Gilbert, Anthony

MEMOIR OF THE REV. ROBERT BELL.

By MR. THOMAS LINCOLN, OF SOUTH SHIELDS.

BROTHER BELL was born at Whitby in 1810, but in early years removed with his parents to South Shields. He was apprenticed to the trade of boat builder, and in that occupation spent the earlier part of his life. Up to nearly twenty-four years of age he paid no heed to the claims of religion, and sought pleasure in the amusements of the world. At this time a great change came over his life. Working for a short period at Bill Quay, in the Gateshead Circuit, he lodged with some godly Methodist people. They induced him to go with them to Felling Chapel, where he was convinced of sin under a sermon by the Rev. John Nowell, Wesleyan minister, and there and then found peace with God.

During another temporary residence at Bill Quay, in 1838, he was called to the work of local preacher. After a year or two he returned to South Shields and renewed his connection with Chapter Row Chapel, until 1851, when he came out with the Reformers, and separate religious services were established. Our Brother Bell was invited and consented to do the work of a Circuit minister in North and South Shields Reform Circuit. From Shields Mr. Bell passed to West Hartlepool, and laboured there until the amalgamation of the Wesleyan Reform and Association Churches in 1857; and after a year's probation, he became, in 1858, a fully accredited minister of the united Body. His labours in subsequent years extended to York, Camelford, Penzance, Stockton, Newcastle-on-Tyne, Leicester, Monkwearmouth, and Whitby.

In 1881, advancing years and incessant work began to tell upon him to such an extent that at the London Assembly he felt reluctantly compelled to ask for retirement on the superannuation list. The Assembly at once assented to his reasonable request. Few of those present in that Assembly will forget the thrilling pathos of the address with which our brother acknowledged the vote.

The Assembly over, Mr. Bell took up his permanent residence at South Shields, where he continued to preach occasionally, as also in the neighbouring Circuit of Newcastle-on-Tyne. A short illness of three days terminated his earthly course. On Friday, January 30th, 1885, he was unwell, and thought he had taken cold at the previous Sunday service. On Saturday, a doctor was sent for, and pleurisy was found to have set in. This was not considered very serious until five o'clock on Monday morning, when a rapid change for the worst took place. He felt he was dying, and calling his dear wife and family to his bedside he, Jacob-like, gave each a suitable word of counsel and his parting blessing. Expressing his perfect peace and rest in Jesus, he passed into eternal life shortly after, saying to those around him, "Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright: for the end of that man is peace."

Of our Brother Bell it may in conclusion be stated that his services in each Circuit were highly appreciated and successful, and fragrant memories have been left behind. He had a tender and sympathetic heart. He was a thorough-going Methodist preacher, he loved his pulpit work, and, to the last, upheld the lovefeast, the weeknight preaching, the class meeting, the band meeting, and the prayer meeting, as means of grace which made Methodism a power.

But now his long and loving toil is ended, and he has entered into rest at the ripe age of 74.

So closes earth's brief record of the life and labours of our dear Brother Bell. His perfect record is on high.

MEMOIR OF THE REV. WILLIAM ROBERTS BROWN.

BY REV. MARMADUKE MILLER.

NO county in England has sent forth so large a number of good and true men into the ministry of the Methodist Free Churches as Cornwall; and amongst these faithful men, William Roberts Brown was in many respects one of the foremost.

Our departed brother was born at his father's farm, Trenale, in the parish of Tintagel, Cornwall, June 13th, 1813. His parents were God-fearing Wesleyans, and by them he was sent to the Sunday-school as a little child. When eleven years old, the family removed to Tredannick farm, near to Wadebridge. As a youth, he was thoughtful; his heart was early drawn out towards God and spiritual things; and when in his seventeenth year, while attending a lovefeast, he made the great vow, and consecrated himself to God and His service. From being a teacher in the Sunday-school, he became the superintendent, and afterwards a local preacher.

In the year 1835, the Wesleyan Conference revoked the most important of the concessions which had been made to the laity by the Conference of 1797, which led to a large secession of members in Cornwall, and in other parts of the kingdom. Ministers were soon required for those who had seceded, and for those who had been expelled; and our departed brother had commended himself so highly to those amongst whom he laboured as a local preacher, that he was earnestly pressed to entirely devote himself to the work of the ministry. With great diffidence he complied with this request, and in his twenty-third year, he was appointed to the Camelford and Wadebridge Circuit. After serving this Circuit for three years, he was appointed to the Helston, Redruth, and Penzance Circuit; and from thence he removed to Tavistock.

While in Tavistock, he became united in marriage to a lady, who, to the day of her death, lived a saintly life, and who was a true helpmeet to him in all that he attempted and did of spiritual work.

Leaving Tavistock our brother served his Master, and the Churches, in the following Circuits: Nottingham, Camelford and Wadebridge, Rochdale, Darlington, Camelford, Redruth, Helston, Bury, Louth, Bristol, Sheffield Surrey Street, Rochdale, Castlemere, and Birmingham.

In olden times the proverb ran, that 'a prophet was not without honour, save in his own country, and in his own house;' but this saying was not verified in the case of our departed brother. Twenty years of his ministerial life were spent in his native county and amongst his own people; and by them he was ever regarded with reverence and love.

The Annual Assembly evinced its confidence in his character, and in the soundness of his judgment, by electing him for nineteen years on the Connexional Committee; and in the year 1865, he was appointed to the high office of President.

In the year 1880, our brother, on account of failing health, was compelled to retire from the full work of the ministry; but although no longer able to take charge of a Circuit, he continued to preach, and to render valuable service to the Connexion, especially in the Cornish Circuits.

In the autumn of 1884, he decided to pay a visit to New Zealand, partly with a view to the improvement of his health; and partly to visit his scholarly son, who had been appointed head master to the Grammar School at Christchurch. In due time, he safely arrived at the colony, and was soon surrounded by troops of friends, who had known him in the old country. The visit was to him a great joy, and his health seemed to be improved. His preaching was blessed to the people. He had visited the Rev. M. Baxter and other friends; and had planned a trip to Australia viâ Auckland. But this was not to be; his work was done. On Sunday, April 25th, he preached his last sermon; his text being, 'Because Thy lovingkindness is better than life, my lips shall praise Thee.' In the course of his sermon he dwelt upon the lovingkindness of God as it will be revealed in heaven, and when so doing, he said: 'Some of us have got so near, that we seem to hear the angels' wings.'

On the following Tuesday he complained of a slight chill, which on the Thursday developed into pleurisy; and on the Saturday morning he was not, for God had taken him.

During his short illness, his children heard him frequently say, 'Dear Lord'; 'My dear Lord'; 'Blessed Jesus! what is my pain to Thine, I have not sweat drops of blood'; 'I will lift up mine eyes to the hills from whence cometh my help,' &c., &c.

Many devout men followed him to his burial, amongst whom were the clergyman of the parish, and the President of the New Zealand Wesleyan Conference.

