose of strengthening mutual understanding and co-operation.

II. The Woman's Division requests the Joint Division of Education and Cultivation to consider the desirability of establishing a Commission or Committee on Social Education and Action in the General Section.

III. The department recommends that the president of the Woman's Division write a letter to the President of the United States, to the chairmen of the Foreign Relations Committee, to the Speaker of the House, and the President of the Senate, expressing gratification for the repeal of the Chinese Exclusion Act.

IV. The following report concerns the co-operative program of Methodist women in relation to the leadership schools for Negro women particularly of the Colored Methodist Episcopal Church:

We recommend:

(a) The allocation of funds in the amount of $200 for specialized instruction in leadership training looking toward accreditation of the women in the Colored Methodist Episcopal Church. The administration of this fund will be determined after consultation with the general secretary of the Board of Religious Education of the Colored Methodist Episcopal Church and the president of the Woman's Connectional Council of the Colored Methodist Episcopal Church.

(b) That the Gulfside School of Missions and Christian Service continue to give emphasis to co-operation with women of the Colored Methodist Episcopal Church and that opportunities for seminars be given in the jurisdiction school, wherein the problems of the Colored Methodist Episcopal women in relation to their organization may be studied.

(c) That this committee to restudy their co-operative efforts be continued and that the president of the Woman's Connectional Council and the general secretary of the Board of Religious Education of the Colored Methodist Episcopal Church be added to the committee.

V. The department recommends that the Woman's Division suggest to the Joint Division of Education and Cultivation that in the near future a joint study be based on "The Social Teachings of John Wesley."

VI. The department recommends the name of the Resource Committee Minority Groups and Interracial Co-operation be changed to Interracial and Intercultural Relations. (Adopted.)

VII. The department recommends the continued use of members of the department who live in Washington as representatives of the Division in hearings on legislation before Congress. (Adopted.)

VIII. Bill on Lottery introduced by Mr. Sabath—as a matter of information,—recommend the Woman's Division continue to oppose lottery.

Reports of Editors and Publication Manager.

Publication Manager.—Mrs. George W. Keen presented her report (see page 195), and following recommendation, which was adopted:

That the financial year of The Methodist Woman and Literature Headquarters of the Woman's Division shall correspond with the fiscal year of the Woman's Division, June 1 to May 31.

(The next report printed in the Fourth Annual Report will be for five months only, January 1, 1943, to May 31, 1943. See page 229. The full report for 1942 appeared in the Third Annual Report of the Woman's Division.)

Literature and Publications.—Mrs. Helen Cox Exman presented a list of publications printed from 1940 to 1943. (See page 194 for report of editors.)

Joint Literature Publications.—Miss Juanita Brown, Assistant Editor, gave an interesting verbal report telling of some of the literature we may expect in the near future. (See page 194 for report of editors.)

"The Methodist Woman."—Miss Bettie Brittingham, Editor, gave a report for this periodical. (See page 191.)

Second Session—December 4, 1943

THE second session of the Woman's Division of Christian Service was called to order Saturday, December 4, at 9:15 A. M., at Buck Hill Falls Inn, by the President, Mrs. Bragg.

Devotions.—Prayer was offered by Mrs. Gid Bryan.

Status of Women.—Mrs. Franklin F. Lewis, Chairman, presented the report and the following recommendations, which were adopted. (See page 252.)

We recommend:

1. The Department of News Service of the Board of Missions and Church Extension of The Methodist Church will publish on January 1 a weekly news column of approximately 300 words, entitled "Women in the Church." This news, interdenominational and international in character, will be offered free of charge. We believe that because of the constantly enlarging place of women in church life this news will be of great value. The committee recommends that local chairmen urge editors of local papers to print this news in their papers each week as it is released.

2. That in every jurisdiction, conference, and district program a presentation be made of the work of the Committee on the Status of Women, and at the time of this presentation the Handbook be shown and its purchase and study urged.

3. Recognizing that the building of a scrapbook has helped women to sense something of the larger problem of women in relation to their tasks, we recommend that each local chairman make a scrapbook of articles relative to the work of women in current life.

4. Believing that the great increase in juvenile delinquency is largely a problem resulting from women going into industry and other interests: We recommend that church women make every effort to encourage these women wherever possible to leave their employment for the larger employment of home-making.

5. Whereas the public is concerned with the questions involved in the Equal Rights Amendment, in committee now in Congress, we recommend that women make an extensive study of the principles and problems presented by this amendment so as to be ready to discuss the amendment and act on it intelligently when the opportunity for registering their opinion is given.

6. That since the church has sent so many of its ministers to the armed forces and pulpits have been left vacant, we recommend to the Woman's Division that the Woman's Division send a memorial to General Conference requesting full clergy rights for God-called and prepared women that they may be assured of the security of the ministry as their profession.

Report of Vice-President.—Mrs. J. W. Mills, Vice-President, presented the following report:

The year has been full of effort to advance the cause of missions. It began with study and work on the seminar at Southern Methodist University for the Delaware Conference on World Order; then, the conference itself, and the privilege of making several talks about it, and leading groups to organize for the study of "World Order."

I attended Ministers' Week, and the South Central Jurisdiction Conference in Dallas. I was guest helper at five conference meetings—the Texas, Central Texas, North Mississippi, Mississippi, and Kansas. At each of these I talked on the World Federation of Methodist Women, and the Delaware Conference.

I have attended the various committee meetings and the Executive Meetings in New York each quarter, and two board meetings at Scarritt College.

In twenty-nine pulpits, and at one annual conference of ministers, I have made talks on "World Missions and the World Church."

We all know that Mrs. Nicholson had what Lloyd Douglass would call "A Magnificent Obsession" in her dream and work for the World Federation of Methodist Women. It is sincerely regretted that she could not have been with the united missionary organization of Methodist women long enough to get us all thoroughly imbued with the plan. However, an "Idea come to its time" is mightier than armies, and nothing can stop the joy and satisfaction which Methodist women have in their sisterhood of service around the world.

War always interferences with an ordered program, and delays the work of missions. It is not possible to get mail to and from many of the units now, but such reports as have come in are so full of life, and show such a spirit of consecrated devotion to the goal of "Making Christ known," that they are almost a rebuke to those of us who live under most favorable conditions. Christian women are related by a loyalty which transcends closed boundaries.

Reports come from Mexico and South America. The Protestant women of ten republics have published their common textbook, which they say is "significant." A project of the women of Bolivia is to find young women for missionary work among the intellectual classes, to be supported by their Con-Federation. They complain that their advance is not so rapid now in a time when so much time and energy is given to the problems of democracy.

Oslo, from the Scandinavian Unit reports that they have a new missionary ready to send out to India as soon as the way is open.

From China comes encouraging news. With all they have suffered, and uncertain as the future is, and as greatly as the cost of living has advanced, our Chinese women are still taking "Thank Offering collections" for local missionary and church support, and also for their objectives in India, Africa, and even an "over-and-above offering for the orphan children of Europe."

From India, Mrs. Chitambar writes a full report, having spent several months itinerating, organizing, instructing, strengthening the women. Of a meeting in Agru, with representatives from many parts of India, she writes: "I could hardly believe my eyes and ears when I heard the discussions and plans proposed. The work is growing by leaps and bounds. The women are really catching a vision of what the womanhood of India can do."

The unit of the United States—the Woman's Division:

The Foreign Department: Naturally, we think of the Federation as having developed through the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society. The missionaries of the Foreign Department guide the work in our mission lands, and have helped to organize local societies, conferences, and in Latin America a Confederation of conferences and lands. They are laying the basis for understanding and co-operation. But—no ONE department, or even Division, can claim a global task.

It is also related to the Home Department. As we have home-mission projects, the women of other lands have babyfolds, tuberculosis hospitals, orphanages, schools, kindergartens, and all sorts of conference and local projects to support. Their methods are similar to those of our Home Department, and their objective also to make their nations Christian.

You recognize the Department of Christian Social Relations and Local Church Activities working in the most remote corners of the world as reports from other lands speak of "Christian Family Week, Temperance Education, Women as Citizens, and Speakers in Churches—Peace Programs—Laying Foundations for International Organizations for Promotion of Permanent Peace, Race and Class Studies, Problems of Youth, Child Labor, Support of Pastors, and Pensions for the Aged, Poor Members of the Church, and Local Work."

Without the literature and cultivation and continuous increase in organizations, and the educational program of the Joint Division, the work of the World Federation would not be known in America. Most generous space is given in the World Outlook and The Methodist Woman. Thrilling programs are included in the Yearbook. Attractive leaflets and the Prayer Card have been broadcast to the most unexpected places. Other boards have asked permission to use the Prayer Card in their societies, and in a book of Prayers for Peace. The reprint for the current year was a small, plain white card, easy to slip in a letter.

The Standing Committee on the World Federation has had splendid co-operation with all departments and committees of the Woman's Division. The Department of Christian Social Relations asked the chairman to point up the relation between the department and the Federation in spiritualizing the forward look of the program for 1944. At the same time, the chairman of the Spiritual Life Committee asked that a Joint Prayer Project be worked out for the spiritual life and the World Federation. This is in the making, and we know that the united effort of these three groups will strengthen the work of all.

Goals of the Standing Committee of the Woman's Division have been (1) To make the World Federation of Methodist Women known in every conference in Methodism, and to create an interest in this sisterhood of service around the world; (2) to show that "united prayer" has power to change the world.

Methods: To get the work of the World Federation before Methodist women, it has been presented in large gatherings—The General Conference, the assembly, jurisdiction conferences, annual conferences of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, groups meetings, and the book of programs for local societies gives every member an opportunity to have a part in the World Federation.

Each year I have attended one or more jurisdiction conferences, and at least five conference society meetings, where the Federation has been featured on the program.

The jurisdiction vice-presidents have shown creative ability in interesting many conference vice-presidents in promoting the program, and carrying out the recommendations of the Standing Committee. Many letters which come to my desk from conference vice-presidents show growing interest, and ask questions about ways to present their work most effectively.

One jurisdiction vice-president has asked the By-law Committee to give all vice-presidents, division, jurisdiction, conference, district and local society, definite responsibility for program presentations. She also indicates the need for a meeting of the division vice-president and the jurisdiction vice-presidents that definite direction may be given, and unity achieved in their work.

Finance: The former Woman's Foreign Missionary Society made an annual appropriation toward the World Federation of $1,000 per year. This was for expense of cultivation, and holding of meetings, such as that at General Conference, for travel for designated women on organizational work, such as Mrs. Chitambar, and Maria Aguerre of Bolivia, for the publication of informational literature, etc. The work is circumscribed at present by war, but when peace comes, the opportunities for development will be most pressing and numerous. The question now is whether this $1,000 shall be appropriated through the Foreign Department of the Woman's Division, or by the Woman's Division as a whole, since it is so clearly a part of the entire program of woman's work. The "dues" or offering of other lands are stated as "The smallest coin of the realm," and many lands are careful to make this a part of their budget. Such a method in the American Unit would have educational value, since it would bring the Federation before the members of each society, if this were asked. A definite policy should be adopted before another quadrennium begins.

A quotation from Benjamin Kidd is pertinent to this World Program. He says: "The highest expression of power is the science of organizing the individual mind in the service of the universal."

Because women are concerned for the next generation, they are able to relate the present scene to the future.

Because a woman's business is caring for her family, her mind can think in terms of the whole human family.

Woman has the potential capacity to make the interests of the present day secondary to the larger meaning which lies in the universal. It is our business to so develop this potential capacity, that Christian women may see the tasks of the present emergency in relation to the needs of the postwar world. The Office of Civilian Defense has asked women to help with the problems of nutrition, housing, education, and health. These only take her home tasks, which are age-old, out into the community and the nation. We must go further—into the universal. Our board is already planning ways to help feed peoples in need—to reconstruct devastated countries, to resettle families, to plan for full employment, and to raise living conditions around the world. These are not local tasks, but those of a World Federation. Harold Rugg says: "There are moments in history when tomorrow is today."

We are living in this future now—thinking of the whole human race as the family of God.

This challenge comes from one of our missionaries to South America:

"Forward, ye women of Argentine, Chile,
Peru, Uruguay, and the rest of the South!
The fetters of custom that hold you, unloose;
Bring all your talents to use for the Master,
Move forward, and onward, and upward with Him.

"Forward, ye women of God's favored Northland,
Forge now on the anvil of prayer, the strong links
That shall bind in a sisterhood all of God's own;
And think as one body, devoted and loyal,
Move forward and onward, and upward with Him."

—Helen Gilliland.

Introductions.—Miss Semeramis Kutz, from Federation of Peru, South America, and Miss Emma Collins, from India, were introduced.

Message.—It was voted to send a telegram to Mrs. Thomas Nicholson from the Division.

Standing Committee on Literature and Publications.—Mrs. J. N. Rodeheaver, Chairman, presented the report and the following recommendations, which were adopted. (See page 248.)

We recommend:

1. That the Division endorse the action requesting conference and district societies to give adequate time for promotion of the program material, with methods for its use and sale.

2. That the Committee on Annual Report (of the Division) consider the advisability of including material in the Annual Report which will be of special interest to the local society, but which is not included in the Journal of the Division nor of the Board.

It was suggested that a directory of conference officers be published semi-annually in order to keep the list up to date and that it should be in such form that it could be used with the Annual Report but would not be included in it.

3. That a committee be appointed to study the use of The Methodist Woman as a trade magazine, this committee to take into consideration the possibility of harmonizing the facilities of the magazine with the numerous requests for bulletins.

4. That the interdivision staff of the Board of Missions and Church Extension provide at least one meeting each year at which time editorial and promotional persons would be invited to discuss prevailing trends in fields and make suggestions for timely articles in magazines and promotional activities.

5. That the theme for program material for 1945 be "An Open Door," based on Revelations 3:8, "I have set before thee an open door and no man can shut it."

6. That the editors be invited to sit in on all meetings held for postwar planning.

On motion of Miss Brittingham, it was voted

That the Woman's Division of Christian Service endorse the news release, "Women in the Church," prepared by the Department of News Service of the Joint Division of Education and Cultivation and request secretaries of Literature and Publications, in co-operation with the secretaries of Status of Women in the Woman's Societies of Christian Service in the local church, to secure sample copies of these releases from the Joint Division of Education and Cultivation, 150 Fifth Avenue, New York 11, N. Y., and contact their local newspapers in an effort to secure the use of this column in the local newspapers.

She returned to Brazil on April 24, 1943, and served four months in Colegio Piracicabano. She resigned on September 1, 1943, and entered work with the USO in Brazil. Blanche Hager, Japan, March 31, 1941.

Miriam Spaulding, Japan, May 31, 1941.

II. TRUST FUND.

18. Inasmuch as the Margaret Hughes Trust Fund from the Washington Park Memorial Church, Bridgeport, Connecticut, will pay $117.50, and inasmuch as legal advice has stipulated that this amount must not be included within regular income or appropriations, Recommended that this $117.50 be allocated annually to the training of national Christian workers in China.

III. BRAZIL.

19. Dorita Smith, the daughter of missionaries of our Board in Brazil, is available for full-time work under our mission. Miss Smith is a graduate of Asbury College. She is now in Brazil and is unable, because of the war, to carry out her plan to return to the United States for graduate work in order to prepare herself further for missionary service. Since she cannot at this time be accepted as a missionary, a request has come from the field that she be employed in Brazil at a salary of $750 to substitute for a missionary of the Woman's Division recently resigned.

Recommended that we approve the employment of Dorita Smith in Brazil at a salary of $750 a year, to be paid from the lapsed salary of Virginia Neel.

IV. CHINA.

20. Miss MacKinnon reports:

Edna Jones and Pauline Westcott have reached the United States. Mollie Townsend has arrived in Chungking and been appointed to Yutu, Kiangsi.

A cable has arrived, sans origin, saying that Elizabeth Carlyle and Sylvia Aldrich have arrived, supposedly, in India.

21. Inasmuch as $300 has already accrued from the Margaret Hughes Trust Fund from the Washington Park Memorial Church, Bridgeport, Connecticut, Recommended that this $300 be included in the CHINA EMERGENCY FUND, TRANSIENT.

22. Recommended that the annuity of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Harris, Colorado Conference, amounting to $263.92, be included in the CHINA EMERGENCY FUND, TRANSIENT.

23. Recommended that the following be transferred to the CHINA EMERGENCY FUND, TRANSIENT:

September 30, Cash Supplies Undesignated:

General Credit Balance	$1,529.85
Where most needed,	68.50
Relief (Florida Conference)	55.25
One half General Medical Credit	296.40
Total	$1,950.00

24. A cable has come announcing that Alma Ericson, Lena Nelson, and Mary Shearer are en route to the United States, and that Charlotte Trotter expects to sail soon.

V. INDIA.

25. Pithoragarh, one of our hill stations in North India, long ago acquired a considerable stretch of land, practically all of it on hillsides, terraced into narrow strips. The supervision of these small fields, some of them remote from the missionary residence, has been a great care. Last year some strips were sold and it is now proposed to dispose of others.

Recommended to approve the sale of such land in Pithoragarh, North India, as the Field Committee may recommend for sale.

26. Recommended that we approve the election of Rev. W. J. McLaughlin to membership on the North India Field Committee, replacing Dr. H. H. Weeks, who is on furlough, subject to similar action by the Foreign Division.

27. Recommended that the $7,000 available for evangelistic work in India through the lapsed annuity honoring Dorothy Schooner Hageman, be allocated as follows:

Training village teachers, North India Conference (two or more years),	$1,000.
House for district evangelist, Indus River Conference.....	3,000.
Village centers—Bastar and Nander.....	3,000.

28. An urgent request has come from the Hyderabad Field Committee asking that the Woman's Division approve the erection of "Bishop Chitambar Memorial Hall" at Stanley Girls' High School, Hyderabad; to complete the building of which the classroom-dormitory unit was built last year. Stanley is one of our strongest institutions, of high academic standard, definitely Christian, responsible for the training of many of the women of Hyderabad state.

Recommended: (1) that we express approval of the project at Stanley Girls' High School, Hyderabad; (2) that the building be undertaken as soon as funds can be secured and general conditions permit, no debt to be incurred; (3) that the hall honor both Bishop and Mrs. Chitambar, first Indian bishop and the first executive secretary of the Indian Woman's Society of Christian Service.

VI. MEXICO.

29. The Council of Co-operation of Mexico has recommended that the evangelistic work carried on by the Woman's Division in Ramos Arizpe be closed and that the appropriation for that work be transferred to evangelistic work in Reynosa. The reasons for this change are: (1) a strong Catholic opposition in the small town of Ramos Arizpe has greatly hindered the work; (2) the city of Reynosa has a large group of Protestants, a new Methodist church has just been built there, and the people have themselves asked for a deaconess to carry on social-evangelistic work.

Recommended that the work in Ramos Arizpe, Mexico, be closed, and that the annual appropriation for the same be transferred to social-evangelistic work in Reynosa.

VII. PERU.

30. Since Nan Parsons, Lima, Peru, has married, and will therefore not receive salary from the Woman's Division, the Field Committee requests that her salary be paid, beginning October 9, 1943, to Bonnie Korn. Miss Korn has previously been paid by the school. If Miss Parsons' salary can now be transferred to Miss Korn, the school can employ another teacher locally.

Recommended, that beginning October 9, 1943, the salary of Nan Parsons, Lima, Peru, be transferred to Bonnie Korn, a special-term missionary.

VIII. NORTH AFRICA.

31. Because of the death of Emilie Loveless, in North Africa, the station at Constantine is short of workers, while the volume of work has increased. It has become necessary to employ a housekeeper for Gamble Home, of which Miss Loveless used to be superintendent. The Field Committee asks for a grant of $350 to pay the salary of this additional worker up to May 31, 1944.

Recommended that a grant of $350 be paid from the lapsed salary of Emilie Loveless, deceased, to cover the salary of an additional worker at the Gamble Home, in Constantine, North Africa, until May 31, 1944.

IX. AFRICA.

32. The Foreign Division voted to provide $500 for the school building at Lodja, Congo Belge, Africa. (Action of Foreign Division taken September 15, 1943, to approve the erection of a second-degree school at Lodja, and to grant $500 for the building to supplement a similar amount from the Woman's Division.)

Recommended that $500 be requested from Board of Missions, Methodist Episcopal Church, South, Woman's Work, Foreign Department, funds held for this purpose for the station school building at Lodja, Congo Belge, Africa.

33. Miss MacKinnon reports that Jessie Pfaff has arrived in Lisbon en route to Rhodesia.

34. The Field Committee minutes of Central Conference, Congo, state that the Southern Presbyterian Mission has made a refund for the service of Mr. and Mrs. Lovell and Miss Lorena Kelly, who taught in the school of missionary children in Lubondai for a few months. The Field Committee recommends that the money refunded be placed in unclassified funds of the respective divisions on the field in order to meet unforeseen expenses.

Recommended that permission be granted to the treasurer of the Central Congo Conference to place in the unclassified funds of the Woman's Division of Christian Service on the field the money refunded for the services of Miss Lorena Kelly to the Presbyterian School for Missionaries' Children, in Lubondai.

X. URUGUAY.

35. In Uruguay, for the year 1942, there was a loss on exchange in work budget of $215 U.S.A.

XI. INTERDIVISION ITEMS

MANUAL REVISIONS.

The Manual for Foreign Missionary Work is prepared for the use of both the Foreign Division and Foreign Department of the Woman's Division. Therefore, all sections of it must be approved by both Divisions. We now present for approval certain revisions.

36. Article 51, dealing with the discontinuance of a missionary after the first term of service reads, "If terminated the furlough salary shall be paid for six months from date of leaving the field . . ." In the actual administration of such cases it is felt that circumstances will determine whether the salary shall be field or furlough salary and that if it is furlough salary it should necessarily harmonize with Article 32, which provides that such salary begins upon arrival in the United States.

Recommended that in the Manual, Article 51, page 18, second and third lines, the word "furlough" and the phrase "from date of leaving the field" be deleted so that the sentence shall read: "If terminated salary shall be paid for six months unless remunerative employment is found earlier."

37. It is proposed by the staff of the Foreign Division that the rental allowance per month for a married couple shall be increased from $25 to $45 in view of the increased cost of renting in this country.

Recommended that in the Manual, Article 32, second paragraph, first line, the figure for rent allowance per month for married couples be revised from $25 to $45, the remainder of the paragraph remaining the same.

38. It is proposed by the staff of the Foreign Division that in the Manual, Article 33, the increase of salary for years of service shall be according to the scale adopted by the Foreign Division at the last Annual Meeting, in which the advances for missionary couples are matched at the scale of 60% by those for single missionaries. This involves changing the increase for single missionaries at the end of twelve years from $75 to $90.

Recommended that in the Manual, Article 33, the increase in salary of single missionaries at the end of twelve years shall be changed from $75 to $90.

39. Recommended that a clause be inserted in the medical section of the Manual to provide that in the case of normal confinement one half the expenses will be paid by the Division of Foreign Missions; that in exceptional cases the bills will be reviewed by the medical adviser.

40. Recommended that a clause be inserted in the Manual stating that the Board does not pay funeral expenses.

41. Recommended to approve the section on Medical Care as revised.

MID-TERM FURLOUGHS ON THE FIELD.

42. The adoption of the following principle is recommended: That isolated missionaries in Africa who labor under peculiar climatic conditions, where annual vacations are not feasible, may be allowed a brief mid-term leave of absence. The time and place for such leave is to be recommended to the Board after consultation with the bishop and Field Committee.

XII. ADMINISTRATIVE COMMITTEE.

The following actions taken from the Minutes of the Administrative Committee, October 5, 19, and 26, are brought to you for information and inclusion in the printed Minutes:

ADMINISTRATIVE COMMITTEE MEETING, OCTOBER 5, 1943.

43. Mrs. Moore presented the following re the Exchange Gain and a Special Grant to India:

Receipts, as per Treasurer's Report

1941 Balance.....	$18,930.00
1942 Gain.....	34,010.00
1943, January-May Gain.....	12,778.45
Total.....	$65,718.79

Expenditures Already Approved

Repairs.....	$4,000.00
Bank Charges, two years.....	1,123.75
Emergency Grant, 1942.....	8,201.20
Emergency Grant, January-May, 1943.....	6,878.59
Emergency Grant, 1943-44.....	32,867.36
Total.....	$53,070.90

If all approved expenditures were charged to gain already accrued, there would be a balance of $12,647.89. If exchange continues at the rate of the first half of 1943, we may expect a gain of $2,555.69 per month.

It was voted that in view of the above statement, and of the official requests from India for additional funds to meet greatly increased cost of living, a special grant up to $2,000 monthly be authorized for hostels and Indian workers for one year from December 1, 1943, this to be in addition to the grant of two annas to the rupee of work budget already voted. The required amount will be paid as far as possible from gain on exchange. The best method of administering it is to be determined by the secretary for India, in consultation with the treasurer and the field.

ADMINISTRATIVE COMMITTEE MEETING, OCTOBER 19, 1943.

44. It was voted that the salaries of all China missionaries be equalized at $900.

45. It was voted that the salaries of missionaries in the Africa Conferences of Angola, Rhodesia, and Portuguese East Africa be raised to $900, adjustment to be made within the Africa budget.

46. A cable has come stating that beginning October 1, eight dollars a day will be necessary for minimum living expenses for all missionaries in China. In view of this fact, at a recent meeting of the Inter-Division Committee, it was recommended that each Division approach the Methodist Committee on Overseas Relief, asking that the Committee assume the responsibility for the full $15,000 monthly for aid to Chinese Methodist workers, leaving to the respective Divisions the responsibility for living expenses of the missionaries.

It was voted that in accordance with the general permission given by the action taken at the Executive Committee Meeting, June 12-15, 1943, page 22, V. 34 (2) b., a relief grant be paid to give to the missionaries in Free China, $8 for living expenses.

It was voted to ask M. C. O. R. to provide $3,500 monthly (Woman's Division share of the $15,000 mentioned above) for Chinese relief, with the understanding that the Woman's Division assume the relief grants for its missionaries.

47. In the consideration of the estimates for the Committee of Reference and Council of Foreign Missions Conference, it was reported that CRC makes its requests on the basis of $\frac{1}{2}\%$ of the Board's appropriations for fields.

It was voted that we accept this $\frac{1}{2}\%$ as a principle upon which to base our appropriations to CRC and that we hold it as a goal for appropriations as soon as we are able to make them so.

It is recommended that:

1. The policy be adopted providing salaries compatible with dignified living and a sense of security. This to be referred to the Committee on Salaries to be implemented as soon as possible.

3. Candidates for Christian service in the high-school and college years be carefully cultivated and (a) that the Joint Committee on Missionary Personnel contact the pastors of local churches, encouraging them to place greater emphasis on Christian service, assisting them in counseling and vocational guidance and providing information and standards for such service. (b) A memorial go to the General Conference, from the Woman's Division requesting there be included among the disciplinary questions asked of pastors, one concerning the number of Christian service recruits in their churches. (c) A service flag for those in Christian service has been suggested.

4. We refer to the secretary of Young Women's and Girls' Work the recommendation that the committals made at youth institutes, assemblies, and conferences be followed through with a definite plan that will be related to the Board of Missions and Church Extension.

5. We refer to the Joint Committee on Missionary Personnel in consultation with the Board of Education the recommendation that wherever possible local churches seek to co-operate with high schools in giving vocational guidance to young people that Christian service may be presented.

6. We refer to the Committee on Student Work in consultation with the Joint Committee on Missionary Personnel the recommendation that student work in colleges place renewed emphasis on service as the mark of a Christian and on Christian service as a calling.

7. We refer to the Committee on Family in the Department of Christian Social Relations and Local Church Activities the recommendation that a definite effort be made to create within the home Christian standards of success measured by service rather than by monetary values.

8. In order that the schools of the Division may carry out their larger mission and achieve their specific goals in the light of present demands and future possibilities, we recommend that they be strengthened professionally, that long-range cultivation be planned for adequate staff provision, that programs be adjusted to present postwar needs, and that they be undergirded financially and spiritually for an even larger service in the future.

BUREAU OF MEDICAL WORK—

It is recommended that:

1. (a) The education of the public in the value of our specialized hospitals which minister to the soul as well as the body; (b) the need for new equipment and new buildings in some places and new locations in others; (c) nurse-training schools which is one way of manning hospitals adequately; (d) more and better nurse homes; (e) we increase salaries to maintain standards and to give a sense of security as is to be found in other positions into which many are going today. (This to be referred to the Salary Committee, to be implemented as soon as possible.) (f) Newer methods of treatment; (g) need for a higher type and more stable personnel—those with Christian mind.

2. Emphasis be placed upon the opportunities and privileges of hospital trustees, the contacts they may have in the community, in attracting fine Christian young women to the profession of nursing, and in enlisting special gifts.

3. We go on record as opposing the compulsory medical insurance under the Social Security plan of the Wagner Bill. This recommendation was referred back to the Findings Committee for clearance with the Department of Christian Social Relations and Local Church Activities.

4. As Christian women we redouble our efforts to secure increased giving for an enlarged program in the field.

BUREAU OF TOWN AND COUNTRY WORK—

It is recommended that:

1. A manual for town and country workers shall be prepared.

2. A constant effort be made to dignify rural life.

3. We recognize our responsibility and privilege to work with people as individuals as well as in mass, realizing that good communities must be made up of good people.

4. The workers of the Town and Country Bureau be encouraged to avail themselves of the books that can be secured through the circulating library of Vanderbilt School of Religion, Nashville.

5. There be a concerted effort at study toward the best methods through seminars, special conferences, and planned group meetings for the workers of the bureau.

6. In every conference the president of the Woman's Society of Christian Service as a member of the Board of Missions and Church Extension of the conference, shall emphasize the work of the Town and Country Commission of the Board of Missions and Church Extension, thus making it a working organization.

BUREAU OF DEACONESS WORK—

It is recommended that:

1. A plan be set up whereby we may find the young women who may be interested in being trained as deaconesses through presenting the need, the opportunity, and the requirements to (1) our educational institutions; (2) our local churches—especially the smaller churches which have no contacts with deaconess work; (3) our local and conference Woman's Societies. This recommendation was referred to the Joint Committee on Missionary Personnel.

2. Deaconess work be included in the program of each annual conference in order that the members may become better acquainted with the deaconess, her qualifications, her duties, and her relationship to the Woman's Division and to The Methodist Church as a whole. That such a request go to the program committee of the annual conference, through the office of the executive secretary of the Bureau of Deaconess Work.

BUREAU OF URBAN WORK—

It is recommended that:

1. A statement embodying the findings of the executive secretary in the recent survey of the work in the home fields, be made available to the constituency of the church, through the pages of The Methodist Woman.

2. The secretary of missionary education of the Woman's Section of the Joint Division be asked to arrange for a course on the composition, functions, and procedures of boards for board members, this course to be given in summer conferences, schools, and seminars; that permission to be obtained from Western Reserve University to use the material contained in a thesis written in the Department of Group Work by Margaret Marshall, entitled: "The Organization of an Effective Board (or a Study of the Composition, Functions, and Procedures of the Boards of the Settlements of The Methodist Church With Suggestions for Their Reorganization)," and that the bibliography contained in it be made available to local boards.

3. In view of the urgent need for the co-operation of social, educational, religious, and recreational agencies within local communities, the church agency board co-operate with interagency committees in the community. In communities where no such co-ordinated committee has been set up, we recommend that our agencies take the initiative in organizing and promoting such a committee.

4. An adequate amount, to be fixed by the department Committee on Finance and Estimates, be placed in a maintenance fund in order to put or keep the buildings of the Department of Work in Home Fields of the Division in good condition. This was referred to the Finance and Estimates Committee of the department for further study.

5. A sum of money, included in the institutional budget, be made available to enable workers to attend conferences such as the National Conference of Social Work, the National Council of Churches, and the National Federation of Settlements.

6. Regional meetings be held annually for the purpose of bringing board members, conference representatives, and workers together to evaluate their work, study the needs, and make plans for future action. It shall be financed within the region.

7. Volunteer service in these agencies be given the prestige and importance it deserves and that methods be worked out by the executive secretary taking the initiative to recruit and train these volunteers.

8. The advisory committee of the bureau be enlarged and that, as soon as possible, appropriation be provided for bringing this committee together for study and consultation.

9. The staff and the board of each local settlement have yearly meetings to evaluate the work of their agency and to outline future policies.

BUREAU OF SOCIAL WORK—

It is recommended that:

1. In light of facts the Woman's Division give special emphasis to the following: (a) A new awareness of the role of the church in meeting the problems facing humanity today and the days yet to come; (b) a concern for and an interest in preventive methods rather than remedial work for the uplift of the human family; (c) a willingness to spend more time in surveying the need of the community rather than passing on rumors of existing conditions; (d) a better use of the many facilities of our churches and schools for the groups whose needs are unmet and a consuming zeal to do something for people.

2. We stimulate more interest in the work of the Woman's Society of the local church and discover wherein the church has failed when the Red Cross, women's clubs, and other organizations can get our church women in such large numbers.

3. We find a better way to express our urge to share at special seasons of the year rather than invading the privacy of the home and persons to find their needs.

4. Much thought be given to family welfare as our chief concern in our approach to all phases of child care; the preservation of the natural home is the child's first need.

5. We work toward a remedial plan whereby children who work at terrific hours may be released from child labor which is blotting out their childhood.

6. We co-operate closely with the Department of Christian Social Relations and Local Church Activities in the field of race relations and that we use our influence with newspaper editors and radio commentators to state facts impartially and not to exaggerate the shortcomings of any race.

7. The Woman's Division appoint a committee to study the matter of counseling, not only of young people, but also of mothers in industry.

8. The Woman's Division request the Woman's Section of the Joint Division to point up what should be the approach to the problems facing local church leaders in the Sunday evening activities of young people.

9. The study be made by the Woman's Division of plans to reinterpret the term "Missions," seeking to eradicate the attitude of paternalism too often associated with it.

Report of Committee on Library Service.—Mrs. C. N. Timmons, Chairman, presented this report. (See page 245.)

Report of Supply Work.—Mrs. Harry Woolever, Secretary, presented the following report, which was adopted: (See also page 254.)

Unusual needs are facing the Committee on Supply Work during these days—needs which should bring an immediate response and which do bring such a response when the women know about them. Rising prices bring problems to all our institutions. Unusual war conditions increase the needs both at home and abroad. As illustrative of this is the appeal for Christmas gifts for children in the Japanese Relocation Camps in our own land and the continually increasing need for relief supplies in China. Additional supply work undertaken by the societies can help answer the tremendous demands facing us.

The greatest obstacle, we believe, to increased supply work is the lack of information reaching the women of the local society. To make sure this information is available, a news sheet called the Supply-O-Gram has been published during this quarter. The executive secretaries of the Home and Foreign Departments furnished the material which explains and emphasizes the supply askings and the supply projects for the year. We are hoping this information will be presented to every society and that every society will make unusual effort to meet the needs therein portrayed.

The totals for the third quarter are as follows: $32,268.54 in materials and in cash for supplies for our home institutions; $14,590.26 for our foreign institutions and projects and $3,189.24 for ministerial supplies, making a grand total of $50,048.04. Comparing the totals of the past three quarters with the grand total of last year, we find that to equal the supply work of 1942, this fourth quarter in which we now are must show a total of $99,297.55. The annual reports which leave the societies next January 5 will tell the story. (See page 255.)

Fifth Session—December 6, 1943

THE fifth session of the Woman's Division of Christian Service was called to order at 9:15 A. M., Monday, December 6, 1943, by the President, Mrs. J. D. Bragg.

Devotions.—The members observed a period of silence in petition and prayer.

Report of Committee on Co-operation With Other Agencies.—Mrs. Homer Tatum, Chairman. Mrs. L. R. Peel presented the report, which was adopted. (See page 247.)

Report of Annual Meeting Committee on Appropriations.—Mrs. W. R. Brown, Chairman.

Mrs. F. F. Lewis, Secretary, presented the report.

After quite a thorough study of the appropriations, it was voted that the Report on Appropriations as presented by the Finance and Estimates Committee be recommended to the Woman's Division of Christian Service for their approval and reference to the Committee on Appropriations of the Board of Missions and Church Extension. (See page 197.)

Report of Finance and Estimates Committee.—Mrs. W. Raymond Brown, Chairman, presented the report. (See page 197.) Mrs. F. C. Brooks, Secretary, presented the following recommendations, which were adopted:

It is recommended that the following items be approved:

Item I.

It is recommended that Item I, No. 4, of the report of the Committee on Trust Funds and Investments, found on page 38 of the September minutes of the Woman's Division, shall be amended by the addition of the clause "until adequate protection shall be provided." The item will then read: "That at the close of each fiscal year unexpended interest shall be held in the income accounts, until such time as adequate protection to the income reserve has been provided."

Item II.

It is recommended that Item II of the same report shall be amended by adding a similar clause. The item will then read, "That the residuum of undesignated annuities shall be held in the annuity fund as a protection to the fund, until such time as adequate protection to the investment has been provided."

Item III.

It is recommended that interest from lapsed annuities, bequests, and endowment funds, which may be received beginning June 1, 1943, shall not be included in the divisible income for appropriations.

Item IV.

At the organizational meeting of the Woman's Division, among the assets brought from the constituent corporations to form the basis for appropriation was approximately $80,000 to be met by undesignated bequests and lapsed annuities. At that time it was recognized that it was an unwise policy to include funds from bequests and annuities in current income for appropriations. It is recommended that we now reaffirm this fact and recommend that annually the continuing corporations of the former women's organizations cease to contribute bequests and lapsed annuities to be used as current income for appropriations in a diminishing proportion as the amount from such sources needed to meet the total appropriation diminishes.

Item V.

It is recommended that a bimonthly appraisal of the investment portfolio of the Woman's Division be prepared at an annual cost of $200. This $200 shall be a first claim on the income account of the Division.

Item VI.

It is recommended that the appropriations for 1944-45 be approved as presented.

