COUNSELING SERVICE MINISTRY EFFECTIVE

*George Slaton, Associate Director
Presbyterian Personal and Family Life Center
—Wilmington*

The response to the counseling service ministry of the Presbyterian Personal and Family Life Center at Wilmington has continued to be substantial and encouraging. The Center is seen as one of southeastern North Carolina's primary resources for individuals, couples, and families who want to explore and resolve emotional issues and crises in their lives.

A firm indication of the Center's growth is reflected in the need to acquire additional staff. Recently the Center was fortunate enough to add another qualified therapist to work alongside its current counseling staff, David McInnis, Director, and George Slaton.

Mrs. Ann C. Thacker is the third and newest counselor at the Center. She is a native of Greensboro and has a B. S. degree from East Carolina University.

In 1972 she received her M.Ed. from East Carolina University, and has since worked in a variety of teaching, supervisory, and counseling situations. Ann lives in Wilmington with her husband, Bob, and her daughter, Sunny.

Ann thus brings additional diversification to the expertise of the Center's counseling staff. This compliments the pastoral counseling training of its present staff and, at the same time, furthers and broadens the Center's ministry.

The Presbyterian Personal and Family Life Center counseling has as its cornerstone a service and a ministry within the frame work of the Christian faith, seeking to be an arm of the Church's own vital outreach and ministry as it offers help to persons perplexed and frustrated by the difficulties of everyday emotional life. Ann works closely with David and George and her weekly case load of counselees is gradually increasing as persons contact the Center for help.

Thus the Presbyterian Personal and Family Life Center continues in the tradition of Barium Springs Home for Children in providing support to individuals and families as persons' emotional problems are better seen and understood, as conflicts are resolved, as broken relationships are reconciled, as persons move toward living more whole and fulfilling lives.

The Center's growth in service has steadily increased since its inception. In its first year, a little over 400 hours of service were provided to persons in the Wilmington Presbytery area. In 1984, its sixth year, it is expected that the Center will provide a total of 2500 hours of counseling, consultation, and education.

Counselees range in age from 6 to 70 and come from a wide variety of socio-economic backgrounds. While approximately 45% of counselees come from within a 25 mile radius of Wilmington, the remainder come from throughout Wilmington Presbytery, and 5% from outside the Presbytery. Counselees, as in the past, assume responsibility for 82% of the cost of providing care—the remaining costs being met through church, Presbytery, and Endowment funds.

The staff at the Center is pleased with this ongoing positive response. Presbyterians in North Carolina have good reason to be pleased with their participation in this vital and successful ministry.

Our Sincere Thanks

As we enter into a New Year, the staff and young people at Barium Springs express deepest appreciation to those friends who shared their gifts, their prayers and concerns with us in 1983.

Many of you increased your giving ... many were not able to give as generously as in previous years ... some were not able to send a gift ... and many of you were first time donors in 1983. But without your gifts last year and in previous years we could not have provided the services needed by our youngsters. Thank you so much.

To those of you who mailed your gifts directly to us, we sent our official receipt and a letter of appreciation. To those who gave through your church (many did and will again in 1984), we take this opportunity to express thanks.

And a special word of thanks to those ministers and church treasurers for their generous efforts in our Thanksgiving Offering, which is so important to us.

All of us at Barium Springs wish for each of you a very meaningful and rewarding 1984.

... or so it seems

In this issue we feature the Presbyterian Personal and Family Life Center of Wilmington. This program is represented in our logo by the three figures in the lower right quadrant. The article on page one is by George Slaton, Associate Director of the Center.

At a recent meeting several members of our Board of Regents heard representatives of County Departments of Social Services make some very complimentary remarks about the services of your Family Service Agency. It is always pleasant to hear compliments.

As they were being made, I thought about the difficult transitions we made during the late 1970s. After several years of searching for effective responses to more specialized needs, we began to formulate new programs and new formats for responding to these special needs. Today, thankfully, all four programs are performing well.

No worthwhile goal is achieved easily—particularly one so elusive as offering real help to troubled children and families. It is a tribute to our staff, our Board of Regents and our Church that the patience, persistence and flexibility necessary to reach that goal was forthcoming . . . Or So It Seems.

W. Earle Frazier, ACSW
Executive Director

HIGHLIGHTS From Family and Child Development Center

The Christmas Program at the Center was once again a big success. (If you don't believe it, see accompanying picture.) The children performed for an appreciative audience of about 300 proud parents and grandparents, and other relatives and friends. There were only a few cases of stage fright, stage desertion, and nervous teachers.

Following the program, Santa made his rounds much to the delight of all. The wait for his gifts seemed endless to the older children who were last on his list. But the wait was well worth the time.

Special thanks are extended to the classroom teachers for the many hours of patience and hard work that made this event a success and so much fun for the children. The joy of Christmas is never more evident than in the excited faces of children.

This is license review time for our Day Care Program. It is also the first time with Reade Baker as Director. However, with our experienced and hard working staff, there is nothing to fear. We expect to pass with flying colors again, in spite of Reade's first time through jitters.

*****

There are now 107 children enrolled in the Family and Child Development Center, with a waiting list of 50 children. If you know of a family who wishes to enroll a child in this program, please advise them to apply as early as possible.

I. R. S. and I. R. A.

"Maximize Your 1984 Tax Defense—Open an I. R. A."

"All Wage Earners Can Save Taxes and Increase Retirement Income With I. R. A. . . ."

"How To Cut This Year's Taxes—For Those Who Want To Build A Substantial (Individual) Retirement Account."

The above is just a small sampling of the many advertisements and brochures which investment institutions such as banks, savings and loan associations, brokerage firms, insurance companies, etc. are publishing.

You may ask, "Just what is an IRA?" It is a plan for a gainfully employed person to invest up to $2,000 each year for use after retirement. If one spouse does not work, an additional $250 may be added to the account. By investing your money in this way, you may deduct the amount from your income in your annual tax return to the Internal Revenue Service (IRS).

To reduce current income taxes you should consider opening an IRA (Individual Retirement Account), but extreme caution is recommended. Make sure, as far as possible, that you can afford to "salt the money away" until you are 59½ or older. If you need to withdraw from your IRA account before you are 59½, you would be required to pay a 10% penalty tax not only on the amount withdrawn, but also on withdrawals from deposits which had not matured. Should you become permanently disabled these penalties do not apply.

What happens to your IRA account at death? It depends on the terms of the contract or agreement you signed at the time of your investment. Take time to read it very carefully. Ask questions. Be sure to name both primary and contingent beneficiaries.

All Individual Retirement Account agreements have a paragraph similar to the following:

BENEFICIARY DESIGNATION

The participant designates the following as beneficiary (ies)

Primary Beneficiary (ies):

Name/Relationship _____

Contingent Beneficiary (ies):

Name/Relationship _____

Mailing Address _____

An immediate family member is usually the primary beneficiary. More distant relatives or charities and non-profit agencies (Barium Springs Home for Children) may be named contingent or alternate beneficiary. If you die and no contingent or alternative beneficiary has been designated, any funds in the IRA will be paid to your estate. This means money will be paid out in probate costs, estate taxes and the most of it may go to relatives you do not even know. The same is true if only one alternate beneficiary is named and he or she dies before all of the Account is paid out. Therefore, be sure to name a "back up" beneficiary.

By naming Barium Springs Home for Children or a favorite charity as an alternate, contingent, or back-up beneficiary of your IRA, you are assured that your wishes will be followed.

Pension plans, as well as Keogh and corporation retirement plans also should include a contingent beneficiary. You owe it to yourself, your loved ones and the causes that are dear to your heart to receive what you leave as reasonably and unattached as possible.

For more detailed information about Individual Retirement Accounts or Wills and Estate Planning, please complete the clip-out on this page. Barium Springs is pleased to provide this service without obligation and in complete confidence.

CHRISTMAS AT ADOLESCENT CENTER

The Adolescent Center Christmas program created an atmosphere of giving and receiving and an understanding of the meaning of Christmas. Each youth received individual gifts within his/her own cottage as well as a gift from Santa Claus during a pizza lunch served by staff.

All attended two movies depicting traditional themes of Christmas and the true meaning of the Christmas Season. We were also pleased that each cottage undertook a service project for a community social service organization.

ALUMNI NEWS

Mrs. W. M. (Edna Marlowe) Holt-houser died in December of last year.

Edna grew up at Barium and is survived by her husband of Route 4, Oakley Drive, Petersburg, Virginia 23803, a son Billy, and two sisters, Bobbie Marlowe Spencer of Charleston, Tennessee and Faye Marlow Sigmon.

CHRISTMAS at Pre-Adolescent Center

During the month of December, the students and staff of the Pre-Adolescent Center placed special emphasis on the Meaning of Advent. In the campus community meeting we discussed the importance of anticipation, preparation, and patience in being ready for Christ's coming. We looked at different Advent traditions, such as Advent calendars and wreaths. Staff helped children to ready themselves to celebrate Christmas with their families during the two-week break.

One cottage group developed a larger view of Christmas by studying how this holiday is celebrated in different nations. Another group prepared for the season by making some of their own decorations. All received gifts chosen for them individually by their cottage counselors.

*****

The Center climaxed its pre-Christmas celebrations with a trip to the movie "Scrooge", followed by a feast at Godfather's Pizza.

Statement of Purpose

(Adopted by Board of Regents on November 13, 1978)

"The problem today is not so much that people have not heard the Good News. It is that people's life experience is such that, having heard it, they cannot bring themselves to believe it."

(Alan Keith-Lucas)

Barium Springs Home for Children, an agency of the Synod of North Carolina, Presbyterian Church U.S., interprets its purpose to be:

- I. To provide a Christian ministry of love and compassion to children, youth and families who have special needs as a means of restoring complete and meaningful family functioning by:
  - A. Providing residential child care in response to defined needs in co-operation with other private and public agencies in North Carolina.

- B. Providing day care in response to defined needs in the Statesville-Troutman area, serving as a model for the churches of Synod.
- C. Providing and/or promoting family life education and counseling in harmony with other Synod efforts to help families.

- II. In providing these basic ministries Barium Springs Home for Children will be involved in:

- A. Developing and refining improved, innovative and creative forms, methods and techniques of helping families in cooperation with other private and public agencies.
- B. Co-operating with other agen-

Barium Springs Home for Children will carry out its purpose always by maintaining an atmosphere conducive to teaching the Christian faith and transmitting to children, youth and families only those characteristics which are positive factors in their growth and development, and offering all services and conducting all business in such fashion that children, youth, families, staff, colleagues and others will experience the "fruit of the Spirit" (Gal. 5:22,23) to the end that each be enabled to believe the Good News.

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance Program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS:

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. The amount is not mentioned.

In the listing of memorials for November (November/December Messenger) we listed Mrs. Bruce Davis, Kinston. It should have been Mr. Bruce Davis, Kinston. We regret this mistake.

PAL PROGRAM PRESENTED

Paul Risk, Program Director of the Adolescent Center, Kim Walser, resident, and members of the PAL team recently presented a program to the Statesville Kiwanis Club to explain the purpose and goals of the PREPARATION for ADULT LIVING program.

The PAL program is designed to serve older adolescents who will be leaving the institutional setting to live on their own, or return to home situations where they will function as responsible youth with less parental supervision. It will offer a living situation specifically designed to develop skills in the areas of financial, vocational, educational, consumer, community, and social development.

The Preparation for Adult Living Program is designed to serve twelve residents—six male and six female, ages sixteen to twenty. Each resident will be involved in either full-time or part-time employment off campus. Upon completion of the program, each participant must have at least $600 in a savings account to help establish himself/herself in an independent living situation.

The Statesville Kiwanis Club has elected to support the PAL program and offered the experience and expertise of members to help our residents develop the skills necessary to become self-supporting, responsible adults.

REGENTS ENTHUSED WITH PROGRESS

The Board of Regents met on April 8-9 to hear staff reports, transact business, take an in-depth look at the Pre-Adolescent Center and say goodbye to three members.

Regents Mary Neely King and Grace Hartzog of Raleigh and John Randolph of Morganton are completing two terms each and rotate off the Board in May. Each was thanked for loyal attendance and outstanding work on behalf of Barium Springs.

Regents visited all cottages and the school in the Pre-Adolescent Center to learn in detail about Barium's newest program. Glenn Robinson, Executive Director of Alexander Children's Center in Charlotte was present with members of his staff to update Regents on his agency's participation in establishing and operating this service to troubled pre-adolescents.

Board members heard reports from staff of other programs as well as reports from Board committees. Many expressed pleasure that the Home has developed effective programs which address real needs of today's families.

The next regular meeting of the Governing Board is scheduled for November 11-12, 1984. For a listing of Regents, see page 6.

HOMECOMING 1984

August 4th and 5th

... or
seems

Barium Springs is but one of many efforts of our church to meet the needs of the "Little Ones"—those people—adults and children—who are disadvantaged and dependent in one way or another. As our church rightly broadens its ministry to include more and more of the "little ones," its limited resources are stretched quite thinly. As a result, the services of Barium Springs are dependent on the caring and generosity of individuals who have a special interest in our work.

Listed on page 4 are the people who, in 1983, expressed their caring for troubled children and families through gifts of $100.00 or more. These and many other generous friends make it possible for the church to continue ministering to these particular "little ones." We are grateful for their help. And our church is fortunate to have their help in this and other efforts to meet the needs of "little ones" . . . or so it seems.

W. Earle Frazier, ACSW

THANKS FOR THE TV'S

We appreciate so much the gift of two RCA console TV's and a Video Cassette Recorder from Alamance Radio & TV Service of Burlington. This firm is owned by the Allan Graham Family and is operated by Mrs. Allan B. Graham and her son Mark. Generous gifts such as this and of other items for our programs enable us to divert budgeted funds to other needs.

Friends of the Home are encouraged to contact us if you have items which you feel could be used at Barium. We are still in need of two vans.

Thanks again to the Allan Graham Family!!

CAMPUS "BLURBS"

Barium Springs recently received a Beta machine which was quickly put into use by showing Raiders of the Lost Ark to youngsters from both the Adolescent and Pre-Adolescent Centers. They loved the action-packed movie and the fellowship the new machine made possible. Movies will now become a regular part of the campus programs. Many thanks to Alamance Radio & TV Service of Burlington for this generous gift.

*****

Bob Ladwig, social worker for the Adolescent Center's PAL (Preparation for Adult Living) program is recovering from surgery. Your thoughts and prayers are requested to ensure a speedy recovery.

*****

Two new cottage counselors were welcomed to the staff of the Pre-Adolescent Center in January. Sandra Bottomly, a UNC-C graduate, and Janice Williams, an Appalachian graduate, both majored in Criminal Justice/Social Work.

*****

The Pre-Adolescent Center population currently stands at 20. Capacity is 24. The twenty-first resident is scheduled to be admitted in late March. Two screening interviews are set for early April. With four other inquiries in file, the Center is looking at our first "full house" and perhaps even a waiting list.

*****

Johnson Cottage residents and staff have started a project where they offer to the boy's families their assistance in doing general clean-up and yard-work. When requested, the boys and staff will travel to a home on a Saturday and do the work.

*****

Other current foci for the Pre-Adolescent Center include setting program goals for the remainder of 1984, researching the use of a level system and exploring how to integrate a 4-H club and project into our activities.

*****

Circus Excitement!! The 4 Year classroom prepares for an action packed visit to the circus in Charlotte. Name tags have been prepared, assignments made for staff/child caretaking responsibilities, money collected from parents, tickets in hand, lunch and transportation plans completed. We're as ready as a jet. Look out tigers, here come the 4's!!!

The Developmental Evaluation Center from Concord recently completed a developmental screening of selected children from our Day Care Center. We identified several needs such as ophthalmic evaluations and specific skill weaknesses for several children. This valuation process is a valuable part of early identification of a problem area for children. Thanks to the DEC for their support and a job well done.

*****

North Carolina needs more services for preschool children with special needs. For years, we have recognized the benefits of early intervention but many children continue to fall through the gaps in our service system. North Carolina law makers voice their support but "Where's the beef?" "Is there anybody back there?" Write your Congressman and Representatives and voice your support for services for children.

*****

Beach Blanket Bingo—BINGO!! The Beach's blanket is full; Brendon is the long awaited prize. We have a new arrival on campus. Connie and Eddie Beach have filled the last open spot under the Baby I Room at the Pre-school Center. See you in August, Brendon. Congratulations to Connie and Eddie. (Eddie is director of our Pre-Adolescent Center and Connie is principal of our Adolescent Center School.)

WORKING ON A WILL

Mary Jones was reading the morning paper at the breakfast table. Her husband, John, was buried in the sport page. Mary said, "I keep seeing all these banks and brokerage houses advertising Estate Planning Seminars. Why don't we take advantage of one of them and go see what they are talking about?" "What are you talking about?" John asked. "I'm talking about our will," she responded. "We keep putting off having our wills made. It looks to me like this would be a good way for us to get started on that without it costing us anything." John dumped cold water on the idea again by saying, "Those guys are only interested in people who have big estates. We don't have any business going to one of those things!" Mary could see that he still was not ready to do anything about having a will made.

There is another way to break the ice on this subject. Barium Springs offers a Will Seminar entitled "The State Has Made Your Will." It includes a 12 minute sound slide presentation which is designed to raise questions about wills. An attorney with skills in wills and estates is present to answer questions from the audience. Materials are made available which help in the process, and I offer my services to help anyone interested to think through their plans.

I have conducted seminars at church luncheons as well as civic clubs. One Lion's Club invited their wives for the program which was a good plan.

Response has been most appreciative. Older people have stated they wished their married children could see and hear this. I assured them that I would be happy to provide it for any group who invited me. One woman wrote, "I felt it was well done and most informative. It even brought to my attention the need for a 'power of attorney' from mother, which we have since gotten and put in our lock box." She affirmed that the program "reminds us of the legal aspect of death as well as the use of a will to place our money where it should be, to do the most good for all concerned."

A program chairman for one of the civic clubs wrote, "So many of the members have expressed how much they enjoyed it and were pleased to have so many questions answered."

One of the lawyers who answered questions raised by attendants wrote, "I think that programs such as the Will Seminar help participants to keep up to date with current law in the estates field and to determine if their own estate planning arrangements are adequate for their circumstances."

After spending a morning with a couple who wanted to talk over the process of planning their estate, they stated, "We didn't know people like you existed! We are so glad to learn how to get started and to have your help. Now we will go see a lawyer!"

Perhaps you belong to a club, a church, a class, a circle, or some other group who would benefit from such a program. All you have to do is call or write, offering alternate dates when you would like to have a Will Seminar and approximately how many could be expected to attend. I will do the rest. If you would like more details or specific information, fill in the request form below, check the proper box and return it in the postage free envelope provided.

Special Investment Program

We are pleased to list new members and renewals to Barium's Special Investment Program. Gifts from business firms and foundations are not included.

For many this is your 12th year of special giving. Some do not make the large gift every year but continue to give regularly. Thank you.

But whether you make a large gift . . . a lesser gift . . . one gift . . . or many gifts—you are important to the young people at Barium Springs Home for Children.

Please continue your generous support in 1984, and remember, there are no small, no unappreciated, no unimportant gifts when the gift is used to help others. And a gift to Barium does help others . . . troubled youngsters. . . troubled families.

THE LEVEL SYSTEM IS HERE!

This system consists of six parts. They are level A, 1, 2, 3, 4, and level D. There are different responsibilities and privileges on each level.

This system is to help students build more responsible behaviour. It is to help you reach the goals you want to achieve.

At first, I didn't like the idea of a level system, but now, it's helped me a lot. I've achieved some of my goals and hope to achieve all of them before I leave Barium Springs.

I know everyone can do it. Good Luck!!!

Angie Acree, age 17

STAFF DEVELOPMENT

Thomas Howe, social worker at the Pre-Adolescent Center, participated in the Winter Seminar for Social Workers in Chapel Hill. The two-day seminar was on Psychotherapy with Children.

*****

Eleven staff from the Adolescent and Pre-Adolescent Centers received instruction on Preventive Intervention Techniques. The three-day workshop, held on campus, was led by Hugh Mazingo and Steve Minor of the Barium Springs staff. Mr. Mazingo and Mr. Minor completed certification requirements for instructors last year.

*****

Staff from the Adolescent and Pre-Adolescent Centers will participate in a joint workshop on campus, April 16 and 17. The topic will be "Adolescents and Stress"; leadership will be provided by Mr. Bill Scarborough of Chapel Hill.

