

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. OBITUARIES.

Genesee Conference.

Sandford Hunt was born in Eden Valley, N. Y., April 1, 1825. He was nurtured in a Christian home and spent his early life on a farm. His grandmother's house, on his mother's side, was a preaching place of Bishop Asbury. Converted at fifteen, he entered Allegany College at twenty, working his way, without pecuniary help, accepting the modest smount of forty dollars from excepting the modest amount of forty dollars from his father, and graduating with special honor in 1847. He received the degree of D.D. from his alma mater in 1871. He early felt called into the ministry, and in August, 1847, he joined the Genesce Conference as a probationer. At Ellicottville, his second charge, he led his small society in erecting a new church, himself going into the woods and assisting in cutting and scoring timber for the building. At Rushford he also succeeded in buildounting. At Russiord ne also succeeded in Oullidering a commodious church. His appointments were: Machias, Ellicottville, Niagara Falls, Royalton, Rushford, Pekin, Grace Church, Buffalo; Saint Mark's, Buffalo; Perry, Albion, Niagara District; Lockport, Batavia, Delaware Avenue, Buffalo (the beautiful chapel of that church was built under his prestricts). Niagara Districts and Delay. his pastorate); Niagra District again, and Buffalo District. On March 3, 1879, he was elected by the Book Committee to take the place of Dr. Nelson, deceased, as associate Agent of the Book Concern with Mr. Phillips. He continued to hold the posi-tion of Agent, by the suffrage of the General Con-ference, until his death. He had been making an official visit to some of the Conferences in the Southern States, and on his return North had reached Cincinnati. While entering the Grand Hotel at about 7:30 on the evening of February 10, 1896, an attack of angina pectoris seized him. He uttered a few hurried words, asking the support of his breth-ren, and fell into their arms to die. He had had for some months preceding slight premonitory symptoms of danger, but had scarcely turned aside from his ordinary course of duty for an hour. His aim and his prayer were to be always ready. His most important work was accomplished as Agent of the Book Concern and as Treasurer of the Missionary Society. In paying off the debt of the Book Concern, and in the erection of the magnificent building now occupied, he was a chief counselor and supervisor. He was twice a reserve delegate to the General Conference; was six times a member of that body; and was at his death a member-elect of the General Conference of 1896, having been three times elected at the head of his delegation. His sagacity, clearness of statement, and transparent candor, together with his heartmess and his unselfish interest in the prosperity of the Church, made him an influential leader in legislation, as well as in the management of the business of the Church. He felt the debt upon the Missionary treasury as a personal burden, and his most intense thought was given to methods of relief. His financial skill and devices for carrying on this great interest were a aurprise to those associated with him. It is not impossible that his anxiety aided in bringing on the crisis which ended his days. The interest of Dr. Hunt in questions of Church legislation and polity led him to the publication of brief works on these subjects, which have been of great use to the preachers in their administration. His familiarity with Methodism in the Genesee Conference led to his writing a volume on Methodism in Buffalo from its Origin until the Close of 1892. In his early ministry he married the daughter of Rev. Hiram May, one of the pioneers of the Genesee Conference. His wife and three daughters survive. He was a man of balanced judgment, well informed on all sub-jects germane to his great work, and especially well posted in the history and polity of his Church. He was calm and dispassionate in his deliberations and utterances. True to discovered truth, his con-science was open toward God and man. Brotherly instincts bound him to every member of his Conference. He possessed great intellectual and moral strength. Industrious and careful in husbanding opportunity, his duties were attended to on time, and, although he was suddenly called, he was found ready. He was a patriot as well as a Christian, rendering efficient service as Secretary for the United States Christian Commission for Western New York for two years during the war. From Cincinnati his remains were removed to Brooklyn, N. Y., where funeral services were attended by a large number of his associates in the Book Concern. Thence he was taken to Buffalo, where appropriate services were observed in the Delaware Avenue Church in the presence of many members of his Conference, after which his body was laid to rest in the beautiful Forest Lawn Cemetery.

Daniel Leisenring was born at Varick, N. Y., May 28, 1821. He was "born again" at the age of twenty. Forty-seven years of his life were given to the ministry. His appointments were: Wellsburg, 1849; Springfield, 1850; Burlington, Pa., 1851; Southport, 1853-54; Millport, 1855-56; Milo Center, 1857; Sodus, 1858-59; Branchport, 1860; Clifforn Springs, 1861; Bauton Center, 1862-68; Naples ton Springs, 1861; Benton Center, 1862-68; Naples, 1864-65; Rochester, North Avenue, 1866-68; Watkins, 1869-70: Dansville, 1871-72; Warsaw, 1873; Wellsville, 1874-75; Livonia, 1876-78; Honeoye Falls, 1879-31; Nunda, 1882-83. In 1885, owing to failing health, he took a supernumerary relation. In 1886 he resumed his work, and was stationed at Webster for two years. His impaired eyesight then compelled him to become supernumerary, and in 1894 he was superannuated. Many powerful revivals of religion attended his ministry, notably at North Avenue, Rochester, N. Y. The Glenwood Church, of Rochester, N. Y., owes much to him. He stood by the Sunday school and prayer meeting, out of which the church had its origin, when others less hopeful dropped out. He circulated the first subscription paper for the new chapel, inspired others with his enthusiasm, and soon saw a goodly number supporting him in his effort to erect a suitable building. In the absence of his pastor he was left in charge of the Sunday worship. While on his way to the evening service he was prostrated by apoplexy. He lingered a few days without bodily pain, and died March 14, 1896. He was a good preacher, helpful, scriptural, and orthodox. He did not believe in shams; everything he did was transparent. The beautiful grace of humility made his life lovely. It beamed forth in his face, expessed itself in his language, and sparkled with the radiance of a diamond in the acts of his Christly life. He was a model superannuated preacher, always saying and doing the right things. He was twice married. His second wife survives him. In the departure of this good man the Church militant has lost a noble standard bearer; the Church triumplant will be richer because of his presence.

JESSE T. HUMPHREYS began his earthly life at Lower | Penn's Neck, N. J., June 28, 1832. He entered upon the heavenly life from Hemlock Lake, July 19, 1896. His parents were sturdy Methodists of the olden type, fervent, enthusiastic, and loyal. The subject of this aketch was clearly and happily converted at the age of nine at a Methodist altar. His education was obtained in a Quaker boarding school. At twenty-four he married Miriam Mattson, who survives him with six children. Soon after his marriage he began to teach school, and was for a time engaged in business. When the call for a time engaged in business. When the call came he left all to enter the ministry, having for a number of years exercised his gifts as an exhorter and local preacher. He joined the Genesee Conference in 1878, and served as follows: Henrietta, Niagara Falls, Wilson, Somerset, Royalton, Spencerport, Steward of Genesee Wesleyan Seminary, Springwater, Penfield, Rush. On his last charge two revivals were held, and the result to the charge was marvelous. At Wilson and Spencesport there was a large ingesthering, and at Somerset a beautiful was a large ingathering, and at Somerset a beautiful new church was built and paid for during his pas-torate. He was symmetrical in character, devout in spirit, and genial in all his social relations. He was an excellent preacher, a good pastor, and a faithful friend. Two weeks before his death he preached in his pulpit. Feeling the need of rest he went to Hemlock Lake for a short vacation. But his work was done, "and he was not; for God took him."

NATHAN N. BEEES was born in Mendon, N. Y., October 18, 1815. Converted at twelve, in Oxford, Conn., he was early called to preach, beginning his work at Allentown, Conn., in 1835. Removing temporarily to the South, he preached to the poor bond-men near Savannah, Ga., until his ministrations provoked the slaveholders so that they drove him away. In 1844 he joined the Genesee Conference, and organized the Mount Hor class, which later formed the nucleus of the old Alexander Street, now Monroe Avenue, Rochester, N. Y. His succeeding appointments were: Chemung, Townsendville, Mecklenberg, Catharine, Chemung again, Bath, Lawrenceville, Rushville, Ovid, Dundee, Canthern Mecklenberg, Catharine, Chemung again, Bath, Lawrenceville, Rushville, Ovid, Dundee, Canthern Mecklenberg, Catharine, Chemana, Catharine, Cath bath, Lawrenceville, Rushville, Old, Bullder, Callette, Cohocton, Avoca, Prattsburg, Pultney, Benton, Dresden, North Hector, Wayne, Kanona, Nestor, Allegany, Holland, Lawrenceville again, Towleaville, Bristol Center, Allen's Hill. In 1886 he was superannuated and removed to Naples, where he died. Intellectuality predominated in him. Deprived of a liberal schooling he was always seeking an education. Mathematics, history, medicine, and theology were lines of study sometimes pursued, but his specialty was language. He was the Elihu Burritt of his Conference. His daily recreation till a short time before his death consisted in grappling with some linguistic problem, or dwelling on some peculiar shade of meaning in Scripture brought out by a language not his own. He read to some extent German, French, Spanish, Dutch, Portuguese, Italian, Arabic, Syriac, Greek, and Hebrew, having Bibles in all these tongues. The Hebrew, especially, possessed to him a fascination almost divine. Its very characters seemed sacred. It was common for his pastor to find him sitting at his desk with the big Hebrew Bible before him, writing out in elegantly executed characters some phrase or sentence therefrom. He was a thoughtful preacher, and during his long service received many members into the Church. Through all the physical decay of his last years his mind remained clear as noonday almost until the last. His last message was, "Tell my brethren in the Conference it is all right with me. God reigns and cares for me in my 'age and feebleness extreme.' He supports me in the trying hour. I glory in his name."

ANDREW PURDY was born in Jasper, N. Y., October 26, 1842. He spent his early days on the farm verted and united with the Presbyterian Church. At sixteen he entered Alfred University, where he spent five years, graduating with high honors. Later he entered the Medical Department of the University of Michigan, and afterward the University of New York, where he spent two years, receiving the degree of M.D. He also spent one year in Bellevue Hospital, New York city. During the winter of 1876-77 in a revival he was wonderfully quickened, and felt constrained to enter the ministry. In 1877 he was appointed to the Erwin and Lindley Charge. With his wealth of knowledge, his flood of spiritual life, his unconquerable enthusiasm, he launched himself upon his work. The whole community was immediately awakened. Week after week the people were converted until the saved numbered over three hundred. His next appointment was Cohocton. His third appointment was to the Lawrenceville Charge, where he was successful in parsonage building, and especially in saving men. His fourth appointment was Victor, and his fifth Tonawanda. Asbury Church, Buffalo, was his sixth appointment. Here he reached the summit of effort, and succeeded in saving many souls. On October 6, 1896, he left home to attend Conference at Corning, N. Y. On the 8th, about noon, the zenith of the day, and at the zenith of his increasingly useful life, he received from the great Bishop of the Church his seventh appointment; he fell on Market Street, Corning, became unconscious, and soon expired. He was a tender-hearted, large-souled man. was broad and catholic. His heart went out toward all the ministry and the Church of Jesus Christ. He leaves behind him a widow and five sons. He rests from his labors, and his works do He leaves behind him a widow and five follow him.

JACOB HAGAR was born September 1, 1809, at Middleburg, N. Y. He was converted at a prayer meeting March 1, 1826, and four days later at a quarterly meeting, held in a barn, united with the Church. On January 29, 1888, he was granted an exhorter's license, and was licensed to preach July 80, 1886. In the fall of 1840 he was recommended to the Genesce Conference for admission on trial, and he was received. This closed a long and severe strug-gle in which he had tried to silence God's call, and had barely escaped death by accident while working on the Genesee Valley Canal. He was one of a class of seventeen, nearly all of whom have laid down "the sword for a harp, the cross for a crown." He was ordained deacon by Bishop Hedding in September, 1842, and elder by Bishop Hamline in September by Bishop Hamline tember, 1844. On July 25, 1843, he married Laurana A. Bard, one daughter now surviving. On January 19, 1890, his wife, who had shared all the years of his active ministry, fell on sleep. He superannuated in October, 1881, and retired to Kenyonville, N. Y. His last sickness was not extended. His death was a Christian's triumph. To the question, "Does the Gospel do for you now what you said it would in your sermons?" he said, "Yes! yes! more too! your sermons?" he said, Ies: yes: more too!" His successive charges were: Parman, Smithport, Cuba and North Hudson, Franklinville, Otto, Gainesville, Hamburg, Bethany, Wales, Darien, Alabama, Carlton, Chili, Elba, Otto, Sardinia and Arcade, Covington and Fowlerville, dinia and Arcade, Covington and Fowlerville, Moscow and Fowlerville, Asbury and Wesley, Java, Carlton, Stafford, Wales, Millville, and Hartland.

JOSEPH LATHAM Was a descendant of the Latham family, who trace their ancestors to Mary Chilton, whose family first set foot on Plymouth Rock from the Mayflower. His family were volunteers in the war of 1812, and also in the rebellion of 1861. Called to preach, he prepared himself by diligent study for the ministry, and joined the Genesee Conference in 1848. Two years later he married Miss Lyda R. in 1848. Two years later he married Miss Lyda s.
Nelson. Five children survive, who are laboring in different professions. He was a thoughtful student, and in attending school. At fifteen he was con- a kind pastor, and a clear preacher. On several charges where he labored gracious revivals of religion occurred, resulting in large accessions to the Church. On other charges he paid old debts, built parsonages and churches. He served on the following charges: a Centerville, Royalton, Newfane, Mill-ville, Middleport, Porter and Sweden, Wales, Java, Machias, Springville, Friendship, Wethersfield, Franklinville, Bolivar, Hinsdale, Ellicottville, and superannuated in 1871. After his superannuation he organized a church in Franklinville, N. Y., where he resided, which has grown to be a flourishing society. He never missed a Conference. Nothing ever interfered with his attendance upon the means of grace. The appointed hour always found him at church and prayer meeting. He enjoyed a deep religious experience. No sweeter Christian ever lived. His illness was brief, his rest peace.

JOHN B. LANCKTON was born November 2, 1805, in Springfield, Mass., and died July 24, 1896, at Bancroft, Mich. When twenty years of age he found salvation. In 1828 he joined the Genesee Conference, and during his connection with it every name on the roll at that date had disappeared. The fields of his ministerial toil were as follows: Lewiston and Cockport, Aurora, Clarence and Alden, Lewiston Lewiston and Grand Island, Lyndonville and Carlton, Ridgeway, Medina, Kempville, Scottsville and Caledonia, Sweden, Carlton and Lyndonville and Carlton, Ridgeway, Medina, Kempville, Scottsville and Caledonia, Sweden, Carlton and Lyndonville, Parma and Clarkson, Ogden, Kendall, Elba, Churchville and Bergen, Hulberton and West Barre, Elba, North Chili, Pavilion and Fowlerville, Castile, Pike, Friendship, Cuba and Hudson, Sardinia, Clarence. He was superannuated in 1870. The repeated calls for his return to former charges showed that he was a man of more than ordinary ability and usefulness. Bancroft was his home for some years, where he was held in high esteem. In November, 1869, he married as his third wife Miss Phœbe Newman, who survives him. In a letter received recently from her she says: "The Conference cane made from the remains of the first church built in the State of Michigan was held as a badge of patriarchal honor a dome years by him, and was sent East with his remains to be forwarded to the next senior member.

HARRIS PECE was born in Bridgeport, Conn., in 1834, and died in Bradford, Pa., in February, 1896. In early manhood he removed to Elmira, N. Y., where he engaged in business and, in 1848, married. In 1855 he was soundly converted and united with the church, becoming immediately active in various lines of labor. As early as 1864 he was thrust out into revival work, in which he was remarkably successful. From 1865 to 1869 he was employed by the American Bethel Society, and by the American Seamen's Friend Society, acting first as missionary upon the canals and inland lakes of New York and later for three years as chaplain of the port of Buffalo. In 1869 he entered the Genesee Conference, and thenceforward, for twenty-six years, did hard and successful work. At the Conference of 1895 he took a superannuated relation, but it was against his nature to cease to labor, and almost every week he preached several times on Sunday or on week day evenings, and for several weeks labored with marked success in evangelistic meetings with several pastors of the Conference. His death was almost without warning. It was upon the Lord's amost without warning. It was upon the Lord's Day, and it had been expected that he would take part in the public services. While engaged in some slight activity he was suddenly seized with angina pectoris, and after a brief suffering ceased to live. He was survived by only one of near blood kinship, his widowed daughter. During the few months preceding he had buried his only surviving son and his beloved wife, the companion of fortweaven his beloved wife, the companion of forty-seven years.

