"Changing Patterns" continue, and many of them will be brought to your attention during this-the Eighty-second Annual Meeting of the Episcopal Churchwomen. I wish to stress, not the fact of change but the direction of change and its meaning. For this it seemed that no better theme could be found than "Our Mutual Responsibilities as Members of Christ's Church". Notice that it is "as members of Christ's Church", not "as Episcopal Churchwomen". I need hardly remind you that we have no goal, no program but that of the whole Church; we exist as an organization only to serve the whole Church as it seeks to carry out its mission of bringing the Gospel of Jesus Christ to the whole world. Our theme suggests that we share responsibility for this mission not only with each other - as women - but with all Christians wherever they may be. We have distinguished speakers to bring us insights into our responsibilities in our own diocese and in the world. I shall leave these aspects to them and speak instead of what this theme may mean in the work of the Churchwomen as we review the past year and plan for the future.

Structure. As many of you know, this is an era when the organizational structure of the Church is under attack. The Episcopal Churchwomen have received their share of criticism. We are accused of having wheels within wheels, of being over-organized, divisive, too separate and unrelated to the real purpose of bringing the Good News of the Gospel to a world of turmoil and change. Some of this seems to me justified, but much of it seems to stem from a lack of understanding of what is actually going on in the Churchwomen today. If there is any trend in our organizational structure, it is in the direction of simplification, experimentation, diversity and closer integration with parish and diocesan structure. That the General Division of Women's Work recommends such a trend is made abundantly clear in the official pamphlet prepared for our guidance- Women in your Parish: A Handbook for Today. (Seabury Bookstore, 25¢) This pamphlet contains several sample patterns for a women's organization- one suggesting the grouping of our usual officers and activities into departments, another outlining a plan for a unified parish. Yet the booklet stresses that some parishes may find it best to continue as they have operating; others will want to work out their own blueprint. It adds: "God has many ways of using us, not all alike".

Your report blanks indicate that in this diocese there is a great deal of evaluation and experimentation with new ways going on at the branch level. One report blank said, "We need to combine Missions and Supply". My answer is: "Then do it". Already many branches have combined offices in a wide variety of combinations. Others are experimenting with the number and time of branch and chapter meetings. A few are evolving whole new concepts of organization-such as the Church Day at the Chapel of the Cross, Chapel Hill, and the newly formed parish councils at St. Timothy's, Winston-Salem. New ways need not mean that anything of value in our tradition is being lost, for these groups still maintain balanced programs of worship, study, service and giving, including increased concern for mission in diocese and world. It means rather that they are organizing the discharge of their responsibilities in a more effective and less time-consuming way and are working in closer cooperation with the parish as a whole.

Province. Dramatic proof that the Churchwomen of the Province of Sewanee are not wedded to any particular structure came last October in Asheville. As a result of the unanimous vote of the Synod-all men-we no longer exist as organized Churchwomen at the Provincial level. Yet the women delegates concurred in the dissolution of their separate Provincial Meeting and the abandonment of separate officers gladly, for from henceforth they will be full-fledged members of the Synod itself. As you will see when a new By-law is presented later today, instead of electing provincial delegates we will send ex officio seven of our principal officers. They will attend the Synod along with their counterparts in the diocese to participate in departmental meetings planned for leadership training, information from National offices, exchange of ideas and experiences. In other words, delegates are to be drawn from those who can contribute most to the business at hand and profit most when they return to their diocesan responsibilities without distinction by sex. Quite rightly, it is function and the opportunity to participate fully in the life of the Church that must concern us, not our own separate forms of organization.

In this diocese the recent Convention took what may be the first step toward welcoming women into fuller participation at the parish level. A resolution passed which called for submission to the next Convention of a newly worded canon permitting the election of women to vestries. It will require another vote next year, but the fact that the resolution passed makes it seem at least possible that we may soon join the fifty-two dioceses and missionary districts, including our neighbors to the east and to the west, which permit parishes to elect from among all adult communicants those whom they think best fitted to serve. Already I hear again the time-worn predictions that if women can be elected to vestries they will "take over" and that men will cease to serve. As Mr. Clifford Morehouse points out in the April issue of the Episcopalian, this has never happened in any of the dioceses which have permitted women on vestries and it is an unwarranted slander upon the loyalty of the men of the Church. It seems to me that it is also a slander upon the women of the Church, who certainly don't want to take over, but who might profit from the opening of better avenues of communication and cooperation between the men and women of the Church as we seek to share our mutual responsibilities as members of Christ's Church.

Convocations. Last year in my president's address I stressed that there was need to evaluate the purpose and structure of the convocations, or districts. In September a committee was appointed which conducted a survey and on the basis of the replies and their own careful evaluation formulated a report which will be presented to you for discussion later this afternoon. It is a tentative report, calling for a trial solution, for your Executive Board agrees that we must continue to plan, evaluate and experiment as we try to provide the best machinery for accomplishing our purposes with the least waste of time and effort.

Leadership training and communication. The convocation report will recommend leadership training institutes which were at least partly suggested by the success of the President's Institutes, begun last year. This year two more were held, one in the fall for Presidents of small parish or mission branches, another this spring for larger groups. The effectiveness of the institutes was largely the result of the opportunity for discussion and exchange of ideas. Again it is a mutual sharing that strengthens us all. From other chairmen you will hear reports of other kinds of opportunities-retreats, Vade Mecum-which try to provide the kind of nourishment, spiritual and intellectual, which will deepen Christian commitment and strengthen our witness. Your president, together with our Bishops and other delegates attended a conference in Atlanta for this region which attempted to go in depth into the problems and tensions of our changing culture as they affect the Church. Plans are afoot for a similar conference this fall for this diocese-clergy and lay leaders alike. I hope many of you will make a real effort to attend.

Last year we completed the transformation of our Annual Report into a Handbook of Information, containing mechanics, officers responsibilities, bibliographies and source materials. Many of you have reported that it has helped you tremendously. Let me stress that it will not be reprinted this year, for it was intended that it be passed from retiring to incoming officers. You will receive new sheets for insertion containing revisions and additions, together with a new directory and the transactions of this Annual Meeting. If you would like more copies of the original Handbook, please buy them at the book table while you are here.

Finances. Budget. Three years ago we began a study of our diocesan finances, especially our budget and "specials". At that time in addition to the budget we had five separate funds which seemed to be out of balance-too large or too small. In the spring of 1962 we incorporated items in the previous budget and these five funds into one unified budget, the sum total of which was larger than any previous one plus the funds by $1,000. We were trying to do two things:-first, increase the total amount, which had remained static for some years; and second, to apportion the total in a better way. This was the 1963 budget and I am just now able to report to you that it was indeed a success. There was remarkably little confusion, and enough of you increased your pledges so that payments totalled $23,006 toward a budget of $23,075. The new budget was not perfect, for we need to make some adjustments. You will hear more of this tomorrow morning. Still we have much progress and I hope that we can move ahead to an even better apportionment and a higher level of giving.

One recommendation I should like to leave with you for future consideration - shortening the time elapsed between drawing up a budget and its operation. As was customary, last year we drew up a budget in February, 1963, from lists of missionary needs submitted by Bishops in the fall of 1962. Many of them will not be paid until the fall of 1964, when funds are available, nearly two years after they were submitted. In this time of rapid change we find that many needs will have been met before our funds reach their destination; projects will have changed, new needs arisen, perhaps in a different location. We might follow the lead of the diocese of North Carolina and many diocesan Churchwomen in drawing up a budget, passing it and putting it in operation the same year.

Specials. The budget is actually less than a third of your total missionary giving outside your parishes, a total which last year came to $78,941.41. The largest single category is "specials"-the money sent through the Diocesan Treasurer to projects you specify. Here we have tried not only to raise the total but to reverse a growing tendency for branches to vote very small gifts to a great number of places, with the result that few received enough to make any appreciable difference. In this area success has been even more striking. Before 1961 only three times in the preceding ten years had the Churchwomen given as much as $1,000 to one mission project through "specials" and only once (1956) as much as an even $2,000. In 1961 the Henry St. George Tucker Fund went over the $2,000 mark ($2,691). In 1962 after we began stressing the idea of fewer but larger gifts to specially designated projects, three in one year went over $1,000:-the Tucker Fund again, Bishop Saucedo in Mexico and Bishop Gooden in our Companion Diocese. The total of specials increased by about $2,000 that year. This past year, 1963, saw a greater change. The total of specials to all areas jumped from $22,528.18 to $26,713.92, or double the increase of the preceding year. Of that amount 30% or $8,037 went to one project-the Student Center at the University of Panama. Obviously many of you are convinced of the wisdom of putting your dollars into large funds for a few specially selected projects.

You may be thinking that we have increased the amount for one project-the Student Center-simply by diverting money from other worthy projects. On the contrary total giving in every area is up this past year. Our United Thank Offering Treasurer and our Church Periodical Club Director will report separately on increases in their funds. As for specials, the Presiding Bishop's Fund for World Relief from the Churchwomen more than doubled over the preceding year, to a total of $2,432.41. To Sister Anne Marie for her work in Haiti we sent $1,277.80 as opposed to $807.91 the previous year. Our Epiphany Offering for the work of Jocelyn Gordon in India nearly doubled (from $887.27 to $1,628.87) and each of our diocesan-related missionaries received a larger Christmas check. The lesson is clear:-personal visits from missionaries and specific projects endorsed by the Diocesan Board have increased the missionary giving of the branches significantly, not only to the Companion Diocese but in all areas.

Since we feel that this policy has shown such good results, we would like to urge your continued cooperation. Beginning in 1962 and throughout '63 we directed your concern to several "challenge projects". Inside the diocese the challenge project was the Vade Mecum Building Fund. We aimed at building one of the new all-weather cabins and put an item in both the '63 and '64 budgets of $3,000 for that purpose. In addition you gave last year in specials for the Vade Mecum Fund $1,554.33. You have now built one cabin and a part of the second, which is also complete. The cabins stand as tangible evidence of your response to the challenge. The needs at Vade Mecum continue, though they change. Later today you will hear of new needs, connected with a new campsite and renovation of old cabins. Again this is our challenge project inside the diocese and we hope your concern and generosity will continue at last year's level.

Outside the diocese the challenge project was the Student Center at the University of Panama, a larger undertaking. It is not, however, purely a Churchwomen's project, for our whole diocese is involved in the companion relationship. It was as representatives of the diocese that Mrs. Hugh Thompson of St. Titus, Durham, and I visited the Missionary District of Panama on a speaking tour last May. We saw the University and the land for the Center. As we talked with many persons, clergy and laymen, students and deans, we were more convinced than ever of the tremendous importance of this project and of the need for Christian work in this secular and politically-minded University. It is estimated that the building will cost slightly over $30,000. With the land already paid for, by January 1, 1964, we had almost $18,000 in the building fund, $13,297.56 of which came from the Churchwomen through budget or specials. $2,597.48 has since been added and we have another $2,000 in the 1964 budget. You will see that we still have about $7,000.00 to go. This is another mutual responsibility and some parish vestries are helping. Still we would like to urge you to continue this Challenge project in 1964 and see it through to completion before General Convention.

I wish that I could report to you in detail on our trip, but time will not permit this morning. Let me just say that we were impressed with the devotion, the ingenuity and the accomplishments of lay and clerical leaders alike as they strive to bridge four cultures, two languages and both economic and national rivalries into a true oneness in the Body of Christ. Tensions there have been for many years in this most troubled area, but we have been assured that the political situation, which is now improving, will not prevent the completion of our project. In fact, it only points up the urgency of a full-time Christian ministry with adequate facilities to students and faculty in this very influential university. The mission of the Church in Panama is ours through our oneness in Christ as much as is the mission of the Church in North Carolina. We challenge you to accept our mutual responsibility there.

Membership. We do not strive particularly for numbers, and yet our membership statistics are disquieting. Two years ago I pointed out that while our membership grew from about 4,800 to about 6,000 in the ten year period from 1949 to 1959 (an increase of 25%), after 1959 it levelled off at about 6,000 and has shown no appreciable gain. This remains true today. The treasurer's records show that you reported 6,032 active members last year, slightly under the previous high of 6,185. I know that methods of counting members vary from year to year and that figures are not always a true indication of the strength of the Churchwomen. Nevertheless they should give us pause for reflection, for the communicant strength of the diocese continues to increase. Your report blanks show that frequently less than half of the women communicants of a parish are active in any way in the Churchwomen's organization. On the other hand many a small mission reports almost 100% participation, including participation in the United Thank Offering.

Related to the membership figures are the continuing complaints of poor attendance, lack of interest, difficulty in getting women to accept positions of responsibility. I know of no easy answer; yet we must attempt to find an answer or go into a period of decline. I can only repeat to you some of the suggestions that I made two years ago. Women lead very busy lives. Whether they work or not, whether they have children or not there are many competing interests and demands made upon their time. A few will come from habit or duty, but many will not. They will come if the Churchwomen's organization fills a real need in their lives. Needs vary, of course, and I began by suggesting that for this reason our structure, our time of meetings, our program of study and service should vary to some degree. Yet there are perhaps fundamental needs of us all.

It seems to me that we need, everyone of us, to grow in grace, in devotion and in understanding of our Christian faith and its implications and we need to serve, to contribute something worthwhile, to find meaning and relevance for our lives. But we also need to remember that the Church is not ours, that it belongs to Our Lord Jesus Christ. We need to be challenged with a faith that is demanding, that requires discipline and devotion and commitment. We need a program that stimulates and generates some enthusiasm. What goes on in the branch meeting should be at least as relevant and as meaningful as what goes on in secular women's clubs. Not that we should try to duplicate what other organizations are doing, or borrow their programs. Rather we should see ourselves as a training camp for Christian soldiers who go out to win victories for their Lord in their homes, their jobs, their communities.

This is what we mean by the ministry of the laity. Three years ago the theme for the Triennium - "As the Father hath sent me, even so send I you" - was hammered home to us from many angles. That each one of us is sent, that we each have a Christian vocation and witness to make in our homes, our jobs, our communities-this we have been trying to communicate through speeches, pamphlets, workshops and institutes. Let me quote from Bishop Albert Stuart's address last fall in Asheville:

"The laity are gifted with skills, energies, insights which God intends released. You are not called to do something for the Church. You are called to offer those skills and talents as the Church. It is not a call to dust hymnbooks but to praise and magnify the Lord in your community. It is not a call to good intentions and feeling. It is a call to study the Faith and speak it boldly. It is not a call to patronage but to commitment of time and money".

This does not mean, it seems to me, that we must abandon the traditional work which we have been doing and must do-the housekeeping and maintenance work in our parishes, the sewing and packing of boxes and other "women's work". It does mean, perhaps, that this is not enough. We must do our maintenance work with cheerfulness, efficiency and dispatch and at the same time accept our true vocation of manifesting the Lordship of Christ in a world of turmoil and change.

In order to do this we need only use more effectively the tools we already possess. We need to strengthen our devotional life through Bible study, private prayer and corporate worship. Yet we must beware of the kind of personal piety which is a matter of one's own salvation exclusively and is not concerned with the world which God made and loves and redeems. Worship which does not result in some kind of action is not true worship of a just and loving God. Next we need to be informed. In today's complicated, inter-related, fast changing world, good intentions are not enough. We need to work, and work at a project big enough and relevant enough so that it will really make some difference in our community or in the world. We need to rely more on our clergy to help advise and train us for our ministry to the world. Most of all we need a strong bond of Christian love and a deep sense of joy, and the confidence that comes from knowing that the victory is already won. When all of these factors are present our organization then plays its true role, as the channel through which we are helped to find the devotion, the knowledge and the sensitivity to make an effective Christian witness. The light of our witness should be a beacon in every community.

Let me not leave you thinking that this is not happening. On the contrary as I go about the diocese I have been impressed with the devotion and commitment in many branches. I am only saying that we seem to live in an Alice-in-wonderland kind of world in which one must run very fast in order to stay in the same place. The times require greater sacrifice, deeper commitment, a fuller acceptance of our mutual responsibilities.

Finally, let me express to each one of you, and especially to the Executive Board and to both our Bishops my deepest gratitude for your help, advice, support and friendship through the past three years. It has been a privilege to serve as your President and I leave the post grateful for the experience, humbled by your accomplishments, confident of the future and certain of your devotion to our Lord Jesus Christ.

Eleanor S. Godfrey, President.

The President introduced the Right Reverend Thomas A. Fraser, Jr., Bishop Coadjutor of the Diocese of North Carolina, who spoke on our "Mutual Responsibility in The Body of Christ - The Anglican Congress". Bishop Fraser expressed admiration to Mrs. Godfrey for her three year tenure as President of the Churchwomen. He spoke of the need to extend our three year relationship with the Missionary District of Panama, which we can expect to continue, with the approval of the 1964 General Convention. Referring to the current political situation in Panama, Bishop Fraser emphasized the significance of the Student Center for the young people of Panama, and he spoke of Bishop Gooden's constantly saying how important our work in Panama is to him. It is hoped that the Student Center will be built by January 1965. The Chaplain for the Center is already chosen. Bishop Fraser expressed his hope for the day when there will be no separate annual meetings for men and women and when the Churchwomen will come to the vestries of the Church. He recommended a document from the Anglican Congress, "Mutual Responsibility and Interdependence in the Body of Christ", edited by Bishop Bayne, price .60¢. In conclusion, Bishop Fraser said: "By taking this document seriously we may find ourselves walking with our Lord".

Mrs. E. E. Carter, Secretary of Christian Ministries and College Work, introduced the Reverend Robert Mill, Episcopal Chaplain at Duke University. Mr. Mill spoke of the need for the Christian Ministry in our schools and universities.

Following the singing of Hymn 563, Mrs. Godfrey introduced Mrs. Seaton G. Bailey, Member-at-large on the General Division of Women's Work of the National Council. The Treasurer, Mrs. Herman, made the following recommendation to the Annual Meeting: "Your Executive Board recommends that the offering at the evening service be given to the Initiative Fund of the Overseas Mission Society". Mrs. Herman moved the adoption of this recommendation. It was seconded and carried.