Our departed brother was characterised by strong, round-about common sense. His mind was well balanced; his faculties were held well in hand. In general company he was somewhat reticent; and when with friends he did not monopolise the talking; but when excited, his conversation became very racy, and he would often illustrate his point by a humorous story.

That which most impressed those who knew him best was the deep devoutness of his spirit. To him eternal things were very near. His life was hid with Christ in God.

As a preacher he was plain, pointed, and earnest. He never tried to say fine things. All clap-trap and rhetorical tricks were alien to his nature. He ever felt that he had a message to deliver; and that message was delivered as became one of Christ's ambassadors.

In his sermons, in his prayers, and in his whole manner of conducting public worship, there was that subtle, spiritual influence, which can only emanate from those who commune much with their own heart, and who often walk with God.

For fifty years, he loyally served the Methodist Free Churches according to the will of God; and being dead he yet speaketh.

'The actions of the just Smell sweet in death, and blossom in the dust.'

MEMOIR OF THE REV. ANTHONY GILBERT.

BY REV G. LOWNDES.

BROTHER GILBERT was born in Nantwich, Cheshire, on March 25th, 1804. He was seven years old when his father died, of whom he had but one memory, viz., that of his dying charge always to love and obey his mother. The promise which he then made to do so he always faithfully fulfilled. His mother was a good woman, remarkable alike for her deep piety and her unswerving steadfastness. With such domestic surroundings, it was no wonder that Brother Gilbert was converted to God in early life. This occurred during a series of revival services which were conducted by the Rev. Gideon Ouseley. At the age of fourteen he was put on the prayer leaders' plan. At the age of seventeen he became a Sunday-school teacher. When only nineteen he began to preach, and he continued to preach to the end. When smitten down by the illness which so soon proved fatal, he was engaged in making a new sermon which he hoped would be the best he had ever preached.

Brother Gilbert married comparatively early in life: his wife was a wise, godly, and cheerful helpmate to him for forty years.

In 1835 he joined those who seceded from the parent body and formed the Wesleyan Association. His public ministry dates from the year 1836. His first appointment was to the Lever Street Circuit, Manchester, where he formed life-long friendships. His last appointment was to the same Circuit. His Circuit labours were not widely scattered over the denomination. He spent fourteen years in Lancashire, seven in Yorkshire, ten in the Midlands, two in Sunderland and three in London. In all these Circuits, he was the means of great good, and in some he was more than ordinarily successful.

It was when labouring in the London Second Circuit that a heavy stroke of bereavement fell upon him in the loss of his dear wife. It was in the year 1869, on the occasion of the Annual Assembly being held in Brougham Street, Sunderland, that he found a second helpmate. His second union like his first was marked by happiness and peace. His cup of life was sweetened by the tenderness and affection with which his declining days were watched and cared for. His home was indeed a heaven upon earth.

When Brother Gilbert became superannuated fifteen years ago, he resolved to avoid all appearance of interference with the duties of the superintendent minister of the Circuit. This resolution he faithfully kept. The ministers of our own Churches in Sunderland have lost a much valued friend. The ministers and office-bearers of other Churches have lost one whom they all respected and loved. The beautiful simplicity of his character and the apostolic fervour of his life were irresistibly creative of esteem.

His illness was only of four days' duration. During that time he was not able to enter into conversation with his dearest friends; but the grandest testimony he has left behind him is the testimony of his stainless and consecrated life.

After having, for more than sixty years, "served his generation according to the will of God," he was summoned, on Sunday morning, March 8th, 1885, to the higher service and the perfect bliss of heaven.

Brother Gilbert was an earnest minister, a diligent pastor and a loyal servant of our Churches. His brethren recognised his excellencies many years ago by raising him to the highest Connexional office. Whether as President or as Circuit minister or in whatever other position he might be placed, he faithfully fulfilled the mission entrusted to him by the Master. We cannot doubt that he has already heard and realised the "glad word" of his Lord: "Well done, thou good and faithful servant: thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."

MEMOIR OF THE LATE REV. THOMAS NEWTON.

BY THE REV. JAMES KING.

BROTHER NEWTON was born in Manchester in 1819. When four years of age, he was sent to the Methodist Sunday-school in Tib Street, where both his mother and grandmother had been teachers. While there he was led to public decision for Christ. At the age of sixteen, he became an active prayer leader. Not long after began his career of public teaching which continued for forty years.

His education being completed, Brother Newton went to business with an uncle who was a bookseller, and who was one of the founders of the first ragged school and night asylum in Manchester. It was with that relative he left the parent Body and joined those who afterwards formed the Wesleyan Association.

In the year 1841, the Lever Street Circuit recommended him for the ministry. He laboured in the following thirteen Circuits, viz, Lynn, Carrickfergus, Worle, Bacup, Liverpool, Glasgow, Preston, Bradford, Rochdale, Nottingham, Exeter, London 4th, and London 1st.

As a preacher our late brother was thoroughly evangelical; he was a good business man, and heartily loyal to the Methodist Free Church. His labours were attended with a large measure of that success for which Churches exist, viz., the salvation of sinners and the spread of vital godliness.

Three successive Annual Assemblies displayed their confidence in our late brother by electing him for two years to the Corresponding Secretaryship and then to the Presidency. His brethren also showed their confidence in his executive ability by frequently electing him a member of the various committees of the Body.

His eight years' connection with the Book Room is widely known. To a man of such uncommon business qualities, it was a congenial sphere, and he toiled most assiduously for the promotion of its interests.

During the last few months of his life, our late brother became very desirous to preach again; but his wish was not fulfilled, his task on earth was accomplished.

The end came with startling suddenness. Early in the morning of the last day of his life, the writer had an interview with him, when he was unusually buoyant and hopeful. In the evening, while at Victoria Station alone, he was seen to stagger, and without speaking a word or showing the slightest pain, he passed away. Death to him was but 'a gentle wafting to immortal life.' Brother Newton had anticipated a speedy translation, having said to his dear wife shortly before the call came: 'If I die in the street, don't trouble; I can go as direct to heaven from there as from my own home.'

It was his intention to visit Nottingham during the sittings of the Annual Assembly, having accepted the invitation of an esteemed friend for that purpose; but instead of the greetings of his old friends in an earthly assembly, he received a welcome to 'the general assembly and Church of the first-born who are enrolled in heaven.'

MEMOIR OF THE REV. GEORGE SMITH,

BY REV. JAMES DINSLEY.

MR. SMITH was the son of a Wesleyan minister who was characterised by great spiritual power and usefulness; but unfortunately his public work was brought to a close by a most painful domestic and personal affliction.

Prior to this, his son had become fully decided for Christ, and had identified himself with the people amongst whom he had been brought up, never suspecting that anything could arise which would separate him from a people to whom he felt that he owed so much and was attached so tenderly.