Item VII.

It is recommended that the Woman's Division present these appropriations to the Committee on Appropriations of the Board of Missions and Church Extension for their approval with the request that necessary adjustments within the total appropriations be made by the Finance and Estimates Committee of the Woman's Division, according to changing conditions on the mission fields or in the administrative procedure, following the General Conference and the reorganization of the Board of Missions and Church Extension.

Report of Committee on Handbook on Finance.—Mrs. F. G. Brooks, Chairman, brought the following report, which was adopted:

The committee to prepare a Handbook on Finance was appointed by the Executive Committee of the Woman's Division last June. I should like to review for you our procedure and to report that the copy for the Handbook is ready.

It has been known for some time that there is a desire among the women of local and conference groups for a Handbook on Finance, which would present in a simple, concise, usable form the details of our financial setup.

A short questionnaire was prepared and sent with a covering letter to all conference treasurers. The following are a few of the questions that were asked in this questionnaire:

1. What problems would you like to have discussed in a Handbook on Finance?
2. How are your cultivation funds raised?
3. Do you think credit should be given on your conference pledge for cultivation funds?
4. Do you apportion your conference pledge to your Woman's Societies in the local church or do you receive voluntary pledges from the societies?

The response to this questionnaire was excellent. Sixty-nine conferences from all sections of the country replied; many treasurers sent out their own questionnaires to local treasurers before sending in their suggestions. You may be interested in a few summaries of the answers.

Thirty-one conferences wanted credit on their pledge for cultivation funds; thirty-eight did not. The answers were not regional.

It was discovered that the amount paid for cultivation funds varied greatly in the conferences: from five cents a member in one conference to forty cents in another. Many conferences raise their cultivation fund by taking a percentage of the entire budget: one takes one per cent; another takes thirty-five per cent.

Thirty-eight conferences apportion their pledge; thirty-one makes voluntary pledges. The answer was regional.

Almost every conference requested that credit be given on the pledge for cash supplies, youth, and children's work. Several feel very strongly on this point.

Certain members of the committee assumed the responsibility for particular sections of the Handbook. Important sections, such as the sections on local, conference, and jurisdiction finance were presented in their entirety for criticism and correction at the September and October meetings of the Finance and Estimates Committee.

The tentative copy for the section on conference and district finance was sent to all conference treasurers with the request that they read it carefully and make suggestions for changes, if they so desired. A number replied with constructive criticism. The jurisdiction treasurers, in a similar way, were asked to assist with the jurisdiction section.

Every effort has been made to have as many persons as possible see the tentative copy for the Handbook.

At the September meeting of the Executive Committee of the Woman's Division it was voted to make the Handbook on Finance available for conferences in quantities at 5 cents and to be for sale at Literature Headquarters for 10 cents. It was also voted that a free copy be sent to each treasurer of each conference Woman's Society of Christian Service with the request that she secure sufficient copies for local societies at conference expense and that these be sent without charge to local societies.

It is hoped that the Handbook on Finance will be ready for distribution in January or February.

Report of Committee on Advance Program on the Fields.—Mrs. Otis Moore, Chairman, presented the following report, which was adopted:

More funds are required to care for the work of the Woman's Division as it is and to meet further immediate needs. In order to put these needs on the hearts of our women and to stimulate giving, the following plan is suggested for the year 1944:

1. At the close of the year, publicity will be given in The Methodist Woman to the names of conferences in three classifications: (a) Those that pay their pledges in full; (b) those that pay their pledges and a five-per-cent increase; (c) those that pay their pledges and a five-per-cent increase, and in addition take one or more shares ($100 each) in a proposed expansion. This expansion becomes possible only after the appropriations of the Woman's Division have been met in full.

2. The Woman's Division will give special recognition to the conferences in Classification C. (The Joint Division will devise appropriate insignia.)

3. To provide material for publicity for this plan, the staff of the Woman's Division of Christian Service shall name specific items within the appropriations which can be publicized attractively. (Note that these must be items which are not already being supported as special missionary projects.)

For the proposed expansion, the staff of the Woman's Division of Christian Service shall name priorities in advance. The total of $100,000 will make 1,000 shares to be taken by the conferences. These priorities in advance may not be assumed as special projects during 1944.

It will be necessary for the staff to provide these items by January 1.

4. At the end of the conference year, if the appropriations have been met in full, any increase from the conferences shall be shared proportionately.

Report of Treasurer.—Mrs. Ina Davis Fulton, Treasurer, presented the financial statement for six months of 1943-44. (See page 200.)

Report of Annual Meeting Committee on Treasurer's Report.—Mrs. W. J. Piggott, Chairman. Mrs. F. G. Brooks, Secretary, presented the following report, which was adopted:

The reports of the treasurer of the Woman's Division and the reports of Lybrand, Ross Brothers, and Montgomery, auditors for the Woman's Division for the year 1942, and the five-months' period of January 1-May 31, 1943, have been carefully reviewed and accepted by the Treasurer's Committee, the Finance and Estimates Committee, and the Executive Committee of the Woman's Division. The Committee on Treasurer's Reports, therefore, recommends the approval and acceptance of these two reports.

Report of Committee on Annual Report.—Mrs. Fred Lamb, Chairman. Miss Bettie Brittingham, Secretary, read the report as follows (adopted):

The Committee on Annual Report make the following recommendations to the Woman's Division of Christian Service:

1. That the Fourth Annual Report shall follow the same form as the Third Annual Report with the inclusion of pages of pictures representing all lines of work.

2. That the price of the Annual Report shall be 35 cents.

3. That the Annual Report Committee, in co-operation with the Committee on Literature and Publications, make a thorough study of the Annual Report, evaluating the nature of the present report in line with the needs of the Woman's Division of Christian Service and the Woman's Society of Christian Service, and recommend plans for the future.

Report of Committee on Trust Funds and Investments.—Mrs. J. W. Masland, Chairman. Mrs. Foss Zartman, Secretary, presented the following report, which was adopted:

It is the desire of the Board of Missions of the Methodist Protestant Church to complete all transfer of properties insofar as possible prior to General Conference in order that the merger of the Board of Missions of the Methodist Protestant Church into the Board of Missions and Church Extension may be complete.

Mrs. W. H. C. Goode presented the report from the Woman's Home Missionary Society, which was adopted as follows:

THE WOMAN'S HOME MISSIONARY SOCIETY OF THE METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

There are no other deeds ready for transfer at this time. I have, however, a report of some which are in process and probably will be completed by the next Annual Meeting.

We reported last year that the society had voted that buildings which were being erected or building programs which had been pledged, would be completed before deeds were transferred. Of three pieces of work thus involved, (1) the Navajo Methodist Mission, is ready for transfer but the "law's delay" prevents our handing the deed over today.

The second, Wood Junior College, is hindered because of some commitments which might be jeopardized by immediate change.

The third building is the San Juan project. The law of Puerto Rico requires that there be an "attorney in fact" appointed for either or both contracting parties if they are nonresidents. We appointed the superintendent of George O. Robinson, Mrs. Estelle Howard, to act for the Woman's Home Missionary Society, and the supervisor of kindergartens, Miss Bernice Huff, for the Woman's Division of Christian Service. While the deeds have been prepared, they are to be held in San Juan until the building is completed. I am asking that a member of the Building Committee report the present state of the building—Mrs. Kresge. (Mrs. Kresge reported that the building was 96 per cent completed. Two boats which were carrying building materials to San Juan were torpedoed and the committee has not been able to secure priority for the balance of materials needed. She also reported that the cathedral glass window was ready for shipment when the building is completed.)

I have a resolution prepared by the attorney in San Juan which must be passed by this body and signed by the secretary of the Division.

CERTIFICATE OF SECRETARY

OF

THE WOMAN'S DIVISION OF CHRISTIAN SERVICE OF THE BOARD OF MISSIONS AND CHURCH EXTENSION OF THE METHODIST CHURCH

I,, Secretary of the Woman's Division of Christian Service of the Board of Missions and Church Extension of The Methodist Church, a charitable corporation duly organized and existing in accordance with the laws of the state of New York, U. S. A., with principal office in the city of New York, hereby certify:

That at a meeting of the Board of Directors of this corporation duly held on the 6th day of December, 1943, at which meeting a quorum duly and unanimously adopted, to wit:

whereby this corporation accepted title to certain real estate situated in the place of Bayola, ward of Santurce of the city of San Juan, Puerto Rico, transferred to this corporation by the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church;

"WHEREAS, The said Miss Bernice Huff was duly authorized to accept title to said real estate under the terms and conditions specified in said deed, a copy of which is before this Board: It is hereby

"Resolved, That the act of Miss Bernice Huff in accepting title to said real estate under the terms and conditions specified in deed No. 17 executed before the Notary Public, Mr. Rafael Castro Fernandez on the 17th day of August, 1943, and in executing said deed on behalf of this corporation, is hereby ratified and confirmed as the free act of this corporation."

I Further Certify, That the foregoing resolution is a true and exact copy of the original thereof as set forth in the original minutes of said meeting which I have before me in this act and which I keep in my possession as secretary of this corporation.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I execute this certificate under my hand and the seal of this corporation at, this 6th day of December, 1943.

.....Secretary.

There are a few other deeds which are still being held up by our attorney for further investigation.

Since coming to this meeting we have been asked to give consent to condemnation proceedings by the government for a small piece of property in Seward, Alaska, which the government is using. The property contains about 9/10 of an acre and a small cabin.

The money from this sale will be placed in a restricted fund for the rehabilitation of Jesse Lee Home, and no institution that I know of is more needed than this.

The treasurer of the Woman's Home Missionary Society will present the statement of the transfer of funds for the period of January 1-November 30, 1943.

Mrs. Harry E. Woolever presented the report from the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, which was adopted as follows:

REPORT OF THE GENERAL EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE WOMAN'S FOREIGN MISSIONARY SOCIETY

From the time of organization of the Board of Missions and Church Extension of The Methodist Church, the General Executive Committee of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society has been seeking to complete the transfer of all funds to the Woman's Division of Christian Service.

Income from Permanent Funds has been transferred each year and applied on the appropriations of the Woman's Division.

Undesignated bequests and lapsed annuities accumulated prior to July, 1943, have likewise been transferred for the use of the Division.

During the period from January, 1941, to date, there has been paid to the Woman's Division $196,908, which has been used on appropriations and $325,029 for projects not included in regular appropriations, such as building funds, revolving fund, and emergencies, a total of $521,937.

All properties in foreign fields of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society have been transferred to the Foreign Department of the Woman's Division by deed of trust until such time as the deeds may be legally conveyed. The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society has also made available through quitclaim resolutions the field balances estimated at about $20,000.

Each of the merging organizations comprising the Woman's Division is being held responsible for sufficient funds to provide pensions for those who had been retired prior to August, 1940, and also for all those active missionaries and deaconesses transferred to the Woman's Division at the time of unifications, if and when they are eligible for pension, to be paid in accordance with the plans and rates of the organization under which they had served and from the funds accumulated by that organization. An actuarial study is now in process and its findings will be ready for report to the March Executive Committee meeting of the Woman's Division. Pending this report, lapsed annuities and undesignated bequests received by the treasurer of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society since July, 1943, are being reserved in case it is necessary to augment the present funds for retirement provision of these missionaries, active and retired, on the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society roll as of August, 1940.

The Permanent Funds of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society are being held pending further legal advice on turning these over to the Woman's Division with the understanding that until such transfer can be completed, income on Permanent Funds shall continue to be paid promptly to the Woman's Division.

Furthermore, undesignated bequests and lapsed annuities not needed for the retirement fund of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society shall continue to be paid promptly to the Woman's Division.

Memorials to General Conference.—Mrs. A. C. Johnson and Mrs. J. Howard Ake were appointed a committee to frame memorials from the Home Department to be presented to General Conference. Mrs. F. F. Lewis and Mrs. L. M. Awtrey were appointed a committee to frame memorials for General Conference from the Committee on the Status of Women.

Message.—It was voted to send a message of sympathy to Mrs. Charles Wade on the loss of her brother.

Report of Committee on Week of Prayer.—Mrs. J. W. Mills, Chairman. Mrs. W. J. Piggott, Secretary, presented the following report, which was adopted:

The Committee on Week of Prayer and Self-Denial gave careful consideration to the projects chosen by the Home and Foreign Departments for which the offerings of the 1944 Week of Prayer and Self-Denial shall be used. In response to these askings, the committee recommends:

That the Home Department be authorized to use its share of the Week of Prayer fund for:

1. Friendship Home and Mother's Memorial Center, Cincinnati, Ohio. Friendship Home serves as a residence for young Negro working girls separated from their families who need a decent, comfortable, Christian home. The facilities need to be expanded to give greater security to more girls. The center ministers especially to working mothers and their little children through the day nursery and club activities. The building in which teen-age groups meet is inadequate and all activities are carried on under difficult circumstances in quarters which cannot be expanded.

2. Wesley Community House Building Fund, Houston, Texas. Wesley House serves Mexican people. The activities are now conducted in a rented frame house which is entirely inadequate. Lots have already been purchased for a new location and a building fund has been begun within the conference.

A full program of community service is carried on, giving the Mexicans opportunities that are not open to them through other channels and building Christian attitudes as the Mexicans and Anglo-Americans are brought into a closer relationship and wider understanding.

The committee further recommends that the Foreign Department be authorized to use its share of the 1944 Week of Prayer funds for:

1. Building and equipment at the Medical College for Women, Vellore, India. Medical College at Vellore must raise its standards. Among other things, the staff must be enlarged, the hospital space doubled, and equipment improved.

A Christian College for Men parallel to the Woman's College is being projected by the Christian Medical Association of India and British and American Boards. The whole will become one of the most important institutions in India.

2. Needs for educational and medical work in the Congo, Angola, Rhodesia, and Portuguese East Africa Conferences.

From the many proposed needs, specific projects will be selected after further correspondence with the field.

Report of Committee to Fill Vacancies.—Mrs. Mills, Chairman. Miss Mabel K. Howell, Secretary, presented the following report, which was adopted:

The Committee to Fill Vacancies met and took under consideration the one vacancy which has occurred in the membership that came by the resignation of Miss Henrietta Gibson, Advisory Member from the Northeastern Jurisdiction, who has accepted the position of associate treasurer of the Woman's Division.

The Northeastern Jurisdiction reported that it was their desire not to nominate anyone at this time to fill this vacancy because it was so late in the quadrennium and the person nominated could not have opportunity to serve.

The committee, therefore, recommends that this vacancy be not filled.

Report of Committee on World Federation of Methodist Women.—Mrs. J. W. Mills, Chairman. Mrs. A. C. Johnson presented the report. (See page 257.)

Resolution.—Miss Ruby Van Hooser presented the following resolution, which was adopted:

Since overwhelming public opinion is needed to be felt at once to assume the passage of Senate Resolution No. 100, and House Resolution No. 117, to feed the starving children of the occupied countries of Europe, we recommend:

1. That all members of the Woman's Society of Christian Service be urged by the Woman's Division to write at once to the President of the United States, the Secretary of State, and their senators and key representatives, urging the passage of the bills.

2. That the president of the Woman's Division be requested to send telegrams to the President of the United States, the Secretary of State, and the chairmen of the Senate and House Committees considering the bills, urging the passage of the bills at once.

3. That a small delegation representing the Division be appointed by the president of the Division to appear before the committees concerned in Washington to express the opinion of the Woman's Division in regard to the passage of the bills.

On motion of Mrs. Oldshue, it was voted to include the president of the Division and the secretary of Children's Work in the delegation to appear before the committees concerned in Washington.

Report of Standing Committee on Missionary Personnel.—Mrs. L. R. Peel, Chairman. Mrs. Isaac Morris, Secretary, presented the following recommendations, which were adopted:

It is recommended:

1. That the Missionary Personnel Committee of the Woman's Division plan jurisdiction study conferences for the conference chairmen of Missionary Personnel early in the next quadrennium.

(a) It is further recommended that the jurisdiction provide a subsidy of ten dollars for the expense of each conference chairman and that additional funds be provided by the conferences.

2. That a mimeographed guide setting forth duties, qualifications for missionary service, procedure for making application and information regarding grants for specialized study be sent to each conference chairman of Missionary Personnel.

3. That a leaflet presenting the call to missionary service in all areas of life be prepared by Miss Mary Catherine Russell or some other missionary. This leaflet to be confirmed by the Joint Committee on Missionary Personnel and referred to the Joint Division of Education and Cultivation with the hope that this Division will provide the expense for printing.

4. That when it seems expedient to act upon an application for missionary service, which is made after April 15, that the Joint Committee on Missionary Personnel be asked to name a subcommittee to consider the application with the power to act.

5. That the ruling concerning the time of the required year of experience be made flexible and subject to the discretion of the Joint Committee on Missionary Personnel.

6. That Study Grants of the Woman's Division be made only to candidates who have been recommended by the Joint Committee on Missionary Personnel and tentatively accepted by the Woman's Division.

(a) It is further recommended that young women who are engaged to be married be not eligible for a Study Grant.

7. That the amount of the Study Grant and the place the candidate will study shall be decided on by the secretary of Missionary Personnel and the staff of the department in which the candidate will serve.

8. That funds for Study Grants be sent by the conference treasurer to the treasurer of the Woman's Division and included as credit on the pledge through the regular procedure.

9. That money for the Study Grant shall be paid to the candidate by the treasurer of the Woman's Division.

10. That when a young woman accepts a Study Grant, but withdraws before being commissioned, the secretary of Missionary Personnel is responsible for arranging the agreement by which the grant is to be repaid to the treasurer of the Woman's Division.

11. That when a young woman accepts a Study Grant, is commissioned as a missionary or deaconess of the Board of Missions and Church Extension and does not finish her term of service, the executive secretary concerned is responsible for arranging the agreement by which the proportionate part of the grant is to be repaid to the treasurer of the Woman's Division.

12. That we consider the use of a service flag or similar emblem to honor persons from a local church in Christian service inappropriate for general use.

Recommendation.—On motion of Miss MacKinnon, it was voted that the devotional material for the Week of Prayer for the year 1944 include an emphasis on the need for missionaries and deaconesses. (See reconsideration at later session.)

Introduction.—Mrs. Beebe introduced Miss Alice Powell, nurse, who had sailed as a missionary to China thirty-seven years ago this date.

Eighth Session—December 9, 1943

THE eighth session of the Woman's Division of Christian Service was called to order at 5 P. M., Thursday, December 9, 1943, by the President, Mrs. Bragg.

Matter of Privilege.—Mrs. L. R. Peel introduced Dr. L. O. Hartman, who presented the matter of personnel secretary, bringing the following recommendation from the Joint Committee on Missionary Personnel:

"To refer the whole question of the number of secretaries and associate secretaries and the co-ordination of their work back to the three Divisions for further study, and to postpone action until their reports were received."

On motion of Mrs. Beebe, it was voted that there be three co-ordinate secretaries, two of whom shall be assigned to the Woman's Division.

Report of Wesleyan Service Guild Standing Committee.—Mrs. Harry Woolever presented the following recommendations, which were adopted:

1. The Standing Committee of the Wesleyan Service Guild appreciates the desire of the Woman's Division of Christian Service to do all it can to reach the employed women of the church and believes that there is an opportunity for increasing Guild membership and financial support in the present emergency.

Therefore, the Wesleyan Service Guild requests the Woman's Division of Christian Service to approve an additional worker in the office of the Guild who will give time to both office and field work, and we recommend the reference of this request to the Finance and Estimates Committee for implementation.

2. The Standing Committee of the Wesleyan Service Guild heartily endorses the recommendation of the Southeastern Jurisdiction in regard to changes in the report blanks of the Woman's Society, making clearer the total membership and missionary giving of the woman power in the local church.

Similar suggestions have been received from the Woman's Society and the Guild in another jurisdiction.

3. The Standing Committee of the Wesleyan Service Guild received with appreciation the recommendation referred to it by the Woman's Division from the New England Conference, and recommends that the Wesleyan Service Guild hold a district, subdistrict, or zone meeting at least once a year, and whenever feasible on the day of a similar meeting of the Woman's Society. This is in addition to the week-end Guild conferences already set up in many areas.

The Standing Committee of the Guild urges all the Woman's Division members to implement these meetings in their own areas.

4. Voted to eliminate from the Standing Committee listed in Article V of the Guild Constitution, Sec. 2, "a corresponding secretary," because the six jurisdiction members of the Standing Committee and the Division secretary of the Guild are given the responsibility of carrying on the necessary correspondence for the Guild.

5. Voted, that the Guild encourage the presentation of Life Memberships to those whom the Guilds wish to honor, following the plan of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, and request the Woman's Division of Christian Service, whenever possible after the war, that the Life Membership Pin be modified by using the letters "W. S. G." instead of "L. M." at the lower edge of the pin for Guild members.

It was voted to refer the matter of a "Standing Committee on Policy" to a special committee.

The By-laws of the Division were adopted as amended. (See page 268.)

The By-laws of the Department of Christian Social Relations and Local Church Activities were next considered and adopted as amended. (See page 282.)

It was voted to recommend that when committees of the Section of Education and Cultivation shall be set up, officers in the jurisdictions charged with the responsibilities of missionary education shall have membership on such committees.

Referred Item.—

It was voted to refer the item concerning the appropriation of $3,000 for an additional secretary in the Department of Christian Social Relations and Local Church Activities to the Committee on Finance and Estimates.

Adjournment.—Adjourned by expiration of time to meet at close of evening session.

Ninth Session—December 9, 1943

THE ninth session of the Woman's Division of Christian Service was called to order at 10 P. M., Thursday, December 9, by the President, Mrs. J. D. Bragg.

Memorials.—The following memorial to General Conference was presented by Mrs. Oldshue:

The Woman's Division of Christian Service of the Board of Missions and Church Extension of The Methodist Church memorializes General Conference of The Methodist Church in session in Kansas City, Missouri, April 26, 1944, to endorse the following:

That general meetings of the church be held where there will be no segregated arrangements and that church-wide programs of promotion and inspiration be planned for all groups without regard to race.

Mrs. Ake presented the following memorials:

WHEREAS, The entire church is facing the need of an increasing number of Christian workers in every avenue of its work, especially the missionary enterprise; and

WHEREAS, Greater emphasis should be placed on presenting the need, the opportunity, and the requirements for Christian service to young people; and

WHEREAS, Pastors in the local churches are key men in seeking and cultivating the highest type of workers as they give counsel and guidance to the youth with whom they come in contact.

Therefore, The Woman's Division of Christian Service of the Board of Missions and Church Extension of The Methodist Church memorializes the General Conference that provision be made to include, among the disciplinary questions asked of pastors, one concerning the number of Christian service recruits in their churches.

The Woman's Division of Christian Service of the Board of Missions and Church Extension of The Methodist Church memorializes the General Conference that

WHEREAS, At present there is no plan for Social Security for lay workers of The Methodist Church, nor are they eligible for Social Security under the government plan; and

WHEREAS, The Board of Education of The Methodist Church and the Woman's Division of Christian Service have initiated a study of a plan to provide Social Security for lay workers of the church; and

WHEREAS, This committee, appointed by the two boards, desire the support of the entire church, inasmuch as many local church workers will be involved;

Therefore, The Woman's Division of Christian Service respectfully requests the General Conference to give endorsement to a definite study of a plan, providing Social Security for lay workers of The Methodist Church.

Another memorial in regard to clergy rights for women is in process of preparation.

Report of Standing Committee on Education and Cultivation.—Mrs. E. R. Bartlett, Chairman pro tem. Mrs. Wiltz Ledbetter, Secretary.

The following recommendations were presented by Mrs. Ledbetter:

In considering more effective means and methods for promoting the total program of education and cultivation, we submit the following recommendations:

We recommend:

1. That in interpreting Section 5, Article 2 of By-laws for Jurisdiction Societies, concerning the Committee on Summer Schools and Conferences, further recommendations may be channeled to the leaders of conference summer schools, suggesting standards and goals to bring such schools into conformity with the study and action program of the Woman's Division and giving information regarding the availability of missionaries and deaconesses for itineration.

2. (a) That the conference Committee on Study and Action be used as an Advisory Committee by the Conference Summer School Committee.

(b) That the conference Committee on Study and Action be responsible for planning the work and itinerary of the educational field worker within the conference.

3. That the Committee on Literature and Publications make a study of policies regarding the preparation of supplementary materials to be used in connection with approved study courses, and that the secretary of Missionary Education, the secretary of Christian Social Relations and Local Church Activities, the chairman of the Spiritual Life Committee, and the editor or editors involved recommend to the Committee on Literature and Publications the topic and plans (including types of material and probable authors) for the approved study courses (other than the Missionary Education Movement).

4. That the following new study themes be approved for 1944-1945:

(1) The American Indian.

(2) Southeast Asia.

(3) Christians and a New World Economy.

(4) The Christian Faith and The Christian Way (Bible study based on Ephesians using the book, The World of His Grace, by Dr. Costen J. Harrell).

5. (a) That a committee of persons experienced in the area of Bible training be appointed to study the future policy of Bible study for the Woman's Division and that this committee submit its findings to the Committee on Literature and Publications. Personnel of committee—Mesdames Alexander, Bourne, Bartlett, Rodeheaver (co-opted), Misses Stevens and Brittingham.

(b) That the recommendations of the Woman's Section of the Joint Division of Education and Cultivation from the Department of Christian Social Relations and Local Church Activities referred to the Committee on Education and Cultivation regarding a new Bible study shall be referred to the above-named committee.

6. That the Pastors' Journal be requested to give space at intervals for information concerning the Woman's Society of Christian Service, which will lead to a better understanding of the program.

7. That in view of the appreciation recorded for the co-operation of district superintendents and pastors in organizing Woman's Societies of Christian Service, a letter expressing this attitude go from the office of the executive secretary of the Woman's Section of the Joint Division of Education and Cultivation to them.

8. That definite approaches be made to the Methodist theological seminaries for an annual presentation of the work of the Woman's Society of Christian Service by some member of the staff or Division.

It was voted to adopt the report and that the secretary of the Standing Committee on Education and Cultivation be authorized to include in the report all previously adopted policies concerning jurisdiction schools and conferences and interdenominational schools and conferences.

POLICIES OF THE WOMAN'S DIVISION IN RELATION TO INTERDENOMINATIONAL SCHOOLS OF MISSIONS AND MISSIONARY CONFERENCES

1. The representatives on interdenominational committees shall be elected by the Woman's Division when requested by those charged with responsibility and when nominated by the secretary of missionary education of the Joint Division, the number of Methodist representatives and terms of service on any interdenominational committee to be determined by the by-laws of the committee.

2. Membership on such interdenominational committee does not imply financial obligation to the schools or conferences on the part of the Woman's Division.

3. The Woman's Division shall meet the expenses of one of its committee representatives at the school if she is to be on the program or have official responsibility at the school.

4. The Woman's Division shall meet the expenses of one of its home or foreign missionaries or deaconesses at the school if it is advisable to have such a person on the program.

5. The Woman's Division representatives on interdenominational summer school committees shall nominate their camp director in such summer schools and conferences, expenses for the director to be met by the Woman's Division.

6. All such expenses shall be paid from appropriations for schools of missions and summer conferences, on order of the secretary of Missionary Education of the Joint Division, Woman's Section.

POLICIES REGARDING JURISDICTION SCHOOLS

1. The Woman's Division recommends that the jurisdiction Woman's Society of Christian Service, working through its jurisdiction Committee on Summer Schools and Conferences, give primary consideration and support to jurisdiction schools, but cultivate in the interest of all summer-school opportunities.

2. That teachers of accredited courses in jurisdiction schools receive honoraria on an equal basis with those paid by the Board of Education. Such honoraria shall be paid from appropriations for schools of missions and summer conferences.

3. That teachers in jurisdiction schools be secured by the secretary of missionary education in consultation with the chairman of the jurisdiction committee and the dean of the school; that other details of the jurisdiction school program be worked out by the jurisdiction committee in consultation with the secretary of missionary education; that the jurisdiction and the school shall finance these additional program plans.

Report of the Annual Meeting Committee on General Reference was presented by Mrs. W. C. Hanson, as follows:

Being organized for the first time, with its duties as yet not fully interpreted, this committee opens its report with certain practical considerations.

Inasmuch as a committee of general reference needs to face with conscious appraisal and an understanding of its duties, the entire proceedings of an annual meeting from its beginning, we recommend to the Policy Committee:

1. That the Annual Meeting Committees be appointed early in the opening session.

2. That the duties of the Committee on General Reference be defined in a by-law such as the following:

"It shall be the duty of the Committee on General Reference to consider the reports of the executive secretaries and such other matters as may be referred to it."

In accordance with the above interpretation, your committee wishes to commend the excellent reports of and other members of the staff with their comprehensive presentation of all phases of the work, their clear grasp of immediate problems, their foresighted planning for the future, and their far-reaching recommendations. The attractive form in which these reports are made available in print will facilitate and doubtless increase their use.

The committee desires to commend also the procedures used at this Annual Meeting by the various departments for the consideration of their activities, such as the "workshop," the review of bureaus, and of fields of work; and it suggests that the workshop plan may well be extended through jurisdiction, conference, and district on an interracial basis.

Through the sessions of this Annual Meeting, we have become increasingly aware of the interrelationships of the three departments of the Division, and of the vital need of some plan whereby the members of each department may acquire a closer understanding of each of the other two departments. Therefore, your committee recommends that the Policy Committee give study to a plan for the Annual Meeting that shall afford members of each department opportunity to sit in on each of the other departments in action in at least one session.

We have heard repeated reference throughout the sessions to the Bishops' Crusade. The plans for a postwar world are the deep concern of the women of Methodism. A just and lasting peace based on Christian principles is the foundation step toward the reconstruction of a Christian world. We recognize the Crusade for a New World Order as the major channel this year for the informing and mobilizing of Methodism in the interest of a Christian peace, and we recommend the wholehearted participation of the Woman's Society of Christian Service in the complete program, hoping that the meeting will be conducted without racial discrimination.

Your committee has detected three major notes of emphasis sounding through every department of work: (1) Personnel needs; (2) the need for increased giving; (3) the need for expanded program.

In regard to personnel, we recommend to the Committee on General Reference of the board that increased study and emphasis be given through every possible channel to the cultivation of personnel, in order to meet the crescendo of need for Christian workers in all fields.

Touching the plans for increased giving, we commend the desire of the Division to face as a whole the compelling needs pressing from all sides, and the plan for capturing the imagination of our women for larger giving by the presentation of certain outstanding needs of immediate appeal, while at the same time insisting that the regular appropriations shall be met before these additional projects can be benefitted.

With the emergency appeals of a world in upheaval and the imperative of postwar planning we can do no other than go forward. We commend the note of hopefulness in the plans of the expanded program that leads the Division with vision prophetic, faith undaunted, and confidence in the women of Methodism, to launch out into widening fields of opportunity.

And finally, we have been deeply stirred by the glowing report of the working of the spirit of God in fields that have been subject to the devastation of war, as given by the missionaries from the "Gripsholm." We express our gratitude for the kindling power of this word.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. A. E. BEEBE, Chairman;

MRS. WILLIAM C. HANSON, Secretary.

MEMORIALS

Recognition of workers who passed to their reward during the year:

“There is no death.
The stars go down
To rise upon a fairer shore,
And bright in Heaven’s jeweled crown
They shine forevermore!”

Mrs. Charles D. Morris

Clara Louise Ogilvy was born December 19, 1882, in Nebraska City, Nebraska. In 1900 Miss Ogilvy went to Korea as teacher of missionaries’ children. On September 10, 1903, she was married to Charles David Morris, a missionary of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Korea. Together they served in Korea until Mr. Morris’ death in 1927.

Those of us who had the privilege of knowing Mr. and Mrs. Morris will never forget the cheerful courage with which they faced the cruel separation which ended their life together on earth.

Mrs. Morris remained in Korea carrying on her work under the W.F.M.S. until 1940. She was retired by the Woman’s Division of Christian Service as of January 1, 1943, and died on January 4, 1943, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Henry Knutson, in Hellertown, Pennsylvania.

As wife, mother, friend, and counselor, Louise Morris gave to every person with whom she came in contact uplift and blessing.

Mrs. Morris is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Henry Knutson and Mrs. P. A. Lewis. To them we express our sympathy and with them we rejoice in the beautiful life of the parents and in the comforting knowledge that they are reunited in our Father’s home.

Roxana Mellinger

Word has come of the death in Bombay, India, on January 19, 1943, of Roxana Mellinger, a missionary of the Woman’s Division of Christian Service. Miss Mellinger was born in Dayton, Ohio, and was a graduate of the Cincinnati Training School in 1910, received her A.B. degree from Ohio Wesleyan in 1913 and her M.A. at Columbia University in 1921.

She went to Burma in 1913 under Cincinnati Branch of the Woman’s Foreign Missionary Society. Her work was in English with the Anglo-Indians and Anglo-Burmese, and she was principal of Kingswood School in Kalaw for many years. Under her leadership it became one of the most beautiful of all hill schools; its collections of butterflies and beetles, made by the students under her direction, were remarkable and the compound had become an arboretum for Burma.

She left Kalaw—forced out by the war—on March 13, 1942, and after a short rest in the hills was appointed to Taylor High School, an institution for Anglo-Indians in Poona, India. She served there until November when a recurrence of an old malady made it necessary for her to go to the hospital in Bombay. A beautiful life has come to a brave end.

Grace Manly

Grace Manly was born September 19, 1899, in Chungking, Szechwan, West China, the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Manly, West China missionaries from 1893 to 1937. Miss Manly spent the first decade of her life in West China, where she learned to know the Chinese people and their language as few Americans do. She received her A.B. degree from Ohio Wesleyan in 1923 and did graduate study in Christian education at the University of Chicago and at Union Theological Seminary in New York, N. Y. In 1931 she received a Master’s degree in religious education.

In 1924 Miss Manly returned to China to engage in full-time Christian service as a representative of the Woman’s Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Except for two years of furlough (1930-31 and 1937-38) Miss Manly spent the rest of her life in the work she loved in China. She carried heavy responsibility in the educational and church work in Chengtu and in the surrounding district. In 1942 she was the first missionary to be appointed to work in Neikiang.

Miss Manly was a keen student, interested in many subjects, and always eager to understand other peoples and their ways of life. She was a devoted friend and helped wherever she went. Seldom can one find a better example of selflessness than was demonstrated in Grace Manly's life.

A radiogram from a friend in West China said, "The church in West China has lost its most effective worker in the death of Grace Manley, on May 8, 1943." Truly she laid down her life for her Master and for her friends, the Chinese.

Edith T. Swift

Edith T. Swift died in Elizabeth, New Jersey, May 13, 1943. From 1902 to 1914 she was a missionary of the New England Branch of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society and served in Crandon Institute, Rome, Italy. After she accepted the retired relationship in 1914, Miss Swift was for more than twenty years a member of the staff of the Lincoln House, one of Boston's well-known social settlements, where she worked among the Italian people.

Lola May Kidwell

Lola May Kidwell was sent to Japan in 1894 by the Cincinnati Branch of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church. She was appointed to Kwassui College, where, with the exception of some months in charge of Fukuoka Jo Gakko, she spent twenty-three years, returning to America in 1917.

A graduate of Ohio Wesleyan University, Miss Kidwell possessed a brilliant mind and rare ability as a teacher. In all the varied duties that fall to a missionary, she was exceedingly conscientious and painstaking. She was retired in 1918.

For a long time she had been a patient sufferer from a lingering disease. She lived for some years at Thoburn Terrace, the Methodist Home in Alhambra, California. Death brought release to her on June 5, 1943, at a sanatorium near San Diego.

Edith T. Morehouse

Dr. Edith T. Morehouse was sent to India in 1921 by the New York Branch, Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church. She was appointed to Ellen T. Cowan Memorial Hospital at Kolar, South India, and gave splendid service there for full two terms. Because of failing health, Dr. Morehouse was retired in 1931 by the society, and since that time she has been a patient sufferer from a lingering disease and passed away in the home of her sister in Plainfield, New Jersey.

Helma J. Fernstrom

Helma Josephine Fernstrom was born September 26, 1894, in Ogallala, Nebraska. By sheer force of character she rose above the difficulties of her childhood, and in 1922 received her B.S. from the University of Cincinnati, and later her R.N. from its school of nursing. In 1925 she was sent to India by Northwestern Branch of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, to be associated with Dr. Cora I. Kipp in the development of a health program for the schools and district conferences of northern India. To this program she gave her life, working first out of the Mary Wilson Sanatorium in Tiluania and then from Clara Swain Hospital, Bareilly. Traveling from school to school, she gave physical examinations to pupils and teachers, established courses in hygiene, reinforced with fascinating storybooks and puppet shows, and worked with all sorts of groups in the constant fight against India's hideous preventable diseases. Her success led the Christian Medical Council of India to request the Woman's Division to make her services available to them as all-India secretary of public health.

It was while she was on furlough making preparation for this important position that a break in her own health came. She was sent to Clifton Springs Sanatorium in September, 1942, and from there to Brigham Hall Hospital, Canandaigua, New York, where she died June 20, 1943.

Her going is a tremendous loss to India and to a host of friends there and here, to whom her six feet of strength and her flashing smile were symbols of the health she sought for them.

Mary Reed

The Methodist Woman of February, 1941, contained the story of Mary Reed. For this world that story ended on April 4, 1943. Miss Reed died in her home in Chandag Heights, India, after nearly a month of acute suffering caused by a fall.

Mary Reed was born in Lowell, Ohio, December 4, 1854, graduated from Ohio State Normal in 1878, and was sent to India by Cincinnati Branch of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society in 1884. During her first furlough she was found to have leprosy. She returned to India and gave the rest of her life to the service of lepers. Her own case was arrested, but she lived apart, superintending the leper asylum which she built on the ridge above the beautiful Shor Valley, three days by mountain paths from Almora in the Himalayas. She introduced the most modern treatment for her lepers, she supervised their homes and little farms, taught them the Bible, built them a lovely chapel, and did such a magnificent all-around job that the government of India awarded her its highest honor, the Kaiser-i-Hin Gold Medal. She had not been down to the Plains for more than twenty years, but she kept keenly aware of the outside world through wide and constant reading. She never stopped giving herself, and in her last painful days her great regret was that she was useless. Not only her lepers, but all those others to whom her life had been an example of steadfast sacrifice, rise up and call her blessed.