Mrs. I. H. Manning, Chairman of the committee appointed by the President in the fall of 1963 to study the Structure and Function of the Convocations, presented the recommendations of that Committee. She presented the plan to initiate, beginning in 1965, a two-year trial of having diocesan-sponsored Workshops to be held in geographic areas of the diocese in the Spring of each year to enable the newly elected Branch officers to attend. She explained that the area workshops would preclude the necessity of having workshops at the Convocations Meetings. Mrs. Manning further explained that the proposed revision of the Constitution, which would later be presented to this Annual Meeting for adoption, sets forth in Article X specific rules for the Convocations. Mrs. Gordon Woody of St. Philip's, Durham, moved that the report of the Committee on Convocations be accepted by the Annual Meeting. The motion carried.

The President introduced Mrs. M. E. Motsinger, Jr., Representative on the Executive Council of the Diocese, who spoke of the work of the Executive Council and its awareness of the whole program of the Church.

The Secretary read By-Laws two, three and five pertaining to Voting.

Mrs. Eric Flanagan, Jr., Chairman of the Nominating Committee, read the following report:

The Chairman of the Nominating Committee made the motion that the report of the Nominating Committee be adopted as read. The motion was seconded. The President called for nominations from the floor. There being no further nominations, it was moved and seconded that the Secretary be instructed to cast a unanimous ballot for the nominee of each office. The motion was passed, the Secretary cast the ballot, and the President declared the nominees unanimously elected.

Mrs. Flanagan read the nominations for Representative on the Executive Council. The delegates were asked to vote for one of the following:

Mrs. W. D. Holloman, Trinity Church, Scotland Neck

Evening Prayer was held at St. Andrew's Church at 8:00 P.M. The Reverend A. Theodore Eastman, Executive Director of the Overseas Mission Society, preached the evening sermon. As the Executive of this Society, Mr. Eastman has traveled extensively in Latin America, Western Europe and the Far East. He spoke of the urgency for a new awareness of the Christian Mission to the young nations "crowding to be born" all over the world today.

On April 8th the celebrants at the 7:30 A.M. service of the Holy Communion were The Right Reverends Richard H. Baker and Thomas A. Fraser, Jr. and The Reverends Carl F. Herman and Peter C. Robinson. The United Thank Offering was presented, and prayers were offered for those members of the Episcopal Churchwomen who had died since the last Annual Meeting. Following the service, breakfast was served in the Parish House.

The Annual Meeting reconvened at 9:30 A.M. with the singing of Hymn 577. The Reverend R. Taylor Scott, Rector of All Saints' Church, Sedgefield, opened the meeting with prayers.

Mrs. Godfrey requested The Reverend Mister Eastman to announce the titles of the two books which he recommended in his evening sermon. They are "Sandals at the Mosque" and "The Call of the Minaret", both written by Kenneth Cragge. Mr. Eastman also recommended the reading of the findings of the Anglican Congress.

The President recognized and extended a welcome to Mrs. Edwin A. Penick, wife of our late Bishop, and to Mrs. Leslie B. Evans, a Past President of the Churchwomen of the Diocese.

The new Constitution and By-Laws were unanimously adopted. Mrs. Jackson expressed her hope that By-Law 8, pertaining to minority delegates to the Triennial Meeting, would be revised in the near future by deleting the designation of "minority delegates". Mrs. Seaton G. Bailey spoke to the question of the "minority delegates". She told of a bi-racial committee of Episcopal Churchwomen who would present a Resolution to the 1964 Triennial Meeting asking for the deletion of the word, "minority"; and she recommended that the Annual Meeting await the outcome of this Resolution before eliminating the mention of "minority delegates" in our Diocesan Constitution.

Episcopal Churchwomen,
Diocese of North Carolina

I have examined the Statement of Fund Balances of the Episcopal Churchwomen, Diocese of North Carolina, at December 31, 1963, and the related Statement of Changes in Fund Balances for the year then ended. My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records of the organization and other procedures as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

I did not examine the statements for the preceding year. Such statements were examined by other certified public accountants whose report has been furnished to me. My opinion expressed herein, insofar as it relates to balances carried over from the preceding year, is based solely upon such report.

In my opinion, the accompanying Statement of Fund Balances of the Episcopal Churchwomen, Diocese of North Carolina, at December 31, 1963 and the related Statement of Changes in Fund Balances for the year then ended present fairly the recorded cash transactions for the year ended December 31, 1963, and the resulting fund balances at that date. The books have been kept on a basis of cash receipts and disbursements, such basis being usual for this type of organization.

Our two "Challenge projects" are considered by your Diocesan Executive Board to be the most urgent-for both involve projects which we would like to see completed in 1964. The others are all worthy and we recommend them to you. There are numerous others and your Diocesan Treasurer will be happy to assist you. She has a booklet from the Overseas Department and the Home Department of the National Council for "Special Projects for Second Mile Giving" which may be borrowed on request.

PLEASE SEND ALL MONEY THROUGH THE DIOCESAN TREASURER AND DESIGNATE WHERE IT IS TO GO AND FOR WHAT PURPOSE.

DEVOTIONAL LIFE

"In your hands lies a solution to all the problems in the world today. What are you going to do about it?" This is a statement addressed to a group of seminary students by Bishop Nobel C. Powell of the diocese of Maryland, but a statement that is just as relevant to Episcopal Churchwomen as to theological students.

Few of us, here present, will be called upon to make any great contribution to the world. However, each of us has been placed in an area of influence to our families, friends, and neighbors where only we can act. Our job is to practice the love of God in the "petty round of irritating activities".

In a recent copy of a daily newspaper I was confronted with a full page advertisement depicting the contemporary, American family surrounded by all sorts of things such as fur coats, golf clubs, tennis rackets, fishing equipment, etc., with a caption (to the effect) that all this could be yours by doing business with a full-service bank. This is but one example of secular thinking that bombards us through the media of present day advertising.

In the advertising world we are given a picture of a life that progresses through the acquisition of comforts and things; a house, TV, car and boat. We peacefully mature from youth to early middle age. No man ever passes age 45 and no woman beyond 39. We are given a picture of a life full of ease and color. There is always plenty to eat and drink. The furniture never gets old and drab. The wallpaper never peels off the wall. The sun shines. The gardens weed themselves and there is no pain that cannot be magically whisked away by the right pill.

We all smile and say this is a ridiculous view of life and yet I wonder how much of this view of life lurks in our subconscious mind and influences our decisions. Statistics on the sale of cosmetics, alcohol and tranquilizers attest to how man is seeking to handle life. Statistics on crime, physical and mental illness attest to the inability of man to find the right solution.

There is not a concerned person among us who is not aware of the pressures of 20th century life on us as individuals and as the church. We are faced with tremendous moral, social and political issues. We are living in an exciting era of "social revolution". We Christians are urgently needed to hold our ground against secular thinking. We must see this world as a world "fashioned by God, sustained by God, worried over by God, died for by God".

It is our responsibility to see that the Church is listened to. We cannot afford to remain silent at those points in our culture where the thinking of our age is shaped, where decisions are made and actions are planned, or where the minds of future generations are moulded.

We are too easily influenced by the whims of the biggest crowd making the loudest noise. Too often we approach the church as we would a club, with the idea that we can accept or reject it. Too often we present the Christian faith as a nice comforting story that we make up as we go along, accommodating it to earthly demands. We must affirm the Church as fact. The Church was not manufactured to a human plan. God made it, not man. The church, like the sun, is not a human project, but a divine creation.

We are all, at one time or another, people in trouble. The kind of troubles people have just by being human-hurt feelings, defeated ambitions, grief and loneliness. We are in the midst of a world where everyone is feverishly rushing to go nowhere; where we try to see as little as possible of the present; where we dread the future and have no time for the past. The Christian faith is the only force in our society with the power to heal this fragmentation of human life and bring about unity and reconciliation.

No Christian will pretend that Christianity is easy. It isn't. Sometimes it is difficult, awkward, unattractive, but its true, and it commands our whole-hearted allegiance.

You may all be thinking, what in the world do these remarks have to do with devotional life. My definition of a devotional life is a life lead in constant response to God's love-an open life through which God can work. We cannot separate one part from another. The work of the church is not what goes on within the four walls of this building and many like it in our home parishes. The work of the church goes on wherever two people meet in relationship. This may take place at the family breakfast table; with our neighbor over the back fence; it may take place across the bridge table, at the grocery store, or in serving on a thousand and one committees. We as Episcopal Churchwomen, as Christians, must carry out from the church the message of the gospel into the midst of everyday life.

If we would attempt to measure up to the great task ahead, if we would live at our best every minute of every day we must constantly seek God's guidance. Each of us must find some quiet times in our lives. The two Retreats for Episcopal Churchwomen held this year have been enthusiastically received and we are planning two for next year, one in November and one in March. To those who find it impossible to get to the Terraces for two nights, we are again planning the District Quiet Day, scheduled for September 23rd. Prayer and worship must be a vital part of our chapter, prayer and study groups. We must encourage the practice of prayer in our homes, for it is the highest virtue and the source of grace we all need to discharge our duties and solve our problems. We must live lives directed by God, patterned by Christ, empowered through prayer, study and the liturgical services of the church. It is only when we offer our total lives to God that we can become the kind of persons through whom He can reach others. It is not by what we say, or by what we do, but by what we are that we can truly witness to Christ and draw others into the life of the Church.

In closing let me leave with you these words of T. S. Eliot...

"You have seen the house built, you have seen it adorned
By one who came in the night, it is now dedicated to God.
It is now a visible church, one more light set on a hill
In a world confused and dark and disturbed by portents of fear.
And what shall we say of the future? Is one church all we can build?
Or shall the Visible Church go on to conquer the World?"

CHRISTIAN EDUCATION

The Theme, "Our Mutual Responsibility as Members of Christ's Church" has tremendous implication in the field of Christian Education.

If we do not assume responsibility in presenting new material in our program planning, little opportunity would be given to our women to learn in the new areas developed by our Church. This is not a single responsibility for the program chairman, but one that she and other interested people plan and present to better acquaint us with the Work of the Church in the World.

The Report Blanks indicate that many branches have used "The Church in the Sixties," "Anglican Mosaic", the Anglican Congress and other related subjects that will certainly communicate new thinking towards their Mutual Responsibility.

An article "Sincerity is not Enough," in the International Journal of Religious Education, emphasis the need of proper communication. "Christians should know better than anybody else that to love people and like people is the real secret of communicating." We do this when we become sincere about education, about program and presentation. Communication is a task which requires all the brains and prayers we can put together. It is a task in which the Holy Spirit takes a key role, going far beyond our most devoted efforts. Thus it becomes our responsibility to realize that just to be sincere and concerned is not enough—we must communicate to the women, materials that they are interested in and present it in an exciting manner.

In the coming year, we are going to hear more about the Changing Culture that is affecting our Churches in the city and suburb. We may think that this is only a problem for the large industrial areas, but not so—Just recently the sudden freeze that has ruined the peach crop, will send hundreds of workers into the city searching for work and becoming part of the city. Is your Church ready to meet this need? Have you spent any time in your program planning to become acquainted with this subject? The Diocese is going to promote this study and I hope you will be aware and use this material when available.

May I get a little personal now, and sing my swan song. The last three and a half years on your Executive Board has been "the love of my life." The General Convention, the contact with the members of the Executive Board, the visits to the Branches, the help that Charles Greene and the Christian Education Committee of the Diocese has offered, and the direction of the Bishops, has truly enriched my life. My constant prayer has been that God has used me to transmit some of this knowledge and enthusiasm that I have gained, to you, thus making Christian Education a real challenge. Thank you for this privilege.

CHRISTIAN SOCIAL RELATIONS

To attempt to make a report on the "state" or even the activities of such an all-encompassing field as Christian Social Relations is really impossible. At best we can catch only glimpses of certain aspects of it. For, in a sense, our whole life consists of Christian-or Unchristian-social relationships, with the possible exception of worship, and even here the incarnation (embodiment) of worship is our relationship to our fellow man.

Do you hear the words of our Lord in the Communion Service, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God---and the second is like unto it, thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself," not also, but like - part and parcel of the same thing. (Maybe even identical twins.) Consider this and the "in-as-much" passage from Matthew, which uses not for but unto - ye visited, ye clothed, ye fed me. What follows inevitably then is the quotation Bishop Moore used at the last triennial meeting: "You love Christ as much as the person you love the least." That shakes one up a bit, doesn't it?

As I studied the C.S.R. reports from the various branches, there appeared before me a great panorama of Episcopal Church Women giving to and serving as volunteers in sanitariums; homes for the aging, migrant work, hospitals, shutins, the mentally ill and mentally retarded, newcomers, distressed families, the Presiding Bishop's Fund for World Relief - the list could go on into nearly every area of special need. One group had even started a day care center in a depressed area under its own auspices. Some reports had no activity checked and I knew these women had ministered in countless deeds of kindness, but would never have thought of giving them the high sounding title of "Christian Social Relations."

Then there came the picture of groups studying, trying to become better informed about the U.N., legislation, juvenile delinquency, alcoholism, race relations, urban society (very few), and a variety of other social problems and organizations.

This is good, in fact, it's just wonderful! It would be nice to end now, sharing with you this warm glow and this almost visible halo, but some questions keep nagging at the corners of my mental picture which refuse to go away.

First, "What do we more than these?" Do not even sinners love those who love them---the deserving and appreciative? (Oh, that we, who are so terribly dependent on God's grace, should be so anxious that the crumbs of our love fall not on the undeserving.) But, the gospel says the mark of a Christian is that he loves the enemy-(those who threaten us in some way), those who are irritating, don't appreciate us, hold opposite viewpoints, do not behave the way we think they should, offend our social standards, who in their striving for justice and human dignity make us uncomfortable or involve us in unpleasant situations. You add your own. Does our love for our enemies distinguish us as Christians?

Another question - is it possible that many of our good deeds, valuable as they are, are not in spirit, "loving our neighbor"? For love is first of all relationship! A book review in Time refers to "a terrible female who had graduated from loving to doing good!" We have our ways in this highly stylized culture of being impeccably charming and gracious (?) while being so completely unrelated to the person they might as well be in solitary confinement. ~~Ummmmmmmm~~ - no comment.

Then the question of why we are engaged in so little concerted social action? - too comfortable, unconcerned, influenced by "Cafeteria Style Bible Readers" (just pick out what suits you) who claim the church has nothing to say about the conditions under which men live - why? It would seem that the Samaritan who binds up the wounds of the traveler but makes no effort to make the road safe from robbers is exercising an important but quite limited love for his neighbor. Too, we need to be aware of two insidious substitutions for Christian Action. One, that because we have felt something (you know, big emotional binge) we have done something and, secondly, because we know something (intellectual ginge) about a problem, we have done something about it. (One suggested remedy - it is so difficult to warm up to a statistic or be moved to great compassion for a category that we are more likely to act in love if we translate these into persons.)

It is impossible here to go into specific areas, calling us to Christian Action, but in one area - race relations - the time when it may be possible for the imprint of Christian love to be woven into this struggle for justice and human dignity is so fast running out that I feel compelled to speak of it. It is really quite wonderful to be living in an age when there is such hope for human dignity and freedom for all men; and quite frightening that in the impatience of the upthrust of the deprived and depressed and the natural resistance (of the comfortable) to changing old, satisfying patterns, there may be a terribly destructive spillover of misunderstanding and resentment which will destroy the true need of men for freedom in relationship. A couple of thoughts on how each of us right where we are might bring the gospel of love and reconciliation into this situation:

A climate of opinion in any community is often the result of the casual comments over the bridge table, the family table, or the golf club. In this, let us engage prayerfully and from a reservoir of careful thoughtfulness and informed minds. Secondly, let us seek always to act in Christian love rather than simply to react in the natural, animal way to situations and people.*

*(Thank you, Sidney Harris.)

"And, above all, love one another for love is the golden chain of all the virtues." (Colossians)

COLLEGE WORK AND CHRISTIAN MINISTRIES

Christian Ministries (formerly "Personnel") includes the ministry of all persons - lay, ordained and special - the TOTAL ministry of all Christians. Each of us is called to a special function in the church based on the Gifts God has given us. The word "Gifts" includes aptitudes and a great deal more - everything we are and have - our experiences, education, standards, skills and our faith. These gifts make it clear as to what God is calling us to do. Our special concern shall continue to be the recruiting of women for full-time church work, the training and placement of same. However, in long range planning, the emphasis is to include both men and women in a unified parish.

One of our tasks is to educate all people about the need for trained professionals and volunteer workers and the opportunities available. There are never enough trained workers to fill all the needs at home or overseas. The opportunities for service are many. In addition to the Ordained Ministry (which includes college and medical chaplains, and parish priests), the church offers: The Church Army, Order of Deaconess, Religious Orders (for men and women), Missionaries (Home field and overseas), College Workers, Directors of Religious Education and a world of Social Services.

It is urgent and necessary we work closely with our E.Y.C. groups-assisting them with programs (not just serving them suppers on Sunday night-give them the opportunity to explore a Church Vocation-help them to become prepared to face and make decisions-assist with scholarships and encourage attendance at Summer Camps and Summer Service Projects.

In particular, I urge you to encourage your high school graduates to attend the college conference for rising freshmen the last week in August at Vade Mecum. This is a new important Conference and much needed in our Diocese. Congratulations are due the planners. It is part of our job to see that our YOUTH know about it and have the opportunity to attend. Offer scholarships and create interest. The participants will find it most rewarding. We must constantly guide and lead our youth-help them find a purpose to life-to make life meaningful.

College Work should be the responsibility of all Christian people-all men and women. Much has been done on an individual basis-and this is good, but it is most necessary each and every branch becomes aware of College Work-its concerns-needs-hopes. There is no specific definition of College Work-except possibly, "to help the students, faculty and others continue to be the church where they are."

Many college students are mixed up before they arrive on campus-perhaps they reflect our national lack of purpose. One chaplain writes, "On Campus it becomes very clear very soon that the churches have pretty well failed either in giving adequate Christian education or in bringing the students any understanding of the relevancy of worship-this task then falls to us. Because the students are weary or suspicious of the Church and what it represents, the chaplain and the militant Church (those who have remained faithful) have a staggering missionary task. Such a ministry needs new forms lest it be dismissed too soon as more of the same old stuff. Organizations and programs that resemble Sunday School and the E.Y.C. don't elicit much interest."

It is numerically impossible for a chaplain to contact each and every student for whom the church has responsibility. Our chaplains do a terrific job but they need our continued support and prayers. They still say one of the best things we can do is to send them Cards of Commendation-early. Do be sure to use them-order from National "free."