*****

Jane Recktenwald presented a two-day workshop at the Adolescent Center for the staff on nutrition and accountability. It is difficult to improve on the nutritious meals that Jane and Jimmie Lou Scott provide; but, a current knowledge of State accountability guidelines is always needed. Jane is food services Consultant on the staff. She is also a talented craftsperson and teaches a variety of classes in the community and in our programs.

*****

Rochelle Haimes is chairing the 1984 Program Committee for the North Carolina Child Care Association. This annual conference is scheduled for May 2-3 at Camp Caraway in Asheboro. The program theme is Family Centered Services: from Theory to Practice. Staff from Barium Springs will join colleagues from other child care agencies throughout the state for this annual event.

THANKS AGAIN TO THE DUKE ENDOWMENT

According to Ashley H. Gale, Jr., director of The Duke Endowment Fund, 40 child-care agencies in North and South Carolina recently received $1,059,000 for general operating purposes. "It should be noted," said Mr. Gale, "that all of these grants are part of an annual program of support. Many of the recipients also received other funds during the year for construction or special programs."

Since 1925, The Duke Endowment has awarded Barium Springs Home for Children over one million dollars for capital, operating and program support. This year we received a $45,000 grant for operating support and $16,000 (the second year of a special three-year grant) toward the establishment of a Planned Giving program.

The Endowment, established by James B. Duke in 1924, in addition to the support of child-care agencies in the Carolinas, also assists nonprofit hospitals in the Carolinas; rural United Methodist churches and retired ministers in North Carolina; and four educational institutions: Duke, Furman and Johnson C. Smith universities, and Davidson College.

One of the nation's largest private foundations, the 1983 market value of The Endowment's assets was approximately $498 million. Since 1924, trustees have awarded grants totaling over $644 million to the beneficiaries selected by James B. Duke. Grants made during 1983 totaled $36.8 million.

FORM FOR A BEQUEST BY WILL

PERCENTAGE: "I give, devise, and bequeath to Barium Springs Home for Children _____% of my adjusted gross estate to be used by its Board of Regents, in carrying out its corporate objectives and purposes."

SPECIAL AMOUNT: "I give, devise, and bequeath to Barium Springs Home for Children $_____ to be used by its Board of Trustees, in carrying out its corporate objectives and purposes."

Statement of Purpose

(Adopted by Board of Regents on November 13, 1978)

"The problem today is not so much that people have not heard the Good News. It is that people's life experience is such that, having heard it, they cannot bring themselves to believe it."

(Alan Keith-Lucas)

- A. Developing and refining improved, innovative and creative forms, methods and techniques of helping families in cooperation with other private and public agencies.
- B. Co-operating with other agen-

Barium Springs Home for Children will carry out its purpose always by maintaining an atmosphere conducive to teaching the Christian faith and transmitting to children, youth and families only those characteristics which are positive factors in their growth and development, and offering all services and conducting all business in such fashion that children, youth, families, staff, colleagues and others will experience the "fruit of the Spirit" (Gal. 5:22,23) to the end that each be enabled to believe the Good News.

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance Program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS:

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. The amount is not mentioned.

In the listing of December, 1983 Honor Gifts (January/February, 1983 Messenger) we listed Mrs. J. Bonner Sams, Statesville. Correct listing is Mrs. J. Bonner Sams, Winston-Salem. Also listed was Mr. Leroy Sams, Winston-Salem. Correct listing is Mrs. Leroy Sams, Winston-Salem. Both of these were Christmas Honor Gifts. Donor is Anonymous.

"100 YEARS OF MEMORIES"

Members of the Alumni Memorabilia Committee met May 5 in the Administrative Offices at Barium Springs to hear a report on the remodeling of the Alexander Building (old print shop) as a museum. School annuals, athletic trophies, old pictures and other items of interest to alumni and friends will soon have a permanent home. Also the museum will be a focal point for various alumni groups when they visit on campus and "remember when."

Print Shop - March, 1984

To date, $10,315 has been spent on remodeling; however, additional funds are needed to complete a first class renovation project and for furnishings. Alumni and other friends who wish to share in this effort may use the clip-out elsewhere in the Messenger, or they may send their gift to members of the committee. These members are Paul Barnes, President of the Alumni Association, Bernice Stone Thompson, Irene Shannon Wise, Earl Adams, "Cheek" Freeman, Charles Gallyon, A. D. Potter and Jim Ramsey.

HOMEcomings 1984 August 4th and 5th

... or
seems

Elsewhere in this issue, you will find information about Homecoming and a special project underway by the Alumni Association. We hope you will recognize the significance of this project, not only to the Alumni, but also, to the present and future of Synod's Family Service Agency.

Someone has said that we need to give our youth roots and wings. The same might well be said of Barium Springs Home for Children. And the Alumni Association is rendering a valuable service by providing a place to house and display the photos, school annuals, newsletters, trophies, etc. of our past. Just as we draw strength from our own family's recorded history, so do those who knew Barium as HOME.

Again it has been said that a child must return home three times; once to thank parents, once to forgive parents and once to separate from parents. Our Alumni have thanked, forgiven and separated. But they remember—which is entirely right and proper.

W. Earle Frazier, ACSW

BARIUM SPRINGS MUSEUM TO HOLD HISTORY

By KATE BOYLAN
Staff Writer

BARIUM SPRINGS — George "Cheek" Freeman went to Barium Springs Home for Children in August 1925. He was 9 years old. Charles Gallyon, also 9, followed him there shortly after Christmas.

Barium Springs was an orphanage, and traveling there was a sad trip for both boys. Once they arrived, they lived with 375 other children on the campus in Barium Springs on U.S. 21.

The folks at the home educated them, taught them the Presbyterian faith, organized sports teams and raised them with love.

"I'm proud of it now," said Gallyon, a Statesville resident.

"We got a high school education we wouldn't have gotten otherwise," said Freeman, who lives in Charlotte.

The two men, both 68, said they are so proud of their alma mater and former home that they are taking care to make sure its history is preserved.

One day last week, Freeman announced himself and his friend to a reporter with excitement: "We're the committee for the alumni association of Barium Springs and we've been working remodeling the old printing office building."

The building will house the Barium Springs Home Museum and 100 years worth of memorabilia and memories. Freeman and Gallyon have hired a contractor, a brick mason and an electrician and are moving ahead as fast as donations will carry them.

At a reunion last August and through appeals made in alumni newsletters, the alumni association has received $10,000 in pledges for the museum.

"All but just a few dollars have come in," Gallyon said.

Despite what the association considered a successful campaign, Frazier said, "They're fairly certain they're not going to complete the structural changes with the money they have now."

Gallyon, Freeman and others hope to get the building looking good enough by the next reunion in August, Frazier said, "so the rest of the people are going to see it's really going to look nice. They'll plead for more money at that point."

Avery Sherrill gave the building to the school in 1941 in memory of his wife, Jennie White Sherrill. It is behind the main office and has been used for storage the past several years.

"We're going to try to make it really pretty," Freeman said. They plan to hang pictures of past superintendents and other former workers. The museum will include all the athletic trophies the teams won over the years. Newspaper clippings, copies of the annuals and the Barium Messenger, a semimonthly newsletter, also will be included.

Alumni also are writing a history of the school.

The school is having an official history written, too, but the alumni version will be filled more with nostalgia than facts.

"I think it's great," said Earle Frazier, the home's executive director. "The alumni association has wanted for some time a place where they could display some memorabilia." All they have collected over the years has been stacked away, Frazier said, "and some has been damaged in the stacking."

The association requested housing for a museum four years ago. The home's board of regents approved the request three years ago and the alumni started planning and saving.

There is a lot of history to be preserved. Barium Springs Home celebrated its 100th anniversary in August. When the home was established 100 years ago in Charlotte, it was run by Presbyterian church women. When the school moved to Barium Springs in 1891, the Synod of North Carolina, with offices in Raleigh, took it over and has continued to operate it since.

Three to four thousand children have been residents there over the years. The home remained an orphanage into the 1930s, but times changed for the better and an orphanage was not so necessary.

CAMPUS "BLURBS"

From Family and Child Development Center:

Tires, poles and cable: the recipe for fun. Will it be entirely too much to "pole" together or are we cableable? Parents are ready to tackle the task of building new playground equipment for the school-age program.

*****

Staff is really excited about the goals of the Parents Advisory Committee, and are planning playground expansion, yard sales, picnics and various other projects. Thanks for the support.

*****

With the end of school rapidly approaching, we are beginning to plan for the graduation of our five year old children. We will miss them and wish them well in "Big School."

From Pre-Adolescent Center:

April 4 was Campus Beautification Day. The event included all children and staff working together to do spring cleaning projects and to start several gardens. The major project is the campus vegetable garden, under the leadership of counselors Brian Colbert and Janice Williams. Scott, Jeff, Harry and Tony are some of the student workers.

*****

Four students—Jackie, Scott, Susan, Tanya—went to Charlotte May 5 with teacher David Kimmerly to see presidential candidates Hart and Jackson.

*****

On May 6, five students—Robbie, Scott, Lynn, Steve, Jackie—and teacher Peter Stapanowich ran in the 5 Km. race during Statesville's Weekend-in-the-Village.

From Adolescent Center:

Grannis and Sullivan Cottages are planning outings to the beach in June for a "mini" vacation. This experience will give our youth an educational and cultural experience they would not have if it weren't for the Home.

*****

Caldwell Cottage has plans for a camping "vacation" in the mountains that will teach survival skills, group problem solving, group responsibility, and awareness of nature.

CHARTING YOUR FINANCIAL COURSE

Charles L. Kirby, D. Min.
Planned Giving Director

REVIEWING YOUR WILL

I was recently visiting with a lady who shared with me that she reviews her will every two years. That is with the most frequency I have heard of. By contrast too many people write their will and never look at it again. That is not considered a good plan by any financial adviser I have ever talked with.

How often should a person review her or his will? The most frequent answer to that question is "periodically." Of course, that means a different duration to each individual. The person in a business where assets and liabilities change frequently would do well to be like the lady who looked at hers every other year to be sure it still fulfilled her intentions. To do so every five years may be all some people feel is necessary. Certainly, once a decade should be set in one's mind as the absolute limit of time to review her or his will.

Circumstances, changes of fortune and events in the lives of others may make it advisable to change the distribution of resources when you are no longer available. A child may marry or become independent; there may be a surge in your good fortune as the result of your hard work; a spouse may pass on; a business may have fallen upon a bad market period; additional children may have come into the family.

Any one of these situations or a combination of them would probably make it advisable to change your estate plans and/or will. You need to recognize your responsibility and right to change your will periodically, if not regularly.

If you need more information or someone to talk with, know that I am here to be of assistance. Please feel free to call on me by telephone or mail. Clip out the form below and send it to me requesting the information and help you need.

"With medical advances," Frazier said, "parents didn't die during their child-rearing years as much."

From the 1930s until 15 years ago, the home was used for neglected and abandoned children. But, Frazier said, "beginning in the early '60s, the trend all over was to refer better-adjusted children to foster family care."

The home then began a transition to a shelter and care center for troubled youths, a charter given it officially in 1977.

Today the home offers a day care educational center for 107 preschoolers and a preadolescent residential program that houses 24 youngsters aged from 10 to 13 with emotional, educational or behavioral problems.

Also, as many as 58 teenagers live in six cottages there.

The alumni association also has grown. When the alumni gathered for the celebration in August, more than 500 people filled Little Joe's Church on the campus.

The church is named for an orphan who died.

Frazier enjoys the reunions along with the alumni. "They (the former residents) are different from the youngsters who live here now," he said.

"This place was home for these people. I enjoy tremendously watching them looking at old photos, hearing their stories, seeing them enjoy each other. It reminds me of when my family gets together. It's just beautiful."

CAMPUS TRAINING EVENTS

The staffs of both the Adolescent and Pre-Adolescent Centers met on April 16-17 for a workshop on "Adolescence and Stress." This informative training event was led by Bill Scarborough, a private consultant from Chapel Hill.

*****

Seven staff members from the Pre-Adolescent Center and four from the Adolescent Center attended the annual program of the N.C. Child Care Association at Camp Carraway on May 2-3. The topic was "Family Centered Services: From Theory to Practice." Rochelle Haimes, our Campus Administrator, was the program chairperson.

*****

Steve Minor of the Adolescent Center and Hugh Mazingo of the Pre-Adolescent Center became certified instructors in Preventive Intervention Techniques (P.I.T.) last fall. This course helps staff to deal preventively and safely with aggressive children. Steve and Hugh led a workshop for Barium Springs staff in February and another for staff at American Children's Home in Lexington in May.

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance Program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS:

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. The amount is not mentioned.

BARIUM SPRINGS: SYNOD'S FAMILY SERVICE AGENCY

W. Earle Frazier,
ACSW
Executive Director

We are pleased to print our Fifth Annual Program issue outlining services of Barium and how you can avail yourself of these services.

Please note the chart and listing of Regents below. Many people are involved in providing this service of the Synod of North Carolina, Presbyterian Church, U.S.A., especially our generous donors who really make these services possible.

You might also note that the four programs outlined are the same as in our last two program issues. This has been another year of evaluating and refining existing programs in our continuing effort to offer services worthy of our church.

We would welcome the opportunity to interpret these programs in more detail to any interested group.

The Pre-Adolescent Center

Eddie Beach
Director

The Goals

The Pre-Adolescent Center is a joint program with Alexander Children's Center in Charlotte, another Presbyterian agency. Residential services are offered for 24 children, ages 10 to 13, with significant social, emotional, learning, and behavioral problems. The Center provides families with a time-out from stress, help in identifying and reaching goals, and guidance in making decisions about permanence for the child. We seek to help each child:

- Enhance family relationships to the degree possible.
- Develop a sense of belonging and security.
- Increase confidence and trust in self, others, and God.
- Improve self-care, social, academic, work, and recreation skills.
- Prepare for adolescence and the changes it will bring.
- Increase strengths and better manage problems in order to move to a more normal setting.

The Program

Upon acceptance to the Pre-Adolescent Center, each family and the Center's staff develop a written plan of care. This plan establishes goals and defines responsibilities, and serves as a "road map" for the placement. The Center's program is the context in which children, families, and staff implement these plans.

The Pre-Adolescent Center seeks to be a helping community, in which children and adults work, play, and worship together, learning from one another. Each child lives in one of three cottages, with a maximum of eight in a group. Two skilled cottage counselors provide daily care and guidance. Regular routines help to establish expectations and to provide stability. A variety of recreation activities take place on the spacious playground and in the gym, swimming pool, and acres of woodland. In nearby Statesville, children participate in YMCA, 4-H, and scouting activities. Through work activities, such as planting a garden or helping to cook, children learn useful skills and safety habits. All children attend Sunday worship and are given religious instruction.

Initially, each child attends the campus school which is state-approved for grades four through eight. Classes of no more than eight students are taught by special education teachers. Each student's course of instruction is planned and implemented individually. Public school is made available for children showing the potential to succeed there.

A trained social worker sees each child in individual and group sessions to help resolve personal and family issues. The social worker has regular conferences with the parents to provide counseling and to review progress. Psychological and psychiatric evaluations are provided by clinical staff of Alexander Children's Center.

Parents and custodians arrange home visits one weekend per month and for periods when the campus is closed. Parents having custody of children are expected to share in the cost of the service to the best of their ability.

The Adolescent Center

Paul Risk
Adolescent Center Director

Program Philosophy

The Adolescent Center seeks to meet the special needs of behaviorally troubled adolescents and their families within the adolescent program and older youth within the Preparation for Adult Living Program. Counseling, planning, and support services are provided for the families of youth in care. Each family accepted for services has a plan of care that includes goals for the youth in residential care and the family. These goals seek to:

- Develop and maintain family identity to the degree possible.
- Stabilize the youth's and family's situation so that short-term and long-term planning can be identified and implemented.
- Enhance the development of trusting relationships and a sense of belonging and security.
- Assist the youth and family in identifying problematic areas and then developing strategies for resolving and/or coping with these areas.

The family and/or legal custodian's involvement in developing, implementing, and evaluating their plan of care is essential to meet the youth's and family's true needs and to ensure services offered are appropriate.

. . .or so it seems. . .

With assistance from Wilmington Presbytery, Mt. Olive Presbyterian Church and several other area churches mounted an effort to aid victims of Spring tornadoes. Mt. Olive pastor, Allan Smythe, asked Barium Springs for assistance in interviewing families and screening requests for assistance. Although we could not spare personnel for that large a task, I was pleased to spend several days helping to organize the efforts. Two reactions seem worth sharing.

First, the outpouring of concern and compassion for the victims was inspiring. The Red Cross, Mental Health, Department of Social Services, The Church of the Brethren, N. C. Interfaith Disaster Recovery Committee, Area Churches in Action, Federal Emergency Aid, etc.—these groups provided an astounding array of goods and services. However, the really impressive thing was the feelings for the victims evident in the PEOPLE of these groups. We should be reminded that public and private agencies are made of people and people do care.

The second reaction is that although caring is necessary to helping, caring is not enough. The difficulty of mounting a coordinated effort by many groups—each with its own guidelines, commitments and resources—is not to be under-estimated. However, the probability of a coordinated effort increases when we remember that each group is made up of people who care . . . people who want to help. . . people who need to help. Or so it seems. . .

Executive Director

YOUTH ACTIVITIES FUND

YOUTH ACTIVITIES FUND NEEDS YOUR HELP

It was a short summer!! Or so it seems to many of our youngsters when they realize that School Days are only two weeks away. And I'm sure many of you, as well as our staff, feel the same way.

But we experienced a bit of a problem this summer. As our friends know, it is Barium's policy to employ extra specialized staff each summer to assist in recreation, arts and crafts, fun and learning trips, special tutoring, etc. We also like to reward our youth: week-end trips to the beach and mountains—Discovery Place—Old Salem—Carowinds, etc. These little "extras" are important to our program.

But this year the little "extras" have been a bit more costly. And so we are asking you for extra help in meeting the costs involved in our youth activities summer program.

We invite you, generous friends and church groups, to help us in meeting these extra costs. You have been generous in the past and we know you will again. Thank you.

CAMPUS "BLURBS"

From Pre-Adolescent Center

Two youngsters from the Pre-Adolescent Center, Kevin and Tonya, served as volunteers at the Statesville Special Olympics in early May.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Special activities at the Pre-Adolescent Center this summer have included a trip by the school to the N.C. Zoo, Johnston Cottage's trip to the beach, and a Fourth of July Picnic for children, families and staff.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

On May 21, for the first time in its two-year history, the Pre-Adolescent Center reached its capacity of 24 residents.

From Adolescent Center

Nine of our youth have successfully completed a five-day adventure camp sponsored by the Iredell County Recreation Department. The five-day camp consisted of three days training on a rope course and a two-day camping trip to the mountains.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Sullivan and Grannis Cottages spent a week "at the beach." This unique programming allowed time for many new experiences and relationship building for both youth and staff.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

The campus school has had many positive experiences with "clustering"—the teaching of youth from one cottage by another cottage's teacher—of youth in the summer school program. This sharing has allowed for greater curriculum flexibility, more adult/youth relationships, and a more traditional community school setting.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

It is expected that seventeen youth will have successfully completed their program this summer and will be discharged to home or a more appropriate setting.

ENDOWED MEMORIALS AND HONORARIUMS

"Mary, I notice in reading the Barium Messenger that your mother still sends memorials when friends and acquaintances die," Bill Williams said to his wife. "Yes," she responded, "Mother has loved that place for a long time and continues to appreciate the significant work they are doing in so many ways."

"I've been thinking. For her birthday this year, why don't we honor her by setting up an endowment in her name?" Mary answered in astonishment, "Why Bill, that is the sweetest thing! But that would take $1,000! I know because I have read about others who have set up endowed memorials for a loved one. I'm sure any endowment program would require at least that much to endow it."

"That's okay," Bill came back. "She knows the importance of what they are doing. Why wait until she dies? Let's let her know now that we understand her interest and want to honor her for her faithfulness to that work and assure her of our support and appreciation. Besides, she has made a believer out of me, and I want to help see that what they are doing is carried on indefinitely.

This way, we can not only help Barium Springs now, we can perpetuate the memory of your Mother! Everytime I want to send them a hundred bucks or so, I will ask them to add it to the endowment fund which will be permanently established in her name.

"When she dies, we can add another thousand and ask that friends send memorials to Barium Springs in her memory. We will ask them to add those to her endowment fund."

Mary exclaimed, "She really has sold you on that place, hasn't she! I didn't know you had been thinking this way at all. It is a really grand idea! You make me very happy and I know Mother will be thrilled, too! Maybe some of my brothers and sisters will want to share in this special way when they learn what we are planning. All of us together could really set up a nice fund which will bear her name forever! Oh Bill, I get so excited just thinking about it. Think what it will mean to Mother and what it will mean to Barium Springs!"