Emilie R. Loveless

Emilie R. Loveless was born in London, England, March 1, 1873. A cablegram received on April 12 announced her death in Constantine, Algeria, North Africa, on April 11, 1943. Educated at the Doric Lodge Training School and the Harley College Missionary Training School, Miss Loveless went to North Africa in 1902 under the North Africa Mission. She was one of that little band of English missionaries who became workers of the Methodist Episcopal Church in North Africa in 1912. In July, 1915, she was accepted as a missionary of the Board of Foreign Missions, and in 1919 she was transferred to work under the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society.

Miss Loveless gave her life to work among the Arabs. She had gained great proficiency in Arabic and understood the needs of these people. Most of her life was spent in the city of Constantine where for many years she was in charge of the Gamble Memorial Home for Arab girls. Under her leadership a new building was erected and she developed an excellent institution where many girls were trained for practical Christian service.

Although her retirement was several years overdue, Miss Loveless was unable to leave North Africa because of the war. She continued to work with unstinted zeal and faced the increasing problems of war days with fortitude. Several months before her death the Gamble Home was commandeered by the Allied Military Forces and it became necessary to find new quarters for the girls under her care. Due partly to this unusual strain, her health failed and, after several months of illness, she slipped away.

Twice Miss Loveless spent her furloughs in the United States and became acquainted with the friends in New York Branch who supported her. Her keen insights and her merry spirit made her greatly beloved by all who knew her. Among her missionary colleagues in Algeria she was a cherished friend and leader.

Clara M. Organ

Clara M. Organ, a retired missionary to India, died in Concord, Massachusetts, April 9, 1943. She was born November 23, 1862, in Farmington, New Hampshire, was appointed to India by New England Branch of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society and sailed late in 1899. Her first term was spent in Bidwell Memorial School at Shahjahanpur, and her second in evangelistic work in Budaun and Moradabad. Her health was never robust and she was obliged to return to America in 1913 and to retire in 1916. She was known as an excellent

Miss Anna Heistad

Christmas, 1942, was an unusually happy season for Miss Anna Heistad as she shared the joys of her friends in the celebrations at Marcy Center, Chicago, Illinois. Throughout the week she had continued her ministry of loving service in the name of Him whose birthday was being celebrated. Christmas Day found her radiantly happy with her dearest friends and loved ones, with no problems on her mind—everything seemed to have been temporarily solved. The day was perfect.

When a member of the staff went to her room the following morning to wake her there was no response—her beautiful life had reached the end of its earthly trail.

After the body had been returned to the Marcy chapel it was very fitting that the first two callers should be refugees whom Miss Anna had befriended. One of them brought a bouquet of flowers and asked that the following words be written to accompany them:

"There is a realm of the living
And the realm of the dead,
And the bridge between them is love."

Her influence shall continue to be part of the great work which she began and in which she invested a life of loving service.

Mrs. Hollingsworth was conference president of the former Woman's Home Missionary Society for fifteen years. She was a member of the Uniting Conference and helped unite the work of the Woman's Society and had been a conference officer since the beginning of the new organization.

Our Opportunities

THE impact of Christian teachers upon the youth of our nation is incalculable today. Young people of all races and nationalities are perplexed, are increasingly without the undergirding of the home, and need the sense of direction that a Christian purpose can give. Through its educational centers, the Woman's Division of Christian Service reaches out to young people and children and seeks through its missionary teachers and staff members, to give a Christian interpretation to the overwhelming problems of the world in which these young people find themselves. These young people are trained to go out into their communities as Christian leaders; a noteworthy number, 23%, of our own graduates are serving in these schools.

It is our opportunity, also, to give examples of interracial co-operation, in a day when hatred is rampant in the world, and yet when, to save the world, we must begin to have understanding and world collaboration. In many of our Negro schools biracial staffs help to bring about an understanding between the races. In three schools, American-born Japanese (Nisei) are working either as students or as members of the staff.

There are areas in our nation where there is not equal educational opportunities for the so-called underprivileged groups. This is evident among the American Indians. The Woman's Division is serving through its Navajo Methodist Mission School in Farmington, New Mexico. Yet there are 6,000 children on the reservation for whom there are no public-school facilities. In those sections where there is the dual system of Negro and white education, the states and cities are gradually bringing about an equalization of salaries. Still there is great disparity in the school facilities afforded the two groups. To help meet the need, the Woman's Division has eleven student centers among Negroes, with grade, high school, and college work offered.

Today our student counselors on five state university campuses face a new opportunity in their service to hundreds of young people in the armed services. "The homelike atmosphere of the student centers continues to call both students and soldiers there for relaxation and fellowship."

From an academic standpoint, our schools should be pioneers in progressive education—from the viewpoint of the church, they must point the way to a type of school wherein the best of educational procedure is combined with a Christian philosophy of life. Looking toward a postwar world, these opportunities to influence those who will be making a new world are intensified many times. Quoting from The School Executive, September, 1943: "We think the American people are expecting something bigger and more enduring than a mere military victory. . . . We think the American people are regarding this war as a struggle to make their ideals of life prevail. If this is true, it is national folly of the first magnitude to neglect to produce good citizens while producing munitions."

Our Limitations

To meet to the fullest, the above opportunity, requires first of all, the finest, best-trained, most Christian educators. It requires far better physical plants than we have been able to establish and maintain in many places. Equipment should be improved. It requires better provision for the material needs of our faculty members and students. It requires in some cases—in most cases—larger salaries, and more definite provision for regular summer and winter study. We should be able to select our teachers from among a progressive and Christian group who would make our schools examples of the most up-to-date kind of teaching. A study for the Committee on Expanded Program reveals that we need from the financial standpoint $486,522 to maintain our educational centers on an adequate basis, exclusive of buildings.

Personnel

As was to be anticipated, the year brought many openings, and many changes in personnel. For the fall of 1943, more than ninety vacancies had to be filled in the bureau. With the numbers of men and women entering defense work as well as those who are drafted into the armed forces, and with the increased salaries offered in industry, it was most difficult to secure the new teachers and workers, and several schools opened in the fall with a shortage in staff. We pay tribute to those who remained at their posts, and who have assumed added duties in the emergency and remained co-operative throughout. Ten of our workers are foreign missionaries, "temporarily allocated to the Home Department."

An unusual number of administrative changes in personnel occurred, with the following new appointments made:

Navajo Methodist Mission School, Farmington, New Mexico—Mr. Willard P. Bass, Superintendent; Sager-Brown Home and Godman School, Baldwin, Louisiana—Miss Rosie Ann Cobb, Superintendent; Peck Hall, New Orleans, Louisiana—Miss Gwendolyn Scavella, Superintendent; Wood Junior College, Mathiston, Mississippi—Mr. C. M. Waggoner, President; Sue Bennett College, London, Kentucky—Miss Jeannetta Harrison, Acting President; Pfeiffer Junior College, Misenheimer, North Carolina—Dean G. G. Starr, Acting President; Louisiana Southwest State Teachers' College, Lafayette, Louisiana—Miss Helen Strickland, Student Counselor; Louisiana State Teachers' College, Natchitoches, Louisiana—Miss Genevieve Reynolds, Student Counselor; Eastern Carolina State Teachers' College, Greenville, North Carolina—Miss Mamie Chandler, Student Counselor (transferred from Natchitoches); Harwood Girls' School, Albuquerque, New Mexico—Miss Iva Maye Carruth, Superintendent; George O. Robinson School and Kindergartens, San Juan, Puerto Rico—Miss Verr Zeliff (to assume her duties as superintendent as soon as practicable); Texas State College for Women, Denton, Texas—Miss Mildred Hudgins, Teacher of Bible.

The Board of Trustees of Scarritt College elected Dr. Hugh C. Stuntz as the new president, succeeding Dr. J. L. Cunningham.

Institutional Progress

Many questions have been asked about the development at the George O. Robinson School in San Juan, Puerto Rico. At the present writing (October, 1943), 96% of the new buildings are completed, but priorities have made it impossible to secure the rest. During the erection of the new buildings, a nucleus of a few girls have been given the opportunity to stay at the Faculty House with Mrs. Estella S. Howard remaining as their superintendent. As soon as the final equipment reaches the island, the new building can be completed at once and 135 girls reside there. In the meantime, expansion of our kindergarten work has taken place, with eight kindergartners in various centers, and about 250 children reached. This is a much-needed service with the thousands of Puerto Rican children without school facilities, and with the possibility of finding the worthiest children as applicants for the new Robinson school, when it is maintained at its fullest capacity.

At Rust College, Holly Springs, Mississippi, where the Woman's Societies have long maintained Rust Hall as a dormitory for girls, a unified plan has been adopted whereby the Woman's Division will be represented on the Rust College Board of Trustees and the administration of Rust Hall will be through the college, with the Woman's Division making an annual appropriation directly to the college, as well as caring for repairs and painting of the hall, as far as the appropriation will permit. The appointment of the superintendent of Rust Hall is made by the president of the college.

As the program at Valley Institute was evidently more adapted to rural needs and should be developed along community lines, it was voted by the Home Department, upon the recommendation of the two executive secretaries concerned, that the institution should be transferred from the Bureau of Educational Institutions and should be administered by the Bureau of Town and Country Work. This became effective September 1, 1943.

Sue Bennett College was the recipient of a gift of $500 for equipment for the home economics department, which will be fully established as soon as possible.

The endowment fund for Bennett College has been notably increased through gifts from the General Education Board and from individuals, a substantial amount coming from the estate of a Negro woman.

Pfeiffer Junior College was the scene of the dedication of three new buildings on May 2, 1943—the Industrial Arts Building, the George Washington Pfeiffer Dormitory, and the Henry Pfeiffer Chapel. All the buildings are beautiful and admirably adapted to their respective purposes.

It has been the desire of the principal of Gilbert Academy, Mrs. Margaret Davis Bowen, to have the building formerly used by the NYA on the campus, refurbished for the school. For the fall of 1943, the upper floor was made ready as a model home economics department and practice house.

At the Navajo Methodist Mission School a beautiful three-paneled art window, "Christ Knocking at the Door," was installed in the Ryder Memorial Chapel, as a memorial to Mrs. Henry Harris, for whom one of the former students, Lucina Harris, was named. The school has also built a new farmhouse.

Allen School had two outstanding occasions—the observance of its 55th anniversary, on November 22, 1942, and in the fall of 1943 the dedication of the chapel draperies and chancel furnishings, gifts from the Anniversary Day and from Western District of the North Carolina Conference.

Changes in curriculums were made in order to adapt them to the changing war needs. Among them was the holding of a summer school session at Pfeiffer Junior College, which though not large, was considered very worth while. Paine College continued its service through a successful summer school, in addition to the Leadership Training School for Christian Workers held on the campus, and several other important conferences through the year. Vashti School held a "Defense Camp" in the summer of 1943. Browning Home and Mather Academy held a summer school for senior boys to complete high school before induction. Eliza Dee Hall was open as a dormitory for summer school. Sue Bennett held a summer work-shop course in education in co-operation with Union College.

One of the years of high school was dropped at Paine College in the fall of 1943, leaving only the fourth year to be maintained by the college. The city (Board of Education) will assume full responsibility for four years of high-school training for Negro children, beginning with September, 1944.

At Pfeiffer Junior College, Dr. John R. Ludington, of the State Department of Education, has served as consultant in the field of industrial arts. At Bennett College, Dr. Wilford M. Akin, who directed the eight-year study of secondary schools, has been appointed curriculum consultant through a grant from the General Education Board. The same board made a special gift to Bennett for an all-year health camp for malnourished children, because of the experimental summer camp, which had been carried on at the college.

Eliza Dee is strengthening its home economics department through the appointment of an assistant by the college and the encouragement of students to enroll in the department. The Board of Trustees of Samuel Huston College of which Eliza Dee Hall is the girls' dormitory, recently appointed Dr. Karl Downs as the new president, following the resignation of Dr. Stanley Grannum, because of ill health.

We are impressed by the way in which our students are sharing with others both in service and in their limited resources. Boylan-Haven School contributed to the war-chest committee; to the infantile paralysis drive, and for Christmas seals. The school also showed its sense of civic responsibility by again being the center for the distribution of 10,000 ration books, by seniors and teachers, who received special recognition from the executive secretary of the Office of Price Administration.

Vashti School gave $65 for the Greek sufferers, through a white gift program, and presented a Christmas cantata with a free-will offering of $43 for the Fellowship of Suffering and Service Fund. The glee club also sang at the government hospital.

In these and other ways our schools are centers of community influences, which could be multiplied if the staffs were large enough to carry their school load and the additional duties connected with community activities.

Interracial relations were furthered at Pfeiffer Junior College when a group of Negro students from Livingston College, at Salisbury, presented a program in the chapel and an informal program in Merner Hall. Between Sager-Brown Home and the near-by white churches, there has been an exchange of musical events. The Institute on Socio-Religious Affairs held for the ninth year at Paine College is a co-operative interracial student conference with the Candler School of Theology of Emory University. The outcome in wholesome Christian fellowship is noteworthy.

The National Training School has taken care of twenty young people under the hostelry arrangement with the War Relocation Administration. One of these, young Japanese, a Buddhist, recently was converted, and joined a Methodist church in Kansas City.

Scarritt College was able to complete the special Latin-American project under the direction of Prof. Wesley M. Carr. This enterprise was financed partially by the three co-operating institutions, and financial support was secured from the Co-ordinator of International Affairs and the Rockefeller Foundation. The results are embodied in a book now in press, which will provide the scientific basis for the study of Portuguese language for use in Brazil. This is the first serious attempt to prepare study materials for the learning of the language of Brazil. It is a beginning of a series of Latin-American projects sponsored by Scarritt College and co-operating institutions.

"Religious Emphasis Week" was a climax to the ongoing programs of the schools. This emphasis resulted in decisions for church membership. Other occasions through the year emphasized the spiritual values in a marked way—as, for instance, the New Year's Eve communion service at Pfeiffer Junior College, or the Christmas candlelighting service at Erie School, and the observance of special days in all schools.

Conferences

The second Workers' Conference held in a jurisdiction under the auspices of the Woman's Division was planned in Dallas, Texas, preceding the meeting of the South Central Jurisdiction, February 22-23, 1943. Twelve workers from the bureau joined with those from rural and from city work in a most helpful conference, carrying the theme, "Our Opportunities in This Emergency." Mrs. Frank L. Davis opened the conference with a worship service, followed by timely messages by Mrs. J. D. Bragg and Prof. James T. Carlyon, of Southern Methodist University, who also directed the discussion of the group of educational workers.

The publication of the report of the "Eight-Year Study of Secondary Schools," conducted under the direction of the Progressive Education Association's commission on the relation of school and college, led to plans for a Curriculum Conference for secondary schoolteachers of the Southeast. This was held June 1-3, at Bennett College, Greensboro, North Carolina, with Dr. W. Carson Ryan, of the University of North Carolina, as leader of the discussion throughout. The conference was made more meaningful also through the worship services held in the beautiful new Bennett Chapel. The hospitality of President and Mrs. David D. Jones contributed greatly to the feeling of unity and renewed inspiration, which was the experience of all who attended.

A conference which developed as a direct outgrowth of the Curriculum Conference was the faculty conference held at Vashti School the week before the school opened. Each member of the faculty presented a paper introducing the discussion on a phase of student life, and the following committees were selected to carry on various aspects of student activities: Honors and Citizenship; Social Activities; Religious Activities; In-Service Training; Community Related Programs. It was the unanimous opinion that the conference was the most worth-while project conducted at the school for a long time, in bringing a sense of unity of purpose and of understanding of the total program of the school. The superintendent, Miss Mary F. Floyd, was responsible for the excellent planning and fine results of this conference.

Surveys

On June 30, 1943, there was presented by Dr. M. S. Davage, Secretary for Educational Institutions for Negroes of the Board of Education, to the Committee on Co-operation and Counsel meeting in Chicago, the results of the Survey of Negro Schools and Colleges, made under the direction of Mr. John E. Brewton, of the George Peabody Field Study Staff. The Woman's Division, with its eleven educational centers for Negroes, had co-operated with the Board of Education in the study. It was received with a conviction that it marked a real achievement and will lead to a new appraisal and evaluation of the work among Negroes. This will be followed by intensive study of the reports concerning our work, by a special committee of the Home Department in collaboration with the George Peabody staff.

In order to have certain essential facts about our schools, we sent out questions for a "Factual Study." Soon after this, when the Home Department recommended a general survey of all its institutions, we sent out a more detailed questionnaire to thirteen schools (not including the Negro schools, which were covered as described above). This is an important step in progress in raising the standards of our schools.

Publicity

We have continued to send items of interest and importance concerning our schools to the various publicity channels of the Board of Missions and Church Extension of the church.

"Opportunity," a new leaflet on Allen School, and another on Alvan Drew School, were published during the year, and helped, with the various pamphlets and bulletins issued directly by the schools, to give added publicity to the educational centers.

Missionaries represented the bureau at several summer schools: Miss Julia Titus, Superintendent of Allen High School, the Jurisdiction School at Ocean Grove, New Jersey; Miss Helen Andrews, also of Allen, at Silver Lake, New York; Miss Frances Hutchison of the National Training School at the Jurisdiction School at Mt. Sequoyah, Arkansas; Miss Lulu Bryan, Superintendent of Browning Home and Mather Academy at Mather Camp and Christian Workers' School, South Carolina Conference; Mrs. Elizabeth Brubaker, Superintendent of Ritter Hall, at Carrie Barge House Party, Central Pennsylvania Conference. President Cloyd V. Gustafson, of the National Training School, was present at the National Conference of the Methodist Youth Fellowship at MacMurray College, Jacksonville, Illinois, in September, 1943, and brought a stimulating address.

Actions

Following the action taken at the Workers' Conference in Dallas, and confirming the recommendation which came from the Department of Christian Social Relations, the Woman's Division took the following action concerning the Victory High School Corps: "It was voted that the Woman's Division of Christian Service register an interest in the preparation of Government High School Victory Corps courses with particular emphasis upon character building and intercultural courses." The committee appointed to implement this action was composed of Mrs. Bragg, Miss Day, and Miss Stevens. To implement this, a letter was sent over Mrs. Bragg's signature to United States Commissioner of Education, Dr. John W. Studebaker, registering its "interest, and suggesting courses in intercultural education, that include such objectives and methods as outlined by Vickery and Cole in 'Intercultural Education in American Schools,' and in other materials pointing the way toward a more democratic community in a postwar world; and intensive courses on alcohol education and other questions relating to parent-youth problems created by this war emergency." A reply was received describing the ways in which intercultural relations were promoted by the United States Department of Education.

The interdenominational Committee on Wardship of the Indian has held several meetings and asked the boards if they would endorse the principles under which the committee was proceeding. The Woman's Division and the Board of Missions and Church Extension expressed themselves as being in sympathy with the purpose of the Committee on Wardship.

Enrollment

Many schools report increased enrollment. Holding Institute has the largest in many years, and has turned away one hundred. The total number of students reached in the educational centers of the bureau in the fall of 1943 is 5,531.

The Teacher

Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, in Living Under Tension, writes as follows: "In the chapel at Harvard University is a tablet in memory of old Dr. Peabody, and the end of the inscription runs thus:

"His precept was glorified by His Example
While for thirty-three years
He moved among the teachers and Students of Harvard College
And Wist Not that His Face Shone."

So do we pay tribute to those teachers and workers among us whose lives reinforce and undergird their teaching.

Bureau of Town and Country

THE Town and Country Bureau of the Woman's Division of Christian Service in reporting brings messages to you from many sources: Quotations from "The School and the Changing Pattern of Community Life," quotations from studies of various communities, questions asked by young women after months of experience in rural community work, questions for discussion at the Rural Seminar group meeting held in Lake Junaluska, North Carolina, and a pertinent quotation from the October Readers' Digest.

For a week young women who work in rural areas and representative conference officers met daily to discuss questions that had arisen in their experience. Recommendations concerning the preparation of literature for the small community and other matters pertaining to community work were sent to the boards of the church and different departments. In this the conference officers agreed.

We, as a group of churchwomen, believe that the church is an essential agency in building not only America but the world. "Improved physical standards of life are meaningless except as they contribute to the satisfaction of the deeper longings and needs of humanity. Any movement for building a new rural condition must be at heart spiritual." Is the church in a position to take the vital place it ought to take in a movement for a better rural life? May we answer that question to ourselves? With three fourths of the population of the world living in rural areas, does not the highest interest of all call for the best effort of all church people that the total world group may benefit? Already it is said the small community is the pattern for the world where a letdown in civilization comes. We are bound together so that success or failure comes to all of us.

Studies reveal that the church leaders are mostly urban-minded. They do not make adequate plans to occupy the country places and enable the church to fill its rightful place in the total effort for a good rural life. We need to think and plan how we can with benefit serve the whole rural population, not forgetting the neediest and the minority groups. Thousands of rural people are too far away from any church to be a part of its life and the closing of open country churches leaves more and more of others in that condition. All of the churches with all of their resources are needed in an effort to help build the best possible rural America. We need to pool our resources, our knowledge, and our interests in an effort to secure right locations, necessary buildings and equipment, but most of all, we need to put forth our best effort to provide and carry out an adequate program and to provide skilled and devoted leadership.

Valley Institute, Pharr, Texas, was transferred from the Bureau of Educational Institutions to the Town and Country Bureau. The new staff consists of Deaconess Susie Teel, superintendent; Deaconess Felicidad Mendez, kindergarten and young people's worker; Missionary Bessie Oliver, in charge of community organization of adult work and community music. Work has begun with much local community interest manifested and looking forward to a larger development as needs are discovered. The adjoining communities plan to co-operate and participate in the developing program. Already it is apparent that canning equipment will be needed and that opportunities for a class in weaving depends on securing two or more looms. The kindergarten is to have a library to meet its needs and a parents' library is also to be provided. The staff will co-operate in both the English and Mexican churches.

Robstown, Texas, a new community center, has gone to work with a will and without delay to provide building with equipment and playground facilities. Deaconess Ollie Willings, in charge of the work, is delighted with the prospect, and as has always been the case where Miss Willings serves, the people like her and follow her leadership.

Calexico, California, needs a house for the community work with the Spanish-speaking people. A building with equipment is a part of the postwar plan. This also calls for an adequate staff.

In a community in Arizona where there are only people and opportunities for service, there is also a postwar need for a small community building with equipment and a staff of two or three members.

Have you heard of a community that was willing to share its local income with more needy groups? We have one to report. Can you guess what community this is, who is at the head of it? There is a spirit of interest and co-operation that is very encouraging.

Have you seen the studies or surveys of work projects and institutions in the Town and Country Bureau? They bring to our attention details of what we have, how we work, and changes in planning that need to be made. If you are like a friend of mine who frankly stated she did not want anything else on her conscience, you would not get much comfort or satisfaction from the messages these reports bring. Otherwise, you will agree with me that there is a challenge to the Woman's Division of Christian Service in knowing even a few of the many thousands of small communities in this country. We do not need many new buildings nor large amounts of equipment, but we need scores of trained women with messages of understanding and sympathy who are not afraid of work. However, I promise you work will not be more exacting or difficult than that of thousands of women who have gone into the service of their country.

Would you like to know about the communities in which we work? If you cannot enter full-time service, you can still find much that you can do as a volunteer helper.

If you were trained to work in the town and country places of America and were asked to help with twenty-five churches located in a country area of 760 square miles with a population of 21,000 people, the nationalities being 9,000 white, 12,000 colored, with only the white group being served, how would you plan to meet the situation? Would you co-operate with other church denominations? Would you also seek the use of the available libraries, the health agencies, and the public schools? Would you want to relate the church to the whole community life? How would you do this?

How would you begin in a community where there is no Methodist church, no Woman's Society of Christian Service, no library, no free mail delivery? How would you face only needs?

What would you do in a community where the variety of needs is so great that no two days are alike but where each case must be given personal supervision, and where a library is of little value except in individual cases? Would your objective be to teach a religious life that would free from superstition, raise health standards, increase interest in formal education, raise standards of living, moral and personal, and to be sure that you personally so live that confidence in you is established after which you can give a larger service?

Would you like to visit your own community house in a mining community, spend a few months meeting the people of some nine nationalities who do not speak English and undertake a program in education for Americanization, home hygiene, recreation, cooking, serving, handcrafts, religion, personal and formal, church school, Woman's Division of Christian Service, and clubs and classes in all of this, conduct a library and teach how it can best meet the needs? In other words, a community of nine nationalities in applied religion, living day by day before the community so that the staff and people will see Him whom you serve in your life.

Or might we go to an Italian community where we forget we are Italians? We are just Americans trying hard to learn to live so that the largest and fullest life may be ours.

And could you continue your journey into an agricultural community where every activity group meets at the community center where recreation, church services, and study are conducted?

Would you still find time to visit some of the many communities where our Mexican friends live and especially where the people live in one part of the village? Where in a community of 1,200 people they boast of three millionaires with several others who are responsible for almost as much? The local people built their own community house and provided the equipment and just this year have given a separate cottage home for the church workers. Where the people who are being served provide their own playground equipment and take full care of the grounds and buildings? Where there is a committee for consultation and advice about all work and especially discipline? Where the volunteer workers are both Spanish and English speaking? In short, a much-needed example of what can be done in a community of this type.

Would you be interested in a community where there are only people and opportunities for service, no property, no denominational church, no Woman's Society of Christian Service, no free mail delivery, few schools but many children? All of this in the United States of America.

Are you surprised that the following questions were brought by the workers to a Rural Seminar?

1. What should be done when a woman is asked to serve from twelve to twenty-five churches?

2. What can she do about the community?

3. Should the conference women object to a plan of this kind and have a counterplan that would be superior and with which they would be familiar enough to sell it to the persons who should have it?

4. Can using homes in the neighborhoods and communities make a real contribution to the work of the church and the deaconess who leads the work in the community?

5. What would you do in a community in which churches of many denominations, schools, and community organizations are working together on a plan of permanent and constructive spiritual values?

6. How would a worker approach a Jewish rabbi, Roman Catholic priest, a county judge, or the police?

7. What shall a woman do when there is no money allowed for current expense in the community or when that salary which includes room and board is not sufficient to cover it?

8. What have you done about community organization?

Quotation from the Readers' Digest:

"We make no apology for our small community localism. We rather are proud of it for it holds the germ of soundly based world hope. It is close to the lives of men and women. We talk too much of peoples in mass and not enough of people who make a locality. We will never get a good world except through good localities; we will never get good localities except through good people. A good world, based on good localities, a healthy and prosperous whole, based on healthy and prosperous parts. This will reveal to skeptical and wearied human eyes the basic truth upon which peace must be built, the truth of the eternal sameness of human desire and aspirations. And that, after all, is the truth of man's essential brotherhood." (From a talk to Britons by Eric Johnston from the Readers' Digest of October, 1943.)

Bureau of Urban Work

THE annual report from Wesley House, Louisville, Kentucky, opens with this paragraph:

"One of the first great casualties of this war, as of all wars, has been character. Such casualties can be found in all ages; adults with more money than usual to spend, throw it away in dissipation; small children neglected by parents who are working, pick up the vices of the street; especially, perhaps, is there a breakdown among the teen-age girls and boys. J. Edgar Hoover, of the FBI, in the July American Magazine, shows the alarming wartime increase in delinquency, especially among girls. At one and two in the morning young girls and their soldier or sailor escorts can be heard on the court or street outside of Wesley House. Mr. Hoover says: 'In our struggle to defeat our enemies we have at times forgotten that to become invincible and remain that way, we must also develop resolute citizens for tomorrow. In our headlong hurry to win on the battle fronts, there has been an increasing tendency to forget our duty to the youngsters of the land.' Amid the storms of war, Wesley House stands, more needed perhaps than ever before. A Christian center, a house founded on the Rock, it offers to individuals in the neighborhood, hope and guidance, and the chance for each to develop his best."

So the projects in the Bureau of Urban Work are confronted with the increasing difficulties of this war period and are making great effort to understand the "cause and effect" as children, young people, and adults are enveloped in the throes of a suddenly changed community.

Effect of Leisure Time on Delinquency

A few years ago the settlement program was largely based around "leisure time," of which there was an abundance. Today, there is still leisure time among certain groups, but the approach and the nature of the program has undergone adjustments to keep abreast of present needs. As long as mothers were unemployed, they were urged to take the responsibility of their children, reducing the need for day nurseries to a minimum. Now that parents are employed in such large numbers there is necessity for day care for children provided by public and private agencies. Institutional Neighborhood House in Kansas City, Missouri, has had as many as 123 children in its day nursery during one month. All of these nurseries have a continuous waiting list. The scarcity of workers means that staff members are desperately overworked trying to meet the demands made upon them. They must be ready to receive children as early as six o'clock in the morning and carry on a strenuous schedule throughout the day.

The after-school care of children of working parents is giving the entire nation a headache. The increase in juvenile delinquency is alarming. And even more alarming is the fact that many of the parents are unaware of the dangers threatening their children. Upon asking one mother what provision is made for her eight-year-old son when he returns to his trailer-camp home after school, she replied: "Oh, he's eight years old. He can take care of himself." The children of this age are given money to spend for amusement. They spend much time in theaters, on the streets, and crime finds a breeding place in these very young boys and girls because the home life has disintegrated. Toward the needs of this group our settlements are particularly sensitive—making a place for them, counseling, guiding, trying to give right direction to young, impressionable minds. Recently a young Mexican girl said to one of the workers at Homer Toberman Settlement in San Pedro, California, "This is the only place we can have a party where we do not have to call the police."

One could probably say that the problem of "parent delinquency" is one of the greatest liabilities today. My observation has discovered that parent delinquency is largely responsible for juvenile delinquency. Therefore we believe that parent education is one of the most vital, as well as one of the most difficult phases of our work in our community program. Helping the parents understand children and their reaction to the present situation, helping them make wise decisions regarding their own employment and employment of children, helping them place proper values, such as determining which is of greater importance—a larger income or a home where children have love and protection and guidance—these are some of the responsibilities being undertaken in the community centers in our cities.

Last year we reported a new type of service being rendered at Manley Center in Portland, Oregon—providing dormitory facilities for working girls. The center has been equipped to take care of thirty-four girls at a time. Since it is dormitory arrangement it is not ideal for housing girls permanently but does give them a temporary, comfortable home until they can locate private rooms. During the past year 350 girls have been housed at this center. Those who find private rooms return to Manley for recreation, to have dates, and to visit with new friends they've made.

The third and last of the stained-glass windows in the lovely chapel at Manley Center, Portland, Oregon, was dedicated on Sunday, October 17, by Bishop Bruce Baxter. This window depicts the Christ surrounded by children of all races saying unto them, "Follow me." It was given in memory of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Adler who gave themselves sacrificially to the work at Manley.

Urban Work in Defense Areas

All over the world our settlement boys are proving themselves. It has been my privilege to read letters from many of the boys in service expressing appreciation for the centers with which they had been affiliated. One of these boys is now director of music for the armed forces in Australia. Some are chaplains, some are assistants to chaplains, some are directing recreation. Others are finding their places in the regular line of duty and are doing a creditable job. Letters go from our settlements regularly, keeping in touch with the boys, and informing them about community happenings in which they are so interested. One boy in service recently sent a check for $50 to apply on a stained-glass window at the chapel in Biloxi, Mississippi.

For several years the Methodist Co-ordinating Council has served Norfolk, Virginia, in various capacities. During recent years there has been increasing evidence of the need of a settlement house in the Brambleton area. In the midst of that community was found a large brick residence which could be repaired and altered to make a splendid community center. Request came from Norfolk and the Virginia Conference that part of the Week of Prayer offering for 1943 be used to purchase the available property. The request was approved and $7,500 advanced to purchase the building and adjoining lot. The Norfolk churches and the Virginia Conference took care of repairs and furnishing the building. On October 15 the Norfolk Wesley Community House was dedicated in a fitting service conducted by Bishop Peele. Two workers are now serving in this new community center. The staff needs to be greatly enlarged for a great program of community service.

Aware that proper housing accommodations is one of the greatest needs in that city, the Methodist churches in Newport News, Virginia, have purchased and reconditioned a home which will take care of fifty working girls. The home has been deeded to the Methodist Co-operating Council and will be managed by that group.

The South Carolina Conference is placing a worker in the navy-yard area in Charleston. The Rock River Conference has temporarily discontinued the support of a deaconess at Rockford-Winnebago Church in order to place a worker in the Seneca defense area. Other conferences are likewise making adjustments, raising additional funds, and placing workers where needs are so intense at this time.

Bethlehem Centers

Expansion of interracial work is probably one of the most urgent requests to be considered. Racial tension is increasingly felt throughout the nation. From Negro and white groups come repeated appeals for the establishment of more Bethlehem Centers. In co-operation with Gammon Theological Seminary, plans have been made for opening a Bethlehem Center in Atlanta, Georgia, using the old Thayer Hall. I can think of no place that would provide greater opportunities for interracial work than will this new center which will be supported by the North Georgia Conference, the Atlanta Conference, and interested local white and Negro groups. Located on the campus of Gammon Theological Seminary, it will be used as a training center for Gammon students. Since Atlanta is the home of the Interracial Commission, the Atlanta School of Social Work, Emory University, and that great Negro university center, certainly one can expect this to become one of the outstanding social centers in Methodism.

Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, and Columbia, South Carolina, are looking to the Woman's Division to make possible similar centers in those cities. Certainly we cannot let these pleas continue to go unheeded.

Co-operation and Planning

During the year several institutes have been held with staff and board members in order that we might come to a better understanding of our present needs, the effectiveness of our work, and planning for the future. Workers, board members, and conference officers are feeling the need of more such institutes, and it is our hope that the coming year may provide opportunity for a larger number of these meetings. Getting together to discuss matters in which we have a common interest has proved most helpful.

A well-known authority has made the statement that in the past the social worker has not been considered a social planner, but in the future that will be one of the most important social-work functions. That calls for a well-trained group of workers, it necessitates keeping abreast, it means participation in a wide-range plan. There will be no place for an isolated agency or worker in the future plan. We must enter with other agencies for the total planning of community service. Our church social workers must be ready to assume their role in this new form of social work which includes social planning.

In recent visits to various cities I have had opportunities to confer with city planning councils and find that plans are well under way for reconstruction of areas in which our work is now located. We know it might mean drastic changes in some instances. It is necessary that our workers be aware of these plans, that they participate in planning a new community, that they serve as interpreters to the public. Some of the workers have requested an organization of urban workers, that we might bring a large group together to consider our work and our place in the future and that as a group we might make an impact upon the plans for the future.

Furloughed Missionaries and New Workers

While we recognize the necessity for special training from time to time, the shortage of workers has made it impossible to grant the usual number of furloughs this year. Miss Julia Southard, formerly head resident, St. Mark's Community Center, New Orleans, Louisiana, is studying at the New York School of Social Work. Miss Pearle Edwards, formerly head resident, Kingdom House, St. Louis, Missouri, is studying at Scarritt College, Nashville, Tennessee. Miss Frances Howard, formerly head resident, Bethlehem Center, Richmond, Virginia, and Miss Ruby Lannom, formerly girls' worker at Wesley House, St. Joseph, Missouri, are spending their furlough year at Scarritt College. Miss Fae Daves, girls' director at Marcy Center, Chicago, Illinois, is enrolled at Central Y.M.C.A. College, Chicago, Illinois.

After completing work for their degrees in the School of Applied Social Sciences, Western Reserve University, Miss Margaret Marshall has been appointed to Little Rock, Arkansas as director of City Mission activities, and Miss Cleo Barber has accepted appointment as head resident, Kingdom House, St. Louis, Missouri. Miss Pearlye Maye Kelley, who studied at Scarritt last year, is now club worker at Wesley House, Chattanooga, Tennessee. Miss Ruth Heflin, after a year at Scarritt College, is serving as head resident of Bethlehem Center, Richmond, Virginia. Miss Julia Lovin spent her furlough year at Scarritt and the New York School of Social Work and is the first worker appointed to the Bethlehem Center in Fort Worth, Texas. Miss Dorothy Norton returned to Utica, N. Y., after a year at Hartford and succeeds Miss Helen Edick as head resident of the Italian Settlement.

Graduates from Scarritt and Kansas City Training School receiving their first appointments in the Bureau of Urban Work this year are:

Miss Grace Butler, Kingdom House, St. Louis, Missouri.

Miss Sarah Massey, Wesley House, Danville, Virginia.

Miss Hazel Williamson, Wesley House, Norfolk, Virginia.

Miss Fautina Moreno, Mexican Community House, El Paso, Texas.

Miss Eunice Stockton, Italian Settlement, Utica, New York.

Miss Marjorie Heid, Wesley House, San Antonio, Texas.

Upon her graduation from Northwestern University, Miss Edna Sexton has been appointed to Centenary Institute, Nashville, Tennessee.

Several workers from the Foreign Department are under temporary appointment in the Bureau of Urban Work. They include:

Miss Lily Swords from India, Italian Settlement, Utica, New York.

Miss Susie Peach Foster from Korea, Bethlehem Center, Nashville, Tennessee.

Miss Etha Nagler from China, Bethlehem Center, Nashville, Tennessee.

Miss Ortha Lane from China, Hattie B. Cooper Community Center, Roxbury, Massachusetts.

Resignations, marriages, and leaves of absence have taken a few workers from active service in the bureau. A small number of the institutions have a complete staff at this time. But a magnificent job is being done.