It is wonderful to learn that more branches than ever used the CARDS OF COMMENDATION this year-more people have become involved with students, faculty members and chaplains. Branches are assisting chaplains by contributing to their discretionary funds, supplying altar hangings and linens, large hymn books, vestments, transportation, meals and entertainment for students and faculty, and many other needs. Each Campus Community is different-Duke, University of North Carolina and Woman's College at Greensboro have a Student Center, a specific place to call their own. Others have to meet in private homes or inter-denominational places provided by the school. One branch reports the women helped furnish and equip a campus center consisting of a chapel, lounge, and chaplains office for Episcopal students, faculty and their friends at Elon College. Another branch reports assisting with forming a new Canterbury Club, still another tells of visiting faculty members, another parish holds a "Brunch" every month for students. This personal contact is most effective. Our full-time chaplains, The Rev. Messr. Cato, Viverette and Mill, advise they will be happy to talk to your women about College Work if you ask them.

Thirty-three Colleges and Universities in our Diocese are ministered to by four full-time chaplains, one full-time woman worker and nineteen part-time chaplains. More chaplains are needed to minister to the ever increasing Campus communities of undergraduate, graduate, married, foreign and medical students, faculty and administrators. Community Colleges are becoming a reality-more and more students are becoming "Commuters" - this and many other areas of concern have not been touched by the Church. The time is now for Christians to become involved in this great Mission. Every individual, every parish, every priest, must realize the importance of the church in the academic world. We must also realize our Chaplains cannot function alone-they need the prayers, interest, support, and cooperation of each and every Christian. I pray our people-lay and ordained-continue to show their love, interest and concern for our Youth by supporting the proposed program of the Diocesan Department of College Work.

UNITED THANK OFFERING

At the Triennial Meeting in October, the United Thank Offering Ingathering will mark the 75th anniversary of this service by the women of our Church. Episcopal Churchwomen of our Diocese can be very proud of the part they have had in this offering. I will not have a final figure until summer, but to date and not including the Spring Ingathering, we have an increase of over $3,000 in the amount from this Diocese for this triennium.

For 1963, our total offering was $25,926.85. This is an increase of $650 over the 1962 offering. The Fall Ingathering reached an all-time high of $13,434.73. This was a wonderful response from all but eight Branches, and I am grateful to each Branch and District Custodian for her excellent work. The Spring Ingathering will be the last included for this presentation in October, but these figures are not in yet.

I have sent letters to each Branch and District Custodian, and whatever new material was available, before each Ingathering. The Diocesan Alms Basin is available for use by any Branch, if they will contact me in advance.

I have just received notice of a new set of United Thank Offering slides made of Miss Elizabeth Beath's trip to Puerto Rico and other points, which I'm sure will be wonderful program material. I will have a set of these slides and commentary, which Branches may use by writing to me and reserving them.

We still must be concerned with reaching more individual Churchwomen and should continue to help them feel the real joy and satisfaction of this Thank Offering of praise and thanksgiving by "sharing and giving" through our Blue Boxes.

MISSION REPORT

The work of the Department of Missions has been stimulated this past year and our missionary spirit awakened by 1)- the formation of the Diocesan Department of Overseas Missions, headed by the Reverend Thomas Smyth, and 2)- the re-examination of the meaning of the Church's mission, as the outcome of the Anglican Congress last August when they issued the historic document "Mutual Responsibility and Interdependence in the Body of Christ". The basic concept of this declaration is that each member church share it's human and material resources, and work for the good of the whole world.

We have been working in this Diocese to personalize missionaries, particularly those affiliated with our own Diocese. On the whole the answers on the report forms that are just coming in, are very encouraging. There seems to have been missionary interest created during the program discussions. The Christmas money gift was generous, and was gratefully received by our missionaries, who have asked to have their thanks relayed to all the Churchwomen of the Diocese. Jocelyn Gordon also wishes to thank everyone for the wonderful Epiphany offering that was sent to her, and for the sweaters and other articles sent for her to distribute to the women in the district where she works. Many stamp books were collected for Rachel Wolff and more will be accepted and acceptable at any time. St. Andrew's School in Tennessee would also like to have stamp books sent to them, and could be sent through Mrs. Harvey Simmonds. Books and money for the Seminary Library were sent to the Very Rev. Hall Partrick, Dean of the Seminary at the University on Mexico. Other money gifts to missionaries will be listed in the Treasurer's list of "Specials".

Larger projects such as bazaars have sent their proceeds to our Companion Diocese of Panama. Many "Specials" have been sent there too. Taiwan has been the project of Northeast District.

A young Liberian student, Louise Kandekai, at Livingston College, Salisbury, has renewed a tie we have always enjoyed with the Missionary District of Liberia. The Rt. Rev. Bravid Harris, former Bishop of that Missionary District, retired in January, after doing outstanding service there since 1945. He will be in Spain this Summer (1964).

Our interest and knowledge of the mission work in India, Nepal and Haiti was increased during this past year, by the presence in this Diocese of Rachel Wolff and Sister Anne Marie, both of whom brought messages of inspiration to all who heard them.

We were saddened last May to hear of the death of one of our devoted retired missionaries, Miss Mary Ramsaur. She had been for many years a missionary to the mill-workers in Upper South Carolina.

Our special prayers go to four other retired missionaries who are in poor health:- Miss Lillie Hill, Mrs. Leopold Kroll, Mrs. A. W. Tucker, and Miss Constance Young.

I believe I should report to you what little news has come through on the earthquake situation in Alaska. The whole world was stunned to hear of the devastating earthquake there on Good Friday. We rejoice that from all reports no missionary family suffered loss of life or even injury. Or missionary in Anchorage, Lewis Hodgkins, his wife and little girl are safe and well. Their house had a minimum of damage although they were without heat or electricity and very little water for several days. Both Episcopal churches in Anchorage were shaken (and probably things were broken) but suffered no structural damage apparent at this time. However services could not be held in All Saints' Church as it is in the area of devastation that is roped off.

The report is that no church in Anchorage was damaged, which is almost unbelievable considering the extensive damage in that city. In Valdez the Episcopal church, rectory and parish hall apparently are a total loss. The Rector, the Rev. Dennis Walker and his family were evacuated, along with most of the other residents of Valdez. Up to this time no word has come through of the extent of the damage in Seward, Kodiak, and Cordova.

Last Sunday this Diocese was given an opportunity to send assistance to Bishop Gordon for the Missionary District of Alaska. This is one of the many opportunities we have to share what we have with others. "All receive from God; all are called to give to others".

I wish to thank the District and Branch Secretaries of Missions for their cooperation and valuable assistance this year and look forward to the coming year when we can again work together to help fulfill Christ's mission to the world.

Mary A. Hodgkins

SUPPLY REPORT 1963

Much of the good work done in the Supply Department for 1963 was begun by my predecessor, Nell Archer; including scholarships sent to Panama for Christ Church Academy and the Bella Vista School for Girls; and a large cash gift to Bishop Loutitt for Cuban Refugee Work in Florida.

Again this year we are sending supplies to the South Dakota Indians, our friends for the past several years. Because of the distance and the high cost of transportation, we have tried to send exactly the items requested. My thanks to the several larger churches who accepted a special used clothing assignment for them, and also to the two Convocations who undertook the sewing of dresses and shirts. I doubt whether very many of us sit down at the sewing machine and stitch up our own blue jeans, or our husbands' undershorts. So instead of asking anyone to do this, these were either purchased wholesale, or money sent to buy them locally.

Gifts of money to St. Barnabas' Hospital in Japan, to the Indian Catechists, and to Interchurch Medical Assistance (for shipping medical supplies overseas) completed the requests made to the Diocese by the National Supply Department.

Nearly all the branches have reported sending used clothing to Church World Service, Thompson Orphanage in Charlotte, Tuttle Community Center in Raleigh, and to numerous local institutions. This is where Supply and Christian Social Relations can work so well together in finding and supplying the special needs of the community. Some of the projects reported are so unusual and practical that descriptions of them will be included in the suggestions to branches next fall.

Just as we were completing the year's work, news came of the tragedy in Alaska. Since the National Supply Department has notified us that a cash contribution is the most practical aid to send to Alaska, the balance of our funds for 1963 has been sent for Alaskan relief through the President Bishop's Fund for World Relief. The telegram received in New York from Bishop Gordon says in part"

"Morale high and we are determined to press forward with God's help.
Grateful for prayers and support of whole church."

CHURCH PERIODICAL CLUB

In 1963 the Churchwomen of the Diocese did a great work for the Church through the Church Periodical Club. Last year our gifts to the National Books Fund amounted to $1,016.78, the largest amount the Diocese of North Carolina has ever given to the CPC. This means that we have provided the first funds to fill the shelves of the Library when the Student Center in Panama City is completed.

The National report of the CPC shows that North Carolina placed tenth among the ninety dioceses of the Church in the amount given to the National Books Fund. Also, we compared well in the distribution of thousands of pieces of reading material locally.

The Library at the Student Center will continue to need our CPC gifts in 1964. In his address to the recent Annual Meeting in Greensboro, Bishop Fraser confirmed the need of continuing our companion relationship with the Missionary District of Panama, and said that a request for an extension will be brought before the 1964 General Convention for approval.

Is has been said, quote: "The key to a strong Church in Latin America tomorrow is the preparation today of young people for a ministry to their own people. Men everywhere must hear Christ speak: each in his own language". Our Church Periodical gifts for books for the Library in Panama is such a ministry to the students at the University there. We will be helping to communicate the Gospel in the language of the people. The CPC always operates with this in mind. For example, the Church Periodical Club sends Bibles and Prayer Books in Chinese for Taiwan; in Spanish for Central America; in the Ovambo dialect for South West Africa. By the hundreds of cases, our Church mission people bring their needs to the CPC. The CPC answers a call in all kinds of places. (1 Spanish Prayer Book was requested by a prisoner in Sing Sing.)

As always, there are people and places back of any set of statistics. They are the Churchwomen in their local Branches who make the figures come alive! There are some highlights from the Branch reports which tell how the good work for the Church Periodical Club came about:

There was an increase in memorial gifts. More individual Churchwomen sent checks to the Books Fund in memory of their friends and loved ones.

The North Carolina Churchman and the Diocesan Journal are being sent regularly to our diocesan missionaries. The staff at 802 Hillsboro are doing this for us.

A successful two-day Book Fair held by the branch at St. Timothy's, Winston-Salem, made $69.00 for the Books Fund.

Several branches in the Durham Convocation distributed thousands of pieces of reading material to seven Institutions in and around the city of Durham.

One branch distributed The Episcopalian regularly to a State Mental Hospital.

Another branch has an active project in a School for Retarded Children, where they supply appropriate books, games and magazines for cutout work.

A special recognition goes to the Churchwomen of the Northwest Convocation who have taken the Library in The Penick Home in Southern Pines as their special project. They are providing not only the furnishings for the library room; but also books, which include an Encyclopedia, a Bible atlas, Bible dictionary, a world globe, and subscriptions to several magazines and newspapers.

The Church Periodical Club performs a Ministry for the Church which can never be fulfilled. For, as the CPC continues to grow, so do the demands made upon it. This is a blessing! It is a special blessing to the women of the Diocese as our yearly increase in CPC work continues to put before us new areas where the CPC has barely scratched the surface.

As we work and pray and give - - WE LEARN - - and gladly work some more.

Dolores Pitt
Director of Church Periodical Club

REPORT FOR 1964-65 YEAR BOOK OF THE EPISCOPAL CHURCHWOMEN'S DIOCESAN CHAIRMAN OF LEGISLATION.

The Episcopal Churchwomen's Diocesan Chairman of Legislation is on the Committee of the Churchwomen's Diocesan Dept. of Christian Social Relations. The Chairman of Legislation informs the Churchwomen on coming legislation and encourages and stimulates action on the part of all Churchwomen on matters of social legislation with the aid of Convocation and Branch Christian Social Relations Chairmen.

It is the duty of every Churchwoman to read and study and pray about matters of social legislation. It is her duty not to get carried away with emotions of the moment and prejudice, but to remember continually to turn to God in quietness and prayer for His guidance in all daily dealings with His people. She must continually seek God's will and remember that only with knowledge, love, good humor, and God's help can she carry out His will. It is her duty to try to understand Christ's teachings and to make His teachings a vital part of the governing of our great land. She must strive for justice among men and nations to the glory of our Lord.

The Chairman of Christian Social Relations can aid women in their search for truth about social legislation by having well informed and thoughtful Churchmen speak on social legislation. She should work closely with the Secretary of Christian Education. She can draw attention to articles on social legislation in newspapers, church publications, or on radio and TV. When the time comes to vote, she can continually remind the Churchwomen that through social legislation their Christian social relations are expressed and felt.

June B. Long,
Chairman of Legislation

Peggy Pond Church in her "Ultimatum of Man" which was published in the Survey Graphic, December, 1940, speaks to us today when she says:

Now the frontiers are all closed
There is no other country we can run away to;

There is no ocean we can crossover.
At last we must turn and live with one another.

We cannot escape this any longer
We cannot continue to choose between good and evil,

The good for ourselves, and the evil for our neighbor.
We must all bear the equal burden.

At last we who have been running away must turn and face it:
There is no room left for hate in the world we must live in.

Now we must learn love. We can no longer escape it.
We can no longer escape from one another.

Love is no longer a theme for eloquence,
Or a way of life for a few to choose whose hearts can decide it,
It is the sternest necessity; the unequivocal ultimatum.

There is no way out. There is no country we can flee to;
There is no man on earth who must not face this task now.

Now listen to the words of the Rt. Rev. Austin Pardue, Bishop of Pittsburg as he says in 1964.. "I call upon us all to repent for our sins of prejudice, intolerance and discrimination against race or religion. I am not speaking in anger or impatience, but in love and charity. If we harbor these sins of discrimination against race and religion, we will destroy our own souls, threaten our own bodies, and contaminate our own children. If these sins are not corrected, they may well bring destruction upon our own nation".

Listen to Jesus Christ, "This commandment I leave with you, that you love one another as I have loved you".

With these words ringing in our minds and souls the Interracial Committee of the Diocese of North Carolina met February 6, 1964, at 10:00 A.M. at the home of the Chairman; and grappled with this real and confusing problem of human relations which exist within the fellowship of the Church. After much prayer and soul searching, the Committee tried to pin point some steps whereby the relationships between and among all members could be strengthened and improved.

The following observations were made:

1. It was the concensus of the group, that some growth had taken place in this realm, but there was still much work to be done to eradicate negative ideas and reactions in the field of human relations;
2. Letters should be written to challange negative newspaper articles and letters;
3. People, who have a true feeling of love and acceptance, should get together to share ideas of concern, and to give encouragement to those who want to grow in their love and understanding;

4. Church members within a certain city or area should get together for joint programs with individuals from all branches participating; such as, joint Confirmation Classes and Presentation Service;
5. Negroes should be included in the planning sessions of Annual and District Meetings;
6. Opportunities should be created whereby members of both races could get together and work on projects and programs for the common good of all. It was the feeling that through working together individuals really got to know each other;
7. Emphasis should be put on the program of study for this year, "The Inner City" which deals profoundly with the problems that beset us;
8. More publicity should be given to the positive developments in the realm of human relations across racial lines, especially in our Diocesan organ; The N. C. Churchman.
9. When we visit different racial groups we should go with positive attitudes and positive spirits, remembering that both groups have racial integrity;
10. Remember that there is still a sensitivity to the way Negro is spelled and pronounced;
11. A very good source of information to give us a deeper insight into the problem of human relations is: Catalogue of Resources, National Conference on Religion and Race, 21 West Superior, Chicago 10, Ill. 118.

Bishop Pardue asks us to ponder these questions:

1. Am I aware that our Lord lives in the heart of every human being on earth,...that whenever a human being is suffering, there is Christ likewise suffering?
2. Am I antagonistic when a person of another color joins my parish, sits in my pew, attends my church society or kneels next to me at the altar rail?
3. In my daily work, am I willing to labor side by side in union jobs, in office posts in any kind of honest employment with decent people regardless of race or religion? Am I willing to be helpful to such persons, cooperative and understanding and to conduct myself in the spirit of Christ and the Constitution of the United States? If I am an employer, am I willing to hire those of different races when they are qualified for positions and are willing to give of their best abilities? Do I want full employment for "all sorts and conditions of men" as long as they are honest, reliable and industrious?
4. Am I so hard of heart to have a sense of shame when I drive through blighted areas, overcrowded slums, filthy and deteriorated living quarters?

5. When people of other races move into my neighborhood, am I courteous to them, or do I seek ways of preventing their presence?
6. Do I seek special privilege, regardless of my race or religion when I lack dependability, courteous manners and sincere willingness to work and search for truth and sound learning?

We are all guilty as we ponder and reflect: Let us pray then, that God will give us the insight, strength, and courage to do what needs to be done - to eliminate fractions in our Church, community, state and world, that divide us; and prevent our functioning as healthy Christians in a social order that demands vigor, that comes from healthy bodies, minds and spirits.

Our President Bishop says, "Only as we take every step possible to join with each other across lines of racial separation in a common struggle for justice will our unity in the Spirit become a present reality".

Love is a stark necessity. There is no other way. It is something we all must learn now. Let us each in our individual lives consider these words: "I am but one, but I am one. I can not do everything, but I can do something. That I can do, I ought to do; that I ought to do by the grace of God I will do! Lord, what will thou have me to do?"

ALTAR WORK AND SERVICE OF EXCHANGE

Most of our attention for the year has been given to furnishing lines and hangings for the Penick Memorial Home Chapel. Letters were written to all District Chairmen asking their help in making this new Chapel and effective worship center. The response should be an inspiration to the whole Diocese. Contributions were as follows:

Northeast District, a Green silk Burse, Veil, and Bible Markers, plus a contribution of $10.00
 Raleigh District, a White silk Burse, Veil, and Bible Markers.
 Durham District, a Fair Linen, Credence Cloth, Pall, 2 Lavabo towels, 2 Purificators, a Corporal and Veil, plus a $10.00 contribution from the Church of Holy Innocents, Henderson.
 Sandhill District, a Pall, Purificator, Lavabo towel, Corporal, and money for a cere cloth.
 Charlotte District, a Fair Linen and Credence cloth.