A permanently endowed gift may be made to Barium Springs Home for Children in any amount over $1,000. The Fund is permanently established in the name of the person or persons you designate. Their names live on in the records of the Home. The income from the endowment is used to guarantee to boys and girls and their families in the future that if they need the help we provide, we will be available.

For further information fill in and return the coupon below. Of course such gifts are tax deductible.

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance Program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS:

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. The amount is not mentioned.

The Program

Upon receipt of a referral to the Adolescent Center, it will be assigned to one of two female cottages, or one of three male cottages, or to the Preparation for Adult Living program. The team that receives the assigned case will then determine the appropriateness of the family for services by gathering information, visiting with the family in their home, and holding a preplacement visit for the youth and family at the assigned cottage. These contacts will assist the team and family requesting services in identifying their plan of care.

Each cottage team is made up of one social worker, one teacher, and two child care workers. Team members share responsibility for child care programs, family service plans, and the operation of the cottage on a day-to-day basis. Daily cottage programming stresses personal, group, social, and spiritual responsibilities through established expectations, a level system, work programs, chores, community volunteerism, and regular church worship. Each group member is involved in individual counseling and group sessions led by team members that discuss decision making, values, feelings, problems, and alternatives to problem areas.

The Adolescent Center requires continual involvement by the family for youth served to the extent possible for each family by the family working on their goals, attending conferences, visiting campus, helping to share the cost for care, and by allowing home visits on a regular basis and during campus closings. For those families whose goal is not reunification, the family will also assist in identifying an alternative visiting resource for the child that would be compatible with the family's long-term goal.

All youth within the adolescent program attend a campus school with instruction geared toward the performance level of the individual youth in both small and large classroom settings. It is hoped that by experiencing success in school, youth will make significant academic gains, realize their academic potential, and make a smooth transition back to their community school.

In addition to the highly structured programming in the adolescent program, the Adolescent Center also offers a Preparation for Adult Living (PAL) program for youth sixteen to twenty years of age. This program is for youth who no longer experience significant behavioral problems but need specialized programming to help prepare them for adulthood. Youth are taught how to find a job, hold a job, take financial responsibility for themselves, how to have successful relationships and master life skill areas. Youth in the PAL program attend public school, form relationships within the community, meet program expectations, hold a job, work with staff on a one-to-one basis and in regularly scheduled group sessions.

Each element of the programs within the Adolescent Center is designed to serve the broader purpose of educating and preparing individuals and families to live satisfying and productive lives. The group model of care emphasizes that relationships within the peer group and with adults can promote stability and facilitate the successful achievement of goals.

Family and Child Development Center

Reade Baker
Director of the Family and Child Development Center

Purpose

The Family and Child Development Center is a preschool education center. Our primary goal is to provide children the maximum opportunity to master the skill levels through which all children progress in normal growth and development. Success in early development establishes a confidence and attitude which enables children to be better prepared for the challenges which await them in the school system. We want children to leave us excited about learning, happy about who they are, with respect for others, and with curiosity and courage for the future. Each child is encouraged to grow intellectually and physically at their individual rate with respect for his or her uniqueness.

Program

The center is at capacity with 118 children from the surrounding community. We are an AA, Level II center, the highest level of license available in North Carolina. There are six classes with children ranging in age from 6 weeks to 10 years. The Baby I room has 10 infants from 6 weeks to 15 months of age. The Baby II room has 7 children from 15 months to 2 years old. The 2 year class has 16 children. There are 20 three year olds and 24 four year olds. There is also a Before and After School program during the school year in which 40 children from 5 to 10 years old are enrolled. Our Summer program operates in the school vacation months with a capacity of 40 children, 5 to 10 years old.

Approximately 15% of our population are children with special needs. These children are mainstreamed into the regular classrooms with additional one to one and small group instruction provided by Connie Tate, Special Services Program Coordinator. Mrs. Tate, a Speech and Language Pathologist, is certified in Special Education and Learning Disabilities. We firmly believe that, as much as possible, special needs children should not be isolated from the normal population. In fact, they learn a great deal from interaction with their peers. These children are placed in classes according to ability.

Each child in the Center is tested for current levels of ability. The teachers individualize their curriculum to meet the strengths and weaknesses of each child. We utilize the strengths and work on weaknesses with a positive approach to learning through play. After testing to determine a child's current abilities, he/she is provided with opportunities to practice, through play, those skills emerging in the areas of self-control, language, cognitive ability, self-help, and motor development. Children are encouraged to interact with their peers respectfully as well as allowed time to themselves to develop particular areas of interest.

Parent involvement is a vital component to the preschool program. Parents participate in making decisions for the Center including the physical development of the facility and the curriculum content of the classrooms. We have a Parents' Advisory Committee which meets monthly to address the needs of the Center, the concerns of parents, children and staff, and plan fund raising events and other special activities. The Center provides regularly scheduled training events for parents and offers individual consultation on request.

The Center is a "model" program serving as a training site for other programs in North Carolina. Training is provided for Day Care facilities, nursing students, high school students in health occupations and child development courses, and job training for young adults. The Center is also involved at a State level with staff providing training at yearly conferences for the North Carolina Day Care Association, North Carolina Association for the Education of Young Children, and fulfilling other special requests for staff training for individual centers and special interest groups.

Presbyterian Personal And Family Life Center

The Presbyterian Personal and Family Life Center is well into its sixth year of providing help for individuals and families living in the Wilmington Presbytery area. The counseling, educational, and consultation services offered through this ministry are outgrowths of the denomination's historic commitment to provide substantive help for persons through its pastoral care.

From a modest beginning in 1979, when the Center provided some 407 hours of counseling, education and consultation, service has grown to its present level of some 3,000+ hours per year. The Center's staff, David McInnis (Director), George Slaton (Associate), Ann Thacker (Staff Counselor), and Margaret Greene (Secretary), are pleased to be a part of this service by Barium Springs Home for Children, and dedicated to providing the highest level of help possible.

Since its beginning the Center has sought to maintain a commitment to helping persons in need and to properly manage stewardship. Through the amount of service provided and proper management, the Center was able to meet 99% of its budget in fiscal year 1981, and more than 100% since that time. Furthermore, the costs of providing service have been monitored carefully, resulting in no increase in the cost of education and consultation since 1979, and only a modest increase in the cost for counseling service.

Presently, counseling is provided at a cost that is approximately 18% below the national average of pastoral counseling, and between 25 and 40% less than comparable secular services. It is our belief that this policy makes help more readily available to persons in need.

Throughout the history of the Center, those persons receiving help have met between 80 and 85% of the cost for help. The remainder of costs have been met by churches and the Presbytery budgeting money to purchase services and help provide counseling to individuals who realistically cannot assume the full cost of the service they receive. Also, a modest endowment has been established to help in the same manner.

It is significant that through this service ministry the church has established a broad base of participation. Persons from local church members through the synod level truly express the connectional system of the church. Counselees using the service include persons from the broad socio-economic spectrum of society and range in age from 6 to over 70 years.

Approximately 70% of the counseling provided by the Center are individual sessions, the remainder being composed of couples who seek help with their marriages and of families who seek to work on the family communication. Approximately 15 to 20% of the counselees are youth and children. Educational services in family life, communication, grief, trauma, parenting, stress, etc. are provided for local churches and numerous other agencies.

The Center continues to provide the basic areas of service that were established in 1979. These include: education, individual counseling, marital counseling, parent and family counseling, adolescent counseling, pre-marital counseling, group counseling, education and consultation, and pastoral care for churches and pastors.

It is a source of great pleasure to know that this ministry is carried out within the context of the commitment to the Christian faith. It is a clear goal of the Center to strive daily to be an honorable expression of the church and her servants who truly care for other persons.

EDUCATION AT BARIUM SPRINGS

Billie hadn't been having much success in school. In fact, school was a very frustrating experience — one that he didn't want to repeat when he came to the Adolescent Center at Barium Springs. Rather than let his teachers and friends see that he couldn't "handle" the work, Billie tried to at least have "fun time" in school. Soon Billie realized that playing games could also be frustrating. Not only were his grades poor but, there wasn't much "fun" either. Billie began to realize that he was developing some relationships with adults who "stayed after him" to start doing better in school. These people, his own efforts and school work near his ability level helped him to change his attitude. Billie now knows that school is a place where he belongs — where he can learn with hard work and have a successful, pleasant experience.

his assignments, and fearful of making mistakes. Even though his work was good, he was afraid to turn it in. Working with Stan meant building his self-confidence as much as his academic skills. He eventually learned to trust others and was one of the first students to have a "trial" in the community middle school before he returned home. He entered public school feeling good about himself and did the work successfully to pass his grade. He now has a part-time job after school and to keep busy, has joined a drama group. Quite an accomplishment for a youngster who used to be afraid to turn in his assignments!

All youngsters at the Adolescent Center attend the state-approved campus school, now in its sixth year of operation. Most students have been "in and out" of school; almost all are behind grade level in one or more subjects. For these youngsters, school has meant drudgery and frustration. The first goal is to give them a feeling of belonging and some success. In small classes led by their cottage team teacher, in one of two larger classrooms, youngsters work on different subject areas according to their ability. Each student is tested on the day he or she arrives, again in January and in June to determine progress. The improvement rate has been gratifying, with students improving as much as two or three grade levels in one year of campus school.

The school "year" is twelve months with classes during the summer months focused more on remedial, basic instruction. A typing class will be added to the curriculum this year as well as more enrichment classes in music, drama, art, self-awareness, first aid, and religious education. A grant from the Reading is Fundamental Program will allow each student to select several books to read and to keep.

Residents in the Preparation for Living (PAL) cottage attend schools in the community, according to their individual educational plan. Students are in classes for vocational training, special education and regular academics.

A teacher at the Pre-Adolescent Center tells about Stan, who left that program in August, an independent, self-reliant student. A year ago, he had been very dependent, always asking for help with

The Pre-Adolescent Center's school is state-supported for grades 4-8 and meets standards for the N.C. Board of Education's special education programs. Classes of no more than eight students are taught by teachers certified in special education. Each student's program is planned individually. In addition to core academic courses, the school offers physical education, vocational exploration, enrichment, art, health and personal growth. The school operates year-round with emphasis during the summer on maintaining academic skills and life-skill experiences.

Public school is possible for those students who have progressed enough to succeed in the community again. The Center's staff work closely with the public school to monitor progress and to provide support. When a student leaves the Center, teachers help make the transition to schools in the home community by visiting the "new" school with the family, or by contacting the student's future teachers.

Elsewhere in this issue you will read about an important part of the education program at Barium Springs. I say a part of the education program because you will notice that much of the focus is on schooling, particularly in the residential programs.

While restructuring the residential program four years ago, it seemed necessary to integrate schooling into the total living experience in order to really help youth who, generally, were off to a poor start in life. At the same time, we considered it important to keep formal schooling in balance with other activities . . . work, play, worship, group living, group problem solving, family visits, etc. Of course, educational activities are totally integrated into the pre-school program. The sum of all these hour-by-hour activities is the education program at Barium Springs.

Testing indicates that integrating these activities is an effective approach to schooling. Youth in the Adolescent Center average more than two months improvement in reading and math for each month of experience on our campus. Two for one is a pretty good return! . . . or so it seems.

EDUCATION AT BARIUM SPRINGS

A year ago, an attractive two year old girl entered the Family and Child Development Center. She had been diagnosed "moderately retarded and clinically hyperactive." She had been through several medications to help control her behavior and allow her to learn and develop "normally." She could only say twenty words and a limited understanding of language. During this year, she received speech and language therapy and behavior management instruction; she also had time with children her own age and helpful learning activities in the classroom. She is now free of medication, an active member of her class, and no longer seems so "different" at the Center or at home.

The Family and Child Development Center is a model pre-school program with emphasis on education, through play, that prepares young children for public school. Each child has an individual assessment of strengths and weaknesses when enrolled. Teachers are then able to plan activities that are developmentally appropriate for each child. Lesson plans for the classroom, developed weekly, allow and encourage children to practice new skills, master past goals and explore new experiences. The Center's curriculum includes developmental areas of: self-help, language, fine and gross motor skills, self-discipline, cognitive ability and emotional development. Classrooms are arranged in "learning centers." Each area of the room has a special purpose and contains games, toys and materials to practice and learn a different developmental task. Teachers have realistic expectations of the children and help them to grow at their own pace without fear of failure or too much pressure to achieve.

The Special Services Program helps young children (6 weeks to 10 years) who have problem areas of development. Individual and small group instruction, classroom consultation and work with families is offered by the Special Services Coordinator for those children who have been identified as "mildly to moderately developmentally delayed." These children are placed in a classroom which will most help them grow "normally." They also receive speech and language therapy and special education to augment their development.

There are many "successes" in the three Centers on the campus at Barium Springs. There are also some frustrations in helping children of all ages learn that "learning can be fun." Although education at Barium Springs is different in each program, the goals are similar: to see children learn and grow to the best of their ability; to provide the special ingredients that many children need in their education; and to enable all children to feel "good" about themselves when they enter or return to public schools.

NEEDED

A SENSE OF GRATITUDE

James Michener, the author of many fascinating books, has been in prominent public view recently. Two articles have come to my attention. Each incorporated an intense sense of gratitude.

The first was in the fall issue of a magazine published by one of the major petroleum companies for its travel club members. It featured the fact that Michener is presently living in Texas where he is working on his next book which will be about that state and its staunch citizenry.

It was in that article I learned that Michener was an orphan. He reflected, "The fact that I was an orphan has never figured very largely in my life. I handled that fairly early and very rigorously. I don't double back a great deal. I take my lumps. If something hasn't worked out, I don't dwell on it much."

With gratitude, he praises Mable Michener who adopted him and instilled in him not only an appreciation for literature, but also for loyalty and labor.

As he puts it, "She was a survivor in the grand tradition. She made her living sewing buttonholes and doing laundry, yet she put six or seven of us children through high school on her own resourcefulness and two through college. She had a hell of a hard life. At two intervals I was taken away and put in a poorhouse until her finances were restored sufficiently. You couldn't help but respect Mabel Michener."

The second article was in a newspaper September 24 announcing that James Michener made a gift of $2,000,000 to his alma mater, Swathmore College in suburban Philadelphia. In 1925 Michener won a $2,000 scholarship. 59 years later, at the age of 77, he is paying back the school a thousand to one!

In a letter to a vice president of the college he wrote, "that's just about the financial value of a good liberal arts education. Of course, the spiritual value is a lot higher."

A sense of gratitude for what he received and what he learned probably led Michener to make his gift.

Michener also said the gift was a sign of his commitment to the liberal arts which he described as "fighting for survival."

A sense of gratitude is why most of us look after those we love and support the causes and institutions which have special meaning to us. We have a commitment to provide for their future to the best of our ability. We earn and save and plan so we can provide, not just for the present, but also for the future.

Therefore, it is important, if not imperative, that we make a will. A will enables us to set forth our desires for the distribution and use of what we have accumulated. A will gives us a chance to specify who we want to receive what. A will makes it possible to give a larger gift to an institution or cause than we were able to do during our life time.

If you would like information or assistance in preparing for your will, clip out the coupon on this page and send it to me in the enclosed envelope. I will be happy to help you at no obligation.

HOMECOMING — 1984

It was a great event!

About 350 alumni and friends came to Barium Springs the week-end of August 4-5 to share fond memories of days gone by . . . to share laughter . . . to share tears . . . and surely to share a lot of "do you remember?" and "whatever happened to . . . ?"

Saturday afternoon was spent watching movies of some of Barium's outstanding football teams, enjoying old photographs, and reviewing old school annuals, trophies, etc. Activities were centered in the Barium Museum (formerly the print shop, erected by Franklin Avery Sherrill in memory of his wife). Extensive renovation to the building under the supervision of Cheek Freeman and his committee (Charles Gallyon, David Beaver, A.D. Potter) has provided a most pleasant and comfortable facility. It will be used as a meeting place for alumni and to display memorabilia of the Home.

The afternoon hamburger feast in the central dining hall was, as usual, enjoyed by all. Saturday night was the time for parties, class reunions and the sharing of fond memories.

Sunday morning Alumni Rev. Paul E. Horne brought an inspiring message at the worship service in Little Joe's Presbyterian Church. Prior to the service, a number of alumni enjoyed an hour of special fellowship and sharing of ideas with Executive Director Earle Frazier.

After a delicious barbecue dinner in the dining hall, the following officers were elected by the alumni: Joe Ben Gibbs of Troutman, President; Jim Ramsey of Pfafftown, Vice-President; and Earl Adams of Greensboro, Secretary-Treasurer. Cheek Freeman reported that all work on the Museum to date was paid for and there was a balance of $900 in the Museum Fund.

It was estimated an additional $12,000 will be needed to complete renovation. The alumni immediately raised a total of $6124.50 ($2150.00 in pledges, $1049 in cash, $2925.00 in checks).

Cheek and his committee were applauded for a job well done and encouraged (mandated!) to continue on the job until the project is completed. Contributions may be sent direct to the Home and marked "Alumni Fund" or mailed to one of the alumni officers or to a committee member.

Make plans now for Homecoming 1985: August 3-4.

A FOND FAREWELL

. . . to Eddie Beach, Director of the Pre-Adolescent Center, who resigned at the end of September to look at other career possibilities in working with children and families. Eddie has secured a place in the history of Barium Springs by being an able and caring staff member for nine years and the first Director of the "newest" program on the Campus.

. . . to Charles Stroud, who retired August 31st after 17 years of devoted service to the Home. Charles was a Child Care Assistant for 13 years and the past four years were spent as Office Assistant, with primary responsibility in work with the Barium Messenger. His retirement plans are incomplete at this time. But one thing is certain — Charles may "take it easy" for a while, but he will not "do nothing."

Godspeed, Charles Stroud and Eddie Beach

Family & Child Development Center

We're off and running with the new year. After graduating all our four year olds to school we have a lot of new faces in the center. Teachers are busy making name tags, teaching new classroom rules and planning for the new year. We look forward to another exciting year of watching children as they develop.

☆ ☆ ☆ ☆ ☆

The staff attended the N.C. Day Care Association at the Radisson Plaza in Charlotte. We enjoyed the workshops that we presented (6) and the ones we attended. We have new ideas and enthusiasm for the new year and new hope for children in North Carolina.

☆ ☆ ☆ ☆ ☆

Our parent involvement is really "taking off" this year. Parents are building playground equipment, planning fund raisers, and taking part in their children's education and the center in general. Open House, September 24, was a great success with a large turnout. We need and truly appreciate the involvement of the Parents Advisory Council and the interest of the parents.

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance Program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS:

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. The amount is not mentioned.

CARING FOR CHILDREN IS CARING ABOUT FAMILIES

Rochelle Haimes, ACSW
Campus Administrator

The "experts" tell us that loving, stable families are where children should grow up—a solid base from which to become loving, stable adults themselves. But, what about the children who have been—and are—at Barium Springs Home for Children? As we care for them, how do we care for and about their families?

Let us look back at the history of residential care at Barium Springs, at the decades of serving first, orphaned; then, dependent and neglected children. The mission of the Church was to provide a "substitute family" which reared children whose families were absent or not able to be there for them all the time.

Jo Ann came to Barium Springs when she was nine years old. Her father deserted the family and her mother became too depressed and overwhelmed to look after Jo Ann and her baby brother. Jo Ann's teachers were concerned about her frequent absences from school and saw that she was poorly dressed and often sick when she was there. The Department of Social Services helped to place Jo Ann. She stayed at Barium Springs for six years until she could learn to take care of herself. Jo Ann went home every month and the staff at Barium always let her mother know how Jo Ann was doing in school and in the cottage.

We have learned a lot from Jo Ann and the many others who called Barium Springs "home." We learned that all children look to their real families to give them that crucial sense of belonging, the "roots" that tie them to their origins. No matter how troubled or seemingly incapable their families are, that is where "home" is. We know that "permanence" is the key ingredient, the primary goal of our work with children—these connections to their families are essential for them to develop and grow.

How do we care for families now? We have grown in our understanding that children are often caught up in the complicated problems of adults. Even as we review the list of "problems" that a child is having, we know that behind the destructive, troubled behavior is often an appeal for help. If children see no predictable future, do not know who will care for them until they can care for themselves—not knowing creates fears and hopelessness.

Billy did not see his mother for two years before he came to Barium Springs. She had abandoned him and the Department of Social Services took custody.

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS

What is your most important wish for Christmas? For many of us the answer would be to spend time with family. Gifts, good food, caroling, church activities, decorations—these are important. Yet, none of these—nor all together—means quite as much as family.