ZEWAS HURD was born at Sweden, N. Y., October 27, 1820, and died at Lima, N. Y., April 11, 1896. He began teaching at sixteen, aiding in the support of a widowed mother with six children. He prepared for college at Lima, working through vacations to procure means, and graduated from Wesleyan University in 1846. The same year he joined the Genesee Conference, and served in the Itinerant ranks until 1855, when he was chosen Principal of the Conference Seminary at Pike, N. Y. In 1859 he taught mathematics in the Genesee Wealeyan Seminary at Lima, to the principalship of which he was elected in 1860. He served in the United States Christian Commission for a time during 1864, and reentered the pastorate, in which he continued until his superannuation in 1887. He then retired to Lima, N. Y., where he had prepared for college and met her who later became his wife, the daughter of the pioneer preacher, Micah Seager. Here he spent several years in educational work, and served as a trustee of the seminary for many more. Always a student, and always interested in the young, he taught Liatin and Greek as assistant professor for a number of years. In schoolhouses of the surrounding country he also held services and brought many sheaves into the Lord's garner. He was ene of those who bring forth fruit in old age. In an eminent degree he had the quality of "other-worldliness." He was a citizen of the kingdom of God, and in such accord with its principles that to many he appeared extreme and his standards impracticable for this world. His sense of God in the world made him an optimist of a high type.

HARVEY LAMEIN was born in the State of New York December, 1812, and died February, 1896. Converted at the age of eighteen, he immediately began to tell what a dear Saviour he had found. He worked at his trade and preached in surrounding schoolhouses. He was preeminently a soul-winner from the beginning. He joined the East Genesee Conference in 1852. He was ordained deacon in 1854 and elder in 1856. He fell into the Central New York Conference, by change of boundaries, in 1872. In the same manner he became a member of the Genesee Conference in 1876. His member of the Genesee Conference in 1876. His appointments were: Canton, Catharine, Chemung, Smithfield, Burlington, Springfield, Mansfield, Chemung, Blossburg, Tioga, Mainsburg, Tioga. From 1881 till his death he was superannuated. His education was very limited, so far as schools are concerned, but he knew God and men. In his later life he acquired an extensive knowledge of books. Well-educated people were often found in his concernation and monut of them were knowledge. his congregation, and many of them were brought to Christ through his teaching. His communion with his heavenly Father was almost constant. His voice could be heard at a great distance when he was wrestling with God in prayer. At the altar, in a revival service, heaven and earth seemed to meet as he prayed for the penitent. Fearless in the proclamation of the truth, he was as tender as a child in his dealings with convicted sinners. In the pulpit he was a modern Boanerges. He preached He felt this in the depths of his soul. During a ministry of fifty-three years he preached 18,780 sermons. He was elected Associate Judge of Tioga County, Pa., in his retirement as a superannuate. He filled that office with honor. He had friends everywhere.

East Ohio Conference.

PARKER W. SHERWOOD was born in Tompkins County, N. Y., April 80, 1814, and died at Ray's Corners, O., September 5, 1896. In 1816 his parents moved to Eric County, Pa., where he was brought up amid hardships of the severest kind. At twenty traveling sixteen miles to it, and was joyfully converted June 10, 1884. Returning home, he asked and was granted the privilege of erecting the family altar. After the day's work was over his custom was to retire to a grove to read, pray, and meditate. "It was in one of these hours," he says, "that God called me to the ministry." In 1849 he was admitted to the Eric Conference, where he was eminently successful in winning souls to Christ. His scholarship was limited, but his study of the word of God was so thorough that he was able to preach the truth clearly and sometimes with great power. He was a deeply pious man, "full of faith and the Holy Ghost." When the division of his Conference took place he became a member of the East Ohio Conference, in 1876. In 1878 he took a superannuated relation, and retired to his home at Ray's Corners, where he died, loved by all who knew him.

Francis A. Archibald was born in Troy, N. Y., in 1841, and died at his home in Oakland, Cal., January 23, 1896. He was converted in early life and united with the church. He was educated in Allegheny College, Meadville, Pa. Feeling called to the ministry he entered the Eric Conference in 1865. He was a preacher of more than usual ability, filling pulpits in Cleveland and Cincinnati, and remained in the effective ranks for over twenty years. A throat trouble compelled him to give up active pulpit service, and for about ten years he was connected with the Book Concern at Cincinnati. During this time he wrote considerably for the press and put forth a volume entitled Methodism and Literature. Nine years ago he went to Los Angeles to engage in business; two years later he removed to San Francisco. He was in failing health for several months, though his final illness was brief. He suffered greatly, but bore it all in faith and hope. His kindness of heart added a charm to all he touched. There was nothing revengeful, arrimonious, or critical in his temper; all was se-renity, repose, and sunshine. He was a man of a high character refined by grace. He died as he lived, trusting in the merits of an almighty Saviour. He leaves a wife and a grown-up son and daughter.

MARION W. DALLAS Was born in Belmont County, O., May 25, 1827, and died September 4, 1896, in Cuyahoga Falls. He was born of a good Methodist family, and was happily converted in his boyhood. He united with the church at Hendrysburg about the same time. He was admitted into the Pittsburg Conference in 1850, and was appointed to Norwich, O. After this he served such appointments in the old Pittsburg Conference as Indiana, Kittanning, Wesley Chapel, and Ames Church, Pittsburg, from which he was transferred to the East Ohio Conference and stationed at Scio. During his pastorate there he received from Scio College the degree of D.D. He afterward served in the East Ohio Conference Jefferson, Ashtabula, Cuyalioga Falls, and Tallmadge, which latter was his last appointment. During his second year his health gave way and he was obliged to relinquish the charge. For four years he sustained the relation of a superannuated member of the Conference. He was a vigorous thinker and a preacher of more than ordinary ability. He was instrumental in bringing many people to Christ. In Cuyahoga Falls, which he served for four years, and which may really be regarded as his last full appointment, an important improvement was made in the Sunday school room. It is now a thing of beauty, and is a material monument to his memory. He was often a great sufferer. With joy he heard the Master's call and is forever at rest. He leaves he attended a protracted meeting in Cambridge, Pa., 19, 1896. He married Frances E. Nash October 8, 1873. He was converted early in life, and from that event looked toward the ministry as his lifework. He graduated from Allegheny College with first honors in the class of 1869; was principal of the public schools of Sherman, N. Y., one year, and of the schools of Pottsville, Pa., one year. After attending the School of Theology at Boston University one year he joined Eric Conference in 1873. The degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred upon him by Mount Hingu College in 1891. The follow-The degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred upon him by Mount Union College in 1891. The following charges were served by him with success: Thompson and Concord, Garrettsville, Tallmadge and Brimfield, Geneva, Chardon, Saint Clairsville, South Park, Cleveland; Presiding Elder of Cleveland District, Hamline, Steubenville; Salem. At the Conference of 1895, his health failing, hereceived a nominal appointment to Epworth Memorial Church. In February, 1896, he determined to try the climate of southern California, but in April began to decling rapidly, and after a few days of sufgan to decline rapidly, and after a few days of suf-fering triumphantly passed away. The last words understood by his wife were those of a prayer, wherein he called for the presence of the Holy Spirit. He was a man of great simplicity of character and of deep religious experience. He had the instincts of a student, and preached always from a full mind and a prepared heart. He was scrupulous in the performance of all the duties of a minister, and whether in the pulpit, amid the social life of the people, or at the bedside of the sick he was the faithful minister of Christ. During his sickness he was full of faith and cheer, saying he never knew the depths of Christ's power to save as during the months of his sickness.

JOHN WILLIAMS died in New Philadelphia, O., July 30, 1896. He was born in the County of Durham, England, August 10, 1820. He was converted at Gateshead, England, March 9, 1848, and at once united with the Wesleyan Society, and on the third day after his conversion preached his first sermon, in the open air. For ten years as a local presches he served in the Wesleyan Methodist Conversion preaches the served in the Wesleyan Methodist Conversion presches the served in the Methodist Conversion presches the preacher he served in the Wesleyan Methodist Connection, and in 1858, with his wife, Ellen Tonson, and their son, Edward, he came to America, locating in Pittsburg. There his credentials as a local preacher were recognized, and during the year he served the Church in the same capacity. He was received on probation in the Pittsburg Conference in 1854, and was appointed in charge of Mount Morris Circuit. At each of twenty-three subsequent Conferences he was appointed to important churches, among them Uniontown, Johnstown, South Common, Steubenville, and East Liverpool. At twelve Conferences he was appointed as presiding elder, his districts being Allegheny, Steubenville, and Cambridge. Until 1876 his appointments were in the Pittsburg Conference, but by the division of that Conference in 1876 his lot fell in the East Ohio Conference, in which his appointments were made until 1888, when, having suffered from a partial paralysis, he asked and received a super-annuated relation. He was elected in 1872 a delegate to the General Conference in Brooklyn, was for the subsequent four years a member of the Book Committee, was honored with the degree of Doctor of Divinity, was trustee of Scio College, and had been greatly instrumental in relieving churches of oppressive indebtedness. He was an able minister of the Gospel, having been instrumental in adding many to the Church. Serenely, when his work was done, in the presence of his dovoted wife and daughter, the gullant soldier of the cross, beloved of thousands, fell asleep. The wife and son whom he had brought with him from the fatherland lie among a widow and two daughters, who feel deeply the loss they have sustained.

WILLIAM H. HASKELL was born in Perry, O., December 27, 1844, and died in Ontario, Cal., April the Rev. Edward Williams, of the Pittsburg Conference, survives, and in the effective ranks maintains the faith and devotion characteristic of those of his family who have gone on before.

Rock River Conference.

ROBERT BEATTY was born July 21, 1816, at Leighlin Bridge, County Carlow, Ireland. He was converted at fifteen and soon afterward was licensed as a local preacher. He was married at nineteen to Miss Harriet Pleuman. On April 12, 1842, he sailed for America, and settled at Kenosha, Wis. He was admitted into the Rock River Conference in 1844. In 1846, while stationed in Freeport, his wife and three children died. On February 26, 1848, he married Miss Harriet Smith, who, with five children, mourns his departure. At the Conference of 1859 he was granted a location. Up to this date he had served the following appointments: Sylvania, as a supply, Root River Mission, Rock Island Circuit, Freeport, Wheeling Circuit, Waukegan, Belvidere, and Naperville. In 1854 he took a superannuate relation for one year, and afterward served Mount Carroll and Plainfield. 1869 he was readmitted and appointed Agent of the American and Foreign Christian Union. His appointments afterward were: North Prairie, Benton, Barrington, Libertyville, Saint Charles, Poplar Grove, Alden and Big Foot, Chemung, Elizabeth and Foreston. In 1886 he was granted a superannuated relation, and moved to Rockford, where he died. His last illness was short. His heart was worn-out. While sitting in his chair he said, "I sin going," and was not; for God had taken him. His death occurred March 24, 1896. He was highly esteemed as a Christian gentleman and a Gospel preacher. In his early ministry he was a noted revivalist, and hundreds were converted under his faithful efforts. His works follow him.

LORENZO WHIPPLE was born in Herkimer County, N. Y., February 10, 1810. While an infant his family moved to Chautauqua County, N. Y. He was converted in 1827, and licensed to preach in 1835. He soon commenced the work of an itinerant minister in the Pittsburg Conference, where he labored two years. For the two following years he labored in the Eric Conference. In 1839 he was located at his own request. On August 17, 1839, he married Mice National Content in Respectivity. Miss Nancy Gaston, in Brookville, Pa. Soon after they came West and settled near Elgin, Ill., where he remained as a local preacher three years. In 1842 he was admitted in the Rock River Conference. In 1861 he was superannuated, which relation he sustained to the end. In no sufferer was the grace of patience ever more beautifully exhibited. He confidently awaited the coming of the Lord. He died October 12, 1895, in Stevensville, Mich.

HARRY A. PETERS was born in Terre Haute, Ind., March 3, 1851. His mother died when he was thir-teen months old. When he was eight his father went to California, and he did not see him again for more than thirty years. He was converted and united with the church at nine; he was class leader, steward, and Sunday school superintendent at eighteen; he received his license at twenty-one, and two years after became junior preacher on the Noconis Circuit, Illinois Conference. In 1877 he supplied the Canton Circuit. In October of that year he joined the Illinois Conference, and in 1878 was ordained deacon. On September 11, 1878, he married Miss Emma Rohrer. One daughter, with her mother, mourns his departure. From Canton Circuit he went to Smithville Circuit, traveling that year as junior preacher more than five thousand miles on horseback, carrying his clothes and books on saddleback, and holding meetings six months of the year with great success. His appointments thereafter in the Central Illinois Conference were Cuba, Trivoli, Morton, and Hennepin. He was appointments: 1888-89, Sheridan; 1890-91, South nglewood; 1892-98, Frankfort; 1894-95, Plattville. He persisted in his work in spite of broken health, pursuing it with an energy that caused few to think of him as a sick man. He was an earnest seeker after the deep things of God. He preached three times on Sunday, March 15, 1896. The next day he was too ill to attend to his work, and from that time rapidly declined until death came, March 24, 1896. His faith and courage were triumphant. With a supreme trust in his Redcemer he passed through unconsciousness to death.

JOSEPH ODGERS was born on May 28, 1828, in Cornwall, England. His parents were earnest Christians and members of the Wesleyan Methodist Church. At ten he united with the church as a seeker, and in 1849 during a revival he was soundly converted and immediately became an active worker. In 1863 he received an exhorter's license, and on July 4 of the same year he left England, arriving in the United States August 27. He settled in Jo Davies County, Ill., and at once connected himself with the Council Hill Circuit by certificate. On January 1, 1855, he married Angeline Clark, of Gatena, Ill. One of their sons is a momber of the Rock River Conference. In August, 1856, he joined the West Wis-consin Conference. In 1858 he was ordained deacon, and in 1860 elder. His appointments in the West Wisconsin Conference were: Plainfield Circuit, Jamestown Mission, Spring Grove, Elk Grove, State Line. In 1862-68 he supplied Apple River, and united with the Rock River Conference in the fall of 1863. After joining this Conference he served the following charges: Apple River, Warren, Mount Carroll, First Church, Rockford; First Church, Belvidere, Warren, Harlem, Lena, Rockford Circuit, Ninth Street, Rockford; Dakota, Halstead Street, Chicago; Fulton Street, Chicago; Asbury. For two years he was manager and financial secretary of Wesley Hospital. His last appointment was Mount Carroll, which he was serving the second time when he died. His last illness was of three months' duration. On the morning of May 4, 1896, at the home of his daughter, he died. From his conversion he sought with untiring industry the equipment of a Methodist preacher. His life was that of a whole-hearted, untiring, faithful, minister. His preaching was like his personality, sturdy and full of force.

Ohio Conference.