Bureau of Social Work

NEVER have the needs in this field been greater, and never have our workers found more ways of usefulness. It is possible that world-wide tragedy makes our eyes and ears more sensitive to the job that is at hand. In any case, our home missionaries and institutions are finding unprecedented opportunities for service in the world in which they live. The directors of our residences are finding that girls away from home are not just problems, they are eager for social life and for a part in church and community life. Our rest homes have more applicants this fall than for a long time.

Homes for Children

Parts of a report on the work of the David and Margaret Home from the Department of Social Welfare of California follows: "The home continues to provide a good standard of care, training, and supervision for the children and to utilize to the fullest extent all available community resources in maintaining and rounding out its program.

"Despite handicaps due to shortages, longer hours, and other inconveniences, the morale of the staff is high. A splendid spirit of co-operation with the administration exists and warm friendly relationship between members themselves and the children. Higher salaries for staff members should be paid as it is increasingly difficult to secure capable people at the wage scale now being paid."

Recommendations were also made for enlargement of staff, a different kind of audit, and careful study of the need for expansion of facilities.

Epworth School is planning to introduce occupational therapy into its work. The school and the community feel the need for this further opportunity for the girls there.

Mr. J. N. Smith gives a glimpse of our Mothers' Jewels Home at York, Nebraska: "The children are getting along very well. We have had less accidents and sickness this summer than any time I can remember. All the older ones have taken the first-aid course with Miss Freda Wirz and know better how to prevent accidents and sickness. Miss Wirz has permission from the authorities here to take some special school work at the University of Minnesota. She has done a great job in social, religious, and health work in our home and in the community, during the past year."

Miss Frances Taylor, of Susannah Wesley Home, writes: "With the polio and flu epidemics in evidence we gave up movies and Waikiki swimming on the recommendation of the Board of Health doctor. Substitutes to a certain extent have been made, but the girls were thrown upon their own resources. With the gifts from the Hawaiian Pines and the church at Maplewood, New Jersey, we've rented movies about every two weeks. This was a novelty which appealed to the girls almost more than the regular shows.

"Six girls graduated from high school. Elizabeth Lindley was May Queen for the afternoon section at Farrington May Day program. Several of the girls sang in the chorus or took some other active part.

"Recently we decided to do some painting as a summer project. Two dormitories downstairs were finished and a bathroom upstairs has been decorated. The painters, except the staff, were first- to ninth-grade girls."

Peek Home has had a fine year. There are twenty-eight children in our care at this time. They go to the district school, and to our church school in Polo. They live in a very informal atmosphere which approaches a natural home as nearly as an institution can. Appreciation is due to the staff who bring this about despite a cut in numbers. The superintendent, Miss Brandes, and Mr. Kelley, the farmer, keep the buildings and farmland in efficient and productive order. There has been a fine harvest, and the cows, hogs, and chickens have brought in considerable revenue. This is all used for improvements on the place, making it possible to conform to strict state regulations.

Spofford Home, in Kansas City, has led the way in many respects in that community. "It is a child guidance home. Children come here unhappy, out of sorts, and maladjusted to their environment. They are given psychiatric guidance and are made to feel that there is love in the world and an understanding heart is ready to help them. These children are not orphans, nor are they necessarily delinquent children.

"Behavior problems are studied from a scientific and religious point of view. After spending a few weeks or months here, the child may be returned to his own home, if it is a good home, or he may be given a foster home where the environment will prove advantageous to his development."

The Ethel Harpst Home is fairly overflowing. At a recent meeting of the board, Miss Harpst reported: "There are 16 workers and 143 children in the home. Fifteen of the children are in the nursery, 11 in the kindergarten, and others range to high-school age. Four will graduate from high school this year. The health of the children is exceptionally good. The home has been included again in the Community Chest for this year." Miss Harpst reported the need of a matron for the boys' dormitory, and an additional salary for a nursery worker. The two major physical needs at present are a dairy barn and a laundry building with equipment.

Work at Immigration Center

Miss Katharine Maurer in addition to her work at the Immigration Station in San Francisco, has been regularly visiting the people who are being detained at Sharp Park. The Japanese men, women, and children were recently moved to a family camp in Texas. Now a group of ninety-six Javanese seamen from the Dutch ships have been placed there.

Under her care there are about 200 persons of 27 nationalities: Mexicans, Germans from Peru, Chinese without papers, and many others beside the Japanese and Javanese at Sharp Park.

Miss Mary Chun Lee is listed in the Oriental Mission minutes as secretary of the Conference Woman's Society of Christian Service and chairman of the Methodist Youth Fellowship. Miss Lee is being transferred to the Bay Area, after doing a masterly job of organization in southern California. She has this to say: "This year emphasis is laid upon using the abilities of the younger women of the churches and in organizing junior societies within the present Societies of Christian Service, to be called the Service Guild. Two churches now have this form of organization. It is felt that there was too wide a gap between the ages of the older women's groups and that of the younger."

Defense Work

Last December we reported on the first half year of our work in war-industrial areas which was being carried forward by Mrs. Charles Wade and Mrs. Mabel Wagner. Miss Lena York joined this little staff in February, and Miss Eleanor Neff on September 1. We receive excellent reports on their work from our local women.

Mrs. Wagner has served in Mobile, Alabama, and Portland, Oregon, during the past year and is now in Seattle. Her report shows: "Situation—Upon arrival church activities had been started in only one housing area. Now the work under United Church Ministry is well organized in all seven large housing areas. Besides this, Vanport has four church centers in school buildings and recreation centers.

"Because of interdenominational approach, the project service advisers, school authorities, and recreation leaders have been most co-operative in giving space. Miscellaneous religious groups have come to see the necessity of working together."

"The newcomers in housing projects on the whole welcome church services and activities conveniently held in their area, regardless of the denomination. 'I'm so glad we're going to have a church right here where we live—I've been praying for one,' was the typical reaction of a Lutheran mother to a Methodist worker.

"In Vanport, we had been unable to find space for vacation school until the advisor under the Housing Authority happened to see one of our schools of 150 children in another area. He asked why Vanport couldn't have one. When we said the only reason was lack of space, his reply was, 'We're crowded, but we'll find space for anything as important as that.' A new community building in Vanport, not yet opened, was immediately prepared for the use of the vacation school where we had over 300 children.

"The following is an extract from a letter received from the U. S. Housing Authority in another area: 'The Administrator of National Housing Agency from Washington, D. C., stated this vacation school was one of the most impressive activities he had seen during his recent nation-wide tour of housing projects.'

"Helped organize interracial council for Christian work in Vanport. In the building where largest percentage of Negroes live, there now is a church-school young people's group, and morning and evening church service. The vacation school was a happy experience with colored and white children and teachers working together. One afternoon, the whole group trudged through the streets for a picnic under some trees. The administration office received a telephone call that day saying: 'Who are those colored and white folks I see going on a picnic? That's the first real sign of democracy I've seen in Vanport!' Answer—'It's the church folks—daily vacation Bible school.'"

Mrs. Wade has served enthusiastically and well in four Texas communities.

Miss York's work has been in the Fairfield-Osborn District in Ohio, and during this summer and autumn, Detroit. It was decided, a year ago, at the request of the Wesleyan Service Guild, that one of our defense staff would work especially with unattached girls who have come into these industrial areas, and are without family or friends. The plan is to help our Wesleyan Service Guilds, and other employed women's groups in churches or the city at large, to find ways of serving these girls. It was experimental at first, but the Guild was sure there was great opportunity at this point. A committee was set up in Detroit, interdenominational, interfaith, and community-wide to prepare for a worker. Miss York went to Detroit early in the summer and has worked there with the exception of a month's vacation. She expects to go to North-East Ohio this fall, where she will be working with families again according to our usual plan.

Miss Neff is carrying on the Guild project. She has been in Richmond, Virginia, since October 1.

Bishop Moore and the churches of the Florida Conference have been concerned to discover how they can best serve the members of the Women's Army Corps stationed at Daytona Beach. Last summer, they asked us to place a woman in that field to work with the chaplains and the churches for this purpose. Miss Harriet Seibert, formerly of Christ Church, New York, has been sent to this important post. She has been received warmly by the churches and the members of the Corps. She is co-operating with other denominations and with the Florida United Council of Church Women.

Residences for Employed Women

We are meeting a very vital need in our residences for young employed women in large cities throughout the country. The directors of our Co-operative Homes in Houston and Birmingham are adapting their schedules for girls who are working on different shifts in those cities. Our Wilson Inn at Richmond, Virginia, not only is a home for girls away from home, but has a friendly welcome for many boys in our armed services who are stationed in or near that city.

The situation at Nome, Alaska, has changed within the year. The Congregational Board has sent a pastor and his wife to serve the Federated Church there, and this makes it possible for our deaconess to concentrate her efforts on the native mission of which she is director.

Future Need

The survey that we have been making of the institutions in this bureau brings to light many shortcomings. Many of these may, we hope, be put to rights before too long. But it will take time, intelligence, and good will. There are lacks in equipment and there is understaffing which cannot be corrected without more adequate support. Probably the most urgent need is for an increase in salaries all along the line for the people who are carrying forward with such unselfish devotion. We rely on them. We hope they can count on us for a practical expression of thanks.

Bureau of Medical Work

THE work of the hospitals in this bureau has increased each month during the past year. Unskilled labor fills accident wards, long hours of unaccustomed work with irregular meals are causing physical breakdowns, and the soaring birth rate keeps maternity departments filled to overflowing.

Medical authorities are telling us that this winter of 1943-44 is the time when epidemic flu will probably scourge the country again, since it occurs about every twenty-five years. However, it will not cause the fatalities of the epidemic of 1918-19, because of the sulfa drugs used in the treatment of the pneumonia which followed flu then and was the cause of the death. But with the shortage of doctors and nurses it will be difficult to give afflicted patients the close care and attention they will need. Therefore in all outpatients and clinics, greater emphasis is being given preventive measures, and student nurses in the training schools are given special instruction in the care of patients with respiratory diseases.

The stress and strain under which we are living is causing an increase in nervous and mental diseases, and psychiatry is being made obligatory in training schools in many states where it has been elective.

A recent statement in a medical journal estimates that not less than 10% of overseas troops will return with disabilities not connected with battle injuries. There will be thousands of mental cases; those who have been in cold countries will have arthritis and kindred ailments; others will have tropical diseases we have not known in this country, and these may not develop until some time after the men have returned home. In spite of the great care the government is trying to give those in the service, hundreds have already been invalidated home with malaria.

Military hospitals are not now adequate to take care of the cases that will return within the next six to twelve months, and civilian hospitals must be ready to carry some of the load. This means that there must be thoroughly trained personnel—nurses, technicians, house doctors—who will be able to recognize unfamiliar diseases, make skillful laboratory tests, and give correct treatment and care, not only to cure the patient but to prevent the spread of these diseases among the civilian population.

Sibley Memorial Hospital, Washington, D. C.

The student nurses at Sibley Memorial Hospital in Washington, D. C., all 116 of them, are members of the U. S. Cadet Nurses' Corps, and a February class is to be admitted as part of the program to increase the number of nurses who are so greatly needed in this emergency. Classes were admitted in June and September of this year, so the program has been greatly accelerated here. It is becoming a problem to house and care for so many students but we are fortunate in owning several residences adjacent to the hospital that have been used by tenants in the past. Two of these have been made into residences for interns, residents, and graduate nurses, and the rest will now be used as an annex to the Nurses' Home. There has been an additional gift from the Variety Club of eight humidicribs, which gives us the best-equipped premature nursery in this part of the country at least.

A bond drive by the hospital for the sale of sufficient bonds to purchase an ambulance transport plane has been highly successful. Members of the board, the faculty, nurses, and students co-operated, and the amount needed, $110,000, was oversubscribed by more than $3,000 at the last count reported. The plane was purchased in October, and the drive is continuing in anticipation of buying a mobile ambulance unit for the Army. Twenty-seven of our graduate nurses are now in military service.

to be a "must" study, we are hoping that an arrangement may be made with St. Elizabeth's Hospital where students take their work in nervous and mental diseases. As there are 7,000 cases in this hospital, a very fine training is given. We are in the process of signing up for the U. S. Cadet Nurse Corps here also, and the clerical work involved makes it a most difficult task, especially as state board examinations are soon to be taken and every effort is being made to "condition" the girls for these exams. We are greatly in need of additional stenographic help in both the nursing office and the record room, but it seems impossible to secure it. We have had only one resident physician for most of the summer, and we have been greatly concerned about the very heavy burden he has carried. We are most fortunate in having a young woman whose husband is a naval officer doing shore duty this year at the Jacksonville base, who feels she should be using her training during the shortage of doctors. Dr. Ray is coming in for eight hours a day to help in the clinics and wards, which is a great relief. We still need another full-time resident doctor to share the heavy obstetric and accident load, for storks have no regard for hours, seeming to prefer the night air!

Methodist Sanatorium, Albuquerque, New Mexico

At the Methodist Sanatorium in Albuquerque, New Mexico, we have had an addition to the nursing staff of a Japanese nurse who came from one of the camps in Arizona. She is proving a real asset, and her young son of fourteen is earning part of his board by helping the Spanish boys after school hours. We have a real international situation here with several nationalities among workers and patients, and there has been no friction whatever. We are still running to capacity with a long waiting list, and the same personnel shortage we have lived with for more than a year, but we are serving our patients acceptably in spite of handicaps.

Medical Dispensary, Boston, Massachusetts

The Medical Mission Dispensary has had its institutional income considerably reduced because of the infantile paralysis situation in New England. The medical men on our own board and other welfare agencies have thought it unwise to perform tonsil operations. Since the three to seven dollars we receive for these operations when the families are able to pay it is the principal source of our institutional income, we will be more dependent upon the Division than usual, for the time being anyway. Here also we are carrying on, and one of the doctors who has been close to the institution through the years said: "If the mission weathers this storm with all its vicissitudes, it will prove how greatly she is needed in this community." We are sure that the mission is seaworthy enough to weather much worse storms than this, and will come through gallantly.

Maynard-Columbus Hospital, Nome, Alaska

Dr. Thomas Morcom, of Maynard-Columbus Hospital, Nome, Alaska, was seriously concerned about the seeming necessity for closing the hospital at one time this fall. Three nurses left unexpectedly and there seemed to be no one to replace them. It was surely answer to prayer that made two fine young women, one who had been with us in our Newark Conference hospital, accept the challenge of the pioneer work in this far corner of our country, and went to Seattle on November 1 to go to Nome. At this writing we do not know whether plane passage has been secured, but nurses are given priorities and we have no misgivings as to their reaching Nome. We hope they may not be long delayed as they are so badly needed. Our prayers go with them.

Ready for the Future

These institutions of the Woman's Division of Christian Service are trying to prepare themselves for the future, to be ready for the emergencies that must be met, to give such service as only a Christian hospital can give, vindicating their existence, and proving their worth to the communities in which they are located and the value of nonprofit, voluntary hospitals to skeptical propagandists of government-controlled institutions.

Bureau of Deaconess Work

IN COMPILING the annual report of this bureau we wish to recall the first group of deaconesses to exist under The Methodist Church in America. They were mentioned in 1887 at a meeting of The Woman's Home Missionary Society held in Syracuse, New York. The report states:

"The Training School in Chicago, for missionaries, by its remarkable success, suggests a new and efficient agency for city evangelization. Nine young ladies have enlisted in the Order of Deaconesses and give their whole time and strength, without compensation, to mission work in Chicago."

The following year, 1888, the General Conference of the former Methodist Episcopal Church approved this work and added a section to the Discipline, providing for the recognition of a needed order of Christian workers and the supervision of such work under the authority of the church.

General Conference of the former Methodist Episcopal Church, South, took similar action in 1902, and their first class of young women to be consecrated as deaconesses numbered five.

Deaconess Homes

Deaconess homes as residences and centers for community work were opened in many large cities. In 1898, or after a period of ten years, 19 homes and 188 deaconesses were reported by The Woman's Home Missionary Society alone. Such homes were and are held in trust by different bodies. Some of them are owned by the organized Conference Woman's Societies, and others are controlled by local boards of trustees or managers under annual conferences. They all serve the purpose of furthering and aiding the work of the Methodist deaconess.

As neighborhoods and communities change, new needs often arise. Indianapolis, Indiana, and Denver, Colorado, felt the need for homes for working girls and the Indianapolis Deaconess Home and the Margaret Evans Deaconess Home have been converted into Esther Halls. Deaconesses who may be working in these cities still have the privilege of living in the Esther Hall.

In other areas the properties of deaconess homes have been sold and deaconesses live within close range of their parishes. The Detroit Deaconess Home which was the first to be established under the former Woman's Home Missionary Society was sold in 1942. Consideration for the sale of the Brooklyn Deaconess Home is now under way.

The deaconesses who reside in deaconess homes, in addition to the ones living outside, are all related to the Bureau of Deaconess Work by act of the 1940 General Conference. Since this bureau is in the Department of Work in the Home Field of the Woman's Division of Christian Service, the deaconesses are also a part of the Board of Missions and Church Extension. The deaconess homes of today are herewith listed, according to conferences:

The United Groups

From 1888-1940, or for a period of over fifty years, the deaconesses were under several bodies for the purpose of administration. Naturally, such an arrangement created much sectionalism because of the different rulings and regulations. We have sought to unify these differences without creating serious disturbances within the activities of any group.

The recommendation and approval of deaconess appointments, the setting up and administration of the temporary disability fund, and the recommendations for and payments of pensions are now executed through the office of the Bureau of Deaconess Work. The individual records of qualifications, and appointments from admission to retirement are kept in this office, as well as the minutes and reports of the conference deaconess boards. Annual reports are requested from all deaconesses and placed on file as we attempt to keep in personal touch with them and the work they are doing throughout the church.

Applications from ministers, churches, and other boards for deaconesses to work in settlements, homes, hospitals, and churches, as workers are received and considered from annual conferences in addition to the number required by the bureau secretaries of the Woman's Division to fill their various openings.

Conference Deaconess Boards

Each conference deaconess board provides for a Committee on Promotional Work which functions within the conference for the purpose of interesting young women to seek the training and preparation which will qualify them to become deaconesses of The Methodist Church. All candidates are then referred to the bureau and to the Missionary Personnel Department. We reiterate the statement that the greatest influence for recruiting new deaconesses always has been and still is the life and work of the deaconess as she is known among the people in her own specific field.

The Louisville Conference Deaconess Board made history at the session of its annual conference held in September, in Columbia, Kentucky, when they planned for the consecration service of Miss Martha E. Prescott, a deaconess who was commissioned by the Board of Missions and Church Extension in June. Bishop J. Lloyd Decell held the service for Miss Prescott. She was the first deaconess consecrated at the session of the Louisville Annual Conference.

Today there are forty-four conference deaconess boards organized, according to the requirement of the Discipline, in areas where deaconesses are serving, which leaves a possible twenty-five yet to be organized.

Looking Toward the Future

Insofar as deaconess cultivation is concerned, it is encouraging to have word from both coasts that two of our deaconesses are giving specific attention to the matter. Miss Ella B. Baker, one of the two city deaconesses working in San Francisco, writes that she is the conference chairman of the Committee on Missionary Personnel for the Woman's Society of Christian Service and that she is corresponding with and personally interviewing young women who are considering seriously what their lifework shall be. Miss Pearl L. Eble, of Fall River, Massachusetts, is working in a similar capacity and had the privilege of presenting deaconess work at the Annual Meeting of the New England Southern Conference Woman's Society in October. Miss Thelma M. Stouffer, of New York, N. Y., presented deaconess work at the session of the New York Annual Conference at Newburgh, N. Y., in May.

Since our last annual report to the Board of Missions and Church Extension, twenty young women have been accepted as deaconesses: four were commissioned at the Annual Meeting held in December, 1942; fourteen were commissioned at the Executive Meeting held in June, 1943; one was transferred from the Department of Foreign Work, and another was reinstated. It is always stimulating to study the jurisdictions and conferences from which our young women enter deaconess work. They are as follows:

Deaconess Legislation

In May, opportunity was given to seventeen deaconesses from the former various administrations to participate in a meeting of the subcommittee of the Policy Committee of the Woman's Division. Plans for the future of deaconess work were considered and recommendations were made to the committee. It was a time of mutual benefit as ideas were exchanged. These recommendations, in part at least, will go to General Conference in April.

In the expanded program for the bureau, the attempt is being made to raise the allowances of the deaconesses throughout the country, at least to the minimum amount recommended by the bureau at its organizational meeting. Five conferences have taken the lead in this respect and we are encouraging others to do likewise.

It is a joy to report the widespread interest on the part of the deaconesses who are on sabbatical leave. Seventeen of them are in eight different institutions of higher learning—Northwestern, Syracuse, New York, Montana, Cincinnati, and American Universities; and Scarritt College, and the New York School of Social Work. Two of them have been honored with Fellowships: Miss Eva Crenshaw has been granted a study and research Fellowship by the Southern Rural Life Council at Scarritt College, and Mrs. Edith M. Carter was given a Fellowship at Northwestern University in order to do some graduate work.

Active Relationship

The total roll of deaconesses in active service today numbers about seventy-five times the little group of nine who started out so valiantly in 1887. However, if all the deaconesses who prepare for service remained in active deaconess work, barring necessary retirements, there would be a more adequate supply for the many calls that have gone unanswered. Each year it has been impossible to secure a sufficient number to equal the loss from our ranks through retirement, marriage, home duties, and withdrawal to enter work outside the church. Despite the great need for deaconesses in our field, we have had to grant leaves of absences to those who preferred serving in such organizations as the USO at home and overseas; enlisting in the WAVES, and doing defense work. The largest number since unification has withdrawn this year to go into secular work.

Inactive Relationship

The number of deaconesses applying for retirement whose places must be filled by new recruits is increasing rapidly. The decrease in the number of workers will probably continue during the next few years. There are today about thirty-five deaconesses eligible for retirement who are still in active service and they wish to remain at work as long as health and circumstances permit them to do so.

Seven deaconesses were retired in September after having given an aggregate number of 271 years of service or an average of 38.5 years each. We submit the names, the years of service, the type of work, and the last appointment of the fifteen deaconesses retired since the Annual Meeting in 1942:

Active Relationship in the Church Triumphant

Eight deaconesses, one of whom was still in active service, have joined the Church Triumphant during the past twelve months. We miss hearing from them but we know they have made a place for themselves in the Eternal City. Their memoirs may be found elsewhere in the journal of the Fourth Annual Meeting.

"I commend unto you Phebe, . . . a servant of the church . . . for she hath been a succourer of many. . . ."— Romans 16:1a, 2b.

The office of the deaconess has figured in the work of the church universal since the time of Paul and it is still of international import. A minister from Brazil stopped in the office some time ago to inquire about the possibility of establishing deaconess work in that country. A request for the Constitution and By-laws of the Bureau of Deaconess Work came through the World Alliance of International Friendship from Australia where there is a desire for such a movement also. The minister of the New Dorp Moravian Church, Staten Island, New York, is advocating an American Order of Moravian Deaconesses. The Right Rev. Basil Archimandrite, of the Russian Orthodox Church, is likewise promoting the idea of a deaconess order in that church and has made inquiry concerning the plan of the Methodist deaconess. Sister Anna Ebert, of the Lutheran Motherhouse in Philadelphia, has been studying our unified plan in the light of their needs.

We commend unto these friends of international fellowship, and to you, the deaconesses of The Methodist Church.

The chefs are ready to do their part in a community settlement according to the deaconess in charge of this work

Burma

OUR small group of missionaries who had transferred to India suffered a severe loss on January 19 in the death of Roxana Mellinger, who had made Kingswood School, Kalaw, one of the loveliest of all hill places. Lela Kintner, who had been her co-worker, stayed by through her last days and then came home on furlough. Miss Kintner has accepted a position as matron in Thoburn Terrace, Alhambra, California, a home for retired missionaries. Ruth Field, who, after years of service in Bengal Conference had taken work in the English School in Rangoon, has been transferred back into Bengal, and has been pastor's assistant in Thoburn Church (English-speaking), Calcutta. Alice Mae Dome has also accepted permanent transfer to India and is in Kolar. Grace Stockwell has come home for her final furlough before retirement. The others of those who transferred to India in 1942: The Misses Cavett, Ebersole, Oldfather, and Reid, continue in their appointments, but the furloughs of Miss Ebersole and Miss Reid are due within the year. Hazel Winslow, who was on furlough when the war began, is now pursuing special studies preparatory to the earliest possible return, and another furloughed missionary may join her later. But our Burma staff needs recruits.

The co-operative planning that has been done by the missionaries of the four chief denominations having work in Burma is of the utmost significance. Baptists, Anglicans, British, and American Methodists have all participated through the Burma Christian Council transplanted bodily to India. A recent communication from H. J. Harwood, its secretary, reports the following:

"Two meetings concerning the work in Burma have been held since the beginning of this year. The first was a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Burma Christian Council held in Nagpur in February. Nine Burma missionaries of the four main denominations concerned were present. Of these Miss Stella Ebersole, R. F. Spear, and H. J. Harwood were of The Methodist Church. Two days were given to most careful consideration of the revival of missionary enterprise in Burma when re-entry is possible. It was recognized that we shall inevitably find great confusion in the land, the terrible disruption of normal living, the wastage of properties and utter dislocation of the communities we knew. Plans which were considered all pointed toward far more union effort of Christian agencies than ever before. First steps would consist of relief measures, aids to the resettlement of people and restoration of family life, quick establishment of economic self-sufficing life in rural communities, development of Christian village schools as centers on which to rally Christian living, medical and public-health services, union effort in providing a few central Christian schools of higher grade, the Christian college, and a joint agency for the production and distribution of Christian literature.

"The second Burma meeting was at Lahore early in July, a gathering of the continuation committee selected in the February meeting. It was a smaller body with one representative from each of the four church bodies, and H. J. Harwood was the representative of our church. Much that was done was an extension of the outlook of the Nagpur meeting. The most active piece of work directly aimed at Burma in these days has to do with the program of Christian literature, a joint enterprise of the several bodies, in which the Rev. George Appleton, an able Anglican minister, is carrying forward the splendid literary service to which the Rev. B. M. Jones gave such talented direction for so many years. Maung Tun Nyein, a son of Rev. U On Kin, who is a leading minister of our church, is assisting in this work. Tun Nyein was sent by his parents in 1940 to a tuberculosis sanitarium in South India. What seemed such a sad disappointment then has turned to a providential end now, for Maung Tun Nyein is the only Burmese member of our church now available in India."

The Woman's Division has been setting aside its annual appropriation of $300 for literature, and will therefore be prepared to take its part in the new plans.

India

Political Situation

Outwardly, the political situation in India has changed little within the year. The Congress leaders are still in jail; the violence of a year ago has been quelled; the "war effort" increases; Indian governments have taken over in some of the provinces; Wavell has replaced Linlithgow as Viceroy. The deadlock persists, with all its suspicion and suppressed hatreds, and every day of the deadlock makes reconciliation more difficult. There is, however, a small group of Indian Liberals, some of them Christians, who have been making determined efforts in the direction of reconciliation and a new approach to the whole political problem. That the organized church is doing what it can to forward this movement is evident from the fact that the National Christian Council gave a special number of their Review (the June-July number), to the publication, for the widest possible distribution, of communications addressed to the National Christian Council by the British Council of Churches and the India Committee of the Conference of Missionary Societies of Great Britain and Ireland. The first is a resolution passed unanimously by the British Council of Churches on May 14, 1943, and sent to India with a covering letter from the Archbishop of Canterbury, its president. Because of its clear recognition of the Church's mission of reconciliation, I am quoting it in full:

"We, the members of the British Council of Churches, greet our fellow Christians in India. We rejoice with you in the common fellowship in Christ Jesus which unites us to one another and to all Christians throughout the world.

"We are deeply distressed by the long-continued political deadlock and the deterioration of relations between our peoples. Among us, as with you, this creates a sense of frustration. We realize that, behind and beneath the political difficulties, there is a soreness and alienation deeply rooted in history, whose ultimate causes are moral and spiritual. We admit the share in these, for which, in spite of the devoted service of many, the British people as a whole must accept responsibility. But, nonetheless, we are convinced that the British government and people are sincere in the offer made a year ago that a constitution carrying with it complete self-government shall be devised by Indians themselves, and that, even if India should wish to separate herself from the British Commonwealth of Nations, no obstacles would be put in her path, much as we would regret such an end to the long association of our peoples. We assure you that we and our countrymen regard ourselves as wholly committed by this offer.

"Concerned as we are to see the political deadlock ended, we have a still deeper concern. In face of deep-seated alienation and mistrust, Christians have a message and a mission. The will of God is for reconciliation; and you and we are charged with this ministry. We shall ourselves do all that we can to increase understanding in Great Britain of Indian needs and aspirations. We beg that you in India will try, as we shall, to overcome the mistrust which separates our peoples. Alongside one another in Christian fellowship let us face these testing times undaunted, strong not in any strength of our own but in that power which Christ our Lord himself bestows.

“(Signed) William Cantuar, President;

A. C. Craig, General Secretary.”

The letter from the India Committee of the Conference of Missionary Societies, dated May 31, 1943, was circulated to the members of our board. It is a review of relations between India and Britain from 1937 to the present, from the point of view of "the missionary-minded Christian public," leading to the conclusion that "both Indian Christians and British Christians are called at this time to a work of reconciliation." In that work may American Christians too have a part!

Effects of War

The effects of the war have, of course, been felt this year more keenly than ever. The Christian community has furnished more than its proportionate share of recruits for the army; to an Indian family a man in the army means just as much as it means to an American family. More, perhaps, since it is still normal in Indian society for a young man to be a father before he is out of his teens. India, too, has seen a rush into war work; not so complete as ours probably, but widespread enough to cause some serious problems in missionary planning. If a girl can get fabulous wages in a factory, why should she enter nurse training, or keep on teaching, especially when her family is in dire need? It is a sign of real loyalty that even more have not left the service of the church.

The absence of cars has meant readjustments in school programs where busses had been used. One school reports setting up of several little branches in remote portions of the city; others have simply had to let the pupils from farther away find their own conveyance or stay out. Evangelistic missionaries take trains or busses to certain centers in the district, and from these places go on foot or by ox cart to the surrounding villages. One is about as fast as the other; both are exhausting. The busses are always crowded and practically always late; trains are not much better, since the military always has priority. To the constant pressure of more work than can be done is thus added an extra time loss; and to the perennial disease hazard is added the increased danger from what the close-packed crowds carry. But missionaries in general seem to be just taking these things in their stride.

Shortage of labor and of materials has limited building operations to the absolutely necessary repairs and to makeshifts, except for a few places where buildings had been planned and materials were on hand. Paper shortage is serious. The Indian Witness is reduced to two double sheets; schools are using slates or the backs of used pages or are making their own paper in old-fashioned Indian style; all envelopes received are opened and used for writing paper.

Much more serious is the high cost of practically all the common necessities. Cloth, rice, wheat, and even the cheaper grains are from three to five times their prewar price. For a population already living at the lowest subsistence level, this means not mere hardship; it means suffering, disease, even death. Every missionary discusses this subject; one quotation will suffice:

"Prices are so high now that we are finding great difficulty in making ends meet. Personally, I have not been able to add one pice to my savings account for over two years. Instead of that I have had to go into debt a few times, and that is with only buying the bare necessities of life. I am not spending one pice more than I need to these days. Fortunately I am not having to buy clothes just now. I am sure other missionaries, too, must be feeling the pinch badly. The prices of many commodities are more than four times as much as in normal times. Tooth paste that we used to get at nine annas (18 cents) a tube is now more than two rupees (65 cents). Saries that we could get for Rs. 1/8— are now costing Rs. 4/— or Rs. 5/— each. Wheat is four pounds to the rupee and millet (Juar), a grain grown in this section of the country which the poor people use for bread, is selling for six pounds to the rupee. When we are finding it difficult to make ends meet you can easily imagine that many of our poor Indian people are on the edge of starvation. Scarcely a day passes now but that someone is at my door asking for help, saying that they went to bed hungry the night before, have no more food in the house, or maybe just enough for one more meal and nothing with which to buy more. It is heart-breaking. We give out all the worn garments that are still usable until we do not have enough rags for kitchen and housekeeping use."

In an effort to do something toward meeting the situation, the Woman's Division Executive Committee voted in June to double the special grant that had been made in 1942, thus giving to each district and institution two annas (four cents) for every rupee (33 cents) of its appropriation. This simply means that with the costs up 300% we were making an additional grant of 12½%;

Stanley Girls' High School, Hyderabad, India, is representative of the best we are doing in high-school education in India. Graduates of the school are wielding untold influence among the people of this great country expressions of gratitude came from all quarters, but the situation was still extremely difficult.

In July, schools opened. Many reduced sharply the number of boarders received in order to be able to feed the others adequately. A few were able to increase the extent of gardens and of fields under cultivation and so provide for everyone. Field committees meeting in July and August surveyed the situation and wrote or cabled home. On the basis of actual figures officially presented, the Foreign Department Administrative Committee on October 5, 1943, took emergency action as follows:

"That in view of official requests from India for additional funds to meet greatly increased cost of living, a special grant up to $2,000 monthly be authorized for hostels and Indian workers, for one year from December 1, 1943, this to be in addition to the grant of two annas to the rupee of work budget already voted. The required amount will be paid, as far as possible, from gain on exchange. The best method of administering it is to be determined by the secretary for India, in consultation with the treasurer and the field."

With the policy of paying our appropriations at three rupees to the dollar, which has been our established rate for a number of years, and with current exchange at 3.29 rupees to the dollar, we shall for the present be able to pay these grants from exchange gain. But if the rate of exchange should lower and prices remain high, we should have to make other arrangements. It is clear that the new grant must continue at least through the year, and that suitable committees on the field must be counted upon to make equitable distribution of it, according to the varying conditions in our widespread area.

At the same time it became evident that an increase in the salary of missionaries in India was necessary. In 1932 this salary was reduced from $800 to $680; the Woman's Division had raised it to $730. The September Executive took the following action:

"That beginning September 1, 1943, the remainder of the cut on salaries in India made in 1932 be restored so that the India field salary shall be $800 per year. Adjustments will be made within the appropriations of the Foreign Department."

This is not a temporary grant added to the regular salary; it is an increase in the basic salary.

The war has given added weight to certain grave facts regarding our missionary personnel. Briefly, the facts are these: In December, 1939, the total India staff was 175; today it is 162, of whom 130 are on the field, 32 at home. Of those in America, ten will not return (retirement, health, etc.). This means a present available staff of 152, a loss of 23 in three years. Of those on the field, ten are ready this year for their final furlough before retirement; sixteen others are well into their last term. Three years from now, therefore, if all those due to return could get back, there would be available of our present staff, field and furlough, a total of 129. This would be a dropping off of 46 in six years, or 26% in one missionary term. Since the years 1910-20 were those during which the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society was sending missionaries in large numbers, and most of those who went during that period will reach retirement during the next decade, we may look for a continual decline, unless more replacements are sent than in the last decade. Sixteen new missionaries have been sent to India since 1932; of these two have married, one has come home ill.

Since we entered the war, not one of our missionaries on furlough has been able to get back to India. At this writing (November 1), two nurses have their passports and are awaiting sailing; two others are hoping for passports; three more have had passports refused. The rest are working or studying or speaking, hoping earnestly that before another year is done they may be allowed to return.

In India, 7 have taken furlough on the field; 6 have taken extended vacations in order to postpone their furloughs until after the war; 25 have served an extra year or more, and must now have furlough either in India or at home. Adding these delayed furloughs to those regularly due in 1944 makes a total of 51. If all these women should take their furlough in 1944, we should have only 79 left on the field. Obviously there must be extensive adjustments, and there will be. But the fact remains that our missionary staff is inadequate, even in normal times, and that this year we are asking women to carry loads that are practically certain to lead to either a letdown or a breakdown, unless they can shift the load.

And to some extent they are shifting it. For many years it has been our policy to turn over positions of leadership to Indian women "as rapidly as possible," and the present situation has greatly hastened the process. The appropriations for 1944-45 include $6,050 for newly added subsidies to districts and institutions which have nationals in charge. (Subtracted, it should be said, from the missionary budget!) Let us make note of these fine women, conference by conference.

Bengal has put Premi Lee and Hemlota Biswas into district work formerly done by missionaries, and another young woman will probably be ready for school responsibility next year. Bombay has the Drs. George in charge of the Puntamba dispensary and district medical work. Central Provinces was one of the first conferences to put nationals in charge of work; this year Johnson Girls' High School, which used to have four missionaries on the staff, has one, and she with responsibility for the Training College too, and Anu Gadre, long headmistress, has become principal. Gujarat has Virginiaben Solanki as principal of Webb Memorial High School, and another B.A. in the offing. In Lucknow Conference two new nationals have been pushed into positions of responsibility. In North India, Ananda Morrow and Dora Walters have taken over new burdens in Pithoragarh and Bareilly schools. In Northwest India, Celeste Chand is appointed to Ghaziabad, and Dolly Matthews to Roorkee School. South India has two nationals from Burma supplying places which are to be taken later on by their own young women. And these are all new people, in addition to the twenty who were already listed as taking places formerly filled by missionaries.

The normal growth of the church in any land involves the starting of work, turning it over to the people of the place, and going on to start work somewhere else, either in some new geographical area or in some new area of living. We are now in the process of turning over to Indian women some of the well-established locations; what we need to do now is not to diminish our missionary staff, but to strengthen it in order to help the Indian Church occupy new territory and really cultivate those areas which have been barely touched. All of which is a very large part of that "postwar planning" of which we hear so much.

This matter of the place of the missionary in the new India was one of the main topics for discussion in the Conference of India Missionaries held in Chicago, April 15-17, under the auspices of the Foreign Division and the Foreign Department, with representatives of the Board of Education and the Interboard Committee assisting. In bringing together secretaries of the division and the department, and missionaries of the board representing every annual conference in India, this meeting set a new pattern. It published neither findings nor a formal report, but it did reach forward in its thinking, and it established in the minds of all present a new sense of solidarity and a new realization of the magnitude of the task. One day was spent on "The Church in the New India," one on various aspects of the educational program, and one on specific matters brought forward by those in attendance.