Barium Springs is ending 1984 a good year—thanks to a strong board, a capable staff and many committed friends who make our work possible. For each of these people our best wish is that Christmas be blessed with family—family to share and enjoy gifts, good food, caroling, decorations and church activities.

Our next best wish for our friends is that each experience is a profound sense of thanksgiving for family and friends—those people who give real meaning to our living.

today. He entered the program feeling unwanted, unloved and with many unhealed feelings about why he was here. We spent six months trying to locate Billy's mother and found her in a nearby state. Billy started to write letters, and then she came to the campus to spend a weekend with him in the cottage. She needed a lot of care, too, to learn how to be Billy's mother again. The staff is helping her to find a job in the area, and continue to rebuild a relationship with Billy that can be permanent.

The main change for us is a greater sense of urgency as we care for children and their families. Our commitment is supported and directed by federal and state mandates, too. The focus is to commit to children as part of a family and to use placement as a support to a family. We have learned different ways of working, so that families can decide how they can best be a family: locating "missing" family members, family counseling, parent-skills training, frequent time at home for children, finding resources in the family's community, families being on the campus for meetings and for weekends. And, an essential difference now is that the progress that children make is tested out during the time they spend with their family. Our time with them is shorter, so our work has changed to make the best use of the time of service.

We still do not have all of the answers about caring for children and for their families. But, as we grow and make changes in our work, we keep in mind what someone wisely said, "All I know about family matters is that family matters." □

CHARTING YOUR FINANCIAL COURSE

Charles L. Kirby, D. Min.

VARIETY IN PLANNING

People plan their giving in many different ways. There are many options available to us according to our individual situation.

A school teacher had named Barium Springs Home for Children as the final beneficiary of a TIAA Annuity Contract and a CREF Unity - Annuity Certificate. These came through the Teachers Insurance and Annuity Association and the College Retirement Equities Fund. Each was for several hundred dollars.

Mrs. Houston recognized that she might not live long enough to use all she had invested for her latter years. Rather than allow that money to go to her general estate, she named an agency she had supported for decades as the beneficiary of the remainder in her account at her death. In death, as in life, she witnessed her commitment to help people in special ways.

Your company or employer may have a plan you are participating in and can designate us as beneficiary.

Another effective way to plan a long-lasting gift to Barium Springs Home for Children is to name it as the final beneficiary of a life insurance policy you own. This means that if your spouse and children and grandchildren should die before you, then the benefits of the policy would help children and youth rather than go in to your general estate for distribution according to the laws of the state.

Mr. McAllister has made the Home the sole owner and beneficiary of an insurance policy he has taken out. This way, he can deduct the cost of the premium each year as a charitable deduction on his income tax. Since neither he nor his estate will benefit from the policy, it is totally deductible.

Mrs. Ocean set up an Annuity with the insurance she was provided at her husband's death. Her children were all grown, independent and doing well. She did not want to be a burden to them now or in the future. She was 67 years of age when her husband passed on. She put the entire insurance payment in an annuity with Barium Springs Home for Children. She will receive $7,500 every year for the rest of her life. The older a person is the greater the percentage of income from the gifts.

The best part is that only 40% of this additional income will be subject to federal income tax. In other words, she will have to pay federal income taxes on only $3,000. The rest of her income will control how much of that becomes subject to taxes.

By planning well, you not only have the joy of making a meaningful gift, you also can be the benefactor of your gift; have the satisfaction of knowing you saved money by reducing your tax responsibility.

other political candidates, but they held their own campaign as they established a student council.

The Adolescent Center

Grannis Cottage staff have been selected to participate in a Family Demonstration project and attended a two-day workshop October 21 and 22. Over the next year they hope to refine their techniques in working with families and expand their programming so families are better served.

☆ ☆ ☆ ☆ ☆

Grannis Cottage breakdancers performed at the Family and Child Development Center in July and at Southern Screw Company's annual picnic in September.

☆ ☆ ☆ ☆ ☆

Sanford Cottage and Sullivan Cottage attended the 7:00 a.m. lift-off at the National Balloon Rally in Statesville, September 21, 1984. It was a real up-lifting experience!

☆ ☆ ☆ ☆ ☆

Mr. Ray Ellis, a recent graduate of Johnson C. Smith University, Charlotte, N.C., and two-time All American in football has joined the Sanford Cottage Team. Welcome Ray.

☆ ☆ ☆ ☆ ☆

Sandie Beaton is leaving her position of child care worker in Goodman Cottage. Thank you, Sandie, for all you did for the girls in your care.

☆ ☆ ☆ ☆ ☆

Goodman girls are continuing to benefit from the opportunities at Barium Springs. One young lady has recently passed her Driver's Education class, is taking typing and made the A/B Honor Roll. Another young lady proposed the idea of a student council, formulated how it would operate and is now the president.

☆ ☆ ☆ ☆ ☆

Mrs. Tilley (Charles) Stroud retired October 31 after 18 years as a dedicated child care worker. She and Charles, who retired from the Home on August 31, 1984 have returned to their home town of Goldsboro (Route 5, Box 222, Goldsboro, N.C. 27530, Tel. 919-735-2399). The staff and youngsters wish them much happiness in their retirement and sincere thanks for their contribution to the Barium program.

CAMPUS "BLURBS"

Family & Child Development Center

Congratulations to Connie and Steve Tate upon the birth of Laurie Beth, November 6, 1984. Remember, Steve, girls play basketball, too! We look forward to Connie's return as Special Services Program Coordinator after a brief maternity leave. Wonder who will care for the baby??

☆ ☆ ☆ ☆ ☆

The Center parents recently raised about $2200 for the Center with trivet sales. Good job! Some of the proceeds will go toward new curtains and materials for the classrooms.

☆ ☆ ☆ ☆ ☆

Halloween was a successful event. The Center was filled with Ghosts 'n Goblins for our annual trick 'r treating on campus. Thanks to the Concord Presbytery and Campus Main Office for helping to make the day special!

☆ ☆ ☆ ☆ ☆

Activity has begun on building additional playground equipment for the After School program's children. Most of the materials needed have been donated and some parents are helping with the work.

The Pre-Adolescent Center

Cannon Cottage recently spent a weekend camping in the Great Smokey Mountains. Among the many activities of the trip was an eleven mile bicycle ride through Cade's Cove.

☆ ☆ ☆ ☆ ☆

A special thanks goes to Tyrone and Tony for their assistance in preparing a display for the local Alzheimer's support group.

☆ ☆ ☆ ☆ ☆

The Pre-Adolescent Halloween party was a big success. Children could visit a fortune teller as well as creep through a haunted house. There were several art contests and games to play. As usual, the homemade costumes were wonderful.

☆ ☆ ☆ ☆ ☆

This has been a year full of political activities for the Pre-Adolescent Social Studies classes. Not only did the classes attend speeches by the President and Tina Price and Kevin Bullard practice on two of five new electronic typewriters. Paul Risk, Director of the Adolescent Center, reports that typing was added to the curriculum this semester.

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance Program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS:

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. The amount is not mentioned.

Barium Springs has attempted with varying degrees of success to help literally thousands of young people. Let me tell you about one of these.

Jack (not his real name) came to Barium as an orphaned infant during the tenure of Superintendent Joseph B. Johnston. Until he was nine years of age, Jack did not know that he had two sisters and that they lived in another orphanage. Not until he was thirteen did he learn that he had two brothers. They lived in still another orphanage. That he and his siblings were separated is understandable. It was simply a matter of finding five vacant beds. But what about not being told of siblings until nine and thirteen years of age? Can you imagine this happening to you?

I share this story with Jack's permission, not to cast shadows on the work of our predecessors. There is ample evidence—including Jack's testimony—that Joe Johnston was a great leader. Rather, I tell the story to remind those of us now serving here that we must constantly evaluate what we do, how we do it and, most important of all, how it affects those toward whom we have the best of intentions—the children and their families.

1984 was a year of refinement—not expansion. Let us hope that our refining of programs never stops. Else, how will our efforts appear three or four decades hence when another Jack tells about living at Barium Springs in the 1980's. A humbling thought. Or so it seems . . . .

What Would YOU Do?

What would you do if you had your life to live over?

If I had my life to live over, I'd fly more kites . . . smell more honeysuckle . . . pet more puppies . . . memorize more poems . . . take more holidays . . . plant more trees . . . eat more apples . . . ride more horses . . . befriend more children . . . read more classics. I would forget more injuries . . . write more letters . . . send more cards . . . tell more jokes . . . seek more wisdom . . . pursue more truth . . . share more roses . . . take more walks . . . experience more rainstorms . . . greet more sunrises . . . savor more sunsets . . . hear more crickets.

If I had my life to live over, I'd exercise more regularly . . . express gratitude more frequently . . . breathe more deeply . . . laugh more heartily . . . give more generously . . . trust more completely . . . forgive more quickly . . . love more warmly . . . act more courteously . . . speak more kindly . . . judge more charitably . . . live more simply . . . serve more willingly . . . work more enthusiastically . . . play more childishly . . . travel more lightly . . . pray more expectantly . . . smile more joyfully.

The good news is that today you and I can start doing many of these things, and the world will be better for it. And so shall we!

WHEN IS THE BEST TIME?

A few years ago Bob and Mary Downes sent a generous gift with the date December 31 marked through and January 3 written in over it. A note explained that they were sorry they did not get their gift in as part of their end of the year giving, but they were interrupted and would have to make a beginning of the year gift instead.

Bob and Mary discovered that they liked that method better and have stuck with it ever since. They explain, "Things are so involved during December with all the entertaining going on, with family in or us on the road to visit. January giving frees us from pressures we do not need and do not like. Besides, it allows the charities of our choice to have the use of the money all year long. It is better for them and does not benefit or hurt us all that much. Also, we do not have to keep trying to remember or checking back to see if or how much we have given. We really like beginning of the year giving!"

On the other hand Martha Bowers prefers to buy her annuity from her favorite charity toward the end of each year so she can have the income from it in time to help meet her end of the year debts and taxes. "I'm happy to help the Home," she writes, "but I'm also glad to know that my annuity check will be arriving in time to help pay my Christmas bills and taxes." Annuities are set up to make semi-annual or quarterly payments according to the need of the donor.

Dr. Caldwell feels that it just would not be Christmas if he did not take a few hours around Christmas to write his checks to the charities he supports with a personal note of appreciation and best wishes. He feels this, along with an intercessory prayer, personalizes his gift; and keeps it from being just a monetary thing.

Stockbroker Jim Heath prefers to give when a stock he has owned for over six months, and usually much longer, has greatly appreciated. He advises, "If a person bought a stock, say in 1982, for $15 and it is now selling at two or three times that, this is the time to give. That way a person gets the benefit of a large gift and does not have to pay the big capital gain tax on it; neither does the Home because it is a non-profit institution. But be sure to tell them to give the stock and not to sell it themselves," he emphasizes, "or else they will not get the benefit the law allows."

Ralph McKnight is a successful businessman who has three children in college right now. He maintains he is not able to give more than he does at the present. But he wants us to know that we are in his will in the event that something should happen to him before he is able to increase his giving.

Why has he done this? Because he believes in the work we are doing with children, youth and families and wants to help guarantee that it is continued. He is so grateful he has a good relationship with his kids and is able to provide for them and their future. He wants to be sure that youth who aren't so lucky get a chance, too. He's convinced that a better future for young people should be one of our top priorities.

When is the best time for you to give? That depends on you and your circumstances, of course. We can always use your gifts. If you are unable to help at this time, please consider naming Barium Springs Home for Children as the final beneficiary of your will, life insurance policy or IRA.

All such bequests go into our endowment which helps guarantee that funds will be available in the future to offset inflation, decreased current support or additional needs of children, youth and families. After all, that is the bottom line—the needs of people and our ability to provide the services and support needed.

If I can help you think through and/or plan your giving now or for the future, please feel free to call on me at no obligation. Fill in the form on this page and send it to me.

SINGLE DADDY—LUCKY GIRL

It has been many years since two-year-olds arrived at Barium to live. And not many came from as far away as New Jersey.

Robert Pinkney, Grannis Cottage Social Worker, is now foster parent to his niece for whom his sister could not provide care. Yolando was in a New Jersey foster home awaiting adoption.

During his five years as a staff member, Robert has seen many teenagers whose long series of traumatic placements began in much the same situation as Yolando's. This knowledge—and his caring—led him to a big decision and an equally large commitment.

Yolando, those of us who know your new daddy realize that you are, indeed, a lucky little girl.

ings of the birth of Jesus, the singing of Christmas carols and a presentation of the Jewish holiday, Chanukah.

☆ ☆ ☆ ☆ ☆

A Christmas dinner was held in Wallace Cottage.

☆ ☆ ☆ ☆ ☆

The teachers took their classes to see the movie "Scrooge" and to Old Salem to see an "Old Fashioned Christmas."

☆ ☆ ☆ ☆ ☆

The cottage staff took their groups to view the lights and decorations of Heritage Village.

☆ ☆ ☆ ☆ ☆

Each cottage had its own special celebration where the children exchanged gifts and basked in the Christmas spirit.

☆ ☆ ☆ ☆ ☆

Children designed their own Christmas cards and stockings which were displayed in the school.

CAMPUS "BLURBS"

Child Development Center

Parties, parties, parties! Each class enjoyed an abundance of Christmas parties in late December. Parents, volunteers and teachers gave the center the unmistakable look and feel of a joyous holiday. Thank you all for sharing the spirit with us.

☆ ☆ ☆ ☆ ☆

December brought the annual Children's Christmas Program. Again this year it was a major success with no more than the usual amount of stage fright, tantrums and desertions. Santa made an unusually rapid trip to all classes. Were there really two Santas or was it just his magic at work? We'll never tell.

Christmas with 118 children is always a time of pure excitement. The Center was buzzing with a barely controlled energy all month. We who work with children are blessed always with their spirit but especially now as we celebrate life. Children are our greatest gift!

Pre-Adolescent Center

The Pre-Adolescent Center Christmas celebration was a genuine group effort. Among the events was a special community meeting planned by the recreation staff which included read-

Adolescent Center

The Christmas festivities came to a sad but joyous close with the youth learning: traditional themes of Christmas, the joy of giving to others through community projects, and the pleasure of unconditional receiving of gifts made available through the Cannon funds.

☆ ☆ ☆ ☆ ☆

The youth made a trip to Hickory to see the movie "Scrooge" and then returned to a late lunch served by the staff.

☆ ☆ ☆ ☆ ☆

Caldwell, Grannis, and Goodman cottages adopted "needy" families from the Salvation Army or a local church and supplied them with a special Christmas dinner and gifts for the children.

☆ ☆ ☆ ☆ ☆

Sullivan and Sanford Cottages visited local nursing homes to bring residents cookies and Christmas carols. Sanford Cottage also did some painting at the Day Care Center as part of their community project.

☆ ☆ ☆ ☆ ☆

1984 WAS . . . A GOOD YEAR

AT THE ADOLESCENT CENTER

The Preparation for Adult Living Program opened at Howard Cottage;
Each cottage vacationed at either the beach or the mountains;
"Sunday Night At The Movies" was begun with a donated VCR;
The Level Four Club was organized to give youth attaining level 'four' extra privileges and responsibilities;
Typing instruction was added to the school curriculum;
The school operated (on a reduced schedule) through the summer;
The Student Council was organized to allow more input from students regarding day-to-day activities;
Groups were formed and led by Mental Health personnel to discuss problems and opportunities of adolescence;
Three cottages were painted (Grannis, Sanford, Caldwell); and,
Living room furniture was purchased for Grannis and Sanford cottages.

AT THE WILMINGTON FAMILY LIFE CENTER

Another office was renovated to accommodate the expanded case load of Ann Thacker, our third counselor; We began a new program, at the request of Wilmington Presbytery, to help new pastors make the transition from the academic world to the "real" world of the parish; and,

We provided 155 hours of counseling for families and 2,334 hours for individuals.

Yes, 1984 was a good year . . . a time of refining programs. Our thanks to a good staff, a committed Board of Regents and a host of generous people throughout our Church—each is responsible for 1984 being a very good year.

WHAT ABOUT 1985?

We are acutely aware that programs—like time—do not stand still. The fine-tuning must always be an important part of the goals for any year. 1985 is no exception. However, other goals are very much in our thoughts.

In 1985 we hope to introduce COMPUTER EDUCATION to the curriculum in the Day Care Center, the Pre-Adolescent Center and the Adolescent Center. Our Board of Regents believes that this is necessary if our youth and children are to achieve in school and the work world.

Plans are underway to UPDATE THE DATA PROCESS SYSTEM now used for accounting and financial development to include program data and word processing. We must have more data—and more accessible data—to further refine our accounting, development and service programs as we have almost “outgrown” the capabilities of antiquated equipment.

The Board of Regents has applied for ACCREDITATION by the NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF HOMES FOR CHILDREN. This will require a great deal of work for all staff and regents during 1985. However, we believe that some form of outside review and validation will become increasingly important to upgrade programs and compete for charitable gifts.

The Board of Regents has approved a feasibility study (currently underway) to determine the probability of raising funds to provide a NORTHEASTERN NORTH CAROLINA

CAMPUS. A study completed in 1984 indicated a pressing need for residential services for troubled teenagers in that area of Synod. Regents will review the results of the feasibility study in April, 1985 and make decisions regarding this important issue.

The Adolescent Center School will make necessary structural and curricula changes to attain CERTIFICATION by the STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION. Currently the school is “approved” by the State. Certification will indicate compliance with all State requirements and make the Center eligible for various education assistance funding for qualified students. (The Pre-Adolescent Center School already has certified status.)

Another goal for 1985—and beyond—is to formulate plans to CELEBRATE OUR CENTENNIAL. Barium Springs was chartered by Synod on January 21, 1891. Regents plan to appropriately recognize significant people and events in the life of Presbyterian Orphans Home and Barium Springs Home for Children. The first step in this celebration is a history almost completed by Dr. Alan Keith-Lucas, a past Regent and long-time consultant to Barium Springs and other child care agencies across the country.

We cannot stand still. Your Family Service Agency has no such intentions. We look forward to more and better services, and much hard work on behalf of our Church. Your suggestions and active support are solicited.

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance Program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS:

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this “living memorial” more meaningful than sending flowers.

PUBLICATION OF BARIUM SPRINGS HOME FOR CHILDREN

A Presbyterian Family Service Agency - Owned and Operated by The Presbyterian Church, U. S. A. Synod of North Carolina

Vol. 62

BARIUM SPRINGS, NORTH CAROLINA, MARCH-APRIL, 1985

No. 2

THANKS FOR KIND WORDS

We do not want to appear to be like the Scotsman who said, "He who tooteth not his own horn will not find it tooted." However, a kind word is always appreciated and is even more meaningful when shared with friends.

From time to time we receive words of commendation (as well as criticism), and want to invite you to look over our shoulder and read some of our mail.

We are so pleased that others recognize the difficulty and worth of our ministry as the Family Service Agency of the Synod of North Carolina.

From a Court Counselor:

"The Court Counselor Services of a Judicial District believes that Barium Springs provides an invaluable service to many of the youths who come before our Court. Many of these youngsters come from unstable and/or troubled home situations which need residential attention, for which we turn to you.

"... We're pleased to be able to work cooperatively with you as we both strive to serve the youths of this area."

From an Alumnus:

"... I was about 11 years old when I came to Barium Springs to live. I stayed until my graduation and really did not want to leave then. That was my home.

"... Everyone at work kids me about my excitement each year [at Homecoming], but they have no idea how much it means to me to 'Come Home.'

"... I am proud that I was one of the privileged to have been at Barium... What I wanted to say was that I can never repay the Presbyterian Synod of North Carolina nor the personnel who gave so much to me, but I can try to pass that kindness on to someone else."

From a Circle Chairman:

"Please accept this check from Circle #3... to use for The Home in any way it is needed. The money comes from an aluminum recycling project... to help with expenses at Barium..."

From an Appreciative Parent:

"The commitment and dedication of Barium Springs Home make real and abiding a service both inspiring and helpful to many, many families facing overwhelming circumstances of distress, defeat, doubt and discouragement.

"Barium offers the hand that serves to steady the falter-

NCCCA IMPORTANT TO OUR PROGRAM

NORTH CAROLINA CHILD CARE ASSOCIATION

(Please see page 7 for a list of NCCCA members.)

Barium Springs is one of twenty-six private agencies making up the North Carolina Child Care Association (NCCCA). Our participating helps us in keeping up with current issues, legislative and regulatory activity, and changing needs for services.