In addition to District Contributions we received a check from the Department of Supply for $95.00.

A Fair Linen was purchased for the Altar at St. Bede's at The Terraces with the $50.00 sent to Mr. Caldwell from St. Luke's Altar G Guild, Salisbury. St. David's, Laurinburg, sent $5.00 to help with the balance due on furnishings at St. Bede's.

Spring District meetings were attended in Charlotte, and a workshop conducted; and at Durham where a talk was given on the Chapels at The Terraces and the Penick Memorial Home.

From individual Parrishes the following reports have come in: All Saints', Roanoke Rapids, sent Altar hangings to St. Annas in Littleton; St. Michael's, Tarboro, assisted Grace Church, Lawrence, in making Altar hangings; Christ Church, Charlotte, sent an Altar set to Queens College; St. Bartholomew, Pittsboro, supplied Altar hangings and linens for State College, Raleigh; Church of the Holy Family, Chapel Hill, gave a Dossal to Massachusetts; Church of the Messiah, Rockingham, sent four sets of Burses, and Veils to Southport; Emmanuel Church, Southern Pines, gave a Fair Linen and some used linens to State College, Raleigh, also some children's choir vestments to Cary.

There is still much work to be done at the Penick Memorial Home Chapel. We ask your help and prayers to make this Chapel a place of reverence and beauty.

Chairman of Altar Work and Service of Exchange.

KANUGA REPORT

After an extremely successful year of operation in 1963 Kanuga went into 1964 under the capable leadership of a new Executive Director. Do to the resignation of W. P. Verduin, our able director for the past 13 years, Mr. Edgar Hartley, Jr., former Director of Promotion at Kanuga, was chosen by the Board as the new Director.

During the years of Mr. Verduin's leadership Kanuga moved forward in many areas; the number of campers nearly trebled, and both conference members and hotel guests substantially increased. Also the number and types of conferences has increased to keep pace with the needs of changing times. The influence of Kanuga is ever expanding.

Also during Mr. Verduin's tenure as Executive Director a quarter of a million dollars has been spent in major physical improvements and today Kanuga's accounts are "in the black".

The Board has placed its confidence in Mr. Hartley to carry on the work and influence of this great church conference center. With our help - the help of the people of this Diocese and the other four owning Dioceses - Kanuga will continue to grow in service to and influence on our church.

Our Bishop, the Rt. Rev. Richard H. Baker, will direct the Adult Conference at Kanuga in 1964 and under his leadership these two one-week conferences are shaping up into the finest that you will find available in the church today. The headliner for the 1964 Adult Conference will be the Rt. Rev. Stephen Bayne.

Kanuga continues to need your support both financially and through your attendance at its fine summer conferences. You too will find, as Gert Behanna said after her two weeks at Kanuga, that "At Kanuga, here is love. Therefore, it brings out the love in you. Love is the pipeline to God, and when you leave Kanuga you take some of it with you, whether you brought any with you or not."

Last summer more than 2500 men, women and children spent an average of seven days at Kanuga. Whether you were one of these or not, plan to be one among those spending part of their summer this year on that "Mount of Holy Priviledge".

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON CONVOCATIONS

For the past few years, there has been an expressed concern over the inefficiency, duplication and lethargy in District function and structure. No one could discount the value of this unit to certain groups. But this seemed to be the exception rather than the rule. Last fall, Mrs. Godfrey appointed a committee to study District structure and function, and to evaluate both the weakness and the strength of this part of our organization.

Members of this committee were: Mrs. W.H.R. Jackson, Raleigh, past treasurer and incoming president; Mrs. Henry Bourne, Tarboro, past president; Mrs. Chadwich Smith, Charlotte, immediate past Diocesan C.S.R. chairman and a past District chairman; Mrs. M. E. Motsinger, Roaring Gap, a past Diocesan U.T.O. chairman and presently serving on the Executive Council; Mrs. E. C. Gratiot, Greensboro, a past District chairman; and myself, Chairman of the District of Durham. Mrs. Godfrey also met with us. As is evident, this committee was exceptionally well qualified for the task, and worked with diligence and tempered judgment. I might also add, it was a well balanced group, inasmuch as our initial views of District values were rather evenly divided and we represented quite diverse geographical areas and parish needs.

Our first meeting was held in October. We opened with a thoughtful discussion of the personal views, experiences and general evaluation of the Districts by each member of the committee. We then drew up a questionnaire to be sent to all parish presidents and District officers. This procedure seemed essential not only as a guide to our own thinking and planning, but to insure that any conclusions would not be the sole result of committee views. An effort was made to phrase questions that would permit criticism, an opportunity to note present inefficiency, concrete suggestions for change - and an equal opportunity to express satisfaction with the status quo. For those of you who did not receive the questionnaire, it reads as follows:

1. Do you think that the district as presently functioning in any way benefits your Churchwoman?
2. Have district workshops as they have operated in the past been helpful?
3. Would you prefer one-day Diocesan-sponsored workshops in all departments for the training of branch officers to be held in three or four areas each spring?
4. Would your branch officers make a real effort to attend?
5. Are you in favor of continuing the present policy of two district meetings a year?
6. Would you favor the District Quiet Day replacing the usual Fall District Meeting?
7. Do you ever use your district officers? If so, how? If not, why?
8. Do you feel that the number of district officers should be reduced?
 - a. Which if any officers do you think are superfluous on the district level?
 - b. Would you favor combining district officers?

It should be noted that one question was technically unnecessary. The constitution states that only one District meeting a year is required. Most of us have assumed that two were necessary. However, this question gave us a useful lead to the desire for District meetings.

Eighty-three questionnaires were returned. Branch presidents were far more conscientious about replying than District officers. Some Districts had a high percentage of return - others low. It was interesting to note that those Districts which were strong and active heavily outweighed the responses of Districts which have become relatively inactive and indifferent.

In the initial reading of these questionnaires, it was immediately obvious that no set tabulation could be made. For the most part, answers were totally inconsistent with an affirmative answer to the first question, "Do you think that the District as presently functioning benefits your Churchwomen." - followed by comments that they had not attended meetings or workshops, felt they should be cut or eliminated - or generally expressing a lack of interest on the part of their members. The method of answering the questionnaire greatly varied. A good many were answered by the individual - others had been presented to their boards or general meetings and carefully evaluated by a group. These were very helpful. By far the greatest value was to be found in attached letters or detailed answers to the questions.

In view of this wide range of replies, I felt quite inadequate to evaluate all questionnaires for our next meeting. I sorted them into Districts - wrote a brief summary of the general criticisms and views of each District - and divided the forms, by District, among committee members for further study and evaluation. I purposely assigned each member a District or Districts - either opposing her own experiences, or presenting a contrast in geography and parish size.

Each member carefully evaluated her forms - tabulated where possible - noted valuable comments and suggestions, and prepared a general summary.

We met again in February. Comprehensive and thoughtful summaries were given on each District, and we set about the task of finding some solution to our problems. Time does not permit a detailed accounting. Certain general conclusions can be drawn. Since two District meetings are not required, the great difference of opinion on this is automatically solved. It is a matter to be decided individually by each District. On the whole, Diocesan workshops were not acceptable primarily because of distance and time involved. However, thoughtful replies indicated there was positive value in workshops, but not as a substitute for District meetings. It would seem that in most instances, District officers are rarely used by individual branches. In reference to reducing or combining District officers, the answers were as numerous as the forms. Such action would require constitutional changes.

We considered three possible alternatives. The easiest would be simply to continue as we presently function - with those who find real value maintaining an active District organization - others struggling along with a minimum amount of participation and effectiveness. This would not seem to be desirable. It would be discouraging to the few who conscientiously carry the load and produce superfluous activity.

Secondly, District officers could be cut to a required minimum, through constitutional change. Each District could then fill as many offices as suited their needs. This obviously weakens the whole structure, would be confusing to Diocesan officers, and has the disadvantage of involving too few women whose interest is usually in proportion to their responsibilities. It would defeat the important District function of preparing women for Diocesan participation.

The third plan, which this committee recommended to the Board, was to establish spring workshops for all officers and chairmen to be conducted by Diocesan officers and chairmen. These one day workshops would be held in four areas - geographically divided so that no one would travel more than approximately fifty miles. All District chairmen would be expected to attend and to notify and encourage all branch counterparts to participate (or send a substitute). Since all chairmen in a given area would be involved on this one day, delegations would be large enough to insure valuable exchange of ideas and make the efforts of Diocesan leaders worthwhile. In the case of a mission or parish where most women work and are unable to attend, District chairmen would then be prepared to act in a consulting capacity. One of the greatest advantages should be the early receipt of available materials. This committee hoped that in addition to the training offered, such a plan would stimulate enthusiasm and initiative in District planning, strengthen the existing structure, and make all Districts more effective. Workshops would not necessarily take the place of District meetings, but would function as an independent aide to District and branch programs. We recommend that such a plan be instituted on a two year trial basis to begin in 1965 - with the other choices as future alternatives should this fail. We sincerely hope you will cooperate to make this effort successful since it is a potential means of making us strong.

Foreword

To the Episcopal Churchwomen of the Diocese of North Carolina

Dear Fellow Workers:

The vitality and devotion of the Episcopal Churchwomen of the Diocese of North Carolina greatly strengthens the work of the Church in this Diocese. The leadership which has been given by your president and her officers is inspiring to the Bishops and clergy as well as the women. May God continue to bless your leadership and your work as you strive to fulfill God's will in this area of His Church.

Faithfully yours,
Thomas A. Fraser
Bishop Coadjutor of North Carolina

To the Episcopal Churchwomen of the Diocese of North Carolina

Dear Fellow Workers:

One of my great heroes, Geoffrey Studdert Kennedy, says in his poem "The Unutterable Beauty", "O God who givest songs too sweet to sing, have mercy on Thy servant's feeble tongue". Here is a man with a deep spiritual perception yet with a reach well beyond his grasp.

By comparison, my prosaic ineptitude limits me in saying: "Words fail me". I'd so much rather have the right to lift my lyric light to the level of "The Unutterable Beauty", for the story of the work of the women of the Diocese of North Carolina should not only be in verse, but also set to music of the profoundest sort.

May the dear Lord bless each one of you in what you do. To me it will always be a song too sweet to sing by such as I. I can only point to the highest hill as a symbol of your accomplishments.

Richard H. Baker
Bishop of North Carolina

PRAYERS

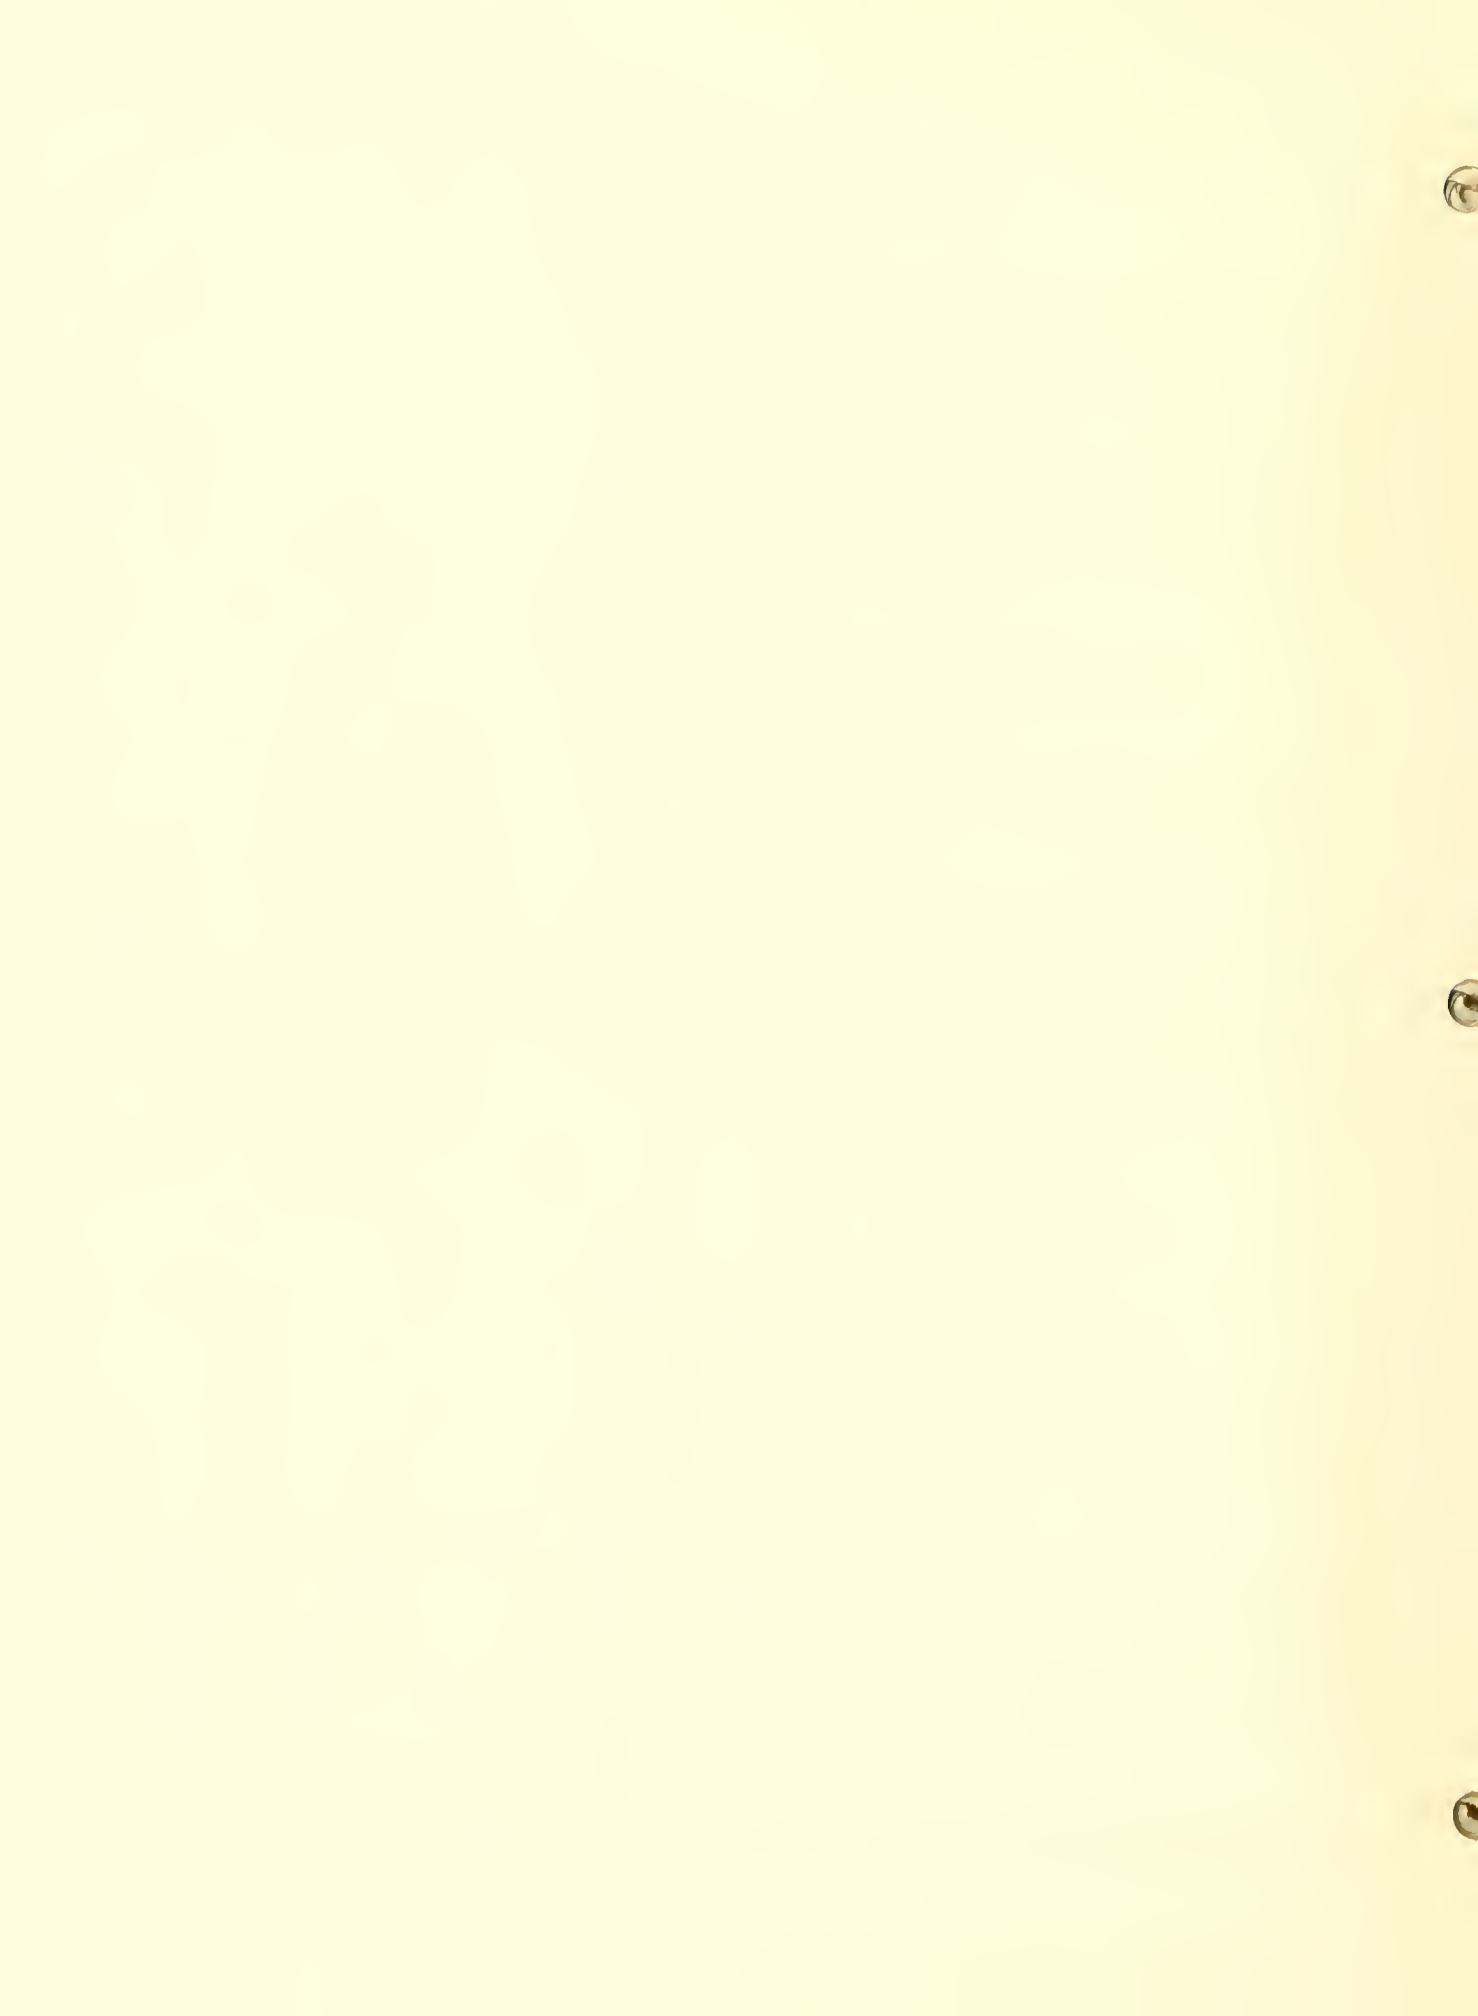

PRAYERS FOR EPISCOPAL CHURCHWOMEN

Almighty God, our heavenly Father, bless, we pray Thee, our work for the extension of Thy Kingdom, and make us so thankful for the precious gift to us of Thy beloved Son, that we may pray fervently, labor diligently, and give liberally to make Him known to all nations as their Saviour and their King through the same Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Almighty God, whose love reacheth unto the world's end, and who didst send Thy blessed Son to redeem all mankind help us, we pray Thee so to reveal Thy love in prayer and work and stewardship, that by Thy spirit all nations and people may be baptized into one body, even as all are redeemed by one Saviour; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

PRAYER FOR MISSIONS

Almighty God, help us we pray Thee, to shed abroad the light of Thy Church in all the world. Give us greater zeal for Thy Kingdom, that we may offer abundantly our prayers, our work, and our gifts; so that the earth may be filled with the knowledge of Thy glory, as the waters cover the sea, through Thy Son, Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

FOR GUIDANCE OF THE HOLY SPIRIT

O God, forasmuch as without Thee we are not able to please Thee, mercifully grant that Thy Holy Spirit in all things direct and rule our hearts; through Christ our Lord. Amen.