SAMUEL ASHTON KEEN Was born in Harrison, O., May 12, 1842, and died in Delaware, O., November 11, 1895. The environments of his boyhood days, as he gratefully acknowledged in Praise Papers, were a Christian home, the family altar, and godly parents." At thirteen he was converted, and became a member of the church. On January 10, 1869, while pastor of Main Street Church, Chillicothe, the blessing of perfect love came into his soul. He was licensed as an exhorter in January, 1860, and as a local preacher in May of the same year. August 12, 1862, he enlisted in Company D., Eighty-third Regiment, Ohio Volunteer Infantry; was promoted to first lieutenant in April, 1864, and served till September, 1865, when he was honorably mustered out. He entered the Ohio Wesleyan University immediately upon his release from military service, graduating in June, 1868. In October of that year he was admitted into the Ohio Conference and appointed to Main Street Church, Chillicothe, which important charge he served for two years. His subsequent appointments were: Washington Court House, Wesley Chapel, Columbus; St. Paul's, Delaware; Third Avenue, Columbus. In 1881 he was made President ing Elder of Lancaster District, and for four years his received into the Rock River Conference on his cer-tificate of location in 1888, and served the following In 1885 he was appointed to Second Street, Zanesville, where he remained two years. In 1887 he was transferred to the Southeast Indiana Conference, and stationed at Roberts Park Church, Indianapolis. At the close of a pastorate there of two years he was transferred to the Cincinnati Conference, serving most acceptably for two years Walnut Hills Church. In 1891, feeling called of God to devote the remainder of his life to evangelistic work, he was granted a supernumerary relation, and retransferred to the Ohio Conference. In 1888 he published Faith Papers, a little book, of which fifty thousand copies had been sold at the time of his death. In 1894 Praise Papers, A Spiritual Autobiography, was written "as a souvenir," the sainted author explains in the brief pref-ace, "in commemoration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his entrance into the experience of full salvation by the baptism of the Holy Ghost." His third book, Pentecostal Papers, came from the press in 1895. Salvation Papers, his fourth and last book, was ready for the printer at the time of his translation. There devotional papers came from his heart burdened with the me-sage of full salvation and fragrant with that personal holiness which he commended no less by his works than by his words. Not as a writer, however, nor as a pastor, but as an evangelist, were his greatest victories achieved. For more than four years, and until within a few weeks of his death, he was unceasingly engaged in evangelistic work. In that unceasingly engaged in evangelistic work. comparatively short period he traveled eighty thousand miles, held Pentecostal services at seventy Annual Conferences, and conducted in his inimitable way one hundred and thirty-five series of revival meetings. Everywhere he went the presence and power of the Holy Spirit were manifest in the con-version of sinners, the reclamation of the backslidden, and the sanctification of believers. As an evangelist he was always eminently scriptural, thoughtful, and reverent. There was nothing sensational, in the offensive sense of the word, in his preaching or his methods; yet no man could draw and hold greater crowds than he. On October 6, 1968, he married Miss Mary J. Palmer, who, with two sons and two daughters, survives. The closing chapter of Praise Papers is entitled "A Pentecostal Translation, the Story of Dr. Keen's Closing Hours, Told by his Wife." He died in his chair with his beloved about him, sharing with him the glory of his triumph through Jesus Christ. His last words, uttered with his expiring breath, were, "How unspeakably precious Jesus has been." The funeral services were held in the chapel of Ohio Wesleyan University, in the presence of a vast multitude. He was buried in Oak Grove Cemetery, Delaware, where his precious dust, mingling with that of Bishop Thomson, and many others whom he knew and loved, shall rest until the dead are raised incorruptible and im-

Wellington Taylor Harvey was born in Perry County, O., December 12, 1829. No man ever had more honorable or devout parents. At an early age he entered Dennison University, Granville, O., and well-nigh completed the classical course. Afterward, while teaching and doing other literary work' he more than finished its curriculum. In 1854 he married Miss Catherine Sigler. They were the parents of two sons and one daughter, who, with their mother, survive him. In 1859 he entered the Ohio Conference, and served the following charges and districts: Fairview, Marietta, Newark, Logan, Walnut Street, Chillicothe; Circleville, Lancaster District, Athens, Jackson; Zanesville District, Chillicothe District, Groveport, Good Hope, Roseville and White Cottage. Failing health in 1891 caused him to ask for a superannuated relation. Thereafter his home was in Zanesville, O. Throughout his Christian life, which began before he was twenty, he was lost to self. He was eminently a man of prayer, and from this exercise went forth, with a shining face, to be a light in the world. He was the personification of modesty and humility. There was about him an atmosphere of love and gentleness which made one think of the beloved disciple John. As a presiding elder good judgment and true manliness were ever manifest. In scholarship he was quite well abreast with his age. He was fairly familiar with the best writers in English literature, and, indeed, with the best authors on all subjects; but the Bible was to him the book of books in a strong sense. In his preaching he was clear, sound, and eminently biblical. All the interests of the Church, left to his watchful care, were well attended to. His coronation came Saturday night, February 29, 1896.

CHARLES ALBERT NAVIOR was born in Jefferson County, O., April 17, 1858. He had deep religious impressions from early childhood, and at eight united with the Church. At twelve he was happily conwith the Church. At twelve he was happing con-verted at Bethel Church, in Harrison County. He entered Scio College in 1870, remaining there until 1873. On October 2, 1873, he married Miss Rebecca Frances Endsley, of Harrison County, two children now surviving with her. His life seemed marked for the ministry from early childhood. In his early for the ministry from early children. In the early manhood he was licensed to presch, and joined the Ohio Conference in 1873. His appointments were: Hebron, Malta, Uniontown, Clarksburg, West Jefferson, Westerville, Harrisburg, Milford Center, Williamsport, Kingston, Carroll, Thornville, Jefferson-ville. As a preacher he had a commanding presence, clear wind and a warm heart and multitudes were a clear mind, and a warm heart, and multitudes were brought to Christ. Perhaps his greatest revival was at Williamsport, but his ministry was crowned with revivals everywhere. Two years ago he was compelled to retire on account of throat trouble. Last year he served a vacant charge for about eight months. Earnestly he desired to be once more with his brethren in the active work, but he has gone, at God's call, to join his many brethren who have crossed over to the Church triumphant. His last affliction was of a few days' duration, and gave his friends much anxiety, though his death came as a surprise. In the evening of December 11, 1895, in the prime of life, he passed to his reward. All the day long he had chided his anxious family that they were doleful. The brightness that lit his face in his deepest sufferings must have been the reflection of the glory upon which he was entering. The chariot came suddenly, and this man of God, who had lived to make the world better, entered with delight upon the glory of heaven.

Foo-Chow Conference.

Daine Gieno line was a native of Ing Ang, and during the Tai-ping rebellion moved with his brother to Iong-bing to engage in business. He was kind, gentle, and diligent. His brother first accepted Christ, and then exhorted him to become a Christian. Daing Gieng Dong was pastor at Iong-bing and baptized him. Not long after he was given exhorter's license, and was sent to Sa-Gaing to assist Ding Kie Hiu. After preaching a while he entered the theological school and finished the course. After graduation he was appointed to Iu-ka. He also served Ciong-hubung and Sung Chiong. Six years ago he was appointed Presiding Elder of Iong-bing District. This is a very mountainous district and difficult to travel, but he cheerfully did his duty. After a short illness, he died on the 22d of the seventh moon, and went to his eternal reward.

tian life, which began before he was twenty, he was lost to self. He was eminently a man of prayer, and from this exercise went forth, with a shining face, to be a light in the world. He was the personification of modesty and humility. There was about him the qualities of one in maturer years. When he left | Hartland Mission. It was a year of many converschool in Foo-Chow he was appointed preacher in charge of the Ka-bok Circuit. He labored faithfully, charge of the Ka-bok Circuit. He labored faithfully, and the church prospered during the two years he was at Ka-bok. The church considering him a man of much promise, he was received on trial in the Annual Conference. We hoped he would live to be a pillar of the faith in China. On his way back from Foo-Chow, after Conference, in 1895, he took cold and suddenly became very ill. No remedies seemed to be of any avail. The Lord took him, alsa, 0, how so soon! The day he died he wept and prayed much, telling the Lord that his work was not done and that telling the Lord that his work was not done and that there was no one to take charge of the circuit to which the bishop had appointed him. Aside from this he was resigned to the will of God and said, "In my heart I have deep peace." He lost no words in speaking of material things, and quietly commended his aged parents, his wife and children to the merciful keeping of the Lord. In his anxiety for the Church he forgot his own affairs. We shall not soon forget his virtues.

HA MINE SENG (Ling Wing Clong in the Foo-Chow Minutes), late Presiding Elder of the Sieng-iu Dis-trict, from earliest childhood shared the lot of the Methodist itinerant, being with his father, the sainted Ha Ciong-ding, while the latter had charge of several districts successively. He early became familiar with the Bible and with our hymns. He was also well known among our Church members, who regarded him as a true disciple of Christ while he was a mere boy. He was but a youth when his father died, and yet the Church soon after appointed him as a preacher of the Gospel. He greatly felt his lack of experience in the management of Church affairs. His mother took great pains in teaching him how to preach and to expound the Scriptures, and impressed upon him the sacredness of his calling. She urged him to be regular in his family devotions and to adopt rigid rules of conduct. To all this he replied, "Very well, mother, very well," and went to his appointment. He never forgot these godly admonitions, and worked diligently, never shrinking back from danger or hardship. He continued his labors for many years without cessation. During the fifth, sixth, and seventh months of 1896 the weather was excessively hot. But having several years since been called of God to the Sieng-iu District, he continued his travels until he was taken ill with fever on the fourth day of the seventh month. On the twentysixth day of the same month he saw in a dream twelve angels clothed in white, who had come to re-ceive him. When he awoke he took leave of his ceive him. When he awoke he took leave of his family, half joyfully, half sorrowfully. His aged mother and his little child wept together at his bedside. At 7 P. M. he entered the heavenly mansions. Missionaries and preachers wept bitterly as they heard of his death.

ALEXANDER GEE was born in Ann Arbor, Mich., May 10, 1828, and died in Pontiac, Mich., March 18, 1896. His early educational privileges, consisting of the district schools, the Ypsilanti High School, and a few months at Albion College, were well improved. He taught several terms in Michigan and about a year in Tennessee previous to entering the ministry. Like his Master, he wrought at carpentry when not engaged in teaching, and this was later serviceable to him in building and improving church Reared in a Methodist home, he was converted at the age of seven, but did not publicly pro-fess religion until fourteen. While attending a fess religion until fourteen. camp meeting he made a complete surrender to the Saviour, and united with the Church. About twenty-one he was licensed to exhort, and afterward received a local preacher's license. Returning from Tennessee in the fall of 1854 he was employed by the Presiding Elder of the Ann Arbor District on sions and accessions to the Church. In the fall of 1856 he was received by the Detroit Conference on trial and was appointed to Oakville Charge. His subsequent appointments were: Lakeport, Port Sanilac, Dryden, Stony Creek, Washington, North Branch, Hunter's Creek, Portsmouth and Wenona (West Bay City), Forest, Oak Grove, supernumerary, Southfield, Flat Rock. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Baker in 1858, and elder by Bishop Morris in 1860. White at Flat Rock his health gave way, and in 1877 he took a superannuated relation. He engaged in business in Carleton until October, 1894 when he removed to Pontiac, where he purchased the home from which he was translated. In his secular affairs he was scrupulously honest, winning the esteem of all, and maintaining his integrity as a Christian citizen in business, political, and social life.

On his twenty-seventh birthday, May 10, 1855, he married Miss Ann Artley, of Canton, Mich., who survives with three children. His pastor writes concerning his closing days: "About two years ago he removed to Pontiac, and as long as strength permitted he was constant in his attendance upon all the services of the church. His presence was always a benediction. . . . He contemplated the approach of death with the joy of faith, and shortly before he died, in response to an inquiry as to his condition, replied, 'I am getting pretty near the goal.' He died triumphantly and almost literally with the songs of Zion on his lips; for just before he finished his course he sung in a clear voice three stanzas of the hymn, 'Alas! and did my Saviour bleed?' and, with his family about him, he passed beyond the veil."

JOSEPH BRADLEY VARNUM was born in Berlin, Ontario, May 19, 1880, and died in Gale, S. Dak., May 26, 1896. His parents, though living in Canada at his birth, were citizens of the United States. grandfather was Colonel Prescott Varnum, of Massachusetts, and his great-grandfather was Commander of the Rhode Island Volunteers during the Revolu-tion. His mother was granddaughter of Colonel Brooks, who was killed by the Indians during the war. In 1848 his parents moved to Metamora, Mich. Here he attended school in a log schoolhouse. Atterward he spent one term at school at Rome then taught two terms, and in 1851 went to Albion, where he spent three years in the seminary. In 1850, when teaching school, he felt constrained to give himself to the service of the Lord and secure for himself a definite religious experience. Trained by a pious mother, he understood the theory of the Christian life, thoughtfully and deliberately made a complete surrender to the will of the divine Master, and at once came into the knowledge that he was a child of God. Almost immediately after his conversion he was made Sunday school superintendent. He was baptized and received into the church at Oxford in July 1850. In 1854, in response to the urgent appeal of the Presiding Elder of Port Huron District, he accepted a local preacher's license, and soon after was appointed to the Forestville Circuit, which extended from Lexington to Bay City, around the shore of Lake Huron. This great circuit he traveled on foot, enduring almost incredible hard-hira ships. During the year eighty-four were received into the church, and classes were formed at Port Sanilac, Cherry Creek, Forestville, Sand Beach, Willow Creek, and Port Austin. That year he walked more than two thousand five hundred miles, held revival meetings, sought out the poor and neg-lected, and was most emphatically a missionary evangelist. In 1855, in the city of Flint, he was received as a probationer into the Michigan Confer-That year the Conference was divided, and he fell into the Detroit Conference. In 1857, at Port Huron, he was received into full connection and ordained deacon by Bishop Waugh. His Conference appointments were; Brockway Mission, Memphis, Rome, Franklin. In 1860 he located and but preach once more his text would be, "Jesus, the went to Missouri to take work in that Conference, same yesterday, to-day, and forever." He held his but, the civil war breaking out, he returned to Michigan and was readmitted to the Detroit Conference in 1861 and appointed to Clarkston. He then served Goodrich, Lainsburg. Here he enlisted as a private in the Second Regiment, Michigan Volunteers. On March 21, 1864, he was wounded in the knee and shot through the hip. In August, 1865, he was mustered out and returned to pastoral labors, serving as follows: North Branch, Rochester, Williamston. At the latter place the country was comparatively new, the people mostly poor, and the membership small. Taking counsel with the brethren, he nerved himself to the task of building a church without money. He went into the woods, helped hew the timbers and get them on the ground, did the planning and worked with his own hands until the building was so far completed that service could be held in it. No minister who has served that church is held in higher esteem than he. In 1871 he went to Southfield; in 1872, to Unadilla. In 1878, on account of failing health, he went West and settled in Iowa, where he lived eleven years. In 1884 he moved to Gale, S. Dak. He was highly corrected where he lived enough a weaken to the respected where he lived, served a number of years as justice of the peace, was a member of the Legislature, and exerted a large influence in shaping the legislation of the State. He married Miss Maroe E. Vibbert, of Clyde, who, with four children, survives him. He was a good man, consecrated to his work. His preaching was practical rather than speculative. He grasped the sublime doctrines of our faith and so poured them out upon the people that souls were converted. He did a good work for the Master. His life was pure, his heart right toward God and man, and he died with the assurance of a glorious immortality.

WILLIAM H. POOLE became a member of the Detroit Conference in 1880, having served Simpson Church, Detroit, the greater part of the preceding year. For thirry years he nad been an honored and successful minister of the Wesleyan Church of Canada. He was converted through the influence of a sister in 1839, at nineteen. The following year of a sister in 1839, at nineteen. The following year he was licensed as a local preacher and at once entered the work which engaged his energies through a long life. The degree of LL.D. was conferred upon him by Syracuse University in recognition of his attainments and unusual mental force. He was, above all, an earnest student of the Scriptures, and his expositions of the word were rich and helpful. He lived a pure life and preached the sufficiency of divine grace to sanctify the heart. He had a strong personality, and all his powers were consecrated to the winning of souls. He was instrumental, under God, in the conversion of thousands. Three hundred in one year were saved through his ministry, and no year passed without the Gospel being in his hands the power of God unto salvation. While he was first and always a preacher, yet his thought often crystallized in forms more permanent than sermons. The Fruits of the Spirit; or, Ripe Grapes; Anger: I's Causes and Effects; The Baptism of the Holy Spirit; History, the True Key to Prophecy, and numerous printed addresses and sermons still continue his ministry His most important literary work was Anglo-Israel, in which he maintains with much eloquence and research that the English-speaking race are the descendants of the ten lost tribes. After his service at Simpson Church he became pastor at Port Here he was stricken with paralysis. Though never fully recovering he was able to do effective work till a second stroke, two years later, gradually deprived him of the power of speech and reduced his strength to feebleness. He was very patient and trustful under his affliction. His heart never ceased to thrill at the thought of preaching the Gospel. A few days before his death, having power to make himself understood, he said that if he could pastor's hand with great earnestness the last time they were together, indicating his desire to com-municate a parting message. When asked if he municate a parting message. When asked if he wanted to say, "Be faithful in preaching the Gospel," he indicated his satisfaction. His death occurred in Detroit, August 7, 1896. The words of the Michigan Advocate of August 15, 1896, are appropriate and just: "Dr. Poole was a stalwart Methodist of the old type, and an ardent believer in the old Methodist usages and doctrines. He was a preacher of much force and power, a vigorous thinker and writer."

