

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. Q. VII. What Ministers have DIED since the last Conference ?

A. 1. In Great Britain, the thirty-two following :—

(1.) NATHANIEL ALSTON ; who was born at Preston, Lancashire, in 1812. His parents were pious, and he sought and found the Lord in early life. At the age of sixteen he became a Local Preacher, and in due course entered the Itinerant ministry, to which he believed himself divinely called. He was an extensive reader and a close student, and all his studies were pursued with the object of enabling him the better to persuade men to embrace the Gospel.

As a preacher, he was original and painstaking, sometimes quaint, but always simple, natural, and earnest. His sermons were carefully prepared and rich in evangelical truth. They were highly appreciated by the thoughtful and devout of his congregations. He was a man of much penetration and discernment, and although constitutionally timid and nervous, was ever cheerful. He was warmly attached to Methodist doctrines and usages, yet eminently of a catholic spirit, loving all who loved our Lord Jesus Christ in sincerity. His spiritual life was strong and uniform. After forty-one years of active service he became a Supernumerary, and retired to Fareham, where for three years he continued to preach regularly on the Lord's-day, and to attend meetings for prayer.

On Sunday, August 4th, 1878, he left his home to go to his appointment, when he was smitten with paralysis. He lingered till the following Wednesday, when he peacefully passed away, in the sixty-seventh year of his age, and the forty-fifth of his ministry.

(2.) HENRY J. STALEY; who was a native of Sheffield, and came of Methodist parents. He was educated at the Moravian School, Duckinfield. During his apprenticeship in Stockport, he derived much benefit from the ministry of the Rev. Dr. Osborn, and at that time was converted to God. He commenced preaching in early life, and in 1848 entered the ministry, giving himself wholly to the great work to which the Master called him. His supreme desire was to be a workman needing not to be ashamed. He was a diligent student of the Scriptures, and prepared for the pulpit with great and habitual care. His preaching of the Word was intelligent, evangelical, and practical. He never forgot the great object of preaching,—the salvation of souls. It was his happiness to know of many souls saved through his instrumentality. Mr. Staley was 'a holy man of God;' holiness was his constant pursuit, and his conduct and character exemplified deep piety.

In the Circuits to which he was appointed he won the respect of those among whom he laboured, through unremitting exertions to promote the interests of the Church and the cause of his great Master. In offices of trust committed to him, he was most conscientious and painstaking. On returning to his home at the close of the Conference of 1878, he was taken ill. Medical help was speedily obtained, but in vain. He told the doctor he was a dying man, adding, after a little time, 'Heaven is my home.' On August 13th, he peacefully passed away to join those who, in the midst of the solemnities of Conference sittings, had been suddenly called from the Church below to the Church in heaven. During his short illness, Mr. Staley was most graciously sustained. His last care was about his Circuit work. His last words were the solemn utterance of the benediction, when prayer had been offered by a colleague.

(3.) HENRY CASTLE ; who was born in Bristol on March 19th, 1814. The early death of his father left the training of the youth to his mother, an eminently pious woman, who guided his footsteps into the narrow way, and watched his goings until he was established in grace. He was happy in the associates to which Methodism introduced him, being privileged with the influence and counsel of Richard Treffry, sen., and John Lomas. Mr. Castle was accepted by the Conference of 1835. He set before his mind the apostolic standard : 'A workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth.' He devoted much time to the study of Théology, diligently perusing the works of the Puritan divines, John Howe being an inseparable companion. His sermons were always carefully prepared, and he proclaimed the Gospel with clearness, earnestness, and great devoutness of spirit. He was never known to neglect a week-night service. Wherever he went he carried the influence of the truth which he preached, and nowhere did he make religion more attractive than in his own family. The leading feature of his character was his uniform gentleness and geniality. He possessed in a high degree the power of winning confidence and love. He was a true brother to his colleagues, a genuine friend to his people, and a real comforter to the sick and sorrowing of his flock.

The last Sabbath he spent on earth he preached from a text which foreshadowed the event of the week: 'It shall come to pass, that at evening time it shall be light.' The next day he was seized with a malady which soon proved fatal. His sufferings were at first sharp and distressing, but pain did not shake the steadfastness of his faith, or disturb the meekness of his submission. 'I know,' said he, 'whom I have believed. He who has been with me these forty years will not forsake me now.' His tranquillity was so deep that during a paroxysm of agony he exclaimed, 'Everything is beautiful!' It was 'evening time,' but there was 'light'; and into the perfect glory of that light he entered on the morning of Saturday, August 24th, 1878, in the sixty-fifth year of his age, and the forty-fourth of his ministry.

(4.) ROBERT JONES (A); who was born at Penmachno, North Wales, August 10th, 1819. He was from early youth marked by strict morality and deep religious convictions. In his sixteenth year he was brought to a saving knowledge of the truth as it is in Jesus. Soon afterwards he began to labour as a Sunday-school Teacher and Prayer Leader, and two years later as a Local Preacher. The intelligence and fervour with which he engaged in these exercises indicated qualifications for a wider sphere of usefulness. At the Conference of 1841 he was accepted as a candidate for the ministry, and he entered upon the vocation of his life with a thoroughness of consecration, which faltered not during his ministerial career of thirty-seven years. He was a man of unbending integrity and great conscientiousness. His preaching was clear and instructive, evangelical and practical; his appeals to the heart of his hearers were earnest, and at times powerful. His labours were owned by the Head of the Church, and many will be the crown of his rejoicing 'in the presence of our Lord Jesus Christ at His coming.' In the administration of Circuit affairs he was judicious, firm, and unswerving in his fidelity to Methodist doctrine and polity. As a pastor, his tender sympathy and wise counsel produced the happiest effects. Soon after the commencement of his second year's labour in the Beaumaris Circuit, aggravated symptoms of heart-disease manifested themselves. The disease gradually grew upon him, until August 25th, 1878, when, with a brightened countenance, as if he saw the glory of the Lord, he fell asleep in Jesus, in the sixtieth year of his age, and the thirty-eighth of his ministry.

(5.) JOSEPH AMBROSE HEMSWORTH; who was born of godly parents at Morley, near Leeds, in 1840. When nearly twenty years of age he decided for Christ. His convictions of sin were very pungent, and the assurance of Divine favour that followed was unmistakably clear. Shortly after his conversion he was made Leader of a class of young persons, and after having in this office and in that of Local Preacher given proof of possessing gifts and grace, in response to the Divine call he entered the ministry in 1864. As a preacher, he was quiet, thoughtful, and deeply spiritual; his sermons gave evidence of careful preparation, and were profitable to many. He conscientiously discharged the duties of a pastor, making it a rule to pay a certain number of visits every week. As a colleague, he was affectionate and true. In his domestic and social relationships he was exemplary,—most devoted as a husband, affectionate as a father, and kind, considerate, and courteous as a friend. For some months before his death his health was unfit for the work which his love for the Master would not allow him to lay aside. He continued to labour with his usual zeal, often in great depression and pain. His last illness was bronchitis, complicated by hemorrhage of the lungs. He fell asleep in Jesus, September 9th, 1878, aged thirty-eight years.

(6.) ROBERT G. BADCOCK; who was born in London in 1820. At a very early age he gave his heart to God. He joined the Methodist Society in 1839, and shortly afterwards became a Local Preacher.

In 1846 he entered the Wesleyan-Methodist ministry. He was privileged to witness and take part in some very gracious revivals, in which hundreds were converted to God. His happy and successful ministry was continued until August 1869, when he had a very severe attack of illness; but after suffering and resting for two years he was able to resume his much-loved work, and continued in it until August, 1878. His sufferings, during his last affliction, were very severe. He could speak but very little, yet almost every word was praise. After the momentary depression and disappointment which he felt when he found that his work on earth was done, he was triumphantly happy, and hailed the time of his departure with joy. As a minister, Mr. Badcock was faithful, affectionate, earnest, and prayerful; very careful in his pulpit-preparation, and delighting to set forth Christ in his preaching. As a pastor, he was most diligent, and his loving sympathy bound his people to him in the closest ties. As a Superintendent, he was genial, kind, and considerate; discharging all his duties most assiduously, notwithstanding much bodily infirmity. On September 11th, 1878, he entered into rest, in the fifty-ninth year of his age, and the thirty-third of his ministry.

(7.) ROBERT DYSON (A); who was born in Liverpool on December 23rd, 1815, and died at Bournemouth, September 11th, 1878. His parents were members of the Established Church. The impressions which resulted in his conversion were received while attending a meeting held on behalf of the London Society for the Propagation of the Gospel among the Jews. Having given his heart to the Lord, he thoughtfully and deliberately gave his hand to the Methodist people, and throughout life he was most loyally attached to our doctrines and discipline. After labouring with great acceptance for several years as a Local Preacher he was urged to enter the ministry; but for some time his natural reserve and timidity were found insuperable obstacles. At length his own stern sense of duty, combined with the influence of Dr. Beaumont, prevailed; and, having offered himself to the Conference of 1843, he was accepted as a probationer. His intellectual powers, which were of a high order, were diligently cultivated. His mind was well stored with Wesleyan and Puritan theology. His vigorous intellect, his fine voice, his pure English, his lucid style, his impassioned delivery, his spiritual fervour, made his ministry very attractive and powerful; and under the Divine blessing he laboured in all his Circuits with great acceptance, and in several with signal success. He performed faithfully all the work of a Methodist preacher, attending carefully to the duties of Circuit management. As a pastor, he was diligent, kind, and sympathetic. As a colleague, he was honourable and considerate. His piety was intelligent, robust, and earnest. His life was pure and blameless. His death was alarmingly sudden, but his end was peace.

(8.) GEORGE SMITH (D); who was born at Redditch, April 17th, 1845. He was trained in the nurture and admonition of the Lord. Through severe affliction, when only sixteen years of age, he was brought to the knowledge of Christ. Throughout life he continued steadfast in the faith. Shortly after his conversion he felt that he was called of God to preach His Word. He was encouraged to employ the gifts conferred on him in exhorting sinners to flee from the wrath to come; and the Holy Spirit made his labours effective in the conversion of souls. In 1865 he was accepted as a candidate for the ministry; and, having received an excellent education, he highly appreciated and conscientiously improved three years' residence in the Theological Institution at Didsbury. His subsequent appointment as Assistant-Tutor afforded evidence of the esteem in which he was held by both the Tutors and students. In Circuit-work he laboured with much acceptance. The studious habits which he formed were perseveringly maintained, and contributed to render his ministry highly interesting, instructive, and edifying. His sermons were well thought out, were clearly expressed in highly chaste language, and were delivered with compassionate and loving earnestness. He was a tender and attentive pastor, and as a colleague he was faithful in all things. During his first year at Newport, Monmouthshire, his health failed, and he was compelled in 1874 to become a Supernumerary. Through a protracted illness his faith in God was unshaken, and his peace unbroken. On the day of his death he said, 'The Lord accepted me long ago; that is a settled matter.' In this calm state he entered upon the blessedness of those who die in the Lord, October 12th, 1878, in the thirty-fourth year of his age, and the twelfth of his ministry.

(9.) JAMES LITTLE; who was born at Lewes, Sussex, in 1804. He had the advantage of a good education and careful religious training, and in early life he gave himself to the Lord, and joined the Wesleyan-Methodist Society. For several years he laboured earnestly as a Local Preacher. His zeal and gifts marked him out for higher office in the Church; and in the year 1838 he was accepted by the Conference as a candidate for the ministry. In several Circuits he laboured with acceptance and success. He was a thoughtful expositor of Holy Scripture. His health having been seriously impaired by a railway accident, he was compelled in the year 1871 to become a Supernumerary. He settled at Cleethorpes, near Grimsby, where for a short time he preached occasionally, led a Class, and visited the sick. It soon, however, became evident that his physical and mental powers were failing, and that his work was done. In 1876 he removed to the neighbourhood of London. Soon afterwards he was confined to his bed, but he calmly committed himself into the hands of his Heavenly Father, frequently saying, 'He will not leave me now.' When earthly things had ceased to interest him, he loved to pray for his brethren in the ministry. On October 26th, 1878, he peacefully passed away, in the seventy-fourth year of his age, and the forty-first of his ministry.

(10.) RICHARD TABRAHAM; who was born at Ely, October 24th, 1792. He removed to London in 1802. He was a stranger to religion until he was nearly seventeen years of age. A devoted Methodist in Poplar took a deep interest in him, and showed him much kindness, and to this he attributed his conversion to God. He attended the Covenant Service in January, 1810, and that service made a powerful impression upon him. For a time he walked in darkness; but at length, about his eighteenth birthday, the Saviour was clearly revealed to him, and he was filled with peace in believing. He began to preach in 1813, and offered himself for the ministry at the Conference of 1815, by which he was accepted and appointed to the Bye Circuit. For fifty-four years he laboured with fidelity and success in England, Scotland, and the Zetland Isles. His last Circuit was Lewes, in Sussex; on leaving which, in 1869, he retired from the regular work of the ministry, and removed to the Hackney Circuit. For some years he was able to preach twice every Lord's-day, and constantly to visit the sick and the dying. Almost to the last day of his life he devoted himself to acts of mercy. In youth he cultivated habits of the strictest temperance, economy, and self-denial, which he faithfully maintained throughout a long life. He practised habitual and even extreme self-denial, in order that he might contribute more largely to religious and benevolent objects. Shortly before his departure, he said that if he could return to his youth, he should prefer the position of a Methodist preacher to any other, and that throughout eternity he should have to praise God for the honour conferred upon him in his being called to the Christian ministry. On his death-bed he expressed unshaken confidence in Christ as his Redeemer. In reply to the question, 'Is Christ precious?' his countenance beamed with joy, and he said, with great emphasis, 'O yes! O yes!' He died December 22nd, 1878, in the eighty-seventh year of his age, and the sixty-fourth of his ministry.

(11.) JAMES SMEETH; who was born at Amesbury, Wiltshire, in 1812. At the age of eighteen he earnestly sought and obtained an experimental and sanctifying knowledge of the truth as it is in Jesus. Immediately, and with all the energy of consecrated youth, he began to work in the vineyard of the Lord. Though his educational advantages had been few, he had a great thirst for knowledge, and practised much self-denial in order to purchase books. Fervently he sought the blessing of God upon his studies, and his profiting appeared unto many. His Providential designation was soon apparent. Called of God, he was set apart by the Church to the work and office of the Christian ministry, in the year 1835. His first foreign appointment was to Cape Town, South Africa. As a missionary, he laboured for some years with great diligence, delight, and success. Obligated to return home on account of failing health, his missionary experience coloured the whole of his future life. For twenty-nine years afterwards in English Circuits, preaching the Word was his greatest delight. His discourses were characterized by great plainness of speech, simplicity of style, tenderness of feeling, fervour of spirit, and occasional gleams of subdued humour. He was a diligent student of the Holy Scriptures. His daily walk and conversation corresponded with his preaching. He was a faithful pastor, loving and loved by the people of his charge; as a colleague, he manifested a generous and brotherly spirit, and not a few confided in him as a friend. In two of his English Circuits he was favoured to take part in extensive revivals. His last illness was very severe and prolonged. Deep called unto deep; but the Lord was ever with him. In great peace and in the full assurance of hope he died, December 27th, 1878, in the sixty-seventh year of his age, and the forty-fourth of his ministry.

(12.) JOHN BANDEKSON; who was born in Manchester on September 29th, 1806. Brought up by pious parents in the nurture and admonition of the Lord, he was from childhood virtuous, conscientious, and reverent. But it was not until his twenty-second year that God assured him of the forgiveness of sins. This filled him with such a desire to make others partakers of the same blessing, that he soon afterwards became an earnest, useful preacher. Upon the unanimous recommendation of his native Circuit he was accepted by the Conference of 1832 as a missionary candidate. After two years' service in the home work, he was ordained and appointed to the West Indies, where his abundant labours were signally owned of God. In 1842 impaired health compelled him to return to England. The subsequent thirty-six years of his ministerial life (except four spent as a Supernumerary) were zealously devoted to the work of God in English Circuits. The Lord blessed him with a large harvest of souls.

Mr. Randerson was emphatically 'a good man, and full of the Holy Ghost and of faith.' His deep and fervent piety gave the character of sanctity to his whole life; the flame of his love, zeal, and joy, was constantly kindled anew; and habitually enjoying the full salvation of the Gospel, he humbly professed and consistently exemplified it, ever making it a prominent subject of his public ministrations. He studied to be (as he records) 'a rousing preacher,' intent on converting sinners and quickening believers.

The duties of a Superintendent, and those belonging to the Connexional offices with which he was honoured, were discharged with strict fidelity, punctuality, and discretion. As a colleague, he was genial and generous, affectionate and faithful, gladly honouring his brethren, and delighting to share their confidence and love. In pastoral work, he was diligent, urbane, judicious, and devout. In the later portion of life, his mature ministrations and radiant countenance gave him a peculiar charm and influence as a preacher and pastor. His cheerful activity and devotedness in the work of God at Watford were remarkable, while his preaching was increasingly attractive. In October last affliction laid him prostrate; enfeebled by old age, hard work, and extreme abstemiousness, he at length rapidly sank. Yet in his greatest debility his faith was unshaken, his hope undimmed, his serenity unbroken. As the time of his departure approached, he exclaimed, 'I now feel the force of those blessed doctrines I have endeavoured to preach. They are true,—they are true! Let it be known I said, All is well,—all is well! I want to escape away; bright prospects! Jesus is there. He is looking on me. Come—come—come!’ Thus looking to Jesus, not seeing death, he peacefully passed away to eternal rest, December 30th, 1878.

(13.) EDWARD HORTON; who was born at Morpeth in the year 1815. He was blessed with pious parents, who trained him for heaven. At ten years of age he was converted to God, at sixteen he became a Local Preacher, and at twenty-three he was separated to the work of the Christian ministry. He was greatly gifted in prayer. His preaching was always fresh, and gave evidence of careful reading, much thought, fervent prayer, and humble dependence on the Holy Spirit. It was wisely adapted to the condition of his hearers. Under it sinners were converted, and believers edified. He was a shepherd who cared for the flock, and went before them in holy example. He was a faithful pastor, and in many dwellings ‘he being dead yet speaketh.’ He was truly modest, and when told of any success resulting from his labours, would say, ‘Give the glory to God, I am but the instrument.’ His last illness was sudden and severe, but he never murmured. At times he had great joy, and wished he had more strength to praise the Lord. When informed that he could not recover, he said, ‘I shall see the King in His beauty;’ and, turning to his weeping wife, added, ‘It is God’s will to take me, and you must let the Lord have His own way.’ He then sank rapidly, and without a struggle or a groan fell asleep in Jesus, at Burton-on-Trent, having just completed the fortieth year of his ministry, and the sixty-third of his age.

(14.) HENRY POWIS; who was born at Wolverhampton, June 8th, 1789. He feared the Lord from his youth, but it was not until about his nineteenth year that he gave his heart fully to God. He became a Local Preacher in 1811, and was accepted as a candidate for the Wesleyan ministry in 1813. With a deep sense of responsibility he entered upon the sacred office, and for a considerable time laboured under severe mental depression in relation to his call to and fitness for the work. The judicious counsels of a friend, however, removed his doubts, and he then presented himself afresh, and with stronger vows, a living sacrifice to God. For forty-seven years he was permitted to follow his holy vocation, and to prove that he had not mistaken the import of the 'Voice Divine.' As a preacher, he possessed powers of a very high order. The prominent characteristics of his preaching were originality, incisiveness, and strength. His sermons were prepared with great care, and told upon the intellect and heart of his hearers. In the administration of discipline he was firm and faithful. As a pastor, he was diligent, prompt, and punctual in his attention to duty. He was a man of sterling principle, of high honour, and devoted allegiance to his Master. His last appointment was in 1857, to Northwich, where, after three happy and successful years, he became a Supernumerary. In his retirement from the more active duties of the ministry he devoted himself, as far as his energies permitted, to his much-loved employment, preaching and otherwise assisting in the work of the Circuit. In 1875 he was compelled to give up all public service, and 'in age and feebleness extreme,' he calmly awaited the summons of his Lord. With unimpaired confidence in the Atonement, and unshaken hope in God, he fell asleep, January 4th, 1879, in the ninetieth year of his age, and the sixty-sixth of his ministry.

(15.) HENRY FISH, M.A.; who was born at Hooton-Pagnell, near Doncaster, August 5th, 1802. From his parents he learned the first principles of Christianity, and subsequently, under the ministry of the Wesleyan-Methodists, was convinced of sin. In his eighteenth year he was truly converted to God, and at once joined a Class and made known with joy what the Lord had done for him. His first effort to preach was made in a cottage in the village of Upton, from the words, 'Prepare to meet thy God;' and though his mind was severely tried in regard to the step he had taken, his fears were silenced by the manifest call of God and his own sense of duty. Soon afterwards he was led to offer himself as a candidate for the ministry. He was accepted at the Conference of 1823, and appointed to the Worcester Circuit. During twenty-four years he exercised a successful ministry in several of the more important Circuits of the Connexion. In 1847 he was compelled, by the failure of his voice, to retire from the full work of the ministry, and from that year to his death he resided, as a Supernumerary, at Kettering. As a preacher, his earlier ministry was one of great power and widely-spread influence. To the exposition of Divine Truth he brought a vigorous mind, disciplined by much study and prayer. He had a quick discernment of the meaning and scope of the text, and a faculty of clear, logical arrangement; and the Gospel which he proclaimed with noble eloquence and intense earnestness, energized by the power from on high, wrought deep conviction in the hearts of his hearers, and turned many to righteousness, some of whom have ranked amongst the most gifted and devoted sons of Methodism. As a writer, he was well known and highly esteemed. His controversial works on Romanism rendered good service to the cause of truth, and for many years Methodist periodical literature was enriched by his pen. His edition of Charles Wesley's Poetical Version of the Psalms of David has permanent interest and value.

His long retirement as a Supernumerary was made by him a happy and useful service to the Church of Christ. Thirty-two years ago he expressed, with touching beauty, his feelings in the prospect of his early, enforced retreat from the work he loved so well, and in which high success had attended him: 'I shall still be a happy man; the voice of the song-bird may be hushed, but the music is still in the heart.' Such was his life to the end. He was a valued Leader, and a faithful friend and counsellor, trusted and beloved by rich and poor. So far as his infirmity allowed, he preached in his own Circuit and neighbourhood, and occasionally visited scenes of former labour. During his last illness his submission to God was, as ever, confiding and cheerful. He welcomed the approach of death as the nearing dawn of eternal day, and as the morning broke and the shadows fled away, his enraptured feelings were uttered in his last words on earth, 'Brighter and brighter.' He died January 16th, 1879, in the seventy-seventh year of his age, and the fifty-sixth of his ministry.

(16.) SAMUEL HOOLEY; who was born at Draycot, near Derby, in 1812, and died at Guildford on January 26th, 1879. Given to the Lord by devout parents, and brought early to the sanctuary, he heard the Divine Voice while he was yet a child, and in his eighth year was received into the Methodist Society. This early devotion gave a tone to his life. After a youth spent in lowly service, the Lord called him to the office and work of a Christian pastor. His natural diffidence was overcome by the love that constrained him, and during a ministry of forty-four years, he served the Lord and the Church with singleness of purpose and warmth of affection. His preaching for the most part was expository, the words of the Lord Jesus and the Epistles of St. Paul forming the substance of his teaching. In his ministry he especially regarded the edification of believers. Yet he was privileged in several Circuits to see a mighty outpouring of the Holy Spirit upon the unsaved. In these seasons of revival physical weakness was forgotten, and he was ready to spend and be spent for those who had not yet his Saviour known. Mr. Hooley suffered much from a sensitive, nervous temperament. In his experience there were depths as well as heights, and occasionally the contemplation of the Divine glory, the holiness and majesty of God, so affected his spirit that for days he humbled himself and wept before the Lord. But these seasons of depression were followed by times of special blessing, and thus he was able to comfort others with the comfort wherewith he himself had been comforted of God.

While Mr. Hooley was a man of wide intelligence and of varied gifts, his chief characteristic was the 'power to pray.' Many of his hearers will remember the reverence, the confidence, the intense desire, and the perfect submission which marked his approach to the Throne of grace. Towards the close of life his communion with God became more intimate, and prayer seemed to be the native air of his spirit. His death, though sudden, was tranquil. With no apprehension of danger, and apparently without a struggle or a sigh, his spirit passed into the presence of the Lord.

(17.) EDWARD WALKER; who was born at Almondbury, near Huddersfield, January 28th, 1800. Receiving an early religious training from a devoted Christian mother, he became in his youth a partaker of the saving grace of God. Concerning this period of his life, he was accustomed to speak of the profit he derived from association with the late Rev. David Stoner, whom he often accompanied to his appointments in the Huddersfield Circuits. Mr. Walker was not a 'novice' in Christian doctrine when he yielded to the Divine call to undertake the responsibilities of the Christian pastorate. In the year 1826 he entered upon the work of the Wesleyan-Methodist ministry, and for forty years fulfilled its duties with unswerving fidelity and success. He was warmly attached to our economy, and maintained it steadfastly, both as the Superintendent of Circuits, Chairman of Districts, and Secretary of the Chapel Building Committee. As a preacher, he was energetic and faithful, excelling in clearly defining the essential points of Christian truth, and in depicting the joys and graces of Christian experience. He continued in the things which he had learned, and had been assured of, from the beginning, and was not readily induced to walk in untried paths. As a pastor, he was always diligent, and to the poor and suffering of the flock of Christ he was gentle as a father. Towards his colleagues he was courteous and confiding, frank, upright, and truly fraternal. By those of them who survive him, their intercourse with him is held in grateful remembrance. In 1866 he retired from the active service of the Church, and passed the evening of his days at Cheetham Hill, Manchester. He spent much time in visiting the sick and dying, and his fervent prayers and godly exhortations were gratefully appreciated, and are fondly remembered.

When his last illness seized him, he was found ready. Shortly before his death a friend who visited him said, 'Dear Sir, the presence of Jesus is here—His power, even His glory!' He replied, 'I feel it to be so, and I bless God for it.' A heavenly light appeared upon his countenance, and soon afterwards he bore his last testimony to the faithfulness of God, saying: 'I hang upon that good God who has succoured me all my life long, and who always comforts and saves them that put their trust in Him.' On his seventy-ninth birthday his pilgrimage ended, and he entered in 'through the gates into the city.'

(18.) WILLIAM TRANTER; who was born in the parish of Little Dawley, near Madeley, Shropshire, May 1st, 1778. He was converted to God when about nineteen years of age, through the instrumentality of his friend, the Rev. Valentine Ward, who took him to some religious meetings commenced in Dawley by the followers of John Fletcher. A revival of religion ensued, and a Methodist Class was formed, Mr. Ward and Mr. Tranter being the first members. Mr. Tranter found peace through faith in our Lord Jesus Christ at the first meeting. He gave himself fully to God, and his Christian principles were greatly consolidated by intercourse with the saintly Mrs. Fletcher. He attended her public services at every opportunity, and her ministrations were greatly blessed to him. He was, moreover, honoured with her friendship and wise counsels, which he highly valued. He was also favoured, at a later period, with the acquaintance of the devout Lady Maxwell, whom he visited on her death-bed.

Mr. Tranter entered the ministry in 1803, and was for forty-three years in its full work. He was eminently successful in winning souls to Christ, and building up the Church of God in the various Circuits in which he travelled. As a preacher, he was plain, earnest, powerful, and impressive. He took great pains in preparing for the pulpit, and some of his published sermons possess considerable merit. As the Chairman of a District, and as Superintendent of a Circuit, he was remarkable for careful attention to all his duties; and as a pastor, for sympathy with the poor and needy of Christ's flock.