But the struggle in the Wesleyan Methodist Connexion for ecclesiastical freedom which took place in 1835 was participated in by the Methodists of Birmingham. Large numbers were expelled from Society, whilst others, indignant at the harshness with which their fellow members had been treated, withdrew from the denomination, and thus was formed a Society which was one of the first to take part in the formation of the Wesleyan Methodist Association.

Mr. Smith was amongst the seceders, and having become a popular and useful local preacher his services were in great request. He responded heartily to the numerous invitations which he received to preach the glorious Gospel of the grace of God. His usefulness as a local preacher led, in the year 1837, to his being called out as an itinerant minister.

Mr. Smith soon took his place amongst the foremost ministers of the denomination, and was appointed to several of the principal Circuits; viz., Darlington, Manchester, Rochdale, Preston, Liverpool, and several others.

Mr. Smith was also highly appreciated for his business abilities, for we find that he had only been two years in the ministry when he was elected a member of the Connexional Committee; and in 1849, much against his will and earnest request, he was elected President. The Assembly, on that occasion, was held in Liverpool, where he was then stationed.

For several years Mr. Smith continued to maintain the high regard in which he was held as a minister and pastor; but gradually as age advanced upon him his health began to give way, and in 1867 he became a permanent supernumerary, and went to reside at Small Heath, Birmingham, where several of his relatives lived. He at once identified himself with the work of God in the Circuit, and laboured both publicly and privately according to his strength to promote the prosperity of the Circuit. Mr. Smith was a man of deep personal piety, and for the greater part of his life enjoyed a clear and abiding sense of the Divine favour. He was wont to say that for more than thirty years he had enjoyed the uninterrupted smile of God, but during the last few years he occasionally suffered much from mental depression, chiefly brought on by severe pains in the head, which none of the medical men whose aid he sought were able to relieve. But in the midst of pain and anguish he always turned towards God, and sought the help which He alone can give.

During the three weeks which preceded his death, Mr. Smith was confined to his bed, and the quiet seemed to reduce the severity of the pain in his head, and to soothe his nervous system; his depression in a great measure left him, and those who visited him were gladdened by observing how deep and calm was his trust in God.

He fell asleep in Jesus April 2nd, 1885, in the eighty-first year of his age, and the forty-eighth of his ministry.

John Henry Carr.

The Rev. John Henry Carr having requested to be placed on the list of permanent Supernumeraries on account of failing health, Resolved:—That in complying with the request of Brother John Henry Carr, this Annual Assembly assures him of its sincere sympathy in his painful affliction, its high regard for his personal virtue, and its cordial recognition of the faithful Ministerial services rendered by him to the Denomination. It likewise earnestly hopes that through the Divine blessing he may still have opportunities of Christian usefulness, and it fervently prays that as his years multiply he may in growing measure be enriched with the consolations of that Gospel which he has preached during the twenty-four years he has laboured as a Connexional Minister.

John Hirst.

The Rev. John Hirst asked to be placed on the list of permanent Supernumeraries because of failing health.

Resolved:—That in granting the request of Brother John Hirst, this Annual Assembly expresses its high estimate of his Christian worth, and its grateful appreciation of the ability, fidelity, and success which have characterised his Ministry during the long period he has served the Connexion. It likewise ardently hopes that he may still be able to render valuable aid to the Churches by preaching and pastoral visitation, and it devoutly prays that with advancing age he may have increasing peace and joy in the Saviour.

Samuel Macfarlane.

The Rev. Samuel Macfarlane asked consent to retire from the active work of the Ministry because of physical inability to discharge its duties.

Resolved:—That this Annual Assembly in acceding to the request of Brother Samuel Macfarlane to be placed on the list of permanent Supernumeraries desires to record its appreciation of the long and faithful services he has rendered to the Connexion at home and in the colony of New Zealand; it bears testimony to his moral worth as a Christian man, and to his intelligent and acceptable ministration of Divine truth. This Annual Assembly prays that he may be richly favoured in his retirement with all needful spiritual peace and Divine blessing.

Richard Miller.

The Rev. Richard Miller asked for permission to retire from active duty because of increasing bodily infirmities.

Resolved :—That the request of Brother Richard Miller to be placed on the list of permanent Supernumeraries be granted, and in doing so, this Annual Assembly records its grateful sense of the honourable and useful service rendered to the Connexion by Brother Miller's Christian consistency, pulpit Ministry, and the general interest he has ever taken in the welfare of the Churches with which he has been associated. It desires for him in the evening of his life the peace of mind resulting from a consciousness of the Divine favour, and the joy springing from the remembrance of days spent for the honour of his great Lord and Master.

These returns show an increase which in the judgment of the Annual Assembly is a cause for thankfulness and praise.

The Annual Assembly desires greatly to rejoice with their brethren who are labouring in the foreign field in the satisfactory increase resulting from their toil, amounting to 335 members; but would at the same time call attention to the comparatively small and meagre result of the efforts put forth at home, the gain being only 209 members. It is aware that in some parts of the Connexion a steady and large leakage is and has been going on for some time, the number of removals and withdrawals still being very large. From these two causes alone we have lost during the year no fewer than 6,452 members.

The Annual Assembly has felt it to be its duty to inquire carefully into the reasons assigned by the Circuits in which the decrease is large in proportion to the number of members returned. The reasons given are various; with some of which the Assembly, unfortunately, is already too familiar; such as removals in consequence of depression in trade; revision of the register; reaction following times of excitement and revivals; and in some cases neglect of, or want of care in the watching over young converts.

The Annual Assembly expresses its sense of gratitude for the fact that in many of our Circuits there have been such encouraging results. Evidences of a steady growth in numbers and influence are not wanting. On investigation it found that in those Circuits from which the largest increase is reported no special effort had been made; but that a diligent use of the ordinary means had produced the satisfactory results in which we all rejoice.

The Assembly would call the serious attention of every Church and Circuit throughout the Connexion—

1. To the first recommendation in the Numerical and Spiritual State Report inserted in the printed Minutes of 1883, page 40 and is as follows:—
'That in all Circuits increased attention should be paid to the young, with a view to their conversion and addition to the Church, by means of specially adapted services for children, the systematic visitation of the Sunday-schools by the ministers, and the institution in every Church of a class or classes for juvenile members.'
2. We would also recommend that greater attention be given to Evangelistic work; not so much by extraneous agencies, though we would not disparage their employment when conducted with wisdom and discretion, as by the use of the ordinary agencies at our disposal.
3. That greater caution be exercised in reference to the hasty admission of members immediately following times of revival.
4. We would further suggest that the ministers and officers of our Churches make it their constant study to adopt the mode of public service in the sanctuary so that they may not only be as helpful and attractive as possible to their own people, but also to the community at large.
5. That increased attention should be given to the removal of members and that Society stewards and class leaders especially note such cases, with a view to prevent to the utmost possible extent so great a leakage as is at present shown.

CHAPEL RELIEF FUND REPORT, 1885.