ELI WESTLAKE was born in Bloomington, N. Y., in 1819. At eighteen he was clearly converted and immediately joined the church. At nineteen he was made class leader and exhorter, and at twenty he traveled his first circuit under the presiding elder. In 1841 he was admitted on trial in the New York Conference, where he labored till 1844, when he was transferred by Bishop Hedding to the Michigan Conference. The Lyons Circuit was his first ap-pointment there. When the Michigan Conference was divided in 1856 his appointment was within the bounds of the new Detroit Conference. He served Milford Charge, Fentonville, and in 1859 was transferred back to the Michigan Conference, where he remained doing faithful work until 1872, when he was retransferred to the Detroit Conference and stationed as follows: Grand Blanc, Byron, New Haven, and in 1876 he became superannuated. In 1846 he married Miss Mary E. Waterman, of Fentonville, a union that was broken by her death in 1880. After his superannuation he lived in Fentonville, Mich., till 1880, when he removed to Iowa to live with his daughter. No true element seemed lacking in him to mar the symmetry of a complete character. He was unassuming, never seeking the applause of men, yet always ambitious for the glory of God. As a preacher, he was earnest, practical, persuasive. No doubts as to the authority of the Scriptures or the eternal verity of its doctrines ever troubled him or weakened his appeals to sinners. The clear evidence he had of his own salvation and his deep experience in the things of God gave his preaching an unction for which no human eloquence or learning can ever be a substitute. As a pastor, he was cheerful and social, yet always maintained the dignity of his calling. During his last illness, which was somewhat protracted, he was comforted by the Gospel he had preached. His end came February 3, 1896. He was one of the purest and most Christlike spirits of the Detroit Conference. He died well.

Colorado Conference.

EDGAR WHITE was born, in perhaps the year 1861, in Kent, England, not far from the spot where Augustin first set up the cross in Britain. Of his early life and surroundings little is known. It is understood that he was early persuaded of a Saviour's dying love for him, and that he entered upon lay work in the Wesleyan body. In his zeal to more fully fit himself for his calling he entered upon courses of ministerial training, at one time attending the lectures in Spurgeon's Pastors' College. His health failing. he took a sea voyage to South Africa, and returned somewhat improved. But a recurrence of the symptoms and a clear understanding of their nature led him to seek health in our salubrious climate. living in North Denver he was invited to supply the work at Fruita, where he remained for two years. Having joined the Conference he was stationed the next two years at Delta. In these pastorates he was a keen, methodical student, bringing only beaten oil into the sanctuary; a systematic, tireless pastor; a patriotic citizen; a holy man, During this time he wedded an esteemed member of his church. quenchless thirst for a fuller knowledge of the Bible led him to enter the Iliff School of Theology at Denver. In two successive years his eager, accurate soul was introduced to the word of God in its two original tongues. A page of any work presented by him was the mark of the man, accurate, beautiful, spotless. Perfect love was so incarnate in him that one need not ask if he professed it. None knew him but to love him. Student life not being restorative of his health, and his property having been lost in the panic, he deemed it best to take an appointment, and in June, 1895, he was sent to Erie, whither he took his child and faithful wife in high expectation. With too much zeal for his strength he at once entered upon his sacredly morning systematic study and afternoon visiting, with many and exhausting services upon the Lord's Day. Before three weeks had fied, while making a pastoral call, a hemorrhage came upon him, and in almost a moment his earthly life ebbed away. His work was brief but beautiful and His example and memory are precious and inspiring.

EMIL ZIMMER was born December 23, 1842, at Neu Salsa, in Saxony, and died March 3, 1896, on his way to preach at Weissendorf. He entered the ministry in 1871, and served the following charges: Zwickau, Bietigheim, Aurich, Accumersiel, Knuttlinderg, Nagold, Budinzen, Bulach, Ansbach, Leonberg, Saulfeld, and Langenweitzendorf. He was a man of great piety and conscientiousness, who served the Lord and the Church faithfully to the end. He lived in an exceedingly happy union with his wife, Christine, nee Oswald, from Bietigheim, and leaves two sons and three daughters. The memory of this just servant of God is blessed.

Wisconsin Conference.

WILLIAM PAGE STOWE was born in Haverhill, N. H., September 1, 1831, and died in Chicago, January 4, 1896, after an illness of more than two months. In 1843 his parents removed to Wisconsin, where they settled upon a farm near Found du Lac. At seventeen he found redemption in the blood of Christ in his father's chapel. Impressed with a sense that he must preach, and relying upon his own efforts he entered Lawrence University in the spring of 1853, graduating as a member of the second class of the institution in June, 1858. For a time he was class leader of one of the college classes, and often united with other young men in visiting the outlying communities and in preaching in the schoolhouses. In May, 1858, he united with the Wisconsin Conference, and was stationed at Sheboygan, and the two years following at Port Washington; but his health failed, and, at the close of the year, he took a location, accepting the chaplaincy of the Twenty-seventh Regiment of Wisconsin Volunteer Infantry. In 1868, with restored health, he was readmitted into the Conference, and was stationed at Sharon. His subsequent fields of labor were Beloit, Racine, Oshkosh, and Summerfield. Milwaukee. In 1872 he was appointed Presiding Elder of the Milwaukee District, and in 1876 of the Janesville District. At the General Conference of 1890 he was elected one of the Agents of the Western Book Concern. For twelve years he gave himself untiringly to this work. During the years he was in office the Western Publishing House made unparalleled advance in profits and success. In 1892 he took a supernumerary relation, and in 1998 assumed the agency of the Methodist Insurance Association. In 1894 he was appointed Presiding Elder of the Oshkosh District. At the close of the session of 1895 his health gave way. The immediate cause of his death was apoplexy. After the first stroke he remained most of the time un-January, 1896, he passed to his eternal rest. Physically he had a commanding presence. His mental aptitudes were peculiar to himself. Endued with large perceptions, he was able to read men and circumstances easily. Truth stood before him in logical relations, rather than in poetical verities. He was frank yet considerate; he was familiar withwas frank yet considerate; no was faithful without condescending to improper levity. He was a vigorous and logical thinker. His voice was peculiar to himself. At times it would rise from the plaintive to the battle cry of conquest. His nature possessed an undercurrent of pathos, which on occasion would kindle his soul into a flame of enthusiasm. In extemporaneous address he possessed rare power. When some vital question would arise with his quick perception he would grasp the situation and in a brief address electrify his hearers. Above all he was a revival preacher, as seen in the extensive revivals in connection with some of his pastorates— Beloit, Racine, and Oshkosh. Every interest of the Wisconsin Conference was dear to him. He was one of its most useful trustees. The college engaged his heartiest support, not because it was his alma mater or because it conferred upon him in 1871 the degree of Doctor of Divinity, but because he regarded it as the hope of future Methodism in Wisconsin. In 1870 he was chosen visitor to the university, and in 1871 was elected one of its trustees, which relation he held up to his death. With the exception of one year he attended every college Commencement. He was a reserve delegate to the General Conference in 1872, and was until his death a member of that body at every session, leading his delegation four times. In 1859 he married Miss Grace H. Bond. Three children, with their mother, survive to mourn the loss of husband and father. From the character of his disease audible expressions of victory were not what they otherwise might have been. Yet at times conscious and lucid moments returned, in which he gave striking evidence of the power of religion to conquer the fear of death and cause the soul to triumph in the near approach of immortality.

WILLIAM WILLARD was born in Stockbridge, Mass., August 24, 1818, and died at Gibbon, Neb., December 2, 1895. In his infancy his parents removed to Volney, N. Y. Subsequently he lived with his grandfather at Victoria, N. Y., where at twenty he was converted. A few years later he felt a persistent call to the ministry. He married Miss Huldah A. Benedict in 1826. Nine years later he removed to Wisconsin. Here, soon after, he was appointed class leader. In 1847 he joined the Rock River Conference. His first appointment was Aztalan Circuit, and his subsequent charges were Walker's Point, Oconomowoc, Watertown, Omro, Liberty Prairie, Oneida Indian Mission, Depere and Wausau. For one year he was missionary of the Western Freemen's Friend Society in Green Bay. In 1869 he took a superannuate relation. He was a good man, a worthy preacher and pastor. He believed in tull sanctification and the constant baptism of the Holy Ghost, and preached the same in word and life. This made him a great benediction to the charges he served. He gathered hundreds of precious souls into the Church. He was fully ripened for immortality himself untiringly to this work. During the Years he was in office the Western Publishing House made unparalleled advance in profits and success. In 1892 he took a supernumerary relation, and in 1998 assumed the agency of the Methodist Insurance Association. In 1894 he was appointed Presiding Elder of the Oshkosh District. At the close of the session of 1895 his health gave way. The tional advantages were the common school and one year's study in Lewiston Academy, N. Y. He was converted in Green Bay in a prayer meeting in January, 1841, at once united with the church, and was received into full membership in July, 1841. He married Miss Clarinda S. Wright in 1842. One son, so well known to the members of the Wisconsin Conference, Rev. Eugene Hayward, died a few months before his father. He received license to exhort before his probation closed, and was licensed to preach in 1848. He went to labor on the Lowell Charge in 1848 under the presiding elder, joined the Charge in 1848 under the presiding elder, joined the Conference in 1849, was ordained deacon by Bishop Ames in 1852, and elder by Bishop Baker in 1859. He served the following charges: Green Lake, Plover, Waupaca, Dartford, Metomen, Berlin, Waupaca again, Wausau, Sheboygan. He then served the Stevens Point District for four years. He then became pastor successively of Omro, Brandon, Clemensville, Menasha, Utica, Eureka and Waukann. He was supernumerary from 1882 to 1888, but preached three years of this time at Winger or the steries of the stime at Winger or the steries of the stime at Winger or the stime at Wing neconne. He was made effective in 1889 and was appointed to the Wautoma Charge. In 1891 he was appointed to the Wautoma Charge. In 1891 he was appointed to the Waupaca Circuit, where he remained four years. In 1895 he was granted auperannuated relation and removed to Waupaca. Few men so undervalued themselves and their labors as did he, yet he was a man of strong convictions and pointed in the defense of the right. His earnestness for the salvation of souls was clearly marked in all his lubors. He was consecrated to the great work of trying to save others. fatal disease became more severe he frequently said to his pastor: "My work, I think, is done." A few days before the end came a fearful darkness came upon him, and the conflict was severe. When the cloud broke such rapture as is seldom known came to him. "O," said he, "I did not think it was so glorious to die. To think that a sinner saved by grace should come to such a glory as this. Satan thought he was going to gain the victory, but he failed to count of Jeaus; he did not count on the great Captain." He passed away August 7, 1896.

WALTER MoFARLANE was born in Glasgow, Scotland, May 2, 1819, and died at Evansville, Wis., February 9, 1896. His parents were upright people, belonging to the Presbyterian Church, and he was carefully trained by them in the Christian faith. He was religiously inclined from infancy. and when very young determined to be a minister. He grew to manhood and married in Scotland. Finally he came to America and settled in Wisconsin. He entered the Wisconsin Conference in 1856, and served the following charges from one to three years each: Cascade, Oconto, Vinland, Two Rivers, Empire, Horicon and Juneau, Byron, Winneconne, Bristol, Sylvania, Granville, and Neosha. He spont twenty-one years in the effective ministry, and for one year his work was interrupted by ill health. He superannuated in 1876. He was hospitable and philanthropic. He was especially faithful to the benevolent collections of the Church regardless of his salary, and often contributed from one fifth to one fourth the whole amount. In his last years, with income sadly lessened by the fault of another, flowers and fruits were freely sent from his garden to the sick, the poor, and personal friends. In his last sickness he seemed to have a premonition that the end was near. Frequently he said, "I am better." "I am near the journey's end." He made all preparations and then calmly awaited for his summons. These words among others well characterized his apiritual state: "The blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth me from all sin." His final departure was as peaceful as a weary child sinking into sleep. Christ remembered his oft-ex-pressed wish and let him depart on the Sabbath, at just the hour when his weary servants have ended their messages and ask for rest. "So he giveth his beloved sleep."

Russell P. Lawton was born in New York city in 1809, and died at Lincoln, Neb., September 20, 1895. He came to the Territory of Wisconsin in 1844. As a deacon he joined the Wisconsin Conference at its first session in 1848, and was stationed at Delavan. In 1850 he was ordained elder and appointed to Waukesha, and then to Reed Street, Milwaukee. He successfully served eighteen charges in the Wisconsin Conference before his health failed and he was honorably supersunuated. The meek and quiet spirit of his wife ascended from East Troy, Wis., July 31, 1861. The Holy Ghost found in his heart and will a quick and genial soil. He was a Christly man, of St. Paul's type, who let the mind of Christ richly dwell in him. He was a good and faithful servant, whose pound gained five pounds and his Master's approhation. The fatherly side of God, the brotherly side of Christ, and the motherly side of the blessed Holy Comforter were the three never-to-be-forgotten points of his theology. By the Holy Ghost his sermons were so clothed that sinners and saints were charmed into the heaveniy life. His presence and preaching were a benediction.

Erie Conference.

James H. Herron was born in New Richmond, O., May 13, 1829. He received his early education at his father's seminary in Cinennati, and graduated from the Ohio Wesleyan University in 1853. He was Professor of Ancient Languages in Herron's Seminary from 1853 to 1854. In 1854 he married Miss S. Josephine Fuller, of Delaware, O. The same year he entered Cincinnati Conference. He was president of Springfield College from 1862 to 1867, and of Willoughby College from 1862 to 1867, and of Willoughby College from 1862 to 1870. In 1870 he entered the Eric Conference. In 1871 he received the degree of Doctor of Divinity from Springfield Collegiate Institute. In 1891 he became a superannuate. His pastorates were: Girard, Pa.; Westfield, N. Y.; North East, South Oil City, Tenth Street, Eric; Silver Creek, N. Y.; State Street, Mcadville; and Girard, Pa. There were united in him many elements of strength. He was of scholarly habits and a lover of truth. Genuineness was the primal element in his character. His convictions of duty were strong, and he never flinched in the performance of it. As a preacher his sermons were thoughtful, clearly expressed, and eminently calculated to build up Christian character. His everyday walk was a sermon. His estimable wife took her departure to the better land in May, 1895. Four children survive. He died September 28, 1895.

Levi O. McElhattin was born near Mount Joy, Pa., October 10, 1857. He was converted and joined the church in 1874, immediately entering into the activities of church work. On October 6, 1877, he married Mary M. Hahn. In 1884 he was licensed to exhort. His consistent piety and effective exhortations soon attracted the attention of the church; and that his field of usefulness might be extended in 1890 he was licensed to preach, and the same year was admitted to the Eric Conference. He was ordained a deacon by Bishop Newman, and an elder by Bishop Goodsell. His first appointment was Putneyville Charge, which he served for five years. At the session of 1895 he was appointed to Glen Hazel. Though with impaired health, he took hold of the work with a masterly hand and won the esteem of his people. In the midst of his labor his overtaxed frame gave way, and on May 25, 1896, the spirit of the good man found rest. He was a true minister of Jesus Christ, a good preacher, and faithful pastor. He enjoyed the unshaken confidence of all the people among whom he lived. The loved ones who survive him-are rich in the heritage of a name made honorable in efficient service to God and mankind.

Des Moines Conference.

ELIJAH KENDALL was born near Cincinnati February 27, 1828, and died near Rushville, Neb., February 28, 1896. He was converted at seven, received license to preach in 1851, was admitted on trial in the Upper Iowa Conference in 1860, and was ordained an elder by Bishop Scott in 1864. He deand traveled a few years as a local preacher under the elder. His work was mostly in the Des Moines Conference. In 1885, his health failing, he took a superannuated relation, settling on a homestead in superannuated relation, settling on a homestead in Nebraska. He married, February 2, 1848, in Coles County, Ill., Miss Lucretia Thornbrue. Six children, with their mother, remain, three of whom are in the itinerant ranks. He was a useful preacher of the word. His charges always bore the impress of his cementing touch. His life on earth closed peacefully and was upborne with faith.