J. Parker McLendon, Executive Secretary, has offices on the campus of American Children's Home in Lexington. Mr. McLendon facilitates the work of the Association through its officers and several working committees appointed from member agencies. The Association also holds an annual Program Meeting and an annual Business Meeting.

We cannot be—nor do we wish to be—"an island unto ourselves." We gain much from our relationships with our colleagues and are grateful for their help.

... or
seems

W. Earle Frazier
ACSW
Executive Director

In this issue you will find listed the names of our major donors during 1984. We owe a large debt of gratitude to these individuals and organizations for their ongoing generous support. As late as 1966, two-thirds of our operating costs came directly from Synod's Benevolent Budget. At that time, this appropriation included the Thanksgiving offering. Last year, 6.1 percent of our operating expenditures was covered by these funds. The same pattern has held largely true for other Synod ministries. As our church rightly seeks to meet more needs, we find ourselves more and more dependent on individuals and organizations to maintain, refine and expand this part of the Church's response to people in need.

I hope you will read these names and, if you know some of the people, thank them for their contribution to our church's ministries. They, and other generous donors not listed, really are an important part of the Church at work ... or so it seems.

IRA TIME AGAIN!

In case you haven't heard, the law has been changed again! (Isn't it always?) With respect to IRAs (Individual Retirement Accounts), you must now invest in them by April 15 if you want a deduction on your 1984 income tax return. There are no extensions of the time limit anymore. That means you must not only be thinking about it, but also taking action right away. This raises a number of questions.

How much can I invest in an IRA?

Each person may invest up to $2,000 each year. If your spouse does not work, you may invest $2,250—($2,000 for yourself, $250 for your spouse). You deduct these investments from your taxable income.

Is this a one shot deal?

No. You may make such an investment each year; however, you do not have to invest each year, nor do you have to put in the same amount.

How do I start an IRA?

As you have seen from ads in almost every form of media, you can go to your bank, savings and loan, insurance company, brokerage house and other investment firms. Tell them you are interested in an IRA and want to talk to an account executive who will explain some of the options available to you.

What are the costs of an IRA?

Fees vary. You should check with several agencies about their charges for setting up and servicing an IRA. Most banks make no charge or only a small one. If you do decide to change the kind of investment you made, there is usually a penalty or withdrawal fee. Mutual Funds may have no initial charge, but may charge an annual fee. Insurance companies may charge an initial fee. Brokerage firms work on a commission basis for any purchases or exchanges you make in moving your account from one investment to another.

Can you tell me some of those options?

Yes. One company's brochure listed more than 50 ways to invest in an IRA. They include: annuities, bonds, limited partnerships, mutual funds, stocks, unit investment stocks, zero coupons, CDs (Certificates of Deposit), etc.

Am I penalized for changing the way my IRA is invested?

Not if the investment change is in the same financial institution. Be sure not to have it paid to you and you make the transfer. Let your account executive take care of the transfer for you. It is advisable to make these changes as early in the year as possible—just as it is to make your contribution—so it can work for you all year! There may be a transfer fee for making the change.

Can I withdraw my money in an emergency?

Of course, but you will pay a 10% penalty to the IRS. Also, you must treat that withdrawal as regular income and pay income tax on it the year of withdrawal. If you become permanently disabled, there is no penalty.

When can I withdraw my money and not be penalized?

The object of an IRA is two-fold: (1) to reduce your present income tax; you pay no taxes on any dividends, interest or other gains from your investment until you start withdrawing funds; and (2) to add to your income in your later years—59½ up—when you retire. The longer your IRA is intact the larger your return will be from your investment.

When you are 70½, you must start withdrawing from your IRA. You will set up a withdrawal plan with your account executive.

What happens to my IRA when I die?

When you take out an IRA, you fill in a form. You write the name, relationship and mailing address of the person(s) or agency, organization or institution you want to receive the remainder in the account. They are called beneficiaries.

Barium Springs Home for Children, Barium Springs, NC 28010, may be named primary beneficiary or contingent beneficiary to receive any remainder in your IRA. This will help perpetuate our specialized ministry at Barium Springs and guarantee that your account is used in a way that would be in keeping with your aims and values.

Special Investment Program

We are pleased to list new members and renewals to Barium's Special Investment Program. Gifts from business firms and foundations are not included.

For many this is you 13th year of special giving. Some do not make a large gift each year but continue to give regularly. Thank you.

But whether you make a large gift . . . a lesser gift . . . one gift . . . or many gifts—you are important to the young people at Barium Springs Home for Children.

Please continue your generous support in 1985, and remember, there are no small, unappreciated, no unimportant gifts when the gift is used to help others. And a gift to Barium does help others . . . troubled youngsters . . . troubled families.

CAMPUS "BLURBS"

FAMILY AND CHILD DEVELOPMENT CENTER

The Family and Child Development Center staff had a special day for a special lady. Mrs. Jane McDaniels, kitchen manager for over 10 years, has always gone the extra mile for the pleasure of her co-workers at staff parties, birthdays, holidays, and whenever she could. On February 12 the staff let Jane know in an "Emergency Staff Meeting" just how much we appreciate her efforts. Thank you, Jane!

Our Director has led several workshops and consultation services since Christmas. A discipline workshop was held for First Presbyterian Church of Gastonia and Wilkes Community College in Wilkesboro. Consultation on administration of child care programs was provided for Fairview Baptist Church of Statesville. A 15 hour discipline course is scheduled for Mitchell Community College of Statesville this month. Consultation to Derita Presbyterian Church of Charlotte is also scheduled this month. Additional workshops are planned for Mothers Group of Broad Street Methodist Church of Statesville, for the Lexington Day Care Association Conference, and for a conference in Asheville in May.

Our 4 year class is excited about an upcoming circus trip. The circus is one of our themes this month and the children are looking forward to first-hand experience. Several parents have volunteered to meet us and experience the excitement with their children.

Our Special Services Program is currently serving 14 children with developmental delays ranging from severe mental retardation to mild speech and language delays. Mrs. Connie Tate, Director of Special Services, has recently returned from maternity leave, and operations are back to normal. The Development Evaluation Center of Concord is scheduled to screen 30 of our children this month. Sincere thanks to the Concord D.E.C.'s concerns, talents and needed support.

PRE-ADOLESCENT CENTER

Cannon Cottage enjoyed a recent ski trip to Winter Place, W.Va.

February was art month at the Pre-Ad Center. A display of drawings and crafts was presented at one of our community meetings.

Our school went on a field trip to Discovery Place where the thrill of the day was holding a boa constrictor. Ugh!

New offerings to our students are groups on relaxation and values clarification.

Nancy's classroom recently enjoyed a field trip to Slane Glass in Statesville. Students were able to cut glass and see how mirrors are made.

New "Mastery Level" students are Jackie, Susan, Greg, and Larry. These students are performing at the top of their classes and cottage groups.

Black History month was observed at the Pre-Ad Center with a focus on famous Black Americans. The climax of events was a play at a community meeting about Black Americans.

Rose's classroom prepared a Mexican meal to complete a unit of study on Mexico.

ADOLESCENT CENTER

The Adolescent Center hosted its second annual talent show on February 13. Staff members, Jackey Ellerbe and Sherman Shelton, coordinated this program of entertainment performed by several very talented youngsters from other cottages. While all youth who had "showed" their talents were winners of prizes and much-deserved applause, those youth, parents and staff in the audience were the real winners since we had a most delightful evening of song, dance, and drama. One group presented their rendition of "Amazing Grace," dedicated to the very best sweetheart, Ms. Jimmie Lue Scott, Adolescent Center Dietician. Thank you Adolescent Center youth for entertaining us.

Sullivan Cottage girls sponsored a Valentine Party for the campus following the talent show on February 13.

Grannis Cottage is continuing to involve families more into their programming by having a parent or parents of youth spend weekends on our campus. They have been averaging at least one family weekend visit every two weeks.

Rick Spielman, central school teacher for several years, has been assigned to the social worker position for the Preparation for Adult Living Program.

Marty, Gary, and Ken, Sanford Cottage youth, are currently doing volunteer work at the Child Development Center. Gary and Jody are also doing volunteer work in Charlotte while on home visits. Thank you boys for giving back to others!

Felecia Brown, Child Care Worker in Sanford Cottage, has re-entered school by enrolling in a graduate program in counseling offered by Lenoir Rhyne College. It's hard to go to school and work but hang in there Felecia—it's worth it!

Bradley Young has joined the Sanford Team in the school teacher position. Welcome Bradley!

Caldwell Cottage recently "discovered" Discovery Place in Charlotte. It was a grand education into natural wonders and scientific marvels for those who attended.

ing steps of parents and their children as they seek a firmer ground on which to walk.

"So it is for us; and your help, difficult as it was to seek it, will ever be witness to the mystery of God's way in helping His people."

From a Grateful Mother:

"... After having my son in two previous day cares, I am extremely pleased with the facilities that Barium's Family and Child Development Center offers... an excellent staff... unique and creative things for the children... teaching them something new each time... the food is always very nourishing and good.

"He [son] always looks forward to going to the Center each morning, and at times, he has not wanted to come home. I believe that he is getting a giant step in the right direction for his learning and developing.

"In my opinion, Barium's Family and Child Development Center is everything that a day care should strive to be."

From Two Thankful Couples:

"Really, there is no adequate way to express our appreciation and relief at having a quality Day Care Center for our son to attend. Both my husband and I place an enormous priority on education as we are both professionals... The staff is a caring one and goes much beyond any requirements to meet our son's needs."

"The Family and Child Development Center is a very important part of our lives. As the parents of two pre-schoolers, we are very concerned about the care they receive while we work... I never stop during the day to worry about the care my children are getting. Now, that's true piece of mind!"

From a Grateful Father:

"Thank you very much for the photographs of my sons... I never look at those pictures but what they bring back sad memories and what an ordeal it was to leave them at Barium at that time; but I thank God for having led us.

"I will never be able to fully repay Barium Springs Home for all they have done and meant to me... My gifts will probably never be large, but they will be sent with gratitude and love for The Home."

David Kimmerly has been appointed Director of the Pre-Adolescent Center. He has been Acting Director since Eddie Beach's resignation. A "veteran" of the Center, David was the first special education teacher employed when the program opened in March, 1982. David is creative and committed; we are confident that he will give excellent leadership to the Center.

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance Program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS:

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. The amount is not mentioned.

CARTER IS ELECTED BOARD PRESIDENT

The Board of Regents held its regular Spring meeting on April 14-15 and elected Bynum Carter of Gastonia to lead the Home during the coming year. This is Carter's second term as President and he will be assisted by Mrs. John Gilbert (Harriet) of Statesville and Mrs. Richard Vinroot (Judy) of Charlotte as Vice-President and Secretary.

During this meeting, Regents recognized retiring staff members A. Broadus Hamilton and Leonell P. Robeson. Broadus retires June 30th after 14 years as Director of Development. Leonell ends 19 years as Receptionist/Secretary on May 31st. Each was presented a plaque of recognition and appreciation by President Lawton Nisbet and former Executive Director, Nat K. Reiney.

In business session, Regents approved a recommendation from the Program Committee to seek a major challenge gift and, if found, plan a campaign for funds to build and partially endow an Adolescent Center in Northeastern North Carolina. Also, an offer of $13,500.00 to purchase a lot in Wilmington was accepted.

Appreciation was expressed to Regents who are completing their terms of service: Frances Browne of Charlotte, Joyce Davis of Raleigh, Mabel Lacey of Shelby, Martha MacLeod of Aberdeen, and the Reverend Scott Lindsay of Charlotte.

The next regularly scheduled meeting of the Home's Regents is November 11-12, 1985.

Those of you who don't have missed memory.

We are about to add two more names to that list. Leonell Robeson and Broadus Hamilton will be sorely missed. But they will surely be remem—and their quirks. And we will pause to smile and be thankful. Of this we are

ALUMNI NEWS

We have been notified of the death of Mrs. William (Mary Penn Lindsey)
Diehl who graduated from Barium
Springs in 1940. Mrs. Diehl was living in Raleigh at the time of her death. Surviving are two daughters: Mrs. Caroline
D. Lee of Cary and Mrs. Penn D.
Gruehn of Greensboro; her mother,
Mrs. Willolah Barrieux of Raleigh; a brother, William F. Lindsey (also a Bar-ium alumni) of Boulder, Colorado; and two grandchildren.

We have been advised by an alumna, Mrs. Sadie Flowers, that Miss Lulie E. Andrews died on March 31,
1985 in Anderson, S. C. Miss Andrews was employed as a bookkeeper at the Home in the 1940s and early 1950s.

PARENT'S ADVISORY COMMITTEE

Once a year The Family and Child Development Center selects parents for the Parents Advisory Committee (PAC). The PAC is responsible for various activities at the Center. Several of these activities include fund raising and staff appreciation day. The PAC is made up of a parent chairperson and representatives from the different classes at the Center. The present chairperson is Pam Christopher. Current members are: Pam Eudy, Mike Christopher, Karen Neilson, Linda Reep, Ruth Goodrum, Larry Leather-wood and David Saleeby.

The PAC meets as the needs are expressed. Recent fund raising activities included a yard sale and trivet sale.

The yard sale profit was close to $200;
the trivet sale cleared over $2,000. Recent purchases with part of this money were many new "riding toys" and outside equipment. The PAC was also responsible for moving a donated playhouse from the Carolyn and Donald Russell residence and a riding horse from the Linda and Larry Reep residence.

The PAC is trying hard to help with anything requested by the Center's Director, Reade Baker, and with items for which we recognize the need.

PRINTS DONATED

Intercraft Industries Corporation of Statesville recently donated a collection of prints to use in decor for the cottages. Looking at a Ferrari collage are, from left, Jim
Center; Mike Mitchell, Caldwell Cottage staff member; and Rochelle Haines, campus administrator. We are grateful to Intercraft for their interest in helping to improve our youth's environment.

VACATION TIME = WILL TIME

"Where are you going on your vacation this year, Mary?" Jane Smith asked her neighbor while they were visiting recently. "We're going to the beach, as usual. My children really love it down there. What about you? Where are you and John going?"

"I'm so glad you asked," Jane exclaimed. "I'm so excited about it, I'm about to bust! John and I are going to Scotland! I've always wanted to go and so has John. He came home Friday and asked, 'How would you like to go to Scotland, Jane?' I gave him that 'Are you kidding?' look, you know. He said, 'No, I'm not kidding; I really mean it. You know, air travel costs are down now and the dollar has good purchasing power over there. I figure we have always wanted to go, the prices are right and we aren't getting any younger, you know!' I just let out a great big WHOOPEE!"

"After I settled down, we started making a list of all the places we want to go and things we want to see. We started another list of the things to do to get ready—getting a medical exam, applying for our passports, seeing the travel agent, buying tickets. There are so many things to see about and take care of!"

"John said we also need to have our wills made. I would never have thought of that, but John is right. That is one of the other things we kept putting off. But as John says, 'if anything happened to either one of us or, God forbid, both of us while we were on this trip, we should have our wills completed before we leave.'"

"I'm glad we're taking this trip for two reasons now. I have felt we needed to have our wills made for a long time, but you know how hard that is to get to, Mary. Now we are getting the trip and having our wills drawn! John is calling our attorney today for an appointment. Since we don't have children, we must decide which relatives and what charities will get what is left after all the bills and taxes are paid."

"Oh Jane, I am so happy for you. That's just great! I would love to take a trip like that! But, as you know, since Bill died I have to rear the children on my own and watch every penny. I'm afraid a trip to Scotland is not in store for me. You take a lot of pictures and keep a diary so you can tell me about it when you get back. And thank you."

"Thank me for what?" Jane asked. "You reminded me of something I have been putting off and need to get done." "What's that?" Jane inquired. "I haven't had my will re-written since Bill died. He left everything to me, but if something happened to me I'm not sure how what I have would be divided. And now that the Murphys have moved to Memphis, I need to see about finding someone else who would take care of the children until they are old enough to be on their own."

"Gee, you're right, Mary. It's just as important, or maybe more so, for you to do that as it is for us. You have to look after the rights of your children. You'd better call your attorney, too."

FAMILY AND CHILD DEVELOPMENT CENTER

The Parents Advisory Committee (P.A.C.) recently pulled together 11 men to assist in "house moving." A terrific play house, donated by Mr. and Mrs. Don Russell of Statesville, needed to be moved to our campus. Thanks to the P.A.C. and the muscle for making the move possible. The After-school Program is especially grateful.

We have a new horse donated by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Reep. This one eats only electricity and is already a favorite playground item. Thanks again to thoughtful and supportive parents and Adam and Amber for putting their friend to pasture with us.

Blankets galore are being "donated" by Mr. and Mrs. Steve Peschock. Kendall is very experienced in sewing and has access to needed materials. She is graciously helping us meet a need that her children, Stephanie and Jennifer, can also enjoy. Thank you for the much needed help.

The staff is preparing for our annual license review in May. We look forward to the visit with confidence that this year we will again well exceed license requirements.

Summer x warm weather x good times = pool opening. The entire campus looks forward to the opening of the pool, hopefully on May 17th. Children and staff are gleefully anticipating refreshing dips, swimming lessons, and new fun. The Day Care is particularly excited about expanded pool use this year.

PRE-ADOLESCENT CENTER

The Pre-Ad Center is pleased to announce that a fifth person has been promoted to the Mastery Level of the Level System. This group includes those students who are demonstrating the highest standards in all aspects of campus living. Congratulations Billy!

A recent excavation at the Hiddenite Emerald Mine turned up several fine pieces of quartz and mica. Our kids seemed to enjoy the search for precious stones.

A community meeting celebrating Easter was handled completely by the children. Activities included a play followed by singing of songs of giving, and an egg hunt.

Rose's Social Studies classroom has been cooking again! An International Day was celebrated with pastas, sauces, and many other fine offerings.

The Mastery Level children initiated the camping season with a trip to the mountains around Brevard.

From Goodman:

Goodman and Sullivan cottages went on a field trip to Woman's Prison on April 22, 1985. The girls were given a tour and information was provided. One of the most impressive parts of the tour was the opportunity to talk with some prisoners about their crimes and their prison experience. This was an educational experience as well as an emotional one, based in the tough reality of suffering the consequences of one's wrong-doings.

Lisa transferred to the Preparation for Adult Living Program on April 29, 1985. Lisa had lived and worked in Goodman Cottage for over a year and had a most successful experience. On Sunday evening, April 28, Goodman Cottage

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance Program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS:

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. The amount is not mentioned.

TROUBLED TEENS NEED A HOME

Kays Gary

Their ages are 13, 14, 15, 16.
They are male and female.
They are black and white.
They have some things in common.
They are wards of the court.
They cannot go home.

Foster care homes and institutional group homes are filled.

They all need temporary homes while social workers and other specialists work with them in an attempt to rehabilitate the young lives to some semblance of normalcy and function in society.

It is Ruth Alden's job to find homes for eight of these young and troubled rebels immediately.

Ruth Alden, longtime specialist with the Mecklenburg Department of Social Services, is a grandmother in her 60s eligible for retirement, except now is not the time. Now is a critical time. More children than ever either are leaving or are being thrown out of their homes. When the courts take over and order social services to reclaim the young lives, an order is an order. There is no choice and Ruth Alden, home-finder, tackles the impossible every day.

"They are children. They are ours, members of the community, and we can't turn our backs," she said. "We can't simply waste them. I don't know why, there's no simple, pat answer on why there are so many more of them now. It could be dreadfully discouraging if we did not see remarkable turnarounds."

"We need homes while our people work with the child and the temporary family," she said. "Compensation for these particular problem children is negotiable. We need, ideally, professional people. People in law enforcement or others capable of fair exercise of authority are also ideal candidates. But of course, there are others of high and caring commitment. We need them."

The eight include a 16-year-old alcoholic being dismissed from a treatment center. Some of the others have experienced either alcohol or drug abuse and truancy. One flatly refuses to go to school. Another is a runaway who assaulted her mother. Another, who once attempted suicide, is in treatment for depression.

"We don't pull any punches with potential temporary home parents," Ruth Alden said. "We lay it all out so they know what they're dealing with—the complete history . . . the facts. Our support system includes a professional parent advocate and another for the child. There are professional therapy programs for the child, foster parents and members of the original family unit."

Ruth Alden's work would seem terribly depressing.

"It would be without my own family and grandchildren," she mused, "and if we did not experience success . . .

something more than just stopgap relief."

She recalls a youngster whose violent behavior included using an ax to chop through and destroy an entire wall in the family home where he waited to do in his stepfather with the same weapon.