No unusual feature has been developed in the working of this Fund during the year. The ordinary income has somewhat diminished, and the Book Room grant was of necessity much reduced. These things have crippled the Committee's action. Nevertheless much valuable work has been done, and several trusts have been relieved.

Some instances of notable generosity have recently occurred which the Committee record with gratitude. Mr. COLLEY, of Leamington, has presented premises to the Connexion to the value of about £500. Mr. T. ABEL, of London Eighth Circuit, has cancelled a mortgage of £500 on the minister's house there, and re-conveyed it to the trustees free of debt. The late Mr. A. SHARMAN, Sheffield, in addition to bequests to Connexional Funds, left a legacy to nearly every chapel in the Hanover Circuit. £600 was recently given by Mr. W. WALTON to Mount Tabor Chapel, Sheffield. A gift of £350 has been bestowed by Mr. Alderman M. J. HART on Small Heath Chapel and premises, Birmingham. Mrs. Taylor, Darlington, has given £100 to Paradise Chapel there, and offered another £100 on condition that the premises be freed from debt. R. ELLIS, Esq., J.P., Mayor of Harrogate, has promised £500, provided that the entire debt on the chapel there be liquidated. And the executors of the late Mr. W. HUNT, Harrogate, intimate that they will shortly be able to pay the following legacies, free of legacy duty—to Harrogate Chapel £200; Lady Lane Chapel, Leeds, £200; and Otley Road Chapel, Bradford, £200.

CHAPEL LOAN FUND.

In presenting a report of this Fund the Committee cannot omit a reference to the decease of one of its founders and a member of the Committee. On March 12th last, the venerable Abraham Sharman, of Sheffield, passed to his reward, rich in faith and good works. Having seen so much good from the operation of this Fund, and observing that one of its best features is its permanency, he remembered it in his will, and sooner or later it will receive a moiety of his residuary estate. At present no reliable estimate of the value of the legacy can be formed ; but it is sure to be very helpful to the capital of the Fund.

At different times the annual income has exceeded expectation, and that has been the case this year; hence the balance at command is exceptionally large.

The balance sheet is as follows :—

XIII.—MINISTERS' SUPERANNUATION AND BENEFICENT FUND.

By request of the annual meeting of the members of the Fund last year, a special circular was addressed to all Circuits which had not contributed during the year preceding. The result is not ascertained, but many Circuits are still non-contributors.

Much depends upon the Ministers as to contributions from Circuits. If they introduce the Fund and its objects to the attention of their people and ask for help they will generally receive it; but unless they try to excite an interest in it, subscriptions will be withheld. The brethren are therefore respectfully requested to keep this matter before their Circuits.

The late Mrs. BROWNING having given by Will £50, subject to legacy duty, to a Fund, which could with difficulty be identified with this Fund, the Committee gratefully acknowledges the courtesy and consideration of her executor and his solicitor in consenting to pay the money under an arrangement involving expense which they themselves discharged.

This Fund was remembered in the Will of the late Rev. G. SMITH, who left £100 to it, which legacy has just been paid free of legacy duty, by his executor, Mr. Alderman M. J. Hart, of Birmingham.

In this Fund the late Mr. A. SHARMAN, of Sheffield, took great interest, and in due course a moiety of his residuary estate, whatever that may amount to, will be paid to the Treasurer according to the provisions of his Will. This bequest is one to be mentioned with gratitude, although no immediate benefit can be derived therefrom.

The year's accounts follow :

The Report of the Preachers' Children's Fund was presented by the Rev. E. Boaden, and adopted.

1. The thanks of the Assembly were presented to the Rev. E. Boaden, for his services as Secretary and Treasurer to the Preachers' Children's Fund, and he was re-appointed for the coming year.

2. The Revs. John Truscott and H. Rayment were thanked for their services as Auditors of the accounts of the Preachers' Children's Fund.

3. Resolved,—That a levy of tenpence per member per annum, payable quarterly, be made on the Circuits to meet the requirements of the Fund for next year.

4. Resolved,—That in the event of any Minister becoming a Supernumerary for one year, or any longer period, for any other cause than that of personal ill-health, he shall not, during such time of temporary retirement from active service (unless otherwise determined by special vote of the Annual Assembly), receive or be entitled to receive, any payment from the Preachers' Children's Fund.

5. An appeal is made to Circuit Stewards for prompt quarterly remittances, without which the Fund will be involved in debt. Thanks are due to both Ministers and Stewards for their consideration and aid in the past.

XVII.—ASHVILLE COLLEGE.

Head-master.—Wm. RICHARDSON, B.A., L.L.D.Treasurer.—R. ELLIS, Esq., J.P., Southfield House, Harrogate.Secretary.—Rev. A. HANDS, Richmond Villa, Harrogate.

ASHVILLE College continues to deserve the good name it has won from those families of our Connexion whose sons have been trained there, and no doubt the College is destined to accomplish a work which will not only be a fair contribution to the educational wants of the Connexion, but will also assist in the consolidation of our Churches.

No Christian Denomination can expect the sympathy and support of the public which does not afford scope for educational attainments.

The number of pupils in the College is seventy-three, of whom fifty-four are the sons of laymen, and nineteen the sons of ministers.

Several of the boys now at the College are the sons of Churchmen. This fact is encouraging, as showing that the educational curriculum and the domestic arrangements are such that they commend themselves to gentlemen outside the borders of our Churches.

As there is accommodation for a much larger number of pupils than the College at present contains, the Governors hope that the friends of our Churches who purpose to give their sons a public school education, will avail themselves of the advantages offered by Ashville College.

Dr. Richardson continues to manifest the greatest interest in the education, the health, the happiness, the morals, and the Christian life of the pupils, and is very highly esteemed, both by the assistant masters and the boys. The doctor reports, that the health of the pupils during the year, has, on the whole, been very good, and that their conduct and progress in studies have been praiseworthy and satisfactory to their teachers. He also says, that he has been efficiently supported in his endeavours to maintain discipline and secure progress by the other members of the teaching staff.

The domestic arrangements have been carried out in an efficient and satisfactory manner.

The matron, appointed during the year, manifests anxiety, as did her predecessor, to secure the health and comfort of the boys.

All the candidates for the last Cambridge Local Examination passed; one in the senior grade, and six in the junior. Three obtained honours and prizes.

In consequence of the meeting of the Annual Assembly being earlier this year than usual, the results of the College examinations for prizes and medals cannot be announced, as the examinations have not been completed; this may be disappointing to some of the friends, but according to College arrangements, it could not be otherwise. The Governors ask the members of the Annual Assembly to give the College all the practical sympathy they can, by way of recommending it to the leading families of the Connexion.

The balance sheet for this year is the most encouraging one yet presented to the Annual Assembly, showing a profit for the year of £315 8s. 4d.

Mr. W. M. Symons, of Vauxhall, London, has generously sent to the College upwards of one hundred volumes of missionary literature, a gift thoroughly appreciated by the Governors, the masters, and the pupils.