In 1846 Mr. Tranter became a Supernumerary, and settled in the Salisbury Circuit, but he did not cease to work for God according to his ability. Both in the town and in the villages around he continued to preach until within a few years of the close of his long and useful life. He was able to be present at the District Meeting held in Salisbury two years ago, and although very feeble (having entered on his hundredth year), he spoke a few words with much feeling. It was only comparatively recently that the naturally vigorous mental and bodily powers of this devoted servant of God failed; and even then, when visited by his ministerial brethren or Christian friends, he would become wonderfully animated, manifesting a lively interest in the cause he loved so well, and expressing his unshaken faith in the great Atonement. A few days before his death the language of Job was quoted to him, 'I know that my Redeemer liveth, and that He shall stand at the latter day upon the earth; and though after my skin'—here he took up the words, 'worms destroy this body,' 'yet' was interposed, and he added, 'in my flesh shall I see God.' He paused, and then repeated with much emphasis, 'In my flesh shall I see God.' When prayer was offered that an abundant entrance might be granted 'into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ,' he added, with marked earnestness, 'Amen, Amen!' During the following days he frequently repeated, 'Come, Lord Jesus!' On Sunday morning, February 9th, 1879, he entered 'into the joy of his Lord,' in the one hundred and first year of his age, and the seventy-sixth of his ministry.

(19.) SAMUEL BROWN (A); who was born at Newcastle-under-Lyme, on January 8th, 1811. He was the youngest son of parents who were remarkable for native strength of character and for prayerful consistency of life. His father was widely known as a Local Preacher of great power, and his mother's watchful care and holy example rescued her son at a critical period from worldly entanglements. He was converted in a gracious revival at the age of seventeen, and soon after joined a brother in business in Guernsey, where he became an efficient Class Leader and Local Preacher. Under deep impressions, produced during a dangerous illness, he returned to his birth-place. He entered the ministry in 1835. Few men have been more honoured of God in the conversion of sinners and in advancing the interests of Christ's Church. He laboured for souls night and day, often overtaxing his strength. His preaching was characterized by simplicity and power, and was peculiarly adapted to quicken the lukewarm and lead to religious decision. Unflinching in his adherence to duty, his ministerial influence was enhanced by the purity of his life, and by his genial temperament; the poor especially finding in him a sympathizing friend. Debarred from much social intercourse by partial deafness, he became an extensive reader, and gave himself to prayer, in which he attained extraordinary power.

After three years spent as a Supernumerary he returned, in 1869, to the full work of the ministry, from which he finally retired in 1877, settling at Swaffham, his last Circuit. It pleased God to complete the symmetry of His servant's character by the discipline of suffering, under which he displayed uniform resignation; and though often needlessly reproaching himself for spiritual imperfections, he had many returns of former joyous experience. He came back to his native town a month before his decease. His life of prayer had a fitting termination. The night of his death he poured forth importunate and comprehensive supplications at the family altar, concluding with the words, 'Lord, answer prayer, and take me to Thyself.' The request was granted. Retiring to his room again to hold communion with his Heavenly Father, he rose from his knees to receive the welcome summons home. Gently, and in perfect peace, in a single hour his life ebbed away. 'Christ is precious,' he exclaimed to his wife; adding, 'All is right.' He died February 19th, 1879.

(20.) ROBERT MAXWELL; who was born at Preston, August 16th, 1809, and died at Bedford, February 20th, 1879. When a boy at school he occasionally accompanied a young friend to the Methodist chapel, and so much profited by what he heard, that at the age of fourteen he joined the Society. When sixteen years of age he received the assurance of his adoption; and about a year afterwards he began to preach. In 1831 he was accepted as a candidate for the ministry. He laboured uninterruptedly for forty years, and was 'a good minister of Jesus Christ, nourished up in the words of faith and of good doctrine.' In 1871 increasing infirmities compelled him to become a Supernumerary.

He was a faithful and earnest preacher and pastor. Amid the manifold claims of wide and laborious Circuits, by 'redeeming the time' he gave 'attendance to reading, to exhortation, to doctrine,' and was truly 'a workman needing not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth.' His sermons abounded with quaint sayings, and were ever set forth in 'acceptable words.' His delivery was grave and impressive, and was accompanied by an unction of the Holy Ghost, so that under his ministry 'much people was added unto the Lord.' His perseverance, prudence, and forbearance in the administration of the Circuits entrusted to his care are still gratefully remembered. His punctuality was proverbial; while in self-denial and hearty acquiescence in the will of God, he was 'an example of the believers.' He specially cared for the poor, the sick, and the dying, whom to the very last he daily visited at their homes. On February 5th he was seized with illness, from which he never rallied. He soon expressed his conviction that his work was done, and that the sickness was 'unto death.' 'If I die suddenly,' said he, 'do not be the least alarmed, it is all right.' 'I have felt lately such a blessed ripening for heaven.' Many times he repeated:

'Thou, O Christ, art all I want;
More than all in Thee I find.'

On the day before his death he said, 'I have put myself into Thy hands, and I do not want to take myself out of Thy hands. I would not dictate to Thee, Lord: it is not my place to do so.' 'I am dying. "Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil," and why? not because I have been a good Christian, but because "Thou art with me."' After great prostration and suffering he calmly passed to rest with 'them that sleep in Jesus.'

(21.) THOMAS JONES (A); who was born at Glasbury, Breconshire, in July 1803. He was converted to God in early life mainly through the instrumentality of his mother, whose memory he tenderly cherished throughout his career. Called of God to preach the Gospel, he offered himself to the Conference of 1826, and was sent into the Wellington (Salop) Circuit. Troubled with doubt as to his call to the ministry, he was on the point of returning home, when he met with a person who had been converted through his preaching, and accepting this as a sign from God, he returned, strengthened and comforted, to his work. In all his Circuits, as in his first, he was honoured with fruit of his labours. In preaching he spoke to the heart, and his discourses often produced remarkable effects upon his hearers. He was a man of great simplicity and gentleness, loving and beloved. As a pastor he was highly esteemed, and after he had retired from active service was diligent and useful in visiting the flock of Christ. At the Conference of 1867 he became a Supernumerary, and settled at Lytham, where he resided until his death. During the last few years of his life he was burdened with many of the infirmities of age, but his mind continued singularly clear as to spiritual things. He bore constant testimony to

'The greatness of redeeming love,
The love of Christ to me.'

After a brief period of unconsciousness he died in the Lord, on Sunday, February 23rd, 1879, in the seventy-sixth year of his age, and the fifty-third of his ministry.

(22.) WILLIAM OLIVER BOOTH; who was born at Eccleshill, near Bradford, Yorkshire, September 1st, 1801. His parents trained him in godliness and in Methodism, and in early life the Word was brought home to him, and the grace of God changed his heart. He received much instruction and blessing from the venerable John Crosse, Vicar of Bradford with whom he was brought into contact when only nine years of age. His intelligence and fervour of spirit seemed to others to mark him out for the Christian ministry, and the impression was wrought also upon his own mind, so that at seventeen years of age he began to exhort and preach. After being some years engaged in tuition, he was accepted by the Conference in 1824, and for forty-one years exercised a laborious, earnest, and highly successful ministry in many of the leading Circuits of the Connexion. His sermons were well studied, full of evangelical theology, and brought home to the consciences of his hearers in mighty and loving appeal. He lived and preached for souls, and the Lord honoured him with many spiritual children. Especially in his earlier years Mr. Booth declared the Gospel with forceful and effective eloquence, combined with an admirably adapted elocution.

His love for the young was intense, and his labour for their welfare incessant. He felt it no burden, but a joy. His loving spirit attracted their confidence. They saw that he loved them, and repaid him heartily in kind. This geniality of spirit was characteristic of him in all his intercourse, both with his brethren and with the people of his charge, and few men amongst us have made and retained a larger number of attached friends. He was well acquainted with the discipline of Methodism, and was a faithful administrator of it, doing every part of his work with conscientious and cheerful diligence. As a colleague, he was trusty and beloved, free from small jealousies, and of stainless honour. His power in prayer was remarkable; the grace of supplication was given to him in large measure, and he often seemed, in leading the devotions of a congregation, to have a clear vision of the throne. In August, 1831, he met with a severe accident while travelling to an appointment in the Macclesfield Circuit, and a few years later was thrown out of a gig in Liverpool, which two casualties impaired his health and laid the foundation of great weakness, from which he suffered to the end of life. He did not cease his labour, although subdued by the chastening of almost constant pain, until age was added to suffering; and even after his retirement he continued to preach, lead Classes, visit the sick, and work in many ways for the Master whom he loved so well. As his feebleness increased, and he became confined to his chamber, his soul rested upon God, his peace flowed as a river, and a visit to his sick room was as if one sojourned in the 'land Beulah;' for his 'conversation' was 'in heaven,' while yet he displayed almost to the last a tender interest in the concerns of earth, and especially of Christ's kingdom. He died in great peace on March 19th, 1879; and in twenty-seven hours afterwards she who for fifty years had been his loving wife and help meet went to rejoin him in the skies.

(23.) CHARLES LOUIS SUTCLIFFE; who was born in the Sowerby-Bridge Circuit on July 18th, 1845. Trained in a Christian home, he knew from childhood the value and importance of spiritual life. His decision for Christ was nevertheless delayed until his nineteenth year, when, at Scarborough, the combined influences of pulpit ministrations, the reading of Baxter's Saint's Rest, and a few kindly words from the Rev. J. A. Macdonald, led him, in the spring of 1864, to choose the service of the Saviour. The earnest desire for personal consecration, which prompted his penitent cry, 'Lord, what wilt Thou have me to do?' never faltered. After a night, for the most part spent in prayer, he received the assurance of his adoption, and at once gave himself to such work as his hand found to do. In 1866 he entered the ranks of the ministry, and, with varying physical strength, laboured for five years. Then he refrained for two years, essayed once more to do the work he so much loved, and again was stricken down. He finally retired in 1875.

His pulpit-ministrations were richly evangelical, and glowed with the fervour of an earnest and sanctified life. His pastoral and social converse was kindly, sympathetic, and instructive. When failure of strength prevented further public service, his own house, at first in Birmingham and afterwards in Sidmouth, became a gathering-place for Bible-reading, Bible-classes, and Society-classes, which were occasions of much blessing to many. When these could be continued no longer, in weariness and with exemplary patience he waited as a child 'for the longed-for home-bringing and the Father's welcome smiles.' He slept in Jesus on March 25th, 1879, at Sidmouth, being in the thirty-fourth year of his age, and the thirteenth of his ministry.

(24.) GEORGE RUSSELL; who was born in Exeter in 1813. He was the son of a Wesleyan-Methodist minister. He was converted to God in his youth. Having for some time held successfully the office of Local Preacher, he was ultimately led to devote his life to the ministry of the Gospel. He was first appointed to the Leamington Circuit; and for a period of forty-one years he rendered good service to the Circuits in which he travelled. His preaching was sound, evangelical, and successful. His words are still cherished by many whose youthful piety rewarded his efforts.

Wherever he travelled, he is remembered as a kind, judicious, and spiritual pastor. God gave him many souls in the ordinary course of his ministry. A few young men, encouraged by him to enter upon the same work, have vindicated his judgment and revere his memory. His sudden decease came in the midst of honour and peace.

In the village of Swadlincote, to which he retired at the Conference of 1878, he won the confidence and affection of the people by his visits, his prayers, and his preaching. He peacefully passed away to his heavenly rest, on Friday, April 25th, 1879.

(25.) WILLIAM DAVIS TYACK ; who was born at Camborne on May 26th, 1822, where he was brought to God when near seventeen years of age. Two years afterwards he became a Local Preacher. In 1845 he was accepted as a candidate for the ministry, and after three years at the Didsbury Institution, was appointed to a Circuit at the Conference of 1848. More than half of his ministry was exercised in the neighbourhood of the town of his birth, three years in that town itself, and other periods in London, Leeds, and other important places. His ministry of the Word was earnest, experimental, scriptural, and accompanied by the unction of the Holy Ghost. The spiritually-minded of his congregations greatly prized his warm-hearted preaching of Christ and Him crucified, and his feeling testimony to the ability of 'God our Saviour' to present us faultless in the presence of His glory 'with exceeding joy.' He was a devoted and faithful minister of Christ. The purity and simplicity of his character and his amiable temper made him to be most beloved where most intimately known. He realized the fulness of the blessings of the Gospel of Christ, and freely, though modestly, testified to the closeness of his communion with God, his vivid enjoyment of religion, and his abounding hope. His was a saintly spirit, and among good men he was distinguished for his goodness. The vigour of his faith and his abounding peace were maintained by careful Bible-reading, frequent meditation, and habitual prayer. In social life he was a man of refined tastes and gentle bearing. His conversation and demeanour manifested deep religious thought and feeling. He lived as in the Master's presence.

An illness at Leeds in 1865, and another at City Road, London, in 1872, were discipline by which the Master taught him to be willing 'to be laid aside for Him, or to work for Him.' From the latter period he was not physically vigorous; but he wrought as one who never lost heart, and who would never bate one jot of work that he could do, often preaching when wise counsellors would have had him rest. He continued with diligence and the 'full assurance of hope unto the end.' When speaking of death he would say that 'it was but passing from the lower to the upper temple, as we pass from one room to another.' The late severe winter sorely tried him; and, after accepting the unanimous invitation of the Waterloo Quarterly Meeting to continue in the Circuit a third year, he was seized with a severe attack of bronchitis, from which he suffered for several weeks. Afterwards he seemed to be gaining strength, and on the day of his death he conducted family worship in the evening for the first time since the attack. During the day his spirit seemed richly brightened by the coming light. He wrote to a friend, 'I am in the Lord's hands: He is very, very gracious to me, and I desire to do and suffer His will acceptably.' After retiring to rest he complained of being ill; this sense of illness was occasioned by disease of the heart. For twenty minutes from the first seizure he laid his head upon the pillow and then fell asleep in Jesus, on Tuesday, May 6th, 1879, in the fifty-seventh year of his age, and the thirty-second of his ministry. 'The law of truth was in his mouth, and iniquity was not found in his lips: he walked with Me in peace and equity, and did turn many away from iniquity.'

(26.) THOMAS HAMMOND; who was born at Kingsley Moor, near Cheadle, North Staffordshire, May 26th, 1851. He had the advantage of a Christian home and a Methodist training. Whilst still a boy he became a member of Society, and was led to trust in Christ as his Saviour. In his business homes he 'professed a good profession before many witnesses.' He became a candidate for the ministry at nineteen years of age. He was accepted by the Conference and sent to the Richmond Institution, where he spent two years in happy preparation for his life's work. His first appointment was to Rheims. From Rheims he went to Barbados, but his health failing, he was compelled to return to England. Although only a short time in the Mission-field, he was spoken of as 'the gifted and good Missionary.' His first and last English Circuit was West Bromwich. His gentlemanly demeanour, his Christian spirit, his care for the poor, of whom he gathered more than a hundred into classes for religious instruction on Saturday afternoons, as well as his lucid expositions of the Word of God, and earnest ministry, endeared him to the people. In his illness he was often delirious; but when conscious he exulted in Christ. He said, 'Jesus is worth more to me than ever before.' One of his last requests was, that those near him would sing 'Safe in the arms of Jesus.' He passed away to be with Christ on May 6th, 1879, in the twenty-eighth year of his age, and the sixth of his ministry.

(27.) WILLIAM CROOKES; who was born at Barlborough, in the county of Derby, January 18th, 1803. When about seven-teen years of age, during a season of revival, he became deeply concerned about his spiritual state, and after earnestly seeking the Lord for some months he was enabled to believe in Christ. Soon afterwards he began to preach; and, having been duly recommended, was accepted as a probationer by the Conference of 1825. Preferring the Foreign Missionary Work, he was appointed, in 1827, to Jamaica, where he laboured successfully for eleven years, when failing health compelled him to return to this country. For upwards of thirty years he exercised his ministry efficiently in various English Circuits, until, in 1871, he became a Supernumerary. After spending some years at Merthyr-Tydvil he removed to the Chesterfield Circuit, from which he had entered on the work of the ministry, and in which he had been subsequently stationed. Here, after a period of much physical weakness, he finished his course. Mr. Crookes was a man of strong mind and of considerable information. He was a clear, vigorous, and useful preacher. He possessed a natural cheerfulness and humour, which frequently enlivened his discourses, and was often of much value in the conduct of difficult Church-business. His last days on earth were spent in prayer and praise. He died triumphantly at Old Whittington, on May 9th, 1879, in the seventy-seventh year of his age, and the fifty-fourth of his ministry.

(28.) WILLIAM HARVIE; who was born in Glasgow, in 1794. He sought and obtained salvation in his youth, and for a long term of years adorned the doctrine of God his Saviour by strict consistency of conduct. In 1825 he entered the Wesleyan-Methodist ministry, and was appointed to the Appleby Circuit. After labouring with fidelity and zeal in several Circuits for a quarter of a century, he became a Supernumerary in 1850. In comparative retirement, he continued, both as a preacher and as a Class-leader, to embrace every opportunity of doing good, and of helping the cause of Christ. His preaching was thoughtful and instructive, clear, pointed, and evangelical.

He excelled in pastoral work, being most exemplary in his attention to the young, and in his visitation of the sick and the poor of Christ's flock. His last illness was protracted and distressing. He was, however, sustained by the power of that Gospel which he had preached. The Lord mercifully preserved him from all doubts and fears. When asked if Christ was still near to him, he answered, 'He is always with me, and I am always with Him.' His last words were, 'Perfect peace; perfect holiness.' He died at Kilkhampton on May 19th, 1879, in the eighty-fifth year of his age, and the fifty-fourth of his ministry.

(29.) JOHN WESLEY BUTTON; who was born at Gainsborough, March 28th, 1798. The exact date of his conversion is not known, but he very early began to exercise his talents in the Church as a Sunday-school Teacher, Local Preacher, etc. In 1820 he was sent to the Shaftesbury Circuit as a supply for his father, whose health was failing. The following year he went to Witney, the first appointment given to him by Conference. In 1846 he was sent to Oxford, and in 1847 was made Chairman of the District. He laboured with great acceptance and usefulness in various important Circuits till 1850, when a severe illness completely broke down his health, and he was compelled to become a Supernumerary. In his retirement he would not altogether give up his much-loved employment, but preached as his strength permitted. He was a good preacher, and stood high in the estimation of his brethren. He was thoroughly attached to our discipline, and his fidelity to it in times of trouble had much to do with the serious loss of health which led to his retirement from the full work of the ministry. His last illness—acute bronchitis—was of short duration. He peacefully passed away to his rest, May 26th, 1879, in the eighty-first year of his age.

(30.) CHARLES EDWIN LEFEAUX; who was born in South Wales, May 6th, 1850. He was descended from a French family, which fled to this country on the Revocation of the Edict of Nantes. He was converted to God while at school, where a Christian master did much to direct his studies into a right channel, and to train him for a life of usefulness. His amiable and affectionate disposition, his courteous manners, his strict conscientiousness, made him, both as a scholar and as a teacher, beloved and trusted by all who knew him. These qualities continued to characterize him to the end of his days. He was a zealous man, passionately attached to his work, to which he devoted all his powers. He laboured with acceptance and success in several Circuits. In 1876 he was appointed to Dover, where he had special charge of the garrison, and endeared himself to the men. Here, on June 27th, 1879, he was called suddenly to exchange the field of toil for the home of rest.

(31.) ANDREW KESSEN, LL.D.; who was born in Glasgow in 1814, and was educated at the University of that city, where he took his degree. The son of a Minister of the Established Church of Scotland, in early life his heart was touched under the first Methodist sermon he heard, and from that time he became firmly attached to our Body. At the age of fifteen he began to exhort; and, becoming a Local Preacher, soon offered himself as a candidate for our Foreign Mission work. He acquired the knowledge of several languages, ancient and modern, and was a good mathematician. He devoted all his attainments to the Mission cause. He was permitted by the Committee of the Missionary Society to serve the Government of Ceylon for fifteen years as Principal of the Normal Training Institution in Colombo for Native Christian Schoolmasters. He was eminently fitted for such work by his scholarly attainments, by his natural gift of teaching, and by the deep interest he always felt in young men. On his return to England he devoted several years to the training of Missionary students.

In the midst of his educational work, both abroad and at home, he loved to preach the Word; his sermons were carefully prepared, and marked by fervour of spirit, simplicity of language, and a very practical aim. His pastoral labours were unwearied; his unassuming kindness made him a true friend to the poor, and his genial disposition won the love of all. His life was scrupulously pure and upright, and his excellences were enhanced by his habitual modesty. His piety was beautiful in its unaffected meekness, its implicit trustfulness, and its ardent catholicity. His activity was quiet and incessant; he was a very early riser, and to the end of his life he spent six hours daily in study. He cherished the hope of returning to active service, notwithstanding his enfeebled health. On a visit to Jersey he was attacked with dysentery, and after a few hours' illness he sweetly fell asleep in Jesus, on July 19th, 1879, in the sixty-fifth year of his age, and the thirty-ninth of his ministry.

(32.) JAMES F. BELFIELD; who was born in Manchester, September 30th, 1843. In early life, by prayerful meditation and study of the Scriptures, he sought and found peace with God. Shortly afterwards he joined the Wesleyan-Methodist Society. He had the happiness to be at Wesley College, Sheffield, while Dr. Waddy was Governor, and under his guidance he began to preach. He entered the ministry in 1864. He was a good and acceptable preacher. His pulpit-ministrations were marked by a spirit habitually devout, and by solemn earnestness, and he conscientiously attended to every detail of his work. His labours were interrupted more than once by illness which threatened to be fatal. For many years his health was far from robust; but sickness has privileges as rich as those of health. These Mr. Belfield enjoyed abundantly. Eternity was ever near to him. He was familiar with the thought of death, the dark shadow of which had twice fallen upon him, and he had learnt to look upon it as a defeated and powerless foe. Amid much weakness he bravely continued his work till June 11th, 1879, when he preached his last sermon. A fortnight later it became evident that his end was approaching. But he had long been prepared for death. With calm confidence he awaited its arrival. Unable to speak, he wrote, with trembling hand, 'I have peace.' He fell asleep on Saturday, July 19th, 1879.

2. In Ireland, six, viz.,—

(1.) ROBERT WILSON; who was born at Derryscollop, in the Charlemont Circuit, in the year 1802. From early childhood he was the subject of the strivings of the Holy Spirit, and at the age of seventeen he was savingly converted to God. Being then a member of Society, and from a child knowing the Holy Scriptures, he was soon appointed to the important office of Class Leader, the duties of which he filled with zeal and usefulness. Subsequently he was appointed a Local Preacher, and entered upon this work with much fear and trembling, feeling his insufficiency; but his profiting soon appeared, and a wide door of usefulness opened before him in his own country, where the Lord blessed his labours in the conversion of many sinners. In the year 1828 he was accepted as a candidate for the ministry, and was appointed to the Lisburn Mission, in which he spent a happy year, and was cheered by the salvation of souls; and the kindness of a loving, praying people. For forty-two years he laboured faithfully in the word and doctrine, and he was favoured with several extensive revivals of the work of God, in which hundreds of sinners were turned 'from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God.' He carefully and perseveringly studied the Word of God in the Hebrew and Greek languages, and wrote many valuable articles on Biblical criticism and other useful subjects for the Primitive Wesleyan-Methodist Magazine. His sermons were lucid and forcible expositions of divine truth, which, by the power of the Holy Spirit, reached the hearts and consciences of his hearers.

He was an upright, faithful man, who 'feared God above many'; ardently attached to the doctrines, discipline, and economy of Methodism, but a lover of good men of every denomination. He punctually and faithfully attended to all the duties of an Itinerant preacher. Visiting from house to house, meeting Classes, and holding Prayer-meetings to promote revivals, were his delight. As Superintendent of a Circuit, and Chairman, of a District, he was cautious, kind, patient, and firm; as a Christian he was humble, devoted, and unselfish; possessing a highly cultivated mind, he was at the same time retiring and unobtrusive. After he became a Supernumerary in 1870, he still persevered, according to his ability, and often beyond his strength, to labour for the salvation of souls and the glory of his Lord and Master. His death, which was sudden, took place in Banbridge on the morning of July 12th, 1878, when he fell asleep in Jesus, in the seventy-sixth year of his age, and the forty-eighth of his ministry.

(2.) JOHN SAUL, D.D.; who was born near Dromore, in the Co. Down, on July 26th, 1795, and finished his course with joy near Manchester, on the 11th of October, 1878. His parents being members of the then Established Church, he was brought up in its communion; and before his conversion was upright and moral in his external conduct. Slowly, but surely and clearly, did the doctrine of salvation by grace through faith reach his understanding and heart. At length, having believed on the Son of God with the heart unto righteousness, he realized the blessed experience that there was 'no condemnation' to him, being 'in Christ Jesus,' and the Spirit itself bore witness with his spirit that he was a child of God. Constrained by the love of Christ, he sought first to bring the members of his own family to the Saviour, and soon after engaged in efforts of more extensive usefulness, going from village to village, and preaching 'the glorious Gospel of the blessed God.' Nor did he labour in vain, for many 'believed, and turned unto the Lord.' Believing that God had called him to the work and office of the Christian ministry, he offered himself as a candidate to the Wesleyan-Methodist Conference in the year 1826, and was accepted. Having actively and faithfully laboured in the word and doctrine for the long period of forty-two years, and having also served the Connexion as Treasurer of the Children's Fund, he became a Supernumerary in 1868, after which, by permission of the Irish Conference, he resided in England.

As a preacher, he was a faithful expounder of God's Word, which he applied with affectionate earnestness to the consciences of his hearers. Being deeply impressed with the absolute necessity of every man knowing his sins forgiven, and being born again of the Spirit, he made it a practice in every sermon to point out the way of faith. To such preaching God affixed the seal of His gracious approval, and gave testimony to the word of His grace, in the salvation of sinners from the guilt and power of sin, and in the edification of believers. In his pastoral duties, by genuine sympathy and kind attention, he endeared himself to the members of his flock in his various Circuits. He so walked before his family, that each member of it saw in his example that religion was a reality, and that its possession was a blessed privilege: so that almost all his children were converted when young, and now instead of the father are the children, as three of his sons are ministers of the Methodist Church.

For fifty years he was a diligent student of the Word of God in its original languages. He took special interest in the Syriac version, to the study of which he devoted a large portion of the concluding years of his life. He enjoyed in tranquil retirement for ten years the calm eventide of life, rejoicing in the labours of others, and ever willing to serve the Master as opportunity and strength allowed. No doubt clouded the glorious prospects which presented themselves to his enraptured vision, no fear disturbed the peace that reigned in his soul.

After an experience of sixty years, he bore with his latest breath, in addressing his eldest daughter, this memorable testimony to the preciousness and faithfulness of Christ—'Rest all your hope in Christ. He is the only Saviour; He can save to the uttermost; He saves me, blessed be His holy name;' and when he had thus said, he fell asleep in Jesus, in the eighty-fourth year of his age, and in the fifty-third of his ministry.