DAVID PECHIN was born in Desandans, a village in the Department of Doubs, France, March 23, 1809, and died near Pleasantville, O., December 16, 1895. He was converted in 1832 near Cauton, O. He was ordained a descon in 1841 by Bishop Roberts. He became a member of the Allegheny Conference of the Wesleyan Methodist Connection October 1, 1848, and for about twenty-five years was a traveling preacher in that body, laboring for the most part on the Western Reserve in Ohio and in western Pennsylvania. In 1859 he removed to Iowa, where in 1869 he was admitted as an elder to the Des Moines Conference, and served a brief time as assistant pastor on the Corydon Circuit, but owing to failing health was compelled to retire. His name appeared on the supernumerary list until 1875, when he became supersunuated. He was twice married, both wives preceding him to the better world. Three of his sons were in the civil war, and he was a loyal American citizen. His life was that of a worthy Christian, and his death at the ripe age of eighty-seven was a triumph of grace.

CYRUS SMIPH was born in Wayne County, O., December 27, 1839, and died at Woodbine, Ia., January 26, 1896. He was raised on a farm, and his educational opportunities were limited. In 1861 he enlisted in the Sixteenth Ohio Infantry, serving three years. He was converted at Morganza Bend, La., in the summer of 1864. He married at Canaan Center, O., August 28, 1863, Miss Amanda C. Bessey. Of three children born to them all are living. He filled various official positions in the Church before entering the ministry. He united with the Des Moines Conference in 1875, and served with success the following appointments: Fontanelle, Dallas Center, Dow City, Missouri Valley, Emerson, Carroll. Owing to failing health while at Carroll he was given a supernumerary relation in 1889, and the following year was superannuated. After his superannuation he was able to do some evangelistic work, assisting where he was needed. In 1892 he removed to Woodbine, at which place "he fell on sleep," and "was not; for God took him."

DUGALD THOMPSON, one of the charter members of the Des Moines Conference, was born in Glasgow, Scotland, of Presbyterian parentage, June 28, 1828, and died in Des Moines, Ia., May 18, 1896. At twelve he, with his parents, immigrated to this country. They settled at Ithaca, N. Y. He was converted at twenty, while a student at Dickinson College. He was received into the church and baptized by Dr. B. H. Nadal, in 1849. He was licensed to preach in 1851, while in attendance at the Concord Theological School. He was admitted at the church and the chiral in the Object Conference in 1857. dencon by Bishop Morris, and assigned to New Albany. Removing to lowa, he took work on the Muscatine Circuit. He joined the lowa Conference and united with the church. In 1857, he entered in 1857, and was admitted to run connection in 1859. He was ordained elder by Bishop Morris in 1860, at the organization of the Western Iowa Connection was the organization of the circuits and staference. He spent thirty years on circuits and sta-tions and a term as presiding elder. He was a painstaking, conscientious worker for the Master. Important trusts were committed to him, and he never betrayed the confidence reposed in him. In 1868 he married Miss E. A. Doty, of Adel, Ia., who with three children remains to cherish the memory of the precious dead. He was a lifelong student, pursuing his studies with unwearied fidelity throughout his ministry. He recorded for permanent preservation with his Conference historian this fact; "The best act of my life was when I gave my heart to God and my life to the Methodist Episcopal Church. I prize my Church relations above every earthly consideration, and intend by divine help to remain faithful to the end." His last days were peaceful. Death came in an instant. It found him ready. He heard his Master's appro-

North Carolina Conference.

WILLIAM H. SMITH was born about the year 1839. He was converted when twenty years old, and entered the North Carolina Conference in 1877, in which body he continued and ended his work. He which body he continued and ended his work. He served the following appointments: High Point, Laurinburg, High Point again, Oberlin, Raleigh, Laurinburg again, Advance, Charlotte, and had received his third appointment to High Point. Soon after the last Conference he found his health fast declining, on account of consumption, and retired to his home in the mouth of January, cherishing the hope of soon recovering. But his labors were ended, and he grew gradually worse until, on May 20, 1896, he passed away.

WILLIAM H. HAIRSTON was born in the year 1851, was converted when about twenty, entered Conference in the year 1885, and died September 14, 1896. He was a successful pastor, always leading his congregation and particularly caring for the children. He served the following charges: Summerfield, He served the following charges: Summerfield, Guilford, Reidsville, Maxton, Wilmington, Raleigh, and Goldsboro. Thus he closed up his earthly career and entered the presence of the Master. His death was exultingly triumphant. He spoke of shining ones about his deathbed, awaiting his translation.

Central German Conference.

HENRY BUDDENBAUM was born on October 28. 1886, in Holzhausen, Prussia. He came to America in 1861, and was soon after converted and joined the church at Cincinnati. Feeling called to the ministry, he spent three years preparing himself in German Wallace College. In 1865 he was sent as assistant on the Lansing Mission, Michigan District. The following year he was sent as supply to Bay City. The same year he was received by the Central German Conference, serving successively the following charges: Raper Chapel, Cincinnati; Pittaburg, Cleveland, Grand Rapids, Roseville, Goshen, Kendallville, Lawrenceburg, Ann Arbor, Delaware, Berea, and Newark. In 1891 he was compelled to ask for a superannuated station, being broken in health. He removed with his family to Bay City, Mich., where, after five years of bodily suffering, he died in great peace and entered into the rest of the people of God.

August Gerlach was born August 6, 1831, in Hainrode, Prussia, and was a member of the Evan-the ministry. His first work was Milan, where eighty were converted and united with the church. work until 1891. His last years were spent in Chicago, where he died July 27, 1896, in great peace. His appointments were: Palestine, Milan, Kendallsville, Greencastle, Madison, Lawrenceburg, Mount Vernon, Huntingburg, Cincinnati, Pomeroy, Columbus, Bucyrus, Marine City, Kendallville, Columbus, Bucyrus, Delhi, and Montague.

Northern German Conference.

CHRISTIAN GEBHARD was born April 29, 1829, at Pferdsfeld, Rheinpreussen, Germany. In 1854 he came to this country, and was converted and united with our Church. In 1858 he returned to Germany, and was the means of a great awakening in his native town. In 1860 he returned to this country and settled in Chicago. Here he married Catherine Schuh. After ten years she died, and in 1871 he snarried Wilhelmina Klitzke. He was full of ardor married Wilhelmina Klitzke. He was full of ardor for his Master, and was soon honored with the offices of class leader, exhorter, and local preacher. In 1573 he entered the itinerancy and served the following charges: Benton and Glencoe Mission, one year: Nora Springs Mission, three years; Beaver Falls Mission, three years; Danville Mis-sion, three years, and Beaver Falls Mission again, three years. On account of ill health he was com-pelled to retire, and settled at Rennville, Minn., where he lived till his death. He was clear and scriptural in his experience. He was a good acriptural in his experience. He was a good preacher, and always had a message from God to dying men. He died January 18, 1896, in Christian faith, full of hope for the future.

East Tennessee Conference.

GEORGE W. BRANNER was born August 6, 1858, and died, after a short illness, at Glade Springs, Va., June 80, 1896. But little is known of his early history other than that while a mere child he early history other than that while a mere child he was sold as a slave and carried South. In early manhood, after the close of the war, he came to Tennessee. At the opening of the Morristown School he and his wife entered as students. In 1888 he united with our Church, and in the fall of the same year joined the East Tennessee Conference. Every that time till his death he saved ence. From that time till his death he served effectively various charges. While a student he effectively various charges. While a student he was earnest and studious. He was a man without Faithful in preaching the word he won many souls for Christ.

Indiana Conference.

JOHN WALLS was born in Breckinridge County, Ky. July 16, 1818, and died in Bedford, Ind., January 7, 1896. When quite young his parents moved to Orange County, Ind., where, in 1887, he married Mary Ann Morin, who lived but a short time after marriage. On December 18, 1845, he married Amanda Lee Purcell in Spencer County, Ind., who died January 29, 1876. Seven children are left to mourn their loss. His early life was spent on a farm. Later he was engaged in flat-boating from Troy, Ind., to New Orleans. He was a born leader of the product of the seven had a leader of the leader of men, not self-chosen, but chosen of others because of his commanding presence and his manliness of character. Early in life he was chosen, because of his sterling worth, by an admiring constituency to represent his county in the State Legislature, where he served two terms. He was converted and united with the church in his hoyhood, and at once became an aggressive leader in Christian work. Feeling a call to the ministry, he served as a local preacher for a number of years. In 1854 he entered

French Lick, Bruceville, Carlisle, Putnamville, Prairieton, Washington, Bedford, Mount Vernon, Evansville; Ingle Street, Harrodsburg, and Helton-ville. He served three terms as presiding elder on the Greencastle, Mitchell, and Rockport Districts, the Greeneaste, Mitchell, and Rockport Districts, and proved himself eminently qualified for the position. He was distinguished for executive ability, was shrewd and tactful in his management of men, and was great as an organizer. More than in any other way his superiority was illustrated by his goodness of soul. His life of integrity was a living epistle known and read of all men. He never indulged in bitterness of soul toward any human had dulged in bitterness of soul toward any human being. He was as gentle as a woman and as loving as a child. He was fearless in his denunciation of sin, but at the same time ardent in his love for the sinner; and so the wickedest of the wicked respected him. He was free from false sanctity, was jovial in his spirit, warm-hearted in his friendships, and at the same time dignified in his ministerial bearing. Such a life is worth the living. It is like "precious ointment poured forth," a blessed heavenly benediction. Truly we may say, "A prince and a great man hath this day fullen in Israel."

JOSEPH A. CULLEN was born in Mount Union, Pa., October 8, 1848. In early life he gave himself to Christ, being baptized in his thirteenth year; but it was not until he was twenty-one that he experienced the joy of conscious salvation. Ho joined the Northwest Indiana Conference in 1876. He was pastor of the following charges: Chauncy Mission, Colfax, Camden, Zionville, Boswell, Williamsport. He then spent three years in Minnesota in the active work. Returning to Indiana he entered DePauw University as a student of divinity, graduating from the Theological School after three years' study. He immediately took work in the Indiana Conference, being stationed in West Indianapolis. Under his ministry there the church prospered, souls were converted, and the beautiful building from which he was buried was erected. He afterward, though in failing health, served Kingsley Church, in Evans-ville. Unable longer to prosecute his work he took a supernumerary relation. He had a passion for preaching the Gospel. His rich experience of divine mercy led him to believe that all men might be saved, and to proclaim God's message to the lost was the joy of his heart. Naturally sensitive and combative, he became, under grace, gentle, patient, forgiving, charitable. His long afflictions and the disabilities incident thereto were borne with unwearied He was, especially in his later years, a patience. He was, especially in his later years, a preacher of more than ordinary power, apt in illus-tration and full of unction. In March, 1880, he mar-ried Miss Minnie Atkinson. On Sunday, September 29, 1895, he died in full view of the promised inheritance. A good man, full of faith, rich in grace, upborne by the hope of eternal joy, has entered upon the wider ministry of the skies.

MILES Woods was born December 15, 1886, at New Albany, Ind. At eighteen he attended a revival meeting in McKendree Church, New Albany, where he became convicted, being converted ten days later. When he joined the church a deep impression was made on the young men of the community, and several of his associates were led to consider their religious condition. Two years later he was renewed in religious experience. He married Miss Martha Patterson October 25, 1869, who, with four children, survives him. He entered the Indiana Conference in 1859, his first charge being Chestnut Hill. After laboring in the army as chaplain he returned and served many charges, being appointed to McKendree at the Conference of 1895, where he had been converted and entered the church, and from which he was translated to the Church triumphant August 18, the Indiana Conference, and acted the part of a 1896. He was a man of pure character. He profaithful itinerant for more than forty years. He fessed and taught heart purity as a present, definite served the following charges: Gentryville, Leesville, experience. He trusted in the Lord implicitly, and preached with a fervency that carried conviction comfort, and witnessed his triumph over death to his hearers. He was instrumental in leading To one of his ministerial brethren, who knew him to his hearers. He was instrumental in leading hundreds to Christ. In the thirty-seven years of his ministry the good done by this faithful preacher cannot be estimated by hunan arithmetic. He did not seek distinction, but took up the work assigned him as from the Lord, and went forth in his name to win souls for his kingdom. We expect to meet him in heaven with a joyful throng who but for him had not been there.

LEALDES FORBES was born in Ohio, near the site of the Mismi University, December 17, 1812, and died at Leroy, Ill., May 23, 1896. He joined the church in 1824, was heensed to preach in Septem. ber, 1838, at Greencastle, Ind., and entered the Indiana Conference October 28, 1839. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Roberts in 1841, and elder in 1843. His first circuit was Spencer, with twentyeight appointments, which he managed to fill in twenty-seven days. He is now buried within the bounds of this circuit, from whence he will be awakened in the morning of the resurrection. Nearly all the charges in his early ministry were of his ministry, and some of his charges were: Brown Mission, Winnamack Mission, Springville, Orleans, New Lebanon, Cynthiana, Palestine Mission, Putnamville, Moorefield, Hanover, New Philadelphia, Point Commerce, and Clark's Prairie. He was an exceedingly genial man, of deep piety, tender hearted, and wholly devoted to his work. He specially studied the doctrines of the Church, and knew full well how to set them forth and defend them. He was intimately acquainted with both Strauge and Armstrong, who will forever stand at the head of Indiana Methodism. He knew Bishop Roberts well, and gathered inspiration from h. life and nimistry. And Ruter, Wiley, Ames, Simpson, Berry, Havens, Eddy, Dailey, Terrell, Tarkington, Wood, Gillett, Amasa Johnson, Good, Kiger, and Lynch, fallen and crowned before him, were some who were in the same army in Indiana during his ministry. His Methodist lineage ran back to the beginning of the denomination's history in this country. It was his pride that his grand-father made the deed to the lot on which the old John Street Church was first built. He was married three times; his last wife is still living. It was his boast that he never missed a roll-call. He will respond here no more.

ALEXANDER KENNEDY was born in Ireland, County Londonderry, January 15, 1815, and died in Petersville, Ind., March 25, 1896. He came to America in 1847, and at once declared his inten-tions of becoming a citizen of the United States. He was twice married, the last time to Mrs. Margaret Morrison, who lives to mourn his departure. Feeling that he was called to preach, he left a lucrative employment to enter the ministry. He was converted in Ireland at fifteen in a class meeting, and became a member of the Wesleyan Methodist Church. Of his conversion he often spoke with great joy. Very soon after that event he began to take part in meetings, and while still young was licensed to preach in 1835. For several years he also served the church as a steward. To this office he brought his business knowledge and a strong spiritual life. He was admitted to the Southeast In-diana Conference October 3, 1859. He had diana Conference October 3, 1859. dama Conterence October 3, 1839. He had traveled the year previous under the presiding elder on what is now the Hope Circuit. He was pastor at Mount Auburn, Greenwood, Seymour, Wooster, again at Mount Auburn, and Taylorsville. In 1869, broken in health, he took a superannuate relation. He was ardently religious. In later years he repeatedly referred to his coming dissolution of nature, and called upon his neighbors to come and see him die. As the end neared they did

To one of his ministerial brethren, who knew him through all of his Conference life, he said, on the Friday before his death, "I have been preaching over forty years; I have nothing to take back, no apologies to make for what I've preached." He then spoke of his brethren in the kindest manner, and prayed a great blessing upon them.

DAVID SWARTZ Was born in Floyd County, Ind., September 1, 1828, and died in Bone Gap, Ill., September 5, 1896. He married Miss C. A. Johnson, of Monroeville, Ind., in 1854. The wife and two daughters still survive. He united with the church at thirteen, and three years later was happily converted at a camp meeting on Deer Creek Camp Ground. In 1853 he was licensed to preach in New Albany, and at the same place in 1854 he was admitted on trial in the Indiana Conference. He was effective for twenty-eight years. In 1882 his health failed and he was compelled to superannuate. He served the following charges: Brazil, Lockport, Point Comfort, Morgantown, Waverly, New Philadelphia, Hardinsburg, Orangeville, Leaville, Lancaster, Paoli, Harrodsburg again, Morgantown, Plainfield, Patoka, Petersburg, Oakland City, Maysville, Quincy and Linton. A memorandum left by him showed that he had received over thirty-two hundred into the Church. He was a sweet-spirited man, and during the last eighteen months was confined to his room, but was always cheerful, and in anticipation of the future was triumphant. His last pastor says, "I do not think I was ever nearer heaven than a number of times in his room." He said, "Tell my brethren of the Indiana Conference I love them and hope to meet them in heaven." His life was a success, his death was a triumph, and we doubt not his rest is glorious.