Mr. Symons, in making the gift, expressed a wish that other friends would do likewise.

The above report of Ashville College was presented to the Assembly by the Secretary, and adopted.

The Rev. A. Holliday and Mr. C. Wardlow were elected members of the Governing Body.

The thanks of the Assembly were tendered to the officers and members of the Governing Body for their services during the year.

REPORT.

In presenting the Fifth Annual Report, the Committee rejoice in again being able to speak of progress and show that the League is doing good work, and has therefore not been called into existence in vain. Death has been busy among its members—ministerial and lay—but others are coming into the ranks and swelling the numbers.

The statistics, though not yet perfectly obtained, show 95 adult Societies, with 91 members; of these 63 have affiliated, having a membership of 4,297; there are in the Connexion 459 Bands of Hope, containing 47,103 children, managed by 2,882 officers: 154 Bands with a membership of 17,651, are affiliated with the League. We have also 94 joint Societies, i.e., adult and juvenile, numbering 8,677 members; 43 of these are affiliated with the League, and they have a membership of 4,367. In every department these figures show a decided gain upon previous years.

Of our Ministers 18 have enrolled themselves during the year. All the students at the Theological Institute are abstainers, and at Ashville College we have a good Band of Hope, of which nearly all the boys are members.

The statistics still show, however, that there is much work to be done in organising for temperance work the members of our congregations and our Sunday scholars.

The labours of the travelling Secretary have been bestowed during the year upon all parts of the Connexion; the details have been given each month in the official Magazine. In his efforts he has been ably seconded by the District Temperance Secretaries, whose services are most valuable and effective.

The Magazine, the publication of which was sanctioned by the last Assembly, has been issued under the title of the Brooklet. Thanks to its able editor and our enterprising book-steward, it gives great satisfaction. We would bespeak for it a larger circulation during the coming year, that its healthful influence may be increased.

We have much work before us, in the election of a new Parliament, and afterwards to secure the closing of public-houses on Sunday, and the passing of the principle of local option into law. We trust our Free Methodist Temperance League will be helpful in hastening these essential reforms.

XXI. CONNEXIONAL EVANGELISM.

1. The Rev. A. Hands, Harrogate, Secretary.
2. Mr. J. Mackinder, Pitsmoor, Sheffield, Treasurer.
3. Rev. J. T. Oliver, Manchester, Ministerial Evangelist, and Messrs. Silverwood and Harvey, Lay Evangelists.
4. The work of such Evangelists shall be to go from Circuit to Circuit for the purpose of holding Evangelistic services; and, in co-operation with Circuit Ministers and Church officers, organise such methods of Evangelistic work as will be likely to result in the increased activity of our Churches and the enlargement of our borders.
5. That the work of such Connexional Evangelists shall be arranged under the direction of the Connexional Committee; and that, in order to the efficient working of the scheme, a Secretary be appointed from year to year by that Committee.
6. That salaries be guaranteed to the brethren selected for Evangelistic work, and that the needful funds be raised by subscriptions and by collections made in connection with the services held by the Evangelists.

7. That the Evangelists shall not be engaged for a longer period than a fortnight at a time; and that if a further extension of time be desired, the arrangement must be made through the Rev. A. Hands, Secretary.

8. That Collections be made on one Sabbath in each of the places in which the Evangelist is engaged.

9. That all collections made and subscriptions given in the Circuits where the Evangelists are employed be paid over to the Evangelists, who shall at once remit the same to the Secretary.

10. That each Evangelist shall keep a journal of his labours, and that it be forwarded to the Secretary for presentation to the Connexional Committee.

11. That Connexional Evangelists be required to give an undertaking that they will not accept monetary gifts in the Circuits in which they may labour. If any moneys are pressed upon them, they shall report it to the Secretary, and such moneys shall be applied towards the payment of their salaries.

12. That Circuits employing Connexional Evangelists may deduct not more than twenty per cent. from collections made on their behalf towards local expenses.

13. All communications relating to Connexional Evangelism should be addressed to the Rev. Arthur Hands, Richmond Villa, Harrogate.

REPORT OF EVANGELISTIC SCHEME, 1885.

The Secretary in presenting his report stated that the Evangelists had, during the past Connexional year, conducted special services in sixty Circuits, and upwards of 1500 cases of conversion have been reported to him. Large numbers of Circuits apply for the services of the Evangelists in the months of October and November, no doubt with the impression that those months are the most favourable for special services; but as the Evangelists ought to labour for at least ten months in the year, it is hoped that the Circuits will be willing to employ them during the other months of the year. The collections are not so large as the Committee hoped they would be, but it is hoped that the scheme will be more liberally supported in the future. An annual income of at least £430 is required to meet the needs of the scheme.

XXII.—DISTRICT MEETINGS.

THEIR CONSTITUTION AND FUNCTIONS.

1. District Meetings are held twice a year at such times and places as may be appointed at the District Meetings immediately preceding. They usually meet in May and October.

2. District Meetings are composed of representatives freely elected by the Quarterly Meetings, and of persons, who by decisions of Annual Assemblies are constituted ex officio members of the meeting of the District in which they severally reside.

3. The scale on which representatives to the District Meetings may be chosen are : Under 200 members, one representative, over 200 but under 500 members, two representatives, over 500 but under 1000 members, three representatives, and over 1000 members four representatives.

4. The persons who may act as members of District Meetings without being appointed as Circuit representatives are members of the Connexional Committee, members of the Missionary Committee, Itinerant Ministers on the list of Permanent Supernumeraries, Conveners of the District Meetings, District Chapel Secretaries, District Temperance Secretaries, Secretaries elected by the District Meetings (one for each District) Treasurers elected by the District Meetings (one for each District), and the officials, who by the Connexional regulations are entitled to represent any Circuit which may elect them as representatives to the Annual Assembly.

N.B.—District Meetings are not warranted in recognising as ex officio members any other persons or officers than those above specified.

5. The business of District Meetings is to inquire into the general state of each Circuit in the District, to receive all numerical statistics, to obtain reports of all collections and subscriptions towards our Connexional Funds, to consider all applications for grants from Missionary and Chapel Funds, or loans from the Chapel Loan Fund, and all applications for the division or the union of Circuits, and report thereon to the Annual Assembly. The District Meetings are further empowered to elect District Chapel Secretaries, District Temperance Committees and Secretaries; and also to examine, as far as practicable, all candidates for the Connexional ministry and the Theological Institute, recommended by their Circuits, as to their Christian experience, doctrinal views, their knowledge and approval of our distinctive principles, and general fitness for admission into the Institute or Circuit work, and report thereon to the Connexional Committee.

6. District Meetings may also consider and recommend the means of carrying out the Resolutions of the Annual Assembly, also for extending and promoting the prosperity of the work of God; they may render assistance to the Circuits in making arrangements for the holding of Missionary meetings, and bring under the consideration of the Connexional Committee, or the Annual Assembly, any suggestions whose adoption might in their judgment conduce to the welfare of the Connexion.