PRAYER FOR HUMAN RELATIONS

O God, our heavenly Father, who hast created all men after Thy likeness, we beseech Thee to incline Thine ear to us as we ask Thy help in doing our duty as Christian citizens and as members of Thy Holy Church. We acknowledge our many transgressions of Thy righteous law and especially our failure to see Thine image in all Thy Children for whose sake Thy Son was content to die. Grant that we may follow in the steps of Him with whom there was no respect of persons.

Make us ready to acknowledge the Truth as it stands written in Thy Holy Word. Give us courage in our thinking and honestly in our decisions. Lift us above self-interest and prejudice and whatsoever else may hinder us from a just and righteous dealing with our neighbor. Guide with thy wisdom those to whom Thou hast committed the responsibility of government, that all things pertaining to the relationship of man with man may be settled upon the sure foundation of Thy Holy Will as made to us in Thy Son, Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

—THE RT. REV. EDWIN A. PENICK, D.D.

PRAYER FOR CHRISTIAN SOCIAL RELATIONS

Jesus, our Master and our friend, who claimest our service through the needs of our neighbors; Grant us so to see Thy image in all our fellow creatures that in serving mankind we may minister to Thee, the living Saviour of the world. Grant to each one of us, that we may do our part in bringing about an order of society where there is no just cause for discontent or bitterness of spirit, and where every person may be enabled to come to the fullness of perfection for which he was made, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

FOR THE UNITED THANK OFFERING

O Lord, Our Heavenly Father, we pray Thee to send forth more laborers into Thy harvest, and to grant them Thy special grace for every need. Guard and guide the workers in the field, and draw us into closer fellowship with them. Dispose the hearts of all women everywhere to give gladly as Thou hast given to them. Accept from grateful hearts our United Thank Offering of prayer, and gifts, and joyful service; and bless it to the coming of Thy Kingdom, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Accept, O Father, this joyful sacrifice of thanksgiving and praise, and bless these gifts to the setting forward of Thy Kingdom; that as we have gratefully received the benefits Thy bounty has bestowed, so we may cheerfully share them with Thy children in all the world; for his sake whose life and death and rising to life again were a song of praise to Thee, O Thou Most Holy, our Saviour Jesus Christ. Amen.

FOR CHRISTIAN EDUCATION

O God, who hast sent Thy beloved Son to be unto us the Way, the Truth and the Life; grant that we, looking unto Him may set forward the teaching power of Thy Church, to the nurture of Thy children, the increase of Thy Kingdom and the glory of Thy Son, Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

THE PRAYER FOR THE SUPPLY WORK

Almighty God, who hast taught us by Thy Son, Jesus Christ, that it is more blessed to give than it is to receive, look with favor, we beseech Thee, upon the supply work of thy Church, especially in this Diocese. Touch our hearts with compassion for the poor, the sick, and homeless, and make us strong to lift their burdens with our ready gifts and service; Through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

PRAYER FOR THE THOMPSON ORPHANAGE

Almighty God, who art the Father of the fatherless, send Thy blessings upon the Thompson Orphanage, instituted in Thy name. Give patience and wisdom to the officers, teachers and matrons of this home, that they may faithfully discharge the duties committed to their charge. Let the boys and girls grow in grace and earnestness, day by day. Strengthen their bodies, enlighten their minds, purify their hearts and sanctify their wills. Bless all who have contributed to this institution, and raise up, we pray Thee, a never-failing succession of benefactors whose names may be perpetuated through all generations, as a blessed memory, and their good deeds be accepted; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

FOR THE EVERY MEMBER CANVASS

God our Father, who providest for Thy children in advance of their needs, bless we pray the work of our Every member Canvass, and grant us all to share in it with glad and willing hearts for the sake of thy Kingdom, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

FOR DIOCESAN MISSIONARIES

O Lord and Heavenly Father, without who we can do no good thing, but with whose help even Thy little ones go forth as the mighty, we beseech Thee to prosper the work of all Thy missionaries, wherever they may be (and especially the work of Thy servant.....). Grant them the wisdom to know and the strength to do Thy will, and bless them with the hope and consolation of Thy heavenly promises, for the sake of Thy Son, Our Saviour, Jesus Christ. Amen.

FOR PERSONNEL

Our Father, if it be Thy will, put it into the heart of some young man or young woman of this parish to choose one of the many vocations within the Church for his or her life work, whether it be in our own land or overseas. We pray Thee help each one of us, whatever our calling, to practice it as becomes a Christian in Thy name and with Thy guidance. Amen.

NOONDAY PRAYERS

Blessed Saviour, who at this hour didst hang upon the Cross stretching forth Thy loving arms; grant that all mankind may look upon Thee and be saved. Amen.

Blessed Lord, inspire our hearts and the hearts of all men everywhere with the love of God and of our fellowmen, that we may be worthy of world peace. This we pray in Jesus' name. Amen.

FOR WORLD PEACE

Almighty God, from who all thoughts of truth and peace proceed; kindle, we pray Thee, in the hearts of all men the true love of peace, and guide with Thy strong and peaceful wisdom those who take counsel for the nations of the earth, that in tranquility Thy Kingdom may go forward, till the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of thy love; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

FOR CHURCH PERIODICAL CLUB

O Lord Jesus Christ, Who art the Light of the World, pour out, we beseech Thee, upon all Thy servants Thy Holy Spirit of Wisdom and understanding that they may know the hope of Thy calling, the riches of Thine inheritance in the saints, and the greatness of Thy power to us who believe. More especially we pray Thee to direct and prosper the Church Periodical Club that in all its prayer and labor it may be enabled to make the light of Thy glory shine forth in the dark places of the earth. And do Thou of Thy mercy and grace stablish Thy Church in the truth of Thy Gospel, who livest and reignest with the Father and the Holy Spirit ever One God, world without end. Amen.

FOR USE BEFORE AND AT THE TIME OF THE ELECTION OF OFFICERS

O Holy Spirit, Whose guidance and inspiration alone can enable us to fulfill the Will of God, teach us, we pray Thee, the dignity of our work as churchwomen, and give us grace to choose as our leaders those whom Thou dost call to Thy faithful service. To those so chosen give a spirit of reverence in the exercise of their office, and to all of us a deep sense of our obligation in the discharge of every duty, to do all to the glory of God through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

BENEDICTION

May the blessings of God Almighty, the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit, rest upon us and upon all work and worship done in His name. May He give us light to guide us, courage to support us, and love to unite us, now and forevermore. Amen.

GENERAL CONVENTION

THE NATIONAL CHURCH

GENERAL CONVENTION

General Convention, meeting every three years, is the official legislative ^{body} of The Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America, a church which is a branch of the Anglican Communion. The functions and procedures of General Convention are outlined in the Church's laws, "The Constitution and Canons." It alone has the right to altar or revise The Book of Common Prayer, the Constitution, or the Canons.

General Convention is composed of the House of Bishops and the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies. All legislation, to be final and binding, must be concurred in by both Houses.

The House of Bishops includes the following categories: Diocesan, Coadjutor, Suffragan, and Missionary Bishops (elected by the House of Bishops, to serve a Missionary District which receives some of its support from National Church funds.) A Diocese or Missionary District may have in addition to a Diocesan either a Coadjutor or Suffragan—or both—or two Suffragans, if the extent of work makes it necessary. Retired Bishops retain their full rights in the House of Bishops.

Every priest elected to serve as Bishop in any capacity may be elected only with the permission of the entire Church speaking through the House of Bishops and the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies—or, between General Conventions, with the written approval of the majority of Bishops serving in this country and a majority of Diocesan Standing Committees.

The House of Deputies is composed of clergy and laymen, elected by their respective Dioceses or Missionary Districts at their Diocesan Conventions prior to General Convention—four clergy and four laymen elected by each Diocese, and one clergyman and one layman for each Missionary District. A presiding officer is elected at each General Convention, and may be either a member of the clergy or a layman.

THE PRESIDING BISHOP

The Presiding Bishop is elected by General Convention, to serve until the first day of January following the General Convention after he reaches the age of sixty-eight. He presides over the House of Bishops, over joint sessions of the House of Bishops and the House of Deputies, and over joint sessions of General Convention and Triennial.

The office of the Presiding Bishop is at 815 Second Avenue, New York 17, New York. His official residence is at Dover House in Greenwich, Connecticut. His ^{see} seat is at the National Cathedral in Washington, D. C.

NATIONAL COUNCIL

The National Council is the executive arm of General Convention. Sixteen members-at-large (four Bishops, four Clergy and eight Laymen) are elected at General Convention. Eight other members are elected at the Synods of the eight Provinces—one member from each Province. Four women members are nominated by the Triennial Meeting of the Women and elected by General Convention (by Canon in 1934). There are three other members of National Council: The Presiding Bishop, who is President; the Vice President, who is elected by the National Council itself; and the Treasurer, who is elected by General Convention. Thus, there are 31 members of National Council.

The specific duties of National Council are to carry out the directives of General Convention. Meetings are held four times a year, with the chief concern being to promote the expansion of the Church at home and abroad.

The work of the National Council is carried out by various Departments and Divisions. They are as follows: Overseas Department, Home Department, Department of Christian Education, Department of Christian Social Relations, Department of Promotion, Department of Finance, General Division of Women's Work, General Division of Laymen's Work, General Division of Research and Field Study, and the Seabury Press. The General Division of Women's Work no longer has separate departments corresponding to those of the National Council. Instead members of the General Division are assigned to serve on Departments of the National Council. Currently they serve on every department except Finance. Members of the National Council serve on the departments, and the chairman of each is a member of the National Council.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH CENTER

The working headquarters of the National Council, its Departments and Divisions has been moved from "281" Park Avenue South to the new building known as the Episcopal Church Center at 815 SECOND AVENUE, New York 17, N. Y. Paid staff members of the National Council and its departments have offices here. Departments at the Center which may be able to furnish information directly to branches of the Churchwomen are as follows: Overseas Department and Home Department for pamphlets on special mission projects and Speakers Division, Department of Promotion for missionary and other speakers.

THE SEABURY BOOKSTORE

The Seabury Press is a publishing house established by National Council as an agency of the Department of Christian Education. As a result of the consolidation of offices at the Episcopal Church Center, all publications of the Seabury Press, pamphlets formerly available from the Publications Department of the National Council and certain other books and materials printed elsewhere may all be ordered directly from the Seabury Bookstore, 815 Second Avenue, New York 17, N. Y. A Directory of Resources for Adults lists such publications.

SEABURY HOUSE

Seabury House, the national conference center of the Episcopal Church, is located in Greenwich, Connecticut. It is named in honor of Samuel Seabury, first Bishop of the Episcopal Church in the United States. The property consists of nearly one hundred acres and includes a large main house, a smaller residence—"Dover House"—serving as the official residence of the Presiding Bishop, and other buildings.

EPISCOPAL CHURCHWOMEN

The first organized women's groups within the Church were called "Female Missionary Societies," as their purpose was to raise money for the support of missionaries. In 1871 General Convention recommended that the women of the Church, in every parish and mission in the land, be organized under the name of the "Woman's Auxiliary to the Board of Missions." This was done in 1872 and for many years the chief function of organized women's groups of the Church was to raise money for the support of the missionary work of the Church.

When the Church reorganized its administration and the National Council was set up in 1919, it asked that the Woman's Auxiliary, instead of being auxiliary only to the Board of Missions, be made "The Woman's Auxiliary to the National Council of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America." This change widened and increased the responsibilities and opportunities open to the women of the Church.

In recognition of the fact that women were a part of the Church, not just an auxiliary to it, in 1958 National Council created the General Division of Women's Work, to represent all of the work of all of the women of the Church. It acts as the executive body, on a national level, for EPISCOPAL CHURCHWOMEN.

EPISCOPAL CHURCHWOMEN is an international, interracial fellowship of the women of the Church organized for service to the Church in every phase of its life and all fields of its activity.

THE PURPOSE AND PROGRAM OF THE EPISCOPAL CHURCHWOMEN

The Episcopal Churchwomen does not have any purpose or program of its own; it exists only to further the purpose and program of the Church itself. The organization itself exists as a means and channel to help every woman find her place in the parish family and in the Mission of the Church. It is a channel through which all women in the parish should find an opportunity to deepen their Christian faith, to express their Christian convictions locally, and to share in the wider mission of the Church beyond their parish and community.

The distinguishing characteristic of any women's organization in the Church should be our relationship to God and the centrality of worship and prayer in the activities of every group. Therefore we start with WORSHIP, our source of power. We must not let our "busy-ness" crowd out communion with God, our Lord and Saviour. Worship—regular, sincere, intelligent—is the center of our circle of service.

We proceed to STUDY, our source of knowledge. Like the love of God, for which the Cross is the symbol, the study must always have two arms or parts:— upward toward God, as he has revealed Himself in the Holy Bible and in the life of the Church, and outward toward the world and our fellowmen, whom He sent His Son to redeem. Study of the Bible and the Christian faith should deepen our spiritual life and crystallize our Christian convictions; study of the world in which we live—its needs and problems and tensions—should both inspire us of the urgent need of communicating the Gospel to all men and provide us with the understanding to do this more effectively.

SERVICE is a natural outgrowth of worship and study, an expression of commitment and concern, of gratitude to God and responsibility to Him and the world He made and loves. If our devotional life is meaningful and our study serious and well planned, we as Christian women respond by using such talents and abilities as we have to serve the needs of others. Local circumstances will vary but the possibilities are endless. True Christian stewardship involves time as well as money; it involves imagination and initiative as well as willingness to work.

Through our GIFTS we are enabled to participate in the Mission of the Church in places where otherwise we could not go. Each gift of money or goods strengthens the Church, the Body of Christ, to do its work in the entire world. We are grateful for the opportunity to share in its work as a useful member of the Body. We pray, "Accept from grateful hearts, O Lord, our gifts and bless them to the coming of Thy Kingdom".

FELLOWSHIP is best described as the close bond of love and understanding between Christian witnesses. Like Happiness, it is best achieved when it is not pursued for its own sake but when it comes as a natural by-product of our life together in Christ. Christian fellowship is the wonderful reward of worshipping, studying, giving and serving with other women in the Church.

WORSHIP, STUDY, SERVICE, GIFTS, FELLOWSHIP—these are the elements that should all be present in the program of the Churchwomen. They will of course be carried out first of all in our local parishes. But all five, from prayer through fellowship, should take us beyond our parishes to our communities, our diocese, our nation and the world.

THE TRIENNIAL MEETING

The Triennial Meeting of the Women of the Church is held concurrently with General Convention, and is composed of delegates from each Diocese and Missionary District. At the invitation of General Convention, delegates attend certain joint sessions in order that the women may be informed concerning the Church's Program and Budget.

From this gathering of representatives of all the women throughout the Church, a great deal of inspiration and knowledge is brought back to the Dioceses, where it is influential in determining the policies of the women, and is helpful to them in planning their diocesan programs. Two of the high-lights of "Triennial" are: the presentation of the United Thank Offering for the triennium, and the consideration of a budget for the allocation of the Offering and its use during the coming triennium.

THE GENERAL DIVISION OF WOMEN'S WORK

The General Division of Women's Work, formerly known as the National Executive Board of the Woman's Auxiliary, is the body which formulates plans and sends out suggestions to the women of the church to implement the carrying out of National Council's policies and directives. Its only program is the OFFICIAL PROGRAM of the Church.

The General Division of Women's Work is composed of twenty-one members: eight members-at-large elected by the Triennial Meeting; eight members elected from the Provinces, one to represent each Province; one representative each from the Girls' Friendly Society, Daughters of the King, Church Periodical Club, one member of National Council, plus the Executive Director.