"With great anxiety and with steps taken for protection of others," she said, "we placed him in a group home where he became one of the most cooperative and ambitious of the entire group. His difficulty was focused on one individual, one situation. He made rapid progress."

The homeless eight now consuming Ruth Alden's total attention "have no respect whatever for authority . . . but there is someone somewhere . . ."

EDITOR'S NOTE: Kays Gary is an outstanding columnist with the Charlotte Observer. We are grateful to Mr. Gary for permission to reprint portions of his article which was in the March 29, 1985 issue of the Observer.

CHANGES NECESSARY

To contain printing and mailing costs, we are forced to reduce the number of issues of the Barium Messenger to four each year. In addition, future issues will be mailed only to contributors and some organizations.

To compensate for this reduction, all individuals will receive monthly issues of Synod's paper, Presbyterian News containing one full page of information about Barium Springs.

These changes will give all our readers more information while significantly reducing our costs. We anticipate beginning this new schedule in October (Presbyterian News) and November (Barium Messenger).

In combining our mailing list with that of Synod, some names could be inadvertently omitted. Should you not receive your copy, please let us know.

... or
seems

W. Earle Frazier
ACSW
Executive Director

I hope you will carefully read the article on page one by Kays Gary. Mr. Gary captures and communicates the problems facing so many young people today. He also clearly points out the difficulty of giving real help to youth from fractured families. We know both problems well.

We tend to believe that some problems are new. However, Supt. Joseph B. Johnston reported to the Board of Regents in 1946: "Twenty-one children have entered Barium since the last meeting of the Board. It is difficult to classify these children . . . eight of these have both parents living, and they were in the worst plight of any . . . This means that with every child there are complications and difficulties which we never thought of encountering years ago."

Things have changed so much over the past forty years. Yet, things have changed so little. Or so it seems . . .

ALUMNI NEWS

Betty Seals, Class of '73, stopped by on May 30 to visit with staff. She would like to hear from her 1973 classmates. Her address: Mrs. Betty Ann Latone, 27 Newell Avenue, Needham, MA 02191. Telephone: (617) 444-3779.

Mrs. Mary Ann McCormick Cox advises of a mini-reunion of some Florida alumni on April 20 at Hillsborough State Park near Tampa. Those enjoying recalling "fond" memories of life at Barium included: Ray and Alice Clendenin, Roscoe and Mary Reid Twombly, Gwyn and Rosemary Fletcher, Pattie Inman Hunt, Gloria Morrison Williams, Ernestine Baldwin Jones and George Jones, and Dennis Boyette. The group hopes to meet more frequently and are planning for a weekend meeting soon.

We are grateful to J. W. MacKay, Class of 1928, for the following information which will interest the "old-timers" among our alumni. MacKay's address: 3201 Brookwood Road, Mountain Brook, Birmingham, Alabama 35223.

"Dr. and Mrs. Joseph C. O'Kelley announce the engagement of their daughter, Ellen Catherine, to Stephan Moran, both of Birmingham. Miss O'Kelley is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. O'Kelley.

Alumni will remember Thomas O'Kelley was principal at Barium

Springs School for a number of years and Mrs. O'Kelley a much loved and admired houseparent.

We are advised of the death of Mrs. Margaret Moore Williams, Class of 1936, on March 31, 1985. Her husband advises that she had been sick with a weak heart for about five years. In his letter he writes, "She loved Barium Springs and the personnel who helped her so much."

She is survived by her husband, Roy T. Williams, 325 Morrison Avenue, Raleigh, NC 27608.

Miss Leila Davidson Johnston, 64, a member of Montevallo (Alabama) Presbyterian Church died Friday, July 12, after a lengthy illness with burial in Montevallo Cemetery 5:00 p.m. Saturday.

She was the daughter of Doctor and Mrs. Joseph B. Johnston, Sr. of Barium Springs, North Carolina. Leila was the youngest of 7 children. She was born August 12, 1920, in Lincolnton, N.C. She served as a Lieutenant in the U.S. Navy during World War II and Naval Reserve Command 6-16M, Charlotte, N.C. until retirement July, 1971. She was active in religious education in Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina and Alabama.

Survivors include two brothers, William L. D. Johnston of Montevallo, Alabama, and Dr. Joseph B. Johnston, Jr. of McLean, Virginia and seven nieces and nephews.

Tax Reform and Charitable Giving

1985 may be the best time to make that substantial gift you have been considering! Why? Because the tax structure in this country is in the process of change. No one knows for sure how it will change, but that it will change is almost a certainty.

Fortunately, the President recently returned to his pledge made as a candidate in 1980. In an address to the National Conference of Catholic Charities, Mr. Reagan pledged "to help non-governmental community programs aid in serving the needs of the poor, disabled or other disadvantaged, we support permitting taxpayers to deduct charitable contributions from their federal income tax whether they itemize or not."

However, the 1981 Economic Tax Recovery Act reduced the top tax rate from 70% to 50%. Present proposals indicate that the 50% rate will be cut to 35% under the new law. Such a tax break is good news for those in that tax bracket on the one hand, but on the other hand it means that they cannot deduct large gifts with as much tax deduction benefit.

In other words, if a person has experienced a large increase in the value of certain investments acquired years ago, he or she can deduct 50% of today's fair market value, if he or she makes the gift to a charity which qualifies. (Barium Springs Home for Children is a qualified charity.) If that person waits until next year, the law may be changed so that only 35% of it may be deducted.

So, if you are one who has been blessed with investments which have appreciated considerably in value, you may want to take advantage of the present tax structure and make your gift now. A number of people have wished they had made their gifts before the tax change in 1981.

Take Mabel Johnson for instance. She still lives at the old home place which has grown up into a hundred acres of woodland. Her deceased husband bought it for $25 an acre many years ago. The town has steadily grown out her way. A developer has offered her $2,500 an acre!

If Mrs. Johnson sells the property this year, she will be able to deduct $500 of every $1,000 she makes as a charitable gift. If she waits until next year, it may be that she can take only a $350 deduction of every $1,000 she gives to help others.

Depending on her circumstances and family situation, a different way may be advisable. Of course, family needs come first. It may be to her advantage to give the real estate to a charity or foundation of her choice. She may retain the right to live in the home as long as she elects to do so.

This way she would not have to pay the tax on the increased value of the property called capital gains tax. Neither would the charity since it is a non-profit organization. Suppose that which was sold cleared $200,000 after all fees and commissions.

That money could be used to set up a Charitable Gift Annuity which would pay Mrs. Johnson 7.8% since she is 70 years of age. She would have an annual income of $15,600. But, she would not have to pay tax on 41.9% of it. That means she would count only $9,063.60 of it as ordinary income subject to federal tax. (State taxes vary from state to state, but generally are a lot lower.)

You may be in a similar situation or you may find that you have stocks or other investments made years ago which have grown to the point that it is to your advantage to give them away and use the income from them until you and other loved ones no longer need the income.

Each person's situation is different and needs to be talked over and planned before going to a professional. A person does not give out of necessity, but out of a desire to help in the best way possible.

Barium Springs is dedicated to this with the people we serve and the people who want to help us make our services available as effectively as possible. If I can help you think through this process and the alternatives that are available to you, please write or give me a call at (704) 872-4157.

DAY CARE

On 6/20 the Day Care staff had a special "Appreciation Day" for the maintenance department. Bobby, Carl, Bill and Chad were treated to special surprises in each class, provided their favorite lunch and a visit from a "balloon lady." These folks do a fantastic job for Barium and we wanted to let them know how much we appreciate their high spirits and super services. Thanks, boys, we think you're great!

We are beginning to chip away at the waiting list of 120 children. Many new faces are here due to the leaving of some children who do not need care this summer. In late August, we will enroll approximately 20 more children as spaces are vacated by graduating 5 year olds.

Swimming has started to the delight of the 3's, 4's, and Summer Program children. We started our regular schedule of pool use on 6/19. We hope to have many children passing their swim test by August.

Thanks to Steve Tate for giving his time to discuss legal issues in child care with our staff. Steve, a local lawyer, is the husband of Connie Tate, our Special Services Program Coordinator, and father of two of our children: Tricia—2 years, and Laurie Beth—7 months.

PRE-ADOLESCENT CENTER

The cottage groups attended a Charlotte "O's" baseball game and enjoyed the event.

Johnston and Cannon cottages attended the "All-Star Cavalcade," a magic show presented at Statesville Senior High School. Stultz Cottage did not attend as they were busy preparing for a camping trip to the mountains.

After a shaky start, the Pre-Adolescent Softball Team has evened its record at "1 and 1." Games were played against Mills Home campus (Baptist Children's Homes) and the Children's Home of Winston-Salem.

ADOLESCENT CENTER

Gilbert Wiggins was hired as the fifth team person for Sanford Cottage for the summer months. Welcome aboard; we know you'll fit right in!

Caldwell Cottage has been enjoying the summer by eating at Western Steer, swimming and watching movies. Joe Romayo went home after earning Level 4. Shawn Henderson was reunited with his mother after reaching Level 2 and completing his goals. Congratulations on working so hard Joe and Shawn. You have been a true success.

Richard Cavin has joined the Caldwell Team as a summer worker. Welcome to a fine bunch of boys and a great team!

Three Sullivan residents recently completed the Adolescent Center program and have been accepted into the Preparation for Adult Living Program at Howard Cottage. The young ladies are Doris Danenberg, Lisa Norris, and Cassandra Thompson.

Gail Watts, Administrative Assistant at the Adolescent Center, celebrated her fifteenth year at Barium Springs June 10 and June 17. It took two celebrations to get the message of thanks to Gail after all those years!

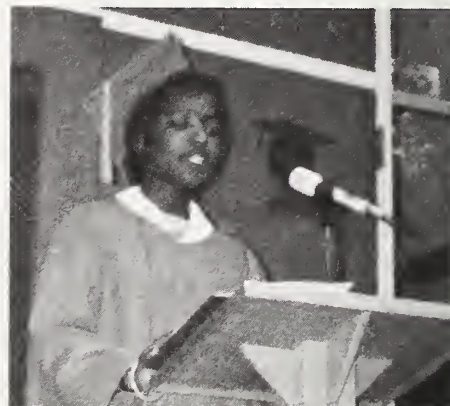

Summer school for the Adolescent Center began June 14. We are reinforcing the importance of an education for 2½ hours each day and so far everyone loves it!! Wonder how long it will last??

The Sullivan Team and residents welcome three new team members. Tawanna Heaggans has accepted a full-time child care worker position. Susan Lyons and Phyllis Starks have accepted summer positions. Welcome aboard ladies!

The Adolescent Center and The Children Home (Winston-Salem) recently combined resources for a 1½ day training event at Camp Caroway for all staff from each program. Training was provided by Howard Garner, renowned author and trainer in the interdisciplinary teamwork approach to social services. A great success for all who attended!

Lisa Norris of Sullivan Cottage, graduated from Barium Springs School on June 4, 1985 (see photo). Congratulations Lisa!

Connie Beach, Principal of the central school, retired (???) from Barium Springs after 10 years of service. Connie will be greatly missed, but we all understand her need to be at home to raise her and Eddie's son Brendan. Enjoy having your Mom around, Brendan; we'll miss her.

Comments From Barium Springs' Latest College Graduate

Betty Jean Jackson

Excerpts from her letter of June 10, 1985 to the Barium Staff:

“ . . . If it weren't for the Barium staff, my college education would be only a dream today . . . During the second semester of my freshman year in college, I ran into financial problems, which made it hard for me to pay my tuition for the semester . . . When I remembered that Barium assured me if I needed their help in the future to let them know . . . I wrote to them. A couple of days later I received a phone call from one of the staff members telling me the good news that I had their support. . . . From that time on I can't recall a time that my financial affairs were put on hold . . . thanks for your time and patience.”

YOUTH ACTIVITIES PROGRAM

In recent years readers of the MESSENGER have contributed most generously to our Youth Activities Program. Our summer program is planned with goals in mind: fun, education, personal growth.

Our special need at this time is for improvements at the “Hub,” our recreation center. For several years there has been a need for some minor renovation as well as replacement and repair of much of the indoor recreation equipment.

A former resident who graduated this year from college with her degree in Psychology writes, “I can still remember those days at Barium when I looked forward to the weekends to hang out at the “Hub.” We invite you (Individuals, Bible Classes, Women of the Church, Youth Groups, Bible Schools, etc.) to share in this effort.

Our sincere thanks to those of you who have already sent your summer gift. We have mailed our official receipt and letter of thanks.

PLEASE NOTE: In several instances we were not able to forward our official receipt and express our thanks as we could not properly identify the donors; several gifts came in from “Men's Bible Class,” “Circle #6,” etc. and the church was not identified. Thank you very much.

SUMMER SCENES

The campus summer programs are in full swing! Special events and different activities help to beat the heat and provide new experiences!

The Day Care Center has forty children, aged five through nine, in the Summer Program from June 17—August 16; daily activities and weekly field trips keep this group active. There was a Family Picnic July 19 for all the children of that Center. Each class enjoys the outdoors, the playground and uses the pool for swimming lessons and splashing-times.

The Pre-Adolescent Center has been to Camp Grier and each cottage group will have camping trips to Pisgah National Forest in the weeks ahead. As part of their studies on American Indians, the children will visit Blowing Rock and the Cherokee Reservation. Tubing on the New River is planned, too. The children will be in school during the morning with concentration on the "basics" for the summer. July 4 saw present and former residents and their families gathering at the pool for swimming, activities and lunch.

The Adolescent Center continues school in the mornings; the curriculum includes classes in life skills and on the Level System of each person. The afternoon program has arts and crafts, sports and nature studies as options. Cottage trips will be to Carowinds, camping in the mountains, white-water rafting and to the beach. There will be time in the pool, too, both with the Pre-Adolescent Center and just for the teenagers.

Seminary Sunday To Be Recognized

The importance of our Presbyterian seminaries will be recognized on September 15, the day officially designated by the General Assembly as Seminary Sunday. The purpose of this day of recognition is to develop awareness and support at the local church level for the Presbyterian theological institutions.

For 173 years, Union Theological Seminary has served churches in the Virginias and North Carolina by supplying a steady stream of competent and dedicated ministers. This continued relationship is vital to the future life of the Presbyterian Church. The seminary's ability to function on behalf of its supporting synods depends largely on the special offerings made on Seminary Sunday.

Readers of the Barium Messenger are encouraged to share in this basic ministry of our Church.

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance Program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS:

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. The amount is not mentioned.

CAMPUS SCHOOL GIVES TEENS EDGE

For many years Barium Springs Home for Children depended on local public schools to educate teenagers living at the home. But since 1980 teens at the Adolescent Center have attended classes in their own school on the Barium Springs campus.

"We opened our own school to give our students the extra attention they can't get in public schools," said Center Director Paul Risk. "For example, if a child goes into the ninth grade of a public school system reading on a second grade level then that child is in big trouble. But at our school our goal is to help that child move up to a third grade reading level, then fourth grade and so on.

"Another advantage of having the school on campus is that it fits in well with our 'team' approach to residential adolescent care," Risk added.

Each of the six cottages in the Adolescent Center houses 9 or 10 teens ranging in age from 13 to 18. The youths in five of these cottages attend the campus Central School, located in the renovated dining hall.

A staff team of two child care workers (cottage parents), a social worker and a teacher supervises each of the five cottages where Central School students live.

The sixth cottage is the Preparation for Adult Living (PAL) cottage, where youths learn life skills and attend the local public high school or Mitchell Community College while they hold

OFFERING IS SET

It has become a tradition that each Thanksgiving the Presbyterian Churches of North Carolina pull together and give to Barium Springs Home for Children through a special Thanksgiving Offering.

Earle Frazier, Executive Director of Barium Springs, said the North Carolina Synod has approved this offering each year as a way of getting the churches directly involved with the support of Barium Springs.

"The people of the over 600 Presbyterian Churches in North Carolina who have given to the Thanksgiving Offerings in the past have the satisfaction of knowing they have helped many children, teens and families of North Carolina," said Frazier.

"The money they donate helps provide our kids with a stable environment in which to live, professional staff to talk to and a place to pull themselves together before they face a world full of changing social demands and moral values."

A poster, brochure and offering envelope are designed each year for the Thanksgiving Offering. A packet con-

TEAM EVALUATES YOUTH CENTER

Rochelle Haimés, Barium Springs' campus administrator, and Paul Risk, Director of the Adolescent Center, recently made a trip to the Nebraska Center for Children and Youth as members of an evaluation team.

Haimés, Risk and Thomas D. Morton, Executive Director of the Child Welfare Institute in Atlanta, made up the team that the Nebraska Department of Social Services requested to evaluate the Nebraska Center's program.

The program, like the Barium Springs Adolescent Center, is a residential program for adolescents. The Nebraska Center is the only program of its kind in the state. Prior to its creation, adolescents were sent out of state for residential care.

"I'm very proud that Dr. Morton asked us to be on this team," said Haimés. "Our Adolescent Center is a

The phone rings often. A pastor or a worker with social services or a juvenile court counselor or a parent needs immediate help with a teenager. Last week it was an executive with a major bank. His secretary's grandchild was in trouble—fifteen years old—suddenly failing in school—stress in the family—an all too familiar story. We want to help but have no space.

Grandmother is responsible, productive and caring—and hurting. And what about the parents? The two siblings? It is so easy to limit our concern to the fifteen-year-old and ignore the hurts and needs of others in the family.

I wish we had space for that teenager. I wish we could assist those siblings and those parents in reconnecting their relationships. But, somehow, my thoughts have focused in a special way on the grandmother. And I wish we could help her.

At this Thanksgiving Season we are pleased that many children and youth do find help at Barium Springs. But let us not forget the grandparents, parents, pastors and friends. As a parent and grandparent, I know that when children have problems—as all children do—other people care . . . and hurt. We owe our best efforts to the children and nothing less to the "others." Or so it seems.

In addition to the five team teachers there are also two Central School teachers who conduct classes in English, math, science, history and enrichment. Most classes are small with only five to ten students grouped by skill level and working with a team teacher.

Risk said because the ultimate goal is to reunite these teens with their families and return them to public schools, each teen attends at least one class a semester in a large classroom with 12-18 other students and a Central School teacher. This helps students adjust more easily to larger classes if and when they return to their public schools.

Central School teacher Karen Campbell said of the five subjects taught at the school, only English and math are not taught in larger class settings.

"Many of our students need special help with these two subjects," Campbell said. "Smaller classes enable the teachers to give their students more individual attention."

Science, history and enrichment are taught in both large and small classes. If a student has science the first quarter in a small class, the next quarter he or she will have science in a large class.

When the teenagers arrive at the Center they are tested in the different subjects and assigned to one of these levels of achievement in each: basic; intermediate; or advanced.

"We want to make the kids feel comfortable about themselves as they learn," said Campbell. "When all of the kids in one class are on the same level, then they all feel equal to each other in their ability to learn."

"There is a special advantage to having the school on campus," Campbell said. "We can arrange our class schedules so that there is time for the different cottages to have team meetings once a week to discuss the goals, successes and failures of the teenagers in their cottages. If the teachers were in class all day every day there would be no time for the social worker, teacher, and child care workers to meet."

Testing statistics from the first semester of the 1984-85 school year indicate the Central School approach works. In reading ability there was an average of one year, two months improvement per student for every four and a half months they were in the Central School, an average of 2.9 months improvement per month.

In spelling there was an average of 3.7 months of improvement per student for every month in school and in math, an average of 1.2 months improvement per student for every month in school.

The Central School is certified by the Governor's office as a non-public school. On Aug. 28, the North Carolina Department of Public Instruction's Division for Exceptional Children accredited the Central School as a Special Education School to serve the emotionally and behaviorally handicapped and the learning disabled.

"The teenagers enrolled in the Adolescent Center program at Barium Springs Home for Children have had difficulties in their lives," said Risk. "Through the Center's Central School, these youths have a greater chance to improve their lives through more effective education."

“WHAT’S YOUR INTEREST?”

Mrs. Brewer’s attorney called the other day asking for information about a charitable gift annuity. He stated that she is eighty-four years of age and has $10,000.00 she wishes to invest at this time.

I turned to the Uniform Gift Annuity Rate Chart to discover that she would receive an annual rate of 10.9%. As anyone can figure, that means she will receive $1,090 each year from her gift. The best part is that over sixty percent of that is free of income tax. This means that she will have to pay federal income tax on only about $400.

More importantly, Mrs. Brewer has the satisfaction of knowing that when she no longer needs the income, the remainder will go to Barium Springs to help maintain its various programs to strengthen individuals and families.

Most people are not looking for income or a tax break when they make a charitable gift, but if that is your interest, it usually can be worked to your advantage to consider deferred plans of giving.