XXIII.—SCHEME FOR EXAMINATION OF CANDIDATES FOR THE MINISTRY.

The following recommendations of the Connexional Committee were adopted by the Annual Assembly:

Resolved: That it would be wise to introduce certain changes into our method of examining Candidates for the Ministry, for the following among other reasons:

1. Because it appears unwise that Candidates should be expected to pass, substantially, the same examination three or four times.

2. Because the present mode of examination does not afford a sufficient test of the knowledge of Holy Scripture possessed by the Candidates.

3. Because it appears that, by certain alterations, the successive examinations may be so arranged as to be of greater practical benefit to the Candidates themselves, and through them to our Churches at large.

The Committee therefore beg to recommend the following scheme to the consideration of the Annual Assembly :

I. EXAMINATION BEFORE DISTRICT MEETING.

Resolved: That this Examination be left, as now, to the District Meeting: but it is recommended that stress be laid upon personal piety, educational attainments, soundness of health, ability to preach, and power to work; and that no Candidate be allowed to pass, at this stage, unless the District Meeting be satisfied that he possess the above qualifications.

EXAMINATIONS BEFORE THE CONNEXIONAL COMMITTEE.

I.—Preparatory.

Resolved:

1. The Candidate to give statement of his conversion, present Christian experience, call to the Ministry, and knowledge of the Polity of the United Methodist Free Churches.

2. Examination in Experimental Theology: such as Repentance, Faith, Regeneration, Holiness, &c.

3. Brief outline of Bible history.

4. Methods of study, and the composition of sermons.

5. Methods of work: such as the conducting of services; leading classes; dealing with penitents; Sunday-school visitation; pastoral work; methods of raising money for missionary and other Connexional purposes.

II.—Examination for Probation.

Resolved: That this Examination be devoted entirely to Scripture, in the following way:

1. The necessity of Divine revelation.

2. The formation of the Canon of Holy Scripture.

3. The leading versions of Holy Scripture.
4. The genuineness of the books of Holy Scripture: the Pentateuch, the Gospels, or other portion of the Bible treated in detail and with fulness.
5. The authenticity of the books, also treated as above.
6. The uncorrupted preservation of the text.
7. The Divine authority of Holy Scripture: Theories of inspiration: Degrees of inspiration: the Evidences of Divine inspiration: (a) External: (b) Internal.
8. Consider objections:
 - (1.) The Imprecatory Psalms, &c.
 - (2.) Alleged discrepancies, contradictions and mistakes of the Sacred writers, in matters of fact and doctrine.
 - (3.) Scientific objections.
9. The Progressive character of Holy Scripture, considered as a revelation of Divine Truth.
10. Hermeneutics. Different systems of interpretation. Rules of interpretation.

III.—Final Examination.

1. Theism, and the doctrines of Christianity.

Resolved :—That as the above scheme of Examinations will involve special preparation on the part of the Examiner, the Annual Assembly authorise the Connexional Committee to appoint, annually, a Chairman of Examinations; and that such Chairman shall not be the President, because it would be unfair to lay the burden of the special preparation required upon him, in addition to the other duties of his official position; nor yet the Theological Tutor, because many of the Candidates will have been under his training.

Resolved :—That the above scheme come into operation at, and after the Annual Assembly of 1886; and that each part apply to the candidates according to their Connexional status.

II.—If, when the vote has been taken, it be found that no brother has the required majority, the two brethren having the highest number of votes shall again be submitted to the Assembly. The brother then having the largest number of votes shall be declared by the President to be duly elected.

(D.) Voting Papers.

Voting papers for Committees to be retained in the custody of the Connexional Secretary. Surplus copies to be provided, to enable the members of the Assembly to record the results of voting.

XXVI.—MISCELLANEOUS.

WELCOME TO NOTTINGHAM.

A Deputation of Wesleyan Ministers and Laymen visited the Assembly on Friday, and presented to the President an address of 'Fraternal Greeting.' The address was read by the Rev. Isaiah Parker, and spoken to by the Rev. Forster Crozier and J. W. Lewis, Esq.

The Rev. J. Mather and Mr. R. G. Rows replied on behalf of the Assembly.

A Deputation of Nonconformist Ministers waited on the Assembly on Wednesday, July 22nd, and presented an address of brotherly welcome. The address was read by the Rev. Thomas Addyman, Secretary of the Methodist New Connexion Conference, and was spoken to by the Revs. W. Woods, B.A., Baptist, and J. E. Flower, M.A., Congregationalist.

The Rev. A. Holliday and Mr. Alderman Green replied on behalf of the Assembly.

THANKS TO THE MAYOR AND MAYORESS OF NOTTINGHAM.

On Monday, July 20th, by invitation of the Mayor and Mayoress, the representatives, with their hosts and hostesses attended a conversazione in Nottingham Castle. The Sax-Tuba Band was stationed in the Castle grounds, and played at intervals. In the reception rooms the visitors were treated to a well-selected programme of music, rendered with exquisite taste. An ample supply of viands was provided in the refreshment room. The occasion was quite unique in the history of the United Methodist Free Churches. His Worship delivered a short address on the history and principles of our Churches, and was listened to with great interest. A vote of thanks was moved by the Rev. Alfred Jones, President. On the call of Mr. Alderman Green three cheers were given for the Mayor and Mayoress.

At a later stage of its proceedings the Annual Assembly passed the following resolution:

Resolved,—That the cordial thanks of this Annual Assembly be, and are hereby, presented to the Mayor and Mayoress of Nottingham, for kindly inviting and generously receiving the representatives and their friends at the Castle, on Monday evening, July 20th. The conversazione, and its surroundings, will form one of the 'sunny memories' connected with the meeting of the Annual Assembly in this historic town; and the representatives pray that the Divine benediction may rest upon the borough and its chief magistrate.

GIFTS TO THE CONNEXION.

1. It was reported that Mr. Colley, of Leamington, had presented property to the value of £500, and had settled it on the Reference Deed. A resolution of thanks to Mr. Colley for his generous gift was passed with great heartiness.

2. It was reported that Mr. Abel, of London, had presented £500 to the Trustees of the Preachers' House, London, Eighth Circuit, which is settled on the Reference Deed.

A resolution gratefully acknowledging the liberality of the donor was passed by the Assembly.

3. The Assembly was informed that Mr. Walton, of Sheffield, had given the sum of £600 to Mount Tabor Chapel.

He was cordially thanked for his handsome gift.

4. Mrs. Taylor, of Darlington, was cordially thanked for her gift of £100, and a conditional promise of another £100, to Paradise Chapel, Darlington.