It is significant that though Dr. Vaughan, of the New York office, was the only doctor present, and there were only three nurses, one of them a candidate, a fairly large block of time was given to the discussion of the medical program. For while healing has been part of our work through all the years, it becomes more and more evident that a gospel that is for all of life must do more for the prevention of those terrible ills that keep India only half alive. While the need throughout the country is staggering, we can be encouraged by the fact that here and there new attempts are being made to meet individual situations.

One such has begun this year, a health center, at Yellari in the Deccan, South India Conference. The manner of making this start may be commended for several reasons: (1) The place, chosen after long and prayerful consideration, is a village in which there are 500 Christians. They have built their own church and have a new pastor, formerly a teacher in the theological school at Tumkur. (2) The beginning was modest. A rented house was secured, as near as possible to the church, in the heart of the Christian community. The total initial outlay was $1,000, and the annual appropriation is $1,200, shared equally by the two divisions. (3) Those in charge are Dr. Deena Sonna, from one of our own South India schools, a graduate of Vellore, with special training in public health and a period of service in the Kolar Hospital, and Eva Logue, R.N., a first-term missionary with up-to-the-minute training in public health, who had her first two years in India in the Kolar Hospital.

Partly, no doubt, under the influence of war necessity, standards of nurse training are rising. Vellore Medical College this year offered for the first time a graduate course for nurses, experimental and brief, but definitely a step forward. In Delhi, the health department of the government of India opened a training school for nurse supervisors, the first institution of its kind in the country, and called as its head a Christian missionary nurse (Miss Margaret Craig, a Presbyterian of Miraj). This movement upwards means, of course, that the training schools in our hospitals will have to meet new requirements as to staff, type of nursing experience available, previous education of students, etc. The Christian Medical Association of India has this year for the first time set standards for the training of hospital technicians, among which are a minimum of 2,000 inpatients a year, or a daily average of at least 100 inpatients; the number of examinations should be at least 15,000 a year with a good variety of specimens. Since Creighton-Freeman Hospital, in Brindaban, does not at present meet this requirement, arrangements are being made to move Miss Corpron and her class to Bareilly for part of the year, a fine bit of co-operation.

Early this year a building program for Clara Swain Hospital, Bareilly, was presented by the Field Committee of North India and approved by both Divisions to be undertaken as soon as possible after the war, the necessary funds to be provided by the two Divisions on a 50-50 basis. The specifications are as follows:

Operating and delivery unit.....	$12,000
X-ray machine and hospital equipment.....	12,000
Training-school unit	6,000
Equipment for nurses' unit.....	6,000
Chapel (to seat 100).....	5,000
Total	$41,000

The new building for Suvarta Memorial Hospital, Dhulia, was dedicated December 17, 1942, and $1,100 from the 1941 Week of Prayer offering has been made available for equipment.

More important than any other development in the medical field, or than all of them combined, is the move forward in connection with the missionary Medical College for Women, Vellore. On January 28 the American Section of the Board of Governors voted as follows:

"WHEREAS, Action was taken in Vellore, India, on June 26, 1942, by representatives of the Council of the Missionary Medical College for Women and of the Christian Medical Association of India, looking toward the development of a Christian medical training center at Vellore where both men and women will receive training, and of which institution the Missionary Medical College for Women will be an integral part; and

"WHEREAS, The Christian Medical Association of India is prepared to assume responsibility for the hospital building for men, hostels for men students, athletic facilities, residences for additional staff, funds for scholarships, and additional endowment for maintenance; be it

"Resolved (1) That the American Section of the Governing Board of the Missionary Medical College for Women, Vellore, approve in principle the plan of co-operation, with the understanding that further details regarding the plan will be worked out in India and reported as soon as possible for consideration and action; and

"(2) That the American Section of the Governing Board shall continue to control all funds secured in America specifically for the medical education of women, while at the same time permitting the college to make a maximum contribution to the co-operative plan."

In March, the Christian Medical Association of India, with the approval of the National Christian Council, adopted a specific program looking toward the establishment of a co-ordinate college for men at Vellore, and set up a college council for it, parallel to the council of the woman's college. Since it was agreed that the first necessity for the success of the projected men's college was to see that the existing college in Vellore reached the university requirements, and since the first of these was the addition of five new members to the staff, the Christian Medical Association has approached boards in America and Great Britain to secure these professors and their support. Our Foreign Division is doing its share at this point, and thus becomes a part of the new scheme at its beginning. A subcommittee of the India Committee of the Foreign Missions Conference is organizing an effort to obtain the co-operation of all American societies and boards having medical work in India, and when a sufficient number have given assurance of support, a permanent committee will be formed. Meanwhile, the enlargement of the Medical College for Women must go on, for its success in reaching the goal of full government recognition is the basis of the entire undertaking.

For lack of space, other interesting developments in India can only be mentioned, with the hope that later reports may enlarge upon them. Co-education has made further progress. Bidar Middle School is now co-educational throughout; Gulbarga High School, with keen interest in agriculture and handicrafts, has added its second year and will add the final year in 1944; Puntamba has begun a co-educational high school. In all these, the two Divisions co-operate.

Edna Abbott's little village boarding school has been visited by an official committee of Lucknow Conference and approved as a successful experiment. Julia Morrow is conducting a similar school among the Lambardi people in Shorapur, South India Conference. Such schools take the place of village day schools for regions where the Christian community is scattered.

Bastar State (Jagdapur) and Sironcha have had their fiftieth anniversaries, with a backward look that gives great hope for the future. Mildred Simonds, of Tandur, is closing a record-making life of service, having worked for thirty-seven years in one district; she, too, testifies to the tremendous changes that Christ has wrought.

The presence in America of Miss Ruth Ure, of the National Christian Council, will give many here an opportunity to learn firsthand of the progress of the literacy campaign, and of the need for Christian literature. We note with sadness that Anna Agnes Abbott, who has been at the heart of the Christian literature program in Marathi for many years, has been ill for most of the year—a broken hip and then a major operation—and must come home if possible. Ruth Robinson, editor of Naya Dihati (The New Villager), has been granted extension of term for a year. Kezia Munson, of the "Treasure Chest," has already overstayed her time.

India's Woman's Society of Christian Service has had a good year. Monthly programs, printed in the Indian Witness, have been followed by the more advanced societies, and others have had programs especially devised for them. Every conference organization has contributed to the Bhabua Mission, the Warne Babyfold, and the work of Mr. and Mrs. Christian, Indian missionaries in Africa, and several have also undertaken projects of their own, approved by the all-India Executive Committee. Mrs. Chitambar, the executive secretary, has traveled widely as evangelist and organizer.

On March 29, 1944, it will be seventy-five years since eight Methodist women initiated an effort to carry the gospel to their sisters in the Zenanas of India. Let us thank God for what the years have brought!

Malaysia

During the year news has begun to trickle out of Malaya. In the early summer, the State Department released a list of persons interned by Japan, and within a few weeks the family of Eva Sadler reported a letter from her, sent from an internment camp on Singapore Island, saying that she and Minnie Rank were well, and "having a long rest." In mid-October, letters were received by Bishop Lee and Mrs. Gerald Summers, written in November, 1942, giving some personal items about other missionaries and mentioning some nationals. To quote briefly: "It is very fortunate for our Methodism that a nucleus stayed. Their influence among us has been most valuable. They have earned a high repute by their addresses, classes, examples. The conferences met in September, first separate with Hosengong and Paul Hang, chairmen; then in joint session; press gave no appointments. Not one of our pastors or families were hurt. Five churches here (not Wesley) badly damaged—all repaired but Geylang. The church is alive; everywhere working with apostolic spirit, faith, and sacrifice. Lydia Urech is with Swiss Colony. Bishop Wilson (Church of England), who is not interned, has been a staunch friend, is working toward church union. Write us in care of International Red Cross. Many have had letters. Do not worry about us—all are in good spirits as situation permits—separation from loved ones is hard but not one regrets his decision. The church at home can be proud of its representatives here." The total picture, of course, is still almost a blank; there is no information about general conditions on the peninsula. But we are deeply thankful for word that these friends are safe.

Planning for Malaysia after the war has definitely begun. The East Asia Committee of the Foreign Missions Conference has organized a subcommittee on Southeast Asia which has entered upon studies involving the Netherlands Indies, Thailand, Burma, and Malaya. Here interchurch relationships are being discussed, and an attempt is being made to understand the backgrounds against which the work of the churches must be carried forward. For Malaya and Sumatra, our own secretaries, with the assistance of missionaries most familiar with the field, are undertaking a thorough survey of the position of our church before the war, and, with this as a basis, are beginning to plan the program for the years ahead. It is significant that the entire church will be giving special attention to this part of the world in 1944-45, under the direction of the Missionary Education Movement.

Of the Malaysia missionaries active in December, 1941, two are interned—Eva Sadler and Minnie Rank. Four have made temporary transfers within the board: Geraldine Johnson is entering her second year as directora of the girls' section of the Foreign Division's school in Callao, Peru; Lois Rea went in August to the Sea Wall School, Panama; Gazelle Traeger (retired) is teaching in the Harwood School, Albuquerque, New Mexico; and Norma Craven is teaching in Vashti School, Thomasville, Georgia. Two are teaching in public schools—Lila Corbett in Scottville, Michigan, and Mildred Kerr in Brocton, New York. Four are studying: Bonita Bloxson in Garrett-Northwestern; Ruth Harvey at the University of Minnesota; June Redinger at Scarritt College; Mechteld Dirksen at New York University. Four are devoting practically full time to speaking and writing: Thirza Bunce, Carrie Kenyon, Mabel Marsh, Della Olson. Eva Nelson continues her work as supervisor of weekday schools of religion in the Massachusetts Council of Religious Education. Emma Olson is pastor's assistant in St. Paul Church, Chicago. Freda Chadwick is in New York, helping in the preparation of a Malay dictionary for the Navy.

It should be a matter of the greatest concern to all of us that before another year elapses our staff for Malaysia should be strengthened by putting into training a small number of college graduates of the very highest character and ability.

China, Central and South Africa

China

OVERWORKED, undernourished, perplexed, the Chinese Christians and the missionaries have worked, or if interned, have waited, through this sixth year of war in China with persistent courage and with prophetic outlook. It has been in many ways the most critical year in the history of the church in China. The loss to the work through the death of Miss Grace Manly in West China on May 8 is irreplaceable. On February 25 all missionaries in occupied China, with the possible exception of one or two who were ill, were placed in internment camps. In East China they were interned in Shanghai and in North China at Wehsien, Shantung. The Chinese Christians have expressed in every possible way the depth and breadth of the fellowship which has increasingly marked the relationship of the Chinese and their missionary co-workers in these days of trial. The last letters of the missionaries before they were interned were filled with gratitude that they had been allowed to serve through this critical period and with confidence that the Chinese Christians would carry on whatever the limitations and restrictions. Little information has come from occupied China since the internment of the missionaries, but that little has been encouraging as to the inner life of the church.

In the report for China last year it was stated that living costs were twenty to thirty times what they were in 1937. Today they are from eighty to a hundred times what they were in 1937. Throughout China the inflation of Chinese currency has made the questions of how to live, how to keep the existing work going, how to take advantage of new opportunities almost insoluble. In May cables were sent from China stating that five dollars a day was necessary for the barest living expense of each missionary and that the amount would increase rapidly. The cable recommended that missionaries be transferred to India where living was not so high or returned to America, leaving only a skeleton missionary staff in China. In face of the great needs of the Chinese people and of the greatest opportunities our church had ever known in China and in confidence that The Methodist Church in the United States would supply the necessary funds, the Woman's Division of Christian Service and the Division of Foreign Missions authorized the secretaries to send the following cable: "Cabling additional funds, make missionary salaries five dollars daily beginning June 1." In addition each division agreed to send $3,500 monthly for the relief of the Chinese workers in The Methodist Church and the Methodist Committee on Overseas Relief agreed to send $8,000, making a total of $15,000 each month to be allocated by a committee on the field. Letters from the field have expressed great appreciation for these provisions. Fees in schools have been raised and often paid in rice rather than in money. The Chinese Church is giving many times what it had given formerly, but the solution to the problem has not been found. In October another cable came saying that living expenses for the missionaries had reached eight dollars a day. By making every possible adjustment within the appropriations, by using all money from salaries appropriated for missionaries detained in America and not receiving salary, by making relief of the Chinese workers and missionaries in China the object of cash supplies for China, and by channeling into relief funds any undesignated transient gifts for China, the Division expects to maintain its missionaries in Free China. At the time this report is written it is evident that at least $65,000 beyond the amounts appropriated will be required for the maintenance of the approximately sixty missionaries of the Woman's Division of Christian Service in China.

It is easy for the sense of emergency and crisis to submerge the sense of steady, ongoing work in Free China. Miss Pearl Fosnot, who is treasurer for the Woman's Division of Christian Service in China and official correspondent, as well as a professor in West China Union University, has written a composite report of the work in the West China Conference which shows in spite of all difficulties in the way progress is being made along established and experimental lines. The report is included in full though its inclusion makes impossible within the limits allowed for the annual report a description of the work being done amid similar difficulties and with similar creative devotion in the other unoccupied conferences of Foochow, Hinghwa, Yenping, and the southern part of Kiangsi.

West China Conference

There is so much interconnection between evangelistic, educational, and medical mission work that such lines of division are but arbitrary; however this report will be given under these general headings.

Social-Evangelistic

Evangelistic work in the West China Conference has suffered an irreparable loss in the death of Grace Manly who perhaps knew more about the life and work of the churches as a whole than any other one person, and had more to do with their administration and nurture. Grace, on bicycle or on foot, was a familiar figure throughout the Chengtu and Tzechung districts. People marveled at the way she knew intimately inquirers, church members, and their families in city and in rural communities.

Celia Cowan, of Tzechung, is caring for such part of Grace's work as can be administered without travel. Alice Weed, of the General Division, has been appointed to the Tzechung district. Irma Highbaugh and Nina Stallings are each responsible for a portion of the work on the Chengtu district, the former centering about the rural service of Kienyang, the latter about the experimental church center at Lung Ch'uan Ni in which Nanking Seminary co-operates.

Because of the necessity of putting all possible funds into living expenses of Bible women, itinerating has been cut to a minimum. Louise Avett on the Suing district is concentrating on Suing city evangelistic work, and Orvia Proctor on the Chungking district is making her headquarters at Jungchwan and doing her chief work in that center. Miss Avett has the assistance of a Bible woman, Miss Dwan, who has had two years of training in the West China Union Theological College. Excellent community and church work is being carried on by these well-qualified workers. Miss Proctor is emphasizing training for church members and lay leadership. She conducted a successful daily vacation Bible school this summer, a notable feature of which was a popular department for high-school youth.

Excellent city evangelistic work is carried on by Lena Nelson and Mary Shearer in Tzechung, assisted by a splendid Bible woman. Home visitation and community prayer meetings are carried on as well as work at the church center. The conference's best religious education program for children is that at Tzechung, under the direction of Rachel Pen, a Szechwanese, trained some years ago at Laura Haywood Normal School and having further training in Shanghai and America.

Chungking City has been fortunate in having a trained youth worker, Amber Van. In co-operation with a youthful, enthusiastic pastor, recently graduated from the Theological College, plans for city-wide youth work are being carried on. Two youth institutes were held this summer, one near Chungking and one near Chengtu. Chengtu also had a few days' winter institute for the training of recent youth church members in further knowledge of the church and for the development of Christian fellowship.

Loma Housley, our newest missionary, is the Chengtu city evangelistic worker. She and the pastor are delighted to begin the fall's work with the assistance of an experienced children's worker and a college graduate for young people's work, both new appointments. Mabel Nowlin, in Chungking, is giving part of her time to city church work, along with an important program of work for the National Christian Council and The Methodist Church along the lines of religious education and literature production. Dorothy Jones helps in church work and provides a home for missionaries and a few of the many office workers that throng the city of Chungking.

An annual district conference, as well as short training institutes on every district are felt to be vital needs in the spread of the Christian message and the growth of the church, but with living high as it is and travel almost out of question the holding of conferences has been seriously curtailed. A church-school conference was conducted in the spring at Kienyang and several local training classes have been held.

Educational

The past year has seen a remarkable growth in education that is centered around child welfare. The Woman's Division of Christian Service assists with few kindergartens, as such, but evangelistic, educational, and public-health work unite in emphasizing the child and his care, in stressing child study, and in reaching homes for Christ through the child. The government is itself promoting child welfare and is, in some cases, giving assistance to mission and other social organizations engaged in such work. We have the beginnings of a Mothercraft School at Kienyang under the direction of Miss Liu Yu Dsen, a school that is the successor to the former Fidelia DeWitt Woman's School in Tzechung, co-operating with the North China Changli New Light School, of which Miss Liu is the principal. Lack of space in Kienyang is hampering some of Miss Liu's plans, but it seems to most people of the conference advisable to carry on in a limited way until the time of acquiring more land and building model cottages is more propitious.

The Methodist Church, along with other missions, is following the policy of closing primary schools, as the government provides more adequately for primary education. Such appropriation funds as we have are about sufficient to assist in the carrying on of one good primary school on each district. If the government continues to permit missions to have primary schools after the war, most of our people would favor an attempt to have one good primary school in connection with, or close by, each of our high schools. This would give one to each of the four districts of the West China Conference. Colleges and universities continue to look to Christian high schools as their best, most desirable "feeders" and Christian high schools feel the same way about primary schools carried on by the Christian church.

There appears to be a big field for Christian education in specialized types of school of primary grade, such as the agricultural and homemaking school for which a beginning has been made at the Tien Gu Chiao rural church.

The Woman's Division of Christian Service has four high schools in Szechwan. The oldest ones are Su Deh, formerly in Chungking, now in evacuated quarters at Pishan where there is a Methodist church and primary school property, and the Chengtu Girls' High School (usually called "Hwa Mei") that has been carrying on work some ten miles from Chengtu for four and a half years. In Suining the Stevens Memorial School for girls has the assistance of Rulison from Kiangsi Province, both in staff and finance. Tzechung has been able to add senior high school both because of local support and because of the use of the building formerly used by the woman's school.

The principals of these schools are all women who have been Christians from childhood and have been trained in Christian schools. It is no easy matter in these days for principals to carry on their work. It is difficult to secure well-qualified, Christian teachers, especially in the case of schools refugeeing in the country. With many avenues of service open to young people fewer go into teaching. Financial burdens carried by all heads of educational institutions and their assistants are heavy. It is practically impossible to make budgets. Estimates made today are quite useless in a few months, if not in a few weeks.

Missionaries appointed to the several high schools are: Chengtu—Maud Parsons, Grace Armstrong; Chungking (Pishan)—Luella Koether, Janet Surdam; Suining—Clara French, Laura Schleman; Tzechung—Helen Desjardins, Celia Cowan. All find themselves extremely busy helping with extracurricular activities, trying to carry on a program of religious education in connection with their school work, and in training students to participate in local church work. Pishan has been unfortunate this past year in being deprived of the presence of Miss Surdam, ill in the hospital, and in having Miss Koether also ill for part of the time. Miss Surdam has made no small contribution, however, from her bed through writing music and making plans that Miss Koether and others have carried out. Another Woman's Division of Christian Service missionary doing high-school work is May Bel Thompson, loaned to the William Nast Academy.

Work done by Bishop Chen, Dr. Daniel Li, and other church leaders in holding special meetings for students of high schools and universities is bearing fruit in decisions for Christ and dedication to his service. Another series of meetings is planned for the last of September and October in several of our student centers, with Bishop Chen preaching and holding conferences with individuals.

It is gratifying to learn that the Woman's Division of Christian Service has given approval to the carrying on of the Laura Haygood School in Szechwan until it is able to return to East China. The principal, Miss Kiang Kwe Yuin, has been untiring in getting quarters ready in the Chungking Institutional Church plant and in assembling her staff to begin work this autumn. The alumnae have given liberally toward the maintenance of the school. It is thought that it will be possible not only to carry on high-school work, but also to do some of the teacher training for which it has long been well and appreciatively known. Laura Haygood is fortunate in having the help of Susie Mayes.

In the field of higher education in the West China Conference the Woman's Division of Christian Service participates in the Union Theological College, the West China Union University and the Woman's College, Cheeloo University, Ginling College, and Yenching University. This year it has missionaries in but three of these institutions—Charlotte Trotter in the Theological College, Ovidia Hansing and Pearl Fosnot in the West China Union University, and Nina Stallings in Yenching. While Miss Trotter is on furlough Dr. Hansing is to give part time to the Theological College. The church eagerly awaits the graduation of women it has sent to the Theological College and could use many more from the universities than have been available.

Large classes were received by the universities last year due to various types of pressure; however, this fall a return is being made to more highly selective entrance requirements. Stringent financial conditions are leading to a decrease in staff and to even closer co-operation in class work among the several institutions on the West China campus. The West China Union University Medical College is having the co-operation of the Peking Union Medical College from this fall and the latter's Nursing School has been moved to the new University Hospital. This marks the beginning of an opportunity for nurses in Szechwan to obtain a college degree together with graduation in nursing.

Medical

One of the ways in which the Woman's Division of Christian Service is contributing to medical work in Szechwan is through the help it has given and is giving to women who are students of medicine and dentistry in the university. Other ways are through its participation in the Tzechung Hospital, where Mrs. Pearl Willis Jones serves as nurse and trainer of nurses and where Lena Nelson is assistant superintendent of the hospital, through the School of Midwifery under Dr. Marian Manly and through its conference public-health service under Alma Eriksen. Public-health nurses are located in six widely separated centers. They render invaluable community service. They and Miss Eriksen frequently assist evangelistic workers in institutes and training classes.

Cora Simpson has spent many years as secretary for the Nurses' Association of China. She now has her headquarters at Golosham, near Chungking, where many of the government offices are found and where hospital work is carried on. Nurses for hospitals and for public-health work are far too few. Training schools are making special efforts to interest high-school girls in nursing as a profession. The importance of this endeavor is shown by the fact that the China Christian Educational Association has made it one of its most urgent projects.

Movements of Missionaries

To China: Mrs. Pearl Willis Jones, R.N., sailed from America in the fall of 1942 and arrived in Chungking in November, 1942. She was appointed by Bishop Chen to the Rock River (or Chadwick Memorial) Hospital in Tzechung, Szechwan. Miss Mollie Townsend, R.N., sailed in April, 1943, and reached China in September, 1943, having gone by New Zealand, Australia, and India. She has gone to Yutu, Southern Kiangsi, where Miss Gertrude Cone and Miss Margaret Seeck have been working alone. Miss Sylvia Aldrich and Miss Elizabeth Carlyle, R.N., sailed August, 1943. They are still en route to China. Both will go to Hinghwa Conference.

From China: Miss Pauline Westcott and Miss Edna Jones left China in June and arrived in San Francisco on September 14. Word has come that Dr. Marian Manly has started on her journey to the United States for furlough.

For nearly a year it has been hoped that another exchange of Japanese and American citizens would be made and that our missionaries would be repatriated. On October 1 a Japanese ship sailed with American citizens from the Far East. The "Gripsholm" sailed from New York early in September and the exchange was made in Mormagao, Portuguese East India, on October 15. The "Gripsholm" is expected in America early in December. On it are the following twenty-nine missionaries of the Woman's Division of Christian Service according to the official list from the State Department:

Marie Adams	Emma Knox
Alice Alsup	Clara Nutting
Mary Blackford	Alice Powell
Julia Bonafield (retired)	Margaret Prentice
Ethel Bost	Louise Robinson
Eloise Bradshaw	Ruth Stahl
Rosa May Butler	Lillie Stephens
Ida Frantz	Ellen Studley
Alice Green	Leona Thomasson
Mary Ellen Hawk	Nina Troy
Anne Herbert	Marguerite Twinem
Elizabeth Hobart	Lucy Jim Webb
Bessie Hollows	Mary Culler White
Myra Jaquet	Emma Wilson
Louise Killingsworth

Remaining in occupied China are Miss Clara Pearl Dyer, Miss Mary Wattrous, and Miss Maude Wheeler.

In Free China there are now fifty-nine missionaries and two en route to China. There are fifty-eight China missionaries in the United States. Five new missionaries are under appointment to China, four of whom are studying language in Berkeley, California, at the California College in China. One of these, Miss Elma Ashby, R.N., is expecting to sail soon. Five missionaries have retired during the past year. Of those now in America nine are studying in preparation for return to China and five are itinerating. Most of the others have studied during their furlough and have now accepted temporary positions; six of these are at work in the Home Department and three are at Tule Lake, California, a Japanese relocation center.

Central and South Africa

There is throughout the world, and particularly in the United States, an increasing interest in the continent of Africa due in large part to the prominence of North Africa as a battlefield. However, soldiers from America are in many parts of Africa and are writing of the country and its people. To some small degree at least some American people are beginning to realize that the solutions to problems of Africa will be important in the making of a lasting world peace.

Happily the Church Conference on African Affairs held in Westerville, Ohio, in June, 1942, has proved to be a focal point for continuing study. Reports of the studies being made in each of the four conferences in which the Woman's Division of Christian Service is at work are beginning to come, though none is complete. These studies are being made by Africans and missionaries together and show clearly the benefits of concurrent thinking by the field groups and the groups here in America.

One of the most profitable studies following the Westerville Conference was begun early in the year with a conference in Cincinnati under the auspices of the Joint Committee on Religious Education in Foreign Fields when mission work in the Belgian Congo was studied with particular reference to religious education. Secretaries of the Board of Education and of the Board of Missions and Church Extension and a number of missionaries from the Congo met for two days under the leadership of Dr. Wade Barclay, Executive Secretary for the Joint Committee on Religious Education. The recommendations of this conference are now being studied in the Congo.

Interest in the program of Christian Literature for Africa has been stimulated by the visit to America of Miss Margaret Wrong. Miss Wrong quotes a European chaplain who wrote: "You would be amazed at the sale of literature among African soldiers. I simply cannot keep pace with the demand. When work is over, a walk around the camp shows scores of Africans reading, singing, and some studying, the place littered with books. It is the best extramural university I have seen in Africa." The soldiers send the literature back into the villages and a new interest is being aroused in learning to read.

When in the United States, Miss Wrong was able to obtain a number of manuscripts for the series of tiny books known as the African Home Library. Some of our Methodist missionaries on furlough also were able to translate a few of these into the vernacular of the tribes with whom they are working. Fortunately some of the money set aside for Africa for literature from the 1941 Week of Prayer is available to meet the growing need for literature.

On the field the great event in Methodist Church history was the holding of the African Provisional Central Conference which met in Elisabethville, Belgian Congo, June 20, 1943. This was the first Central Conference meeting to be held in Africa since the unification of the churches; in fact, the first to be held in sixteen years. The conference includes Angola Provisional Annual Conference, Southern Congo Provisional Annual Conference, Central Congo Provisional Annual Conference, Liberia, Rhodesia, Southeast Africa Provisional Annual Conference. The official report has not arrived, but from letters it is learned that about fifty delegates were present, twenty of whom were African. The conference was significant in the opportunity given the delegates to become acquainted and to face together their tasks and opportunities which differ in the various colonies, but which are similar in many respects. One outgrowth of the conference is that two African women teachers, trained at Fairfield Girls' School, Old Umtali in Rhodesia, one of the oldest institutions of our church in Africa, are to teach in the school at Wembo Nyama, Central Congo, the youngest of the Africa conferences.

In each of our conferences the work goes forward toward ever-increasing opportunity. In Rhodesia the nurse-training school at Nyadiri, which has been recognized recently by the government, was strengthened by a special financial gift. In Portuguese East Africa the assembly shelter for the Girls' School is being built. The building program begun several years ago in the Congo has been delayed by shortages of material and by the need for a supervisor, but a few buildings have been completed.

In all Africa fields the shortage of workers is appalling. In Angola, while Miss Nelson was having a short furlough in South Africa, Miss Miller and Miss Cross were the only missionaries of the Woman's Division of Christian Service in the country. Miss Glidden has been waiting for more than a year to sail for Angola, but has not received the necessary permission from Lisbon. Miss Quinton and Miss Gugin returned from Rhodesia to the United States in March. Miss Jessie Pfaf sailed for Rhodesia in August. Miss Edith Martin and Miss Elizabeth Dalbey, who has transferred from Korea to the Belgian Congo, sailed by way of Lisbon and arrived in the Congo in July. Every letter coming from Bishop Springer brings a plea for re-enforcements. Nurses are needed in each of the four conferences, home-economics teachers are particularly needed in Rhodesia. In Southeast Africa the strain because of shortage of workers is perhaps the greatest, for teachers and nurses and evangelistic workers are sorely needed. If the appropriations in Portuguese East Africa and in Angola were more nearly adequate, Christian Portuguese teachers might be secured who would lessen the strain on the small missionary staff and greatly strengthen the work. In Angola three missionaries are on the field, two in the United States; in Central Congo ten are on the field and five in the United States; in Rhodesia nine are on the field, one is en route to the field, and five are in America. All five of the missionaries appointed to Southeast Africa are on the field.

The joyful news from Africa as revealed in reports and letters is the growing response to the gospel message and the increasing sense of responsibility on the part of the African Christians. There is need to strengthen every center we now have and to enlarge the areas of service by opening new stations and new rural evangelistic centers in every field. The present moment in the development of the Christian movement in Africa is one of opportunity and unusual significance. The missionary budget for all four conferences in Africa for 1944-45 is $52,135 and the work budget is $24,276. Our missionary staff and our appropriations must be multiplied if Methodism is to meet the responsibility that is hers.

Japan, Korea, and the Philippines

Behind the Curtain Life Still Goes On

LIFE still goes on behind the iron curtain between us and these war-ridden countries. People still live in homes. Little children run about and play, pause, and cry with hunger. Christians gather in churches and pray to the Father, believing in his love and his power to meet their needs. We know about the suffering in China and India, and the awful struggle there to get food to sustain life. Some of us know that this struggle was already becoming intense in Korea, when we left there in 1940. People are just as hungry in Korea today as in other occupied lands. Let us never forget that. But we know that beautiful Christian living is going on in these countries, and that Christ is walking with our friends behind the iron curtain.

The Church

Just how the church and Christian institutions are faring in these lands we cannot know definitely. However, we want briefly to review the forms of Christian service which had been initiated. We believe this service is going on even though it may have been adapted to the exigencies of the present situation. We are confident that church union in Japan is being perfected and strengthened. Japanese and Korean Christians know how to yield obedience to the powers that be, and at the same time keep their faith in God firm. He understands and meets their needs in this difficult situation. We can be grateful that the government realizes something of the power of the Christian church, and we hope the lives of Christian people will reveal the Source of that power.

In order that the United Church of Christ in Japan may have all the encouragement that can be given, mission boards are planning a united approach when we can return. The Postwar Planning Committee for Japan under the East Asia Committee of the Foreign Missions Conference has spent days in careful consideration of this very important matter and the following resolution has been taken:

“Resolved, That it is the sense of this conference that the postwar relationships of the Christian Movement in North America to the Christian Movement in Japan should be conducted co-operatively rather than through individual boards and missions; and

“That we recommend that the Subcommittee on Japan report our approval of this principle to the boards with work in Japan and arrange for a further consultation of secretaries of such boards as are favorably inclined toward this principle and are interested in an endeavor to work out a co-operative procedure for North America, with the understanding that representatives of the other boards will be welcome to attend and participate in the discussion.”

In June, the Executive Committee of the Woman's Division took the following action concerning the above resolution:

“Inasmuch as the Methodist Board is already following this principle as a policy, it was voted to reaffirm this policy as it relates to Japan.”

For Korea, as for Japan, interdenominational planning is going on, in a Korea Postwar Planning Committee under the East Asia Committee. The rootage of the church is deep and strong in Korea, and we expect to find the Christian movement there, vigorous and ready for advance as soon as freedom of action is made possible.

The people of the Philippines have had their baptism of fire and we trust that they have found in their Christian faith and in the church the strength for living that they have so much needed. If they have, there may be expected there too, an era of lively growth and new forms of service.

Colleges and Training Schools

We may remind ourselves of the institutions to which we have had, and still have, responsibilities both material and spiritual. In Japan, girls are still finding Christian answers to life's problems in our three colleges—Tokyo Woman's College, Kwassui, and Hiroshima. Two other schools of college grade give training for Christian workers. These are Aoyama Gakuin (Woman's Department), and Seiwa Joshi Gakuin (formerly Lambuth).

Ewha College, in Korea, had reached several goals by 1940. The enrollment of 437 was the highest in her history. Government permission had been granted to make the kindergarten training school into a department of the college with a three-year course. The home-economics department had opened a one-year short course for homemakers. The debt on the buildings had been canceled and the endowment fund had reached the amount of $125,000. In 1941, the Woman's Division approved the Zaidan Hojin (Holding Corporation) which gives as much security as is possible to the college. Under the leadership of her great president and capable faculty we may be confident that Ewha has carried on to realize many other goals during the past three years. We must also realize that there have been difficulties and that obligations have likely been incurred and funds borrowed to keep the college going. For all this we must hold in reserve the annual appropriation of $14,148.

Inasmuch as the government cares for general education in the Philippines, it is not necessary for Christian missions to enter that field. We have two training schools for Christian workers. Harris Memorial trains deaconesses and kindergarten teachers. We look forward to enlarged usefulness for this institution as it sends more and more graduates out into Christian service. In Lingayen, Townsend Memorial gives a short intensified course for Bible women who serve in local churches and depend upon local support. The missionary teachers are probably still active in Harris since it is in Manila. Townsend Memorial, we hope, is going on under the leadership of its capable Filipino president.

High Schools and Primary Schools

Perhaps even more important than the work of the colleges is the character training that goes on day by day among the girls who throng our Christian high schools of Japan and Korea. In Japan, three are attached to the colleges—Kwassui, Hiroshima, and Aoyama. The other four are at Hakodate, Hirosaki, Fukuoka, and Yokohama.

Closely related to Ewha College are the five Methodist High Schools for Girls in Korea. They are Ewha and Pai Wha in Seoul, Holston in Songdo, Chung Eui in Pyeng Yang, and Lucy Cunnigim in Wonsan. In 1940, some 3,500 girls were in these schools. We may be sure this number has greatly increased. Many of the graduates go to Ewha College and all the students are brought under the strong Christian influence which characterizes the lives of the teachers in these high schools. Included in our educational program in Korea there is also a theological seminary (co-educational), a vocational high school, and two other special schools. Eight primary schools have government registration, five others are unregistered. Kindergartens are greatly appreciated by the Korean people, and many of them are supported locally.

For this great educational program the Woman's Division carries appropriations as follows: Japan, $56,000; Korea, $64,000; Philippine Islands, $5,000.

Dormitories

The Methodist Mission in the Philippines, taking no responsibility for general education, is left free to use its funds and energies in hostel service to the student life of the country. A very fruitful service has been carried on in the ten dormitories under Methodist auspices. This form of work may well become a pattern of the service we should plan to render in Japan and Korea as the governments take increasing responsibility for the education of youth.

Social Evangelistic Centers

These centers in Japan and Korea render a wide variety of services, such as clubs for every age—kindergartens, clinics, baby welfare, hostels, and instruction in homemaking, English, and music. The groups served are as varied. They include mothers, young wives, young business people, students, girls, boys, little children, and babies. There are twelve such centers for Japanese in ten different cities. For Koreans there are five centers in five cities. For this vast service to womanhood, youth, and childhood, Methodist women in America give through the Woman's Division, $14,500 for Japan and $9,555 for Korea. This form of service will be much needed in the days ahead.

Evangelism

Large emphasis has always been placed on rural evangelism in all three of these countries. In many different ways, missionaries and native Christians have endeavored to carry the good news to their people. The establishment of churches has been accompanied by preaching missions, institutes, home visiting, newspaper evangelism. For this work the Woman's Division has made appropriations to Japan, $2,600; to Korea, $13,000; to Philippines, $6,000.

We hope that this form of work, can be carried forward in the future with a comprehensive service for all of life in the rural districts. We should like to see a nurse, a deaconess, and a kindergartner go out to live and serve in a village. Or there might be a nurse, a home economist, and a Bible woman. They would establish a home and live as good neighbors, serving the people in any way that opened to them. Some of their interests would be Christian homes, happy childhood, good health, economic improvement, and above all they would strive to make Christianity a Way of Life for the village. We would hope that they might have the co-operation of a young minister and his wife, a doctor and his wife. This kind of service should also be open to young missionaries, both men and women.

Hospitals and Public Health

The ministry of healing is a very necessary part of Christian service in Korea. Besides co-operation in the Union Hospitals, Severance in Seoul, and Pyeng Yang Christian Hospital, Methodists have a hospital in Songdo and another in Wonsan. All of these have large clinics and carry on a program of public health. Each of the four hospitals has a nurse-training school.

In the Philippines, Mary Johnston Hospital serves women and children and conducts a splendid nurse-training school. All these institutions will be needed as training centers for the future. They should also be equipped to pioneer in preventive medicine and public health. They should lead in a program of medical care for people throughout the areas in which they serve. The Woman's Division appropriates for these medical services in Korea, $7,735, and for Mary Johnston in the Philippines, $4,000.

Literature and Literacy

In both Japan and Korea, Christian literature societies have given splendid services during the years and many a volume has been made available through these agencies. The church and mission in the Philippines have also given considerable emphasis to literature. But, in all these countries we shall need an enlarged and more varied program of literature in the future. Coupled with the literature program in Korea there should be a drive to make Korea literate. A literacy chart has been prepared for the Korean language and plans are being made to have it printed. Booklets of easy reading material widely ranging in subject matter should be prepared now. The manuscripts of these should be ready for printing when we return, so that the campaign for literacy can be launched as soon as the Korea Church is ready to undertake it. For literature and literacy we shall need a much larger emphasis and greatly increased appropriations.