The defined purpose of the Division is:

- to help women to a fresh awareness and understanding of the mission of the Church
- to help women and men understand and accept their role as laity in the Church
- to represent the women of the Church in the total program of the Church
- to be in touch with developments in the life and work of women in society
- to counsel with the women of the Church, as new roles for them arise, and new patterns and work emerge

The work laid out and planned by the Division is carried out by a paid staff, consisting of an Executive Director, Associate Secretaries and their assistants. Each of the Secretaries keeps in close personal contact with her corresponding chairmen in the Dioceses, and it is in this way that the directives of National Council are channeled through the General Division of Women's Work, the Staff Secretaries, the Diocesan Chairmen, and from them down to the Branch Chairmen, whose responsibility is to see that is finally transmitted to "the last women in the last pew."

THE PROVINCE

The National Church is divided into 8 provinces, or geographic areas composed of dioceses and missionary districts. The Diocese of North Carolina is located in the Fourth Province, called the Province of Sewanee. It is composed of fifteen dioceses: North Carolina, East Carolina, Western North Carolina, South Carolina, Upper South Carolina, Georgia, Atlanta, Mississippi, Louisiana, Alabama, Tennessee, Kentucky, Lexington, Florida, and South Florida. A provincial Synod is held each intervening year between General Conventions. The Synod has no authority to legislate but is solely for inspiration, education and the promotion of missionary interests, including college work.

Coinciding with the Synod, a meeting of the Provincial Episcopal Churchwomen is held. Each diocesan unit of the ECW is currently entitled to send five delegates (including a minority delegate) in addition to the Diocesan President, who is automatically a delegate and a member of the Provincial Executive Board.

The purpose of the Provincial Meetings are similar to those of the Synod and several joint sessions are usually arranged.

The Fourth Province with five other southern dioceses is co-owner of the University of the South, at Sewanee, Tennessee. Each summer the province sponsors a summer conference for adult groups at Sewanee on the campus of the University.

PROVINCE OF SEWANEE

THE DIOCESE

The diocese is the basic legislative and administrative unit of the Episcopal Church, composed of a geographical group of parishes and missions under the jurisdiction of a Diocesan Bishop. A diocese is generally speaking a self-supporting unit, whereas a missionary district is still dependent upon the National Council for a proportion of its support.

The Bishop of a Diocese may be assisted in his work by:

1. A Bishop Coadjutor, who shares jurisdiction and automatically succeeds to the office in the resignation or death of the Bishop.
2. A Suffragan Bishop, who does not share jurisdiction nor succeed the Bishop automatically, but who may be elected to fill that office, or may be elected to serve in another diocese or missionary district.

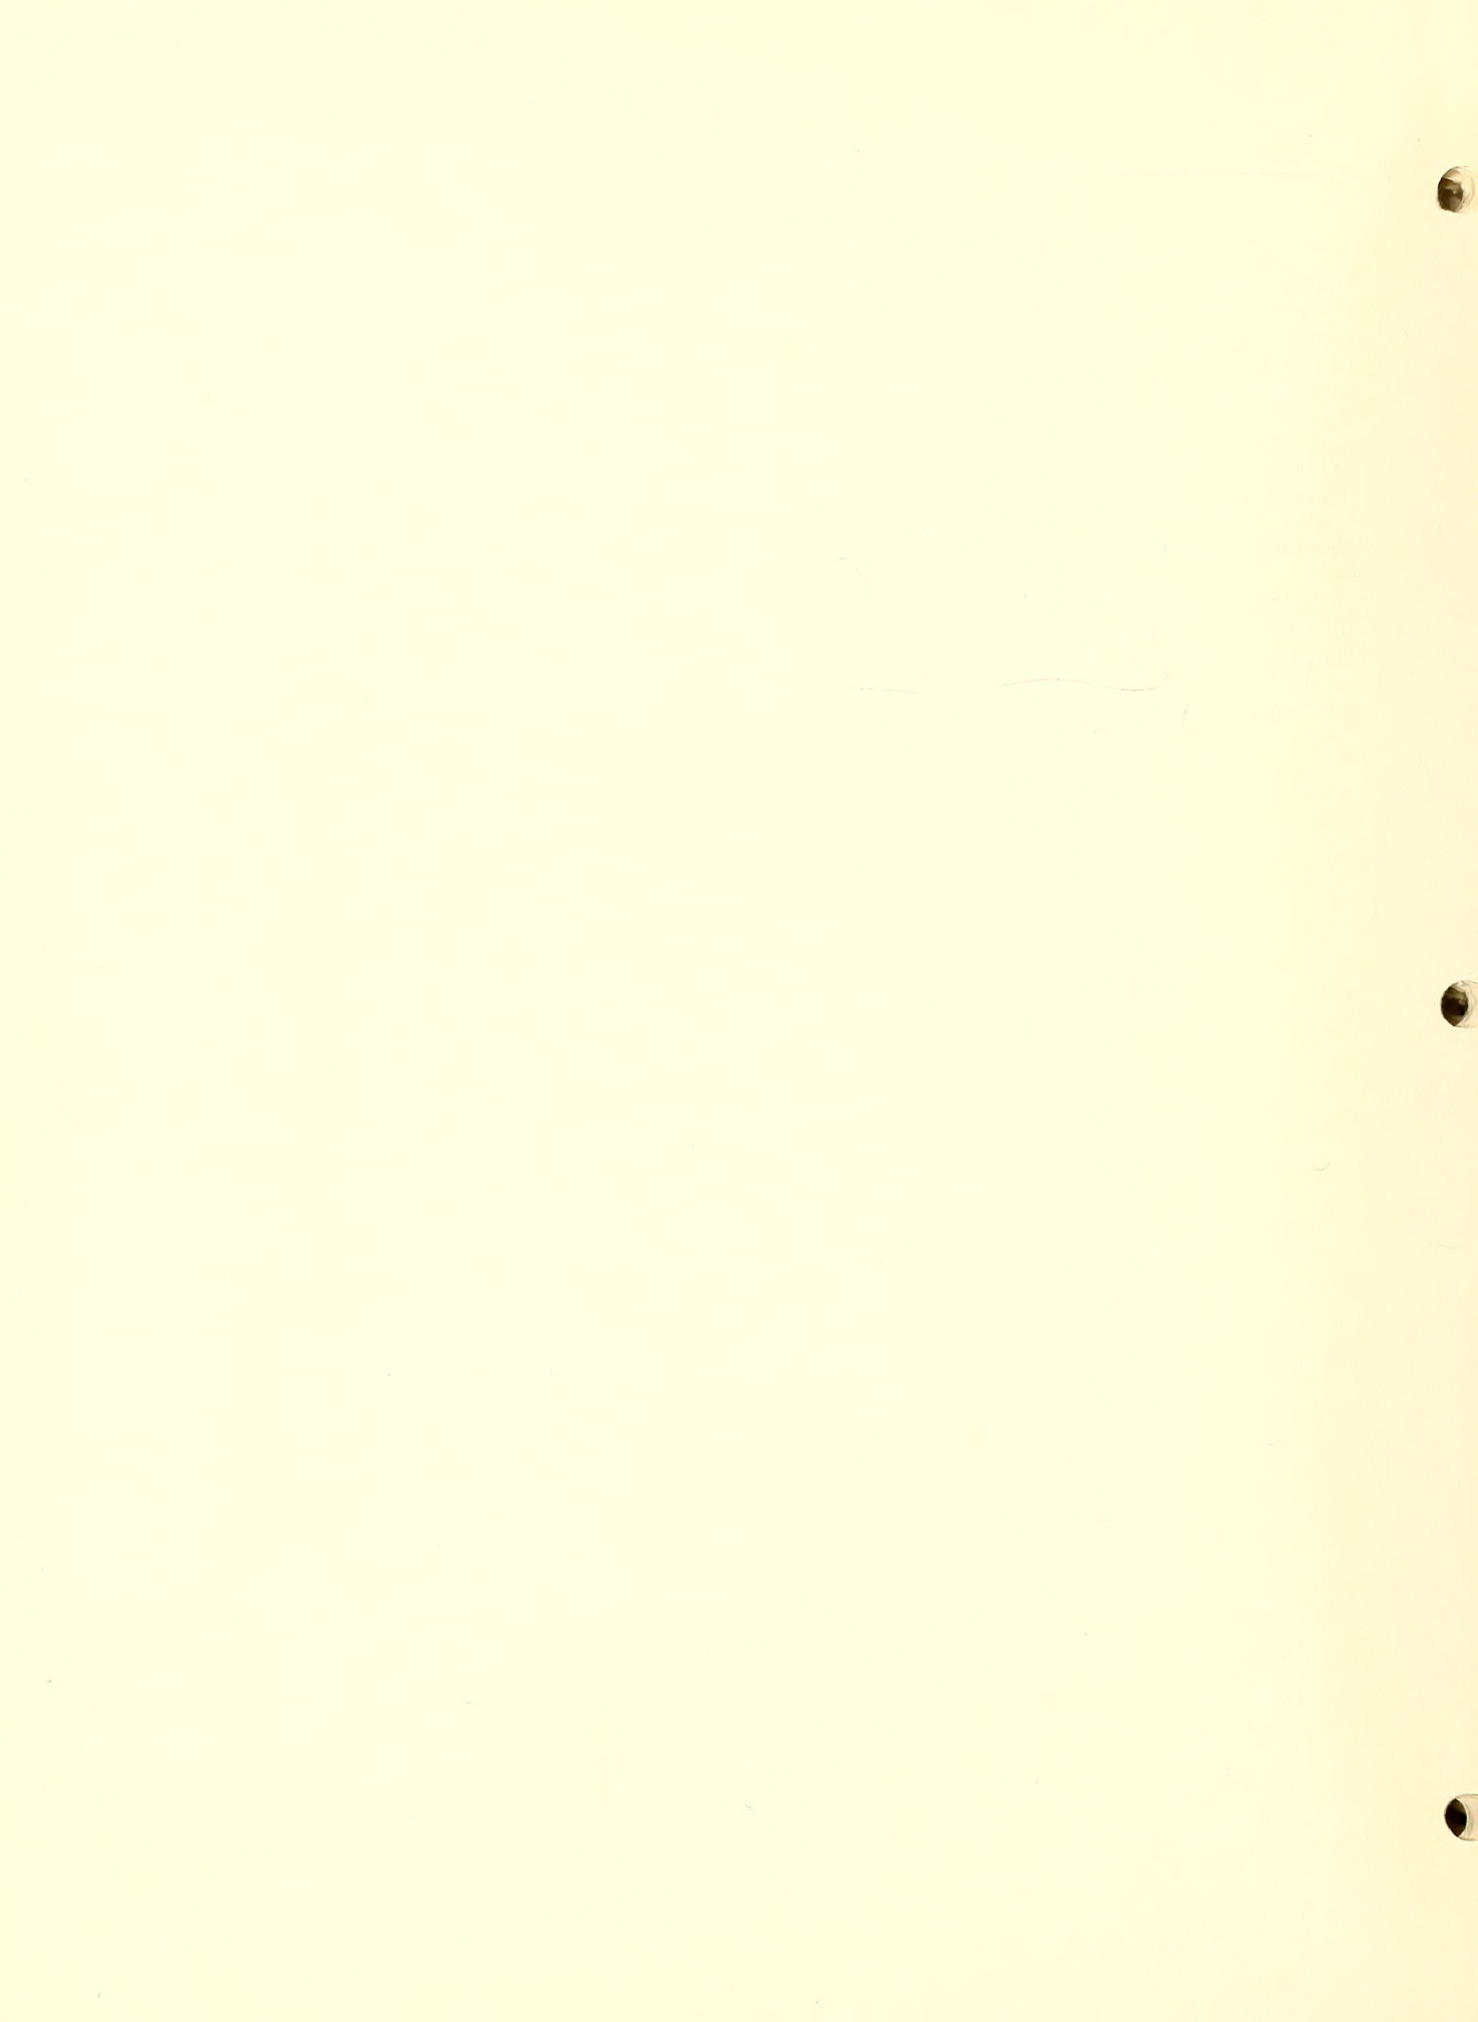

THE DIOCESE OF NORTH CAROLINA

The Annual Convention is the legislative body of the Diocese, which is empowered to enact laws (called canons), adopt a budget and transact such other business as may further the program of the diocese. It is composed of all canonically resident clergy and of lay delegates: four from each parish, one from each mission.

The Executive Council is the executive arm of the Diocesan Convention corresponding to the National Council. Composition varies in different dioceses. In this Diocese it is composed of "the Bishop, the Bishop Coadjutor, and the Suffragan Bishop, if there be such; nine clergymen, and nine laymen to be elected by the Convention; three lay women to be elected by the Convention upon nominations by the Episcopal Churchwomen; and a representative of the Laymen's Association upon nomination of the Association." (Canon XVI, sec. 1) The Council is divided into departments similar to those of the National Council. As of June, 1963 they will consist of: Departments of Finance, Christian Education, Christian Social Relations, Promotion and Publicity, Institutions, Overseas Missions, and Church Extension, and College Work. According to a policy resolution of the Council, Diocesan Chairmen of Missions the Episcopal Churchwomen will automatically become members of corresponding diocesan departments. Through these departments the work of the Church is carried out in the Diocese.

The Executive Council may also employ staff assistants. Currently it has a Business Manager, a Director of Program, an Assistant Director of Program and such bookkeeping and secretarial help as seems necessary.

Convocations. This Diocese is divided into seven geographical areas, variously designated as convocations or districts. In this Diocese district meetings of the Episcopal Churchwomen are generally held separately from the convocation meetings, which include the clergy and representatives of the Laymen and Young Churchmen as well as the women. Like the province, the convocations have no legislative authority, but exist for purposes of inspiration, education and the promotion of missionary interests, both within and without the Diocese.

DIOCESAN INSTITUTIONS

ST. MARY'S SCHOOL AND JUNIOR COLLEGE

St. Mary's dates back to 1842. It is located in Raleigh, N. C. At the present time it provides two years of High School and two years of college. It is owned by the five Dioceses of North Carolina and South Carolina. The school is open to qualified students and its applications far outnumber the students who can be accommodated. Approximately 55% of the student body comes from the Episcopal Church. There are obvious physical needs at St. Mary's—among them a new library and additional endowment.

SAINT AUGUSTINE'S COLLEGE

St. Augustine's College, located in Raleigh, was chartered in 1867. ~~At present it has a student body of 732. Of this number 225 are Episcopalians.~~ It has 45 faculty members. One third of the negro clergy of our Church have had some part of their education here. The college is co-educational and offers music and art, business administration, teacher training, health and physical education, pre-medical, pre-legal, pre-theological training. It is in need of additional dormitory and classroom space.

EPISCOPAL HOME FOR THE AGEING

The Episcopal Home for the Ageing, located in Southern Pines, N. C. has already started and it is hoped that it will be finished in 1963. The land consists of 13½ acres. The initial building will accommodate from 40 to 45 persons. It will have a chapel, infirmary, lounges and handicraft rooms. There will be room for 10 or 12 cottages or apartments for those who will be guests of the home but prefer to live in their separate quarters. Already there have been more applications than the present planned space will provide.

THE TERRACES

The Terraces, located in Southern Pines, consists of a beautiful home valued at about $140,000.00. It is used as a Conference and Retreat Center, and has been widely used during the few years that the Diocese has owned it. About 35 people can be accommodated, and it may be used both by Diocesan groups and by individual parishes for meetings or retreats.

THE THOMPSON ORPHANAGE

The Thompson Orphanage, located in Charlotte, last year celebrated its 75th anniversary. It is located on 52 acres of land. Forty acres of this tract have been rented to the Charlotte Town Mall. This was the property that was the farm and dairy. The Orphanage has acquired 422 acres in the country and will move to its new location in a few years. There are at present about 60 children at the Orphanage. In addition to caring for children at the Institution, studies and plans are being made to expand the work to foster home care and small boarding homes which will house about 8 children plus a couple of foster parents.

THE UNIVERSITY OF THE SOUTH

The University of the South, Sewanee, Tennessee, is owned by 21 southern Dioceses, one of which is the Diocese of North Carolina. It consists of the College of Arts and Sciences, the School of Theology, The Military Academy. The charter was issued in 1858. The magnificent chapel was completed in 1960. It will soon embark upon an extensive building and improvement program.

VADE MECUM

Vade Mecum is located 26 miles North of Winston-Salem in the Sauras Mountains of Stokes County, North Carolina. It is the Camp and Conference center of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of North Carolina.

The program at Vade Mecum is under the direction of the Rev. ~~Wm. A. Von~~, Assistant Director of Program for the Diocese and is a part of the Church's Summer program for boys and girls, young people, and adults. It offers the adventure, good times, and variety in experience which appeal to young people as well as adults.

KANUGA

Kanuga, the conference center of the Episcopal Church, means a great deal in the life of the Church. The Executive Committee of the Kanuga Board has stated the purpose of Kanuga as being "an extension of the Christian Education Departments of the owning Dioceses on a summer level."

Kanuga is owned by the five Carolina Dioceses and the bulk of the support comes from right here in the Carolinas, though there are a good number of individuals outside the Carolinas who contribute.

New conferences have been added in order to serve the various interests of a greater number of people: a Conference on Christian Witness, a Christian Drama Workshop, a Conference for our young people who are entering college in the fall; then there are the two sessions of Adult Conference, the two Family Conferences, the Youth Leadership Conference, and the Young People's Conference, plus four sessions each of the camps for boys and girls. These make up the full and varied program at Kanuga.

ORGANIZATION OF A LOCAL BRANCH

Membership. Every woman who is a communicant of the Episcopal Church is obviously an "Episcopal Church-woman". As such her first loyalty is to her parish, its worship and program whatever that may be. Remembering, however, that the aim of the organization known as Episcopal Churchwomen" is to help every woman find her place in the life of the parish and the mission of the Church, we would hope that every woman communicant would like to be an active member of the organization. Even if it is not always possible for all women communicants to attend meetings, the needs, talents and varying responsibilities of all women of the parish should be kept in mind when planning the organizational structure, the time of meetings and the program and projects.