(3.) JOHN THOMPSON; who was born in the year 1797, near Enniskillen. When a young man he was convinced of sin and of his need of salvation, by the instrumentality of the Methodist preachers who visited the neighbourhood where he lived. For a considerable time he sought the Lord with deep sorrow of heart, grieved for having grieved his Lord. He joined a Class-meeting, which he found to be a means of grace to his anxious soul, and, through the mercy of God, he was enabled to 'believe on the Lord Jesus Christ,' and was justified by His grace. Having 'received the Spirit of adoption,' he went on his way rejoicing, telling his friends and neighbours what the Lord had done for his soul. For some years he filled the offices of Class Leader and Local Preacher, and was made a blessing to many. He was then encouraged to offer himself as a candidate for the Methodist ministry; and being approved of, was appointed to a Circuit by the Primitive Wesleyan-Methodist Conference in the year 1825. For more than forty years he actively discharged the duties of an Itinerant preacher on several of the most extensive Circuits, with much acceptance and usefulness. He possessed a sound judgment, was regular and conscientious in fulfilling his appointments, as he considered it unbecoming an ambassador of Christ to disappoint a congregation or a family. His sermons were plain, persuasive, impressive, and practical, abounding with appropriate quotations of the Word of God, and were easily remembered. He generally travelled on Northern Stations, and witnessed many gracious revivals of religion. He was a faithful, wise, and sympathetic friend. He was very successful in securing funds for Circuit-purposes, for the poor, for the erection of preaching-houses and ministers' residences, and also for augmenting the Superannuation and Missionary Funds.

When he was placed on the Supernumerary list, he was willing to work to the best of his ability, and always maintained an unblemished character. For a considerable time his sufferings were great, but, having a good hope through grace, he was enabled to 'reckon that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed.' A short time before his death he said, 'I have nothing to fear, my work is done, and there is laid up for me a crown of life.' He fell asleep in Christ, on February 13th, 1879, aged eighty-two years, in the fifty-fourth year of his ministry.

(4.) ROBERT GIBSON JONES; who was born at Enogh, near Dromore, in the County of Down, on December 1st, 1817. His first religious impressions were received from the example and training of a devoted mother; but it was through the preaching of the late venerable John Nelson that he was led to complete decision for Christ. At once he joined the Methodist Church, and in due course became a Class Leader and Local Preacher. Wholly consecrated to Christ, he had but one ambition,—to spend and to be spent in the service of his blessed Master,—and there was now no doubt as to what his future course should be. From the hour of his conversion he felt a burning desire to devote all his time and energy to the work of the Christian ministry in the Church of his choice.

Having passed the usual examinations, he was accepted in the year 1840 as a candidate for the ministry, and appointed to the Armagh Circuit, where for a period of two years, he laboured with extraordinary zeal and success. His subsequent ministry was exercised with great acceptance in several of the leading Circuits of the Connexion. He filled, with credit and advantage, many of the most important offices in the Church. As a friend, he was true and generous; as a preacher, earnest and eloquent; as a pastor, diligent and painstaking; as the Superintendent of a Circuit, judicious and faithful; as the Chairman of a District, wise and cautious. Towards his colleagues he manifested all the affability of a brother, with all the care and tenderness of a father. In the domestic and social circles he was the very embodiment of amiability and gentleness. He was a wise counsellor and a judicious administrator, and his memory will long be cherished.

During the last year of his active ministry, when in the Ormeau Road Circuit, Belfast, the symptoms of his final illness first presented themselves. His affliction, extending over a period of some two years, was borne with true Christian fortitude, and his sayings towards the close of his illness evinced calm submission to the Divine will, and unshaken confidence in God. 'I had hoped,' he said, 'to be at my post by next Conference, but, I suppose, this is my post now.' 'Christ is precious, very precious; I have constant intercourse with Him night and day. I would have desired to work a little longer for the Master. I think I could now set eternal things in a clearer light before the people.' As the end approached he exclaimed, 'I never had such a grasp of God as I have now, I have no fear of death, I am calmly resting on the Rock of Ages.'

He died on April 28th, 1879, in the sixty-second year of his age, and the thirty-ninth of his ministry.

(5.) ROBERT CAMPBELL; who was born near Portadown. He was converted in early life through the instrumentality of Methodism, and became a devoted follower of the Saviour. His zeal in the cause of Christ soon marked him out as intended by the great Head of the Church for a wider sphere of usefulness. In the year 1836 he was received as a candidate for the Methodist ministry. He was stationed on some of the most laborious Circuits of the Connexion, and in several instances his ministry was greatly owned of God in extensive revivals of religion. As a preacher, he was earnest and practical, and he delighted in upholding the doctrines of Methodism. He loved his work, and was most reluctant to retire from its active duties. The closing years of his life were spent in comparative retirement; yet when health permitted, he cheerfully assisted in the services of the sanctuary. Failing health and wasting strength induced in his case severe and frequent attacks of mental depression; but as the end drew near the shadows lessened, and in the 'evening-time' there was 'light.' When asked regarding his confidence in the Redeemer, he replied, 'I am clinging to the Rock.' On another occasion he said, 'He who has been with me during the past will not now forsake me.' He died in peace at Clones, on May 18th, 1879, in the seventieth year of his age, and the forty-third of his ministry.

(6.) JOSEPH M. CORMACK; who was a native of Smithborough, in the county Monaghan. In early life he had the privilege of hearing the Methodist preachers who travelled on the Clones Circuit. Though naturally of a very lively disposition, the power of the Gospel subdued his heart, and brought him to the feet of Christ as an humble penitent. He sought the Lord with strong crying and tears. For a long time he walked in darkness, but ultimately 'the Sun of Righteousness' arose upon him 'with healing in His wings.' He was made a partaker of saving grace, and was filled 'with joy and peace in believing.' Shortly afterwards he joined the late Rev. J. P. Hetherington, who was then a young man, in holding Prayer-meetings in the neighbourhood where they lived, and the Lord graciously blessed their united endeavours in the conversion of sinners.

In the year 1817 he was appointed by the Primitive Wesleyan-Methodist Conference to the Charlemont Circuit, where the Lord poured out His Spirit in a remarkable manner; hundreds were awakened, and many converted, amongst whom were several who afterwards became Ministers in the Primitive Wesleyan-Methodist Society, whose labours were also greatly acknowledged of God in the salvation of souls. During his ministry on several stations in Ulster, Leinster, and Connaught, he saw manifestations of Divine power in turning 'sinners from darkness to light;' and in each of those provinces he was the instrument, through the agency of the Holy Spirit, in the conversion of young men, who subsequently became able ministers of the New Testament. Two of these—John Stephenson and Samuel Larminie—were successful missionaries, who preached the unsearchable riches of Christ, in the Irish language, to an Irish-speaking people, not a few of whom felt it to be the power of God in saving them from double darkness into the light and liberty of the children of God.

For more than fifty years he discharged the duties of an Itinerant Methodist preacher with much fidelity and acceptance, and filled the offices of Chairman of District, and Secretary and President of the Primitive Wesleyan-Methodist Conference, his brethren having elected him to the latter office on three different occasions.

In the early part of his ministry his work was very laborious, and in innumerable instances unpleasant to flesh and blood; but he endured 'hardness, as a good soldier of Jesus Christ,' 'for he had respect unto the recompense of the reward.' He was blessed with a vigorous constitution, and possessed a cheerful and amiable disposition, combined with much firmness of purpose. He was a steady and faithful friend, a kind and affectionate husband and father, and an agreeable companion. As a Christian and a minister of the Gospel he was sincere and conscientious, willing to perform any work to which he was appointed, without consulting his own ease or self-gratification—'Integrity and uprightness' preserved him.

He possessed an extensive knowledge of the Holy Scriptures, and of the writings of Mr. Wesley and other eminent divines; and was firmly attached to the doctrines, discipline, and economy of Methodism, and also a lover of the Irish Episcopal Church.

As might be expected, after a long and useful life in the service of his Lord and Master, his end was peace. He finished his course and entered into rest on June 4th, 1879, aged eighty-five years, in the sixty-second of his ministry.

B. In our Foreign Missions, ten, viz.—

(1.) JOSEPH JACKSON (A); who was born at Ragnall, Nottinghamshire. He was converted in his eighteenth year, and not long after began to preach. In 1834 he entered the ministry, and was sent for a short time to the Walsingham Circuit, where a revival took place under his preaching. He was appointed the year following to Namaqualand, to labour chiefly among the Hottentots, and resided there on different stations for fourteen years. He learnt to preach to the coloured people in the Dutch language with fluency and effect. He taught the Hottentots various industrial arts, and was instrumental in leading many of them to Christ. His health having failed at the Cape, he went to Natal in 1851, living, for the most part, on a retired farm; but on two or three occasions he was placed in temporary charge of a mission-station. His mind was vigorous, his preaching forcible and effective, and he was valued as a pastor. During the latter years of his life, his trials were numerous and severe. His last illness was protracted. Shortly before the end came, he declared himself to be on the Rock. He died peacefully at Pietermaritzberg, on September 3rd, 1878, in the seventieth year of his age, and in the forty-fifth of his ministry.

(2.) SAMUEL HARDEY was born at Barrow, in Lincolnshire, December 10th, 1805. He came of a family several of whose members have rendered good service to Methodism. At the age of thirteen he joined the Church, and in his seventeenth year became a Local Preacher. Having been recommended to the Conference of 1827, he was sent as a missionary to Madras, where he gave himself untiringly to the acquisition of the native tongue. In 1834 he returned to England and rendered valuable service to Methodism, during one of its most trying periods, for which he received the thanks of the Conference. He again returned to Madras in 1836. After some years of labour he was attacked by fever, and compelled again to leave his work. He returned to labour at Brighton, and Barton-on-Humber; but he was a Missionary, and as soon as he had recovered his health, he went back to Madras, where he laboured until failing health compelled him to leave the work so dear to him. Embarking for Australia by way of the Cape, he took a severe cold at Point-de-Galle, and was landed at Mauritius apparently to die. He was wonderfully restored, and gave himself to the spiritual interests of the Hindoo coolies, whom he found there in great numbers. After spending seven years in Western Australia, he was appointed to South Africa, and entrusted with the superintendence of the Cape Town Circuit, and of the Cape of Good Hope District, and laboured with great devotion until death terminated his hallowed toil.

In public and private he aimed to become the servant of all 'for Christ's sake.' His time and talents were cheerfully devoted to the welfare of others. The poor and needy, the sick and the afflicted, found in him a faithful friend. Blameless in his own conduct, he was ever gentle in dealing with the failings of others. As a pastor, he watched over the flock as one who must give an account. He enjoyed the confidence of his brethren, and was universally esteemed as a good man. He proclaimed in simplicity the doctrines that have consoled generations of men in the past, and console them still. He was never speculative; and in the days of controversy and wavering, he held firmly the great truths of the faith which he not only preached, but lived. His last moments were supremely peaceful. 'I die,' he said, 'in the faith in which I have lived for half a century.' To the end he manifested great solicitude for the salvation of others. As he approached the grave, it became evident that heaven came nearer to him. Some little time before death, he desired to go with him to sing 'Safe in the arms of Jesus.' 'Sing to me,' he said, and died. Thus entered into rest one of Christ's most devoted servants, on September 18th, 1878, in the seventy-third year of his age. 'He being dead yet speaketh.'

(3.) WILLIAM D. JONES. He was converted to God in early life, and when about seventeen years of age began his labours as a Local Preacher. His health failing, he visited Australia. Returning to England, he offered himself for our ministry, but his health again failing, he went to South Africa with strong recommendations from home. He was appointed to the Queens-town District, and for three years fulfilled his ministry with great acceptance. He was of more than average ability, and won the respect and love of his people by his earnest and faithful ministrations and by his blameless life. His influence among the families of our people was very blessed. He was not afraid to die. After two months' illness he calmly fell asleep on November 1st, 1878, in the twenty-sixth year of his age, and the fourth of his ministry.

(4.) HENRY LAMB; who died at Bathurst, St. Mary's Island, November 23rd, 1878. After spending nearly two years at the Richmond Institution he was appointed to M'Carthy's Island and Mission to the Interior, Gambia, Western Africa, at the Conference of 1876. Owing to changes in the Missions already established on the coast, he remained as the pastor of the Anglo-African Church at St. Mary's Island, and was therefore never able to visit the scene of his intended labours. This arrangement proved providential, for his preaching abilities and kindliness of disposition fitted him rather for the work of a pastor than for that of a pioneer missionary. He was a faithful, laborious, and loving colleague, and is sincerely mourned by the few workers he has left behind, and by the members of the Church and community in which he laboured.

Having successfully battled with numerous attacks of fever, he was getting thoroughly acclimatized, and there was every hope that he would long be spared to be a blessing wherever his lot might be cast. After he had suffered for about three days from fever, congestion of the lungs supervened, and after having testified that he was at peace with God, he was called to his reward. He died in the third year of his ministry.

(5.) ELIJAH BEW was born at Newbury on July 29th, 1847. His parents and friends were pious, and they, by example and precept, exerted a beneficial influence upon him. In 1861, at a Prayer-meeting after a sermon by the Rev. S. F. Balch, he sought mercy and believed in Christ. Not having such help as converts need, and failing to meet in Class at once, he did not make progress or retain the blessings he had gained, but declined and became careless. In February, 1863, he regained the Divine favour; and profiting by former loss, he at once began to meet in Class, and made progress in the spiritual life. In 1866 he began to preach, and was afterwards led to offer himself for the Wesleyan-Methodist ministry. He went to the Richmond Institution in September, 1871, and there spent three happy years to profit. In 1874 he was appointed to Free Town, Western Africa, where he laboured two years amidst much inconvenience. He often felt in preaching that he was in his right place, and was very happy in his work. He lamented at times that he had not the fruit of his labours which he desired; but he was grateful for the evidences he had that God owned and blessed his efforts.

He was driven from service in Western Africa by fever. After a visit to England and restoration to health, he arrived, early in 1878, at the Diamond Fields, South Africa. His year of service there was trying and difficult, and did not yield comfort. In commencing the second, he resolved to devote himself entirely to his work, and he was full of hope for a prosperous year. After preaching on two Sabbaths, February 16th and 23rd, he was laid aside by fever. At the commencement of his affliction, he mourned over his unfaithfulness, and craved mercy and blessing. He much desired to be at his work, but felt assured that Christ's cause would not suffer by his being laid aside. He clung to Christ alone, and knew he was safe. On March 26th the Lord gave to him special blessing. He said, 'I am now very happy; I never was so happy in my life. My sins are all washed away by the blood of Christ. "For to me to live is Christ, and to die is gain." I do not wish to die; I do not want to go away from you: but O! how happy I am! Christ is precious! Hallelujah! Praise the Lord!' On the next day, after receiving the sacrament, he said, 'I am peaceful; I have full assurance.' On the 28th he appeared to be rapidly sinking. He was quite happy, and said very slowly, but with great distinctness: 'I trust in Jesus. He bore my sins in His own body on the tree. I leave myself wholly with Him.' Afterwards he said: 'Jesus saves me; He makes me all right. I am starting on a new journey; it will soon be over.' In this peaceful state he met his last enemy. Not a struggle or a sigh marked his last moments. At five p.m. on Saturday, March 29th, 1879, just two months after his marriage, he departed this life, in the thirty-second year of his age, and the sixth of his ministry—'to be with Christ; which is far better.'

(6.) PAUL RODRIGO; who was brought to God through the labours of our earlier Missionaries in Ceylon, and, after having given proof of his call to the work in various subordinate departments of our Mission, he entered the ministry in 1850. He excelled, as the result of long and arduous study, in knowledge of Buddhism. This was a great advantage in his efforts to bring the heathen to Christ. In his personal religion, his family relationships, and his ministry, he was faithful to Christ. He was loyal to Methodism, and full of love for the cause of Missions. He died in Colombo, June 6th, 1879, aged sixty-two years.

(7.) WILLIAM DOWSON; who was born at Middleton-in-Teesdale, and was brought to God in early life. Successful in his work as a Local Preacher, and endowed with suitable gifts, he was received as a candidate for our ministry in 1873. After two years' residence in the Richmond Institution, he was appointed to the West Indies in 1875. Arriving late in the year, he was sent to St. Martin's, to fill a vacancy occasioned by the death of the Superintendent of the Circuit; and during the few months of his residence there he was greatly blessed in his work. At the District Meeting of 1876, he was appointed to Antigua, where he laboured with great acceptance, and by his amiable, gentle manners endeared himself to all who knew him. He was a man of unquestionable piety, and of studious habits; a painstaking pastor, and a good preacher. His removal from Antigua to St. Martin's, in 1878, placed him again among a loving people, who were already greatly attached to him, and to whom he was made a blessing. For some time previous to his last illness his desires after increased holiness were apparent to all who knew him. Smitten by yellow fever, he lingered eight days. In the few lucid moments of his illness he testified, 'All is right;' adding, 'Father, I ask only a place among the sanctified.' He fell asleep in Jesus on June 24th, 1879, in the twenty-ninth year of his age, and the fourth of his ministry.

(8.) JOHN JEFFERY; who was born at Brandis Corner, North Devon. He enjoyed the advantages of a godly Methodist parentage, but although the subject of gracious influences, he was seventeen years of age before he rejoiced in the witness of the Divine Spirit. An accident which brought him nigh to death, and which was succeeded by protracted illness and weakness, was the occasion of his decision and rejoicing. After his recovery he was instant in every good work, and in 1869 he was accepted as a candidate for the ministry and went to the Richmond Institution. In 1872 he was sent to Jamaica, and was successively appointed to the Kingston, Clarendon, Watsonville, and Falmouth Circuits. In these Circuits his labours were acceptable and most successful. He was an earnest missionary, diligent in his attention to every detail, and anxious to reap the great spiritual results of his work. By constant study he had obtained an extensive acquaintance with theological and other literature. His sermons were carefully prepared, and often reached a high standard of eloquence, and were clear expositions of truth, delivered with remarkable fervour and power. His manly, frank, unassuming and genial deportment helped to make him acceptable to all classes, and extended his influence. On his return home from attending Missionary Meetings in another Circuit, he was exposed to a tropical sun and to showers which proved fatal to a frame already weakened by illness and over-work. In a few days it was apparent that he was sick unto death. In his delirium the deep feeling of his heart was manifested as he gave tickets to imaginary Classes, exhorted, preached, and prayed. After a week's illness he passed to his reward.

(9.) FERDINANDO BOSIO; who was born in the year 1823. He was educated for the priesthood, and at twenty years of age took the highest scholarship and entered a seminary at Milan, under the charge of the Bishop. It was at this time that he read certain pamphlets, which shook his attachment to the Roman Catholic Church. He was ordered to give up the reading of these pamphlets, but refused. After some time he received ordination as a priest. In 1850 he was appointed Professor of Rhetoric in the Seminary of Mantua. While occupying this position he manifested such a strong antipathy to the Austrian tyranny, and gave such vent to his patriotic sentiments, that he was tried and condemned to death. The sentence was afterwards commuted to imprisonment for twelve years, and Ferdinando Bosio found himself in the Castle of Josephstadt, on the Bohemian confines. During this imprisonment his system received a shock from which he never recovered, and which ultimately ended his life. The Emperor Francis Joseph, on his public entry into Milan in 1856, granted an amnesty to a large number of Italian prisoners, and Bosio was amongst the number. He returned to Italy after five years of suffering in an Austrian dungeon.

After this he was sent as a parish priest to Casalromano, and remained here till 1861. A colporteur, now employed as an evangelist in the Wesleyan Mission, sold him a Bible. By private reading of the Scriptures, without other comment than the silent teaching of God's Spirit, he was led to seek a personal Saviour in Christ. He had a long and severe struggle, but could not rest till he sought release from the priesthood. Under the strong conviction awakened in his soul by the reading of the Scriptures, he called on Mr. Piggott in Milan. He was told that nothing could be done for him till he proved his sincerity by renouncing his present position, and consequently he left much discouraged. Some weeks passed, and again he returned to Mr. Piggott, this time flushed with excitement. He rushed into the room, and throwing up both arms exclaimed, 'I've done it! I've done it!' He had indeed cast himself upon Divine Providence, and was no longer a priest. Every possible means was adopted to induce him to return, but he stood firm.

After his conversion he became a student, an evangelist, and finally was received as an ordained minister. For the last fifteen years of his life he was a faithful servant of God, esteemed and beloved by his brethren; modest and retiring in disposition, but a man of independent thought and strong moral courage. His preaching was that of a studious and thoughtful man, and was full of nervous force and earnest appeal. He suffered much during the last two years of his life, but up to the time of his death continued his labours. His last hours were a precious testimony to the presence of Christ, and the blessedness of His salvation. He gathered the members of his Church around his bed, partook of the Lord's Supper with them, and earnestly exhorted them to fidelity and zeal in Christ's cause. A little time before the last moment came, he seemed to gather unusual strength, and exclaimed several times with all his might, 'The Lord is my Shepherd; I shall not want.' So he died, privileged to witness in death, as in life, for Him whom he had faithfully served during a ministry of fifteen years, (10.) PETER SALGADO, a native of Ceylon ; who was converted to God in early life, and was first employed in Mission-work by the late Rev. Robert Spence Hardy. He was accepted as a preacher on trial in 1860, and laboured with success amongst his fellow-countrymen. Although acquainted only with the Singhalese language, by a diligent use of the means within his reach he acquired a good knowledge of theology, and by constant study of the Holy Scriptures he became a workman that needed not to be ashamed. He was unwearied in the work of the ministry, and faithful in reproving sin, and in watching over those committed to his care. It was by an excess of labour in his pastoral work that he contracted the disease which speedily ended in his death. His piety, always sincere, deepened in the latter years of his life, and on his death-bed he gave a clear and triumphant testimony to the saving power of Christ and to his hope of glory.

N.B.—The obituary of Joel Samuel, intelligence of whose death arrived during the session of the Conference, will appear next year.

EXAMINATION OF PREACHERS ON TRIAL.

Q. XV. What is the Report upon the EXAMINATION OF PREACHERS ON TRIAL during the past year?

A. The Conference receives the Report, and directs that an Abstract of it be printed in the Minutes, and that the Report be printed and sent to all Chairmen of Districts, to the Ministers who form the Board of Examiners, and to every Preacher on trial. (See Appendix, No. VIII.)

Q. XVI. What are the directions of the Conference respecting the EXAMINATION OF PREACHERS ON TRIAL for the ensuing year?

A. 1.

(1.) The Examination of Preachers on trial shall be conducted by a Connexional Board of Examiners, to consist of one Examiner in each subject contained in the course of reading prescribed for the four years of probation.

(2.) In addition to the Probationers' Examination Committee, two General Examination Secretaries shall be appointed.

(3.) Arrangements shall be made at each Financial District Meeting for a Central Examination of Preachers on trial in each District, or more than one if necessary; at which Central Examination or Examinations the Probationers in that District shall attend. In the event of any Preacher on trial being unable to pay the necessary travelling expenses, those expenses shall be defrayed, together with other expenses of the Examination, from the Home-Mission and Contingent Fund and from the Theological Institution Fund, in such proportions as the Committees of those Funds may decide.

(4.) At each Financial District Meeting a District Probationers' Examination Secretary shall be appointed, or more than one, so as to provide a Secretary to take charge of each Central Examination in the District; and each District Secretary shall be held responsible for the efficient conduct of the Central Examination. Full and clear instructions as to the course to be pursued are to be forwarded to the District Secretaries by the General Secretaries.

(5.) The Examination shall take place throughout the Connexion on the same days in the first week of April.

(6.) The Examination-Papers, prepared under the direction of the Committee, shall be sent by the General Secretaries to each District Examination Secretary, whose duty it shall be to distribute them at the Central Examination, and by the earliest post transmit to the General Secretaries the Papers written by the several Probationers at those Examinations.

(7.) The Probationers' Papers shall be forwarded by the General Secretaries to the Examiners for valuation, and each Examiner shall send to them the results of his valuation of the Papers shown by numbers, together with any remarks upon them which he may think desirable. In the case of the North and South Wales Districts, such variations from the foregoing arrangements are permitted as the Examination Secretaries may find necessary.

(8.) The General Secretaries shall compile from the returns of the Examiners a complete Report upon the reading of each Probationer, and forward it to the District Examination Secretary, to be presented by him to the May District Meeting, together with such remarks on the Examination of the Preachers on trial in the District as he may think desirable. The numbers obtained by each Preacher on trial in the several subjects of Examination shall be entered on the District Minutes. The Resolutions of the District Meetings on the Examination of Preachers on trial shall be forwarded to the General Secretaries by the District Examination Secretaries.

(9.) The Conference directs the General Examination Secretaries to send to each District Committee—in May—having one or more Candidates for Ordination, a Report showing the result of the examination of every such Candidate during each year of his probation.

(10.) The General Secretaries shall prepare and present to the Conference a General Report upon the Examination of the Preachers on trial.

7. The Conference resolves that in future the Examination shall extend to two days.

8. Every Probationer who has spent two or more years in the Theological Institution, and there received instruction in Hebrew and Greek, is required to be examined in both those languages.

9. Probationers examined in both Hebrew and Greek are exempted from examination in the Books of Scripture in the English Version; but every Probationer who is not examined in both Hebrew and Greek shall be examined in that Book of Scripture in English which is prescribed for his year.

13. Should any Probationer be prevented by illness, or otherwise, from attending the Annual Examination, the Chairman of the District in which he may be stationed shall, in concert with the General Secretaries, make suitable provision for his examination.

MISCELLANEOUS RESOLUTIONS.

Q. XIX. What OTHER RESOLUTIONS are adopted by the Conference in its PASTORAL SESSION?

A. 1. The respectful and affectionate thanks of the Conference are due, and are hereby presented, to its late President, the REV. JAMES HARRISON RIGG, D.D., for his able and successful discharge of the duties of his office, both during the session of the last Conference, and throughout the year.

RETIREMENT OF THE REV. DR. WILLIAMS.

The Conference learns with regret that, under the pressure of domestic affliction, its beloved brother, the REV. DR. WILLIAMS, is compelled to ask permission to retire from the active work of the ministry. In acceding to this request, the Conference places on record its high appreciation of the faithful and distinguished service rendered by Dr. Williams in every department of its work. It gratefully remembers his unwearied diligence as a Pastor, his faithful and loyal administration of the discipline of Methodism, as a Superintendent, and as Chairman of important Districts, his numerous and valuable contributions to its serial and standard literature, and the high tone of character which he has maintained during the long term of his ministry. Not less gratefully does it call to mind the wisdom of his counsel at its Annual Assemblies, and the very able and indefatigable services rendered by him for many years as one of its Assistant Secretaries, and for three years as its Secretary. Its regret in his retiring from active work is modified only by the hope that by God's blessing he will be able in many ways to serve the Church of his choice in the comparative rest which he has so honourably earned.

DEPUTATION TO THE GENERAL CONFERENCE OF THE METHODIST CHURCH IN CANADA:

The respectful and affectionate thanks of the Conference are presented to the REV. SAMUEL COLEY for the acceptable service which he has rendered as its Representative to the General Conference of the Methodist Church in Canada. The Conference regrets that the state of Mr. Coley's health does not permit him to present his Report in person; but it has received with much satisfaction his brief written communication on the subject, and it repeats the expression already conveyed to him of its prayerful sympathy, and its earnest hope that by God's blessing he may soon be restored to health and vigour.

This Sub-Committee shall be elected by the District Committee. The answers shall be written in the presence of one or more Ministers, who need not to be members of the Sub-Committee.