5. It was reported that the late Mr. William Hunt, of Harrogate, had left the following legacies:

Otley Road Chapel	£200
Leeds, Lady Lane Chapel	200
Harrogate Chapel	200
Superannuation and Beneficent Fund	250
Mission Fund	200

6. The late Mr. Abraham Sharman has bequeathed £200 to the Theological Institute.

The legacies of Mr. Hunt and Mr. Sharman were suitably acknowledged by the Assembly.

BRITISH WOMEN'S TEMPERANCE ASSOCIATION.

Resolved,—That this Assembly tenders its best thanks to the Nottingham Branch of the British Women's Temperance Association for its message of welcome, and for its appreciative reference to the temperance work of the United Methodist Free Churches, and begs to assure the Association of its earnest sympathy, and prays that success may continue to attend its labours.

OPENING OF MUSEUMS ON SUNDAYS.

Resolved,—That this Assembly, believing that the opening of Museums, Picture Galleries, and the like, on Sunday would be prejudicial to the best interests of the nation, recommends the Churches throughout the Connexion to give early attention to the question, with the view of petitioning Parliament against the opening of these institutions on the Lord's Day.

CLOSING OF PUBLIC HOUSES ON SUNDAYS.

The President was requested to sign on behalf of the Assembly a petition in favour of closing Public Houses on the Lord's Day.

REGISTRATION OF MARRIAGES.

Resolved,—That this Annual Assembly approves of the principle set forth by the Northern Union Clerks' and Superintendent Registrars' Society, viz., that all Marriages should be registered by a civil officer.

EDITOR OF THE Pall Mall Gazette.

A resolution of thanks to the Editor of the Pall Mall Gazette was passed, for the courage and fulness with which he has brought to light the horrible sin of seduction, so common in London; also urging the Home Secretary to make a searching and independent inquiry into the conduct of the police, with special reference to their attitude to suspected houses. The President was requested to sign a memorial petitioning the House of Commons to pass the Criminal Laws Amendment Bill extending the age of protection to girls under eighteen years of age.

EX-PRESIDENT'S CHARGE.

The thanks of the Assembly were heartily accorded to the Ex-President, Rev. E. Askew, for his able address to the brethren received into Full Connexion, and he was respectfully requested to publish it in the Connexional Magazine.

THANKS TO THE SUB-SECRETARIES.

Resolved,—That the cordial thanks of this Assembly be given to the Revs. J. F. Barnard, H. T. Chapman, E. Tebb, Jabez King, and Mr. J. Humphrey for their cheerful and efficient services as Sub-Secretaries during the sittings of this Assembly.

THANKS TO THE ASSEMBLY COMMITTEES.

Resolved,—That hearty thanks be accorded to the various Assembly Committees for their valuable help in facilitating the despatch of its business.

THANKS FOR ACCOMMODATION OF THE ANNUAL ASSEMBLY.

Resolved,—This Annual Assembly, held in Nottingham, 1885, hereby records its sense of obligation to the friends in the two Nottingham Circuits, to the families resident in the neighbouring Circuits, and to the members of other Christian Communities, for the munificent hospitality which they have shown to its members.

This Annual Assembly will always remember the thoughtful kindness which has made its session in this historical town an occasion of pleasant social intercourse and delightful recreation.

This Annual Assembly desires also to express its thankfulness to God for the interest which has been taken in its religious services, and prays that all who have come within the sphere of its influence may experience such a deepening of their spiritual life as will make them in their day and generation more earnest witnesses for Christ.

BUSINESS REFERRED TO THE CONNEXIONAL COMMITTEE.

Resolved,—That the Connexional Committee be authorised to take such action as it may deem expedient in relation to all matters which this Assembly has referred to, or may refer to it, and on which it may not report to this Annual Assembly.

CONFIRMATION OF THE STATIONS.

The List of Stations was read the third time.

Resolved,—That the Stations of the ministers as now read be confirmed, and that it be referred to the Connexional Committee to make such arrangements as it may deem advisable in reference to the appointment, or otherwise, of the itinerant preachers whose names do not appear in the list of Stations.

MINUTES OF THE ANNUAL ASSEMBLY.

Resolved,—That the Minutes now read be confirmed, entered in the Journal, and signed by the President and Secretary, in the presence of two witnesses, as provided for in the Foundation Deed.

DISSOLUTION OF THE ANNUAL ASSEMBLY.

Resolved,—That the Annual Assembly be now dissolved.

ALFRED JONES, President.

THOMAS SHERWOOD, Connexional Secretary.

XXVII.—ADDRESS OF THE ANNUAL ASSEMBLY TO THE MEMBERS OF THE UNITED METHODIST
FREE CHURCHES AT HOME AND ABROAD.

DEAR BRETHREN,—It is with pleasure that we again address you on those Divine things which make both for Connexional peace and prosperity. We deeply sympathise with those of you who, from the pressure of the times, are involved in various troubles. The restraints which may thus have been placed on your accustomed enterprises are, we trust, but temporary. May your minds be sustained upon the immovable rock of the Divine promises.

Although, by the mercy of God, no minister in active Circuit work has during this year been removed by death, we regret the loss of five brethren who had long laboured in the word and doctrine, and whose piety and zeal had ever exerted a powerful influence on our Churches; viz., the Revs. W. R.

Brown, A. Gilbert, G. Smith, T. Newton, and R. Bell. Others have fallen from the ranks of our laymen, who had the best interests of our Connexion at heart; among whom we may mention Mr. Abraham Sharman, whose personal piety and unobtrusive generosity have for ever endeared him to our hearts. To one and all we pay our tribute of loving memory, while we pray that a double portion of their spirit may be upon us and ours. While the elder brethren and fathers are so rapidly passing to their eternal home, 'Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that He send forth labourers into His harvest.' As Free Churches we must not allow our ministry to drift behind the best thought and life of the age. Hence it behoves us to support as generously as we are able the Institute, which has been established for the training of the young men whom the Churches shall from time to time choose as their ministers. Never was the call more urgent for a fully cultured and thoroughly spiritualised manhood in ministers of religion.

You will be thankful to know that there is a net increase in our Church membership of 544 persons. It will be obvious to you that this does not represent the total number of persons brought into Church fellowship with us during the year. 1,257 have been removed by death; a large number has been lost by emigration, and by removals to localities where we have no Churches; while 3,550 have,—chiefly, we fear, through declensions in spiritual life, or disregard of the value of Church fellowship,—ceased to be enrolled with us. Thankful as we are for this growth, it is not so large as it might have been and calls for renewed consecration of ourselves to God.

The report before us on the state and prospects of our Foreign Missions affords us the highest satisfaction. In every place prospects of great usefulness present themselves, and in many there has been an addition of members. We have felt peculiar pleasure in having in our midst at this Assembly the Rev. R. Swallow, who for ten years has been one of your missionaries to China. We bespeak for him, and for all our missionaries, your earnest sympathy and liberal support. It has caused us much anxiety to note that our ordinary receipts for Mission purposes this year have not equalled the outlay by £1,000. Surely the general prosperity of your Missions will not fail to excite your gratitude to God and lead to renewed exertions for the support of a cause so sacred and animating.

