

Out on The Porch next Door

~~There rests a restless man~~

Out on the porch next door with narrow brows

~~Squinting~~
~~Squinting~~ at his thens and nows

And ever shall be's and the stillness of their power

There rests a restless man

Awaiting a word of raising up

Move toward him with tender kindness

And lead him to the empty tomb

And show him what God has done today

(1955)