3. 3. The Conference deeply regrets that the General Committee has found it necessary to propose and to take measures to carry out a retrenchment of expenditure in all our Mission Districts ; but hopes that a systematic visitation of our Circuits, by the Secretaries themselves, with the view of organizing or re-organizing local Missionary auxiliaries, will so far improve the income of the Society as to render the proposed reduction a temporary measure.

4. The Conference is gratified to hear that the important visit of the Rev. Marmaduke C. Osborn to our West Indian Missions has been successfully prosecuted ; and offers thanks to Almighty God for Mr. Osborn's safe return : the Conference trusts that the result of that visit will lead to a more progressive administration of those Missions, and to the early attainment of the position of self-support and self-government.

5. The Conference adopts the following Resolution of the General Committee, which proposes that its financial obligation to the Australasian Conference should terminate ; and directs that a correspondence be opened with the Conference to secure that object :—‘ That, having regard to the present embarrassed financial condition of the Society ; considering that the undertaking by this Society to pay the deficiencies on the New Zealand and Polynesian Missions of the Australasian Conference was stated at the time when it was given to be only for “ a time,” and “ that our people in Australasia ” engaged to take upon themselves the obligation of “ ultimately providing for the entire maintenance of these Missions ; ” remembering that it is now twenty-five years since this arrangement was made ; and believing, further, that the Methodist Church in Australasia is now well able to take the financial responsibility of its Missions— in the judgment of the Committee the time has arrived when all payments of this Committee on behalf of the Missions carried on by the Australasian Conference should terminate ; and that immediate steps should be taken with a view to the termination of them at the earliest period practicable.’

6. Having regard to the present financial position of the Foreign Missionary Society, and with a view to increase the interest therein, the Conference recommends the September District Meetings, when the subject of Missions is under consideration, to arrange as far as practicable for deputations to visit the Branch Associations in each Circuit.

9. The Conference adopts the following Scheme for the Management of the Schools for Ministers' Children. The Officers of the Home-Mission Committee; the Rev. George Curnock and Giffard Dorey; the Circuit Stewards of the St. George's Circuit; Mr. George Lidgett, Captain Bullard, Mr. J. J. Vickers, and Captain Williams; with ten other persons to be elected by the Home-Mission Committee.

COMPENDIUM OF REGULATIONS.

The following Regulations were adopted by the Conference of 1878. Sections IV., VII., and IX., which involved new legislation, were submitted to the District Meetings in May, 1879; and the recommendations of the several District Committees thereupon having been considered, the Compendium was confirmed in the following form:—

I.—TITLE OF THE FUND.

The Title of the Fund shall be 'THE WESLEYAN HOME-MISSION AND CONTINGENT FUND.'

II.—THE HOME-MISSION COMMITTEE.

1. The Home-Mission Committee shall consist of 15 Ministers and 15 Laymen resident in London, and 35 Ministers and 35

Laymen resident in the country, together with the President and Secretary of the Conference, the Ex-Presidents, the Officers of the Fund, and the Treasurers and Secretary of 'The Fund for the Extension of Methodism in Great Britain.'

N.B.—The Officers of the Fund shall be a Ministerial and a Lay Treasurer, a General Secretary, and a Financial Secretary.

2. The Members of the Committee for the Country shall be selected so as to secure, as far as practicable, the representation of the several Districts.

3. One-fifth of the Members of the Committee shall retire annually, by rotation, the same persons being ineligible for immediate re-election, except in special cases.

4. The Committee shall meet once a month for the transaction of the ordinary business of the Fund, usually on the forenoon of the third Thursday.

5. Special meetings of the Committee shall be summoned as soon as possible after the May District Meeting, and at such other times as may be deemed necessary.

6. The Home Mission Committee is permitted to invite Ministers for Army and Navy work, and for Home Mission work, on Stations where there are no quarterly Meetings, in the same way as Circuits now invite Circuit Ministers, and as Home Mission Sub-Committees may invite District Missionaries in accordance with the regulations adopted by the Conference.

III.—SOURCES OF THE FUND.

1. The Sources of Income for the Home-Mission Fund shall be as follows :—

- (i.) The Yearly Collection made in the Classes at the March Quarterly Visitation.
- (ii.) Congregational Collections, which shall be made yearly in every Chapel, on some Lord's Day, and, if possible, before the May District Meeting.
- (iii.) Public Meetings, which shall be held annually in every Circuit, and, as far as practicable, in every Chapel.

(iv.) Circuit and Juvenile Associations.

The sums collected by Juvenile Associations shall be divided between the Home and Foreign Missionary Funds; but in Circuits where definite Home-Missionary operations are being carried on, the subjoined allocation shall be allowed:—

One-third of the sums received by Juvenile Home and Foreign Missionary Associations to be paid to the Foreign Missionary Society;

One-third to the Home-Mission Fund;

One-third to the Circuit, to be expended in support of local movements of a directly Home Missionary character, under the direction of the Superintendent and the Quarterly Meeting, or of a Committee appointed by the December Quarterly Meeting.

(v.) Private Subscriptions.

(vi.) Donations and Legacies.

(vii.) Annual Subscriptions, to be requested from the Trust Funds of Chapels.

(viii.) Contributions from Charitable Trusts, from the Book-Room, and from such other sources as may be available.

2. The amount of Collections and Subscriptions received for this Fund, in each Circuit, shall be immediately remitted to the Financial Secretary of the Home-Mission Fund, and shall be reported by the Superintendent at the May District Meeting. Should any considerable deficiency appear, the Chairman shall make strict inquiry into the case.

3. The District Financial Secretary shall obtain and forward the Circuit Lists, together with all unremitted balances due to the Fund, and shall account for the same to the Financial Secretary of the Fund.

4. The Financial District Meeting shall make arrangements for holding as many meetings as possible in the several Circuits, and shall appoint suitable Deputations to attend them.

IV.—DISTRICT ADMINISTRATION.

1. With a view to encourage and stimulate exertion for the extension of Methodism in particular localities, to maintain and increase the general resources of the Fund for the country at large, and to avoid the multiplication of local funds, it is desirable that each District Meeting should have an enlarged control over the money obtained by it for Home-Mission purposes. It is therefore agreed that each District, whilst receiving, at least, its present ordinary Grant, shall be allowed to retain and expend three-fourths of the entire increase upon its present contributions to the Fund,—such contributions being actually paid in at the May District Meeting.

N.B.—As the May District Committee cannot apportion its available increase unless the amount of that increase be then known, or guaranteed, it is most desirable that arrangements should be made in Circuits for closing their Home-Mission accounts in time for the May District Meeting.

2. In the expenditure of the increased sums thus placed at the disposal of the Districts, special regard shall be had to the following objects:—

The employment of District Missionaries, and of additional Home-Missionary Ministers in Circuits.

The employment of Lay Agents, in accordance with the Regulations of the Conference.

The increase of allowances to Ministers, in feeble Circuits, to such amounts as may be in accordance with the Regulations of the Conference.

N.B.—The Fund will meet all existing obligations, or any obligation which may be sanctioned by the Conference, but must not be expected to meet any increased expenditure which may arise from the calling out of additional Ministers through the administration of this surplus, or from the failure of Circuits to fulfil the pledges hereafter entered into by them to make due provision for married Ministers, to replace the unmarried Ministers thus called into the work.

3. To carry out more efficiently the objects of the Fund, and especially to ensure the successful working of the scheme for the employment of Lay Agents, a District Home-Mission Sub-Committee shall be appointed by the Financial District Meeting in each District. This District Home-Mission Sub-Committee shall consist of the Chairman and the Financial Secretary of the District, and not more than four other Ministers, and six Laymen, of whom one-half at least shall be Circuit Stewards at the time of their appointment. At least one Lay Member shall retire annually by rotation. Any member of this Sub-Committee not being otherwise a member of the District Committee shall become such by this appointment.

4. The District Home-Mission Sub-Committee shall be responsible for making the necessary Financial arrangements for the support of any District Missionary who may be employed in the District, and may invite any Minister as Circuits invite Circuit Ministers.

V.—GRANTS TO ASSISTED CIRCUITS.

1. Payments from the Home-Mission Fund, to assist Circuits to meet the ordinary claims of their Ministers, shall be remitted to the Superintendents in four equal instalments, viz., in September, December, March, and June.

2. Special Grants shall be paid through the Financial Secretaries of the respective Districts at the time of the Annual Settlement.

Grants to increase Allowances.

Temporary Grants, for a period to be agreed upon between the Circuit and the Home-Missionary Committee, may be made to any Circuit with the approval of the District Committee to which it belongs, to bring the Allowances of its Married Ministers up to £130. These Grants are not to exceed, in the proportion of £1 from the Fund for £1 raised in the Circuit, and are to be made on the condition that the Allowances shall not afterwards be reduced below £130.

Grants towards Removal Expenses.

1. If any Minister be appointed by the Conference to a Circuit after an invitation sent by that Circuit to the Minister, every expense incurred by his removal, beyond what the Circuit he is leaving may provide, shall be borne by his new Circuit.

2. A Grant towards the removal expenses of any Minister may be made by the Home-Mission Committee, so soon as it has been certified by the District Home-Mission Sub-Committee that the claim is reasonable, that it has been duly submitted to the Quarterly Meeting of the Circuit from which the removal has taken place, and that the Circuit is unable to meet the whole expense.

Grants for Afflictions.

No Grant for Affliction shall be paid until the claim has first been presented to the Quarterly Meeting of the Circuit from which the application comes, and has been approved by the District Meeting to which the Circuit belongs.

Grants towards Circuit Travelling.

All applications for Grants on account of Circuit travelling, before being paid, must be approved by the May District Meeting.

Grants towards Supplies.

Any Minister needing a Supply must take counsel with the Chairman of the District, before applying to the President of the Conference. Any Preacher sent to supply by the President shall be paid at the rate of Thirty Guineas per annum, for the time he is in the Circuit. This allowance shall not include the board and lodging of the Preacher thus sent.

N.B.—A practice having grown up for Preachers on trial to apply to the Home-Mission and Contingent Fund for grants for afflictions, supplies, etc., in the same manner as Ministers in full connexion, the Conference declares that for the future it be understood that Preachers on trial have no claim on the Fund for any extraordinary expenses.

Provision for Married Ministers.

1. Any Circuit making application for an additional Minister, shall furnish a house not later than at the end of four years, and at the end of three years wherever practicable; and the Superintendent and Circuit Stewards, acting by the direction of the Quarterly Meeting, shall sign a pledge to this effect, and satisfy the District Committee that there is a reasonable probability that such pledge will be duly redeemed. This pledge shall be in the keeping of the Financial Secretary of the Home-Mission Fund, and a copy of it shall be inserted in the District Minutes.

2. The additional allowance from this Fund to a married Minister in full connexion with the Conference, for whom no house is provided, and who would otherwise receive only the allowance of a single Minister, shall be, for Ministers who have travelled four years, at the rate of £40 per annum; and, for Ministers who have travelled five years or upwards, if a house be nowhere available, £50 per annum. These amounts shall be paid in quarterly instalments.

3. Whenever a married Minister is appointed to a Circuit which has failed to fulfil its obligation to provide for a family, the additional amount paid to him shall be entered as a Grant to the Circuit; and, so long as the pledge remains unfulfilled, it shall be considered annually, first in the May District Committee, and then, on the report of that Committee, by the Conference, whether the appointment should be longer continued.

4. In all arrangements for the support of married Ministers for whom houses are not provided, Ministers stationed in Circuits and Home-Missionary Ministers shall have the same Grants.

5. Any Circuit providing a house at the end of four years may receive a Grant of £40 towards furniture; if at the end of three years, it may receive £50; if at the end of two years, £60; if at the end of one year, £70; or, if a house be provided when the additional Minister is appointed, £80; but no Circuit shall receive more than £40 so long as any previous obligation to provide for a family remains unfulfilled.

VI.—REGULATIONS FOR THE EMPLOYMENT OF A HOME MISSIONARY.

The object proposed in the appointment of additional Ministers to aggressive or Missionary work in our own country, is, that specific attention may be given to the neglected and careless portion of the population of our large towns and the rural districts. Their appalling moral and social condition demands a much larger share of the practical sympathy of our Connexion. An increased concern for the religious welfare of our countrymen is already manifested by augmented contributions to the Wesleyan Home-Mission and Contingent Fund; and while anxious to give full support to existing Circuits, to render them still more effective, the Conference desires to see a well-organized effort to extend the Work of God in destitute parts of the kingdom.

Home-Mission Work not to be involved or absorbed in the present regular Working of Circuits.

Any new enterprise of an aggressive character, although conducted in harmony with the working of our Circuits, requires separate arrangements, until the prosperity of the Mission shall make its incorporation practicable and desirable.

When any Circuit requests the appointment of a Home-Missionary Minister, an engagement shall be entered into that his labours shall be devoted to a separate district or neighbourhood; and that such evangelical labours shall not be diverted from their proper object, even by the supplying of vacancies occasioned by temporary absence or inability of other Ministers. A change of appointments with the other Ministers of the Circuit (in the forenoon, where practicable) is however desirable. Such a change will bring the Missionary Minister into desirable communion with the established congregations, beneficially exercise his preaching talents, and secure general sympathy. With this exception, it is manifestly important, in order to the concentration both of labour and responsibility, that the Minister so employed should give himself wholly to his distinctive and proper work.

Duties of a Home-Missionary Minister.

He should daily visit from house to house in his District, until all have been visited; avoiding, however, the usual hours for meals, when the poor naturally object to be intruded upon by strangers. He should read the Scriptures and offer prayer, if practicable, in every case; and where this is not practicable, he should introduce as much of the Scriptures as possible in conversation, giving prominence to the great doctrines which concern the sinfulness of man, and his salvation from sin, and from its consequences, through the one perfect sacrifice of Christ, and by the grace of the Holy Spirit. He should urge the duties of prayer, reading the Scriptures, and habitual attendance on the public worship of Almighty God; earnestly inviting the people to any of our regular or occasional services in the neighbourhood. In these visitations suitable Tracts should, if possible, be distributed in every house. He should inculcate on parents the duty of training up their children religiously, and the importance of sending them to Week-day and Sunday-Schools. He should faithfully, but prudently and affectionately reprove sin; especially profaneness, intemperance, and Sabbath-breaking. Care should be taken to avoid all unnecessary controversy, or the introduction of subjects calculated to produce irritation; and to create, by a truly Christian spirit and demeanour, an affectionate sympathy and confidence between the Minister and those who are visited by him. Without such visitation from house to house, and this individual dealing with the people, there can be no reasonable hope of their being gathered into the Church of Christ.

The sick and dying imperatively demand the care of the Minister. He will often find affliction aggravated by deep poverty; and while it is not presumed that he will be able to relieve all such cases, he may, with advantage to his work, refer them to our various Benevolent Institutions; or, by application to the affluent, obtain means for their partial relief.

He should preach out of doors, at every suitable opportunity, in a simple, earnest, and affectionate manner, especially in the thickly-populated and destitute parts of our towns, and also in villages not at present visited by our Ministers.

It would often be practicable, in addition to regular public worship, to obtain a room for a short service in the evening; and sometimes two services might be held, in different localities, on the same evening. These services would be extemporized and informal, consisting, in the main, of that simple and faithful preaching of Christ crucified, which, applied by the Holy Spirit, is the power of God unto salvation.

It is of the utmost importance that the Minister should not attempt to embrace too large a sphere of action; either as regards population or district. The effect of repeated visits will be to secure greater mutual sympathy, to make his efforts more impressive, to enable him to mark the effect upon the minds and lives of the people, and more certainly to secure the spiritual harvest.

In most places pious and earnest members of Society will be ready to accompany the Minister, and to help him in various departments of his work; and such training will eminently fit them for extensive usefulness in the Church.

Missionary Minister's Journal and Reports.

Each Home-Missionary Minister is to keep a Journal, specifying the number of visits paid and of religious services held by him; the number of persons who have been prevailed upon to attend the house of God; of those who have been gathered into fellowship with the Church; and of children obtained for our schools. The Journal should note remarkable instances of ignorance, and social and moral degradation; and the strictest accuracy must be observed, and great pains bestowed, in reporting the results of the work undertaken. The supporters of our Home-Mission movement are entitled to a full and particular account of the proceedings of the Ministers employed as Home Missionaries; and such records will often exhibit plans of aggressive and successful labour. It must also be remembered that the friends of this work will look less at the mere number of visits and services, than at the religious efficiency of each Mission.

Each Minister, thus employed, will be supplied with two Journals. One of these he will use for three months, at the expiration of which it must be sent to the Secretary for the inspection of the Committee. He will then use the other for three months ; and at the end of each quarter the Journals will be interchanged.

The Missionary Minister must also furnish an annual Report to the Committee of Management, not later than the end of June. This is to be an independent document, and not a copy of the Journal. This Report may include statements of great spiritual destitution, and instances of permanent religious good. A few well-selected cases, given in detail and with fulness, will best serve the purpose. The Report should also contain a summary of the work done (visits, services, etc.), as detailed in the Journal.

Each Home-Missionary Minister is directed to forward to the General Secretary, for the information of the Committee, a copy of the Circuit Plan, and a quarterly statement of the number of full and accredited Church-members, and of persons on trial, in connection with the place or places assigned to him as his Mission District.

Relation of Home Missionaries to their Superintendents.

The Superintendents under whose care such Ministers are placed will be responsible for their proper employment, as before defined, and must not allow them to be diverted from it. If, in any case, it be judged expedient to make an existing place of worship the centre of Missionary operations, such an arrangement must not interfere with the preceding regulations. The Superintendent will be expected to peruse the Journal of the Missionary ; to give the Committee of Management regular information of the spiritual and financial condition of the work ; and to present annually to the District Committee a Report of the operation of these Missions.

Appointment of Ministers as Home Missionaries.

As a general rule, additional Ministers can only be appointed as Home-Missionaries to neighbourhoods where local contributions are offered to defray part of the expense ; and Grants will be made from the Home-Mission and Contingent Fund towards the support of the Ministers, to supplement and encourage local liberality. For the present, when one-half or more than one-half of what may be required to meet the claims of a Minister, shall be provided, such offers will, all other things being equal, receive the first attention of the Committee in their recommendations to the Conference. It may be desirable, in some cases, not to make the appointment of a Minister absolutely dependent on such proportion; but these must be exceptions, admitted only upon proved great necessity and reasonable prospects of success. All applications for the appointment of Home-Missionary Ministers are to be sanctioned by the Quarterly Meetings and by the District Committees.

Employment of Married Ministers in Home-Mission work.

1. As soon as practicable the spheres of labour now occupied by Home-Missionary Ministers shall be incorporated with the general work of Circuits; and in every case in which a married Minister shall be appointed to a Circuit, in connection with such an arrangement, the sum of £50 shall be granted by the Committee, if requested by the Circuit, towards furnishing the additional Minister's house.

2. If necessary, a Home-Mission Grant may be made, for a period not exceeding three years, to the Circuit in which such an arrangement is effected, provided that the amount of Ministerial labour in the locality to which the Home-Missionary Minister was originally appointed be not diminished.

3. Should any Circuit in which such an arrangement has been made require aid from the Home-Mission and Contingent Fund beyond the period of three years, the amount of the Grant shall be determined in the usual way, and be charged among 'Ordinary Deficiencies.'

4. Whenever, in the judgment of the Committee, a Home-Mission Station should have permanently the services of a married Minister, a house shall be provided; either in the usual way by the Circuit to which the Station belongs, aided by the Committee's grant, or, if the Mission is connected with any Circuit, by the Committee only. In the latter case, however, the furniture shall remain the property of the Committee (who are hereby made responsible for its insurance), until, by a special agreement, it has been transferred to a duly constituted Circuit.

VII.—REGULATIONS FOR THE EMPLOYMENT OF A DISTRICT MISSIONARY.

1. He shall act under the direction of the Chairman of the District, and with the concurrence of the Superintendents of Circuits where he may occasionally labour.

2. Should he work in places not included in any Circuit he shall be directed in his operation by the Chairman of the District, in connection with the District Home-Mission Sub-Committee.

3. He shall not take the work of any Circuit Minister, except on special occasions, and then only with the written consent of the Chairman of the District, and on condition that a Circuit Minister shall supply for him

4. He shall labour where he can be most serviceable in the evangelization of the people; and especially in rural neighbourhoods where no organized Methodism now exists, and where, if the Mission-work be successful, the places can be afterwards attached to adjacent Circuits.

5. He shall pay earnest attention to places where Romanizing practices, infidelity, and immorality prevail, and in which there is no vigorous Evangelizing Agency.

6. A monthly report shall be sent by the Missionary, through the Chairman of the District, to the General Secretary of the Home-Mission Fund.

7. No District Missionary shall make collections at the Services which he may conduct in the District, except for the benefit of the Mission, and with the consent of the District Home Mission Sub-Committee.

VIII.—ARMY AND NAVY SUB-COMMITTEE.

1. This Sub-Committee, for counsel and direction relative to Wesleyan-Methodists in the Army and Royal Navy, shall consist of the officers of the Home-Mission Fund and of the Wesleyan Missionary Society, with an equal number of the members of the Home-Mission Committee and of the Committee of the Wesleyan Missionary Society, and other Ministers and Laymen interested in Methodist work in the Army and Royal Navy, who shall be appointed by the Conference. An Assistant Secretary shall be appointed to this Sub-Committee, for the purpose of conducting correspondence, and advising generally on Naval and Military matters. The Minutes of such Sub-Committee shall be submitted to the Home-Mission Committee, and to the Committee of the Wesleyan Missionary Society.

2. A Circular shall be sent to all Superintendent Ministers stationed in garrison towns, or where Depôt centres are established, informing them of the standing Regulations of the Army and Royal Navy, which require all Troops, not on duty, to be paraded and marched every Sunday morning to the public religious services of their own denominations, and requesting those Ministers to take suitable measures for gathering into our Congregations and Societies such Officers, Non-commissioned Officers, and Soldiers, as declare themselves Wesleyan-Methodists, and those Children in Government Schools whose parents are Wesleyan-Methodists.

3. Ministers appointed for the benefit of Wesleyan-Methodists in the Army or Royal Navy, or both, and supported by the Home-Mission Committee, shall conduct all special Parade Services.

4. Generally, it is desirable that Ministers designated to Army work should be appointed to Circuits in the ordinary way, and that arrangements should be made between the Home-Mission Committee and the Circuit authorities with reference to details of work and payment.

5. The Quarterly Meetings of Circuits to which Army Ministers are designated, shall, when such appointments are proposed, be invited to send representatives to meet the Committee to arrange such details. In cases where more than one Circuit is concerned, the authorities of each Circuit shall be consulted.

6. The Army and Navy Sub-Committee shall have authority, from time to time, with the concurrence of the Home-Mission Committee, to issue circulars of information for the instruction of Army and Navy Ministers, but only in accordance with the regulations of the Conference.

IX.—THE EMPLOYMENT OF LAY AGENTS.

GENERAL BASIS.

1. That the time has arrived when it is desirable to employ Lay Agents on a larger scale, and in a more systematic way, than heretofore; and that our District Organization affords special facilities which may be rendered available in framing a general Scheme for the employment of such Agents.
2. That, by the union of District central influence with Circuit enterprise and responsibility, a plan may be devised which will meet the exigencies of the present time.
3. That, in any such plan, it must be a governing principle that no interference can be allowed with the responsibility of the Superintendent Minister, or with the constitutional rights and authority of the Quarterly Meeting.
4. That, while it is not desirable for the General Home-Mission Committee to have any responsibility in regard to the selection or support of Lay Agents employed according to any such plan, that Committee should keep a Register of all such Agents, and in this way be able to facilitate the transfer of Agents from one District to another.
5. That such a plan for the employment of Lay Agents shall not have any authority or any necessary application in cases where such Agents are entirely supported by funds obtained within the Circuit or Circuits immediately concerned.

GENERAL OUTLINE OF PLAN FOR THE EMPLOYMENT OF LAY AGENTS.

In conformity with the foregoing resolutions, the following Plan is submitted:—

1. (i.) The District Home-Mission Sub-Committee shall approve only such Lay Agents as may be recommended by the Quarterly Meeting of any Circuit.

(ii.) They shall superintend, in harmony with the Circuit Quarterly Meetings, or the Circuit Home-Mission Committees, the transfer from Circuit to Circuit, within the District, of duly accredited Lay Agents.

(iii.) They may provide, if they think fit, Lay Agents to labour within the District in any sphere not now included in any Circuit or Home-Mission Station.

(iv.) They shall determine, in conjunction with the Quarterly Meetings, or with Committees duly appointed by Quarterly Meetings, of the Circuits concerned, the limits of the sphere of labour of any Lay Agent; and they shall require and receive a quarterly Report of his labours.

(v.) They shall receive applications from Circuits desiring to employ Lay Agents, and shall negotiate the amount which the Circuits shall respectively contribute towards the support of the Agents, and shall correspond with the Quarterly Meeting, or the Circuit Home-Mission Committee, as to their selection, appointment, and duties.

(vi.) It shall be the duty of the Secretary of each District Home-Mission Sub-Committee to send to the General Secretary of Home-Missions the names of all Agents approved by such Sub-Committee, and to communicate with him if it be deemed desirable to transfer an Agent from one District to another.

(vii.) The District Home-Mission Sub-Committee shall present to the May District Meeting a Report of the work done within the District by the Lay Agents; and, with a view to the complete representation of all Wesleyan-Methodist Home-Missionary agencies, of whatever kind, shall also transmit a Report, through the District Meeting, to the Connexional Home Mission Committee, that it may furnish, in its Annual Report, a suitable summary of the work done in all the Districts.

2. No such Lay Agent shall be employed in any Circuit except on the resolution of the Quarterly Meeting; and every such Agent shall act under the immediate direction of a Committee appointed by the Quarterly Meeting. The Quarterly Meeting, or its Committee, shall have power to engage, remove, or dismiss him, giving due notice thereof to the District Home Mission Sub-Committee.

3. All Lay Agents shall be engaged subject to the following regulations, the violation or neglect of which shall invalidate all claims to pecuniary help from the District :—

(i.) Every such Agent must have been recommended for employment as a Lay Agent, in the first instance, by the Quarterly Meeting or the Superintendent of the Circuit in which he was at the time a resident member of Society.

(ii.) He must be approved by the District Home-Mission Sub-Committee.

(iii.) No Lay Agent shall be engaged for more than one year at a time, subject to not less than one month's notice or salary in case of dismissal, the same notice being required should he wish to resign; and no Lay Agent shall remain at the same Mission Station for a longer period than four years.

(iv.) Every Lay Agent shall be required to keep a Journal, which shall be submitted to the Superintendent Minister, or, if he labour in any sphere not now included in any Circuit or Home-Mission Station, to the Chairman of the District, at least once a month; he shall also furnish a Report of visits paid and services held to the Quarterly Meeting, or to the Committee appointed by it.

(v.) The means for the support of such Lay Agency shall not be derived from the ordinary income of the Quarterly Meeting, but from subscriptions and collections contributed expressly for such Lay Agency.

4. While observing the foregoing resolutions and regulations, two or more Circuits may combine for the employment of one or more Lay Agents.

N.B.—In the foregoing Scheme, the term Lay Agents is intended to include both men and women, who must be members of the Wesleyan-Methodist Society.

METROPOLITAN LAY MISSION.

1. The members of the District Home-Mission Sub-Committee for the two London Districts, who are resident in the Metropolitan Circuits, shall constitute a joint Home-Mission Committee for the Metropolis.