Pittsburg Conference.

Amos P. LEONARD was born in Fayette County, AMOS P. LEONARD was born in Fayette County, 1935, and died at McKee's Rocks, Pa., November 29, 1895. He was brought up to work on the farm and in his father's shop. During the winter he attended the schools of the neighborhood. When about nineteen he was soundly converted, and, as he believed, divinely called to the ministry. This call, however, he earnestly resisted, and went This call, however, he earnestly resisted, and went to Canton, O., where he found employment in the car shops of that city. For nearly five years he worked there, giving but little thought to religious questions. When about twenty-four, in company with a companion he went into an evening prayer meeting. While listening to the prayer of a devout layman the old love was rekindled and the call to the ministry renewed. The struggle was short, sharp, and decisive. He conferred not with flesh and blood, but impugliately began to prepare for his lifework but immediately began to prepare for his lifework. The church very soon recognized his sterling merit, and on the eighth day of May, 1859, he was given license to exhort. His license to preach was dated February 11, 1860, and at the Pittsburg Conference held in March of that year he was admitted on trial. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Janes in 1863, and elder by Bishop Morris in 1865. In April, 1865, he received a commission in the Christian Commission, his work taking him to the following places: Philadelphia, Baltimore, Richmond, Castle Thunder, and Libby Prison. In 1866 he married Miss Clarissa A. Hunter, of Greensburg, Pa. He served the following charges: New Florence and Bolivar, Farmington, Elderton, Burrell and Apollo, Marchand, Saltsburg, Indiana, Butler, Ligonier, Jacob's Creek, Mount Pleasant, Belle Vernon, Verona, Freeport, Janes, Simpson and Hoboken, Jeanette, Morrell-ville, Homer City, McKee's Rocks. He was much more than an ordinary man. As a preacher he excelled this sernous work plear practical and at come, and heard his blessed words of warning and celled. His sermons were clear, practical, and at times elequent. He was passionately fond of history. He had accumulated a large and interesting local traditional history. Naturally retiring, only those closest to him could understand him. He trusted his friends implicitly. His nature was intense. His soul was sensitive, capable of profound emotion and intense suffering. He was always manly and honorable, and his word was to him an oath of confirmation. For some time it had been apparent that his health was failing. Disease had preyed upon his once vigorous body and left him prematurely old. Hopeful he went to his work at McKee's Rocks. A kind people greeted him cordially, and he promised himself the best year's work of his life. A slight abrasion on his hand, received while arranging the furniture of the parsonage, resulted in pyemia, and all that could be done proved of no avail; the end had come. When told by his physician a few days prior to the crisis that he was dangerously ill he said, "I do not think so; surely my work is not yet done; . . . how I long to be in my pulpit again, to preach the unsearchable riches of Christ, my Lord!" A few moments before his departure the physician asked him, "What of Christ; what is he to you now?" With a voice that betokened quiet confidence he replied, "I am resting, sweetly resting, on the everlasting arm." A moment later he was not; for the Lord took him.

HARRY STEVENSON FREE was born near Leech burg, Pa., April 14, 1860, and died in Allegheny City January 26, 1896. In 1886 he graduated from Allegheny College, and the same year was admitted on trial in the Pittsburg Conference. His first appointment was Saltsburg Circuit. From 1887 to 1591 he attended the Theological School of Boston University, graduating in 1891, and having in the meantime sup-plied Greensburg for seven or eight months. Immediately after his graduation he was appointed pastor at New Brighton. He served this large congregation faithfully and with large success. At the Conference of 1891 he was appointed to Riverside Church, Allegheny. He found a badly located church, with a small and discouraged membership. He went from house to house, calling on all families, and when they belonged to no church he invited them to his own, saying, "You must have the Gospel, and your children must be taught in the way of the Lord." In this way he soon filled the little church building. The membership took heart, and a new location on California Avenue was secured. Then commenced his extraordinary and exhausting labor in the erection of the new church. As it neared its completion, in 1895, his health failed. He went to the country, hoping that rural quiet would restore him. But the disease was too deeply rooted, and at the Conference of 1895 he was placed on the superannuated list, and left for Southern California. He came back in January to Allegheny, and after about three weeks breathed his last in glorious assurance of the better life. He was emphatically a man of one work. He devoted all he had to the ministry into which the Lord Jesus had put him. He was a scholar, a student, a faithful preacher, a diligent and faithful pastor, a good husband and father. Has gone to his reward, early crowned. He was lovely in life, sweet in spirit. His wife was the daughter of Dr. S. H. Nesbit.

John Anderson Danks was born of English parents in Venango County, Pa., March 11, 1826, and died in Glerifield, Pa., July 25, 1896. His early life was spent on a farm. In 1840 his parents removed to Pittsburg, where he obtained a fair education, became an iron worker, and also a local preacher. In 1848 he married Miss Anna Reese, who died during their pastorate in Jolinstown. At the outbreak of the rebellion he recruited Company E. of the Sixtythird Pennsylvania Volunteers, and with his regiment marched to the front. He was in many battles, as once captured and carried to Libby Prison, was wounded in the battles of Fair Oaks and the Wilderness, and for his bravery was promoted by successive steps from captain to colonel. After his return from the war he engaged in business in the borough of Etna, Pa., and was elected to the Legislature in 1866. Prior to his admission to the Conference he built, and served with success, the Middlesex Church, of the Brownsville Charge. He joined the Pittsburg Conference in 1870, and was appointed to the Brownsville Charge, which he served for two years. His fol-lowing appointments were: Marchand, Indiana, Connellsville, Second Church, Johnstown; Taren-tum, Denny, Pittsburg, Mount Washington, Pittsburg. He was supernumerary four years, he then was made effective and appointed to Glenfield in 1891, where his labors ended with his life. He was a toiler in the vineyard. He gave little heed to the customary clerical diversions, but devoted his time and thought to his church and people. He built the splendid church in Indiana, of which his predecessor, M. J. Sleppy, had hid the foundation. He also built the Denny Church, of Pittsburg, Pa. He had revivals on wort if not all his charges and many revivals on most, if not all, his charges, and many will rise up to call him blessed. His genial nature made him a popular guest in the homes of his parishioners. He was a good preacher, free from cant and sensationalism. He preached, not mysteries, nor philosophies, but simple Gospel truth, in a plain and practical manner, and his word was with power and in demonstration of the Spirit. He was a model of punctuality. As a singer, possessing a voice of great compass and power and yet marvelously sweet and pathetic, he was much sought after by citizen and soldier gatherings, near and far. He died at his post. His last conversation was upon the subject of eternity, into the mysteries of which he humbly trusted he was prepared to enter. He felt that he was being closely and constantly shadowed by the grim conqueror, and expected that his departure would be, as it proved, without warning. His last words were, "Now, then, I am ready," as with sermon and satchel he was about to start for his distant appointment. His last act was to tender a word of comfort to a neighbor in distress, when he fell to the floor and his spirit went up to God. He was borne to his long home in a terrific electrical storm, strangely suggestive of the stormy scenes of his martial career. But ere the grave was reached the sun shone out again, and all that was mortal of John A. Danks was peacefully laid to rest by his wife and three children, there to await the reveille of the morning.

Holston Conference.

DAVID SHIELDS HODDEN was born February 28, 1848, in Sevier County, Tenn., and received his education at Princeton, N. J. At a meeting held in Sevierville, in 1867, he was converted and united with the church. Not long thereafter he received license to preach, and in 1875 joined the Holston Conference, of which he remained a member until his death, except two years spent in the South Kansas Conference. He served many of the best circuits in the Conference, some of them being the Sevier, the Clinton, the Knox, and the New Salem. A number of years he spent in station work in some smaller towns. As a man he was retiring, broad in spirit, and generous in his affections. As a preacher he was logical and forceful. Few in the Conference were his superiors; none were more faithful in preparation and more fearless in utterance than he. He was eminently successful in evangelical labor, and many of the leading members to-day in the charges which he served were led to the cross under his ministry. At the Conference of 1895 he was appointed to the Fair Garden Circuit. With great feebleness he went to the circuit. The zeal which characterized his ministry glowed brightly, and already he was having promise of a successful year, when he was prostrated. He was taken to the home of his childhood, where, after lingering a few weeks, he died in the faith. He leaves five children, who mourn his loss. Only a few weeks after his death his wife also passed away.

ALBERT G. WATEINS WAS born in Jefferson County, Tenn., May 5, 1818, and died in Hawkins County, Tenn., November 9, 1895. When quite young he completed a collegiste education and studied law. Soon afterward he was elected to represent his county in the State Legislature, serving two terms. He was then elected to represent his district in the United States Congress, serving four terms with credit. On August 30, 1839, he married Miss Louisa Britrain, of Kentucky, who died in 1885. He mar-ried Miss Lucretia Caldwell December, 1886, who still survives him. In 1865, at Panther Springs, Tenn., he was most gloriously converted and immediately began to pray in public. Before the meeting closed he delivered his first exhortation to his neighbors, urging them to turn to the Lord. Soon threafter he received license to pract, and joined the Holston Conference in 1866. He traveled Mossy Creek, Morristown, Dandridge, Knox, Jacksboro, Fincastle, and Rutledge Circuits with great acceptability. While on the Rutledge Circuit the acceptability. While on the Rutledge Circuit the second year his health failed, and he was compelled to take a superannuated relation. He was a good student, and was well versed in the Bible and other books. He always had something new and interesting to say. He was a man of deep piety, a popular preacher, a good revivalist, and an excellent pastor. For several years he was a great sufferer, but never complained of his lot, rejoicing in the grace that sustained him. His strength gradually failed, and quietly, yet victoriously, he passed to his reward, respected and beloved by all.

S. B. Scott was born in western New York November 3, 1829, and died at Oliver Springs, Tenn., January 6, 1896. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Janes September 8, 1867, joined the Holston Conference in October, 1877, and was ordained elder by Bishop Simpson October 2, 1882. He served the following charges: Huntsville, Scarborough, Jamestown, Sunbright, Crossville, Oliver Springs. He was industrious because he was good. He always impressed his people with his profound piety. He was of spotless character. He had a correct view of life, and that was to glorify God and to better the world. He lived for others, and not for himself. He was a model pastor.

Daniel Bradley Lawton was born in the western part of New York June 5, 1814, and died near Keuka, Fla., May 12, 1896. He was powerfully converted when only twelve years old, and began to preach in his eighteenth year. He commenced his ministry in the old Black River Conference, and for over sixty-four years was a member of the itinerant ranks. He was a man of heroic courage, profoundly versed in the doctrines of the word of God as expounded by Wesley and the early Methodist fathers. As a preacher he was full of the unction and power of the Holy Ghost. His experience was childlike, but deep, and constantly enriched and sweetened by communion with Christ. For many years he was a great sufferer from physical infirmity, and also from the embarrassments of poverty; but he was sweet-spirited and full of joyful expectation of the glory awaiting the faithful followers of the Lord Jesus. He died in great peace.

E. L. FILLMORE was born in Champaign, Ill., June 11, 1864. At fifteen he graduated from the high school, and was preparing for college when his health failed. With his parents he removed to Minnesota in 1882, and settled at Big Lake. Here he married in 1886 Miss Ella B. Parrett, who, with three children, survives him. He was converted in 1887, and joined the church. In 1889 he removed to South Dakota, engaged in farming, and also attended Pierre College. Having felt from his conversion that he was called to the ministry he joined the South Dakota Conference in 1891, and was appointed to Heckla Charge. He remained in this place two years and was then appointed to Langford. His labor on these charges was hard, as he had to preach three times on Sundays and face the terrible blizzards of the winter. His health failed and he moved to Tennessee in the fall of 1894, and was appointed to Hill City Charge, where he was completing his second year when called to his reward. He had also completed two years in the School of Theology of Grant University, and expected to graduate next May. He died at Hill City August 12, 1896. Although he had been in the South only two years he had gained a large place in the hearts of the people, and will be greatly missed.

A. J. Greer was born in Kentucky in December, 1832, and died November 20, 1895. In 1864 he married Miss Elizabeth Hollnday, who survives him. His ministerial life was long and useful. In 1856 he was licensed to preach. He joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and was ordained deacon by Bishop Andrew. Soon the civil conflict broke out. Like many other heroic preachers in East Tennessee he bore his share in the sufferings of those who remained loyal to the government. When the clouds of war were lifted he met the brethren who were organizing the Holston Conference at Athens, Tenn., and there on June 1, 1865, he was ordained elder and received into the Holston Conference. For many years he preached with blessed results the Gospel of reconciliation. The people hung upon his ministry, and loved him for his noble qualities and untiring zeal. Many in the last day will rise up and call him blessed. He held various offices of public trust, but never dimmed the luster of his Christian character. As a man of honor, integrity, and sterling worth he lived above suspicion, and preserved the spotless reputation that was freely accorded him as a minister of Jesus Christ. His last days were days of peace. For him death had no terrors. He looked with joy to his everlasting reward in the presence of his Redeemer and Friend.

WILLIAM C. GRAVES Was born August 13, 1805. and when fifteen joined the church as a seeker of religion. Two years later he was converted and appointed class leader; the following year he was licensed to exhort; and in 1834 he was admitted to the Holston Conference on trial. When the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, withdrew he, like all the Methodist preachers of that section, went with the new organization; but when the old Church was reorganized he reentered her fold and labored for reorganized he reentered her fold and labored nor her success. During the war, and that period worse than war which followed, he was a peacemaker, bending all his energies to promote harmony between his brethren. During his ministerial life he served sixteen years as presiding elder; edited for tour years The Religious Intelligencer; and was twice elected to the General Conference. When the East Tennessee Conference was organized he was one of the white members of the Holston Conference who helped to make the new Conference possible. His best work in this connection was doubtless the founding of the Morristown Normal Seminary. He never lost his interest in that work after he returned to his own Conference. The students of the school showed their appreciation of their old friend by walking four miles to attend his funeral in a body. As a preacher he was clear and forceful, his style being conversational. While not a great revivalist, he was nevertheless very successful in winning souls to Christ, and many throughout east Tennes-see, western North Carolina, and southwestern Virginia were converted under his minister. ginia were converted under his ministry. He was a faithful pastor; few men have prayed in more east Tennessee homes than did he. He was a man who passed through great afflictions. Six times he went to the graveyard with his dead-his wife and five who were Presbyterians. He felt at once a call to children. Within six weeks he buried his wife and two grown children, but his spirit maintained its same trustful mood. An evidence of his self-control was seen at the burial of his son. There was no minister present, and, after prayer by a layman, he himself delivered the funeral address. His long and useful life ended January 29, 1896. He was in failing health for three years. From May, 1895, he grow worse, and finally, through great suffering. came to his death. His patience was a wonder. His disease gave him almost constant pain, but never one word of complaint or impatience escaped his lips. He talked of dying and of heaven as one talks of his worldly plans for the morrow. Some of the ministers at his funeral had been associated with him for more than fifty years. Sixty-four years was he a Christian and sixty-two years a preacher of the Gospel. Splendid record of a noble man! But his life is not ended; it will go on in influence here and yonder.