Take Mr. Arbuckle for instance. He had bought common stocks through the years. He did not receive the dividends, but let the companies reinvest them in more stocks. He was delighted with the way some of them had grown and disappointed with others.

When he retired, he decided he wanted to invest some of his stocks in a more profitable account. He was upset with how much capital gains taxes he would have to pay if he sold the stocks. In discussing his situation with his tax advisor, he discovered he could set up a gift annuity program which would pay him a much better return and limit his taxes.

By transferring the stocks to his favorite charity, Mr. Arbuckle could set up a gift annuity contract. He would have to pay only a portion of the capital gains tax on the increased value of the stocks. He could take a charitable deduction on his federal income tax which may be extended to an additional year or more.

The charitable gift annuity contract set up between him and the Home would provide him with a guaranteed annual income the rest of his life. The amount of payment depends on the age of the person making the gift.

At 65, Mr. Arbuckle could expect a 7.5% return for his lifetime. In addition, part of each annual payment, usually about 60%, is tax-free.

Another method of deferred giving is the charitable remainder unitrust. For the person with over $25,000 for such a gift who wants to supplement her or his income, such a gift may be advisable. In this agreement, the income may vary from year to year. The assets of the trust are evaluated each year and the donor receives not less than 5% of that value. When you make the gift and have the contract drawn up, you can determine the percentage depending on the income you will need each year from the trust.

For instance, if you fund a charitable remainder unitrust with $50,000.00, you will receive at least $2,500 the first year. Your income for the years following may be higher. (This is determined by the fair market value and the trustees who are responsible. The tax responsibilities vary, also.)

For a 72-year-old person, 65% of the gift would be deductible. In other words, $32,500 of it is counted as a charitable income tax deduction. If that is more than you can use the year you make the gift, the remainder may be carried over and deducted the next year or beyond up to five additional years. If appreciated securities are transferred, only 30% of adjusted gross income may be deducted the year the gift is made and the following five years, as needed.

As we all know, the tax laws are in a state of flux. All indications, presently, are that the tax benefits for gifts are better this year than they will be in the future. If this is a consideration for you, you may want to act now.

There are many ways to plan your gifts and the settlement of your estate. If you are interested and would like to consider alternatives, please feel free to call me without obligation at (704) 872-4157 or send in the coupon below requesting information and/or a visit.

15 YEARS AND STILL COOKIN'

The week of Sept. 30-Oct. 4 was designated Jimmie Lue Scott week at the Adolescent Center to honor Jimmie Lue for 15 years of expert service as cook for the Center.

Jimmie Lue had cooked two meals a day for the last 15 years, but on Wednesday, Oct. 2, the Adolescent Center staff had lunch catered by Kentucky Fried Chicken so she would not have to cook.

Lunch was served buffet style and Jimmie Lue was seated at a table covered with a white tablecloth and baskets of red and white flowers.

Jimmie Lue was then honored by the entire Center with a plaque inscribed with the narrative used on a nomination form for support worker of the year, an award which Jimmie Lue has been nominated for by Director Paul Risk for the past two years.

Beginning Monday, Sept. 30, Jimmie Lue was honored by a different cottage in the Adolescent Center each day. The youths in each cottage created and bought lovely gifts for Jimmie Lue to show their appreciation for her dedica-

Over the years Jimmie Lue has been much like a mother, grandmother, friend and confidante to all the youths at the Center.

Thank you Jimmie Lue, for being there and for caring.

rare working model of a residential adolescent program and it is wonderful to know that we could be of some help to others."

Haimes has been at Barium Springs since 1982 and Risk since 1983. Both are recognized through services in the North Carolina Child Care Association and the National Association of Homes for Children.

While at the Nebraska Center the team followed a busy schedule of interviews with judges, court staff and youths in residence, and they reviewed case records, program descriptions and reports.

The team will now begin to write a follow-up report to submit to the Nebraska D.S.S. within 30 days of their return.

INTERCRAFT DONATES PRINTS ... AGAIN!

DAY CARE CENTER

Staff Attends Conference

Fifteen staff members of the Family and Child Development Center at Barium Springs Home for Children recently attended the 1985 North Carolina Day Care Association's Annual Conference in Wilmington.

The conference, which was held Sept. 13, 14 and 15 at the Wilmington Hilton and the Cape Fear Technical Institute, offered over 100 workshops dealing with subjects ranging from nutrition planning to children's T.V. habits to easing the guilt of working mothers.

Reade Baker, Director of the Family and Child Development Center, gave two workshops on Partners with Parents where he discussed the importance of parental interaction and parent groups within a day care center.

Thanks go to Mrs. George B. Klien who was kind enough to rent her house at Wrightsville Beach to the staff for the weekend.

Day Care Has Open House

The Annual Open House and September Business meeting of the Family and Child Development Center of Barium Springs Home for Children was held from 7-9 p.m. Sept. 26.

Reade Baker, director of the Center, gave parents a summary of the Center's staff operations, budget, training activities and fee changes at the business meeting, which was held in Little Joe's Presbyterian Church.

Parents then went around to their child's room or rooms to talk with teachers about the goals and plans for their children in the coming year.

This year the fees will be raised $5. Baker said this is the first time in four years the fees have been raised.

The Center's tentative budget was disclosed by Baker at the meeting. The budget will be reviewed and decided on at the November meeting of the Barium Springs Home for Children Board of Regents.

According to the tentative budget, the Center will receive $297,000, which is $15,000 more than last year. The Center's budget is derived from a subsidy from Barium Springs Home for Children, fees from parents, Department of Social Service funding and efforts of the Parents Advisory Committee (PAC).

Baker said the money would be used primarily for an expansion project, which includes hiring more staff. This will enable the Center to handle more toddler (15 months to two years) age children. The money will also be used for expanding the outdoor patio area to provide more covered playground area.

Baker also recognized the wonderful job the PAC has done in fundraising efforts for the Center.

PRE-ADOLESCENT CENTER

Stultz Girl Plays Volleyball

Teawanda E., of Stultz cottage, is playing volleyball for Troutman Middle School this fall.

She and 21 other girls ages 11 through 13 are members of the Troutman Bobcats. The Bobcats play all the other middle schools in Iredell County.

So far the team has played 2 of the 8 games of the season and unfortunately lost both. But the coach, Mary Mayhew, said Teawanda has done well.

On Oct. 16, the Bobcats played their first home games against East Iredell and Cool Springs Middle Schools.

WAY TO GO TEAWANDA! KEEP UP THE GOOD WORK!

Youths Celebrate Halloween

Youths at the Pre-Adolescent Center of the Barium Springs Home for Children had a great time at a Halloween Carnival on Oct. 31, between 6:30 and 8:00 p.m.

"The children worked on their costumes and papier-mâché masks the entire month of October," said Helen Barron, the Pre-Ad. recreation director.

During the Carnival the children danced, bobbed for apples and tested their nerve in a haunted room.

First, second and third prizes were given for the best papier-mâché masks and there was also a contest for the best overall costume.

ADOLESCENT CENTER

Shirts Given as Awards

The Adolescent Center is awarding shirts as a motivation for their youths to make progress in the level system.

Beginning Oct. 2 the shirts, which are dark blue sport shirts with a gold Barium Springs logo, will be awarded to those youths already in care as an award for moving up a level in the level system.

New youths will receive a shirt as an award for moving from the introductory level A (a period of at least 4 weeks where a plan of care is established for the youth and the youth is oriented to the program) to level 1 where the youth receives more responsibility and more privileges.

The level system enables a youth to earn more responsibility and privileges while learning why rules and laws are necessary in a society. The youth comes to the program on level A, and can move all the way up to level 4 before leaving the program.

Sanford Boy Wins Medals

Kenny M. of Sanford Cottage won medals for three events at the Second Annual All Comers Track and Field Meet held July 30 at Statesville Senior High School's Greyhound Hollow, in Statesville, NC.

The Meet, which was sponsored by the Iredell-Statesville YMCA, was from 6-10 p.m. and drew 80 competitors between the ages of 9 and 64.

Kenny placed first in the 14-15 year age division for the long jump. He placed second in his age division for the 50-meter race and third in the 100-meter race.

From all the staff and youths here at Barium Springs:

CONGRATULATIONS KENNY!!

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance Program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS:

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. The amount is not mentioned.

Vol. 63

BARIUM SPRINGS, NORTH CAROLINA, WINTER 1986

No. 1

QUALITY DAY CARE OFFERED

The Family and Child Development Center, a Program of Barium Springs Home for Children, is a quality, cost-effective day care center which serves the residents of Iredell County.

The Center, which has a level II and AA license, (the highest license level available in North Carolina) is a "model" program for the state and provides training at annual conferences for several organizations such as the North Carolina Day Care Association. The Center also provides staff training for individual day care centers, special interest groups and churches upon request.

Reade Baker, director of the Center, said each of the 118 children at the Center is provided with the fullest opportunity to advance through the skill levels that all children progress through in normal growth and development and they receive help where it is needed.

The Center keeps children ranging in ages 6 weeks to 10 years old. They are open from 8 a.m. to 5:30 and have an after school program where children from the local elementary school are dropped off by a school bus.

Baker said that the teachers can design the children's play time so that the activities they are participating in help sharpen their growth and development skills. Baker gave playing with blocks as an example.

"The teacher knows that the child is using cognitive skills to build a tower, or whatever. The child is using fine motor skills just to be able to pick that block up, set it on another block and let it go. The child is using his imagination to decide the conglomeration he's building is a gas station and smash a toy car into it."

CENTER TO GET NEW SCHOOL

Plans are being drawn for the remodeling of the old infirmary to provide space for a new school and offices for the Pre-Adolescent Center.

Peagram Associates, a Statesville Architectural firm, began drawing up the plans January 11, two months after the conversion was approved by the Barium Springs Home for Children Board of Regents at their fall meeting, Nov. 10 and 11.

The Center's offices and school are presently located in Wallace cottage, along with the central kitchen.

"Space is scarce in Wallace," said Director David Kimmerly. "Wallace was built to house 8 children and two child care workers. Right now we have three classrooms with around 24 children and the central kitchen in there, plus there's about 10 staff members working there during the day. You can imagine how cramped we are."

The Christmas Season always brings unexpected pleasures and inspirations. Share with us a card and note from a parent:

"We just want to say again how very much we thank God for all of you. Your skillful care is an abundant answer to a long-standing prayer for our son."

We hope that each of you can share our pleasure and inspiration from that brief note. In a very real sense, "all of you" encompasses a multitude—people who brought Barium Springs into existence—people who supported its work over the years—people who, in this day, enable the tradition of helping to continue.

How satisfying it is to have a small part in the works of that multitude over these 95 years!

QUALITY DAY CARE OFFERED

"The really great thing about the Center is that the children learn through their play," said Baker. "If they know they're working, we're not doing our job. If they are having a blast and they don't realize they're learning, then we're doing a great job."

About 15% of the children at the Center are special needs children, with problems ranging from mild speech impediments to severe mental retardation.

"The special needs children are mainstreamed with the rest of the children so that the 'normal' children get a chance to see that some children are different and also so the special needs children get a chance to observe so-called 'normal' behavior," said Baker.

Kimmerly said after renovation the new building will have three classrooms, a large conference room, area for vocational training (a kitchen and eventually a shop) and there will be a green house attached to the building.

"We are going to have space for things like computers, and space for vocational training," said Kimmerly. "We've always known it would be valuable to give the children vocational training and computer training, but we've never had the space."

Wallace cottage will contain offices, a central kitchen and a conference room.

As of yet, no date has been set for remodeling to begin or for the project to be completed. Kimmerly said after the plans are completed those dates will be set.

Mr. Joseph Asvitt of Hayward, California died of a massive heart attack on Nov. 10, 1985. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Helen Moore Asvitt, who is a class of 1939 graduate from Barium Springs Home for Children.

We were saddened by Mrs. Asvitt's loss and we would like for her to know she is in our thoughts and prayers.

ENDOWMENT ESTABLISHED

The family and friends of Albert Broadus Hamilton, III have made gifts to Barium Springs Home for Children to create an Endowment in his memory. Hamilton was a victim of the hotel fire in White Plains, New York in December, 1980.

His father, A. Broadus Hamilton, Jr., was Director of Development at Barium Springs Home for Children from 1971 until his retirement June 30, 1985. Broadus, his wife, Evelyn, their daughter, Kathryn and friends of the family chose a Memorial Endowment as a way to assure that their loved one's name would be remembered as would their caring for him and about others in need.

Additional gifts to the Albert Broadus Hamilton, III Memorial Endowment Fund are welcomed and the family will be notified.

CHARTING YOUR FINANCIAL COURSE

Your Will—the Ultimate Form of Self-Expression

If you really want to know a person, read his or her will.

By outlining exactly how all our property should be distributed at our death, who our heirs will be and the amount and the type of property each of them will receive, a well-written will can express our personal values and priorities better than the most eloquent eulogy.

The reading-of-the-will scene, so familiar that it's become a dramatic cliché, has been used as the definitive literary character-sketch by hundreds of writers of novels, plays and movies. We jokingly say, "I'll remember you in my will," to someone who does you a favor. And sometimes we're not joking when we say, "I'll cut you out of my will," to someone who provokes our anger.

If you have a will, take a few minutes to find it now and read it. When you're finished, ask yourself what your will tells you about the person you are. Does the picture your will paints of you match your image of yourself? Does it accurately and completely reflect the values and priorities you truly consider most important? What will it tell others about you at your death? Will they remember you the way you'd like for them to?

If you're like most people, of course, you've never taken the time to make a will. You may have assumed the state you live in will distribute your estate the way you'd have wanted it done anyway. You may think it's too expensive to have a will made, or that wills are only for the very rich. Most likely, you've simply never gotten around to the task.

If you haven't made your will, for whatever reason, or if the will you now have fails to reflect your true values and priorities, you should consider making a new will immediately, not only for the many practical benefits a will can provide, but because the will-making process can offer such an excellent opportunity for self-discovery and self-expression.

To prepare a new will, or to revise one that's no longer suited to your needs and desires, begin by reviewing your present financial situation. List all your property, including such assets as insurance, securities and real estate. Next, list the names of the people and organizations you'd most like to have receive your property, in the event of your death. You'll probably begin with members of your immediate family and perhaps a few close friends. As a supporter of Barium Springs Home for Children, you may well include Barium Springs on your list, too.

Now, with your list of property and your list of heirs complete, think about how you'd like to match one with the other. Do you have particular possessions you'd like certain of your heirs to receive? How would you like for the rest of your property to be disposed of? Who'd be the best person to take charge of settling your estate?

In specifying how you'd like your estate to be distributed, you'll probably want to consider the following types of bequests:

—Legacies, in which the beneficiary receives a specified amount of money.

—Specific Bequests, in which the beneficiary receives specified property other than money, such as securities, real estate, partnership interests, or tangible personal property.

—Residuary Bequests, in which the beneficiary receives a percentage of your estate after specific legacies, debts, taxes and estate expenses are paid.

—Bequests to Charitable Remainder Trusts, in which one or more beneficiaries receive income from a trust established under the provisions of your will and, upon the death of the last surviving beneficiary, all or part of the principal passes to the beneficiary of your choice.

—Testamentary Charitable Lead Trusts, in which a beneficiary receives income from a trust established by the provisions in your will and, upon the expiration of the trust, the principal passes to one or more named beneficiaries.

—Contingent Bequests, in which property is distributed to certain beneficiaries only if other named beneficiaries do not survive you.

Last, but certainly not least, once you've completed your preliminary thinking and list-making, leave the actual preparation of your will to a competent attorney. It's the best way to be sure your wishes can be legally followed to the letter.

Jesus said, in his Sermon on the Mount, "For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also." Your will says, in effect, "These are the possessions I treasure most, and these are the people and institutions I consider to be most deserving."

If there is a place in your heart for Barium Springs Home for Children, if you consider its vital ministries deserving of your support, why not express your loving concern by remembering Barium Springs in your will?

1985 HOLIDAY SEASON

FUNDS ADD TO CELEBRATION

Every year Barium Springs Home for Children receives money from the Joseph F. Cannon Christmas Trust to make purchases that will bring "happiness and cheer at Christmas time" to Barium children.

Cannon, in a will dated 1932, set up a trust naming 10 North Carolina institutions, including Barium Springs, that are to each receive 10% of the trust's annual income.

This year the Day Care Center used the money to buy presents that were delivered to all the children at the Center personally by Santa Claus, and also some riding toys for all the children to enjoy.

In addition to individual gifts for the children, the Pre-Adolescent Center bought new record players for the cottages and some new gym equipment. The Adolescent Center also gave individual gifts to all the children in that program, and hopes to purchase a new television for the central dining room and a VCR so the children can watch movies and the staff can use it for training.

SANTA (Adolescent Center Director Paul Risk) passes out gifts purchased with funds from the Joseph F. Cannon Christmas Trust to the teenagers after they enjoyed a pizza lunch on Dec. 19.

THE STABLE IN BETHLEHEM was the scene for the Adolescent Center Christmas play on Dec. 18. The teenagers did an impressive job acting out the birth of Jesus to narration and Christmas carols.

THE ADMINISTRATION BUILDING was one of the stops these carollers from the Adolescent Center made as they walked around campus after the Christmas play.

EMPLOYEES OF BARIUM SPRINGS enjoyed conversation and an excellent meal at the annual Employee Christmas dinner on Dec. 20. Appetizers were served before the buffet style dinner, which was held in the Adolescent Center dining hall.

LET'S EAT! The children of the Pre-Adolescent Center could hardly wait to dig into this wonderful Christmas buffet on Dec. 11. Credit for cooking this feast goes to Vivian Taylor, (far right).

ADA GRAHAM, a child care worker, helps Perry D. take his new remote control truck out of its package. The Pre-Ad. children opened gifts purchased from Cannon Trust funds on Dec. 13.

THESE ELVES AND REINDEER are actually the 4-year-olds from the Day Care Center singing at the Dec. 16 Family and Child Development Center Christmas Show. Parents were surprised when 8 tiny reindeer came down the aisle of Little Joe's Presbyterian Church pulling a red sleigh with tiny elves and Santa Claus.

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance Program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS:

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

PUBLICATION OF BARIUM SPRINGS HOME FOR CHILDREN

CENTER HELPS TROUBLED PRE-TEENS

The Pre-Adolescent Center, a program offered by Barium Springs Home for Children, provides residential services to boys and girls, ages 10 to 13, who have significant social, emotional or learning problems.

"We try to work toward reuniting families where it is possible," said Pre-Ad. Director David Kimmerly. "But if it is not possible, then we work to help the families make alternate plans for their children, such as foster homes."

As soon as a child is admitted to the Center, a 'plan of care' is developed for the child and his or her family. This plan of care structures the use of time during placement, and it includes goals that must be met by the child, the family and the Center's staff while the child is in placement.

These goals are reviewed and revised regularly as needed and they seek to:

—reunify youth and family to the degree possible —establish a routine for the child in order to stabilize the child and the family's lifestyle —provide individual and group counseling based on the specific needs of the family —provide necessary recreational activities so as to enhance development of trusting relationships, a sense of belonging and security, and a sense of leadership —provide an Individual Education Plan for each child and special education where it is needed. An on-campus school which is approved by the N.C. Department of Public Instruction to serve children with special needs is provided.

A central component of the Center's program is the level system. Children move through levels and increase the number and quality of privileges as they make improvements on pre-determined behavioral goals.

Nancy Puffenberger, a teacher at the Center, said many of the children enrolled at the Center are special education children, and need more attention than a public school can give them.

The Center's school, which is presently located in Wallace cottage, will be moving into a newly renovated building on campus soon. Renovation plans for the old infirmary, also known as the Jennie Gilmer cottage, have recently been completed, but no date has been set for the actual renovation to begin.

"The new school will have three classrooms, office and conference rooms, a

... Or So It Seems

W. Earle Frazier
ACSW
Executive Director

"What is your success rate?" I get this question often—a very legitimate question . . . but most difficult to answer.

Although we are working diligently to develop ways to measure the effects of our efforts, the only solid evidence we have comes from educational testing. Our students consistently average one and a half to two and a half months of progress for each month in the on-campus special education schools.

We believe this progress carries over into better emotional adjustment, citizenship, and prognosis for the future. But the truth is, we really don't know what each young person will do with the experiences here; just as our parents did not know about us when we left our homes. "I planted, Apollos watered, but God gave the growth" (RSV, I Corinthians 3:6).

We must be concerned about growth, but our specific task is to go on, lovingly and intelligently, planting and watering—and trusting.

library and room for vocational training," said Kimmerly. "We have three teachers to teach small, ungraded, self-contained classes. And any children who do not need special education classes have the option of attending public school in the local community."