2. The Metropolitan Lay Mission shall be maintained on its present basis, with the provision that the members of this joint Home-Mission Committee for London shall be members of the Committee of the Lay Mission, the constitution of that Committee remaining otherwise the same as at present.

X.—MISCELLANEOUS.

1. Ministers who have travelled not more than twenty-one years, and have lost their health, may be allowed to retire for one year, and may, if in necessitous circumstances, receive, in addition to the allowances payable from the Annuitant Society and Connexional Funds, a sum not exceeding £80, of which one-half shall be provided by the Home-Mission and Contingent Fund, the other half being paid by the Auxiliary Fund. Each case shall be considered by a mixed Committee of seven members, who shall be appointed by the Conference, namely,—the Ex-President, three Ministers, and three Laymen. Should the Conference deem it indispensable, a second year's Grant may be allowed.

2. When the Conference, in order to retain in the full work a Minister who has travelled forty years and upwards, and who must otherwise become a Supernumerary, allows him an Assistant, his support, except in those cases in which the Conference shall decide that the whole expense shall be paid out of the Home-Mission and Contingent Fund, shall be provided as follows, viz., one-third by the Minister so assisted, or by the Circuit to which he is appointed; one-third from the Auxiliary Fund; and one-third from the Home-Mission and Contingent Fund. The expense shall be calculated so as to include the amount which it may be necessary to reserve to meet prospective charges on Connexional Funds.

3. Having regard to the arrangement made with the full concurrence of the Connexion in 1852 and 1853, by which the allowance made for Furniture should be paid to Ministers on their retirement from the full work of the Ministry, and to the Widows of such as die in the work, without bringing any charge on the Worn-out Ministers' and Ministers' Widows' Fund; the Conference is of opinion that, on grounds of fairness and equity, that arrangement should be continued, and confirmed.

DISTRICT SUSTENTATION FUNDS.

The Conference receives with pleasure the statement of Mr. T. F. C. May as to the good accomplished by the operation of these Funds since their establishment in 1874, and directs that an Abstract thereof shall be printed in the Minutes. (See Appendix, No. IX.)

WORN-OUT MINISTERS' AND MINISTERS' WIDOWS' AUXILIARY FUND.

Q. XXVII. What are the Resolutions of the Conference on the affairs of the AUXILIARY FUND?

A. 1. The Conference receives and adopts the Report of the Committee.

2. The Conference, while gratified to learn that its direction 'that a Public Collection be made in all our chapels on behalf of this Fund,' has been acted upon by a large majority of the Circuits, and that from some congregations two collections have been received, regrets to find that in a few principal chapels no collection has been made, and that the collections generally are below those of last year.

3. The Conference regrets to find that in many Circuits the Public Collection is largely, and in some cases wholly taken to supplement the Class contributions; and recommends that by a conscientious mention of the subject in the Classes by the Ministers, an effort be made to raise the quota of sixpence per member, so that the Public Collection may go to the direct augmentation of the Fund.

4. The Conference is thankful to learn that the recommendation of the Conference of 1876, 'That all the Ministers, including Preachers on trial, not appointed as Ministers of Circuits, but separated or engaged to other service, shall have a sum paid for them by the department of service to which they are appointed equivalent to that which is provided for the Circuit ministers by the Class contributions,' has been accepted by the greater part of the departments, and that they have resolved to act upon the recommendation of the Conference year by year.

5. In view of the constantly increasing claims upon this Fund, both regular and special, the Conference urges the Superintendents and their colleagues to careful and earnest exertions to maintain and augment the annual income by private Subscriptions and Subscriptions from Chapel Trusts.

6. The thanks of the Conference are presented to MR. JOHN NAPIER and the REV. JOHN RATTENBURY, the General Treasurers; to the REV. HERBERT HOARE, the Secretary; also to the District Treasurers and the Circuit Treasurers, for their services during the past year.

7. The thanks of the Conference are presented to MR. GREAVES WALKER and MR. LANCLOT SMITH, for their services as Auditors for the past year, and they are re-appointed.

8. The cordial thanks of the Conference are presented to those friends who during the past year have generously aided this Fund by special donations; to those executors who have paid sundry legacies to this Fund; and also to those Trustees who have contributed to it from their Chapel income.

9. The Conference resolves that the scale of allowances to Ministers' widows shall be the same as last year, viz., £14, in addition to the ten shillings per annum for each year that the husband has travelled.

10. MR. JOHN NAPIER and the REV. JOHN RATTENBURY are re-appointed Treasurers, and the REV. HERBERT HOARE is re-appointed Secretary.

11. The following persons are appointed the Committee of Management for the ensuing year; who shall superintend the general working of this Fund, and also consider and decide upon such peculiar cases of affliction or distress among the Supernumerary Ministers, or Ministers' Widows, as may be recommended by the District Committees for special and occasional relief:—

9. The Conference approves of the action of the Committee in the purchase of land at Handsworth, for the establishment of a Midland Branch; in the method adopted for selecting Architects' designs; and in the proposal to provide for the accommodation of seventy Students.

10. The Conference resolves that the New College shall be called "The Birmingham Branch of the Wesleyan Theological Institution."

11. The Conference appoints as Trustees of the buildings and legal estate connected with the New Branch the Ministers and Laymen nominated by the General Committee.

12. MR. DEWHIRST and MR. POINTON are appointed Auditors of the Midland Reserve Fund, and the Conference directs that the amount due shall be paid to the Local Treasurers of the Birmingham Branch of the Institution.

13. The Conference adopts the following Resolutions in relation to the administration of the Theological Institution:—

(i.) That a General Committee of the Theological Institution shall be annually appointed by the Conference, and that its ordinary place of meeting shall be in Birmingham, but that the last meeting of each year shall be held in London.

(ii.) That this Committee shall be charged with the maintenance and the management of the several Branches of the Institution, and that it shall have authority to administer all funds available for these purposes.

(iii.) That there shall be annually appointed by the Conference from this General Committee, to act as Sub-Committees thereof, Local Executive Committees, one for each Branch of the Institution; that each Local Executive Committee shall contain twelve members; and that with these there shall be associated other persons who are not members of the General Committee.

(iv.) That the Local Executive Committees shall report to the General Committee upon all matters affecting the maintenance, management, and efficiency of their respective Branches; that these Reports shall be presented at least quarterly, and oftener if the General Committee so determine; that each quarterly Report shall include a statement of the quarter's expenditure in such form as the General Committee may direct; and that the fourth quarterly Report in each year shall also include a similar statement of the expenditure for the year, and an estimate of expenditure for the year ensuing.

(v.) That the ordinary meetings of the General Committee shall be held quarterly, to receive and consider Reports from the Local Executive Committees, and to determine all questions thence or otherwise arising with reference to the maintenance, management, and efficiency of the several Branches, or of the Institution as a whole; that at its meeting next before the assembling of the Conference in each year, it shall prepare a general Report upon the condition and efficiency of the Institution, and upon the state and requirements of the Fund; that this general Report shall include the annual Reports and estimates of the several Branches, together with the General Committee's estimate of expenditure for the ensuing year; and that this Report shall be submitted to the Conference.

N.B.—The Richmond Branch being a Missionary Institution, the Missionary Committee will continue to act as the Local Executive Committee of that Branch, and shall have as now the charge of the maintenance and management of that Branch, subject, however, to the provisions of the Trust Deed of the Richmond Branch, and to the instructions of the General Committee on all matters relating to the economical arrangements of the Institution.

(vi.) That the payment of the travelling expenses of the Students shall be discontinued. After the Conference of 1880, allowances to Students shall be paid only in cases of proved necessity, the amount not to exceed £10 per annum; and instead of the question which has hitherto appeared in the Schedule, a separate document shall be prepared and forwarded to each candidate for the Ministry, to be filled up and signed by the parent or guardian of such candidate, and countersigned by the Superintendent of the Circuit; and the necessity for an allowance shall be proved to the General Committee through the Governor of the Branch to which the candidate is appointed as a Student:

Provided, however, that quarterage for the current year be paid to Students already in the Institution at the rate of £10 per annum, but that Students admitted to the Institution this year shall be subject to the principle embodied in the foregoing resolution.

(vii.) That the accounts at the several Branches shall be uniformly kept according to instructions to be prepared by the General Committee.

(viii.) That, subject to the General Committee, the same dietary table shall be adopted in all the Branches, and that the provision, while it is wholesome, nutritious, and sufficient, shall be plain.

(ix.) That in all cases where practicable two Collections shall be made annually in each Chapel on behalf of the funds of the Institution; that a circular shall be prepared and issued to the Connexion stating the financial condition of the Institution, and urging its claims to larger and more general support; that the position and claims of the Institution shall be made the subject of special consideration at the next Financial District Meetings, and in the forthcoming September Quarterly Meetings of the Circuits, and that a special inquiry as to the result shall be made in the next May District Meetings.

14. The Conference remits the following suggestions to the General Committee for special consideration during the year:—

(a.) That the official staff be revised with a view to lessen the number of married Ministers on full allowances.

(b.) That since—unless some further augmentation of income can be obtained—the changes now resolved upon by the Conference would probably still leave a large annual deficiency, it may be requisite to consider whether the financial necessities of the case will not require that the staff of the several Branches be reduced.

(c.) The question of the travelling expenses to be paid to Students by Circuits which may be served by them is also referred to the consideration of the General Committee.

15. In the case of Candidates for the Ministry, who are on the President's List of Reserve, and have been sent into Circuits during the year, the District Meetings to which they may belong are directed to express an opinion as to the desirability, or otherwise, of their admission to the Institution.

EDUCATION.

Q. XXIX. What are the Resolutions of the Conference on the subject of WESLEYAN EDUCATION?

A. 1. The Conference receives the Report of the proceedings of the Education Committee during the year, together with a Statistical Statement relating to Training Colleges, Day Schools, Sunday-Schools, and the Connexional Sunday-School Union, and directs that an Abstract thereof be printed in the Minutes as an Appendix. (See Appendix, No. IV.)

2. The Conference empowers the Education Committee to make Grants, on inspection, to new Schools to which the provisions of the Minute of the Education Department, dated June 21st, 1878, apply, and for the probationary period during which, under the said Minute, such Schools cannot receive Grants in aid from the Department.

3. The Conference expresses its opinion that, in view of the working of existing arrangements for Public Elementary Education, it is highly desirable that the number of Wesleyan Day Schools should at least be maintained. The Conference therefore strongly recommends that before any steps are taken towards the closing or transfer of any Wesleyan Day School, the proposal to close or transfer it be communicated to the Education Committee, in order that they may have an opportunity of suggesting alternative proposals for the consideration of Local Managers.

4. The Conference directs that in all ordinary cases of Day Schools conducted on Wesleyan Trust premises, no such Schools shall be discontinued so long as there is a reasonable prospect of their being carried on without serious embarrassment. The same general principle shall apply to Wesleyan Day Schools conducted in premises rented for the purpose under the management of a recognized Wesleyan School Committee. When, however, the discontinuance of a Day School is proposed, before such proposal is carried into effect the Superintendent shall consult the Trustees, the Managing Committee, and the Subscribers; and if in any case there is a considerable division of opinion, the case shall be submitted to the Quarterly Meeting of the Circuit. In all cases, the general principle laid down by the Conference respecting the Transfer of Schools—viz., that the Superintendents of the Circuits, with the Managers and Trustees acting in concert, shall consult the Education Committee—shall be adhered to.

5. The Conference declares that it shall not be deemed to be within the power and option of a Superintendent to prevent the establishment or continuance of a Wesleyan Day School, so long as responsible parties pledge themselves to bear all the financial cost and risk.

6. (1.) In view of the interpretation which is put upon Section XXIII. of the Elementary Education Act by the Lords of the Committee of Council, to the effect that any transfer of a School, settled upon our School Model Deed No. I., to a School Board, for any term whatever, for the purposes of such School Board, must be sanctioned not only by the signatures of the Trustees, but by the Conference, testified by the President in writing, the Conference directs that in every case in which the transfer of such a School is proposed, the Superintendent, with the Managers and Trustees acting in concert, shall first consult the Education Committee on the subject, and that if, for reasons given, that Committee recommends such a transfer, the Rules of the Conference in relation to the sale of Trust Property shall be applicable thereto;—the Education Committee considering all questions affecting School management, and the Chapel Committee questions affecting Trust Property.

(2.) In respect to Schools settled on the School Model

Deed No. II., or on any other Deed in which the consent of the Conference is rendered necessary for the alienation of the property, the Conference recommends the Trustees to act upon the same principles as those laid down in the foregoing clause in relation to Schools settled on the School Model Deed No. I.

(3.) In all cases of transfer which may hereafter occur, the Conference recommends that provision be made in the instrument of transfer to secure the resumption of the premises by the Trustees, without their being required to reimburse any money laid out upon them by the School Board solely for its own purposes.

7. The Conference directs that the Statistics of the Day and Sunday Schools of each Circuit be read in the March Quarterly Meeting; but that if sufficient time be not then available for the discussion of the Statistics, and for inquiry into the state of the Schools, such discussion and inquiry shall take place in the June Quarterly Meeting.

8. The Conference directs that the Education Schedules, having been duly filled up and presented to the March Quarterly Meeting, shall be sent by the Superintendents to the District Education Secretary, not later than April 20th.

9. The Conference directs all who are contemplating the erection or alteration of premises for the establishment of new Schools, to communicate with the Education Committee, for the purpose of receiving counsel as to their projected undertakings, and the adaptation of the premises to the system of instruction designed to be adopted.

10. The Conference directs that the October Examination of Pupil Teachers in Religious Knowledge shall be held on the last Saturday of that month. The March Examination will continue to be held on the first Saturday of that month.

11. The Conference authorizes the observance of the third Sunday in October in each year as a day for Special Prayer on behalf of Sunday-Schools and young people.

12. The thanks of the Conference are presented to the Rev. FREDERIC GREEVES, to Mr. FREDERICK HOWARD, and to

MR. WILLIAM VANNER, for their services as Treasurers of the Education Fund.

13. The Conference re-appoints the REV. FREDERIC GREEVES, MR. FREDERICK HOWARD, and MR. WILLIAM VANNER, to be Treasurers of the Education Fund. The special duty of Mr. William Vanner shall be the charge of the Sunday-School Union branch of the finance.

14. The Education Committee shall consist of the following persons, viz.,—the President and the Secretary of the Conference; the Ex-President; the Treasurers; the Secretary of the Committee; the Principal of the Southlands Training College; the Secretary of the Connexional Sunday-School Union; the Principal of the Children's Home; the Book-Stewards; and the—

CHILDREN'S HOME AND ORPHANAGE.

Q. XXX. What are the Resolutions of the Conference on the subject of the CHILDREN'S HOME AND ORPHANAGE?

A. 1. The Conference receives with gratification the Report of the Committee of the Children's Home, and expresses its thankfulness for the social, moral, and religious results, which are being gathered from the work. The Conference notices with great satisfaction the continued liberal support afforded to the Institution by the subscribers generally, and particularly by Sunday Schools; and, especially in view of the establishment of the New Orphanage Branch near Birmingham, commends this whole work to the enlarged and prayerful liberality of the Christian public. The Conference further directs that an Abstract of the Report be printed in the Minutes. (See Appendix, No. V.)

2. The Conference approves the following Scheme for the future management of this Department, including the existing Branches of the Children's Home, the New Orphanage Branch, and any others which the Conference may in future place under the direction of this Committee; and requests the Trustees and General Committee of the Children's Home to take such steps as may be rendered necessary by the adoption of this Scheme:—

- (i.) A General Committee shall be appointed by the Conference for the Children's Home and Orphanage, which shall meet at least twice yearly, and more frequently if necessary. This Committee shall be charged with the maintenance and general management of the several Branches of the Institution, and shall administer, subject to the direction of the Conference, all funds available for this purpose.
- (ii.) The Conference shall annually appoint to act as Sub-Committees of this General Committee, Local Executive Committees, one for each Branch of the Institution. Such Local Committees may include persons not members of the General Committee.
- (iii.) At its half-yearly meeting, or oftener if it shall think fit, the General Committee shall receive from each Local Committee a detailed statement of Income and Expenditure for the period just passed, and an estimate of Expenditure for the period ensuing; and after considering these statements, the General Committee shall determine the limits of expenditure to be observed by each Local Committee during the ensuing period.

(iv.) In the interval of the meetings of the General Committee, each Local Committee shall have power to decide upon the reception or rejection of children for whom application is made. All cases decided in the intervals of its meetings, since its last meeting, shall be reported to the General Committee.

(v.) The Principal and the General Treasurers shall be ex-officio members of every Local Committee, and of all Sub-Committees thereof.

(vi.) Each Local Committee shall appoint a Finance Sub-Committee, which shall meet regularly, examine all accounts, and authorize all payments, and shall advise the Local Committee on all questions affecting Finance.

(vii.) A Meeting of the Trustees and General Committee shall be held annually at some convenient time and place. This meeting shall examine the accounts for the year, shall receive the Report of the Principal, and shall forward to the Conference a Report of the state and prospects of the Institution.

3. The Conference having received information that Her Majesty the Queen would be graciously pleased to accord Her Royal permission that the proposed Orphanage should be named after Her late lamented Royal Highness the Princess Alice, hereby expresses its dutiful thanks for this mark of Her Majesty's favour, and resolves that the Institution shall be designated 'The Princess Alice Orphanage for the Children of Christian parents, founded by the Wesleyan-Methodist Conference, in connection with the Thanksgiving Fund of 1879.'

RELIGIOUS OBSERVANCE OF THE LORD'S DAY.

Q. XXXI. What are the Resolutions of the Conference on receiving the Report of the Committee for promoting the RELIGIOUS OBSERVANCE OF THE LORD'S DAY?

A. 1. The Conference receives the Report of the Committee; and, being convinced that the observance of one day in seven as a 'holy day' especially appropriated to the worship of God is an index to the spiritual state of nations and individuals, expresses its earnest hope that the Methodist people will be faithful to the requirements of the Lord's Day; and that, by conscientious abstinence from secular work and unnecessary travelling, and by a careful attention to religious duties, they will ever seek to obtain for themselves, and to extend to others, the blessings of sanctified rest which the Christian Sabbath confers.

2. The Conference repeats its recommendation as to the necessity of vigilance and activity in defending God's holy day against the organized attempts made to desecrate it.

3. The thanks of the Conference are presented to the REV. JOHN BAKER, M.A., and the REV. WILLIAM HUDSON for their valuable services during the past year, and they are re-appointed the Secretaries of the Committee.

EXTENSION OF METHODISM IN GREAT BRITAIN.

Q. XXXII. What are the Resolutions of the Conference on the subject of the Fund for the EXTENSION OF METHODISM IN GREAT BRITAIN?

A. 1. The Conference adopts the Report of the Committee, and directs that an Abstract of the same be printed in the Minutes. (See Appendix, No. VI.)

2. The Conference is gratified to hear that the sum of £9,538 has been voted by this Committee during the past year to 133 Chapels. It learns with great satisfaction that encouragement has thus been given in the establishment of Methodism in spiritually necessitous localities, and rejoices that further benefits are likely to be conferred on many other similarly needy parts of our country by the continued operations of this Fund.

3. The thanks of the Conference are presented to SIR FRANCIS LYCETT and MR. WILLIAM MEWBURN, the Treasurers; and to the Committee, for their diligent and faithful services.

TEMPERANCE.

Q. XXXIII. What are the Resolutions of the Conference on the subject of TEMPERANCE ?

A. 1. The Conference receives and adopts the Report of the Temperance Committee.

2. The Conference learns with pleasure that the Wesleyan Bands of Hope now number 1,502, with a membership of 136,629; and commends to the special notice and fostering care of Ministers and Sunday-school Committees, these simple, but important organizations, as capable, when properly managed, of conferring great benefit on our young people.

3. In view of the widespread and deplorable evils of intemperance, the Conference recommends that on Sunday, December 14th, 1879, special reference be made to the subject in all our places of worship.

4. Desirous of increasing the efficiency of the Temperance Schemes already sanctioned (Minutes of Conference, 1874, p. 207, and 1877, p. 211), and of bringing their operations into closer agreement with our general system, the Conference approves the following additional regulations for Circuit and District action :

- (i.) The Wesleyan-Methodist Temperance Societies and Bands of Hope in any Circuit may be formed into a Circuit Temperance Union.
- (ii.) Every such Union shall be managed by a Committee, annually elected, consisting equally, if possible, of abstainers and non-abstainers, and comprising all the Ministers of the Circuit, together with twelve or more persons, one-half of whom shall be elected by the Band or Bands of Hope in the Circuit in such proportions as may be locally determined ; and the other half shall, in like manner, be elected by the Temperance Society or Societies of the Circuit. The elective body of each Band of Hope or Temperance Society shall be, for this purpose, its own Committee.
- (iii.) The Circuit Union Committee shall appoint from among themselves a Treasurer and Secretaries.
- (iv.) The Secretaries shall convene and take Minutes of meetings of the Committee ; keep a record of returns received from the Temperance Societies and Bands of Hope ; furnish, in due time, the returns required for the District Temperance Secretary's Report ; and attend generally to the affairs of the Circuit Temperance Union.
- (v.) The Superintendent of the Circuit shall be ex-officio Chairman of the Committee, but may, when he shall see fit, appoint one of his colleagues, or some other member of the Committee, to act in his place.
- (vi.) At the September District Meeting a ministerial District

Temperance Secretary shall be appointed, to whom shall be sent all returns and reports from the Circuit Unions, Bands of Hope, and Temperance Societies. It shall be the duty of this Secretary to prepare a report on the Temperance work in the District, and submit the same to the District Meeting in May, and afterwards forward it, with any resolutions of the District Meeting thereupon, to the Secretaries of the General Temperance Committee.

5. In the judgment of the Conference the public sale of intoxicating drinks on the Lord's Day, as now carried on in this country, is in striking inconsistency with the due observance of that Day, and with the best interests of the nation. The Conference, being of opinion that special efforts should be made during the ensuing year, in behalf of closing licensed public-houses entirely on Sundays, throughout England and Wales, except for bonâ fide travellers, authorizes its President, in conjunction with the Temperance and Sabbath Committees, to promote the petitioning of Parliament, and other well-advised means for the accomplishment of so important and desirable an end.

6. The following Ministers and Laymen are appointed the Committee for the next year, viz.,—the President of the Conference; the Secretary of the Conference; the Ex-President; with the—

WESLEYAN-METHODIST THANKSGIVING FUND.

I. The Conference receives the Report of the Committee appointed last year to 'consider the best method of relieving the existing embarrassments, and providing, as far as possible, against the recurring accumulation of debt, as also of raising the means for the erection of a new Branch of the Theological Institution, and for other pressing purposes.'

II. Having considered the Report of the Committee respecting the establishment of 'The Wesleyan-Methodist Thanksgiving Fund,' for the purposes named in the preceding resolution, the Conference records its hearty approval of the measures so adopted, and expresses its devout and earnest gratitude to Almighty God for the remarkable success which has thus far been vouchsafed to the movement in various Districts of the Connexion. The Conference regards with warm appreciation and very deep thankfulness the unity of purpose and heart, the loving devotion to the cause of God, the anxiety for the welfare and progress of Methodism, and the readiness to promote the efficiency of its institutions by self-denying liberality, which have been evinced in connection with the movement; as also the spirit of cheerful consecration to God in which contributions have been promised to the Fund, the high tone of religious feeling prevailing in meetings which have been held on its behalf, and the spiritual blessing which has so abundantly accompanied them. The Conference is sensible of the many and important advantages which the Connexion will secure by the relief of its Departments from embarrassment, and by the means of extension and usefulness which the Fund will provide. The value of the contributions to it, moreover, is greatly enhanced in the esteem of the Conference by the fact that they have been made during a period of commercial depression which has very painfully affected many parts of the country, and which must have lessened the resources of many donors to the Fund; and still more, in view of the very numerous and widely varying sums promised, which embrace, together with munificent gifts, very many equally generous gifts of smaller amount. The Conference, in view of the success which is now reported to it, expresses its confident hope that the movement will be satisfactorily completed, and commends it to the hearty and generous sympathy of the Methodist people at home and abroad.

III. The Conference approves the appropriation of the proceeds of the Fund to the extinction of debt upon Connexional Departments, the erection of a new Branch of the Theological Institution, and to other purposes, now reported to have been made at the Meeting of the Committee, held October 29th, 1878, and following days, as under; and the Conference accordingly determines—

(1) That the under-named sums, amounting to £58,000, shall be devoted from the Fund to the extinction of debt upon the following Connexional Departments, namely:—

a. The Foreign Missionary Society	£17,000
b. The Home-Mission and Contingent Fund...	7,500
c. The Education Fund	14,000

- d. The Schools Fund £12,000
 e. The Connexional Sunday-School Union 3,000
 f. The Children's Home 4,500

g. And that a sum not exceeding £25,000 shall be devoted from the Fund towards the erection of a new Branch of the Theological Institution in the Midland Counties, to provide accommodation for seventy Students.

(2) That the undermentioned sums, amounting to £121,000, shall be devoted pro rata, as the resources provided by the Fund may be found to permit, to purposes specified as follows:—

- h. Foreign Missions: for the strengthening and consolidation of existing Missions, and for the commencement of new Missions, especially in Africa and in the East, and for their maintenance during several years £23,000
 i. Fund for the 'Extension of Methodism in Great Britain'; towards its completion... .. 45,000
 k. Home Missions: to assist needy Circuits in providing or furnishing houses for married Ministers who at present have none; 4,500
 And towards strictly evangelistic efforts for the spiritual benefit of soldiers and sailors in this country and in Malta 4,000
 l. German Mission Chapel in London, towards the erection of... .. 2,000
 m. New Chapel at Oxford, towards completing the erection of... .. 2,000
 n. Kingswood and Woodhouse Grove Schools, for the estimated cost of completing the re-organization of 15,000
 o. The Southern School for Ministers' Daughters, to secure permanent accommodation for 5,000
 p. Middle-Class Schools: in the event of the Committee appointed by the late Conference 'to consider the subject of middle-class education' being able to devise some scheme which the Conference shall approve, for promoting the establishment of lower middle-class schools: towards the furtherance of that scheme	£10,000

q. The Connexional Sunday-School Union, to complete the Capital and Outfit Fund	8,000
r. The Children's Home: for enfranchising premises		500
s. Invalid Ministers' Rest Fund: towards a Fund to be administered by a Sub-Committee of the Auxiliary Fund	4,000
t. North Wales Chapel Loan Fund: in aid of	...	2,000
u. South Wales Chapel Loan Fund: in aid of	...	1,000

IV. The Conference learns with much satisfaction that so large a proportion of the debts on the Connexional Departments has been already paid off by grants made from the Fund, in addition to contributions in an equal proportion to the proposed cost of the new Branch of the Theological Institution.

V. The Conference approves and adopts the following Resolution of the Committee, in reference to the extension of the Thanksgiving Fund to the Foreign Mission Districts of the Connexion:—

‘That in addition to the sum of £17,000 which has been allocated for freeing the Missionary Society from debt, and to the further sum of £23,000 which, if the Fund—exclusive of money received from the Foreign Districts—reaches £204,000, is to be given to that Society for extension purposes, the General Committee of the Thanksgiving Fund resolve to hand to the Missionary Committee for the purposes of Foreign Missions any amount which shall have been contributed to the Thanksgiving Fund from Foreign Stations, after deducting therefrom any sums which may have been specifically allotted to Home objects by individual donors.’