JUSTUS M. HINMAN was born January 12, 1818, in Redfield, N. Y. While yet an infant his parents moved to Westfield, in the same State. Both were stanch Methodists, and the doctrines of the Church were instilled into the mind of their boy from infancy. When fourteen or fifteen he was soundly converted. A few years later he received license to exverted. A few years later he received license to exhort, and still later was made a local preacher. He would have joined the itinerant ranks before he did, but his father's health failed and the straitened circumstances of the family made his help indispensable to their support. In 1836 the family removed to Illinois and settled near Rock River. In 1845 he joined the Rock River Conference and was assigned to Des Plaines Circuit as junior preacher. followed Kankakee and Naperville. In 1847 he was received into Conference and ordained elder. On November 25, 1847, he married Miss Betsey Burlingame. Other appointments were filled by him till 1852, when he located. In the following year with his family he crossed the plains to California. After working at his trade until 1857 he took work under the elder in Sonoma County. In September, 1858, he was readmitted to the itinerant ranks by the California Conference and appointed to Russian River Circuit. His subsequent appointments were: Bodega and Bloomfield, Timbuctoo and Penvalley, Michigan Bluff, Yankee Jim, and others. In 1865 he took a supernumerary relation, but in 1868 was again made effective and for two years filled the H Street Station in Sacramento. He continued effective until 1877, when he again took a supernumerary relation, and two years later was superannuated. He loved to preach, and especially in the earlier years of his ministry great power attended the word spoken by him. His last sermon was preached in Honcut April 12, 1896. On May 1 he had a slight paralytic stroke, lasting for a few moments, after which he declined rapidly. Much of the time from May 28 he was unconscious, with occasional lucid intervals when he would repeat texts of Scripture and comment on them as if delivering a sermon. At last he sank into an unconscious state and so remained until Sunday afternoon, June 14, 1896, when he quietly fell asleep in Jesus at the residence of his son, Rev. L. B. Hinman, in Sheridan. One son and three daughters, with their mother, remain to cherish his memory.

West Wisconsin Conference.

EDWARD BRADFORD RUSSELL was born at Winsted, Conn., July 24, 1822, and died at Great Falls, Mont., September 7, 1896. In 1849 he removed to the Terri-tory of Wisconsin. He then surrendered unconditionally, and said, "My Father, if my life-work is to preach the Gospel of the Son of God, open the way and I will walk therein." He became a member of the Wisconsin Conference in 1854. His first appointment was Hamilton Grove. In 1859 he was transferred to the Southern Illinois Conference, where he remained one year. He entered the West Wisconsin Conference in 1864. His work was in western and northern Wisconsin, some of his apwestern and normern wisconsin, some of his appointments being Broadhead, Albany, Monticello, Providence, Delton, New Lisbon, Hammond, Arkansaw, Galesville, Arcadia, Pepin, Osceola, Mills, Maiden Rock, Louisville, Eau Claire Circuit. In 1892 his health began to fall, and he was obliged to dis-continue his active work, from that time residing at Eau Claire, Wis., and Great Falls, Mont. On May 81, 1896, he preached in Great Falls, Mont., a sermon of great feeling and earnestness. About a week afterward he was stricken with paralysis, from which he never fully recovered, and on September 7 he suffered a second stroke, which proved fatal. He possessed many of the natural qualifications of a successful public speaker and preacher of the Gospel. He often seemed inspired of the Spirit, and spoke words that carried conviction. In 1852 he married Mary Woods, who died in 1858. His second wife was Mary E. Coble, of Wiota, Wis., who died at Eau Claire, Wis., in 1891.

JAMES HARRIS RHEA WAS born in Lincoln County, Tenn., July 18, 1827. He was converted at a Cumberland Presbyterian camp meeting near Maysville, Ark., August 28, 1851. He joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in May, 1852, at Van Buren, Ark., was licensed to preach in October, 1855, and was ordained deacon by Bishop Paine in 1859. He came north to Burlington, In., August 19, 1861, and engaged in teaching in Fairfield, Ia., till June, 1862. He joined the Central Illinois Confer-June, 1862. He joined the Central Illinois Conference at Galesburg, Ill., in September, 1862, and was ordained elder by Bishop Scott. In 1871 he joined the Upper Iown Conference and was stationed at Clinton, Ia., where he remained two years. He Clinton, Ia., where he remained two years. He then spent three years at Dubuque, two years at Cedar Falls, three years at First Church, Davenport, three years at Mount Vernon, three years at Grace Church, Waterloo, one year at Toledo, four years at Marshalltown, and two years at Iowa Falls, when he was returned to Clinton, where his lifework closed. He died May 27, 1896. The Sabbath before his departure he preached in the morning and took reart in the evening service. Only the day before he part in the evening service. Only the day before he conducted a funeral service, and in the evening took part in a union prayer meeting. He was a man of wonderful energy and an indefatigable worker. He has gone direct from busy toil to render the account of his stewardship and to greet many to whom he pointed out the way of life. He leaves a wife and five children. He was a man of commanding presence, positive convictions, and of clear thought. He exercised an influence that was far-reaching. He was honored with the doctorate of divinity. As a preacher he was instructive and earnest. He was generous, sympathetic, and always hopeful. The measure of his years was full. The gold of evening met the dusk of night and the laborer fell asleep.

THOMAS SYLVESTER METCALF, son of J. B. Metcalf, of the Upper Iowa Conference, was born near Lisbon, Ia., May 15, 1867. He was converted at the age of thirteen and was baptized and received into the church by his father. In early manhood he engaged in teaching, and became a student in the State Normal School at Cedar Falls. While thus engaged was signed by his father. Realizing the need of more | extensive preparation he entered Epworth Seminary, and in June, 1894, graduated with honor. In the fall of the same year he was received on trial in the Upper Iowa Conference. He was appointed to Dubuque Circuit, was reappointed in 1895, and was in charge at his death, which occurred at the home of his parents September 18, 1896. He came home a week previous to his death with premonitions that his end was approaching. In the hours before reason was dethroned he gave testimony to his firm persuasion of he truth of the Gospel and his reliance upon the Saviour. His disease soon attacked his brain, and the summons to depart was not long delayed. During his brief life he gave full proof of his ministry. Souls were converted, the church edined, and all the work of a pastor acceptably performed. He would have finished his term of trial and have received ordination and a cordial welcome to membership in the Conference at its present session.

SHERMAN W. Joy was born in Benton County, Ia., near Urbana, October 24, 1870. When eight years old he went with his father's family to Kansas, which was their home for ten years. Then one year they lived in Missouri, after which they returned to Urbana. In revival service held at Urbana in November, 1890, he was converted and united with the church. He attended school at the Tilford Academy in Vinton, graduating in 1893, and the same year joined the Upper lowa Conference. He was appointed to serve Waterloo Circuit, where he remained two years, during the last of which he carried a full course of study in the Seate Wearshall as the conference. ried a full course of study in the State Normal School at Cedar Falls while faithfully attending to his pastoral duties. In 1895 he was appointed to the Plainfield Charge, where he labored most faithfully until taken sick, about six weeks before he died. His sickness was not considered dangerous until the day before his death. When called to the ministry he cheerfully and fully consecrated himself to that work. He had a true appreciation of the responsi-bility of the service. He gloried in work, not for work's sake, but for the work's object. There was such a brotherly cordiality manifested by him that he at once won the friendship of all his associates. Rarely is a pastor more generally beloved by all his community than was he. His was a healthy, vig-orous faith. The essentials of Christian doctrine were all too real to him to admit of speculation. There was no reserve in his consecration and no doubt of God's complete acceptance. He died September 25, 1893, and on Sunday, the 27th, the funeral occurred from the church in which he was converted.

Illinois Conference.

SAMUEL H. MARTIN was born in Hagerstown, Md., May 5, 1818, and died in Concord, Ill., February 22, 1896. He was brought up in the Roman Catholic faith. When nineteen he was converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church in Knox County, O., and six months after was licensed to preach. The first trophy of his ministry was the conversion of his own mother. In 1837 he married Miss Anna Harry, and soon after came to Illinois and supplied Mount Pulaski Circuit. He continued to preach under the presiding elders until 1845, when he settled in Clinton, where his wife died. On September 27, 1848, he married Miss Rebecca Torrea, who survives him. One of his sons is Rev. J. J. Martin, of the Saint Louis Conference. On November 4, 1862, he enlisted in the army, and was commissioned as chaplain of the 107th Illinois Volunteers. He served his country faithfully until failing health compelled him to resign, and December 7, 1868, he was honorably discharged from the service. In 1865 he joined the Illinois Conference, and never failed to answer at roll call. He was humble, faithful, trustful. During his long served acceptably the following charges: San Jose, Heyworth, Chapin, Concord twice, Middletown, ing trust in his Saviour. The religion he had Elkhart, Athens, and Beverly. For three years he was Agent for the Illinois Wesleyan University. In 1874 he became supernumerary and practiced medicine. In 1892 he superannuated and settled in Concord. So long as strength would permit he was active in the work of the Master. During his last months he passed through much suffering, yet bore it all with a calm confidence in God. Almost his last words were: "All is clear." "Be faithful and meet me in heaven." In the days of his strength he had great power over his audiences. His message came from a warm heart and was watered with tears. He doubtless realized the promise, "They that sow in tears shall reap in

He afterward attended De Fauw University and spent about ten years in teaching. He was converted near New Lobanon, Ind., in February, 1863, and ever after was a devoted Christian. On December 80, 1880, he married Miss Mary Williamson at Anderson, Ill., who survives with one daughter. He was received on trial in the Indiana Conference in 1878 and was appointed to the Decktown Circuit, and afterward served the following charges: Freelandville, Alfordsville, Farmersburg. In 1884 he was transferred to the Illinois Conference and stationed at Palmyra, where he served two years. His other charges were: Manchester, Havana, Pittsfield, War-rensburg, Homer. Here his health failed, and he was compelled to resign at the end of six months, and became superannuated. He was signally successful on every charge. He was a careful paster, an able preacher a wise counselor, a refined Christian gentleman. The last two years of his life were a period of great suffering which was endured with perfect resignation. Among his last words were these: "All is bright; praise God."

ALEXANDER TAYLOR ORR Was born in Harrison County, O., January 24, 1831, and died in Buffalo, Ill., April 18, 1896. He was converted in Monroe County, O., January, 1846, and united with the Church. He married Margaret S. Gamble December 27, 1855; she survives him, with two sons and one daughter. He was licensed to preach in July, 1858, and was received on trial by the Illinois Conference in 1863. He filled acceptably the following appointments: Taylorville, Irving, Mount Pleasant, Farmer City, McLean, Marshall, Griggsville District, Delevan, Tuscola, Paris, Clinton, Mattoon, First Church, Shelbyville, Deland. In 1892 he was superannuated. His early education was in the public schools of Ohio. All his life he was a stu-dent. He read closely, was a good theologian, and was a well-informed man on different lines of investigation. He was of Scotch-Irish origin. He possessed a massive frame, and was a man of most commanding presence. His mind was finely poised, analytic, and most unerring in its judgments. He was endowed with uncommon common sense. He read men as well as books, and excelled as an administrator, both in the pastorate and the presiding eldership. He commanded the respect of the best men in whatever community he resided. As a preacher he was strong, scriptural, instructive, evangelical. Sinners were awakened and converted under his ministry. He preached Christ. He hid behind the cross. He was a true friend. As a Christian he was humble, faithful, trustful. During his long sickness he gave continual evidence of his unfalter-

He served the following charges successively: Fifth Street, Quincy; Barry Circuit, Perry Station, where he had one hundred conversions; Perry Circuit, Second Charge, Griggsville; Pittsfield, Griggsville District; North Street, Danville. Failing in health he superannuated in 1868 and removed to Fort Scott, Kan., where he supplied the First Church, having a revival with sixty-five conversions. Returning to Illinois he served Griggsversions. Ketarning to Illinois he served Griggs-ville Circuit, Detroit, Griggsville District the second time, Quincy District, Jacksonville Circuit, First Church, Clinton; and West Jacksonville Circuit. In 1887 he removed to Texas and supplied Saint Paul's Church, Fort Worth, where he had a revival with two hundred and fifty conversions. In 1888 he was transferred to the Austin Conference, and was appointed to Fort Worth District. In 1889 he organized and built the first church in lown Park. In 1890 he was transferred back to the Illinois Conference. He was twice elected delegate to the General Conference. As a preacher he was popular. He had a winning address, a fine voice, and a ready utterance. His sermons were practical, forcible presentations of Gospel truth. He was remarkably successful as a soul-winner. Perhaps in this respect he was unsurpassed in the Illinois Conference. Even thousands were converted under his ministry. One year, part of which was devoted to evangelistic work, he conducted camp meetings in which one thousand converts were reported. In his later ministry he was led into the evangelistic field. Only two years ago, after he was a superannuate, he labored in revivals where there were eight hundred conversions. During one of his campaigns in the North-west be had a wonderful experience. Letters to his wife breathe a spirit of seraphic ardor not unlike Fletcher's. Like Paul he seemed exalted above measure through the manifestations of divine power. His methods were his own. He did not power. His methods were his own. He did not storm. He did not attempt to drive or territy by violent appeals. He relied on the centler methods of persuasion. Another element of strength he possessed was versatility. He seemed equally at home as presiding elder, pastor of a city station, or circuit rider. He was genial in his social inter-course and "given to hospitality." He married, on April 12, 1853, Miss Sarah L. Rush, who survives, with four children. Just before he died he was asked if the Lord was with him. He replied, "O, yes, all the time," and repeated the dying words of Wesley, "The best of all is God is with us."

JOSEPH MONTGOMERY Was born near Shepherdstown, Va., October 10, 1812, and died in Normal, Ill., August 22, 1896. His first recollection of a religious service was of a Methodist class meeting. He was converted in early youth and united with the church near Wheeling, W. Va. His faithful-ness and gifts soon furnished a sufficient warranty or granting him license to preach; and after traveling one year under the presiding elder in 1887 he as received on trial in the Pittsburg Conference. le served the following charges successively:

He gloried in preaching the doctrines of the cross of Just before his departure he said to his wife, " If it was the pleasure of our heavenly Father to give me strength I would love to live one thousand years to preach the Gospel of Christ." As a preacher and pastor he was efficient. As a Christian he was ardent and eminently spiritual. He never failed to answer to his name when the roll was called, save once, in fifty-nine years. His last illness was of short duration, and when the end came, of heart failure, it was a surprise to all. Like Elijah he was suddenly carried up into heaven in the chariot of the Lord.

Cincinnati Conference.

WESLEY WEBSTER was born December 24, 1814, in Meigs County, O. After the usual elementary education in private schools he entered the Ohio University in 1888, intending to take the full college course, but was compelled to relinquish this purpose on account of failing health. When about sixteen he attended a camp meeting on the Athena Circuit, at which he was blessedly saved a little after midnight on the morning of May 24, 1880. He united with the church in August of the same year. While attending school in Athens he was appointed a class leader, and in 1840 was licensed to exhort. In 1841 he was licensed to preach, and in 1842 was admitted into the Ohio Conference. His first circuit, Marysville, had twenty-five appointments, to be visited every four weeks, involving about two hundred and twenty-five miles travel. His subnundred and twenty-live miles travel. His subsequent appointments were Jamestown, South Charleston, Marysville, Hebron, Thornville, Rushville, New Lexington, Union, New Carlisle, Red Lion and Springboro, Davisson Chapel, Dayton; Concord, King's Creek, North Lewisburg, Fletcher, Centenary, and New Lexington. From 1870 he was in superannuated relation. On June 17, 1845, he married Miss Sarah J. Davisson, of South Charleston, O. About five years ago he wrote the following note, to be read in love feast, under the impression that it might be his last testimony: "I realize that I am nearing the sunset of human life. I have lived in this community eighteen years. my intercourse with the church and this people I have sought to be actuated by a spirit of love, integrity, and moral honesty. . . I thank God for the gift of life and for what he has promised to those who love him. It will be sixty years next May since I was converted, since which time I have entered the sixty of the sixty years are the sixty years. deavored to be a faithful Christian. I feel, how-ever, that I have come short of measuring up to love and tenderness, filled with faith and the Holy Ghost." No one who knew him will doubt the exact truthfulness of every word above quoted. His death, in South Charleston, O., September 25, 1895, was triumphant.

Isaac Clay Page was born near Catawba, O., April 27, 1863, and at Mechanicaburg, O., on January 5, 1896, he entered into everlasting rest. While yet a lad he gave his heart to God and united with the church. Soon after his conversion came the undoubted call to prench. At last he yielded, and entered the Theological School of Wittenberg College, at Springfield, O., where he remained two years. In 1858 he was admitted on trial in the Cincinnati Conference and appointed to South Charleston Circuit, where he remained for two years. Then he spent three years at Mutual, one at Batavia, one at Christiansburg, after which four months of superannuation, and then came the transfer to the Church triumphant. He married Miss Addie Gordon, of Catawba, March 5, 1884. When he was sent to Batavia he was in his usual good health. But in early spring came a very severe attack of lagrippe. Then came the struggle for life that was prolonged for twenty months. The impress of purity was on his face. His manners were pleasing, his nature genial. He made friends wherever he went: he bound his friends to him. He loved to preach, and the truths of Chfat's Gospel were spoken by him with no uncertain sound. For a long while he could not give up the thought that the Master had much work for him to do and he was to be spared to do that work. But after a long, severe struggle, that ended in victory, came the blessed peace which passed the rapids, and it's all right now—it's just right!"