The Missionaries

No arrangements have yet been made for the repatriation of the fourteen women missionaries in the Philippines. Patricia McHugh is interned. Her mother has been so informed by the Department of Interior of the U. S. Government. We believe the others to be free and at their work under some restrictions. We can correspond with Patricia as an internee, and we can send twenty-five-word letters to the others through the International Red Cross. We have written to all of them but have received no replies as yet. The latest news is a cable received October 25, 1943, via the International Red Cross. It reads:

"ALL WELL INFORM FAMILIES CABLE ERNEST TUCK.
ENQUIRER PHILIPPINE RESIDENT."

The last sentence, though not clear, may mean that Dr. Tuck and the others are not internees but are classed as residents.

Olive Hodges, Evelyn Wolfe, and Mildred Paine are among the repatriates expected in New York early in December on board the "Gripsholm." We welcome their return and wish we might have for this report the information which they will bring. One woman remains in Japan. All other missionaries from these three fields have already been withdrawn. The various forms of service they are giving attest to the richness of their lives and the ability which is theirs. These are noted below:

The Unfinished Task

If any should be tempted to think that the work of missions is done in these lands, if any should say leave it to the native church to Christianize their own people, if any should feel that we as American Christians have no more responsibility, the unfinished task is the answer. Perhaps the statistics below will be of interest. They were compiled by Dr. M. S. Bates. The date is 1938:

MissionariesNew Missionaries

As we consider the institutions and forms of service which have constituted our program in these lands in the past, we feel that they all are good and will go on into the future in adapted forms and under native leadership. But out of every one of them there emerges enlarged opportunities for a greater, more comprehensive service to those parts of the population as yet unchristianized. This means a new cycle in missions. It means turning over the institutions to native leadership and undertaking new forms of service. It means going out to people in the villages and countryside who have not yet realized the love of the Father, nor experienced the abundant life that he has for all his children. It means personal service of the kind that the first missionaries gave. All this means new missionaries, of creative ability, deep consecration, hardy physique, and in just as great numbers as can be found. We shall need doctors and nurses, social-service workers, ministers, kindergartners, religious education experts, economists and agriculturalists, and people interested in literacy and the production of literature. So we throw down the challenge to Christian youth to give careful consideration to the great opportunities of service in Japan, Korea, and the Philippines, as we approach the New Age in Christian Missions.

Latin America, Europe, and North Africa

THE 1942 report from these fields gave a detailed account of work in each station, listing every project with its annual appropriation. Since these details are essentially the same for 1943, this year's report will deal in general outline with (1) co-operative enterprises, (2) significant events, and (3) urgent needs for increased appropriations.

Working Together in Latin America

Methodists have always shared largely in the work of the Committee on Co-operation in Latin America in which twenty-five boards and agencies unite for common planning and action. In 1943 the Woman's Division of Christian Service contributed $2,200 to this co-operative enterprise. This committee plays an increasingly important role in the building of a new Latin America. In his annual report the executive secretary of the committee says: "The church at home must be made to see that Latin America is at present the greatest mission field in the world and that the opportunities for strengthening the evangelical forces may never come again. The Latin-American mission field is different from other fields in several respects. For example, it has not felt the ravages of war and thus missionary work can be expanded without waiting for the postwar period of reconstruction. The Latin-American countries are our nearest neighbors and, our destiny being inevitably bound up with theirs, a great moral responsibility rests upon the people of the United States. The time is ripe for the churches to challenge the people of this country with a big program for Christian service and the development of the evangelical church in Latin America in a day of unprecedented opportunity."

A unique contribution of the Protestant movement is going to be the campaign for literacy in this part of the world where at least 70% of the people are illiterate. The Committee on Co-operation in Latin America facilitated Dr. Frank Laubach's visit to nine of the Latin-American countries from October, 1942 to May, 1943. Both governments and people are enthusiastic about the "Laubach method." In Guayaquil, Ecuador, the municipality voted 30,000 sucres for the campaign and now employs a full-time secretary. The press, educational authorities, and labor unions are collaborating in this mighty effort to bring the light of knowledge to the downtrodden masses. The second phase of the campaign begins in November, 1943, when, under the auspices of the Committee on Co-operation in Latin America and the Committee on World Literacy and Christian Literature of the Foreign Missions Conference, Dr. Laubach returns to Latin America to carry forward the work begun. With him go a small group of "disciples" to learn his method and come to an understanding of the problems involved in literacy work.

Linked closely with this phase of the Protestant movement is the remarkable development of the production of Christian literature in Spanish, for the use of all denominations.

Following the Conference on Christian Literature in Mexico in 1941, regional committees of literature were set up. Working on the comprehensive plan of the Committee on Christian Literature of the Committee on Co-operation in Latin America, as well as independently in the several fields, the work has gone forward rapidly. In all cases money is being raised on the field to supplement the subsidies granted by the committee, which is trying to provide $15,000 a year for five years. The achievement of the Regional Literature Committee in Buenos Aires illustrates what is being done. In April, 1942, the report covering eighteen months showed the publication of fifteen books at a cost of $14,400 Arg., of which only $3,000 Arg. were supplied by subvention. Since April, fourteen more books have been produced. Three of these were a part of this committee's contribution to the publication of a series of fifteen books for children and parents and teachers of children. Many pamphlets on Christianizing the home are to be printed. Ten more book manuscripts are now in the press. Through the printed page the living Christ is being made known throughout Spanish-speaking Latin America. The next step in this phase of the work will be a Conference on Christian Literature to be held in Brazil, from which will emerge another comprehensive program for literature in Portuguese.

For years the women of Methodism have carried a share in the publication of La Nueva Democracia, the outstanding Protestant magazine in Spanish. Of high intellectual caliber, this paper preaches the gospel of Christ in its particular bearing on social and political philosophy. All over Latin America its articles are reprinted in local newspapers so that its influence reaches far beyond its subscription list. Some of the most prominent writers in Latin America contribute to its pages. Increasingly this magazine bears witness to the basic principles of Christianity.

We gladly shared in a new step forward when the Committee on Co-operation in Latin America appointed a commission to study the Indians of the Andean Highlands in Ecuador, Peru, and Bolivia. These five men, including an agriculturalist, an economist, an anthropologist, a doctor, and the secretary of the Committee on Co-operation in Latin America, have returned with a report of their careful investigations and shortly will present a plan which may point the way to a new and essential aspect of the missionary endeavor. Seven millions of Indians in the Andean Highlands are in greater need of the gospel than any other group in South America. They present a field practically untouched by Christianity. Living in a pitiable state, their religion a curious mixture of paganism and Roman Catholicism, the victims of police, priests, and landowners, these descendants of the Incas await the touch of the gospel of the Christ. It is hoped that service to these needy people may, as a result of the studies made by the commission, take the form of an interdenominational project based not on traditional types of missionary work but on a communal approach suitable to Indian life. For this missionaries must be carefully chosen and especially trained. If such work can be done it will help to build a new life in Latin America.

Sponsored by the Committee on Co-operation in Latin America, National Christian Councils in several of the republics are pushing forward in evangelical work. The newest of these is in Cuba where the Council held its second meeting in June, 1943. Fifty-six representatives planned advances in evangelism, literature, social work, youth movements, women's work, and rural projects.

The Roman Catholic campaign for the withdrawal of Protestant missionaries from Latin America continues to be a threat to religious freedom in the Americas. This studied effort to crush our work has increased the sense of unity among the Protestant boards working in these republics as well as among the evangelical Christians all over Latin America. The latter well know that the blotting out of the Protestant witness would take place in their republics, as it has in Spain in recent years, if the Catholic Church and the Fascist leaders had their way.

Peru seems at present to be the chief battleground for religious freedom in the Americas. Here the Catholic Church has never had more power since the days of the Inquisition. Yet the people go hungry and the prisons are filled with political prisoners. Evangelical students are jailed for carrying posters of the Four Freedoms in an open-air meeting. Persecution is reported in many places. Members of two Protestant churches came together for a holiday in the country. After playing games they began to sing hymns. A group of Catholics brought the police and two Protestants were arrested. It happened that an army captain, who was a graduate of the Methodist School in Callao, saw what took place. He reported the incident to liberal senators and deputies of Congress. Later two different groups of these progressive officials petitioned the government to have the persecution of evangelicals stopped and to give orders to the Peruvian consuls to grant passports to Protestant missionaries. Our schools in Peru are harassed by the government over the requirement that for one hour a week the official religion shall be taught in every institution. While the alternate course, now under preparation by the Protestant schools, awaits government sanction, the missionaries are doing their best to hold high in the thinking of the students the evangelical interpretation of the gospel in its relationship to the official required course. And we all give thanks that the Bible may be freely taught in addition to the official course, so that every day the pupils are being influenced by the words of the Living Christ.

During the year the International Missionary Council has published the sixth and seventh in its "Economic and Social Bases of the Evangelical Church" series. Dr. J. Merle Davis, Director of the Department of Social and Economic Research of the International Missionary Council, visited the East Coast of South America in 1942 and has written two most valuable studies entitled:

- (1) HOW THE CHURCH GROWS IN BRAZIL
- (2) THE EVANGELICAL CHURCH IN THE RIVER PLATE REPUBLICS.

These books are "must" reading for all who are interested in Latin America and they will, as they are studied by missionaries and board secretaries, have wide influence in making new policies for this work.

Significant Events

The dedication of the new building of the Union Theological Seminary in Buenos Aires in July and the attendant advancement of the work bears a significant relationship to the entire Christian movement of Spanish-speaking South America. One of the plaques in the foyer tells briefly this history of the development of theological education in these countries:

1884—Beginning of theological training in Colonia Waldense, Uruguay.

1889—Transfer of this work to Argentina.

1917—The Disciples of Christ officially entered into the co-operative enterprise.

1922—Founding of the Training School for Christian Workers (women) in Buenos Aires.

1942—Merger of the Training School and the Facultad.

The modern, well-equipped building of dignified Tudor architecture graces the site at Camacua 282, where the former Training College for Christian Workers once stood. Thus has been fulfilled the dream of Carrie Jay Carnahan that the young men and women of this part of South America should be brought together under one roof and in one seminary administration where they should receive the best possible training as ministers and lay workers. The beautiful ceremony dedicating this building as Miss Carnahan's memorial lifted up again the work of this woman of God who was a leader in the Christian movement of South America for twenty-six years. In addition to chapel and library, the building houses classrooms, offices, and living quarters for its student body and missionary faculty members. Today the enrollment is triple that of three years ago and the new building is almost filled. The school is unique in its scholastic standards and in its interdenominational and international character. Here Waldensians, Disciples, and Methodists unite in the support and administration of the seminary; there are students from six republics, from seven denominations. As general cultural standards are lifted in these countries, the appeal of the Protestant church as a field of service is making itself felt among the youthful leaders in the local churches. The call to the Christian ministry is now taking its place alongside of the call to be a teacher, doctor, or politician. One student expressed his reason for entering the seminary: "I am studying here because I desire to be more useful and to collaborate with God in his work; because the church needs my help, time, and effort; because there are children who need education, young people who need guidance, mothers who need a friend, and men who need religion."

The 1942 report set forth the urgency of a new building for Colegio Americano in Porto Alegre, Brazil, but it could not have prophesied the unexpected gift of $85,000 from the estate of the late Mr. Henry Pfeiffer, which is making the building possible this year. Upon the receipt of this gift Miss Mary Sue Brown made preparations to fly to Brazil to supervise building operations. With the military commandeering all seats in planes her flight seemed impossible until the Foreign Minister of Brazil intervened in her behalf and by a personal message to Pan-American Airways in Miami secured her passage. This indicated the government's friendly attitude toward Protestant missionaries. Upon her arrival, Miss Brown registered with the National Institute of Industrialists, which gives her the right to employ workmen. Then she completed the building plans and began to buy materials. Her chief difficulty was the securing of a builder who would not demand the usual 10 to 15% commission and who would work with her as supervisor. After a long hunt, a contracting engineer, husband of a graduate of the school, became interested in the project and agreed to take the technical direction with Miss Brown for only 3½% of the total cost. The work goes on in spite of constant financial worry over the rising cost of materials and the increased wages of workmen. Miss Brown buys all materials, thus avoiding the tax on sales and consignment, employs workmen, pays all bills, keeps all accounts and controls the entire project from her little office near the school. This missionary-builder has recently been honored by an invitation from the Secretary of Education for the State of Rio Grande do Sul to serve on a committee to make plans for primary and secondary school buildings for this great state.

It seems almost a miracle that during the war such building projects are possible. This year still another building has been completed, the new club building in connection with Centro Social in Monterrey, Mexico. This increases the efficiency of this social center which ministers to hundreds of boys and girls.

In Mexico City the newly organized Deaconess School opened in July. As in any reorganization, work moves slowly at first, but the spirit of the school is excellent and good ground is being laid for future progress. The girls, who are training to be deaconesses, are taking some of their courses at the Union Theological Seminary. Practical training is being carried on in connection with Aztecas and Balderas churches, and one girl is spending the long vacation as an assistant in the rural center in Cortazar. Several young women are seeking admission to the school for next year. Two girls, who have been following the deaconess course prescribed by the General Conference of The Methodist Church in Mexico under private tutelage in Frontier Conference, receive their certificates at a ceremony in the Monterrey church in August and were admitted to the conference as "deaconesses on trial." They have been appointed to the staffs of the social centers in Chihuahua and Durango. After two years of this apprentice work they will be consecrated.

We watch with interest the development of the Industrial school in Mexico City which, under the leadership of a Mexican woman principal, goes steadily forward. In January, 1943, under government permit, the school opened the first year of secondary with seventeen girls. Numbers increased in the primary so that 115 girls now fill the hostel connected with the school. Miss Ethel Thomas makes for these students a Christian home. The atmosphere of the school is strengthened by the fact that all the teachers are Protestants, a circumstance rarely possible in Latin America. If the hostel and school continue to grow, as they certainly must when more years are added to the secondary, a new wing will be needed on the dormitory. With no Protestant normal school left open in Mexico, the need of teacher training is very great. In a small way it is now being met by the admission to this hostel of young Protestant women who are studying in the government normal school.

Rural work is on the increase in Mexico and Cuba. With the co-operation of our missionaries, the Union Theological Seminary in Mexico City is conducting rural institutes in experimental parishes. Such an institute for women was held this year in San Vicente Chicoalpam, a typical village. From all corners girls came eagerly to avail themselves of courses in Bible, religious education, homemaking, agriculture, and health. In Baguanos, Cuba, the Jamaican Negro group is rapidly assuming the form of a church, greatly desired by the people themselves. They now take care of the expenses of the visiting pastor. Candidates for church membership are increasing. The Baguanos church recently took in ten new members. The youth in this rural station are full of initiative and are winning others to Christ.

An example of the community service which is frequently a by-product of the evangelical schools comes from Crandon Institute, Montevideo. The home-economics department, under the leadership of Miss Lena May Hoerner, has become a valuable factor in the life of Uruguay, especially because of its emphasis on nutrition. Because of the scarcity of fuel, most of it is imported, Miss Hoerner and her assistants have "invented" some kind of a fireless cooker. It has attracted public attention and Miss Hoerner was asked to supervise a campaign for the city of Montevideo. She agreed to do this on condition that she could emphasize good nutrition as a part of the program. A "refresher course" for Crandon graduates, with training in how to set up a demonstration and details of how to make the cookers, was combined with a review of nutrition. Fourteen people were trained for the city of Montevideo, and seven former pupils from a provincial city took the work. People are instructed in a nutritious menu for the entire day, prepared in a fireless cooker, and printed material is distributed containing instruction on the proper preparation of dishes common to the country. One day the provincial governors of Uruguay, holding their annual meeting in Montevideo, came to Crandon to see how the cookers worked. Two of these men became immediately interested and financed such projects in their own provinces. Other opportunities for unique service are constantly coming to Miss Hoerner and her able assistants. They were asked by one of the municipal officials to teach simple cooking and nutrition to the mothers who come to the city milk stations. A program was worked out covering eight demonstrations, each one preparing food for five people for one day at a cost of not more than 25 centesimos per person, but complete in every detail in calories, proteins, minerals, and vitamins. In the demonstrations emphasis is put upon the proper preparation of the right kind of food in the health of children. Since there are nineteen milk stations in Montevideo, Crandon has undertaken a big "extracurricular" task in providing this public service, but it feels that it is an opportunity to bear the Christian witness in a practical way. A Crandon graduate, who now heads a school for crippled children, sends her teachers to Crandon for courses in nutrition and has recently engaged a Crandon graduate in home economics to plan a dining room for the school which can be used as a teaching project for the children.

Mention should be made this year of the enthusiastic co-operation in the missionary enterprise of various groups of Methodist women in the Latin-American republics. From every conference comes word of increased activity, of the assumption of greater responsibility in the affairs of the church, of a growing interest in the needs of the world. Typical is this story from Uruguay. From Mrs. Sofia de Gomez, Treasurer of the Federation of Methodist Women, came this letter, accompanying two checks to be sent to the Jidato School in India and to Chinese relief: "The three hundred members of our federation have made a real effort of love and sacrifice, worshiping God by showing their good services toward their fellow men. I want to mention especially the wonderful work done for us by the girls of Crandon Institute on behalf of the Chinese children. A lightning campaign of twenty minutes, pinning a Chinese flag on every child or adult who would give some cents to help these little Chinese sufferers, enabled the girls to give, with love and pleasure, $121.21 in Uruguayan currency. I shall show you details of our distribution of the total we collected for missionary work:

Bolivian natives	$438 00
Scholarship in Union Theological Seminary, Buenos Aires..	225 25
Students' Endowment Fund, Union Theological Seminary, Buenos Aires	20 00
Extension Fund, Canelones, Uruguay.....	270 00
Missionary Fund, Uruguay	120 00
Prisoners of War, Y.M.C.A.....	20 00
Missionary Work in Bolivia.....	50 00
American Friends Service, European Refugees.....	250 00
Bishop Herbert Welch, Refugees in China.....	428 84
Missionary Work in Jidato School, India.....	66 98

"As you will notice from the total, $1,889.07, we kept only $390 for Uruguay. Thank God for the missionary spirit of our women, and may God bless the woman's work all around the world which is helping to extend the Kingdom of God."

Needs for Increased Appropriations

From all over Latin America urgent appeals have come for increased appropriations to carry on the existing work, as higher costs of living and normal development of the work make present budgets wholly inadequate. Also, certain advances should be made beyond present projects in order to meet the opportunities of the hour and press on in face of growing Catholic opposition. The Protestant schools have never been so full, the call of youth for Christ never so eager. In all cases the askings are modest and should, therefore, be within reach. The granting of these increases spells the difference between the ongoing of the work or its inevitable curtailment.

Argentina.—The aim of the work, expressed in two schools, is leadership training. Thirty-eight students, men and women, have brought the enrollment of the Union Theological Seminary beyond the number anticipated for several years to come. More young people are on the waiting list. In many cases, whether the seminary accepts these students or not depends upon whether they can get scholarships. To this end the seminary asks an increase in appropriations of $2,500 to cover scholarships for girls. (A similar amount for boys will be granted by the Division of Foreign Missions.)

The only "feeder" school we have in Argentina to prepare young people to enter the seminary is Colegio Norte Americano in Rosario. For years it has eked out an existence on an inadequate budget. It asks for an increase of $545. The East South America Conference has never had any of the traditional "Bible women." It has always employed at its own expense the young women graduates from the seminary. Now it has a need for such workers far beyond its capacity to pay for them. It is asking for $2,000 toward the support of trained women workers.

Not an extra dollar is available to meet these needs

Brazil.—Our work has developed along two lines—schools and literature. Schools are crowded, although in some instances tuition fees have increased beyond those of government schools. Reasons for increased appropriations are:

1. The exceedingly high cost of living.
2. Government control of teachers' salaries, which were raised in 1942 15-20%. If our schools cannot meet the minimum standard, many teachers may be lost.
3. A new educational law making it necessary for our secondary schools to add two years to the course. If they had not done this, they would have been dropped to the category of second-rate schools and would have lost pupils and prestige. The high standing of our work is indicated by the fact that five out of our six schools were immediately able to secure the new licenses for junior-high and senior-high courses. The sixth school will receive it next year upon completion of a new building.

Increased askings for the six schools total $2,658.

Two magazines, Vos Missionaria and Bem-ti-vi, are well known. The former is a woman's magazine which has a subscription list of over 20,000 and goes into eighteen countries. An increase of $500 is asked to help meet the high cost of paper and production and to spread the influence of these evangelizing agencies.

People's Central Institute, in Rio, is the most famous social settlement in Brazil. Its program is closely co-ordinated with that of the Methodist church on the same compound. In its primary school, clubs, library, kindergarten, clinic, and church it ministers to over 2,000 people a week. The churches of the Federal District contribute generously. Friends of the institute outside the church raise money. In spite of all these efforts, there will be a deficit of over $800 in 1943. Increased askings are for $500 from each Division. The Division of Foreign Missions is able to make this increase.

Statistics show that the Protestant church in Brazil is growing faster than any other church in the world. The immediate future calls for advance in social and rural work, and for teacher training to meet the needs of the thousands of untouched places in the interior. The church calls for an extensive evangelistic and literacy program.

Not an extra dollar is available for Brazil

Cuba.—Here the emphasis is on educational work with rural projects rapidly developing. One principal voice the general need of increased appropriations for school maintenance:

“One thousand three hundred dollars is asked as an increase for Colegio Irene Toland, to meet the burden thrust upon us by the government demanding a 20% increase in the salaries of all teachers and students. We cannot face this raise in salaries without help. We have fine loyal teachers, almost all of whom have degrees from the University of Havana. They do not now and will not, even with the 20% increase, receive salaries equal to those paid in government schools. Several of the finest Protestant women on the island, who would like to teach in our schools, must take government positions in order to help support their families. We pay only ten months' salary, while the government pays for twelve months. School maintenance in general also demands increased appropriations. Black beans (a staple food) which used to cost 4 cents a pound now cost 14 cents. Oranges that once sold six for 5 cents now cost 5 cents apiece.”

The total increased askings for the schools in Cuba is $4,650.

The rural missionaries have made a modest request for $800 to meet the cost of living in their three country stations.

No extra money is available for Cuba

Mexico.—This country's entry into the war has made the cost of living soar. This is felt particularly in the school hostels of which both missionaries and Mexican women have charge. Deaconesses are not receiving sufficient salaries to meet their daily needs. Rural workers, whose budgets are pitifully small, must spend more on their normal activities. Travel costs have increased and workers are barred from visiting needy places because of lack of funds. The total increased askings for both conferences is $6,067.

There are no extra dollars for Mexico

Peru.—The day is here when we must extend our endeavor beyond our great Lima High School to definite evangelistic and social work. National workers are available and have the desire to begin work, especially to help the Indian women and children of the Andes. All we give to Peru is the salaries of missionaries in the school plus $525 for religious education. An increase of $500 would make it possible to fill some other needs.

Nothing is available for this purpose

Uruguay.—Crandon Institute is well established. But the work in Uruguay is unbalanced. There is urgent need for increased work among women and children. Deaconesses are trained and available. Our total evangelistic appropriation for this little country, which is more favorable to Protestantism than any other of the republics, is the paltry sum of $60. An increase of $300 for evangelistic work is asked.

Poland

After months of anxiety as to the whereabouts of Ruth Lawrence, who had remained alone in Warsaw in the summer of 1942, in June a letter in her own handwriting came saying that since January, 1943, she had been interned in a German concentration camp in Vittel, near Nancy, France. Since then letters come frequently, always saying that she is well and busy studying languages and helping in the Red Cross office. Her last letter, dated May 16 and received in October, said: “From time to time I have news from the mission (in Poland). A Bible school is running for six months. The student body consists of three ministerial candidates, a deaconess, five laymen, a preacher's wife, and another laywoman. Well-qualified theologians and professors are helping our pastors conduct the school. Mr. Najdur is giving his full time now. Although the school is small, it is most important at this time. The other work is going on very much as when Mr. Warfield was here except for new work in the section where Brother Gamble lived. Our workers, pastors, and deaconesses are well and working hard. I hope you will permit me to go back (to Warsaw) as soon as circumstances permit. I want to return for a few months anyway before going to the States."

Knowing as we do of the usual persecution of the church in Nazi-controlled countries, this picture of the ongoing work in Poland is as surprising as it is gratifying. It proves once again that, even in the midst of persecution, staunch Christians maintain the witness which points the only way to righteousness and peace. The appropriations for Poland are being held here because they will be needed to pay for this work.

According to the rules governing prisoners of war, letters and packages may be sent to Miss Lawrence at this address: 560 Grand Hotel, Internierten—Lager VITTEL (Frankreich).

Bulgaria

So little communication is possible with those in war zones that it has been a happy surprise to receive rather frequent word from Bulgaria. We know, too, that our letters reach that country.

In September, 1942, the Nazi-controlled Bulgarian government took over our Girls' School in Lovetch and made of it a School of Modern Languages. Papers were drawn up by representatives of the board and government, giving a careful inventory of the property and agreeing to return it to the mission at the end of the war. A copy of this official document reached this country and is in the files of the board.

Determined as they have always been to stay at their posts, Mellony Turner and Esther Carhart petitioned the government to be permitted to remain in the school as teachers of English. They were allowed to do so, and their letters indicate that they have had a happy and useful year of service. Miss Turner was asked to act as dean of the school. The citizens of Lovetch, in whose hearts these missionaries seem to have a large place, have been grateful for their determination to stay, and have treated them as friends. Although Bulgaria and the United States are at war, the students of the school celebrated the American Thanksgiving Day in honor of their teachers. It is likely that religion may not now be taught but by friendly contacts with the students in classrooms and missionary home, these missionaries are exemplifying the Christian life and bearing their witness to Christ in the midst of an harassed people.

No money can be sent to Bulgaria. Appropriations for missionary salaries and work budgets are being held in this country against that day when they may be paid. Upon receiving this assurance our workers sent a letter expressing their gratitude that such was the case and affirming their expectation that the school would be needed more than ever as a Christianizing and stabilizing influence after the war is over.

North Africa

Attention has been focused on North Africa this past year and the church has become "North Africa conscious." Many who did not know that The Methodist Church was carrying on work in that country are now aware of it. Many of the members of our armed forces have been entertained in the homes of our missionaries; the wounded and dying have been visited in the hospitals, for our workers have turned much of their attention to these boys and girls from home during the past twelve months.

Our work, which had gone on almost uninterrupted prior to November 7, 1942, has passed through some radical changes since then. Up to the arrival of United States and British troops in North Africa, our missionaries had continued all the work carried on before the war. They were handicapped by the absence of three missionaries detained in this country by the war, but those on the field carried on in spite of food shortage, war difficulties, and insufficient staffs.

But the coming of United States and British troops changed all this. Some of our buildings were requisitioned. Many of the children in our homes had to be sent back to the interior. We are happy to say that the Gamble Memorial Home, whose buildings were requisitioned, was re-established the middle of August when the army returned the buildings to us. In the meantime, Miss Emily Loveless, long the superintendent of this home, died in Constantine.

It is impossible to say at this time what effect the presence of vast numbers of the armed forces will have upon the country or upon the people. Effective missionary work in the future in Algeria must evaluate these war influences and build its program to meet them. Now that the church is "North Africa conscious" it will, perhaps, be more alert than before to the needs and opportunities in Algeria. It is the one mission field in which we are doing work almost exclusively among Moslems.

The opportunities in Algeria are almost limitless, but if the work is to be effective, it will call for concentration in certain areas. The present missionary staff, with only nine Woman's Division of Christian Service missionaries (six on the field and three detained in this country) is wholly inadequate even to care for the program carried on at the present time. No adequate rural program has yet been attempted in Algeria. The two rural stations, one at Il Maten in Kabylia, the other at Sidi Mabrouk in Constantine, have done fine work, but as yet have only touched the fringes of a comprehensive rural program.

Among people who are mostly illiterate (especially is this true of the women) our mission program of the future must give attention to the literacy problem. Hand in hand with this must go work in the production of Christian literature. At present there is no missionary available for this type of work.

The large urban centers have as yet had little part in our program. Fine work is being carried on in Constantine by the Hannah Goodall Memorial Social Service Center. But nothing is being done along this line in Algiers, Oran, or any other large city.

These are only a few of the trends of modern missions that must concern us in North Africa. We have sent our best in military equipment to the country, both in men and supplies. The Methodist Church is called to send her best in spiritual resources to meet the great needs of this vast Moslem area.

Missionaries for All These Fields

The missionary line is breaking in several of these countries. In Brazil, two resigned in 1943, three will soon retire. In Mexico three will retire by the end of 1945. Cuba has lost three this past year and the health of two more is uncertain. In North Africa one has died; two more will retire at the end of the war. The health and return to the field of others is uncertain. In Peru two have resigned this year. In all, a study for replacements and advance needs by 1946 calls for twenty-one new missionaries, with an additional appropriation covering salaries, travel, and outfits of $20,700.

Only larger giving through increased conference pledges can make the dollars available to fill these needs.

Department of Christian Social Relations and Local Church Activities

A Review of the Work of the Quadrennium and the Look Ahead

THE following report attempts to summarize the history and work of the Department of Christian Social Relations and Local Church Activities in relation to the purpose as stated in the Discipline of The Methodist Church (1940—Par. 996.)

Historical Background

The scope of the work included in the Department of Christian Social Relations and Local Church Activities has grown out of a need recognized for many years by women in all sections of the church. An attempt has been made, in setting up the machinery of the department, to conserve those methods and interests from all groups of women, that will tend to undergird most effectively the entire work in the Woman's Society of Christian Service.

The Woman's Home Missionary Society of the former Methodist Episcopal Church had a Standing Committee on Christian Citizenship whose able chairman was Miss Ada Townsend, of Evanston, Illinois. The following quotation from her 1940 annual report is a fitting statement of the purpose and breadth of interest covered by this committee:

" . . . In 1928 our trustees issued a ringing 'Call to Patriotism' which reads in part as follows: 'Active participation in all matters which relate to government and public welfare, through the use of the ballot, is the patriotic duty of every woman of voting age. Our objective as home missionary women is the winning of America to Christ. This objective can be reached only by purifying the political, social, and economic conditions of our country.'"

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the former Methodist Episcopal Church also had a Standing Committee on World Citizenship. Mrs. George H. Tomlinson, of Evanston, Illinois, had been chairman of this committee for many years. While this committee on World Citizenship specialized in the field of International Relations and World Peace, at the same time it promoted a broad program of citizenship along other lines. The committees of the Home and Foreign Missionary Societies worked co-operatively in the areas in which their programs were similar, such as Alcohol Education, International Relations, Race Relations, Legislation, and Better Movies.

The Wesleyan Service Guild through its Department of Christian Citizenship and Personal Service combined a general program of education for Citizenship and Social Action, tending to make the work of this department a primary interest of business and professional women.

Possibly the first record of a Ladies' Aid Society in any Methodist church of America is found at the Old John Street Church in New York, N. Y. Ladies' Aid activities were included to some degree in the Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and in the missionary work of the women of the Methodist Protestant Church. The Discipline provided for a Ladies' Aid Society in the Methodist Episcopal Church until the Uniting Conference of 1939 provided a plan for uniting all woman's work.

From 1910 to 1930 the Woman's Missionary Council of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, had a Department of Social Service, which was active in the field of industrial problems and peace, and after 1920 in race relations. In 1930 the Bureau of Christian Social Relations was established in the Council with five major areas of activity. These areas were Christian Citizenship and Law Observance, International Relations and World Peace, Economic Relations, Rural Community, and Interracial Co-operation. In the words of Mrs.

W. A. Newell, the bureau superintendent, the scope of the work of the bureau may best be described: "It has been world-wide in its concern and church-wide in its appeal to women."

The Woman's Convention of the Methodist Protestant Church had a secretary of Temperance and Christian Citizenship. In the twenty-one branches of the constituent organizations, similar secretaries of Temperance and Christian Citizenship were elected. The emphases included Christian Citizenship as it applied to voting and community betterment, temperance and narcotics, world peace and justice in the economic system.

From the concern of these thousands of Methodist women, representing all organizations of the three uniting branches of Methodism, have come certain basic ideals and working goals that are the heritage of the new Department of Christian Social Relations and Local Church Activities.

The Organization of the Department

(a) Membership

The Woman's Division of Christian Service is made up of the three departments of work, closely related and interdependent. One third of the membership of the Woman's Division is assigned to each department. This group of twenty-four women formed the official nucleus out of which the initial organization of each department grew.

Because the Department of Christian Social Relations and Local Church Activities differed in purpose and function from the administrative departments, it seemed necessary to plan a different type of department organization that could "supervise and promote the work of the Division along lines of community service and social relations" and plan to meet other needs in line with the purpose outlined in the Discipline. The following plan evolved and has been the basis of work during the quadrennium:

In order to enlarge the scope of the educational program of the department and to increase the effectiveness of its leadership, additional women with special qualifications and responsibilities were invited to become members of the department. This group became regular members of the Resource Committees and Department but had no official relation to the Woman's Division. Associate members, specialists in their various fields, both men and women, were added to the Resource Committees as consultants with the responsibility of full participation in the planning and evaluation of the department's program, but without a vote in the official action of the department.

The purpose of the Resource Committee is indicated by the name itself—a committee to study needs and recommend plans and resources in their special areas that may be used by women in local societies.

(b) The Budget and Its Relation to the Department Program

The Department of Christian Social Relations and Local Church Activities was set up at the beginning of the quadrennium without any previous experience on which to base its budget. Some of the uniting groups had comparatively small items in the budget for the promotion of special phases of the work that had become a part of this new department, but there was no basis from which to estimate a new budget. The original budget for 1941, therefore, included only the basic necessities for beginning a very important, expanding program for the Woman's Society of Christian Service. The major budget items were for an educational program of leadership training through summer schools and seminars, for the expenses of the annual and semiannual meetings of the department and committees, and for salaries and office expenses for the executive secretary and two office secretaries. Because of the necessity for decreasing the budget of the Woman's Division the department budget has been decreased during the quadrennium from $15,000 in 1941 to $13,930 in 1943-44. The department budget is approximately one half of 1% of the total budget of the Woman's Division.

Methods and Results of Field Cultivation in Conference, District, and Local Organization

(a) Program Emphases of the Department

At the initial meeting of the department in November, 1940, in Philadelphia, areas of special need were discussed in relation to a program of action, and the recommendations from the seven Resource Committees became a part of the original Handbook for the department, and provided a backlog for forward-looking social-action emphases during the succeeding years of the quadrennium.

From the very beginning the department has recognized the need for consistency between the church's "preaching" and "practices." With this ideal in the foreground, the department program has sought "to make real and effective the teachings of Jesus as applied to individual, class, racial, and national relationships," and "to enlist the participation of church women in such questions as have . . . an important bearing on public welfare." An attempt has been made to make the local church a community-minded church, with an intelligent plan of co-operation in the enlistment and training of church women for volunteer service in the church and community. Among the most outstanding contributions of the quadrennium was the stimulation that came from the department conference on the Status of Minority Groups in a Christian Democracy. The study and action growing out of this conference will reverberate for years to come.

A special approved study course on The Christian Family was added to the list of approved studies for 1941-42, and was used widely by Methodist women. This was followed in 1941 by a similar recommendation out of which grew the Peace Packet, "Planning for Peace," an approved study for 1942-43. More than 10,000 Packets had been sold by June, 1943. As a result of the conference on the Status of Minority Groups in a Christian Democracy, held in November, 1942, the department recommended that emphasis be given to the study of "The Church and America's Peoples" with the findings of the conference as one of the major texts. The report of the conference was published in the pamphlet, "Unity—A Challenge to American Democracy," and has already been distributed widely for use with the approved study, "The Church and America's Peoples," and also for use as an informal study.

(b) Channels for the Promotion of the Work of the Department

There are three major channels of promotion that have been used extensively by the department during the quadrennium, namely, (1) Literature and church periodicals, especially The Methodist Woman and World Outlook; (2) the use of jurisdiction, conference, and district secretaries of Christian Social Relations and Local Church Activities as channels from the department to the local society; (3) the third channel of promotion is by means of individual field work, done by the chairman of the department, the executive secretary, and other members of the department, and by the jurisdiction secretaries and also field workers of the Joint Division.

Leadership Training as it Relates to Jurisdiction, Conference, District, and Local Organization

(a) Seminars on a National Scope

For the past two summers the department has sponsored a seminar on Christian Social Relations at Garrett Institute, Evanston, Illinois, with Miss Louise Young, of Scarritt College, Nashville, Tennessee, as director. In 1942 there were forty women in attendance and in 1943 there were thirty-five women. The consensus of the groups in attendance each year indicated an appreciation for this type of educational program and the necessity for its continuance.

(b) Jurisdiction and Conference Schools

The Jurisdiction School of Missions and Christian Service has been one of the strongest unifying influences in the jurisdictions for the total program of

The people of the world must insist on the building of the new world order by their governments and support their governments as they build. Letters from all the homes of American Methodists will go out to tell Senators and Representatives of this church's desire for such a world order and its resolve to help build it the Woman's Society. The jurisdiction school provided a medium for guiding conference leaders in planning and promoting a study program as a basis for social action. Such a study program, directed in the conferences by the Study Committee (secretary of Missionary Education, secretary of Christian Social Relations and Local Church Activities, and chairman of Spiritual Life) holds the key to uniting the thinking and planning of the members of the Woman's Society. A comparative study of the schools in 1941 and the schools in 1943 will indicate the fact that the united approach, made through Seminars on Education and Action in 1943, gave new meaning to the study program in those five jurisdictions where schools were held.

The Look Ahead

"There are moments in history when Tomorrow is Today. When the mammoth glacier of social trend taking movement down the valley of history, can be diverted by men into pathways toward tomorrow." (Harold Rugg: Now Is the Moment.)

The Department of Christian Social Relations and Local Church Activities must look ahead even as it takes stock of the past. This is a "moment in history when Tomorrow is Today"—when our job is to build a public mind that not only interprets human relations in terms of Jesus' teachings but a public mind that is willing to practice these principles as individuals and as nations, even to the point of sacrifice now and after the guns cease firing.