VI. The Conference approves and adopts the following Resolution of the Committee, at its Meeting held January 30th and 31st, 1879:—

'That, having been informed that a promise has been made of £1,000 to the Thanksgiving Fund, and a further sum of £9,000 towards the establishment of an Orphanage for the children of Christian parents (the children of Methodist parents, other things being equal, having the preference); this Committee fully believing that the maintenance of such an Orphanage may be provided for without any prescribed collection on its behalf throughout the Connexion, recommends that the sum of £19,000 (including the £9,000 above-mentioned) be allotted, subject to the appropriation of £204,000 already made, for the purpose of establishing such an Orphanage under the direction of the Conference, and in conformity with a scheme to be approved by it.

The Conference further adopts the recommendation of the Committee:—

- (1.) That a Connexional Committee shall be appointed which shall be charged with the management of the Children's Home and also of the Orphanage;
- (2.) That the Orphanage shall be managed on the family or separate house principle; and
- (3.) That the children shall receive a good elementary education, with industrial training, exceptional cases being specially dealt with.'

VII. The Conference approves and adopts the following Resolution of the Committee with respect to contributions made in Scotland to the Thanksgiving Fund:—

'That in aid of the Fund for the "Relief and Extension of Methodism in Scotland" an amount be granted consisting of whatever sum may be contributed to the Thanksgiving Fund in Scotland, and fifty per cent. in addition, provided always that the total sum to be appropriated in addition to the amount raised in Scotland shall not exceed £1,500.'

VIII. In view of the success which has hitherto attended the Thanksgiving Fund movement, and of the reasons for hoping that such success will be continued,—the Conference approves the appropriation to the under-mentioned objects of the sums named, subject, however, to the following provisions, namely:—

(1) That the said sums shall not be available until the total amount of the Fund (exclusive of the sums contributed to it in Scotland and in the Foreign Districts) shall proportionately exceed the amount of £224,500 already appropriated, and the sum required to pay necessary expenses; and (2) That the undermentioned sums shall be subjected to rateable deduction if a sufficient amount be not raised to pay them in full.

(a). For the benefit of necessitous Local Preachers, to be invested, and the interest distributed from time to time by a Committee to be appointed by the Conference as they may deem best:

The sum of £8,000

(b). For the Extension of Lay Agency under the direction of the Home Missionary Committee:

The sum of £5,000

(c). For the purposes of the Connexional Temperance Committee:

The sum of £2,000

(d). For the purposes of the Wesleyan Association for Abolishing the Regulation of Vice by the State:

The sum of £1,000

IX. The Conference resolves that in the future appropriation of any surplus which may be obtained over the total of the amounts appropriated by the foregoing Resolutions, it be an instruction to the Executive Committee of the Thanksgiving Fund to give special consideration to the case of the existing debts on our Foreign Missionary Fund, and on our other Connexional Funds, and to make such grants as they may be able, with a view to the extinction of such debts.

X. It also resolves that all applications for any portion of further surplus be referred to the Executive Committee, and that a Report thereon be presented to the next Conference.

XI. The General Committee of the Thanksgiving Fund shall consist of the Ministers and Laymen appointed under the Resolution of the last Conference on Connexional Finance; together with all other Ministers and Laymen who have been added by Resolutions of the General and Executive Committees of the Thanksgiving Fund, with power to add to their number.

XV. The very hearty thanks of the Conference are presented to the REV. THEOPHILUS WOOLMER (A), for his valuable services as one of the Financial Secretaries of the Fund.

MEETINGS ON BEHALF OF THE THANKSGIVING FUND.

1. The Conference directs that in Districts of the Connexion in which Central Meetings on behalf of the Fund have not yet been held, such Meetings shall be held as early as practicable.

2. The Conference directs that a Meeting or Meetings on behalf of the Fund shall be held in every Circuit of the Connexion in which no Meeting has yet been held, and requests the Superintendent Minister to arrange for holding such Meetings as early as possible.

3. In view not only of the financial advantage derivable from additional Meetings on behalf of the Fund, but also of the benefit by way of religious influence and of information respecting the working of Methodism which is likely to result from such Meetings, and also of the opportunity which they afford for enlisting the sympathies of all classes of our people, the Conference strongly recommends that Meetings be held at as many places within each Circuit as may be practicable.

4. The Conference directs that arrangements be made in the forthcoming Financial District Meetings for holding Meetings in accordance with these Resolutions, and that Reports respecting them be presented to the District Committees in May.

MISCELLANEOUS RESOLUTIONS.

Q. XXXIV. What OTHER RESOLUTIONS are adopted by the Conference in its REPRESENTATIVE SESSION?

A. THE PRESIDENT'S SERMON.

The hearty thanks of the Conference are presented to its President, the REV. BENJAMIN GREGORY, for the very earnest, faithful, and practical Sermon delivered by him in Islington Chapel, Birmingham, on Sunday, August 3rd, 1879, and he is requested to publish it.

MISSION CHAPELS.

On the recommendation of the Committee appointed under the direction of the last Conference, to consider the legal position of Iron Chapels, Mission Rooms, and other temporary or experimental places of worship, the Conference adopts the following Resolutions:—

1. That the Chapel Committee be directed to prepare a short and simple form of agreement suitable for signature by persons in whose names premises are acquired for temporary occupation as Mission Rooms, defining the purposes for which the property is to be held.

2. That the financial arrangements relating to such premises shall be under the direction of the Quarterly Meeting of the Circuit in which such premises are situated, or of a Committee appointed thereby, and that the consent of other Connexional authorities shall not be required to such arrangements.

3. That the preceding arrangements, namely, the use of the short form of agreement and the exemption from the necessity of obtaining the consent of the Connexional authorities, other than the Quarterly Meeting of the Circuit, shall not be held to apply to premises taken for terms of fourteen years or upwards, or to premises taken on leases, which are renewable from time to time, or beyond the period of fourteen years.

3. The question of assisting Middle-Class Day Schools out of this Fund is referred to the consideration of the Committee.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES ACTS.

1. The Conference renews its solemn protest against the Contagious Diseases Acts, as being iniquitous in principle and demoralizing in tendency.

2. The Conference approves the action of the Wesleyan Society for Abolishing the Regulation of Vice by the State, in the prudent dissemination of information respecting the character and operation of these immoral Acts, through the medium of the 'Protest,' and otherwise, and repeats its recommendation to our people to unite and persevere in vigorous effort to procure their repeal.

3. The Conference requests the Society to communicate with the Conferences in the British Colonies and the United States, informing them of the action taken by the Connexion in this matter, and urging their attention to similar legislation which may exist, or be threatened, in their several countries.

STANDING ORDERS.

1. Home-Missionary Ministers.—The Conference directs that a special inquiry shall be made at the May District Meetings, whether the Regulations for the employment of Home-Missionary Ministers, adopted by the Conference, have been faithfully observed in the Circuits to which Home-Missionary Ministers are appointed; and that a Report in each case shall be made to the Conference.

2. Candidates for Ordination.—The Conference directs that Candidates for Ordination shall, at or before the May District Meeting, preach before three Ministers of the District, who shall report to the Meeting.

3. Preachers on Trial.—(1.) The Conference, having been informed that, in several Circuits, the Preachers on Trial have very rarely an opportunity of receiving the Lord's Supper, resolves that, in compliance with a former injunction on this subject, the Superintendents be required to make the necessary arrangements, in their Circuit-Plans, for securing to their junior Colleagues proper facilities for partaking of this Holy Sacrament. (2.) Whenever it shall be found to be practicable, Preachers on Trial shall preach during the District Meetings.

4. Candidates for Admission on Trial.—(1.) Those Preachers who are recommended for Admission on Trial shall preach in the presence of at least three of the Ministers of the District Committee, (at or about the time of its Annual Meeting in May,) to be selected by the Chairman, exclusively of the Superintendents by whom the Candidates respectively are proposed; and a special report of the Sermons shall be made in the District

Meeting, and immediately forwarded in writing to the Secretaries of the Committee for the Examination of Candidates.

(2.) The Conference directs that arrangements shall be made by the May District Meetings for the hearing of each Candidate by one Minister of the District, in addition to those who have heard him before his recommendation by the District Committee, such Minister to forward his Report to the General Secretaries of the Examination Committee.

5. Attendance of Ministers at Official Meetings.—Mistakes having arisen on this subject, the Conference deems it proper and necessary to declare, that all the Ministers and Preachers on Trial appointed to a Circuit have a constitutional right to take part as members in our Leaders' Meetings, and in all other official meetings of the Circuits to which they are appointed.

6. Minor District Meetings.—In all cases in which the holding of a Minor District Meeting is rendered necessary, such Meeting, except under the Regulation passed by the Conference in 1840, (Minutes, Vol. IX., p. 94,) shall be held in the District in which the accused party resides, the accused and the accuser selecting respectively two Ministers from the said District, who, with the Chairman thereof, shall constitute the Minor District Meeting.

Should either party refuse or decline to choose two Ministers, to act as members of the Meeting, the Chairman is empowered and directed to nominate them so that the number required by rule may be made up.

7. Committee on Appeals and other Cases.—At each Conference, the President shall nominate, not later than the second day, a Committee of twenty-one members of the Conference, to whom shall be referred, without discussion, all cases requiring further inquiry touching the character of Ministers or Preachers on Trial, immediately after the reading of the Minutes of District Committees thereupon, or of any notice of charge or appeal relating thereto, or for any reason which the Conference may deem sufficient.

Any complainant or appellant, or any person under inquiry, may object to one in three of the members of the said Committee sitting on his case; and the President shall then appoint some other member of the Conference to act instead of the member so objected to.

Special Cases to be decided upon by the Conference may be referred to the whole Committee; but it shall, for ordinary purposes, be divided into three sections, for each of which a Convener shall be appointed, who shall be responsible for preparing the business of the Committee.

8. Supply of Vacancies.—Instances having occurred in which Superintendents and other Ministers, needing Circuit-supplies on occasion of sickness and various casualties, have applied to the President of the Conference, without first taking counsel with the Chairman of the District; the Conference directs the brethren to return to the old plan of first communicating with the Chairman in every such case, who is also directed to satisfy himself, by personal inquiry, that a local supply cannot be obtained.

9. Liverpool Minutes.—The Resolutions adopted by the Conference in the year 1820, and usually called the ‘Liverpool Minutes,’ besides being read and considered in the Annual Meeting of each District Committee, (as our standing Regulations require,) shall also be read at the Weekly Meeting of Ministers in each Circuit, next following the September Quarterly Meeting; and the Chairmen of Districts are directed to make inquiry concerning the due observance of this regulation.

10. District Minutes.—The Chairmen of Districts are required to procure three complete copies of the Minutes of the several Annual and other Meetings of the District Committees, transcribed according to the order of time in which such Meetings shall have been held, and duly signed by the Chairman and Secretary. One of these copies shall be inserted in the District Records; a second shall be reserved for the use of the Chairman and Financial Secretary at the Conference; and a third shall be delivered to the Assistant-Secretaries, on the Thursday preceding the Conference, and by them to the President during the first week of each Conference, to be preserved under his direction, as a document appertaining to the Connexion. The several copies of the last class shall be written on foolscap paper, that they may be annually bound together in one volume.

11. Annual Return of Members in Society.—The number of Members in Society, and of persons admitted on trial, as taken at the March Quarterly Visitation in each year, and reported in the Circuit-Schedules presented at the District Meetings, shall be the number returned on the Minutes of the following Conference.

12. Returns of the Military in attendance at our Chapels.—The Conference directs that the returns of the Military in attendance at our Chapels shall include the actual number of soldiers who are declared Wesleyan-Methodists stationed in the Circuit, and not merely the average number in attendance at Divine Service.

13. Returns of the Members in Society.—The Returns of the Members in Society are to be forwarded, immediately after the May District Meetings, to the REV. JOHN W. GREEVES, Wesleyan Centenary Hall, Bishopsgate Street Within, London, E.C.

14. Schedules and Circulars on Connexional Business.—As it is obviously desirable, that the Committees appointed by the Conference to manage the several departments of the business of the Connexion, in the intervals of its Session, should be furnished with as much statistical information as possible on the matters of business severally confided to their care, the Conference authorises them, through their appointed Officers, to send, when they deem it expedient, suitable Circulars and Schedules to the Superintendents, or to the Chairmen of Districts, as the case may require; and directs the Superintendents and Chairmen duly to return such Schedules properly filled up.

15. Annual Examination of Pupil-Teachers in Religious Knowledge.—The Conference directs that the Annual Examination of Pupil-Teachers in Religious Knowledge shall be held on the last Saturday in October and on the first Saturday in March; that the questions shall be prepared by the General Committee; that the Examination shall be held, either in the several Circuits by the Superintendent Ministers or their Colleagues, or at suitable places for Central District Examinations, as may be determined by the September District Meetings, and agreed to by the respective School Committees; and that the written answers shall be forwarded to the General Secretary, and shall be valued by a Central Board of Examiners to be elected by the General Committee. The Conference further recommends that, in connexion with Central Examinations, Meetings of Teachers and Pupil-Teachers be held under the direction of the Chairman of the District and the District Educational Secretary.

16. Lay-Members of Connexional Committees.—In respect to the several Committees of the Connexional Funds, the Conference resolves, that a certain number of Lay Gentlemen shall retire annually by rotation, the same persons being ineligible for immediate re-election, except in special cases.

17. Lay-Members of District Committees to be summoned by the Chairman.—The Chairmen of Districts shall be required to send a circular to the Lay-Members of the District Committee, requesting their attendance on the Wednesday, and, if necessary, on the Thursday, in the week of the Annual District Meeting, specifying the business that will be brought forward, and particularly mentioning any subject that may have been specially remitted by the Conference to the consideration of such Meeting. A similar circular shall be prepared and sent with reference to the Financial District Meeting.

In order to the carrying out of this Resolution, the Superintendents of Circuits are required to furnish the Chairman of the District with the names and addresses of the Circuit Stewards immediately after the December Quarterly Meeting.

18. Representative to the Stationing Committee.—The Minister who shall be the Representative of any District to the Stationing Committee shall be chosen by the united votes of the Ministers and Laymen who are members of the District Committee.

19. Division of Circuits.—Before District Committees consent to the division of any Circuit, inquiry must be made whether due attention has been paid to satisfactory arrangements for the Trust-Estates affected by the proposed division, especially in reference to any debts existing thereon.

20. Boundaries of Circuits.—Whereas difficulties have arisen from the want of accurate and recorded definitions of the boundaries of Circuits, the Conference directs that, in future, the boundaries of Circuits which are divided shall be fully stated in the Minutes of the District Meeting to which they belong, and that the Secretary of the District shall send a copy of the record to be inserted in the Minutes of the Quarterly Meetings of the Circuits concerned; and that, in such cases, copies of the Ordnance maps, or some other maps, of the localities concerned, be coloured so as to show the boundaries, and deposited in the safes provided for the custody of the Trust-Deeds of the Circuits. The Conference further directs that these arrangements be made in all cases of alteration in the boundaries of existing Circuits.

21. Quarterly Fast-Days.—The days upon which the Quarterly Fast, appointed by Rule, is to be observed throughout the Connexion, for the following year, are, Fridays, October 3rd, December 26th, 1879, March 26th, and June 25th, 1880.

22. Rule of 1797 concerning Admission of Members.—Mistakes having occasionally arisen respecting the meaning of the Rule of 1797 on the subject of the admission of persons who are on trial as Members of our Society, the Conference deems it necessary to repeat the statement, That it never was intended that the names of all those who are on trial should be laid before a Leaders' Meeting for distinct and formal discussion; but solely, that if there be, in the opinion of a Leader, any reasonable objection to the character and conduct of any person who is on trial, such objection may be stated by him; and that, if the validity of the objection be established to the satisfaction of the Meeting, a Member's Ticket shall not be given to the person so objected to, at the Quarterly Visitation.

23. Trial of Members.—When a charge is brought against any Member resident in a place where no Leaders' Meeting is stately held, the case shall be referred for investigation to the Leaders' Meeting of the principal Society in the Circuit Town. The Leader or Leaders, and the Society Stewards, of the Society of which the accused is a Member, shall be associated with the Leaders' Meeting for the purposes of the investigation.

If the accused person is a Trustee, then there shall also be associated with the Leaders' Meeting, as above constituted, the Trustees of the Chapel with which the Society of which he is a Member is connected; or, if there is no such Chapel, then the Trustees of the Chapel in connection with the principal Society in the Circuit Town. But no Trustee shall, in either case, be so associated, unless he is himself a Member of Society in the same Circuit.

24. Reading of the Pastoral Address in Society Meetings.—The Superintendents are directed to appoint special Society Meetings to be held at the principal Chapels in their Circuits, for the purpose of having the Pastoral Address read, and made the subject of suitable remarks and exhortations.

25. The Army.—The Chairmen of Districts are directed to inquire of the Superintendents of Circuits in which troops are marched to Divine service in our chapels, the average number of non-commissioned officers and men in attendance; distinguishing the number of Members in Society. These returns must include, also, the actual number of soldiers who are declared Wesleyan-Methodists. The returns given are to be recorded in the District Minutes. If there be no military attendance in the District, a note to that effect shall be inserted.

26. Arrangements respecting the Stationing Committee.—The Representative of each District shall send to the Secretary of the Conference, not later than the 3rd day of July in each year, upon a Schedule to be provided by him, complete lists of (1) the arrangements provisionally made for the Stationing of Ministers in his District, (2) the invitations accepted by Ministers in his District to Circuits in other Districts, and (3) all Ministers in his District for whom no arrangement has been made;—from these lists the Secretary of the Conference shall compile, and cause to be printed in a convenient form for use in the Stationing Committee, one complete list of all arrangements thus provisionally made, and a separate list of all Ministers for whom provisional arrangements have not been made; and a copy of these lists shall be sent to each member of the Stationing Committee at least seven days before the meeting of that Committee.

27. Conference Plan.—The Superintendents of those Circuits in which the Conference may, from year to year, assemble, shall, with the previous approbation of the President, (as already required by rule,) complete and print, not later than the 15th day of June in each year, a Plan of the order of preaching in the principal chapels during the Session of the Conference; and shall also, on or before the above date, inform every person whom they have appointed to preach in those chapels, of the time and place of such appointment. And in order that the Plan thus prepared may not be violated, to the disappointment of our friends, and to the great inconvenience of other parties concerned, no Minister who attends the Conference shall be at liberty to make an engagement to preach in any other Circuit, either on the Sabbath, or on any other day, during the period appointed for the meeting of the Conference, at the time for which his name shall be inserted on the Conference Plan.

28. The Chairman of Districts are enjoined to make particular inquiries at their Annual Meetings in reference to all the points of Discipline specified in the first Article of the Answer to Q. XXVIII. in the Minutes of 1825.

VI.

THE ANNUAL ADDRESS

OF THE

CONFERENCE TO THE METHODIST SOCIETIES.

DEAR BRETHREN,—

WE thankfully avail ourselves of the opportunity afforded by this our annual Assembly, and in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, we send you our greeting with words of counsel and of cheer. We do this not merely as observing a time-honoured usage; but, whilst we follow the example of those who have gone before us, we acknowledge ourselves the inheritors of their faith and hope, of their privileges and responsibilities.

In reviewing the events of the past year, we have found abundant cause for thankfulness, and yet much for heart-searching and for humility before God. We have sought to learn the lessons which the experience has suggested, and we look for those brighter days of which the promises of God and our hearts' desires still speak.

Much attention has been given during the year to matters of Connexional finance. It was generally felt, during the sessions of our last Conference, that changes in our organization would be of small practical advantage unless they led to an increase in the extent and efficiency of Church-work. The desire so to use the adapted machinery was rendered the more intense by those special manifestations of the Divine Presence with which we were favoured, and by the brotherly kindness and good-will with which the new order was accepted, even where it had not been approved. It was at once seen that the first thing required was the removal of debts which, from various causes, had accumulated in connection with several departments of our work. The greatness of the need became more evident as enquiry proceeded, until it became certain that, in the present commercial condition of the country, success was hopeless, apart from the extraordinary aid and blessing of the Almighty. The result, however, has justified the action taken. We have received with gratitude the Report of the Committee of the Thanksgiving Fund, and find that more than £170,000 has been already promised, and that of this sum £50,000 has been paid. We have recognized in this your liberality a service rendered, as we doubt not, to your Master and ours; and we have rejoiced in the privilege of sharing with you this fellowship of prayers and gifts. We commend the undertaking to your continued and devout consideration, having an assurance that whatsoever the Lord needeth will straightway be forthcoming.

With regard to our financial future, we have given, and shall continue to give, earnest heed in order to avoid and prevent, as far as possible, the accumulation of debt. It is necessary, however, to say that success in this direction must chiefly depend upon the maintenance and steady increase of annual income for our various Funds. The removal of present liabilities will prepare the way for more extensive effort, and all such extension of our operations must naturally necessitate increased annual cost. This is true, more or less, of every part of our work; but it has at this time a peculiar significance and force in relation to our Theological Institution. The necessity for a well-trained ministry need not be urged. It is everywhere acknowledged. The profit thereof will accrue for the benefit of yourselves and your children. Without giving needless or undue prominence to this subject, we have taken steps to ensure that an adequate representation of the financial requirements of the Connexion shall be made to the Circuit Quarterly Meetings, as well as to our Societies and Congregations.

In dwelling thus upon questions of finance, we are not unmindful of the anxiety and distress which prevail in consequence of the stagnation of trade and the failure of harvests. Through the course of another year we have known your sorrows and your patience, and we have shared them. Our special duties and responsibilities cut us off, Scripturally and necessarily, from the ordinary employments and perplexities of commercial life, but we are not therefore ignorant of their nature, or of the burdens which they occasion. We came out from amongst you, but we are not separate from you. Our kindred and our chosen friends are of your number, sharing the common pain, and tasting the bitterness of the common cup. Their anxieties are ours, and for their sakes, as well as for your own, we claim, as true Pastors, to be helpers of your faith, that we may hereafter be sharers of your joy.

At the same time it is well that, in this season of distress, all should be quick to learn the lesson, 'Blessed is the man whom Thou chastenest, O Lord, and teachest him out of Thy law.' The chastening may seem to be severe, but the instruction is very precious. 'The peaceable fruit of righteousness,' by the gladness which it brings, may make welcome, hereafter, the memory of trials, however grievous. And when the gloom has passed, and the now deepening darkness has fled away before the dawning of a brighter day, joy shall enter in the morning, and the songs of rejoicing shall be heard in the tabernacles of the righteous. For the present, however, it is most important that we should search after and learn the needful lessons. It may be that national wrong-doing has made it necessary that He whose lovingkindness is ever righteous should correct us, as a nation, both for our own welfare and for that of the world in which He has given us prominence. Or there may have been formed, and may have been gaining force among us, social habits which in His sight threaten our existence as a Christian people, and would render us a curse and not a blessing among the peoples of the earth. In these things we share the common danger, and cannot separate ourselves from the common responsibility. There is abundant occasion for much searching of heart. Have not some made too much haste to be rich? We would not that you should mistake our meaning. It belongs to every one of you to do whatsoever you do heartily, as unto the Lord. Fervency of spirit and the service of God belong to the duties of trade and manufacture as certainly as to prayer and worship. You must not be the less faithful to the responsibilities of commerce because you hold fast the hope of a heavenly inheritance. But lawful desires may easily degenerate into sinful lusts. When fascinated by the glitter of gold, the soul of the Christian man soon loses that finer spiritual perception whereby it was wont to discern the beauties of holiness. Selfishness and the passion for material wealth undermine loyalty to truth and honesty. The uncertainties inseparable from an ordinary business-life are gradually confounded with 'the risks of trade,' and the advantages of superior skill and knowledge are supposed to condone the deceits of overreaching. Slowly but surely hazard in the market and speculation on the Exchange induce laxity in morals, and recklessness in action; whilst similar ideas intrude themselves into the midst of more avowedly Christian things. The venture of the merchant, or the bet of the amateur sportsman, is followed by the illegal lottery of the philanthropist, or the thinly-veiled gambling of the 'raffle' in the religious bazaar. 'Brethren, these things ought not so to be.' It will be a priceless boon if the thoughts of our commercial life are cleansed by means of our present adversities. Nor will it be a small advantage if we all, and especially the youth in our families, are taught by present experience that 'a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth.' If this lesson is patiently learnt and intelligently recognized, the enjoyments of many Christian homes will be immeasurably increased, because ennobled and purified; while their peace and unity will be all the more real and abiding, because sorrow has necessitated more frequent and trustful fellowship with the Saviour.

We would earnestly remind you that as always, so especially in times like the present, personal religion must be the source of faith and patience. 'The joy of the Lord is your strength.' Conscious fellowship with a loving Father will still your fears and bid your doubts be gone. You may not know the way you take; you may not understand His dealings with yourselves, or with those around you; but you know Whom you have believed. Let the world around you learn by your example how 'blessed are all they that put their trust in Him.' If you understand and use your privilege, your Christian trust gives you an immense advantage, even in the competition of business-life. The energy which others waste in useless unrest and cankering worry, you may quietly and patiently devote to thought and effort. 'The meek shall inherit the earth.' The Gentiles who know not that they have a Father, may do otherwise, but as for you, be ye 'strong in the Lord'! 'Tribulation will work 'patience; and patience, experience; and experience, hope'; while hope will not make you 'ashamed,' however long deferred, if 'the love of God' continues to be 'shed abroad in your hearts by the Holy Ghost which is given unto you.' Seek then, first, as heretofore, 'the kingdom of God, and His righteousness.' Cultivate the heart-life, and work out patiently your own salvation. Forget not that your first act of penitent contrition was an unreserved surrender to the Divine will, and that the first glad utterance of your new life was but the confirmation of that full consecration,—Lord, 'I am Thine, saye me.' If you have been true to these earliest vows, if you have not taken back from the altar that which you laid upon it, then with continuously increasing knowledge, walking in the light, as He is in the light, you have daily rendered Him your all.

Let us urge you to this constant and entire devotion to God. In all your business purposes and plans, in rest and in recreation, set the Lord always before you. Everywhere, and on all occasions, let thought and word and work be parts of one uninterrupted gift of loving service to Him. Consecrate your family-life to Him. Like Abraham of old, give proof of your own fidelity and faith by commanding your children and your households after you, that they 'keep the way of the Lord.' Your little ones are His. He claims them. Train them from tenderest infancy as His, and for Him. Your servants are His, and by Him are providentially entrusted to your care. Watch over them, as knowing that for them you must give account to your 'Master in heaven.' Let no home be without family worship, the daily fellowship in the Word of God and prayer. There is no bond like the one which is thus supplied and strengthened. The blessing of God attends the reverent acknowledgment of family dependence and trust, and the remembrance of these hours of worship furnishes a precious guard and guide when the shelter of childhood has been exchanged for the dangers and duties of maturer age.

Your substance, also, consecrate with a consecration equally sincere and comprehensive. Since your bodies and your spirits are not your own, whatever your employment, whatever your relationships, you are to serve the Lord Christ. In the house or the market, at the forge or in the mill, all that you have belongs to Him. Muscle and brain, capital and skill, wages and profit, all are His since you yourselves are His. See to it that you use all for His glory. In doing this you will not forget that your family and poor kinsfolk, the stranger and the fatherless, the Church and the unevangelized world, are all claimants upon your regard. To serve them all is your privilege, to balance their claims and necessities is your responsibility. But be well assured that liberality in promoting the glory of God by securing the well-being of your fellow-men will prove to be, when prayerfully and intelligently ordered, the safest and most satisfactory investment, both for the present life and for that which is to come.