James Murray was born in Feathered, Ireland, August 25, 1837, and died in Mechanicsburg, O., March 6, 1896. He was of Scotch-Irish descent, his father being a Scotchman and a member of the Presbyterian Church. When he was fourteen the family immigrated to America and settled in Covington, Ky. Here a zealous young friend induced him to attend the Sunday school of the Greenup Street Methodist Episcopal Church, and he soon began to attend the preaching services as well. He was a fine-looking lad, and the pastor observed him, went to him at the close of the service, and urged him to give his heart to God then and there. With beautiful simplicity and obedient readiness he yielded himself to God and at once united with the church. He was at this time sixteen years of age. A few years later he entered the Ohio Wesleyan University. Here he was known for his scholarship and for his manly independence. He graduated in 1865, and the same year joined the Cincinnati Conference, in which he served the folchiennati Conference, in which he served the following charges: Centenary, Winton Place and Cumminsville, Mount Washington, Lebanon, Christie, Cincinnati; Oxford, Grace, Urbana; Hamilton, Eaton, Hillsboro, and Mechanicsburg. While pastor of the Wilton Place Charge he married Miss Mary Bennett, who, with one son and one daughter, survives him. He commanded in a very marked degree the respect of account manual control of the control of account of the control of account of the control of account of the control of one daugnter, survives nim. He commanded in a very marked degree the respect of every community in which he lived. He kept himself "unspotted from the world." He was manly, dignified, independent, courageous. He preached the great doctrines of our religion and its practical duties also, and his soul caught fire as he gave his message. People who heard him felt the power of the truth and went away to lead better lives. His last illness was long and painful. When at last the frail body could no longer respond to the demands of the indomitable spirit he calmly resigned himself to the new experience of suffering God's will. the end he was patient, submissive, confident in God, and at last calmly fell asleep.

MIGHILL DUSTIN was born in Booneville, N. Y., August 18, 1810. He early removed with his parents to Washington County, O., where he passed his youth on a farm. He took a course at a collegiate institute in Marietta which later became Marietta which later became Marietta which later became Marietta which which we want to be the state of the course at a collegiate of the course at a collegiate in the course of the course rietta College. A year was passed in Mississippi, where he taught school. In February, 1838, he experienced conversion, and in 1886 entered the ministry. Possessed of a good mind, a strong voice, a strong constitution, and a still stronger resolution to preach Christ, he entered upon his work with singleness of purpose. He traveled the old-time circuits on horseback, with his Bible and hymn book in his saddlebags, with the love of God in his heart, and with perfect contentment in his mind. From circuits he passed to stations; then to stations of larger importance; then to the eldership; and, with advancing years, to work suitable to his age. He was neither buoyant nor despondent, but was a man of settled purpose, deliberate in thought and speech, unyielding in the course he laid down as right. In the days of antislavery agitation he joined the little band that fought for principle against policy. He was an incorporator of Wilber-force University, and one of its most sincere friends during life. The proclamation of emancipation he regarded as one of the great and blessed facts of history. In his semicentennial sermon Dr. Dustin said: "Fifty years ago, when I entered the traveling connection, the fight was on, and waxing hotter and hotter. On the side of the slave power were the two great political parties, the press, the government (both State and national), the Churches, and the general public sentiment. On the other side were truth and righteousness, God and conscience. Looking at the opposing forces from a human standpoint, worldly men and Christians who were weak in faith and cowardly in spirit thought the slave power would continue to be in the ascendant. But not so; for in less than thirty years the right triumphed and the slave power was crushed." In debate he was concise in statement and earnest In delate he was concise in statement and earnest in delivery. His public utterances were usually carefully prepared. In preaching he began with great deliberation, warming to his subject as he proceeded, and usually closed with an intense and impressive appeal. Thousands were awakened by his preaching. He was elected to the General Conference of 1856 and 1864. By the General Conference of 1856 and 1864. ences of 1864 he was commissioned to bear fraternal greetings to the Methodist Episcopal Church of Canada. Moores Hill College, Indiana, conferred upon him the degree of Doctor of Divinity. For the last five years his work was nominal, though he bore an active relation to the Conference. His first wife was Miss Mary B. Dana, of Marietta, who died in 1862. One son survives this marriage. In 1869 Dr. Dustin married Miss M. J. Warren, Preceptress of the Xenia Female College, who now mourns her loss. During his last illness he did not speak much of his religious experiences. He would at times say, "It is all right. I have finished the work he gave me to do. Next Sunday I may be in heaven." On Tuesday morning, March 10, 1896, his spirit took its flight.

SIMON MCCHESNEY was born near Troy, N. Y., August 7, 1838. His conversion at seventeen led him to seek an education for the ministry. Everything in the realms of literature, philosophy, science, and especially theology, that would equip him more fully for his work he eagerly seized and retained. After his conversion he soon began to preach, serving first under the direction of his presiding elder. At twenty he was admitted to the Troy Conference. The following were his appointments, in their order: Troy Conference—North Granville, Hyndsville, Brandway, Albany; Keesville, Saratoga Springs, Ashgrove, Albany. Rock River Conference—Wabash Avenue, Chicago, Trinity Church, Chicago. Minnesota Conference—Centenary, Min'neapolis. Rock River Conference—Park Avenue, Chicago, Iowa Conference—First Church, Burlington; 1883, supernumerary. Kansas Conference—First Church, Topeka. Ohio Conference—First Church, Topeka. Broad Street, Columbus. New York East Conference—Trinity, New Haven, Conn. Cincinnati Conference—Walnut Hills, Cincinnati. During Cincinnati During his last sickness he bore testimony to the sustaining grace of God. As he showed his people how to live he also showed them how to die. There was no fear, no anxiety—he calmly awaited the summons, and when it came, June 20, 1896, he was ready. His preaching revealed a strong intellectual grasp and a deep spiritual insight into the word. His life is a record of faithfulness to a lofty ideal—a God-given purpose. Throughout a ministry of thirty-eight years he evidenced the spirit of Him "who went about doing good." In 1860, in Albany, N. Y., he married Miss Sarina Jones, who survives, with four children.

WILLIAM I. Hypes was born in Xenia, O., July 14, 1828. His father was for a full half century a class leader, and was a trustee of the First Methodist Church in Xenia. He was also one of the founders and trustees of McKendree College. Among his grandchildren is Rev. Charles W. Drees, D.D., the superintendent of our missions in South America. William L. Hypes was educated in the schools of his native town and in a private classical school. During a great revival in Xenia in 1840-41 he was soundly converted. After leaving school he took up the study of law. But God had other purposes concerning him, and he entered upon a course of study for the ministry, and was admitted into the Ohio Conference in 1849. His pastoral charges were, successively, Lewisburg, Eaton, Franklin, Concord, Fairfield, South Charleston, Union, Felicity, Park Street, Cincinnati; Oxford, Grace Church, Urbana; Wesley Chapel, Dayton; First Church, Xenia; Walnut Hills, Cincinnati; High Street, Springfield; Grace, Dayton; Avondale and Lebanon. Besides these pastoral charges he was twice presiding elder—on the East Cincinnati District and the West Cincinnati District. In 1892 he reluctively accompanies of the control of tantly took a supernumerary relation and settled in Dayton. He was a close and constant student, not merely of systematic theology and current litera-ture, but especially of the Scriptures in the original languages. As a Hebrew scholar he had few equals. The degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred upon him by McKendree College, Illinois. He served as a member of the General Conference of 1880, and was a member of the Ecumenical Conference in Baltimore in 1891. For many years he was an influential member of the Board of Managers of the Freedmen's Aid and Southern Education Society. He believed in the necessity and possi-bility of a thorough and conscious salvation. It was his unquestioning faith in God that inspired him to speak with authority. He felt himself to be Christ's man, body and soul, powers, and possessions. Kindness, generosity, good temper, sincerity, were conspicuous traits in his symmetrical character. He might without exaggeration have been called a model postor. His artition phasics have been called a model pastor. His striking physique, benignant countenance, and his winning manners made him a most welcome visitor among all classes. As a presiding elder he showed great executive ability. Bishop Ninde wrote of him, "I have never met a man of more beautiful and symmetrical character." He was twice married. His second wife was Miss Margaret Brown, of Warren County, O., who survives to mourn her loss. One of their children is Rev. Benjamin D. Hypes, of the Cincinnati Conference. On Sunday, July 26, 1896, "he was not; for God took him."

childhood, and united with the Church at the age of sixteen. As a boy he was studious and hard working. Through his own efforts he attended Augusta College, and for twenty-five years taught in the schools of Maysville and Mason County, Ky. He was licensed as a local preacher in 1850, and was ordained descon in 1861 by Bishop Ames. In 1868 he was ordained an elder by Bishop Clark. In 1870 he was admitted into the Cincinnati Confersome, and for eighteen years was pactor successively at Centenary, Butlerville, Moscow, Camp Dennison, Catawba, Mutual, New Jasper, Lewisburg, and North Bend charges. In 1888 he asked a superannuated relation. He was three times married, the last time, in 1880, to Miss Mary H. Durkee, who lives to mourn her loss. He was preeminently conscientious and faithful. He was a plain, earnest, and suppers minister of the George and hundreds. and sincere minister of the Gospel, and hundreds were happily saved. He was often found in schoolhouses by the wayside on week nights, as well as in churches on the Sabbath, preaching Jesus and the resurrection. During his last sickness his suffering was intense, but he never murmured. He spoke of the coming ression of his Conference, and said that he wished his brethren and all to know that the Gospel he had proclaimed now met all his requirements. As the end drew near he said, "I have done what I could for the blessed Master."

Northwest Indiana Conference.

JESSE SPARKS was born in Belmont County, O., January 11, 1807. When he was about sixteen he came with his parents to Indiana and settled in Dearborn County. Here, in 1827, he married Je-mima Thorn. About the year 1839 he moved to Tippecanoe County, Ind. Some time before he left eastern Indiana he was licensed to preach, and rendered his first service in this relation in Adams County. In 1841 he was admitted to the Indiana Conference, and was appointed to Decatur Circuit. Until 1867 he sustained the effective relation. After this, except for two years, he was supernumerary or superannuated. The following is a partial list of the charges he served: Decatur, De Kalb, Angola, Lima, Columbia City, Marion, Wabash, Agency, Fort Wayne College, Rochester Circuit, Fulton and Kewanna. He was a preacher of more than ordinary power. At Decatur a remarkable revival attended his ministry. A sister denomination had a church and a scholarly minister in the town, while he preached in the courthouse and had but one member, and lived a mile and a half in the country. During the meeting, among other results, all the county officers joined the Methodist Episcopal Church. His first wife died October 9, 1872. Two children survive. On August 14, 1878, he married Mrs. Lydis H. Poling, in Fulton County, Ind., who shared with him the evening time of life. For some years his home was in Kewanna. Though his hearing was so dull that he could gather but little that was said he was a faithful attendant upon the means of grace. When so weak that it required all his strength to rise he would take part in the devotional meetings with a flery zeal that astonished and encouraged all. He was sweet in spirit, and will be long remembered in the community where he spent his last days. He failed rapidly in the last months of life, and just after midnight of January 5, 1896, without apparent consciousness, departed to his rest. He was an apostle of righteousness, an evangel of the good tidings of Christ, a man of God. Many were added to the Church by his ministry who will be bright jewels in his crown of rejoicing.

JOHN JULIAN STALLARD was born in Rush County, Ind., July 1, 1825. He was converted and joined the church at sixteen. On June 6, 1846, he received license to exhort, and later served the Washington and Liberty Circuits. He was admitted on trial ELISHA COWGILL SMITH was born in Mason license to exhort, and later served the Washing-County, Ky., May 30, 1825, and died near Cleves, O., August 22, 1896. He found the Saviour in early in the Indiana Conference in October, 1848, and was

With such advantages as 1849, he was appointed to the Petersburg Circuit, and on October 21 married Miss Lucinda Baldwin Green, who died the 20th of the following July, of cholera. In October, 1850, he was appointed to Cannelton, serving that charge two years. On August 26, 1851, he married Caroline Leming, who survives him. After leaving Cannelton he served the following charges: Orleans, Mount Vernon, Owensville Circuit, Roberts Chapel, New Albany, Ellettsville Circuit, Salem, Vincennes, Princeton, Presiding Elder of Rockport District, Simpson Chapel, Greeneastle. In May, 1868, the General Conference placed Simpson Chapel in the Northwest. Conference placed Simpson Chapel in the Northwest Indiana Conference, of which he became a member. In October, 1868, he was appointed to Rockville, and was pastor there for two years. He then served Russellville and Stockwell. He was then superannuated at his own request. In October, 1875, he moved to Russellville and engaged in the practice of medicine, with other business, till his death, June 29, 1896. His grandfather was a local preacher, and traveled several circuits under presiding elders. His father was an exhorter for more than sixty years. His uncle, Jacob M. Stallard, was a member of the Northwest Indiana Conference. The class meeting, under God, was the means of his awakening. When he decided to be a Christian he invited a friend to go forward with him. The meeting was held at a private house. A general revival of religion fol-lowed. There was intense persecution of the young converts. The force of it was directed against young Stallard; but in a prayer meeting one night he prayed for the leader of the opposition, who broke down and afterward became a local preacher. His faithfulness to principle is illustrated in the quotation: "I had been offered a good horse, with all necessary habiliments for riding, a good suit of fine clothes, access to a large library, a sufficiency of money to bear my expenses traveling from place to place, if I would leave the Methodist Episcopal Church and advocate Universalism. My response was, 'I cannot advocate what I do not believe.'" While pastor of Asbury Chapel, Louisville, his life was in danger because he was a preacher of the Methodist Episcopal Church. But, though threat-ened with violence, he refused to leave the State. He was abundant in pastoral labors. On the Petersburg Circuit his faithfulness was tested. Within a radius of three miles four hundred were hurried into eternity by the cholera. While ministering to others he was stricken; and then his wife, the bride of ten months, went to her reward. For several years previous to his superannuation he suffered greatly from throat trouble. In November, 1895, pulmonary trouble obtained a firmer grip on him. During the winter his feeble strength was overtaxed waiting on his aged father, nearly ninety-one, who was daily expected to die. He quietly passed away in the early morning of June 29, 1896, lacking two days of being seventy-one years old. During his last illness he constantly affirmed his faith in God. He left his companion in the itinerancy and his aged father mourning their loss. Eleven days later his father's desire was gratified, for God took him.

JOHN E. NEWHOUSE was born in Holmes County, O., February 7, 1829, and died in Greencastle, Ind.,

His parents were devoted Christians, and he had an early religious training. With such advantages as the common schools of the time afforded he prepared himself for a teacher. At about twenty he was converted and united with the church. Not long after his conversion he married Miss Eunice Holstock, who had been one of the pupils in his school. One of their sons is the Rev. Finley D. Newhouse, D.D., of the Minnesota Conference. He served the church for some time and efficiently as a local preacher. He was admitted on trial in the Northwest Indiana Conference in October, 1859, and served in eighteen different charges, the first one being West York, now Walkerton, the last Coatsville. In 1889 his relation, at his own request, was changed to super-numerary, and in 1893 to that of superannusted. He was married a second time, in 1874, to Mrs. Mary Heistand, of Clinton, Ind., who survives him. As a preacher he was earnest and practical. He was a careful student, was familiar with the doctrines and usages of the Church, and adhered closely to the old standards. One of his most prominent traits was loyalty to the Church of his choice, another was firmness of purpose. He had the courage of his convictions, earnestly maintaining what he believed to be right. He was always present at rollcall at Conference and took an active part in the In what seemed to others to be almost proceedings. robust health he was stricken down in a moment. In this condition he lingered for a few days, most of the time unconscious, and then passed away. His work abides. At evening time it was light.