A practical plan for increased action immediately must be initiated by the department now looking toward a new world order. Such a plan must recognize certain immediate and long-range challenges and needs, and adapt the program of action accordingly. The following needs are evident on every hand:

1. Planning for demobilization on the home front after the war means building a public mind that will bring pressure to bear on Congress and get action! Adequate plans must be made now for mobilizing peacetime production for full employment. The National Resources Planning Board, before it was ordered by the Senate to liquidate itself (and let the senators take over!) made a new "Bill of Rights," or listed "Nine Freedoms," that Christian leaders may well consider basic needs for all people everywhere and work for their realization.

- (1) The right to work usefully and creatively through productive years.
- (2) The right to fair pay, adequate to command the necessities and amenities of life in exchange for work, ideas, thrift, and other socially valuable service.
- (3) The right to adequate food, clothing, shelter, and medical care.
- (4) The right to security, with freedom from fear of old age, want, dependency, sickness, unemployment, and accident.
- (5) The right to live in a system of free enterprise, free from compulsory labor, irresponsible private power, arbitrary public authority, and unregulated monopolies.
- (6) The right to come and go, to speak or be silent, free from the spying of secret political police.
- (7) The right to equality before the law, with equal access to justice in fact.
- (8) The right to education for work, for citizenship, and for personal growth and happiness.
- (9) The right to rest, recreation, and adventure; the opportunity to enjoy life and take part in an advancing civilization.

2. If there is to be an enduring peace we must build a public mind that will create such international authorities and agencies as are needed for reconstructing a devastated world, guaranteeing economic security and political freedom, and developing an international program of social welfare. Such agencies will deal with post-war relief and rehabilitation, with international economy, education, and citizenship, and probably with such front-page world issues as Child and Youth Welfare, Health and Narcotics, the protection and development of socially handicapped peoples, and human migrations. Christian leaders must be alert to their responsibility in every local church and community as well as through the great chain of missionary institutions and agencies at home and abroad.

3. As Christian citizens we must find techniques for building a good world. The government "derives its just powers from the consent of the governed." Winning this consent for building a good world for all people is a major job of the church. Consent is given only when the governed understand conditions and issues. We must work not only for the unhampered voting privilege for all people in the nation, but for an educational program that adequately interprets the need for Christian action. Someone has suggested that an "Office of Education for Peace" might replace the "Office of Education for War" and mobilize the teachers of the land in a great program that will build a public mind for peace.

4. The Christian church must quickly and more consistently utilize its forces for action in building group unity at home. During the past two years there have been increasing tensions in all sections of the country with racial tensions probably most evident. Riots and various types of disturbances have been publicized. Many forces are at work to clear the atmosphere and build a stable co-operative community, but methods and programs for practical action have not advanced very far. Various state and local committees throughout the country have been appointed, but "most of the committees lacked both a program and the effective force of official status." (Chas. S. Johnson, September, 1943, issue of Trends in Race Relations.)

The church should be the agency to set the pace in interpreting the revolution in the United States in terms of a Christian world order of changed attitudes and practical action—where the traditional practice of segregation of and discrimination against minorities either racial, religious, or cultural groups, will be superseded by equality of opportunity in all phases of life, and unhampered freedom of movement and communication of all peoples without fear of physical, mental, or spiritual intimidation.

5. Another type of tension with serious international implications may have to do with the interpretation of peoples in those nations of the world around which traditional prejudice and distrust have been built. Such prejudices are usually based on false premises and will continue to be stumbling blocks to a Christian world order, until a sane, informed understanding has developed. Possibly Russia provides the most outstanding example of a people whose economic philosophy has differed from ours and against whom America has directed one of her major prejudices and fears. The Christian church is the one agency of the world that can bridge all differences and discover and interpret the basic and essential likenesses of peoples. The Christian bases of the new world will rest on adequate interpreters! John Bennett says: "Christians should know that it is premature to form a judgment of any social system until they have listened to the people at the bottom of it!"

6. The church has pioneered through the years in projecting a social welfare program for socially and economically handicapped groups and individuals. There is increasing evidence that the "seeds" planted have borne fruit and the government and other public agencies are prepared to do a much more thorough job along many lines. The church must not withdraw from this great field of service but it must be ready to shift its emphasis in many cases to that of co-operation in the leavening process. The church must understand the need for and function of public-welfare agencies in every local community, and co-operate with them rather than duplicate their efforts. Possibly among the major problems evident in community life and of concern to church leaders at this point may be listed the following: (1) Shifting individuals and family groups to new communities with inadequate housing, health, and recreation facilities. (2) The increasing employment of women in industry and the obvious effect on home and family stability. (3) The great upward trend in child labor. (4) The tremendous rise in juvenile delinquency throughout the country. (5) The calloused attitude in most communities toward the increasing consumption of alcohol and other narcotics, and the effect on youth and general family life. (6) The increasing number of war marriages. (7) The congested conditions and lack of adequate wholesome recreational facilities in communities adjacent to and a part of camp and industrial communities.

If the Department of Christian Social Relations and Local Church Activities is going to function more adequately in its approach to the above great areas of need, it is evident that an enlarged program is necessary. The following specific suggestions may point toward practical ways of expanding the program:

(1) In order to promote effectively the general work of the department and give special attention to the specific areas suggested above the professional staff of the department must be increased. This will permit a more intensive type of field work along special lines of need, both on a conference-wide scale and in certain local situations. It will also make possible certain specialized leadership in formulating techniques and programs for local church use.

(2) Special literature needs must be met more adequately in terms of long-range practical educational programs. Better ways of assuring the more effective use of timely informal studies must be determined and provision made for same.

(3) Provision may well be made for a series of workshops or seminars for church women throughout the country, dealing with such timely topics as are indicated by the areas of need listed above, and located regionally in accessible places, where a cross section of the church constituency may attend without reference to jurisdiction. Such workshops may be conducted in co-operation with other agencies of the church, or possibly on an interdenominational scale in co-operation with the United Council of Church Women, or as special activities of the department for widespread leadership training.

(4) Increased emphasis must also be given to these special needs in jurisdiction and conference schools, using more time for formulating practical techniques of action.

(5) A continuation of the plan for a seminar on a national scale, conducted at some centrally located place and giving major attention to some such areas of need as those suggested above, should bring together special leaders from all sections of the church. Recognizing the increasing importance and growing needs for such seminars, the department should secure certain specialists in fields of major need for 1944 to serve as resource leaders.

7. The channels of specific social action for the general church constituency are dependent largely upon the Woman's Society. A parallel department or bureau or Committee on Social Education and Action in the general section of the Joint Division could, in co-operation with the Department of Christian Social Relations and Local Church Activities, make a greater impact on community problems, promote a broader program for interpreting the peoples of the world, and undergird more effectively the principles of Christian citizenship in a world community. Such possibilities need careful exploration with clear-cut recommendations channeled to the proper authority.

Report of Editors

The Methodist Woman

WITHIN the past two weeks we have been asked to speak on the program of Methodist women for the postwar world. Needless to say, this has not been an easy task when we consider the present undefined status of such a program. It has, however, put a tremendous burden on our hearts as we think about The Methodist Woman and our literature publications as they relate to our entire promotional program within the Woman's Division of Christian Service. The burden on our hearts is how we can "break through" to the women in the local church and help them to see the tremendous implications of the postwar period immediately before us.

Leon Henderson spoke the other night at New York University. He said that those who are inclined to look into the crystal ball for a solution to their problems might find it possible to believe that the war would be over by Christmas and the postwar world would then immediately confront us. Those, however, closer to government feel that the war with Germany will not be over until June, 1944, and that it will take another year to complete the campaign in the Pacific. Then he spoke of the dozen or more major questions which need to be settled, else peace itself would almost bring calamity. These were:

1. Contact terminations.
2. Disposition surplus raw materials.
3. Disposition government-owned plants.
4. Future of credit and financing private enterprises.
5. Foreign rehabilitation.
6. Price-rationing controls.
7. Demobilization men and women on service fronts and in war-production factories.
8. Taxes.
9. Policing the world.
10. Relationship between government and business.
11. Place of government spending.

There is a tremendous interest out in the church to know whether or not the Woman's Division of Christian Service is facing its world realistically. Are we facing our postwar problems, they ask?

Again and again, we shall refer in speech and in the paper to a recent statement made by Lena Madasin Phillips, president of The International Federation of Business and Professional Women, before the institute planned by Christ Methodist Church, New York, N. Y. At the conclusion of the speech, we find these words:

"Last week I was in Washington and had occasion to visit the new building housing a part of our War Department. I was told that 40,000 men and women worked there. Forty thousand men and women in one spot, in one city, in one country, dedicating their thought, energy, and time to the destruction of other men and women, to the destruction of properties accumulated, historical monuments built, art treasures cherished through the centuries. That is but one point, duplicated, except in its colossal concentration, in countless places throughout the world. War is an effort to which all is sacrificed. Neither life nor property nor precedent nor plan is permitted to stand in the way of achievement.

"If we could assume such an attitude toward peace we would find it. When will we be willing to say, 'The world must have peace, justice, security, and I pledge all that I am and have including my prejudices, my pocketbook, and my national pride for these things'?

"I understand the frustration which assails one who accepts these tenets yet does not know how to make them effective. I can only say preach and fight and vote and pray.

"Recently I heard Marian Anderson singing a Negro spiritual, 'Let Us Break Bread Together on Our Knees.' It is an invitation to be heeded. Let us humble ourselves before a loving but just God and catch the vision of his one world with one people.

"Ours is a vain, foolish, and selfish world. We send our sons to destruction and incite ourselves to hate. Yet with all our foolishness it is a world staggering toward a better day, in darkness but groping toward the light."

Plans for The Methodist Woman

With these statements as background, you will well understand the searching that has gone on within our own hearts to make future issues of the paper reflect our postwar thinking and planning. We are now meeting with the executive secretaries of the Home and Foreign Departments in individual conferences to find out emphases which should be made in The Methodist Woman in their particular area, mindful of the postwar emphasis. These conferences center around the following ideas:

1. Postwar Problems. Relationship of various bureaus and fields to problems of postwar and the articles which should be prepared to reflect these needs.
2. Projects of the Woman's Division of Christian Service which hitherto have not had space in The Methodist Woman so that within a reasonable length of time, the entire program of the Woman's Division of Christian Service will have been described.
3. Suggested articles to tie in with the monthly program materials.
4. Suggested articles to tie in with the mission-study emphases as in the recent October issue dealing with Christian Literature and the November issue dealing with the Church and America's Peoples.

World Outlook

World Outlook has grown steadily during the past year, not only in the subscriptions but also in the manner in which it has been used. Both the Woman's Society of Christian Service and the church as a whole have used the paper for missionary education in public meetings and in the church school. The first purpose of World Outlook has always been to publicize the work of the church in the mission field at home and abroad. The interesting fact is the news itself is so important that it cannot help but become a part of the study of missions. Letters have come to the office telling of articles being used for programs in the Woman's Society, for meditations in vespers which are giving special emphasis to missions while the illustrations are used not only for missionary programs but also for all studies which have to do with the world affairs of the Christian church. These uses of the magazine might be used to show how the paper is meeting the needs of the church, but it has a far more profound meaning than that; it means that the people of the church are developing a world vision to demand that the paper be put to such uses.

Not only is the paper being used for the mission program of the church. It is also being used to hold the mission fields themselves at home and abroad closer together. Since the spring of the year World Outlook has been going in an air-mail edition to Free China. Although the paper was cut off for a time in Africa and North Africa it is now getting through. South America receives it and contributes to it regularly. Indian missionaries write that they are sending pictures so that the church at home will know the changes in the Indian church. The paper is bringing to these stations not only the news of the rest of the church, but even more important, it is bringing the atmosphere of thinking in which the church at home lives today. And through stories from these stations it helps create that atmosphere. Such a unifying force cannot be overemphasized. Such a force cannot be released in any more effective way than through the missionary magazine.

Literature

Each succeeding year of this quadrennium, 1943 being no exception, the demand for literature has exceeded that of the preceding year. During the past twelve months there were ever-increasing orders by mail, and tables of literature at all conferences and institutes invariably were surrounded by interested purchasers who gladly paid whatever the price.

Requests from departments and committees for the production of literature were reviewed by the Committee on Literature and Publications before decisions were made for their granting. All literature for 1943 was carefully planned as to content and writers far enough in advance of publication dates to make possible adequate preparation of materials. Over one hundred different pieces of literature were produced in 1943. Twenty leaflets on projects of the home and foreign fields constituted the first free field literature that has been printed during this quadrennium.

The program material for 1944, which was ready for sale by September 1, 1943, carried the theme, "The Lord's Song in a Strange Land." For the first time this literature, consisting of worship services and program suggestions, was printed in Spanish for use by members of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Mexican conferences. These programs for 1943 were sent forth with a prayer by the editors that Methodist women might feel "that out of the singing of the song, the deeds and tempers of the nations will be transformed, and peace—Thy peace—will come again to our world."

The Week of Prayer literature included two booklets, a leaflet, a poster, and a gift envelope. Meriting special appreciation, because of its worth and because of the spirit in which responsibility for its writing was assumed, was the Week of Prayer and Self-Denial service for an all-day retreat, the work of three Episcopal women. This beautiful service, prepared by Miss Vida D. Scudder, Miss Florence Converse, and Mrs. John Hurd, for Methodist women indicates at least one way whereby the ecumenical spirit may find helpful expression—unity in the spirit of worship without organic union.

At the September meeting of the Committee of Literature and Publications a survey of all the literature of the Woman's Division of Christian Service that has been published this quadrennium was made and its strength and weaknesses were studied. It was gratifying to note that at least every large field of endeavor of the woman's work has now been presented in the literature of the Woman's Division and that many interests of the Woman's Division have been presented also in the literature of the Joint Division.

An attractive pamphlet giving a general survey of the work of the Woman's Division of Christian Service is being planned for General Conference.

A Handbook of the Woman's Society for individual use of members is now being compiled. It is hoped that this small booklet, which will be of convenient size for insertion in a woman's pocketbook, will be ready for distribution early in 1944. While the publication of the Handbook is being made in response to a request by the Northeastern Jurisdiction, the Committee on Literature and Publications anticipates a Division-wide demand for it, as it will contain condensed information on practically all lines of work of the Woman's Division.

A set of twelve programs, extremely simple in content, and brief, has been planned for use by societies desiring such materials. These programs will be so simple that in no instance will they be considered as substitutes for the present programs now available. They will be planned for use by small societies that now find the regular programs impracticable.

The Committee on Literature and Publications recommends for the theme of the programs for 1945 the following Scripture selection from Revelation 3:8: "I have set before thee an open door."

Report of the Publication Manager

THE year 1943 has brought many problems to the publishing and distribution of periodicals and literature.

Production

We mentioned last year that the government had asked us to conserve. This year we have War Production Board regulations. Our publications come under three headings:

1. Magazines and periodicals. Based on 1942. L 244.
2. Books. Anything of thirty-two pages is a book. Based on 1942. L 245.
3. Commercial printing. Booklets, leaflets, pamphlets, blanks, under thirty-two pages. Based on 1941. L 241.

The Woman's Division is the publisher of The Methodist Woman and must reduce on the pounds of paper used in 1942. To conform with the War Production Board requirements of paper poundage and to care for the increasing number of subscriptions, we have reduced the basic poundage 25% rather than the required 10%.

Our printers are considered the publishers of our second and third class. They could favor us on the total of pounds. However, having been asked to conform with the plans which the Methodist Publishing House pursue, we are glad to comply. We have reduced pages in some pamphlets, paper weight in others. Now the government has partly solved the problem of weight and quality by lowering the basic weight and color of papers at the mills, some to 40-, 50-, 60-pound. By ordering paper well in advance we have not been delayed in getting what we needed. We have had very little difficulty considering all the limitations. We find the paper coming from the mills quite inferior sometimes. In the same roll the paper may differ in weight and color. We should have from three to six months in which to order our paper. If we do not, we may have to use several different kinds for one printing. The increasing demand has necessitated printing larger quantities of everything.

Although there has been an increase in second-class postage, it does not yet apply to religious publications.

Promotion

PERIODICALS

Subscriptions to The Methodist Woman and World Outlook have been promoted in the usual way by close contact with the secretaries in the local societies. Promotion sent out for The Methodist Woman always includes World Outlook. This is done through circular letters to local and conference secretaries, and display at various meetings and institutes.

We have used 200,000 stencils for addresses in a year's time which should mean that we had a subscription list of that number, but that is far from true. A government statement says that in 1942 51% of the population of the United States changed residence. We are quite sure it is continuing to do so. Of course, we are using every possible plan to salvage these moving subscribers.

The subscription list of The Methodist Woman varies each month. In 1942 the lowest was 142,000; the highest 163,000. In 1943 the lowest was 153,000; the highest 172,000.

LITERATURE

Our literature is promoted through the very fine official group, the Secretaries of Literature and Publications, jurisdiction, conference, district, and local. The use has far exceeded that of 1942.

Distribution

The increased time for both mail and express because of the many government limitations on hauling and trucking is a constant problem.

In addition to the staff on our payroll at the various distributing offices, we have a volunteer, for-love-of-the-work staff in districts, conferences, and summer schools. Sales at institutes were very much increased. The largest was at Lakeside, Ohio, $742.16; from summer institutes of jurisdictions: Northeastern, Ocean Grove, New Jersey, $285.45; Central, Gulfside, Mississippi, $270.50; Southeastern, Lake Junaluska, North Carolina, $214.19; South Central, Mt. Sequoyah, Arkansas, $211.00; North Central, Walworth, Wisconsin, $126.33.

Our literature has been out earlier and ready for use. Quantities are interesting. Program material: Adult program 1943, 60,000; worship services 1943, 115,000; Wesleyan Service Guild Handbook, 24,000; Youth Program 1942-43, 6,000; Children's Bulletin, 105,000; officers' leaflets, 275,000; department pamphlets and handbooks, 40,000; organization leaflets, 230,000. Standing Committees leaflets, 308,000. Week of Prayer literature: Posters, 27,000; envelopes, 350,000; programs, 145,000; leaflets, 40,000. Blanks, 100,650. Goals poster, 30,000. Field leaflets (nineteen titles), 570,000. Student Work cards, 200,000. Study books, 39,455.

AN APPRECIATION

"At our district meeting the more than five hundred women . . . were so enthusiastic about the literature this year . . . very frequently speaking of the increasing helpfulness of the literature of our Woman's Division of Christian Service. . . ."

Dear Madam: We have examined the balance sheet of the

as of December 31, 1942, and the related statements of surplus and income and expenditures of the General Fund for the year then ended. In connection therewith we reviewed the system of internal control and the Accounting procedures of the Woman's Division; examined or tested accounting records and other supporting evidence by methods and to the extent we deemed appropriate, and obtained explanations from officers and employees of the organization, but we did not make a detailed audit of transactions.

The accompanying balance sheet includes such endowments and restricted funds and assets and liabilities as had been transferred to the Woman's Division by December 31, 1942, by various uniting organizations under the program of unification initiated as of January 1, 1941. We have been informed that because of the complex nature of the endowment and other funds of the combining organizations it may not be possible for some time to consummate the transfer of the remainder of such assets and related fund liabilities. Until the transfer of such amounts has been effectuated, it is not possible for the balance sheet of the Woman's Division fully to present the financial position of the Division.

The balances of cash in banks as of December 31, 1942, and January 31, 1943, were confirmed to us by the depositaries and reconciled with the related balances shown by the records of the Division.

Investments of the several funds in bonds, stocks, and notes receivable shown by the records as of December 31, 1942, were accounted for either by inspection or by correspondence received from the custodian. These investments are shown in the appended balance sheet at amounts which represent either cost or approximate market amount at date of receipt by the Division.

We made tests of the recorded income by reference to duplicate copies of prenumbered receipts, reports of conference treasurers, correspondence, and other documentary evidence, but we did not confirm recorded contributions. We did not ascertain that provisions, if any, affecting legacies and gifts recorded as income of the General Fund were observed. Except as to disbursements made by representatives of home institutions and foreign missions, commented upon in the following paragraph, we inspected vouchers approved by duly constituted persons, invoices, and other substantiating evidence in support of disbursements made against 1942 appropriations.

A material portion of the expenditures for the account of the Department of Work in the United States and its dependencies and the Department of Foreign Work represents payments made from the Treasurer's office in New York for designated purposes which are sent to representatives of institutions in the United States and its dependencies and to field treasurers in foreign missions for disbursement for such designated purposes. The evidence supporting such disbursements necessarily, to a large extent, is at such home institutions and foreign missions and we did not substantiate such disbursements. Reports are periodically submitted by the representatives of the home institutions and by mission treasurers showing the details of their expenditures, and we were informed that such reports are reviewed by your staff.

In our opinion, based upon our examination and upon explanations furnished us regarding the financial aspects of unification, the accompanying balance sheet, together with the notations thereon (insofar as is possible in the light of the circumstances recited in Note 1), presents fairly the position of the Woman's Division of Christian Service of the Board of Missions and Church Extension of The Methodist Church at December 31, 1942, and the accompanying statements of surplus and income and expenditures present fairly the recorded results of operations of the General Fund for the year then ended.

LYBRAND, ROSS BROS. & MONTGOMERY
 Certified Public Accountants
 90 Broad Street, New York 4

July 7, 1943

Mrs. Ina Davis Fulton, Treasurer

Woman's Division of Christian Service of the Board of Missions and Church Extension of The Methodist Church, 150 Fifth Avenue, New York 11, N. Y.

Dear Madam: We have examined the balance sheet of the

 of the

as of May 31, 1943, and the related statements of deficit and income and expenditures of the General Fund for the five months then ended. In connection therewith we reviewed the system of internal control and the accounting procedures of the Woman's Division; examined or tested accounting records and other supporting evidence by methods and to the extent we deemed appropriate, and obtained explanations from officers and employees of the organization, but we did not make a detailed audit of transactions.

The accompanying balance sheet includes such endowments and restricted funds and assets and liabilities as had been transferred to the Woman's Division by May 31, 1943, by various uniting organizations under the program of unification initiated as of January 1, 1941. We have been informed that because of the complex nature of the endowment and other funds of the combining organizations it may not be possible for some time to consummate the transfer of the remainder of such assets and related fund liabilities. Until the transfer of such amounts has been effectuated, it is not possible for the balance sheet of the Woman's Division fully to present the financial position of the Division.

The balances of cash in banks as of May 31, 1943, were confirmed to us by the depositaries and reconciled with the related balances shown by the records of the Division.

Investments of the several funds in bonds, stocks, and notes receivable shown by the records as of May 31, 1943, were accounted for either by inspection or by correspondence received from the custodians. These investments are shown in the appended balance sheet at amounts which represent either cost or approximate market amount at date of receipt by the Division.

We made tests of the recorded income by reference to duplicate copies of prenumbered receipts, reports of conference treasurers, correspondence, and other documentary evidence, but we did not confirm recorded contributions. We did not ascertain that provisions, if any, affecting legacies and gifts recorded as income of the General Fund were observed. Except as to disbursements made by representatives of home institutions and foreign missions, commented upon in the following paragraph, we inspected vouchers approved by duly constituted persons, invoices, and other substantiating evidence in support of disbursements made against current appropriations.

A material portion of the expenditures for the account of the Department of Work in the United States and its dependencies and the Department of Foreign Work represents payments made from the Treasurer's office in New York for designated purposes which are sent to representatives of institutions in the United States and its dependencies and to field treasurers in foreign missions for disbursement for such designated purposes. The evidence supporting such disbursements necessarily, to a large extent, is at such home institutions and foreign missions and we did not substantiate such disbursements. Reports are periodically submitted by the representatives of the home institutions and by mission treasurers showing the details of their expenditures and we were informed that such reports are reviewed by your staff.

In our opinion, based upon our examination and upon explanations furnished us regarding the financial aspects of unification, the accompanying balance sheet, together with the notations thereon (insofar as is possible in the light of the circumstances recited in Note 1), presents fairly the position of the Woman's Division of Christian Service of the Board of Missions and Church Extension of The Methodist Church at May 31, 1943, and the accompanying statements of deficit and income and expenditures present fairly the recorded results of operations of the General Fund for the five months then ended.

Very truly yours,
 (Signed) LYBRAND, ROSS BROS. & MONTGOMERY.

Reports of Secretaries of the Joint Division

(Woman's Section)

Organization and Promotion

By MRS. V. F. DE VINNY, Secretary

FROM the standpoint of organizational growth, the reports from the conferences received for the year 1943 show 809 new societies and 64,742 new members. Neither annual nor quarterly reports are ever complete nor wholly accurate. Notwithstanding, statistics serve to acquaint us with the approximate organizational strength of the Woman's Society of Christian Service. Likewise, the increases reported, even though they may not be net increases in every conference, provide the assurance of a normal growth and a healthy infusion of new blood so necessary to a thriving organism. The total number of organizations reported by 103 conferences was 26,600, and the total membership, 1,162,947. That 50 per cent did have net increases in organizations and approximately 38 per cent in membership, in these times, is cause for deep gratitude.

Looking back over the year, we can take heart that the shifting of population across this country has not caused a serious decline in our membership. There is evidence throughout the organization of a growing interest in the total program of work. Many societies that have continued to function under the pattern of preunification days are gradually gearing into the new plans by including some mission study and by giving to missions. There seems to be a determined effort on the part of new groups that have organized since the charter meetings to set up their societies on the lines specified by the Constitution and By-laws.

Doubtless large numbers of women within our membership haven't yet become convinced of the need of the missionary enterprise or they would give more liberally. As more missionary information is channeled to local societies from the jurisdiction secretaries of foreign and home work through the conference secretaries of missionary education and service, we believe new interest will be stimulated. Concrete facts stimulate interest and interest stimulates the desire to help.

The wide disparity between the giving to the Woman's Division for missions and the amount raised by the societies for local church and community work should be studied to ascertain whether a considerable amount of this so-called local church giving does not include projects entirely outside the realm of what was intended originally to be classified as local church and community work.

Field Work

Our four full-time field workers have visited forty-eight conferences since the last Annual Meeting. Their itineraries have been fraught with much difficulty in travel and their schedules of appointments, in some cases, far too heavy despite our admonitions to the conferences to provide for adequate rest between engagements. Our workers are versatile persons and devoted to their work. The value of their services in building and strengthening the organization cannot be measured. Letters and messages of approbation from conferences which we receive are sufficient proof that their services are appreciated. We shall miss Miss Wheaton from our official family, and wish her God's blessing as she enters into her new relationship.

How to plan for field work during 1944, with travel restrictions what they are, is problematical. We have written all the conferences to ascertain whether they desire the services of a worker, and their replies will doubtless determine whether we shall need a full-time person to replace Miss Wheaton.

Missionary Itineraries

The present plan of assigning missionaries for itineraries within the six jurisdictions has met with some complications. While we know that the missionaries are making addresses in the majority of the conferences, reports to jurisdiction secretaries and to this office have been very incomplete. The conferences in three jurisdictions, namely, Northeastern, North Central, and Western, have co-operated wholeheartedly in accepting and using the missionaries assigned to them. This assignment plan in the other jurisdictions breaks down at the point of the failure of conferences to accept missionaries for planned itineraries. The lack of reporting by the conferences on the missionaries who have served does not give the jurisdiction or our office a complete account of what has been done. However, the records show that sixty-two conferences have been visited by 153 missionaries for periods varying from one engagement to three months.

Co-operation With the General Section of the Joint Division

Co-operation continues with the General Section in the production of World Outlook and pamphlet literature and leaflets, as well as other activities such as the Crusade for a New World Order, district institutes, and similar meetings. All planning is designed to undergird the total missionary work of the church. The trend toward closer co-operation between conference Boards of Missions and the conference Woman's Societies of Christian Service is indicative of a better understanding of the common task of missionary promotion.

Future Outlook

We feel moved to put upon your hearts the problems of future leadership in the Woman's Division. Formerly, in sections of the church young women's and girls' missionary societies flourished. These provided a nucleus for future leadership in the adult organization. Methodist girls no longer have the intensive preparation for or close fellowship with the adult societies which will assure the devotion necessary to hold large numbers of them for future Woman's Society work. Fostering Girls' Interest Groups is one means of strengthening the tie between the Woman's Society and Methodist girls, but individual cultivation is also invaluable. The future of the Woman's Division is dependent upon the young women and girls we train today for places of leadership tomorrow.

Looking toward the next quadrennium, it is to be expected that changes will occur in plans and in personnel. However, because of the newness of the organizational plan, particularly in certain areas, it would seem that the wisest strategy would be to make as little change as possible in the functioning processes of the organization for one quadrennium is not sufficient to test the value of our plan of organization. Obviously, some methods can be improved upon, others may well be discontinued. Looking toward improvement in the next quadrennium, it might be helpful to ask the conferences for their reactions and suggestions on what would make the organization more effective.

Pioneering is always an adventurous experience. In any field, it is characterized by risks, mistakes, and failures. But no matter in what realm it is undertaken, it is worth the venture, as we can testify who have been privileged to serve the organization through its pioneering period. As we face the years ahead we realize that above all else the spiritual vitality of the Woman's Division of Christian Service is its most certain source of strength and power. We cannot forecast the future, but we can accept the challenge which Christ himself gave his followers, "Nothing is impossible unto you" (Matthew 17:20), and in his strength undertake the impossible and make it the possible.

Missionary Education

By MRS. HELEN B. BOURNE, Secretary

DURING the past year marked progress has been made in Missionary Education. That progress, though more evident this year than formerly, is without doubt the result of cumulative processes for which every previous development is partly responsible. The constant cultivation from the office through correspondence and guidance in the use of literature of every kind, and the participation in many types of meetings and in the various schools and institutes, and the very efficient service of an educational worker, have been some of the means used to achieve the objectives of missionary education. Much of the detailed office work has been carried on by our efficient secretary, whose services are indispensable.

Cultivation Processes

Since the Woman's Division has produced a large variety of literature, many leaflets of which are free, it has been possible for our office to meet more adequately the responsibility of supplying information to societies and of cultivating more definitely for the support of the total work of the Division. Specific information on special missionary projects has been provided for those supporting them and for those who wish to support them. It is generally true that the more intelligent one becomes about all the work, the more liberally it is supported. The gifts for special missionary projects may become a means of more general interest and of increased giving, even though representing a specialized interest.

The conference secretaries have done excellent cultivation by the use of letters which give to societies the information received from our office and by the use of newsletters or bulletins sent out by the jurisdiction secretaries of missionary education and service co-operating with the secretaries of home and foreign work of the jurisdictions. Jurisdiction and conference secretaries have shown great ingenuity in the methods used to impart information. Many have been keenly conscious of the value of missionary information as one of their major responsibilities as secretaries of missionary education and service. Copies of materials which they have sent societies oftentimes have been sent our office to be checked for accuracy, and in order to help us keep in close touch with conference plans and efforts.

Recognition of the fact that regular quarterly reports provide a most helpful method of cultivation has caused all conferences in five jurisdictions, with three exceptions, to co-operate completely every quarter. An increasing number of conferences in the Central Jurisdiction are co-operating. We are fairly sure that the Central Jurisdiction will soon be in line with others. Summaries of these reports appear at the close of this report. Of more value than some of these figures—though they are highly important as indices—are some facts written in letters and reports.

There is a gradual improvement in content and presentation of monthly programs, and consequently greater interest is shown in monthly meetings. There is more frequent and better use made of our periodicals and of other literature for enriching the regular programs and for planning additional or extended meetings; there is more discriminating choice made of visual aids and there is wiser adaptation for their use. There is wider and more helpful co-operation in church schools, especially in fourth-Sunday programs, in assisting the children's and youth divisions with materials, in the teaching of youth courses (and in making preparation for teaching them) when asked, and in helping to send girls to summer camps. There is increasing fellowship between rural and town and city churches by means of visitation, lending of books for study classes and reading circles, sharing in various ways in the presentation of dramas, plays, and fiestas, after these have been used effectively in local church or community; there is constant thoughtfulness in sending Testaments, The Upper Room, World Outlook, and other religious as well as secular literature to men and women in the service, and in placing our magazines in public libraries.

Meetings

The meetings attended include eleven annual conference Woman's Society meetings, three in the South Central Jurisdiction, two in the Southeastern, and one in the Northeastern, and five in the North Central. At these meetings, educational conferences or seminars were directed, and addresses on the total enterprise of the Woman's Division were made. Talks and discussions with Wesleyan Service Guilds and with executive committees were included in some of the conferences, which afforded opportunities for learning a great deal about conference work and for evaluating Woman's Division policies as they are related to conference Woman's Societies and other auxiliary units. The rich fellowship with large numbers of loyal women was a real blessing.

A meeting with jurisdiction secretaries of missionary education and service and with our educational worker, in June in Chicago, was of value to all who were present. The work of missionary education and service was reviewed and evaluated, and plans were made by which it is being greatly strengthened and adjusted more effectively to wartime emergencies. The chief value of this meeting was that the group thinking and talking and praying together resulted in an understanding of the purpose of the Woman's Society as it may function in a unified plan of missionary education. The group discussed and agreed upon ways in which a plan of education and action may be projected through the jurisdiction schools into the conferences, districts, and societies in local churches. The signal success of the jurisdiction schools was attributable largely to the purposes formed and the plans made by these jurisdiction secretaries of missionary education and service at this meeting, together with the work already begun with jurisdiction committees and followed up immediately after this meeting. A new appreciation of the significance of the jurisdiction Woman's Society as a unifying element in woman's work was evident, and this appreciation continues to be felt in the jurisdiction schools. Such a group meeting should be held again before jurisdiction school programs are perfected for 1944.

Schools, Institutes, and Educational Seminars

The interest in all educational work of Woman's Societies is growing and a new appreciation of the approved study courses and of the best methods for their use is quite significant and heartening. It should be well understood that every phase of desirable experience today is sought and realized by means of research, probing, group thinking and discussion, developing tolerant attitudes and arriving at decisions for action, all of which is simply and meaningful exercise called study. The efforts in this direction are of far-reaching importance to the work of the Woman's Society and the reports are extremely gratifying.

There were nearly fifty schools and institutes held last summer in which Methodist women actively participated. Five of the schools were Jurisdiction Schools of Missions and Christian Service in which our department co-operated with the Board of Education and with jurisdiction committees. One of these was a new school held in the North Central Jurisdiction. The highest quality of work was done with jurisdiction, conference, and district leaders, and with many society leaders from local churches. Co-operative courses were sponsored in sixteen pastors' and conference training schools. In five of the conference Woman's Society schools and institutes there was co-operation with the Board of Education.

At all the jurisdiction schools the three new approved study courses for 1943-44 were presented as well as a course for leaders of youth. The Workshop proved to be an extremely helpful course. Here different groups experimented with methods of work in the local church, district, conference, and jurisdiction, attempting to discover better ways of doing a better job. Also there were seminars on various lines of work of the society. An unusually fruitful seminar was one on education and action which demonstrated in content and method the unity of the study and action program of the Woman's Society. The results amply justified the venture: educational seminars, guided by a conference committee on study and action co-operating with district officers, were held in hundreds of districts, subdistricts, or zones throughout the church last fall. Unified plans were explained and ways in which they can be carried out by means of approved study courses and informal studies were demonstrated. Most of these seminars were directed by conference and district officers who had attended their jurisdiction school and there had received guidance for this work. The reports of educational seminars were enthusiastic in commendation of the attendance and the work done. The fruitful results of the schools and educational seminars continue to be seen and felt in local churches.

There are frequent informal studies along all interests of our woman's work, such as delinquency, peace, the family devotional themes, and studies of World Outlook and of the Annual Reports of the Division and of conference societies. There is increasing participation in interdenominational classes, institutes, and schools, in addition to co-operation in our own district missionary institutes of the General Section. Following many of the studies, offerings have been received for some phase of work of the Woman's Division which is related to the study. This is as clear an indication of practical spiritual values as the more frequent and expected service that grows out of study.

Of great value to missionary education is the work of Miss Oscie Sanders, who has taught classes in training schools and district institutes, directed educational seminars, taken part in programs in many districts and conferences and societies in local churches, and has been a leader of approved co-operative courses in eight schools during the past summer. She was in fifteen conferences last year rendering some one or more of such services. Such work is continuously effective in cumulative results. In addition, on the invitation of the Missionary Education Movement, she prepared the Discussion Suggestions for the approved study course, "Christian Ventures in Learning and Living." She has been invaluable in bringing to the office from the field constructive suggestions and helpful criticisms which serve as guidance for proper evaluation of Woman's Division policies and for adaptation of materials or modification or change of plans and methods. This service and her previous experience and training greatly strengthen the department of missionary education.

Co-operative Relationships

Membership on the Interboard Committee on Missionary Education acquaints us with the unified or co-operative plans of missionary education for Methodists on all age levels, and enables us to serve more effectively in many areas of adult education. The relation of the department to the Missionary Education Movement and to other interdenominational groups engaged in similar work gives opportunity for participation in discussions of timely missionary emphases and for knowing the current themes as soon as they are agreed upon. Such co-operative relationships keep us in close touch with missionary education movements, authors, and with books and other material covering a wide range of interest.

This department has a direct channel to the local church in interpreting and stimulating the total work of the Board of Missions and Church Extension. We rejoice in such a rich opportunity for fellowship and service.

Statistics for the six jurisdictions follow on page 240.

Wesleyan Service Guild

By MARION LELA NORRIS, Secretary

THE opportunity for Guild service was increased markedly in 1943 by changed conditions all over the country. Many employed women left their homes to take war jobs or to replace men and women called into service. Frequently when the first thrill of the new job gave place to regular, monotonous, or exacting routine, a feeling of loneliness came over them. This was particularly true of the girls and young women who came from small towns and friendly communities.