Structure. The local organization of a branch may be as simple or as complex as the particular situation seems to warrant. In general it is advisable to have only one over-all woman's organization in each parish or mission. If the group is large or has very different needs, the group may be divided into smaller units, called chapters, for more effective service and to permit more women to participate. There are no set rules as to how this should be done, but it is important to guard against fragmentation and preserve the spirit of unity and fellowship which should pervade the entire group. (213)

Officers. It is recommended that medium and large branches elect officers corresponding to the Diocesan officers and in addition such others as may be needed locally. Very small branches may wish to have a simpler structure, and perhaps combine certain related officers. The important thing is to see that all types of activities—worship, study, service, gifts and fellowship are included and that the Church beyond the parish in diocese and world are not forgotten. The pamphlet Women in your parish: a Handbook for today (National Council, 25¢) can be especially helpful.

Executive Board. The Executive Board of a branch is usually composed of the elected officers, committee chairmen, chapter chairman and any member of the National Council, General Division of Women's Work, Provincial Board or Diocesan Executive Board who is a communicant of the parish. The rector may choose to be an ex officio member. Since this group may be large, it is often advisable to have a smaller planning committee composed of the rector, the President, Chairmen of Devotional Life, Christian Education, Christian Social Relations, Missions and Treasurer (with perhaps one or two others if it seems advisable locally) to meet together once or twice a year to plan the programs in the widest sense (all activities), to insure coordination between the different departments and some relationship between the worship, study, service and giving of the women of the parish.

Any branch of twenty-five members or less does not need an Executive Board, but again may profit from having a small committee such as that suggested above which meets once or twice a year to plan the program and activities, including either a budget or some plan of giving to the parish or the mission of the Church. Of course the tentative plans of either a small committee or an Executive Board are subject to the approval of the entire group in a general meeting of the branch.

Minimum responsibilities of each branch.

Prompt attention and reply to communications from diocese or district.

Complete and accurate listing of all officers with notification of changes as they occur.

Representation at District and Annual Meetings, with reports to the branch.

Payment of a pledge to the Diocesan Budget of the Episcopal Churchwomen.

— A program of activity centered in worship, strengthened by study and implemented by loving service and gifts of time, money and self.

From the diocese each branch may expect information channelled from the National Church and the General Division, help and assistance in specific departments, inspiration and instruction at such special opportunities as the Vade Mecum Conference, retreats and other special meetings and institutes. There should be a two-way line of communication.

PRESIDENT

The task of the President is primarily an executive one. She should be concerned with the over-all program of the branch and with seeing that the duties of each officer are carried out, as well as her own. As coordinator, she stands at the center, trying to see that all activities are in the proper proportion and relationship to each other, so that a balanced program results. She is the leader, who has the responsibility of thinking and planning ahead and then by encouragement and example helping to see that talk is translated into action. She is the Church's ambassador in the community, representing the women both officially and unofficially in many ways. Hers is a large task which requires dedication, hard work and much prayer.

RESPONSIBILITIES OF A BRANCH PRESIDENT

In general:

1. Prepare for leadership by private prayer and meditation and by participation in corporate worship.
2. Consult your rector frequently and also cooperate with the Bishop, Diocesan and District officers
3. Know your own constitution thoroughly and that of the diocese. Encourage all officers to do the same.
4. Appoint such committees as necessary locally and act as an ex officio member of the same. Check the Diocesan calendar frequently so that these committees, especially Finance Committee and Nominating Committee may function in time to meet diocesan deadlines.
5. Read all communications from district and diocese and attend to them promptly.
6. Be as well informed as possible on all phases of the Church's work. Especially read the Churchman and the Episcopalian and encourage others to do so.
7. Stress the importance of coordinated planning, so that worship has some relation to study and both to giving and service.
8. See the work of the branch is evaluated once a year, either by the Executive Board or the general meeting (in a small branch). The Evaluation Aids in this book will be helpful as well as the report forms sent to the Diocesan officers.
9. Know as many members personally as possible and especially see that new members are welcomed.
10. Attend all District meetings, Annual Meeting, Vade Mecum or Kanuga if possible and encourage others to attend.
11. Encourage cooperation in community and interdenomination activities.
12. Keep necessary records and files and help your successor by passing them on and orienting her in other ways, so that she may build on what has been accomplished.

To individual officers and committee chairmen:

1. Know the duties and responsibilities of each officer.
2. Fill appointive offices with great care, trying to develop new leadership.
3. Delegate responsibilities and encourage each officer to feel that her duties are important, but also try to see tactfully that duties are carried out.
4. See that each officer passes on her notebook and other information to her successor. If possible arrange special orientation or training sessions for incoming officers. This may be done at an Executive Board meeting (if there is one) or in cooperation with other nearby parishes, if not done by the District.

As Presiding officer:

1. Call and preside at Executive Board Meetings (if you have one). Have a planned agenda but allow sufficient time for all reports and for unexpected business. If you rush through meetings, important material may never come before the group.
2. Preside at all general meetings, with enough parliamentary procedure to keep meetings orderly and efficient.
3. See that important announcements from the President's letter or other sources are read or otherwise communicated to the group as a whole. Check facts and dates carefully.
4. Try to see that decisions are group decisions. Teamwork is important.
5. Express your own conviction that the service of Our Lord is a joy and a privilege. Enthusiasm is contagious and your spirit will affect others.
6. Remember always that the spirit of Christian love in an organization is more important than any specific plan or program.

RESPONSIBILITIES OF A ^{Convention} DISTRICT CHAIRMAN

1. Adapt the general responsibilities of branch presidents to conform to you.
2. Appoint such committees as are necessary (Nominating and hospitality)

3. Have at least one Board Meeting a year—preferably before the Fall District Meeting.
4. Plan, with the help of your district officers, the fall and spring meetings. Secure speakers, decide details etc.
5. Preside at the Board and District Meetings.
6. Support your district chairmen in their work.
7. Be ready to help any small branch in your district in their program planning for the year.
8. Carry out the wishes of the diocesan president in channeling information to your district.

EVALUATION AIDS

It is always important that we constantly evaluate the organization, program and activities of the Episcopal Churchwomen. Remembering always our aims and purposes and the fact that we are a part of the total parish life, these questions may be useful in evaluation.

1. Does God really come first in all our plans and activities?
2. Do we understand the Christian faith and see the relevance of it for the totality of our lives?
3. Do we see ourselves as part of the total structure of the parish and cooperate closely with the rector and other parish organizations?
4. Do we help lay the foundation for Christian living by:
 - a. Giving every member an opportunity to develop spiritually?
 - b. Developing a sense of personal responsibility for the Mission of the Church?
 - c. Creating a body of well-informed women?
 - d. Developing new and capable leadership?
5. Does ~~your~~ parish bear the marks of a Christian family where members care for one another? Do newcomers feel loved and wanted?
6. Is our program of worship and work based on the needs and abilities of the members of the parish? People are important.
7. Does our program of worship and work lead the women to love and serve not only the members of her own race, nation and creed, but of every race, nation and creed?
8. Do all the women of the parish, especially the younger women and the working women, share in the program of the Church? Does it have something worthwhile to offer them in keeping with their limited time and special responsibilities?
9. Is our program too concerned with meeting our own needs and not enough with doing the work of Christ in the world? Is it broad enough to include every woman, flexible enough to include every service, challenging enough to create the wish to share in it?

INSTRUCTIONS FOR SECRETARIES OF DEVOTIONAL LIFE

To WORSHIP GOD is the first business of every parish and its organizations. It is not enough that we do good work, give liberally, study well, or conduct our meetings in a good business-like manner. Opening and closing these meetings with prayer, if done routinely, will not do. Prayer and worship must be intergal, vital parts of them, parts of their reason for being. Worship must be the central act that gives meaning to all other activities of service and fellowship. We come together to find inspiration, power and direction to do not our work, but God's work.

The Devotional Life Secretary is responsible for much of the success of the work done by the Episcopal Churchwomen in her parish. She sets the tempo for the spiritual awareness of the group. To do this she must constantly seek to deepen her own devotional life. She must make her own specific commitments for daily periods of prayer and devotional reading. Through this discipline and regular, whole-hearted participation in corporate worship in church, especially the Holy Communion, she will find inspiration, power and guidance.

It is not by what we say, or by what we do, but by what we are that we draw others into the life of prayer. It is only when we offer our whole lives to God that we can become the kind of people through whom He can reach others.

THE FOLLOWING ARE ONLY GUIDES AND SUGGESTIONS. Feel free to alter or change in any way to suit your specific parish needs.

- DUTIES:
- 1—The responsibility for prayer and worship is in the hands of the clergy. In all your plans it is essential that you seek your rector's guidance and approval.
 - 2—Serve on the planning committee for the Episcopal Churchwomen of your parish. If not invited, ask to attend.
 - 3—Plan worship services for meetings. This includes General Meetings, Chapter Meetings, and Board Meeting. Remember Seasons of Church Year.
 - 4—Plan Quiet Days at parish level, possibly during Advent or Lent. Encourage the women in your parish to participate in District Quiet Day and Diocesan Retreats.
 - 5—Plan corporate communions for Special Days and groups, such as the working women, kitchen committees, sewing groups, bazaar committees, etc. Clear dates with Rector to avoid conflict.
 - 6—District Devotional Life Secretaries should hold at least one Workshop or School of Prayer during the year. Parish secretaries should hold workshops in her parish if there is more than one chapter.
 - 7—Assemble a bookshelf and tract rack of devotional material. Keep up to date with new material. Reading is essential to spiritual growth.
 - 8—With the help of your Rector encourage and assist in forming prayer groups and Bible study groups.
 - 9—Plan with other faiths for World Day of Prayer and other Council of Churches activities. Encourage attendance.
 - 10—Share your program with members unable to participate regularly. Mothers with young children, the sick, etc.
 - 11—Attend District meetings, Vade Mecum or Kanuga, and other conferences if possible. Encourage chapter devotional leaders to attend workshops.

TECHNIQUES:

- 1—Let us remember that in all our prayers we seek first of all to be STILL in God's presence. In our meetings let us fence off our prayer from our talk and busyness by a few moments of silence when we can think together humbly and quietly of God's love. This pause could be preceded by a line from a Psalm or by one of the opening sentences from Morning or Evening Prayer.
- 2—In general remember that the classic aspects of prayer include: Adoration and praise, Confession and Absolution, Thanksgiving, Intercession and Petition, Listening and Dedication.
- 3—Allow plenty of time to prepare a service.
- 4—Always be prepared to open or close a meeting with a prayer upon request, even if this has not been in the original planning.
- 5—Do not become stereotyped. Remember that the material and methods to be used are limited only by your imagination.
- 6—When leading, pray thoughtfully—slowly—and pause between prayers.
- 7—Do not be afraid to use informality or contemporary language.
- 8—Keep services and prayers pertinent. (Consider subject matter of program)
- 9—It is sometimes helpful to have devotions in the middle or at the end of the meeting; or at the time of discussion of a special problem or project.
- 10—Enlist attention and group participation by means of litanies, prayers in unison, and by having others take the service or assist you. (Provide copies of the material for everyone).
- 11—When a minister is present, ask him to pronounce the Benediction. Otherwise change the wording from direct to indirect. Ex. "May the Lord bless us and keep us," rather than "Bless you and keep you."

12—A suggested brief form of Worship at meetings could be:

- (a) A short reading from the Bible or a devotional book to lift our hearts and minds to God.
- (b) Special prayers for work at hand and timely concerns.
- (c) Prayers in which all join, such as the Lord's Prayer or Gen. Thanksgiving.
- (d) Benediction.

Refer to Bibliography section of Handbook for book suggestions.

We all feel inadequate to the task before us, but rather than be discouraged let this helpless feeling turn us to God, who is waiting for us to ask his help. When our own resources run out God is waiting to take up the slack.

TO CHRISTIAN EDUCATION CHAIRMEN:

I know that those of you who were able to attend the Christian Education Workshop in Chapel Hill in March feel much better prepared to cope with planning for next year's work. It is with great trepidation that I take over Eileen Greenwood's job as Secretary of Christian Education, so right now all I feel capable of doing is repeating what she presented at Chapel Hill.

I. PLANNING AIDS

- (a). ASK! Ask; ask not just once nor in just one way - but several times and in several ways - What are the women in your branch really interested in. And don't just ask superficially - really dig!
- (b). LISTEN! Listen to the answers you asked for. Be sure you are really listening to what they say and not just to what you want to hear. A special committee or small group to help you ask and listen and plan will increase the chances of having interesting and effective programs.
- (c). LOOK! Stop and take a good look at your whole women's program, its purpose and its relation to the parish. An excellent new booklet on this is "Women in Your Parish," from National Council, 815 Second Ave., New York 17, N. Y.

II. STUDY MATERIALS

(a) WHAT'S NEW? Ecumenical Series: Our Unity in Christ: A Bible Study by Suzanne de Dietrich (35¢); Baptized into the One Church, by Kilmer Myers (40¢); The Meaning of the Quadrilateral, by Charles D. Kean (65¢); Ecumenical Encounters in Christian Unity: Background Information, by Charles D. Kean (95¢); Salty Christians, by Hans-Reudi Weber (75¢); order from National Council, 815 Second Ave., New York 17, N.Y.

Mission Studies: Home theme, Spanish Speaking Americans; Overseas theme, The Church's Mission Among New Nations; order from Friendship Press, 475 Riverside Dr., New York 10027. These are not yet off the press, but advance information is now available from Friendship.

Play - "Bitter Bread," by Walt Anderson, forthcoming, soon from National Council, related to Home theme. Watch "Findings" and the "Episcopalian" for announcements.

(b) WHAT'S STILL GOOD? See Christian Education section of last year's Handbook of Information for bibliography (pps. 22-28) for good study courses still available.

(c) WHAT'S COMING? In preparation for next year, study of the Anglican Congress document "Mutual Responsibility and Interdependence in the Body of Christ," available from National Council (75¢). The Churchwomen's Conference in June at Vade Mecum will afford many insights into this, as will the program of the General Convention and Triennial in St. Louis in October. Watch your "Episcopalian" and "Living Church" for more about this.

PLEASE CALL IN ME OR OUR DISTRICT CHRISTIAN EDUCATION CHAIRMAN FOR ANY FURTHER INFORMATION OR HELP THAT YOU MIGHT WANT. PLAN NOW FOR YOUR 1964-65 PROGRAMS!

CHRISTIAN SOCIAL RELATIONS

The scope of Christian Social Relations is enormous and the opportunities limitless. Primary responsibility of the Secretary at each level is to understand the meaning of CSR and the purposes of the Church's Program. This understanding is achieved largely through study. Workshops and institutes contribute immeasurably but all can study and our Church's National CSR Department provides exceptional direction. (See Resources Section for basic tools. Asterisk designates essentials). Ideally each Secretary would be a subscriber to the CSR Bulletin. District Secretary needs Handbook and Bulletin. These attempt to interpret organization and function of CSR Program to individuals and groups responsible for CSR throughout the Church.

Great new social issues developing in areas of rapid social change continually confront the Church. We are able to help strengthen the social education and action program in the local church through the channels of our Women's Division. We are urgently needed to stimulate interest in the annual social study theme or Annual Coordinated Emphasis in Social Education and Action. In this annual Emphasis the churches work together to focus attention upon a subject or area of concern chosen for its extreme significance and timeliness. Pertinent materials are prepared. Action suggestions are numerous. Aimed at promoting social benefit and preventing national or worldwide "catastrophic social illness," these themes always warrant our serious attention. In planning for any given year of study and activity, the current Emphasis should be considered a matter of high priority in CSR.

DISTRICT SECRETARY should: Maintain effective liaison between Diocesan and Branch Secretary by:

1. Emphasizing to Branch Secretary the responsibility for conscientious effort in behalf of a planned social education and action program in line with the Church's recommendations.
2. Provide leadership training opportunity by arranging workshops at District or Sub-District level, at times more appropriate than in conjunction with Semi-Annual District Meeting.
3. Be alert to frequent and oftentimes sudden changes in branch leadership and assist new or inexperienced secretaries.
4. Furnish successor with adequate file of background and other current materials assembled during her triennial term.

BRANCH SECRETARY should: Study to understand the Church's Program in CSR, determine what the program ought to be in her particular situation, and interest members in it. She should:

1. Plan Social Study Program and encourage appropriate Social Action Follow-up.
2. Serve as member of Branch Committee on Program
 - a. Engage in joint planning with Secretary of Christian Education. CSR must be included at the planning stage. It is entitled to a share of formal meeting time and themes are always related.
 - b. Administer program through chapter secretaries.
3. If your Parish has CSR Committee, serve on it, coordinating activity of the women when possible.
4. Ask cooperation of your Branch Executive Board in making budgetary provision for purchase of essential materials and attendance at leadership training meetings.
5. Be acquainted with program of local council of United Church Women. Relate program of ECW to such special observances as World Day of Prayer, May Fellowship Day, and World Community Day. Support Migrant Ministry.
6. Share community responsibility by encouraging support of community agencies. Get facts. Determine which best suits interest and abilities of your group.
7. Be prepared to stress annual cycle of continuing CSR Emphasis beginning with UN Week and Halloween collection for UNICEF. (Bulletin will post you in advance, furnishing materials and suggestions).
8. Emphasize responsibility in government—town, county, state, and national. (See MEMO—Resource Section).
9. Encourage individual and group gifts to designated general or specific needs.
10. Furnish carefully kept file of materials to successor.

THE UNITED THANK OFFERING

The United Thank Offering is an offering of grateful Churchwomen everywhere—a three-fold gift of prayer, gifts and joyful service. It is a gift, over and above your regular contribution to your Churchwomen's group, given in thanksgiving for all God's gifts so freely bestowed—life, health, safety; all God's beauty in the world about us, strength in sorrow and the means of grace to meet each day.

At home and overseas, the offering from our Blue Boxes goes to provide medical care, to feed and clothe the needy, to teach children in Christian Schools, to build new buildings and repair old ones, to provide equipment and supplies, and greatest of all, to bring the gift of Christ and His love to the spiritually starved.

There is an old prayer which says, "We thank Thee for the gift of Thy dear Son, our Lord. Grant that we, who have received Him in our hearts, may joyfully go forth with Him on many errands." Our Blue Box, used prayerfully and often, takes us on His errands to strange and far places, where the need is great and where we can never go ourselves. You, as a United Thank Offering Treasurer, have the opportunity to spread information about this great privilege of Episcopal Churchwomen.

RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE UNITED THANK OFFERING TREASURER

BRANCH:

1. Be sure every woman in your Parish has a Blue Box. Keep U.T.O. foremost in the minds of all members through leaflets, programs and announcements of interest. You may get envelopes or Blue Boxes from your District U.T.O. Treasurer.
2. Arrange with your Rector for the Ingatherings and publicize the time and date. It is the custom to have our Ingatherings twice a year, October 18th, St. Luke's Day and March 25th, Feast of the Annunciation. A Corporate Service of Holy Communion is traditional for these. However, the service need not be held on the specific date. Many churches have their Ingathering at a regular Sunday Service in order that more people may become aware of it.
3. Arrange some alternate way in which people who cannot attend the Ingathering can get their offering to you, but stress attendance as an active and vital part of the offering. The aim and goal should be for an increased participation, as well as the amount received.
4. Please be sure that your Branch Offering reaches your District U.T.O. Treasurer as soon as possible; one check made out to her along with the number of envelopes distributed, the number returned, and the number at the Ingathering Service.

DISTRICT:

1. Keep accurate record of the Offerings from each Branch and send a copy to DIOCESAN U.T.O. TREASURER with one check covering the total offering from your District.
2. Notify Branches of dates of Ingathering and give deadline for sending check to you.
3. Make yourself known to all Branch U.T.O. Treasurers in your District and let them know you are available to help them.

DIOCESAN:

1. Send a letter in late August to the Parish and District U.T.O. Treasurers with instructions for Fall Ingathering. As soon as all reports are in, send a check to Mr. Lindsey M. Franklin, Jr., National Council, 815 Second Avenue, New York 17, N. Y., for the total amount.
2. In February, send a letter as above and a check as soon as all reports are in.
3. Keep accurate records of Offering from each Parish and District.
4. Type report of amount of Offering from each Parish for Yearbook in March, after calendar year has been closed.
5. Write report for Annual Meeting and for Yearbook.
6. Make arrangements before Annual Meeting for the Offering to be taken at the Communion Service at Annual Meeting—this being the Ingathering for the Diocese. The District U.T.O. Treasurers or their representative are asked to do this. Give them a slip of paper with the total amount from their District for the year, which they present with the Offering.

THE UNITED THANK OFFERING

DIOCESAN ALMS BASIN

The idea of the women of the Diocese of North Carolina donating their old pieces of gold and silver in order that we might have our own Diocesan United Thank Offering Alms Basin was presented to the Executive Board of the Woman's Auxiliary by Mrs. B. W. Roberts of St. Phillip's Church, Durham. A committee was appointed in 1953 to bring about the successful completion of this project. This committee consisted of Mrs. William L. Steele of Raleigh, as chairman, Mrs. U. T. Holmes of Chapel Hill, Mrs. Brown Patterson of Greensboro and The Right Reverend Edwin Anderson Penick, Bishop of the Diocese of North Carolina.

Parish U. T. O. Custodians collected cherished mementos of silver and gold and these were sent through the District Custodians to Mrs. Steele. Finally 5 barrels and 2 boxes of metal (silver and gold) were collected from women all over the Diocese, and these were shipped to Mr. Louis F. Glasier of New York who designed and made the Alms Basin. The Basin is centered with the seal of the Diocese executed in gold from the wedding rings, crosses, pins, etc. that were donated. Around the edge of the Basin are the words "Accept, O Lord, from grateful hearts our United Thank Offering".

The Alms Basin was completed and dedicated to the Glory of God by Bishop Penick at the Early Celebration of Holy Communion at the Woman's Auxiliary Annual Meeting, April 20, 1955, at the Chapel of the Cross, Chapel Hill, North Carolina.

The Diocesan Alms Basin is available to the parishes of the Diocese for use at their Spring and Fall United Thank Offering Ingatherings, and may be obtained by contacting the Diocesan United Thank Offering Treasurer.

PERSONNEL AND COLLEGE WORK

The function of Personnel should be to educate and keep before the women of the church the need and opportunities for women workers in church vocations. (Recruiting—Training—Placement). To develop scholarship funds; to help young people take part in summer work projects; to encourage and participate in the Ember Day Corporate Communion and Special Offering for the fund to train women.

The function of College Work is to help college students and faculty continue to be the church where they are. There are many and varied suggested ways of participating in this important mission of our church—we list some.

BRANCH PERSONNEL CHAIRMAN

SHOULD:

1. Be thoroughly informed on types of professions, work, needs, qualifications, training etc. offered by the church.
2. Be responsible to have one program on Personnel each year. Work with the Rector seeing if the need for women workers (and men) can be presented once a year to young people in parish and church school. When your Rector preaches on the ministry, ask him to also present church work as a vocation for women.
3. Place recruiting materials and training school pamphlets in your tract rack. Get materials in Parish Bulletin. Supply High School Advisors with literature.
4. See that your young people (H.S. and College) are informed about Summer Service Projects.
5. Start a "Talent File" listing men and women with their gifts, talents and interest etc. which may be used for volunteer work in the church or community.
6. Join with women of other churches and try to see that a Vocational Guidance Conference or workshop is planned for Jr. and Sr. H.S. students in your area.
7. PRAY—that the right persons will offer themselves for the work of the church; ask that prayers for recruits be included in church school, church, young people and womens groups.
8. Plan (with Rector and Devotional Life Chm.) and urge participation in the EMBER DAY Corporate Communion and Special Offering for Diocesan Scholarship Fund for training women.

Remember what is said of the Priesthood and Church Vocations in the home is probably ten times as telling as what we teach in the church school and from the pulpit.

COLLEGE WORK—ALL BRANCHES

1. Accept the responsibility for getting the names of all young people going away to college in fall from your parish and:
 - a. Prepare the "Letters or Cards of Commendation" to be sent to the Chaplain or Parish Priest in the Academic Community.
 - b. Plan a Corporate Communion breakfast before they go away in the fall and when they return for the Christmas holidays.
 - c. Keep in touch with students.
 1. Write personal letters to students who are away.
 2. Remember anniversaries such as birthdays, confirmation, etc.
 3. Send Church Bulletin, Parish Mailings, Devotional Materials, Forward, etc.
2. PRAY—Remember students, teachers, college workers, and chaplains in your prayers, both corporate and individual.
3. Support the Church Society for College Work in its pioneering college work program. ($10. or more to become a member. Try to get the society in your budget). Subscribe yourself to the CHURCH REVIEW, published by the Church Society for College Work. $1. per year.
4. Plan "So You're Going To College" sessions for H.S. students. Have rector write a letter of congratulations to your H.S. graduates enclosing pamphlet, "So you're Going to College". Mail booklet, "College Is For Christians", to parents.
5. Budget Scholarships for local students to attend camps, conferences, and other summer work projects.
6. Keep the Church's Mission to the Campus constantly before the Churchwomen, particularly the opportunities within the Diocese.
7. Place suitable materials in your track rack (ie "So you're Going to College".)
8. Welcome students back into full parish life upon returning.

In addition to the above—branches in Academic Communities

SHOULD

1. Welcome All students and faculty to the Parish fellowship by:
 - a. Greeting them when attending church services.
 - b. Inviting them to share in services of Worship, Social functions, choir, church school, etc. (Some Parishes make up a card or sheet listing all services, etc. and give to students)
 - c. Invite students into your home for a meal and to share in your family life for a few hours. Remember to include Foreign Students.
 2. Contact chaplain or priest serving schools in your community.
 - a. Offer your assistance and cooperation, learn of his needs etc.
 - b. Get list of married students. Visit them, possibly one or two couples together—learn their first names, assist them by befriending them—love them—do not try to get them to "join" your church—just help them be the church where they are.
 3. Interest Parish families to offer themselves as "A Family for a Student."
 4. Assist the Canterbury group in every way you can (if none, help organize one or other student groups)
 5. Assist in providing funds for Vocational and other conferences, books, special programs and chaplains discretionary fund.
 6. Have an "Open House" at the parish house, student centers, rectory, or at a faculty home near the campus.
- To sum up—work with the chaplains, priest and women workers in your common task of receiving and incorporating students into the Parish Family.

DISTRICT CHAIRMAN COLLEGE WORK AND PERSONNEL

SHOULD—

Act as liaison between the Diocesan and branch chairman of College Work and Personnel.

1. Be thoroughly informed on types of profession, work, needs, qualifications, training, etc. offered by the Church, (Use all available resource materials).
2. Keep a current file (or notebook) of material and information available on College Work and Personnel. This should be available to branches at all times and must be passed on to your successor. Keep all communications received from branches and Diocesan Officers.
3. Keep in touch with all branch secretaries of College Work and Personnel:
 - a. Encourage them to participate in the total program.
 - b. Periodically see that they follow through with suggestions, instructions as requested.
 - c. Remind them of Ember Date Corporate Communion and any other "Special" dates.

4. Keep in touch with Diocesan Secretary of College Work & Personnel advising her of happenings and progress in District.
 - a. Acknowledge materials and correspondence sent by Diocesan Secretary of College Work and Personnel.
 - b. Send her copies of all communications sent branches.
 - c. Be sure branches use resource materials.
5. Attend District Meetings. (Make a report when necessary)
6. Offer to speak at branches and assist them in any way at all times.

MISSIONS

BRANCH SECRETARY OF MISSIONS

1—Pray daily, mentioning our Diocesan missionaries by name. Use the Calendar of Prayer (for missions) either in the booklet form or as listed monthly in the Episcopalian, or as listed weekly in The Living Church. A new Lenten prayer manual for missions is "Make His Name Glorious".

2—Learn all you can about the Church's mission to the entire Anglican Communion all over the world. If possible subscribe to the Overseas Mission Review and Compass, published by the Overseas Mission Society, ($5.00 a year). Read the pamphlet on "Mutual Responsibility".

3—Try to have one mission program during the year, and brief biographical sketches of individual missionaries or news of where they are and what they are doing. One program idea might be to have a group study of our mission theme, either with the chapters working together or with an interdenominational group.

4—Write to the missionaries telling news of the Diocese, especially at Christmas time, Easter, or on their birthdays. Some personal link of prayer or communication between your parish and another part of the world might add to the interest.

5—Look at a map of the world and see where our missionaries are located.

6—Try to see that your budget is divided 50% inside the parish and 50% outside. Give more than we are asked to,—share what we have with others.

DISTRICT SECRETARY OF MISSIONS

1—In the fall, follow up the notification about the Branch missionary Christmas gift to our affiliated missionaries. Try to have the checks sent in to you by November 15th, so that the Diocesan Treasurer can have them by December 1st. Write one check covering the total amount sent to you from the Branches in your District and send it to the Diocesan Treasurer.

2—The Diocesan Secretary may send you messages to relay to the Branch Secretaries (requests from missionaries about some particular needs; or about speakers who will be in the Diocese, etc.)

DIOCESAN SECRETARY OF MISSIONS

1—Correspond with all the affiliated missionaries, and others for whom we have a particular interest, finding out their needs or wishes. Pass on these requests to the District Secretaries. The same with any information about speakers or missionaries who may be in the Diocese.

2—In the fall remind the Branches about the Missionary Christmas gift.

PROCEDURE FOR HANDLING FUNDS

Missionary Christmas Gift: The BRANCH SECRETARY sends contributions for the Missionary Christmas gift to the DISTRICT Mission Secretary by November 15th. The DISTRICT SECRETARY will send the total amount from all the Branches in her District to the DIOCESAN TREASURER by December 1st. The total amount of all money received from all Districts is divided equally among all active and retired missionaries listed in the year book. Be sure the Branch Treasurer knows that she is to make check out to the District Secretary and not to the Diocesan one.

Other monetary gifts: Send all other monetary gifts for missionaries or missions, domestic or foreign directly from the Branch to the Diocesan Treasurer, with an accompanying letter saying to whom and for what purpose the gift is to go. If it is going overseas, check the amount of postage needed. (See list of airmail postage rates at bottom of missionary assignment sheet.)

Birthday, March 28th.

TUCKER, MRS. A. W., Patrick Henry Hospital for the Chronically Ill, Newport News, Va.

SUPPLY WORK

Supply work, the oldest organized project of the women of the Church, is in a period of change—on national, diocesan and parish levels—in response to the needs of a rapidly changing world. But always it has remained true to its original purpose—to supply the kind of material goods which are a woman's concern and responsibility for her own family.

The General Division of Women's Work has been making a detailed study of Supply Work. The conclusions are summarized as follows:

There are areas where the need for Supply Work (of material goods) is diminishing, and the need for gifts of money to missions is increasing. Sending of free medical supplies continues through Interchurch Medical Assistance and Diocesan Supply Departments may be asked for cash assignments to cover the processing charges. It is recommended that Supply Departments cooperate with Missions Chairmen to personalize missions and contribute to a greater understanding of the mission field. Supply Department should also work closely with Christian Social Relations Chairmen to supply needs which may arise through those channels.

The Diocesan Supply Chairman will continue to accept cash assignments to mission institutions and to distribute the small amount of sewing assigned by the National Department. It will continue to promote the United Clothing Appeal, and furnish information to branches desiring to choose a particular mission project, or to supply a local institution. Order blanks and descriptions of ready-cut garments (from Church World Service) will be sent to those branches who wish to sew and do not receive a share of the National assignment. The branches may then purchase directly from Church World Service as many garments as they wish to make.

DISTRICT: The District Supply Secretary is the link between the Parish Church and the Diocesan Secretary. It is her duty to assist in distributing the sewing allotments, and to be sure they are completed and reported. She promotes the Episcopal Church's part in the United Clothing Appeal, and helps the Parish Supply representative with information, programs, etc.

PARISH: It is the duty of the Parish Supply Secretary to:

1. Make arrangements for the Spring and Fall ingathering of good used clothing.
2. Distribute the clothing collected as may be most suitable and expedient to: Thompson Orphanage, Charlotte; Tuttle Community Center, Raleigh; Church World Service Center, New Windsor, Md. (or one of their collection places); local community or Diocesan institutions.
3. Organize the sewing program if her church participates. The sewing assignments from the National Supply Department will be distributed as may be most practicable to those churches wishing to sew. Any church wishing additional sewing, or not receiving part of the national sewing assignment, can order at its own expense ready-cut garments direct from Church World Service; or in consultation with the Christian Social Relations Chairman, select a sewing project for a local institution.
4. See that the articles sewed are pressed, packed and shipped.
5. Send reports concerning Supply work to both the District and Diocesan Supply Secretaries as well as her Parish president.
6. To present a program on Supply work to her Episcopal Churchwomen's group if asked to do so.
7. Try to enter into a friendly relationship with the recipient of these gifts to learn something of the mission or institution receiving them.

This may lead to an investigation of the Church's work in some particular area. Supply is not to be considered a thing apart from Missionary work, but as one of the ways we help support it.

CHURCH PERIODICAL CLUB

Tarboro

June 5, 1964

Excerpt from Bishop Gooden's letter May 25, 1964:

" I hasten to reply with thanks to your letter informing me that the Church Periodical Club in the Diocese of North Carolina has raised $1300. for the specific purpose to buy books for the library in the Student Center.

" I am not surprised by your generosity and your interest in the Center but we are immensely pleased and grateful.

"Also we hope you will continue with this project for 1964. In other words, our answer is a thankful and hearty "Yes, please do" (to Dolores Pitt's question whether Bishop Gooden will continue to need our CPCgifts for 1964).

"One of the great needs at the University (of Panama) is a good library of reference books in English and Spanish, and a quiet, well-lighted place in which these books can be used and where students can study. Many students study under street lights and there is a scarcity of reference books.

"We are getting lists of these books from the various departments (of the University,) so as to have a really good working library without donations such as the "Flopsy Twins", etc. - - even in Spanish. Therefore, money with which to obtain the books is what we most need. ~~XXXXXXXXXXXX~~

Vertie: If you will spread this information to the women at Vade Mecum, I shall thank you. It is a good chance to get the facts distributed in the diocese. Of course, I shall send a letter to the branch CPC Secretaries as soon as the new Directory is mailed out.

Love,

Dolores

CHURCH PERIODICAL CLUB

The Church Periodical Club has a Handbook of its own, a new edition printed in 1963 for 10¢ a copy. The diocesan Director should see that every Branch and District Secretary of the CPC has one.

From the Handbook, the CPC officer at every level (diocesan, district, and branch) will find a guide in the planning of her job. Special emphasis is given to the Branch Secretary with aids and suggestions for her work.

Since the Church Periodical Club has a fine pattern already, no detailed instructions are necessary here. These general reminders are given for the attention of all officers of the CPC.

Learn the purpose of the CPC; study the Handbook from cover to cover.

Obtain the records and literature from your predecessor in the office.

Keep a supply of CPC literature on hand; distribute it at every opportunity.

Learn the bookkeeping of the CPC; send all cash gifts to the diocesan Director.

Plan a program each year in your Branch, or District. Make it simple, but inclusive of all phases of the work.

Do your best to get the CPC in your Branch budget every year.

Publicize the CPC: Don't let a chance go by to do this. Use Church bulletins and the North Carolina Churchman. Point up the 1st Sunday in May as CPC Sunday in your parish. Sunday folders for this may be ordered through the diocesan Director at $1.00 per 100 copies.

Encourage interested individuals to obtain a Handbook; get one for them.

When in doubt about any phase of the CPC, write the diocesan Director. She will help you.

Use your imagination in finding new ways to promote the CPC; share your ideas by telling the diocesan Director.

Finally, emphasize the purpose of the Church Periodical Club: "To provide reading material for those who could not otherwise obtain it." The CPC is the only organization in the Church that is dedicated to filling this specific need. The printed word is one of the most powerful weapons the Christian may use! The need in the world for the Ministry of the Printed Word is greater than ever before. Every officer of the CPC can help further this Ministry if she will:

Be enthusiastic about the CPC! Learn about the CPC! Tell about the CPC!

DIOCESE OF NORTH CAROLINA
NEW BOUNDARIES FOR DIOCESAN ORGANIZATION

The Executive Council on recommendation of the Bishops and present Convocation Chairmen has fixed the boundaries of Convocations according to the map given.

At the Diocesan Convention in Greensboro, May 8-9, 1962, a new canon, numbered XXXIV was passed, the first section of which reads: "The Executive Council may, on the recommendation of the Diocesan Bishop, divide the diocese into districts to be known as Convocations, and may fix or alter the number and boundaries thereof from time to time. The Council shall coordinate such action with other diocesan organizations divided into districts to the end that the district boundaries of all diocesan organizations shall coincide with those of Convocations.