This duty and privilege of contributing systematically and according to ability for the maintenance and increase of Christian agencies, we have not shunned to urge upon your attention in the times of prosperity. Nor have we any reason now to hesitate in teaching the same doctrine. Yet we seek not yours, but you; and the Lord accepts your service and gifts according to that which you have, and not according to that which you have not. Hearts which have habitually given proof of their love for the Master by generous support of the Master's work are pained and saddened when the power of giving fails. We are jealous lest in circumstances like these any of you should be needlessly hindered. Neglect not on this account the weekly fellowship or the service of the Sanctuary. Keep alive the holy fire within you, the love which yields its all. So shall you be the stronger for labour by reason of the restraint, and a richer joy shall attend your restored freedom when the days of your ability shall return.

But remember always that nothing can release you from your individual responsibility in respect of personal example and effort. For the sake of others, as well as for your own, let your example encourage and invite a regular attendance at the means of grace. At the week evening services, your presence and prayers will aid us and stimulate others. In the Class-meeting, if you share with your companions the lessons which you, being taught of God, are learning from day to day, a twofold gladness will be yours; and the experience which you have won by patience may enable you to shorten, or to smooth for others, the pathway of tribulation. Here, as elsewhere, be not selfish in your aims. Your own well-being is not the only aim of life. Minister according to your ability that others also may be blessed; 'Let no man seek his own, but every man another's weal.' In so doing you will be discharging an obligation which is inseparable from the communion of saints.

We no less desire and affectionately claim your personal efforts in spreading the knowledge of Christ, and especially in bringing home to the hearts and consciences of your friends and near kindred the claims and appeals of the Gospel. We are thankful for the multiplication of organized agencies and for the number of associated Christian workers. But much can and must needs be done, both by way of preparation and of ingathering, in the course of daily life and independently of organization. 'Let him that heareth say, Come.' It is for each of you, in his own appointed station, to seek to be the means of saving the lost. Many around you are waiting for the help which you alone can give. The necessity for this individual and effective cooperation is felt by us the more deeply in presence of our diminished numbers. The fact that in March last the members of our United Societies were fewer by three thousand than they were twelve months before, has made us both careful and sad. Do not suppose that we allow ourselves to be either disheartened or hindered. We do not lose sight of the tens of thousands who have been gathered into the Church on earth, and we cannot forget those who have found safe rest in the eternal home. A rich treasure of abiding joy awaits us yonder. Knowing that our commission is from the Lord, we are assured that His Word, as spoken by us, does not return unto Him void. It may not accomplish that which we have desired or proposed; but for ourselves, and for all of you who are helpers with us in His service and patience, we cherish the persuasion, that every message prayerfully and faithfully uttered shall prosper in that whereto He hath sent it. At the same time, we regard the record of our numbers as having a serious significance. It is true that much of the success attained cannot be estimated, and that many are rescued and nurtured who are not numbered. But these things have always been. The essential conditions of our work have not been changed. We conclude that with so extensive and varied an agency as that which our several Circuits and Societies possess, there should be, from year to year, a steady, though varying, increase in our numerical returns. We therefore invite and urge you to renewed and greater exertions, purposing, by the grace of God, to afford you the stimulus and aid of our guidance and example.

Whilst thus calling you to diligence in the work of the Church, we have no desire to hinder any of you who may be called to the discharge of civil duties. The Christian is not the less a citizen of earth because he enjoys the freedom of the heavenly city. But we would have you always remember that in politics, as in other things, 'the wrath of man worketh not the righteousness of God.' Let no party questions complicate or disturb Church-relationships. Where brethren differ in opinion let them dwell together in love. Let the honour of Christ be to us more than the success of any party. Having a common heavenly hope, and a common purpose, grant to others the freedom which you claim for yourselves; and do not forget that you cannot be estranged from your brethren unless you are first estranged from your Saviour. Be watchful, therefore; and if, during the coming year, the clamour of political strife should surround you, be the more careful yourselves to walk with God, doing whatsoever you do 'heartily, as to the Lord, and not unto men.' So long as in this spirit you use your rights as citizens, there are objects which you may well endeavour to secure, and among them are the discouragement of the habits of intemperance; the diminution of the temptations thereto, especially on the Lord's day; and the purification of the statute-book of our country by the total repeal of certain iniquitous and immoral enactments, the tendency of which is to demoralize the social life of our land.

We have caused to be prepared, and have authorized the publication of, a New Hymn-book for use in our Sunday-schools. Anything which tends to promote their efficiency will be followed, we doubt not, by cheering results. We are thankful to know that so many of our Sunday-scholars are members of our Societies, and that more than ten thousand young persons are connected with Junior Society-classes. We regard with satisfaction the endeavour to associate our youth for purposes of mutual improvement, but are careful lest the object of their association should be forgotten. It will be harmful to many, unless all these efforts are so directed as to promote spiritual life and usefulness as well as intellectual progress and recreation.

We have, in the course of our session, received with much pleasure a deputation from the Nonconformist Ministers of Birmingham, as well as one from the Conference of the Methodist New Connexion. The former have unexpectedly but forcibly reminded us that we have, as a Connexion, been providentially and specially put in trust of Scriptural teachings which concern experimental godliness and Christian fellowship. The words uttered, the message delivered to us, will not soon be forgotten. We recognise the trust, and, by the grace of God, will faithfully maintain it.

'And now, brethren,' once more we 'commend you to God, and to the word of His grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you an inheritance among all them that are sanctified.' The presence of the Lord has been manifestly with us, and as we separate for the work which is committed to us, we hope and pray that the spiritual prosperity of the coming year may be general and abundant. Conscious of our own unworthiness and insufficiency in His sight, we are nevertheless strong in the assurance that the God of heaven will prosper us.

THE ANNUAL ADDRESS
OF THE
IRISH CONFERENCE OF 1879,
TO THE
BRITISH CONFERENCE OF 1879.

BELOVED FATHERS AND BRETHREN,

ASSEMBLED in our Annual Conference, we desire to express to you, as we have done in years past, our unabated affection and fraternal regard. We rejoice to remember that we are one with you in doctrine and discipline, and that we labour for one common end,—the glory of God in the salvation of souls.

We have welcomed to our Conference your President, the Rev. Dr. Rigg, who has directed our business with distinguished ability, and whose public services have been marked by eminent adaptation to the present times, and have produced a profound impression; whilst his wisdom in council has been of great value in the discussion of the several questions which have come before us. His companions, the Rev. William B. Pope, D.D., Ex-President, the Rev. Gervase Smith, D.D., and the Rev. Ebenezer E. Jenkins, M.A., have also rendered services which have been highly esteemed, and have commended themselves the more fully to our confidence and affection in proportion as they have become more generally known amongst us.

We rejoice with you in the harmonious and successful working of the system of Lay-Representation which has been recently adopted in both our Conferences, and regard it as an encouraging indication of general and increasing prosperity. We have found that the introduction of laymen into our Conference has been attended with the happiest results; promoting a general interest in the work of God, and infusing new life into our various departments.

We have watched with deep interest the efforts put forth in behalf of your Thanksgiving Fund, and are pleased that such signal success has crowned this important undertaking. It is proposed to set on foot a similar movement amongst ourselves, which, we trust, will secure the support of our people in all parts of the country.

We regret that, in common with yourselves, we are compelled to report a decrease in the number of persons meeting in Class. At the same time, we are thankful to say that our congregations do not exhibit decline, and that our members evince by their liberality, notwithstanding the prevalent commercial depression, an unabated attachment to the Church of their choice, so that our Circuit and Connexional Funds have been well sustained.

The Methodist College, Belfast, though not unaffected by the general stagnation in trade, reports continued prosperity. The Wesleyan Connexional School, Dublin, now designated Wesley College, has been transferred to new and very extensive premises which have been recently erected, and the increased accommodation provided has been already utilized. The reports from our Sunday-schools are full of encouragement and hope and our Day-schools are maintained with favourable results.

We mourn the removal by death, during the year, of some valued brethren; and amongst them the late Rev. Robert G. Jones, well known to many in your Conference as a man of an amiable disposition and considerable ability, fervent in piety, and universally beloved and respected by his brethren.

Seven young men, who have completed, with credit to themselves and satisfaction to us, their probation, have been ordained to the full work of the Christian ministry.

You will be pleased to know that the Union between the two principal Methodist bodies in Ireland, effected at the last Conference, has been carried forward another stage, many of the Circuits being now amalgamated; so that the hope of a more concentrated and generally effective agency is in course of being realized.

With renewed hope and confidence in the ultimate success of that Gospel which we hold and preach, we devote ourselves afresh to the great work which God has raised us up to accomplish in this land.

We send as our Representatives to your Conference our esteemed and beloved brethren—the Rev. William Guard Price, whom we have nominated as the Irish member of the Delegation; the Rev. James Wilson, who was a member of the late Primitive Wesleyan Conference; and the Rev. B. Crawford Johnson.

We earnestly pray that the great Head of the Church may guide all your deliberations, and crown your work in all its departments with His furthering blessing.

Signed on behalf and by order of the Conference,

JOSEPH W. M'KAY, Secretary.

THE ANSWER
OF THE
BRITISH CONFERENCE OF 1879,
TO THE
ADDRESS OF THE IRISH CONFERENCE OF 1879.

REVEREND AND DEAR BRETHREN,—

WE rejoice once again to exchange with you the friendly greetings and mutual encouragements through which, as in so many other ways, we are helpers of each other's faith and joy. If others may justly claim this recognition from us, you more. No Church-relationship can well be more sacred or more endearing than that which links the Methodism of Great Britain to that of Ireland. Our common nationality, our near neighbourhood, and the numerous ties of personal friendship existing between us, combine with our common heritage in the 'dispensation of the Gospel' committed to our Fathers to give us the strongest possible interest in your welfare; and that interest is enhanced, in no small degree, by the circumstances in which both you and we are found. 'Now we live, if ye stand fast in the Lord.'

We are bound gratefully to acknowledge the guiding Hand of the God of our Fathers in the quietness and general contentment which have attended the carrying out of the administrative changes through which we have lately passed. Thanks be to God, the 'Giver of peace and unity,' for this inestimable blessing. We may well expect to prove that 'the fruit of righteousness is sown in peace.' Already a rich and marvellous spirit of liberality has been poured out upon our own people, and we are sure that you will 'abound in this grace also.' The present depressed condition of trade and agriculture, and the general diminution of wealth throughout the United Kingdom, afflictive as they are, may enable us the more evidently to show that we do not give to the Lord of that which costs us nothing. To you, moreover, it happily falls to celebrate a twofold union and a more complete consolidation of your own Methodism, in the ending of the long separation between the late Primitive Wesleyan Connexion and yourselves, as well as in the establishment of Lay-Representation to the Conference. We congratulate you on the now assured success of both these movements, and pray that they may be fruitful in blessing to you and to your children to the latest generations.

The vigorous extension of your Collegiate and other Schools, and the high character they bear, give us the liveliest satisfaction. You must feel, even more strongly than we do, that the religious future of Ireland depends, under God, very largely upon the influences that shall prevail in her Schools and Colleges; and we venture to think that, especially under present circumstances, Methodist education cannot be made too efficient, or be too widely spread around you.

Let us remind ourselves, however, that modes of administration and Church institutions are only means to an end, and that end the sanctifying and saving of individual souls, and the building up of the Body of Christ. Let us not lose sight of the building in our concern for the scaffolding that surrounds it, of the 'one thing needful' in the midst of the 'many things' desirable and useful. The fostering of a warm-hearted spiritual fellowship within our Societies, and unceasing evangelistic aggression without, are, as you well know, the two chief elements of Church-progress; and indeed these two are one. Permit us to say (and in this we are admonishing ourselves equally with you), that we mark with pain a growing distaste, in some quarters, for our primitive and long-tried modes of Christian fellowship. In the midst of so many signs of prosperity this symptom cannot but disquiet us. But for the hindrance thus arising it is probable that, in spite of many untoward circumstances, we should have been able to record an increase instead of a decrease of membership during the past year, on both sides of the Channel. Let us anxiously study to make our Class-meetings and other social means of grace so attractive and home-like, so adapted to the various ages and conditions of our flock, and so well understood in their nature and New Testament basis, that none who sincerely love the Lord Jesus and His people shall be able to find any reasonable excuse for forsaking the assembling of themselves together.

You, dear brethren, in a peculiar and most honourable sense, are 'set for the defence of the Gospel.' Scattered and isolated as many of your Churches are, like a chain of forts in a hostile country, beleaguered by enemies united and confident, and strong in their hold on popular sympathies as nowhere else, it is no wonder if sometimes discouragement comes upon you, and if at times you have to labour in vain and spend your strength for nought. Be patient, therefore, brethren: 'in due season we shall reap, if we faint not.' All the mightiest forces are on your side. The spread of knowledge, the deepening hatred of spiritual despotism, the growth of national intercourse and amity, all are with you; and above all He is with you who will surely, and it may be speedily, avenge Him of the adversary who has so long dared to usurp His rights, and to defile with base idolatries the temple of His Truth.

Meanwhile you are His witnesses, and are called not only to bear your testimony passively, by the maintenance of your own faith in its integrity and purity, in common with all Protestant bodies around you, but also actively to vindicate the true gospel of the grace of God, using to the utmost every means which local opportunity and individual gifts, and the inspiration of the Spirit of Truth who is the Spirit of the Testimony of Jesus, may put within your power. In this holy work and warfare may 'your love abound yet more and more in knowledge and in all judgment.' May you and we also ever learn to unite zeal and charity, sobriety and fervour, and be wise to discern good even when mixed with evil, truth however distorted and corrupted by error, and to distinguish between the pernicious system and its adherents and representatives, whose particular responsibility in regard to it we cannot rightly measure, and who must, with ourselves, 'appear before the judgment-seat of Christ.'

Our hearts were cheered by the presence and addresses of our old friend and brother the Rev. William Guard Price, the Rev. James Wilson, and the Rev. R. Crawford Johnson, your honoured Representatives. We hail the appearance of Mr. Wilson in our midst as a fitting and happy proof of the union effected amongst yourselves.

Craving still your brotherly sympathies and prayers, we in turn commend you to the care of the One Head of the Church both on earth and in heaven, the Only Chief Shepherd and Bishop of souls; beseeching Him to 'fulfil' in you 'all the good pleasure of His goodness, and the work of faith with power: that the name of our Lord Jesus Christ may be glorified in you, and ye in Him, according to the grace of our God and the Lord Jesus Christ.'

Signed on behalf and by order of the Conference,

MARMADUKE C. OSBORN, Secretary.

ADDRESS
OF THE
CONFERENCE OF THE EVANGELICAL METHODIST CHURCH OF FRANCE AND SWITZERLAND,
TO THE
BRITISH CONFERENCE OF 1879.

(Translation.)

HONOURED AND DEAR BRETHREN,—

ASSEMBLED for our twenty-sixth Conference, at Lausanne, not far from the town which was the birthplace of the holy John Fletcher, we desire to express to you, according to our yearly custom, the feelings of love and gratitude which bind us to you and to the Wesleyan-Methodist Church of Great Britain.

Once more we have felt how sweet and how strong are these ties, as we learned what a cordial welcome you gave to our Delegates to the Bradford Conference. But we have been still more touched by your kindness in sending to our Conference as your Representative, a man who is one of the Princes of our Methodist Israel, the Rev. Dr. W. Morley Punshon. His presence in our midst has been the living proof of the interest which you take in our work, and of the fact that you do not estimate its real importance by the smallness of the success hitherto obtained.

Your honoured Representative has taken a lively interest in our affairs, and has greatly assisted us by his wise and prudent counsels. Nor do we fear to be presumptuous in thinking that in him French Methodism will have a successful advocate and an influential friend. He will be able to tell you that, although the difficulties with which we contend are great and numerous, we nevertheless remain faithfully attached to that 'Christianity in earnest' which has borne, for one hundred and forty years, the name of Methodism, and to those Providential methods of action which have for their aim 'to spread Scriptural holiness throughout the land.' We preach the same doctrines that the successors of Wesley everywhere preach, and we practise that special form of ecclesiastical discipline of which the efficiency has been proved in all lands.

It is true that these excellent methods have not had, in our hands, as great success as that which has attended them elsewhere. The weakness of our faith is no doubt in part the cause, but the cause is also to be found in those really formidable difficulties with which we meet in France. We have constantly to contend with Roman Catholicism and with Infidelity,—those two foes which wage bitter war upon each other, but which also know how to combine their efforts to fight against the pure Gospel of Jesus Christ. Among the Reformed populations of the South, the struggle wears another aspect, but is no less keen. There we meet with a large number of Protestants of the most contrary theological views, who unite in opposing Methodism, which they represent as being a foreign importation of suspicious origin.

At the present time we feel ourselves called to turn our efforts towards the masses of nominal Catholics. It is amongst them that the needs are the greatest and the prospects the most encouraging. The entire population of certain parts is turning away from Romanism and seeking a purer faith. Everywhere, in the towns and in the country districts, Evangelical preaching is asked for and heartily received. The establishment of the Republic will ensure to us, we hope, complete religious liberty.

The attention of the Conference has been specially directed to this subject. The opening sermon laid upon our consciences the wants of France and our duties towards her; and two carefully prepared reports were presented on the possibility of setting apart a certain number of our present staff of agents for new aggressive work. Indeed, the Conference has already made a partial commencement in that direction. One minister has been taken from each of our Southern districts to strengthen our missionary work in the North. This step will necessarily inflict a certain amount of suffering on some of our Societies, and over-burden some ministers whose strength is already sufficiently taxed. But this change of front appeared to us to be indicated by Divine Providence; our Southern Churches themselves understand in some degree the necessity for it, and we may hope that far from being shaken by it, they will make resolute efforts to develop their resources both of men and money.

It is in order to encourage them to do so by uniting them more completely with us in our work, that, following the example that you have given us, we have invited Lay Representatives to take part in the deliberations of our Conference. These brethren, elected by the District Meetings, are men attached to our Church, and serving it diligently in the position in which God has placed them. Their presence in our ranks has strengthened and encouraged us. By being more completely united with their pastors in the general management of the work, our laymen will more fully understand the duty of relieving us from those financial responsibilities which too often weigh us down. We must, however, do justice to our members by declaring that many of them make great sacrifices to sustain the work. But the number of our members does not exceed two thousand; almost all of them belong to the working-class, and many have been ruined by the agricultural crisis in the South, and the commercial crisis in the North. So that, notwithstanding our efforts to attain financial independence, we must, for a long time, still have recourse to the generous help of our English brethren, especially for the support of our evangelistic work in Catholic districts.

For these new fields of labour, God supplies us with well-qualified workmen. Our Students' Home is now filled with young men preparing for the ministry. Their piety and gifts inspire us with lively hopes as to the success of their future career. This year we have had the joy of receiving into full connexion two candidates, sons of ministers. You will unite with us in blessing God for these tokens of His favour.

This Conference has been one of the best that we have yet held. There has reigned amongst us a spirit of faith in God and of hope for the future, which augurs well. It seems to us that our work is entering upon a new period. We believe that God will be with us and bless us, and that you will continue to us your brotherly co-operation.

We have re-elected to the office of President of the Conference our highly-esteemed brother the Rev. James Hocart, and we respectfully request you to ratify our choice.

The Rev. Dr. W. Morley Punshon has kindly consented to represent us this year at the sessions of your Conference.

Signed on behalf and by order of the Conference,

J. P. COOK, Secretary.

THE ANSWER
OF THE
BRITISH CONFERENCE OF 1879,
TO THE
ADDRESS OF THE CONFERENCE OF THE EVAN-GELICAL METHODIST CHURCH OF FRANCE
AND SWITZERLAND, 1879.

REVEREND AND DEAR BRETHREN,—

It has once more given us great happiness to receive your Annual Address ; and we gladly avail ourselves of this opportunity to express our affectionate sympathy with you, and our deep interest in your work. We should have been very glad to welcome among us one of your own number, but we appreciate the characteristic disinterestedness with which, in view of the existing financial distress, you have refrained even from appointing the customary Representative to our Conference. As you have anticipated, however, your cause has suffered no loss by being placed in the hands of Dr. Punshon, whose instructive, zealous, and eloquent statement, at the open session of the Conference, excited the liveliest interest, and brought vividly before us the nature and importance of your work.

We are well aware that since the overthrow of the Roman Catholic supremacy of Spain, France has been the right arm of the Papacy. Nearly every important gain made by Rome since the Reformation has been won for her by the political power of France. The spiritual forces of Rome have also been recruited mainly from your land. At the present time France contributes a larger sum to the Propaganda than all other Roman Catholic countries combined, and the missionary activities of the Romish Church in all parts of the world are sustained chiefly by the fervent zeal of French priests and French nuns. The real centre of Roman Catholicism is not in Italy, but in France. In the great battle between primitive and corrupt Christianity, you occupy the key to the position, and have to bear the brunt of the conflict. Your difficulties are a measure of the honour which the 'Captain of the host of the Lord' conferred on you, when He assigned to you the chief place in the field.

You speak of the smallness of the success which you have hitherto attained; but we do not forget that the work you have done in the past has been of a kind that could not be tabulated. You have supplied other Churches with Pastors, Professors, and Teachers; and have been engaged rather in leavening French society with pure evangelical influences, than in building up a separate and visible Church of your own. We share your conviction, that the time has now fully come for you to consolidate your work on our own distinctive ecclesiastical basis. A due recognition of the duty of every Christian to contribute systematically, and regularly as the Lord has prospered him, towards the maintenance of the Church by which he is nourished and protected, is a primary condition of vigorous activity and progress. Not less essential is the judicious enforcement of an appropriate discipline. We believe that the symmetry and efficiency of our Connexional organization will specially commend themselves to the love of logic and order which distinguishes the French mind. We are deeply persuaded that our characteristic institutions—especially the Class-meeting—were never more needed or more serviceable than to-day. We are equally convinced that the peculiarly fervent and joyous character of the spiritual life of Methodism supplies the great Protestant need of France.

We look forward with confident hope to the results of your

'change of front.' Already, as we rejoice to know, the most gratifying success attends your special efforts among the great masses in the chief centres of population. We are delighted to learn that the four mission-stations recently opened in Paris are crowded, and that similar missions are about to be started in Rouen and Havre. We believe that in this direction lies the road along which you will travel to the great future that awaits Methodism in France.

We trust that the bright anticipations with which you have welcomed Lay Representatives into your midst, will be abundantly realized, and we are devoutly grateful to Almighty God that in your case, as in our own, this important step has been taken with practical unanimity, and with the best prospects of success.

In the midst of almost unparalleled commercial and agricultural distress, we are able to sympathize with your Churches which are enduring similar calamities. We earnestly pray that these common sufferings may be sanctified to the spiritual benefit of both nations.

No part of your Address has given us more intense gratification than the paragraph which states that your Students' Home is now filled with godly and gifted young men. It is of great importance that you should be, and appear to be, a native Church. Nothing could be more hopeful than the prospect of filling your pulpits with pastors born and bred upon your own soil. May the mantle of John Fletcher fall upon all the young men who are now preparing, in his native district, to enter your ranks!

With respect to ourselves, we have to lament, like you, over a decrease in the members of our Societies; but this painful and discouraging fact is outweighed by many signs of the presence and power of God, especially by the unbroken peace which reigns throughout our whole Communion, and by the unprecedented liberality in connection with our Thanksgiving Fund, which must make the last year memorable in our history. The blessing of our God and Saviour is being graciously manifested in our Conference Sessions, and we are girding ourselves for energetic service in that new era of life and growth upon which we are entering.

We have great pleasure in ratifying your re-election of the Rev. James Hocart—a beloved and honoured brother—as President of your next Conference.

Signed on behalf and by order of the Conference,

MARMADUKE C. OSBORN, Secretary.

OF NONCONFORMIST MINISTERS IN BIRMINGHAM,
TO THE
PRESIDENT AND MEMBERS OF THE WESLEYAN-METHODIST CONFERENCE ASSEMBLED IN BIRMINGHAM, JULY, 1879.

WE, the Ministers of various Evangelical Churches in Birmingham, desire to express on our own behalf, and on behalf of our Churches and Congregations, the heartiest affection for the Wesleyan-Methodists of England, Wales, and Scotland, represented in the Conference now assembled.

We give God thanks for the grace bestowed on the Founders of your Society, who not only reclaimed tens of thousands of the English people from gross irreligion and vice, but in an age when the fire of English Christianity was almost quenched, and when its faith seemed slowly sinking into decay, re-kindled the earnestness, and re-animated the courage, of those Churches which were the heirs and trustees of the traditions of nobler times. As the result of the revelation of the great power of God in the religious revival which the Founders of Wesleyan Methodism did so much to promote, the fidelity of all the Evangelical Churches in this country to the creed of their fathers has, during the last century and a quarter, been renewed and confirmed, and their spiritual vigour has been greatly augmented; while the rapid growth of Methodism itself is probably unexampled in the history of Christendom. In England, Scotland, and Ireland, in the British Colonies, and, above all, in the United States of America, the various communities formed by 'the People called Methodists' are now among the most numerous and powerful of Protestant Churches.

May we, without presumption, venture to say that your numbers and your resources are the measure of your responsibilities? In the struggle with superstition, with unbelief, and with religious indifference, to which in this, as in every preceding age, the Church of Christ is called, you and the Churches which are your nearest kindred, and which bear your household name, sustain a great part. The fortunes of Protestant Christendom on both sides of the Atlantic are largely in your hands.

We rejoice to believe that, through the strong help of God, you are equal to the perils and to the tasks of your position. In your unshaken loyalty to the central truths of the evangelical faith, and your vehement antagonism to all sacerdotal pretensions; in the energy with which you are maintaining your Missions in foreign lands; in the magnificent generosity with which, even in these disastrous times, your people have contributed to your Connexional enterprises; in the untroubled harmony which we believe prevails throughout your Societies, we recognize abundant proofs of your unabated strength.

We desire to express our admiration of the sagacity which has acknowledged that the most venerable and most powerful institutions cannot retain their life and efficiency except by submitting to changes suggested by the changing conditions under which their work has to be carried on. The admission to Conference, on equal terms, of the Lay Representatives of your Societies has demonstrated that, while you reverence the wisdom with which the saints of other times did the work of Christ, you believe that the same wisdom is granted to those who seek it in our own days, and that God is as near to you as He was to your fathers. In the recent changes in your organization we find the assurance that Wesleyan-Methodism retains much of the elasticity of its ardent youth; and in these changes we see also the bright promise of a free and vigorous development of its rich and varied resources through many future generations.

We trust, Reverend Sir, that the meetings of Conference over which it is your distinguished honour to preside may contribute greatly to the extension and stability of Wesleyan-Methodism in this country, and we pray that the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, the love of God, and the communion of the Holy Spirit may be with you, and with all the Churches represented in this Assembly.

We are, Reverend Sir,

Yours with profound respect,

B. W. DALE, Congregationalist,

W. F. CALLAWAY, „

ERIC A. LAWRENCE, „

And several others.

CONGRATULATION AND CONDOLENCE TO THE QUEEN.

TO THE QUEEN'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR MAJESTY,—

WE, the Conference of the People called Methodists, in the Connexion established by the Rev. John Wesley, A.M., in Annual Session assembled, beg humbly to approach Your Majesty with loyal and heartfelt congratulations on the marriage of His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught with Her Royal Highness the Princess Marie Louise of Prussia.

