

President Ann Marie Langford convened Duke Memorial United Methodist Women in the Bradshaw Room at 4:00 p.m., following a social hour, hosted by Circle Two. Invited guests included UMW members from Trinity, Epworth and Asbury Temple United Methodist Churches.

Reverend Ruth Harper, Associate Minister at Epworth, gave a delightful program portraying the life of the late Fannie Crosby, hymn writer. Congregational singing, as well as several solos and duets, were enjoyed by the congregation.

Ann Marie made the following announcements:

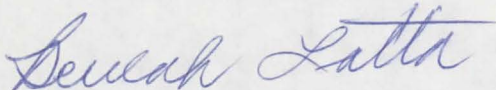

Due to an increased need for assistance, our Methodist Mission Society needs additional food for the pantry and funds to purchase baby needs and other supplies.

Sew-Vols will meet on October 9 from 9:00 to 12:00noon. They need help!! Items for distribution, such as bibs and walker pockets, will be made at that time.

Linda Wilson announced tentative plans for a program in the Spring relating to changing lifestyles. She needs help from volunteers who are experts in the field as well as individuals who have experienced changes and are willing to work with her in developing this program.

Meeting adjourned at approximately 5:00 p.m. About fifty persons attended.

Respectfully submitted,

Beulah Latta, Recording Secretary