Could the Guild do anything about the crowded conditions in their cities? Could employed women already too busy add further to their work load? Questions such as these awakened new interest, widened horizons, and stiffened backs to enlarge their services during this emergency.

The outstanding work for women in the Detroit defense area under the leadership of Miss Lena York and the conference and district Guild secretaries, Mrs. Marjory Poole and Miss Inez Rowell, has been briefly reported in The Methodist Woman and World Outlook. (Further details are available in mimeographed form in the Guild office.) Plans thus developed have given unlimited suggestions to Guilds anxious to study and serve in their own areas. Early in 1944, Miss Eleanor Neff will complete her first assignment as the Guild worker in defense areas. The results of her experience in a very different situation, Richmond, Virginia, will also be available in the Guild office.

While each Guild must study its own peculiar conditions to discover what needs to be done, there are many basic problems that have been faced by these two specialists whose solutions furnish a wonderful starting point for all units.

As never before, the Guild faces an opportunity for interesting employed women in the total church program through the Guild. With members of families and close friends far away enduring hardships and unknown dangers, there is deeper spiritual yearning among those here at home. Worship services should recognize this and give spiritual food, comfort, and strength for each day.

Letters from servicemen and women in foreign countries and on the islands of the seas, telling of meeting missionaries and native Christians, of receiving food, encouragement, and sometimes life itself from mission stations, have stimulated Guilds to learn more about the work of the church abroad and to ask for missionary speakers.

The increasing opportunities for reaching employed women mean more work all up and down the line—local units, district, conference, and jurisdiction secretaries, division secretary. There is increased correspondence, increased need for field work.

The Standing Committee therefore asked the Woman's Division for an additional worker to serve both in the office and in the field, and was gratified that the Woman's Division acceded to this request and elected Miss Margaret Dodd. Miss Dodd is a graduate of Randolph-Macon Woman's College, the daughter of a minister in the New York East Conference, and is unusually well qualified for this office.

The Standing Committee was delighted with the response in attendance at the jurisdiction and conference summer schools. In each of the former and in some of the latter a week-end Guild conference was held in connection with the school, permitting those employed women who were unable to be away from their work for any length of time to gain some information about the work of the Woman's Society and the Guild and to feel the spirit of fellowship among Methodist women.

The Guild has assumed responsibility for a definite part of the Woman's Division budget for 1944:

Guild projects (which are part of the work of the Woman's Division)	$57,000
A share in other Woman's Division projects	78,000
Total (for details see 1944 Guild Handbook, page 54)	$135,000

Student Work

By MRS. LENORE E. PORTER, Secretary

FOR no other age group in the church as for the one in the student field has the war made such complete and drastic changes and at the same time offered such rare opportunities to develop interest in missions and religion.

The concern of the student department this quadrennium has been to draw together the remnants of the former Sister-College promotion, the home mission study, missionary education through volunteer student and personnel secretaries, and to unite the very general mission program of the Board of Education into one dynamic program on the world mission that would be student centered, specific, and emanate from the students themselves.

At student conferences, your secretary was privileged to promote missions through the display of pictures on the work on colleges abroad and home missions centers, world-literacy charts, social action pamphlets, and the help of missionaries. As the war continued, students and servicemen began to inquire as to where and how the church is at work in war-torn and neighboring countries, and what it is doing in America for problems which are basic to our world situation. Of additional help are the conference, district, campus, and other local women secretaries who are being trained to undergird this interest and the whole student program. Today we find the Methodist Student Movement has nationally, by state, and in local groups, adopted "Fellow-College relationships" and "Fellow-American projects" as the center of its new, strong program emphases on missions.

There were times when developments seemed slow; then, when the military groups took over many campuses, even the religious program under the church was in peril. With student directors serving as chaplains, and because of speeded-up programs, there is need for increased co-operation and assistance from the Woman's Society of Christian Service and materials of visual types from the Board of Missions. Four jurisdictions called together the conference secretaries in special session to study their work and the emergency situation.

The Camp Program. The Introduction Cards for servicemen inaugurated by the Woman's Division has reached a distribution of over 300,000. Giving out these and the Channeling Cards are also constant incentives to the local church to keep in touch with its youth and to find new ways of meeting their needs. Reports on this work are excellent.

Fellow-College and Fellow-American Relations Begin. The "Christian Colleges Around the World" map prepared by your secretary is fast becoming popular in student circles and locates the colleges. "The New World and Campuses Abroad" pamphlet describes the colleges for the selection of fellow relationships. In the meantime, mimeographed materials and also those prepared by the Associated Boards of China Colleges were sent out. A picture flier sheet, "Adopt a Fellow College," is anticipated. "The Job for US Today" pamphlet in preparation will help in selecting a Fellow-American project. Both mimeographed and social action material from various sources is being circulated to the campuses or suggested for their use in Race Relations Week. "Students and Reconstruction," a guide on all materials for students, is now available.

Correlation Program and Methodist Student Fellowship Fund Launched. "Christian World-mindedness," telling of the fund and of the correlated program possible between Woman's Society secretaries, campus committees, and pastor directors, whereby student giving may be directed through the church, has been released. Thus the "united approach to the campus" between the Board of Education and the Board of Missions, undergirded by the Woman's Society secretaries and campus pastors is being realized. The many requests coming in from newly appointed student chairmen on missions to your student department as to how to begin their campus programs indicate the plan is under way.

Surely as we face reconstruction, the missionary challenge of these young people uprooted by the war is the greatest opportunity of the church, particularly in the Board of Missions.

Youth Work

By HELEN L. JOHNSON, Secretary

THE Interboard Committee on Missionary Education authorized a unified plan for the missionary education of Methodist youth in the spring of 1941. Thus a major task during the three years has been the emphasis on organization. We have stressed organization not as complete in itself, but rather as the way provided for all co-operating agencies to work together. The Joint Committee on the Missionary Education of Youth provides this opportunity for working together, as it is composed of equal representation from the local church Board of Education, the church Board of Missions and Church Extension, and the local Woman's Society of Christian Service. It is here that we have some difficulty, for many pastors have failed to convene the Joint Committee. The place of the Woman's Society within the plan is implicit, and we would urge that the executive committee of the Woman's Society in each local church encourage the pastor in setting up the Joint Committee.

We are delighted with the contribution which many of our leaders are making as they have the opportunity to serve as adult advisers to the Commission on World Friendship. We cannot overemphasize the need for most careful thought in the election of secretaries who are working in the youth field, for they must be qualified to work co-operatively with Board of Education directors. It is not too much to expect the one who serves in such a challenging capacity to be understanding of the needs and interests of youth, possessing a personality which appeals to youth, familiar with present policies in missionary work, well versed about world trends, and up-to-date especially about the world-wide work of the church.

The majority of annual conference youth organizations are now making regular contributions to the Methodist Youth Fund. The figures each quarter indicate a slight but consistent increase. We must continue the promotion of the Youth Fund that former giving may be reached and new projects assumed.

The special emphasis for the secretaries of young women's and girls' work in the Jurisdiction Schools of Missions and Christian Service has already proved to be a most satisfying investment. The returns are registered in a tangible way through reports which show that some of the plans and decisions made at the schools have been carried out successfully. We recognize also abundant returns in the secretaries themselves who have a sense of direction, purpose, and dedication because of the days spent together in the fellowship of study and service.

We note with pleasure the progress which has been made in the inclusion of missionary units in the basic curriculum and in integrating the missionary emphasis into the program of the Youth Fellowship. The wide circulation of leaflets and the growing use of missionary units give evidence of increasing interest among youth and leaders of youth in the missionary enterprise. We are gratified with the response to the programs for the interest groups of girls. The programs for this year, YOUTH IN A WORLD OF OPPORTUNITY, are being widely used.

The third annual meeting of the National Conference of the Methodist Youth Fellowship, meeting at Jacksonville, Illinois, August 31 to September 4, developed some outstanding recommendations in the area of World Friendship. We quote only one: "Whereas, intelligent understanding of all the peoples of the world is an important factor in building a Christian world order, we recommend that . . . the conference groups revitalize the mission study and interest groups by giving them a significant place in the total youth program." Throughout the conference we were impressed with the earnest and intelligent interest on the part of the young people in the missionary enterprise and the Christian outreach of the church.

We come to the close of this year feeling that we can sincerely report progress. The gains which have been made are due in large part to the fine and loyal service of the secretaries of young women's and girls' work to whom we express in this way our sincere gratitude.

The youth of today are the church of tomorrow. Ours is both the responsibility and opportunity of so working together that we are laying foundations and creating attitudes which will make a world like today's impossible tomorrow.

Children's Work

By RUBY VAN HOOSER, Secretary

The Primary Task, 1940-43

THE major purpose of those whose work is concerned with the missionary education of children is to prepare the hearts and minds of growing boys and girls to think and act as Christian members of a world-wide society. Our primary concern, therefore, has been to reach as many children of The Methodist Church as possible with a well-planned program of missionary education. In doing this, secretaries of children's work have worked with other leaders in the church school, and reports during one quarter of this current year from ninety-two conferences show that 168,000 boys and girls had taken part in the study of Latin-American units during that particular time. This study of Latin America is characteristic of studies that have been carried on during each year of the quadrennium.

Sharing in the Total Program of the Church for Children

As missionary education is only a part of the larger program of religious education, secretaries of children's work, together with other members of the Council of Children's Workers, have been interested in the entire religious program of the church for its boys and girls. Not all of the secretaries of children's work have thus taken part in planning and carrying out these larger plans of the church for children, but they are doing so in increasing number.

The Plan for the Missionary Education of Children, 1941-43

The plan for the missionary education of children in the church went into effect in October, 1941, and has back of it at present only slightly more than two years' experience. As the plan was reviewed by the Subcommittee on the Missionary Education of Children, it was felt that, with one exception, only minor changes should be suggested for the coming quadrennium, as its provisions on the whole were satisfactory. The point at which the greatest need for change was registered was in regard to the matter of the offerings of children in additional sessions. Suggestions by the subcommittee designed to help this situation are being referred to the Interboard Committee for consideration in the next quadrennium.

Problems Confronting Children Today

Due to the impact of the situation brought about by the war, the problems confronting the world of children have become increasingly grave during the last two years. Characteristic of the strains and dislocations of today is the marked increase in juvenile delinquency. The great majority of children are adjusting successfully to wartime stresses and strains, but the situation with all children is calling for the most constructive thinking and action on the part of those concerned with the nation's child life.

Work With Community Agencies

The church has been profoundly challenged to make its most thoughtful and effective contribution in meeting the problems of boys and girls in all communities. The Council of Children's Workers, including children's secretaries, in many churches are joining with other children's agencies to determine needs, and carry out definite programs for meeting those that are thus discovered. These attempts on the part of children's workers in the church have included: (1) A new stress upon the importance of family life; (2) an attempt to make the church as well as the school a center for the after-school activities of boys and girls; (3) the enlistment and training of Christian leaders of children to carry out the enlarged program of the church for children.

Contribution of the Woman's Society of Christian Service

In the whole program of study and cultivation of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, information is being gained as to the basic problems of children today, the causes of such problems, and the actions that should be taken

Reports of Standing Committees

Education and Cultivation

By MRS. ALBERT T. MORGAN, Chairman
(See page 64 for recommendations and action)

IDENTIFIED closely, as this Standing Committee on Education and Cultivation is, with the Christian world interests of the Woman's Division of Christian Service, we present its report in behalf of the great cause at our hearts; with rejoicing, also, in the privilege and opportunity of being "a part of something larger than ourselves."

We never cease paying tribute to The Methodist Woman and World Outlook in their vision, their pointing the way constantly to that "something larger," their undergirding value in the presentation of our division's "cause," work, and its advancement, and their unexcelled supplementing of programs and studies.

The Committee on Education and Cultivation met at the fourth annual meeting of the Woman's Division of Christian Service, held in Buck Hill Falls, Pennsylvania, in December, 1943. In the absence of Mrs. Morgan, Chairman, Mrs. E. R. Bartlett presided.

In conference with officers, executive secretaries, editors, and the publication manager, "more effective means and methods for promoting the total program of education and cultivation" were considered and the recommendations made were presented to the Woman's Division of Christian Service by the Secretary of the Committee, Mrs. Wiltz Ledbetter. These were adopted by the Division and involved the following eight points: (1) Channeling further recommendations in the interpreting of Section 5, Article 2, of By-laws for Jurisdiction Societies; (2) (a) New Advisory Committee; and (b) Responsibility with relationship to conference educational field worker; (3) Policies relative to preparation of supplementary materials to be used with approved study courses; (4) Study Themes, 1944-45; (5) (a) A new committee studying the future policy of Bible study for the Woman's Division; and (b) Bible study recommendation from the Department of Christian Social Relations and Local Church Activities referred to that Committee; (6) Space sought, at intervals in Pastors' Journal; (7) Appreciation, for recorded co-operation, to district superintendents and pastors; and (8) Methodist Theological Seminaries and the work of the Woman's Society of Christian Service.

Library Service

By MRS. C. N. TIMMONS, Chairman

DURING the year of 1943 Library Service has had a most enjoyable year. War conditions all over the world have necessarily limited the number of books that could be sent overseas. However, some books have been sent to India, to Elizabeth Peterson in Brazil, to Emma Eldridge in Mexico, and to Ione Clay in Cuba. One hundred copies of the "Holy Earth" were sent to missionaries through Mrs. Otis Moore.

The most thrilling experience was sending books selected by Miss MacKinnon to all the institutions in Angola, Rhodesia, Southeast Africa, and the Belgian Congo. This is the first time that African stations have received books through Library Service. The following quotations will thrill you as they have your committee:

"How can we thank you for the books which are so varied, so helpful, and so interesting? Altogether I have received fourteen, and last week the invoices came in and, lo, every book has come through. How splendid! So far I have not been able to read all of them and am passing them around but keeping close watch over them so that none 'get away.' I have loaned two to soldiers, several to missionaries, and some to government officials. It makes us feel near home to receive these books. In some ways the world seems small, as when you turn on the radio, but when waiting for letters or furloughs it seems pretty big and inaccessible.

"GRACE CLARK—African Girls' Hostel, Umtali, South Rhodesia, Africa."

"Just a hasty note to thank you, or whoever represents Library Service, for the good books we have been receiving. Old St. Nicholas could not have pleased us more. What I am trying to say is just plain thank you. And I am sure if you were to live a thousand years you could not have sent us anything we would have appreciated more.

"RUTH O'TOOLE—M. E. C. M., Lusambo, Congo Belge Afrique."

Subscriptions for various technical magazines amounting to about $175 are being continued. Where these publications cannot be sent they are being filed in the New York offices so that files will be complete after the war is over.

Business in the Home Department shows an improvement over last year. About 300 books were sent to 107 institutions as listed below:

Bureau of Educational Work.....	25
Bureau of Urban Work.....	34
Bureau of Town and Country Work.....	23
Bureau of Social Work.....	20
Bureau of Medical Work.....	5

Once again the Library Service Committee is indebted to the librarian of Scarritt College for the up-to-date list of books sent to each institution. Included in the list were also books selected by the executive secretaries of the Home Department. The book list covered the fields of Bible and religion, of devotional books, of religious education, of books for workers with children, of books on social work, and general miscellaneous subjects.

The books for which there were the largest numbers of requests are as follows:

The Robe, by Douglas.

Prayer Poems—An Anthology, by O. V. and Helen Armstrong.

The Soong Sisters, by Kahn.

A Testament of Devotions, by Kelly.

Your Child's Religion, by Moody.

There Are Sermons in Stories, by Stidger.

A Treasury of Great Poems, by Untermeyer.

Abundant Living, by Jones; Christian Symbolism, by Stafford.

Make Your Agency More Effective, by Swift.

Psychology of Adolescence, by Garrison.

Medical magazines are on an annual subscription list for our hospitals and a few others where they are especially requested.

Many letters of heartfelt appreciation have delighted your committee. One missionary writes that the list is invaluable, while another writes that in her location she is often very lonely and good books mean so much. Others write that books sent them are used in their chapel services, in special services with their young people, and in daily Vacation Bible Schools. Such books as Prayer, by Buttrick, are used by some staffs for devotional study. Another said that never could she tell how much inspiration and courage had come to her as well as fresh information and new interest.

Literature and Publications

By MRS. J. N. RODEHEAVER, Chairman

(See page 27 for recommendations and action)

THE story of the use of the printed Bible in Madagascar, as given by Dr. Eric M. North, is one of the most thrilling of all generations. When a pagan queen forbade Christian worship and drove missionaries from the country, parts of the Bible, translated into the native tongue, were carefully hidden and secretly passed from one believer to another. At the beginning of the twenty-five-year period of persecution there were about two hundred Christians. When it ended there were thousands of Christians. It has been consistently true that wherever printed portions of the Scriptures were available to persecuted followers, Christianity thrived in spite of the persecutions, but where there was no printed word it died.

The committee met twice the past year.

At the May meeting plans for printing the 1944 program in Spanish were announced. The finished product is here. The cover retains the title in English at the request of the Spanish-speaking women.

Action was taken that requests for emergency literature shall be referred to the Editorial Board in consultation with the chairman of the Committee on Literature and Publications.

At the May meeting a dinner meeting was held with literature secretaries of conferences adjacent to New York and publications representatives from other boards and denominations as guests. The dinner speaker was Mrs. Jean Lyon McConnell, assistant director of China News Service, who told of her trip across the United States with Madam Chiang Kai-shek. A display of literature of all groups represented was of great interest.

The October meeting was held in a room, three walls of which were completely covered with samples of all literature produced by the Woman's Division. It was an impressive sight, so well arranged that at a glance one could see all that had been produced for any subject. A special committee studied the display and reported omissions and gaps needing special attention.

The following items will be of special interest:

1. It was voted that the poster for 1944 carry the caption, "Singing and Serving," and that it be printed as the center spread of the December Methodist Woman.

2. The publication manager reported that the plan of having The Methodist Publishing Houses handle the literature of the Woman's Division is working splendidly, so it seemed wise to the committee to defer action opening branch offices for the sale of literature at this time.

3. The importance of the display and sale of literature at all district, conference, and jurisdiction meetings was stressed.

4. In considering special literature for General Conference, it was decided to issue the May number of The Methodist Woman as a special General Conference number, with an added cover of four pages done with an additional color.

5. The committee voted that an installation service which could be used any time be produced and that one be provided for districts, conferences, and jurisdictions.

6. A special committee studied various requests for more simple material and brought recommendations which were adopted.

7. The committee is deeply concerned over increasingly numerous requests for bulletins to be produced by conference and jurisdictional organizations and by individual secretaries. Such a course weakens the strength of our united effort.

Each jurisdiction president is asked to study all publications issued in her jurisdiction by any group and send findings and samples of such material to the office of the assistant editor of The Methodist Woman, 420 Plum Street, Cincinnati 2, Ohio.

8. The editor of The Methodist Woman suggested that two pages be given in each issue to late news from the field, thus caring for an unmet need.

During the year 1943 sixty-four requests for literature have been granted.

Missionary Personnel

By MRS. LEON ROY PEEL, Chairman

(See page 60 for recommendations and action)

WHEN the new Board of Missions and Church Extension was organized and work was really begun, there were four major objectives toward which the secretaries of missionary personnel turned their attention. They were:

1. To organize the department of missionary personnel so that it was a working unit in relation to the various divisions and departments and to other boards of our church that have to do with Methodist youth.
2. To work with the Joint Committee on Missionary Personnel in the setting of the standards for those who were to be deaconesses and missionaries of our Board.
3. To prepare new blanks suitable for getting the necessary information regarding the applicants.
4. To recruit and prepare candidates for the work of the Board. It was recognized that to be of real value, this recruiting and preparation should be done with a long look to the future as well as for immediate needs.

As we look back over this first quadrennium of the new church, we discover that thirty-eight deaconesses have been accepted; thirty-six have been commissioned; thirty-three home missionaries of the Woman's Division have been accepted; twenty-five have been commissioned; twenty-seven foreign missionaries of the Woman's Division have been accepted; nine have been commissioned.

In this picture we find that placement has been made of employed workers. Mrs. Hager has placed from November, 1940, to November, 1943—320 workers, a tremendous task. There is a great difficulty now in securing workers for our various institutions; all of us are familiar with the attractive offers in defense areas and the competition of Government salaries. As we look into the future, we feel that young people when the war is over will volunteer in larger numbers for religious work. There will be a great challenge for rebuilding and for reconstruction. However, there is an uncertainty or a hesitancy on the part of young people to "sign up for life." The Woman's Division should give thought along this line.

The office of our missionary personnel has been organized so that the files of candidates from the uniting churches, both for home and foreign fields, are accessible. A system has been developed for keeping records of candidates who are available and those who should be approached because of certain special abilities.

As we look back over the past, we recall the plan of regional committees; six have thus far been organized—Chicago, Dallas, Kansas City, Los Angeles, Nashville, and Portland—primarily because the candidates have come from these geographic locations.

The organization of the conference personnel committee of the Woman's Division has not been too successful because of the many organizational complications in the different areas of the church. The next quadrennium may chart a more perfect way for the Woman's Division to carry on this important piece of work.

Recent action to make the standards of deaconesses and those of home and foreign missionaries the same leads to greater unity. This is a great step in advance and will strengthen the entire church.

Mrs. Hager has taken over the editing of the mimeographed material which is to be free for the conference secretaries and for the candidates who want to know how to get study grants. Another matter of detail which has been cared for is the preparation of blanks for the use of those making application to our Board and also another blank has been prepared for employed workers, and they are now available.

Our secretaries have visited colleges and seminaries, attended youth conferences, both denominational and interdenominational, and have worked diligently to secure the right candidates for the Board. This department is an important channel through which young people can find service within the church and tomorrow's church will be no stronger than these candidates will help to make it.

Interdenominational work has also been an integral part of the plan of the secretaries. Methodism through them has been represented in the Student Volunteer Movement, on the Personnel Committee of the Foreign Missions Conference, as well as on the Home Missions Council.

It is true that in this early stage of unity there have been interruptions of educational opportunities because of international situations. However, there is a deeper sense in the mission of Christianity than has been evidenced in many years. Young people are seeking the best place for their lives. These are the days when the total Board of Missions should use every opportunity to study the future and make plans to carry out the objectives of the church in tomorrow's world. During this first quadrennium, Mrs. Hager, Dr. Williams, and Miss Ransom have worked together as a unit. "Unity" is the important watchword in the world just ahead of us.

This report would be unfinished without an expression of gratitude for the loyalty of the women of the entire Woman's Division, as well as of the women of the Missionary Personnel Committee. However, in our Division, we would have been unable to accomplish anything had it not been for the close co-operation on the part of Mrs. Hager and Miss Ransom. As they take up their new duties—Mrs. Hager in a parsonage home in Chicago, and Miss Ransom as an executive secretary in a sister church—we express to them our deepest appreciation for their untiring efforts, for their far vision, and for their personal consecration. To them we say: "God bless you. You are with us in spirit. This is one world—it is our Father's world."

Permanent Funds and Investments

By MRS. J. W. MASLAND, Chairman

DURING the seventeen months' period—January 1, 1942, to May 31, 1943—covered by the report of the treasurer in this fourth Annual Report, the Woman's Division of Christian Service received in its Permanent and Restricted Funds the following additions: Annuities, $21,700, making total Annuity Fund, $27,482.49; Endowment Funds, $2,000, making total Endowment Funds, $2,751.16; Trust Funds, $87.16, making total Trust Funds, $5,827.97; Pension Funds, $63,129.67, with this same figure as total Pension Funds. The Division holds also the Perpetual Membership Fund of $14,683.64. An amount of $816,186.20 as of May 31, 1943, had been set aside in other Restricted Funds and $58,461.64 for salaries payable to missionaries in enemy-occupied countries. The Division held totally in Permanent and Restricted Funds as of May 31, 1943, $943,605.48, of which $404,467.18 had been invested in bonds and stocks. This is an increase of $916,335.33 in the Permanent and Restricted Funds from January 1, 1942, to May 31, 1943, and shows the committee had invested $383,916.25 during that period.

Since the May 31, 1943, report, the Board of Missions, Methodist Episcopal Church, South, on the recommendation of the Administrative Committee of the Woman's Missionary Council, has transferred over $1,500,000 to the Woman's Division. With other additions to the various funds, received since June 1, 1943, the totals for December 31, 1943, are as follows:

Endowments	1,345,518.49
Perpetual Memberships.....	15,049.03
Pensions	100,700.80
Other Funds.....	1,025,345.88
Trust	7,649.33
Total.....	<hr/> $2,616,312.37

Of this amount, $866,030.93 has been invested in bonds and stocks. The committee is taking steps immediately to invest these large additional funds.

Spiritual Life

By MRS. W. M. ALEXANDER, Chairman

(See page 46 for recommendations and action)

AS WE review some of the accomplishments of the past year, and also of the quadrennium, we realize that we are making definite progress in the realm of Spiritual Cultivation throughout the Woman's Society.

In the local church the Spiritual Life Committee has had a definite part in helping many women in the deepening of their spiritual lives through the observance of the Quiet Time. Many groups of earnest women are meeting regularly for definite prayer and Bible study. They are going out to comfort those in sorrow and to share their Christian faith with those in need of such spiritual ministry. Under the direction of the pastor and co-operating with the local Church Commission on Evangelism these women in many communities have had and will continue to have a part in the church's home visitation program, calling on the unchurched and strangers in the community and seeking to interest them in the church's program of worship and instruction.

During the past year two definite trends have been noticed. First, the desire on the part of the committee to make its resources available to the various groups included in the Woman's Division. In May, a special letter was sent to the graduates of our home mission schools. Definite plans are under way for the organization of a Fellowship of Intercession among the retired deaconesses and retired home and foreign missionaries. The committee would like to suggest a similar service for our foreign missionaries on furlough, that together we may all be conscious of a closer bond of fellowship as we work and pray for the coming of the Kingdom. The other trend that is noticeable is the fact that increasingly the work and resources of the committee are being recognized by other organizations and agencies of the church and that we are being invited to actively cooperate in the spiritual movements of the church.

I mention our co-operation with the following: The General Commission on Evangelism, The Week of Dedication, The Crusade for a New World Order, The Stewardship Department of the Board of Lay Activities, The Inter-Board Committee on Stewardship, The United Stewardship Council. These all offer opportunities for definite service for which we are grateful.

The entire committee, including the division members and the jurisdiction chairmen met at Buck Hill Falls, Pennsylvania, December 4-5, and much attention was given to the study of our present objectives and how these might be improved to serve the larger group.

We feel that the new legislation which changes the status of the chairman of Spiritual Life to secretary, thus making her a regular officer in the local society, district, conference, and jurisdiction, will strengthen and magnify the work of this committee.

The outlook for the future is most encouraging as the entire church, through its various boards and commissions, is calling for a renewed dedication of life to the church and to its major task of helping to secure for our world a righteous and just peace. The Spiritual Life Committee in every local church has an unparalleled opportunity in helping to create a spirit of good will and sympathetic understanding in our homes, our churches, our communities, our nation, and across our world. In order to do this there must come a renewed dedication of our lives to the church and its program of world evangelism. Not until we recognize and accept our obligation as faithful stewards who have a definite responsibility in the use of our time, our talents, and our possessions will we be able to realize the objectives of our spiritual life program and accomplish the task for which multitudes of Christians around the world are praying and working. In closing this report, may we remind ourselves once again, "Not by might, nor by power, but by my spirit, saith the Lord of hosts."

Schools and Colleges for the Training of Christian Workers

By MRS. J. W. PERRY, Chairman

DR. FRED KELLY, in charge of the higher education division of the United States Office of Education, said recently: "Technologies must win the war, but humanities and social sciences must hold the peace." In the realization of this goal there must be people prepared to handle technologies in the interest of human welfare. The Christian interpretation of human relationships and the application of Christian principles to the solution of world problems are fundamental to building a new and better world order.

The church faces unprecedented opportunities and responsibilities at this time for developing a constituency concerned for the building of a Christian civilization around the world. The selection and training of leaders for the task will require radical changes in the plans and policies of educational programs. What kind of new missionaries should be recruited? What kind of training should they have? Where can the best preparation be found? These are questions that need careful consideration. Insofar as the problems can be discerned and the initiative and ability of the church is able they are being dealt with.

The Committee on Schools and Colleges has been making a study of a number of educational centers for the purpose of ascertaining information concerning the particular advantages to be found in these respective centers. It has found a keen awareness on the part of many that their programs must be changed in order to prepare the types of leaders for the future. New courses are being introduced, others are being strengthened and enlarged and continued study is being made in order to make necessary adjustments.

Since the function of the Personnel Committee and that of the Committee on Schools and Colleges are concerned with the selection and training of workers and there is an overlapping of duties, the Committee on Schools and Colleges is in accord with the plans for the future which provides for combining the two.

The studies that have been made and the information compiled will be placed at the disposal of the Personnel Committee in the hope that it may be helpful in giving guidance to those who are seeking the highest and best preparation for their lifework.

Status of Women

By MRS FRANKLIN F. LEWIS, Chairman

(See page 23 for recommendations and action)

LAST year the report of the Committee on the Status of Women was built around the thought of the changes which have come to women these days and which have made such tremendous demands upon them. This year the concern of our group is even greater because we realize Christian women must assume a larger responsibility in molding and training women to meet the new day. Exceptional women have been called, accepted, and proved their abilities for leadership in various and unusual fields. But we are thinking now in terms of the average woman of whom God made so many. Recognizing that women have been granted many rights, we are beginning to realize that the emphasis must now be placed on assuming the responsibilities that these privileges place upon us. For every gain that has been made a price has been paid. The greater the advances that are being planned for women today, the greater will be the price we must pay.

The Committee on the Status of Women is trying in various ways to assist women to face present conditions honestly and seriously, and to find themselves in right relations to other women, to men, and to their work, and to remember always that woman has a God-given role to fulfill. We believe that in maintaining a home as a background for gracious living women reach their highest attainment.

We deplore the present trends that are tending to break up our homes. We further deplore the carelessness in manners and speech, even to the point of lawlessness, that is becoming the habit of some women. This has lowered the standard of woman's place in the world. And in lowering the standard women are losing the respect of men and of each other.

The committee in reviewing last year's recommendations submit the following report:

1. Advances have been made in the number of societies studying the Handbook. Various methods have been used to present the subject in order to increase interest. Under the direction of a jurisdiction chairman, a number of conference chairmen have done splendid work by informing the women of various approaches to this study and suggesting ways of procuring informative literature.

2. In March the committee made plans for increasing the number of women delegates to the General and Jurisdiction Conferences. A letter to this effect was drafted to be sent to each conference chairman and conference president. They were asked to consult with the conference executive committee and together agree on a woman or women who could make a definite contribution to the church by this election. No method of procedure was suggested, but the letter was accepted understandingly and without question some women have been elected by conferences who have not before had a woman delegate. The number of women delegates to General Conference is slightly larger than four years ago. The number of women elected to jurisdiction conferences is considerably larger.

3. The report on the number of women who are definitely assisting uprooted peoples to become properly adjusted to their new surroundings is encouraging. Even small churches have rendered valiant service and church women constitute the largest group of those working in civic organizations that have as their object comforting, healing, and assisting those in need.

4. To create an enlightened public opinion we have, as opportunity has been given us, tried to present fair and just attitudes on the problems of race prejudice and injustices in industry.

5. In regard to the services of women as chaplains, we have been advised by the War Department Army Service that "upon completion of their basic training the auxiliaries and their officers have been very much dispersed throughout the army and in numbers too small to warrant the assignment of chaplains of their own."

A free leaflet, "Today's Women," written by Miss Margaret Forsyth, was published for the committee in an edition of 50,000 and was distributed to local societies through conference chairmen.

This year we felt that our work had reached that stage in its development where a report blank had become a necessity. District, conference, and jurisdiction chairmen had a part in preparing this blank which is now in the hands of the local Status of Women chairmen.

Supply Work

By MRS. HARRY EARL WOOLEVER, Chairman

(See page 46)

GRENFELL once said after he had pulled a drowning boy out of the sea, "It's fun to save life!" Supply Work is that. It is an expression of the "joy of the Lord" which overflows in loving service and which does not count on apportionment or pledge. Sending boxes of linens and furnishings to our homes, schools, hospitals; stocking pantry shelves with canned fruits and vegetables; sending clothes and toys to school children; giving cash for supplies so that meager equipment may be improved, medicines may be provided, and, yes, folk kept from starving as relief goes abroad—all this the Woman's Societies of Christian Service have had the privilege of doing in Supply Work. In addition, many preachers serving where poverty abounds and whose salaries have been inadequate for their family needs have been aided by the boxes of clothing sent as "ministerial supplies."

The statistical report by conferences follows and the conference officers are urged to compare this report with last year's to see if there has been an increase in Supply Work. In this time of shortage of goods of rationing and high prices, our institutions at home and abroad are depending more than ever on supplies. Indeed, the secretary of the Bureau of Medical Work has said, "Supply Work is invaluable to this bureau, because with the present budgets and the greatly increased cost of everything connected with hospitals, it would be impossible to meet daily needs unless we had this supplementary help." Other executive secretaries have echoed her statement.

What are a few of the specific things made possible by Supply Work? This last Christmas, as the year before, Methodist women were asked to send gifts to the Japanese-American children in the relocation camps. To date, $1,998.92 has been received for this purpose in addition to numerous boxes of gifts sent direct to the camps. Letters of gratitude have come from pastors and workers in the camps because through these gifts somewhat of the Christmas joy was brought to hundreds of lonely children.

Through cash for supplies, an air-mail edition of World Outlook has been sent to mission stations in Free China. Such statements as this have come from the missionaries: "We have been thrilled this week with an air-mail edition of the World Outlook. Having been without home papers or magazines for three years, we are most grateful—and it will be shared."

In one of our children's homes, laundry equipment was old and worn-out and entirely inadequate. Workers were spending valuable time and energy in doing what machines should do. Supply Work by providing new equipment is conserving the strength of workers for more constructive tasks.

A missionary in Cawnpore, India, asked for $30 to buy 100 hymnbooks. She had been given a little portable organ by a friend and she wished to go to different sections of the city for "sings." She wrote: "Many of the women and children can't get out to church for the lack of money to pay the present high rate for tongas and they would welcome an evening of hymn singing. If this gift can be managed I don't know of anything that would bring joy to a greater number of people." Through Supply Work the gift was "managed."

Through cash for relief, it is no exaggeration to say that hundreds of lives have been saved in China.

These are but brief glimpses of what the women of the local societies have been enabled to do through the "over and above" gift for Supply Work. During the year further glimpses have been given through The Methodist Woman and through the Supply-O-Gram, a news sheet which was sent to every society.

Jurisdiction, conference, district, and local Supply Work secretaries have worked loyally to make the results tabulated on the next pages possible.

The Guild feels the following responsibility in increasing Guild membership today:

1. Organizing the active employed women of the church into a unit of the Guild, taking none away from the present membership of the local Woman's Society.

2. Interesting and securing as Guild members the employed women of the church constituency who have no contacts with the Woman's Society.

3. Bringing into the Guild fellowship:

a. Young employed women just starting their careers.

b. Mature unchurched employed women in the community.

This is our largest and most necessary work today.

The World Federation of Methodist Women

By MRS. J. W. MILLS, Vice-President, Chairman

(See page 60 for recommendations and plans for 1944)

THE Standing Committee on the World Federation of Methodist Women met December 5, at Buck Hill Falls, Pennsylvania. Most of the members were present, and a number of interested guests.

Mrs. Franklin Reed, Vice-President of the World Federation, was present and presented plans for the quadrennial meeting of the World Federation which will be held in Kansas City at the time of the General Conference. War conditions will limit the attendance of delegates from many foreign units, and will affect the type of program, but a business and inspirational meeting will be held according to Disciplinary provisions. Officers will be elected at that time.

Plans for the year were discussed. These were thoughtful and creative. Some were rejected, and some adopted. Recommendations were formulated for presentation to the Woman's Division for use in all of Methodism.

Time was given to the consideration of the joint recommendation of the Department of Christian Social Relations and Local Church Activities, the Committee on Spiritual Life, and the World Federation of Methodist Women. This brought sincere satisfaction, as it showed the unity of purpose of the various lines of work of the Woman's Division. (See Items 2, 3, and 4 of the report of the committee.) Miss Van Hooser presented a recommendation regarding the needs of children in war devastated lands (Item 3 report) and spoke to this recommendation, which was most appropriate in this connection.

The report from India was gratifying. This had been compiled by Mrs. Chitambar, and copies sent to the members of the standing committee by Mrs. Nicholson.

An inspiring report came from Uruguay, with a list of what their funds had been directed to, and said their aim was to "do better every year"!

The committee sincerely appreciates the space and interesting reports which The Methodist Woman and World Outlook give to the work of the many units around the world.

Small leaflets will appear soon, one giving quotations from letters from men in the service who have seen Methodist missions at first hand. Missionary mothers glow with pride over the appreciation expressed about the results of work which they have been trying to advance for many years. Another is planned on our offering, or membership obligation, for the support of the World Federation. This is stated as "The smallest coin of the realm." This gift toward the advancement of the work of missions is sacredly laid aside by the women of some of the smallest countries. We realize that sacrificial giving has been a strong link in the development of the work around the world.

A gift of $25 was sent to the Woman's Division by the youth member of this committee, Mrs. Andersen, the former Frances Gold, now a war wife teaching school, which prevented her attendance at the Board meeting.

to bring about better results. The Department of Christian Social Relations and Local Church Activities, of which the secretary of children's work is now a member as it functions in the local church, is leading out in a program of study and action, especially in the area of Christian family life, that should have marked results.

Increased Need for Development of Good Will

From home and school and community come statements that reveal a growing concern for the mounting attitudes of prejudice, intolerance, and hatred on the part of children, and a call to the Christian church to help children develop good will toward others now as a preparation to live in a democratic postwar world. Only the church and the Christian home can cause the creation and steady development of attitudes of universal friendliness and good will that are so necessary in the war-torn world of the present time.