In common with our fellow-subjects we have been led to entertain sentiments of admiration and respect for the character of His Royal Highness. We rejoice in the union between a son of Your Majesty and a daughter of that royal house, which has been so long and honourably distinguished for its devotion to those Protestant principles we hold so dear.

Most earnestly do we pray that the blessing of Almighty God may rest upon the Duke and Duchess, so that their marriage may not only be conducive to their mutual happiness and the well-being of Your Majesty's realm, but may also unite the two great Empires in closer bonds.

We humbly desire to express our continued loyal devotion to Your Majesty, as our rightful Sovereign, and we ever pray that Almighty God may pour upon you His rich and constant benediction.

TO THE QUEEN'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR MAJESTY,—

WE, Your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, Ministers in the Connexion established by the Rev. John Wesley, A.M., now assembled in our Annual Conference, beg to approach Your Majesty with the expression of our deep and respectful sympathy in the great sorrow which befell Your Majesty by the early death of Her Royal Highness the Grand Duchess of Hesse-Darmstadt.

We shall long continue to cherish with grateful admiration the memory of those talents, accomplishments, and deeds of self-sacrificing love, which shed such lustre on Her Royal Highness's character, and so greatly endeared her to the people of her own and her adopted land. Her remarkable filial devotion to Your Majesty in a season of the deepest affliction must have caused her removal on the anniversary of that sorrow to be a grief of unusual intensity.

It is our sincere and earnest prayer that the God of all comfort may graciously continue to vouchsafe that needful support and consolation which we doubt not Your Majesty has already richly experienced.

We humbly offer to Your Majesty the assurance of our loyal and dutiful attachment to your person, and we trust that Your Majesty may long be spared to reign over the nation in peace and righteousness.

FOR METHODISM IN SCOTLAND.

THE Capital of the Fund amounts to £5,005 17s. 3d. ; being the same as last year, no payments having since been made to account of capital. Of this sum £4,600 are invested in good Heritable Securities in Scotland, and the remainder is in the hands of the Treasurers.

The sum at the credit of Grants Account amounts to £49 6s. 4d., and the sum at the credit of Loans amounts to £237 0s. 0d.

There has been no formal application for a Loan, although several cases have been verbally mentioned to the Committee.

One application for a Grant has been made from the Airdrie Circuit for a manse at Coatbridge, and to it a Grant of £40 has been promised.

The Committee anticipate numerous applications for aid as the nature and circumstances of the Fund become better known to our people, and the operations of the Fund will greatly help our work in Scotland.

APPENDIX III.

METROPOLITAN WESLEYAN CHAPEL BUILDING FUND:

THE following Statement of work accomplished or inaugurated since the last Conference is submitted :—

I.—SITES.

Committees have been appointed to inspect sites in the following places :—

- Romford, in the Romford Circuit.
- Copenhagen-street, in the Islington Circuit.
- Plaistow (High-street), in the Canning Town Circuit.
- New Barnet, in the New Barnet Circuit.
- Kingston-on-Thames, in the Kingston Circuit.
- Turnham-green, in the Hammersmith Circuit.
- Camberwell, in the Mostyn-road Circuit.
- Woodberry Down, in the Stoke Newington Circuit.

Three of these have been purchased with the help of the Fund, others are still under consideration, and others have been found ineligible for our purposes.

In addition to the sites now occupied by Chapels, twelve are secured, and are available for use when friends in the various localities are prepared to build.

II.—ERECTORNS.

1. Penge, in the Brixton-Hill Circuit, was opened for public worship in February last.

2. Greenwich, in the Blackheath Circuit; Roupell-park, in the Brixton-Hill Circuit; Upper Tooting, in the Wandsworth Circuit; West Kensington-park, in the Bayswater Circuit; Plaistow (High-street), in the Canning Town Circuit; New Barnet; and Leytonstone, in the Stratford Circuit, are now in course of erection, and some of them are nearly completed.

3. Plans have been examined and accepted, and the usual help promised to Silchester-road, in the Bayswater Circuit.

4. Temporary Iron Chapels have been reared during the year in the Stratford and Lambeth Circuits, preparatory to the more commodious structures which we hope will soon be erected on these sites, which have been purchased by the aid of the Fund.

Towards these Chapels £18,000 have been allocated by the Committee during the year.

III.—INCOME.

1. Collections and Subscriptions, £1,297 7s. 2d.; being a small increase from the London Circuits on the preceding year.

2. Repayment of Loans, £1,761 12s.

3. For the Special Fund, from the Provinces, since the last Conference, £2,573 14s. 5d. Considering the almost unparalleled financial prostration of the country, the Committee regards this with thankfulness.

IV.—PAYMENTS.

From the Ordinary Fund, £3,200.

From the Special Fund, including the sums paid by Sir Francis Lycett, £8,225. This large amount arises from the fact that during this year we have nine chapels in course of erection, a greater number than in any one year since the Fund was commenced.

V.—OUR POSITION AND PROSPECTS.

The Fund was established in 1861. During the first ten years a large amount, not only of preparatory but of actual work was accomplished. The entire provision which had been made by Metropolitan Methodism for the population previously to 1861 was about thirty-nine thousand sittings. During the first ten years of the Fund's operations twenty-one large Chapels were erected; two existing Chapels were enlarged; two School Chapels were built, and two commodious Chapels were in course of erection at the end of the tenth year. Provision was thus made for twenty-seven thousand more people, at a cost of nearly £150,000; towards which the Fund provided by Loans and Grants nearly £33,000. Several sites in addition to the above were secured at a cost to the Fund, including the Westminster Chapel, of more than £3,000.

In 1870 the proposal was made to build fifty additional Chapels within ten years. This will not be fully accomplished; but during the last nine years twenty-nine large Chapels have been built, or are now in course of erection; the plans of another have been accepted, and the Grants and Loans voted: so that at the close of the next year at least thirty Chapels, holding thirty-one thousand people, will be provided. Sites for twelve other Chapels have been secured, and sixteen iron or temporary structures have been raised in connection with the Fund.

It may be well to add that since our operations commenced more than seventy other places, some larger, some smaller, have been built by the London Methodists, unassisted by the Fund; so that within twenty years from the inauguration of this effort, at least eighty thousand additional sittings will be provided,—i.e., our Church accommodation secured within twenty years will be more than twice and a half as much as was provided in the preceding eighty years.

We are about to enter upon the last of the ten years. Whether any or what changes may then take place, the Committee knows not. We are far from the goal at which we have aimed; but if the proposed fifty Chapels were really erected, we should have to say that the necessities of the Metropolis are greater and more pressing to-day than when the Fund was begun. While we are devoutly thankful for the success vouchsafed, we are overwhelmed with a sense of responsibility concerning the millions of London.

At Christmas next about 60 vacancies will be created in the Westminster College, and 56 in the Southlands College. At the Admission Examinations held during the first week in July, 122 Candidates were examined at Westminster, and 119 at Southlands. The result of these Examinations will not be known until about October.

Six Schools, having an average attendance of 476 scholars, are reported by the District Committees as having been closed during the year; and five others, having an average attendance of 809 scholars, are reported as having been transferred during the year to School Boards. Two Infant Departments have also been merged in the Senior Schools, making a total reported decrease of 13 School Departments. Eight new Schools have, however, been opened during the year; consequently the net reported decrease of Schools is five. It will be observed that this is a smaller decrease than was reported last year.

In addition to the new Schools added, new or enlarged and improved premises have been provided for many Schools, and the Committee have been glad to assist the undertakings by Grants in aid of renewed or additional outfit.

The prosperity of a good proportion of the Schools is indicated by the decrease in the amount of debt upon the current account of Schools which is reported this year. That amount, as was stated last year, is less serious than it might seem to be, since it is known that the sums returned as 'Outstanding Balances of previous years' often include by mistake the amounts advanced by Treasurers to meet current expenditure, such amounts being fully covered by Government Grants which are being earned.

TRANSACTIONS OF THE COMMITTEE.—Detailed information respecting the working of the two Training Colleges, and of the Practising Schools attached to them; the Day Schools of the Connexion, and Teachers employed in them; and the Examinations of Pupil Teachers in Religious Knowledge,—is supplied in the last Annual Report of the Committee, issued in April. It also records the correspondence between the Education Committee and H.M. Government in reference to Schools declared to be 'unnecessary,' and the result of that correspondence; and also correspondence respecting the due protection of the religious liberties of children in 'Certified Efficient Schools' in which no Conscience Clause is enforced. In view of the increased cost of School furniture and the competition with which Schools have now to contend in the matter of outfit, the Committee have raised by £10 the maximum amount of Grants payable to Schools in aid of outfit. On receiving the report of H.M. Inspector of his annual visit to the Westminster College, the Committee resolved to raise the entrance fees to the two Training Colleges as follows:—Westminster, from £10 to £12 10s.; Southlands, from five guineas to seven guineas.

The Income of the Fund for the year was £8,458 13s. 9d.; being an increase of £600 upon that of the previous year. The Treasurers have also received with much thankfulness from the Treasurers of the Thanksgiving Fund five payments amounting to a moiety of the estimated debt of £14,000, and they look forward to the speedy extinction of the debt.

Since the Conference of 1878, Grants in-Aid have been promised by the Committee as follows:—(1.) Connexional Sunday-School Union, £800; (2.) Outfit of Day Schools, to 31 School Departments, £1,215; (3.) Renewal of Outfit of Day Schools, to 5 Departments, £135; (4.) In aid of Maintenance of Specially Necessitous Schools, 21 Grants, £402. The Committee have also promised one Grant under the Resolution of the last Conference (Minutes, p. 240, sec. 2), to a School to which the Education Department has refused to make an immediate Grant on the ground that it is deemed to be an unnecessary School.

The work of the Union has been satisfactory during the past year.

At the May District Committees it was reported that there was an increase in the number of Schools connected with the Union of 222 on the year. From many parts of the country, and from distant parts of the world, the Committee have received proofs that their work is appreciated and useful. Some of the Colonies have arranged to secure our Lesson Helps in advance, and to use our Notes, etc., and whilst we have received liberal pecuniary assistance from more than two thousand Schools at home, even Russia has furnished us with a subscriber, and we have sent to Spain some of our texts and other appliances, the texts having been translated into the Spanish language. We have also arrangements pending for their supply in Italian, Chinese, and Kaffir. The Sunday-schools of other Churches also have become frequent purchasers of our productions. Large numbers of our Cartoons, Banners, Texts, etc., have been sold to adorn the walls of schools of almost all denominations of Christians; to comfort and instruct the sick in Hospitals; and to make even the workhouses look more cheerful than they have been; and several of the noblest asylums in the land have purchased considerable quantities both of cartoons and wall-texts, and we have received gratifying testimonies respecting their value.

The Sunday-School statistics of the year are on the whole satisfactory. There are increases in the number of scholars, etc., but there are decreases in attendance. These decreases are easily accounted for by the unusual inclemency of the weather on Sundays for several months.

The past has been the first year of the formation of Junior Society-classes under the authority of the Conference, and it is too soon to report much of their working; but it is satisfactory to know that in many Schools they have been adopted, with promise of extensive usefulness. The Committee express the most earnest hope that whenever practicable, such Classes will be formed in connection with all our Sunday-schools. It is most important to remember that however near to perfection our organization may approach, if Sunday-school work fails to bring scholars into the membership of the Christian Church, it lamentably fails to accomplish its highest duty; and if Methodist Sunday-school teachers fail to bring the children of our Schools into our Society, they fail to do that which should be their direct aim, and they leave their charge without the inestimable privilege and the blessed safeguard that might prove of more value to them than mind can conceive.

The Committee has been very busily engaged on the preparation of the new Sunday-school Hymn-book. It is hoped that a few copies of the first edition will be ready to be laid on the table of the Conference before its sessions are closed. Satisfactory arrangements of a business nature have been made between the Conference Office and the Sunday-School Union with reference to the publication of the Hymn-book.

The third Sunday in October was again observed as a day for special prayer and services for the benefit of our Schools. In many places there were most blessed results. The last Conference authorised the Committee to announce its approval of the proposal that the third Sunday of October in each year should be set apart for special prayer on behalf of Sunday-Schools, and our young people generally.

APPENDIX V.

ABSTRACT OF THE REPORT

OF

THE CHILDREN'S HOME AND ORPHANAGE.

THE present position of the Children's Home, financially, is more satisfactory than for several years past.

First.—As to the debt. It was stated in the Report of last year that the debt then stood at £2,375. This was the net amount then required to balance the assets and liabilities of the Institution. But in the month of October it was thought that not less than £4,500 would enable the Committee to discharge all its liabilities. This amount was voted by the Committee of the Thanksgiving Fund. Moreover, in the calculation of last year's Report, the debt remaining was brought down to £2,375, by taking as an asset stock amounting to £1,890 4s. 7d. It is very desirable that the financial position of the Home should be so improved as to warrant the Committee in no longer calculating this as an asset, but allowing it to stand rather as in lieu of working capital.

Secondly.—As to the current income and expenditure.

The Subscriptions and Donations of the year amount to £6,837 2s. 2d., as against £5,998 0s. 6d. of the previous Report; but since last year's Statement only covers a period of nine months, it will be seen that this year's figures represent a slight diminution of income from this source. Further, the Christmas appeal, through the Methodist newspapers, produced only £279, as against £450. On the other hand, the Collections made in Sunday-Schools amount to £1,955 18s. 3d.; an increase of £206 over the yield of the last year.

Large and generous, however, as is the total amount contributed by the Sunday-Schools, the Committee are convinced that the income of the Home from this source may be yet largely increased. Only 1,552 Schools have this year made any offering for this work, and there are some 6,000 Methodist Schools in this country, not to mention the many schools belonging to other denominations, which do, or might, help our work.

A careful examination of the accounts will show that the income of the year has exceeded the ordinary expenditure by only £282, whilst the extraordinary expenditure has amounted to £2,754. This fact has called for very serious and earnest consideration from the Committee; and arrangements have been made during the year, which it is believed will reduce the ordinary expenditure of next year by several hundreds of pounds, without lessening the number of children maintained at the Home.

The expenditures of the year other than ordinary, show a deficit of £2,471 12s. 2d. Of this amount, however, £563 7s. 4d. has been paid to the Debt Reduction Fund, and used in the discharge of liabilities. The sum of £503 has been paid for interest; and this charge is being rapidly reduced as the debt is paid. Further, of the £1,642 6s. 1d. expended on the Property Account, the entire amount, with the exception of £310 8s. 1d., is of a special character, and not likely to occur again. £650 is expenditure at Milton, in the erection of the new School-room, covered playground, and dormitories, works which, though paid for this year, were undertaken before the year commenced: this last remark applies also to the amount expended under the same head at London. The Farm improvements at Edgworth are not completed, but special items of income will be available towards these expenses.

On the whole, the Committee are of opinion, that if the income of the next year do not fall below that of the last, the operations of the Home upon its present scale will be conducted without incurring any debt.

The Committee received with great gratification intelligence of the munificent offer of Mr. Jevons to devote £9,000 towards the establishment, as a new Branch of this work, of an Orphanage for the children of godly parents. This offer was made through the Principal, who is also one of the Honorary General Secretaries of the Thanksgiving Fund. Its General Committee heartily recommend the Conference to accept Mr. Jevons's offer, and to meet his gift by sanctioning a Grant of £10,000 for this new enterprise.

The Committee of the Home will be prepared to undertake the responsibility of carrying on this addition to their work, with the understanding that at first the new Branch must begin on a small and modest scale, and must be enlarged only as the increase of annual income justifies it. Meantime, they wish to express their sense of obligation to the generous donor at Birmingham, and to the Committee of the Thanksgiving Fund, which has so handsomely met his challenge.

The moral and religious results of the work are those which most deeply interest the Committee; and they will be fully dealt with in the Report of the Principal, which has been received by the Committee, and will be sent to subscribers. Meantime, the general and statistical information following will summarize the present position of the work.

The Children's Home and Training School still consists of four main Branches :—

1. Bonner-road, London.
2. Edgworth, in Lancashire.
3. Milton next Gravesend.
4. Hamilton, in Canada.

And still, in connection with the London Branch, are carried on the important departments known as—

5. Missions, and
6. Training School for Workers.

There have been received into the various Branches of the Home since its commencement 906 children—viz., 649 boys, and 257 girls. Deducting those now resident in the Home, it appears that 450 children have gone forth from our care into the world. They have been absent from us for periods ranging from a few months to eight years. After careful examination of these cases, we have divided them into the following classes :

Criminal : those who have come within the grasp of the law.

Bad : those who have become decidedly vicious in their habits.

Moderate : those who are living in a manner which does not distinguish them at all from the average of the labouring classes.

Good : honest, diligent, and generally satisfactory.

Excellent : those who have distinguished themselves by thrift, diligence, push, high moral character, and a steady and consistent Christian profession.

Of the total number received, 14 have died in the Home, a percentage of $1\frac{1}{2}$ in a period of ten years.

Respecting the eternal welfare of all these we have strong and well-grounded hope. Four have died since they left us.

34 boys and 2 girls, having been trained in other Institutions, have passed through our Canadian Branch. Of these—

1 boy has proved Criminal.

7 boys have proved Bad.

13 boys and 1 girl are classed as Moderate.

12 boys and 1 girl are classed as Good.

3 boys are classed as Excellent.

Further, 33 boys and 24 girls have been placed in the charge of relatives, when these had proved able to care for them.

Six boys absconded shortly after being received.

Of 205 boys and 110 girls sent forth, the classification is as follows :—

Criminal—none.

Bad—4 boys and 4 girls.

Moderate—52 boys and 11 girls.

Good—111 boys and 54 girls.

Excellent—38 boys and 41 girls.

The percentage is as follows :—

			BOYS.	GIRLS.
Criminal	None	None.
Bad	2 per cent.	$3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent.

			BOYS.	GIRLS.
Moderate	25½ per cent.	10 per cent.
Good	54 „	49 „
Excellent	18½ „	37½ „

It would appear, then, that about 2 per cent. of the whole number of children who have left have turned out badly; the rest will compare not unfavourably with the average of the labouring population, whilst 77 per cent. of the whole are entitled to the character, 'Good' or 'Excellent.' When the circumstances of many of these children in early life, their hereditary tendencies, and the force of early habits are remembered, such a result cannot be considered as other than satisfactory. Experience seldom shows a better average of results in any class of the community; and these results in the case of such children as we are dealing with would astonish us most who know them best, if we did not remember that the excellency of the power is His to Whom all glory belongs.

The children now resident in the Home number 456—boys and girls.

APPENDIX VI.

EXTENSION OF METHODISM IN GREAT BRITAIN.

THE Committee report, with much satisfaction, that during the past year 174 applications for help have been considered, and Grants amounting to £9,538 have been made to 133 cases, providing an additional chapel accommodation for 22,152 hearers.

As in former years, the greater number of these cases are small village chapels, none providing accommodation for more than 300 hearers, some, indeed, for less than 100. In many instances, but for the truth which is preached in these plain houses of prayer, the neighbourhood would know little or nothing of that Gospel which is 'the power of God unto salvation'; and multitudes therefore rejoice in their erection. Accounts continually reach the Committee of the ignorance and spiritual destitution of the districts on behalf of which they receive applications for help; and it is evident that the work they have undertaken is of the greatest importance, and likely, if persevered in, to result in widespread blessings to the community.

The total number of applications presented to the Committee since the formation of the Fund is 457, of which 344 have been considered, and 235 have received the promise of Grants amounting to £17,079 12s. 6d. These 235 cases provide an additional accommodation of 42,488 sittings.

At the Conference of 1878, the total sum reported towards the Fund for the Extension of Methodism was £46,551 1s. 2d., which has since been increased to £47,470; and this amount added to £45,000 appropriated by the Committee of the Thanksgiving Fund, justifies the belief that the available sources of the Extension Fund will be sufficient to accomplish the work for which it was originally established.

ABSTRACT OF REPORT UPON THE EXAMINATION OF PREACHERS ON TRIAL.

PRESENTED TO THE CONFERENCE, 1879.

THE Examination was held, in accordance with the directions of the Conference, on April 2nd, 1879, when 214 Probationers were examined. Eight more were subsequently examined, on the 18th of June, making the total number of examinees, 222. Five Preachers on Trial were unable to take any Examination this year on account of ill-health.

The general result of the Examination of the Probationers of each year was as follows :—

FIRST YEAR.—50 were examined : of whom 5 wrote two papers only, 39 wrote three, and only 6 wrote the full number of four. 151 papers were written : of these, 34 were marked 3+, 29 obtained higher marks than 3+, 81 obtained lower marks than 3+, and 7 were failures.

SECOND YEAR.—61 were examined : of whom 1 wrote two papers, 7 wrote three, 29 wrote four, and 24 wrote five. 259 papers were written : of these 52 were marked 3+, 85 obtained higher marks, 115 obtained lower marks than 3+, and 7 were failures.

THIRD YEAR.—49 were examined : of whom 2 wrote three papers, 32 wrote four, and 15 wrote five. 209 papers were written : of these 39 gained 3+, 74 obtained higher marks, 92 obtained lower marks, and 4 were failures.

FOURTH YEAR.—62 were examined : of whom 1 wrote two papers, 3 wrote three, 38 wrote four, and 20 wrote five. 255 papers were written : of these 63 gained the average mark of 3+, 113 gained higher marks than 3+, and 79 obtained lower marks ; no paper was a failure.

The result of the Examination is not satisfactory. The average of marks gained is considerably below that of last year, and the decline extends to Probationers of each one of the years; that is, Probationers of the first, second, third, and fourth years respectively gained in 1879 a lower average of marks than Probationers of the corresponding years in 1878.

It is gratifying, however, to find that while the fourth year's Probationers of 1879 did not obtain equally high marks with those of 1878, the young men named have made a considerable advance upon what they did in their third year of probation. Then nine of them were absent from the Examination; this year not one of them was absent. Of the papers written by them in their third year, $5\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. were failures, in their fourth year no one paper was a failure, and the average grade of marks gained by them this year was decidedly better. The number of their papers marked 3, 4+, and 4 was smaller by $7\frac{3}{4}$ per cent., the number gaining 3+ was larger by $7\frac{3}{4}$ per cent., and the number gaining higher marks than 3+ was $5\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. greater. This is the most satisfactory feature of this year's Examination.

APPENDIX IX.

ABSTRACT OF THE REPORT ON THE DISTRICT
SUSTENTATION FUNDS.

THESE Funds have now been in existence five years, having been inaugurated at the Conference of 1874.

Thirty out of the thirty-three Districts in Great Britain have established District Sustentation Funds.

The total amount of subscriptions received during the last five years is £14,220. Grants have been made to Districts, amounting to £13,701. The amount raised in the aided Districts to meet Grants is £11,003.

The sum of £24,477, being an average of £4,895 per annum, has been paid in the several Districts in augmentation of the allowances to Ministers, as the result of the establishment of this Fund.

The object contemplated by the Fund on its establishment was to secure, if possible, a minimum of £150 to each married Minister, with the customary addition of house-rent, taxes, etc., and a minimum of £80 to each unmarried Minister. Five years since there were 372 Circuits paying less than the proposed minimum. The number is now reduced to 217.

APPENDIX X.

LAY REPRESENTATION IN THE CONFERENCE.

THE following are the Resolutions of the Conference of 1877 on the subject of Lay Representation :—

I. The Conference, when considering such matters as are hereinafter declared to be within the province of Ministers and Laymen acting conjointly, shall consist of the President of the Conference, and of 240 Ministers and 240 Laymen.

- (i.) The Ministerial Members of the Conference when the Lay Representatives are present shall be, in addition to the President and all other Members of the Legal Conference for the time being who shall have declared at the May Meeting of the District Committee their intention to attend the Conference :—
 - (a) Any Assistant Secretary of the Conference, not being a member of the Legal Conference.
 - (b) All Chairmen of Districts in Great Britain, not being members of the Legal Conference.
 - (c) Six Ministers in Full Connexion, stationed in Foreign Districts, who may be in England at the time of the sitting of the Conference. The Conference when consisting of Ministers only shall determine in what manner such Ministers shall be chosen ; or if there be not six such Ministers in England at the time of the sittings of the Conference, in what manner their places shall be supplied.
 - (d) If, in any year, any Department would not, in the judgment of the Conference, be adequately represented by Members of the Legal Conference, provision shall be made for the Ministerial Representation of such Department by the preceding Conference when consisting of Ministers only.
 - (e) The remaining Ministerial Members of the Conference, when composed of Ministers and Laymen, shall be elected at the Annual Meetings in May of the District Committees in Great Britain, as follows:—The Ministerial Members of each District Committee shall elect from their own number so many Ministers as, by the allocation of the Conference preceding, are entitled to attend the ensuing Conference. From the Ministers so elected, the Ministerial Members of each District Committee shall elect by vote, taken by ballot after nomination, so many Ministers as were allocated by the preceding Conference to represent such District in the Conference when composed of Ministers and Laymen.

N.B.—The newly-elected Members of the Legal Conference in each year shall be Members of the Conference when composed of Ministers and Laymen.

(ii.) No Layman shall be eligible as a Representative, whether elected annually by the Conference or by the May Meeting of the District Committee, unless he be a Member of Society of five years' continuous standing, and, at the time of his election by the Conference or nomination in the District Committee, a holder of office as a Trustee of Connexional Property, a member of a Circuit Quarterly Meeting, or a member of a District Committee. Any Layman nominated in a District Committee must be a Member of Society in some Circuit within that District.

(a) One-eighth of the Lay Representatives shall be elected annually by the Conference when composed of Ministers and Laymen; but in the case of the first Conference to be held after the adoption of this Scheme, by the preceding Conference. This number shall in all cases include the Lay Treasurers of the following General Connexional Funds—namely, the Foreign Missions Fund, the Schools' Fund, the Chapel Fund, the Metropolitan Chapel Building Fund, the Children's Fund, the Home-Mission and Contingent Fund, the Auxiliary Fund, the Theological Institution Fund, the Education Fund, and the Fund for the Extension of Methodism in Great Britain, for the time being. One-third of the remaining number elected in the first instance by the Conference shall retire at the end of the first year; one-third at the end of the second year; and one-third at the end of the third year. This arrangement for retirement in rotation shall be continued from year to year, and the Lay Representatives so retiring shall not be immediately eligible for re-election by the Conference.

(b) For the present, the election of the remaining Lay Representatives to the Conference shall be by the separate vote of the Laymen, taken by ballot after nomination, in the May Meetings of the District Committees; such nomination to be by the Lay Members only. The Circuit Stewards of each Circuit shall be called upon at the March Quarterly Meeting to declare their ability and willingness to attend the ensuing Annual Meeting of the District Committee in May, or the contrary. If they, or either of them, shall declare inability or unwillingness to attend the said District Committee, the Quarterly Meeting shall have the right of electing by and from its own members, and by open vote, a Representative or Representatives to supply the vacancy or vacancies so created.

(c) The number of Laymen to be elected in each District shall be determined by each preceding Conference when consisting of Ministers and Laymen; but, in the case of the first Conference to be held after the adoption of this Scheme, by the preceding Conference.

II. The business to be transacted by the Conference when consisting of Ministers only shall be completed before that which is to be transacted by Ministers and Laymen conjointly is entered upon.

III. The deliberations of the Conference, when consisting of Ministers and Laymen, shall be confined to the duly-appointed Members of that Conference; but any Minister permitted by the District Committee to attend the Conference when composed of Ministers only, may be present during the Sessions of the Conference when composed of Ministers and Laymen; and the