Your Chapel Funds continue to render good service in the relief of distressed estates. We regret that the Relief Fund has not been able to allow the whole of the relief requested; still assistance has been given to an extent which will greatly relieve the Trustees and Churches. Permit us to say, that if the objects contemplated by this Fund are to be adequately met the Circuits must show themselves interested, not only in their own local affairs, but in the welfare of the Connexion at large. A Fund so important in its design, and so intimately connected with the spread of true religion in many populous neighbourhoods, deserves liberal support.

In the Address of the last Annual Assembly hope was expressed that the £30,000 proposed to be raised as a Commemorative Fund would be realised. It will afford you much gratification to know that the sum of £32,293 12s. 7d. has been promised. For this enlargement of your liberality we offer our thanks to God, who by inspiring your hearts with sympathy for the heathen world and zeal for the spread of the Gospel, has caused you to abound in this grace also.

The new scheme for Connexional Evangelism is working admirably. During the year the three evangelists have conducted missions in fifty-five Circuits. 1,500 avowed conversions are reported, while the spiritual life of many believers has been much quickened.

It was when your representatives last met in Conference at Nottingham that the scheme was launched for the formation of a Connexional school. Ashville College is now self-supporting, and has a staff of five masters, with seventy-three pupils. Some of these pupils are the sons of Episcopalians, thus showing that the merit of the establishment is being recognised and appreciated by persons outside our own Denomination.

And now, Brethren, we are about to make another year of Connexional history. What is it to be, a record of success, or of failure? As ministers and office-bearers of your Churches we have not failed to examine our own hearts, lest any decay in the fervour of our piety, lest any deficiency of zealous service should have obstructed the work of God. To similar 'searchings of heart' and to the most serious review of every past neglect and failure we affectionately call you. To learn from experience is the special power and the distinctive glory of man, and it is only as we use this power wisely that we can make true progress. Learning from our failures as well as from our successes, do we not see the need of being less 'fashioned according to this world,' more decided in our religious character, fruitful in good works, exemplary in our home-life and in our attendance on public worship? Some of you are preachers. 'Continue steadfastly in prayer and in the ministry of the Word.' Our strength in the pulpit is born in the prayer-room. It is therefore incumbent on us to pray and labour for forces wherewith to act upon men emotionally, intellectually, and morally. Others are class leaders. 'Like leader like people.' Your own state will reflect itself in the utterance and experience of your members. Hence it is imperative that you have deep piety, thorough devotion to your work, and a clear apprehension of the fundamental doctrines of Christianity, and its essential duties. Some of you are Sunday-school teachers. Remember that the end of your teaching is to awaken in the hearts of your scholars an earnest faith in Christ and a hearty loyalty to His authority. The young people of our congregations claim our special regard and call forth our earnest desires and prayers. We have at this Assembly held a Sunday-school Convention for the purpose of emphasising our conception of religious education. Never was the teacher's work weighted with more solemn responsibilities than it is to-day. We live at a time when the area of knowledge is widening with a greater speed than it has at any other period of the world's history, and this has brought with it the temptation to consider the wants of the intellect in preference to the needs of the soul. We hail with gladness this diffusion of knowledge, and we would urge you to cultivate the intellect to the utmost of your opportunity; but do not forget that the intellect is not the sole organ of spiritual vision. There are discoveries of truth to be made by the heart going out in loving ministry to the needy as well as by the armed troops of the reason. Religion is not a question to be relegated to the realm of ideas. It is not merely an opinion; it is a life, and it can be solved only by living. Then see to it that your scholars do not rest satisfied with hereditary attachments to the Word of God, or be content with a general respect for public worship instead of seeking a personal interest in the 'great salvation.'

It has been pointed out as a hopeful sign of the times that no modern set of thinkers, religious or secular, will have anything to do with any system that does not place real practical right-doing in the front of its theory. It looks as if it were steadily coming to this ; that the system which has the greatest power to develop the best human conduct will be accepted as the truest system. Henceforth the worth of our testimony as Churches will be determined by the energy and depth of our spiritual life. Let every Church be in reality a Divine brotherhood, in which every man shall feel grieved when trouble falls to any, and a common interest shall be experienced in each other's joy. Let the world see that our Churches are places where great reservoirs of power are held ready to be poured out whenever the true occasion comes to open the floodgates for God or man ; let it be known that there is such a deepening of spiritual life manifested in the devout utterances of all who pray and praise, that every man is lifted nearer heaven through the united worship than he could hope to be by solitary meditation and prayer, and people will come to us and co-operate with us in our endeavour to extend Christ's kingdom. We believe that our polity affords the noblest organ for the expression and development of the true idea of the Church. Then let us, by the cultivation of all the manly and gentle virtues of Christian character, endeavour to fulfil that bright ideal. Success is inevitable when the strength of a Church is in the unexceptionable goodness, tenderness, heroism, self-sacrifice, and Christ-likeness of its members. The one thing needful to spiritual life and growth and usefulness is spiritual culture. Spiritual affections will never be strong enough to overbear the barriers of sense, and enable us to see 'spiritual things' clearly—never be strong enough to guide life to its finest issues unless we use means to train and perfect them. We need not enumerate to you those means of grace which many of the noblest spirits have found so helpful to them. Whilst adopting such others as you may deem essential, do not neglect those which from the beginning have so largely contributed to the strength of our Churches. To be weak in prayer is to be weak everywhere. The help of the Holy Spirit is real, and His power becomes ours in proportion to the strength of our desire and the fidelity of our use. See to it, that you use the resources you have as good stewards of the manifold grace of God, and fail you cannot. There is something wondrously inspiring in the thought that the forces which won the marvellous victories of apostolic times are within our reach. We have the same Gospel, the same Holy Spirit, the same almighty God: all that any age or Church has possessed, to fit it for the task of witnessing for Christ we possess, or may possess. Brethren, if it is true that 'to restore a common-place truth to its first uncommon lustre, we need only translate it into action,' let us personally restore to their original position these truths, by translating them into action, and accessions will be made to our numbers. Begin at once. Guard against giving away the present for a future opportunity. Make no plans for the future which do not specify something to be done now, and inquire carefully whether what you are doing now is a fair proportion of what you expect to be done. Let us, one and all, address ourselves to the manifold needs of man with manifold methods—every one worked by the Spirit of Christ. And lest any man should become weary of well-doing, let him reflect, that in apparently labouring fruitlessly he may be gathering and acquiring for future success. 'We commend you to God, and to the word of His grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you the inheritance among all them that are sanctified.'

Signed on behalf of the Annual Assembly,

ALFRED JONES, President,
THOMAS SHERWOOD, Secretary.

N.B.—The Ministers are requested by the vote of the Annual Assembly to bring this Address before their Churches in their respective Circuits.