There are three cottages in the Center, each with two live-in counselors. Cannon and Johnston cottages each house a maximum of eight boys, while Stultz houses a maximum of eight girls. The Center has a capacity of 24 children.

Three social workers, all with Masters'

Degrees in Social Work, provide individual and group counseling to the children and their families. The social workers also make periodic home visits to get a better understanding of a child's home environment.

The Center has a recreation director to teach the children intellectual, physical, spiritual and emotional skills through recreational activities.

Mr. Reavis was born in Iredell County on April 7, 1915, and was a son of the late Robert P. Reavis, Sr., and Lina Long Reavis.

He attended Barium Springs School and was to graduate with the class of 1934, but was hospitalized for 6 months in 1933 due to a football injury he suffered as fullback on the Barium Springs football team. He completed his high school education at Mitchell Community College and went on to North Carolina State University in 1935.

Mr. Reavis was a retired mechanical engineer with AMP Corporation in Clemmons, N.C. He is survived by his wife, the former Lucille Crawford; four sons, Donald G. Reavis and Philip E. Reavis, both of Statesville, Robert P. Reavis, III, of Greensboro and Thomas W. Reavis of Raleigh; one brother, Harold Reavis of Fayetteville; one sister, Mrs. Clara R. # CHARTING YOUR FINANCIAL COURSE

Give the Hen, Keep the Eggs

Lately, it seems impossible to go to the mail box without finding one of those "You-may-have-already-won!" sweepstakes envelopes inside.

If you're like most people, you've given at least some thought to what you'd do if you actually won. You might begin by paying off all your bills and, perhaps buying a few luxuries for yourself and your family. You'd also be likely to consider your favorite charities—including Barium Springs Home for Children—and, with the help of your accountant, share some of your new-found wealth with them.

As much as we enjoy dreaming of instant wealth, however, most of us know we'll never win a sweepstakes. We concentrate instead on meeting our current financial obligations with our present income and on mapping out strategies for meeting our future needs with future income as best we can.

But suppose there was a way to take care of your current and future financial needs and those of your family while providing substantial support to your favorite charity?

If you own a significant amount of income-producing property, you can support your favorite charity at a more meaningful level while continuing to enjoy the benefits of owning the property.

Through such vehicles as pooled income funds, charitable remainder unitrusts, charitable remainder annuity trusts, life estate contracts and gift annuities, you can "give the hen" to Barium Springs while "keeping the eggs" for yourself and your family as long as you need them.

Here's how each one works:

A Pooled Income Fund allows you to transfer money or other property into the fund in exchange for life income payments to yourself and/or any beneficiaries you name.

The amount Barium Springs pays you and other beneficiaries when you contribute to its pooled income fund varies with fluctuations in the fund's earnings.

You'll receive immediate capital gains tax savings if the property you give has increased in value since you bought it. Your gift will also qualify as a charitable deduction on your income tax return. You'll reduce future estate settlement expenses, too, since the property donated will not be considered part of your estate.

According to the transfer agreement, Barium Springs receives the full use of the donated money or property at the death of the last surviving beneficiary.

A Charitable Remainder Unitrust provides you with income based on a fixed percentage. The income amount varies, however, based on yearly evaluations of the net fair market value of the trust assets. You choose a payout rate of at least five percent, bearing in mind that a higher rate reduces growth of principal as well as the amount of your current charitable deduction.

When you establish a charitable remainder unitrust, you avoid any capital gains tax. The term of the unitrust may be for the life of one or two persons or for a period not to exceed 20 years. At death, Barium Springs becomes owner of the trust assets.

A Charitable Remainder Annuity Trust provides you a fixed income of at least five percent of the property's net fair market value at the time you established the trust.

As with the unitrust, the term of the annuity trust may be for the lifetime of one or more persons or for a period of time of not more than 20 years.

If having a predictable income each year is important to you, regardless of fluctuations in earnings or the value of the portfolio, you may prefer the annuity trust to the unitrust.

A Life Estate Contract is the simplest of the "give-the-hen, keep-the-eggs" arrangements.

If you own a home or other property, such as a farm, you can transfer ownership to Barium Springs now, with the provision that you retain the use of the property for as long as you and any beneficiary you name live.

As with the other vehicles, you avoid capital gains tax and estate tax when you establish a life estate contract.

A Gift Annuity is a contract between you and Barium Springs in which you allow Barium Springs to manage the principal of your gift while you, and if you wish, a beneficiary, receive a life-long income.

The amount of the income is based on the age of you and any beneficiary at the time you establish the contract. The older you are, the larger the payments.

You may also establish a gift annuity for a specific term of years, an arrangement that may be attractive to you if you are in a high income tax bracket and would like a charitable income tax deduction as well as tax-free income for a term of years.

A gift annuity qualifies you for a charitable income tax deduction in the year of the gift. A portion of the income you receive each year is also exempt from federal income taxes.

New Gift Societies

Since its founding nearly 100 years ago, Barium Springs has benefited from the generosity of thousands of Presbyterians and others whose gifts have helped sustain the Home's important ministry. Barium Springs has also benefited from the dedicated service of staff members and leaders who have devoted their lives to the loving nurture of those the Home has served.

Therefore it is altogether appropriate to recognize the exceptional contributions of four individuals from Barium Springs' past by renaming the Home's individual gift clubs in their honor. The four—Jethro Rumble, Joe Johnston, Rebekah Carpenter, and Buck Jackins—truly exemplify the loving, giving spirit that has sustained Barium Springs throughout its history.

Your gift to Barium Springs makes you an active participant in its Christian ministry which exerts an enormous positive influence on the children, adolescents, and adults served.

'PAL' Members Prepare For Graduation

The Preparation for Adult Living Program (PAL), part of the Barium Springs Adolescent Center, proudly announces that four of its members are graduating from South Iredell High School this year, and a fifth student plans to take the G.E.D. examination at Mitchell Community College.

The PAL program is an alternative for teens who have successfully completed the Adolescent Center Program but do not plan to return home or are not ready to go out on their own. Youth in this program attend the local high school, South Iredell, or take courses at Mitchell Community College, while they hold part-time jobs in the community and learn life skills. The PAL program also takes youths who are referred from other agencies or sources.

Lisa Pauna, 18, plans to enter the Air Force after graduation. Lisa is interested in pilot training and computer technology. She came to the PAL program in May of 1985. She worked full-time at the Barium Springs Family and Child Development Center in the summer of 1985, and part-time at Hardee's in Statesville during the school year.

Donnie McDaniels, 17, is still undecided about his plans after graduation. He may stay on in the PAL program and attend a technical college near Barium or move home and attend college there. Donnie came to the PAL program in October of 1985. He has a part-time job at Food Lion in Statesville.

Gerald Oliver, 18, came to the PAL program in January of 1985. Gerald plans to remain in PAL after graduating, find a full-time job and attend a technical college at night. He is also exploring the possibility of a career in the Air Force and his interests are electronics and computers. Presently, Gerald has a part-time job at Hardee's in Statesville.

Cassandra Thompson, 17, is planning to live with an Aunt and pursue a career in Cosmetology upon graduation. She came to the PAL program in June of 1985.

Mike Combs, 16, is planning to take the G.E.D. examination at Mitchell Community College in May. Mike completed the Adolescent Center Program some time ago, went home for a year and decided to come back and enter the PAL program in May of 1985. He has been working hard all year at Mitchell to prepare for the exam.

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance Program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS:

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

PUBLICATION OF BARIUM SPRINGS HOME FOR CHILDREN

Vol. 63

BARIUM SPRINGS, NORTH CAROLINA, SUMMER 1986

No. 3

SYNOD ELECTS 4 NEW REGENTS

Four new Regents were recently elected to the Barium Springs Home for Children's Board of Regents by the Synod at the Annual Session.

The session, which was Synod's 173rd, was held at Warren Wilson College in Swannanoa, N.C. on May 28 and 29.

The regents are elected to serve a term of three years on the Board, and may be re-elected to a second term after which they must rotate off the Board for a year. After a year Synod may nominate and re-elect a former regent for two more three-year terms.

The four new regents, who will rotate off the Board as the Class of 1989, are: Reverend John K. Abernethy, a retired Minister from Montreat, N.C.; Mr. James T. Staples, financial consultant and president of JTS Financial Associates in Statesville, N.C.; Reverend Harry Miller, Pastor of Haymount Presbyterian Church in Fayetteville, N.C.; and Mr. Robert L. Dick, Vice President of construction for Duke Power Company. Mr. Dick resides in Denver, N.C.

The staff of Barium Springs Home for Children and the other members of the Board of Regents take this opportunity to welcome these four new members and wish them a happy and productive term.

Mr. Robert Dick

STAFF AWARDED SCHOLARSHIPS

Five employees of Barium Springs Home for Children were recently awarded scholarships to further their graduate studies in social work and related fields.

The scholarship funds are included in the annual Consultation and Training Grant from the Duke Endowment to the North Carolina Child Care Association (NCCCA), for disbursement to NCCCA full member agencies in North Carolina and the Duke Endowment-assisted agencies in South Carolina. The scholarship applications were reviewed and awarded by the Consultation and Training Committee of the NCCCA with the consent of the Duke Endowment. The Committee is made up of representatives from both North and South Carolina Agencies.

Four of the five scholarship recipients are employed in the Adolescent Center Program at the Barium Springs Home.

Social Workers Betty Cowan and Bruce Steadman are planning to get their Masters in Social Work at the University of South Carolina.

Social Worker Robert Pinkney is looking at the Child Care Administration track at Nova University in Ft. Lauderdale, Florida.

Central School Teacher Melanie Stroud is working on her Masters in Special/Correctional Education within the Counselor/Case Management Tract at Lenoir Rhyne College in Hickory.

The fifth recipient, Nancy Puffenberger, is employed as the Science and Social Studies Teacher at the Pre-Adolescent Center Program and is working on her Masters in Special Education with a concentration in Emotional Handicaps at UNCC.

The purpose of the scholarship funds is to enable qualified employees who would not otherwise be able to earn a graduate degree to develop their professional skills, thus improving the quality of service available to children and families in North and South Carolina.

The Committee had $12,000 in scholarships awards to distribute for the 1986-87 year. The available funds were pro-rated to the 18 applicants who qualified, on the basis of 78% of the eligible request, which was $1,000 per applicant.

GRADUATION HELD

Acquanetta Marie McNeil graduated from the Barium Springs School on June 26, 1986 at a ceremony held at Little Joe's Presbyterian Church on the campus of Barium Springs Home for Children.

people, which included Ms. McNeil's family and friends and Barium Springs staff. Ms. McNeil walked down the aisle to Pomp and Circumstance.

Guest speakers at the graduation were: Greg Nixon, a social worker from the New Hanover County Department of Social Services in Wilmington, N.C., who gave a presentation on Ms. McNeil's behalf titled "Changes"; and Larry Ellis, Pastor of Fallstown Baptist Church in Troutman, N.C. and a former resident of Barium Springs.

Nixon described the changes which have occurred in Ms. McNeil's life and how proud everyone is of her for handling those changes to the best of her ability. Ellis, in a presentation titled "Challenges," told of all the challenges Ms. McNeil has had to meet in her life to arrive at her graduation day; and challenged the rest of the youth at Barium to meet those same challenges with the tenacity that

Ms. McNeil has shown.

Ms. McNeil thanked her family, friends and the staff for helping her achieve her goals and was presented her diploma by Charlene Massey, her teacher in Sullivan Cottage.

A reception was held in Ms. McNeil's honor following the ceremony in the Church's Fellowship Hall. Cake and punch were served to those attending and Ms. McNeil opened her graduate gifts while everyone looked on.

Ms. McNeil has been accepted in the Preparation for Adult Living (PAL) Program in the Adolescent Center. She will continue to live on campus in the PAL cottage and hold a part-time job in the community while she attends Mitchell Community College.

Everyone at Barium would like to take this opportunity to say: "Congratulations Acquannetta! We are all very proud of you!!"

Mrs. Wise, class of 1935, grew up at Barium with her sister Ruth and brother Eugene. She survives her husband and is living in Roanoke.

Miss Esther Archer, class of 1930, died in Charlotte, N.C. on June 20, 1986.

She, her sister Avis and brother Walter, grew up at Barium. The following quote can be found under her senior picture in the 1930 "Spotlight" (Barium Springs High School Annual):

"Wonder if she ever had an enemy? No, don't think that can be said of her, but other things can be, which can only be for her praise. She is a good student who does her best in all she undertakes ..."

CHARTING YOUR FINANCIAL COURSE

Giving the Gift You Can Get Back

If you're like most friends of Barium Springs Home for Children, you'd be happy to share more of your good fortune with Barium Springs, if only you could be sure you or your family will never need your gift in the future.

Or perhaps you'd be willing to "lend" Barium Springs a particular asset now on the condition it would be returned to you or someone you choose at a specified time in the future.

If you'd like to help Barium Springs now while maintaining the right to get the gift back in the future, should the need ever arise, a revocable gift may well be the answer.

A revocable gift lets you take immediate, generous action to help Barium Springs while keeping your options open to get the gift back. If you ever need or want to reclaim the gift—for whatever reason—you can do so simply by asking.

If you're like most donors of revocable gifts, you'll never actually need to take back your gift during your lifetime, and the gift will ultimately become the property of Barium Springs Home for Children at your death. Because Barium Springs is already acting as trustee for the property, such a gift is not subject to probate or public record and is less vulnerable to being contested by heirs.

The form in which you should give your gift depends on your particular financial situation and what you want to give. The most common types of revocable gifts are described below.

A life estate contract allows you to deed a home or a farm to Barium Springs while retaining full use of the property—including the right to take back the deed and sell the property, if you wish—until death. You continue to maintain the property and pay insurance and taxes. There are no tax deductions available with this type of gift since you retain full use of the property.

You may establish a revocable living trust by placing a sum of money, securities or other property with a trustee for the benefit of Barium Springs. You may elect to receive the income from the trust yourself or designate another person or Barium Springs to receive it. If you never revoke your gift, Barium Springs receives the entire principal or designated portion as a gift.

You may name Barium Springs the beneficiary of a permanent life insurance policy while retaining ownership of the policy and, along with it, access to the policy's cash value. You may also retain the right to designate another beneficiary if you wish to do so in the future. Although the policy's face value will be included in your gross estate, no federal estate tax liability will result because of the charitable deduction.

A charitable lead trust provides for a gift of an income interest from property to Barium Springs for a term of years, after which the property either reverts to you or your designated beneficiary. In this way, you "lend" the property to Barium Springs for the term of the trust. This type of trust may be of interest if you'd like to leave property to heirs at a significantly reduced gift or estate tax cost. It also allows you to channel to your heirs all future appreciation from the assets placed in the trust without having to pay gift or estate tax on the appreciation.

Grantor lead trusts are similar to charitable lead trusts, except they qualify for an income tax deduction for the present value of the total income to be paid to Barium Springs. This trust expires in less than ten years, at which time the trust principal and any appreciation is returned to you.

If there were such a thing as a reliable fortune teller—someone who could see your financial future clearly among the tea leaves or in the crystal ball—making decisions about charitable gifts would be easy. If you'd like to support Barium Springs while keeping your options open in an uncertain future, consider giving the gift you can get back—a revocable gift.

For more information about how you can "give the gift you can get back," feel free to call: Earle Frazier, Executive Director, at (704) 872-4157. Or send in the coupon below requesting information and/or a visit.

HOME COMING 1986

DEVELOPMENT DIRECTOR NAMED

Reade Baker, who has been the director at the Family and Child Development Center for the last four and one-half years, has accepted the position of Director of Development for Barium Springs Home for Children.

Reade will begin his new position as soon as a director for the Family and Child Development Center has been named.

As Director of Development, Reade will be administratively responsible for all development, public relations and accounting activities. He will supervise all personnel in the main office except for Rochelle Haines, Campus Administrator, and Bette Chastain, Receptionist.

Reade will be missed by the staff at the Family and Child Development Center, but his knowledge of the agency and his enthusiasm for its services will be a great asset to our Development Program.

Reade is a North Carolina native. He and his wife Sue, and their daughter Jessica, live on Barium Lane.

"Best Wishes!!" to Reade from the staff at the Family and Child Development Center. And "Welcome Aboard!!" from the main office staff.

CAMPUS NEWS

Adolescent Center

On June 7, 1985, 45 family members, residents, and staff of Grannis Cottage participated in a "Family Day Picnic."

Guests began to arrive at 11:00 a.m. and at 1:00 a lunch of hamburgers, hot dogs and fresh corn was prepared and served by the residents and the staff. Families were asked to bring desserts.

Activities at the picnic included volleyball, horseshoe tossing and swimming. Everyone also participated in "Ice Breaker" activities and enjoyed the chance to socialize with one another. The picnic ended at 4:30 p.m.

Pre-Adolescent Center

May Fun Day was held at the Pre-Ad. Center on May 28, 1986, from 9:00 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

The children and staff participated in mud boat races, earth ball games, bubble gum blowing contests, sack races, tug of war, balloon toss and a pie fight.

Awards were given out for the most cooperative, most supportive and best team-mates. Johnston cottage won an award for the most creative mud boat.

Fifteen Pre-Ad. children and three staff went on a field trip to Kure Beach, June 16 through the 19.

The trip, which was part of the school's summer program on North Carolina, gave the children the chance to study the geography and animal life of coastal North Carolina as they visited the North Carolina Marine Resources, the Battleship North Carolina, Fort Fisher, the Wilmington Port Authority and took a ferry ride to Southport.

The summer program will also include trips to study other sections of North Carolina, such as the Piedmont and the Mountains.

Day Care Center

The children at the Day Care Center had a grand time celebrating the 4th of July this year. Here the 4-year-olds are posing with the Flag and the Statue of Liberty.

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance Program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS:

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. The amount is not mentioned.

BARIUM MESSENGER

PUBLICATION OF BARIUM SPRINGS HOME FOR CHILDREN

Vol. 63

BARIUM SPRINGS, NORTH CAROLINA, FALL 1986

No. 4

GIVING THANKS FOR BARIUM

Each year the Presbyterian Churches of North Carolina are asked to collect a special offering on the Sunday before or after Thanksgiving Day, for Barium Springs Home for Children.

This tradition of churches pulling together to send a Thanksgiving offering to Barium Springs is more than just the gathering of needed funds for operations.

This offering has long been a major means of financial and spiritual support for special children with very special problems. Many of our children have pasts that give them little reason to believe that faith, hope, and love exists for them. The offering is a way of showing the children that they can exist, through the church and its people.

Not many jobs, if any, are so difficult as trying to help children see that there is hope, and there is good reason to have faith, and that love is possible, when they have lived with pessimism, despair, or hostility.

The Thanksgiving offering helps provide the talented staff who try to instigate change in the attitudes and behavior of these children. It is a challenge for our staff because these attitudes have been developed almost since birth, but it is a challenge which they accept.

Barium Springs Home for Children has three programs, the Adolescent Center, the Pre-Adolescent Center and the Family and Child Development Center.

The Adolescent and Pre-Adolescent Centers provide residential group care to children who have significant social, emotional and academic problems. The Family and Child Development Center provides quality day care for the Iredell County area and is a model program serving as a training site for other programs in North Carolina.

All three programs have an excellent reputation in the field of child care and can serve approximately 200 children and their families at a given time. A brochure is available to those who want to know more about Barium's programs by writing: ATTENTION: PROGRAM BROCHURE, Barium Springs Home for Children, Post Office Box 1, Barium Springs, N.C. 28010; or by calling 704-872-4157 and requesting a copy of the brochure be sent to you.

HAIMES, RISK, TO PRESENT INSTITUTE

Campus Administrator Rochelle Haimes and Adolescent Center Director Paul Risk, have been chosen to give an Institute at the Inaugural Conference of the Albert E. Trieschman Center for Child Care and Child Development in Boston, Ma., March 18-21, 1987.

Haimes, Risk, and Dr. Howard Garner, Director of the Virginia Institute for Developmental Disabilities at Virginia Commonwealth University, will present "From Theory to Practice; Developing and Implementing the Interdisciplinary Team Model of Organization"; on March 20. The Institute will begin at 9:00 a.m., break for lunch from 11:30 to 2:00, and resume until 4:30 p.m.

This Institute will examine the team model of Organization from the theoretical, organizational and managerial perspectives. It was chosen from more than 130 proposals received from outstanding leaders in the field of group care.

The goal of the inaugural conference is to feature the most sophisticated training by and for group care practitioners of all levels and to officially open the Trieschman Center.

The Center was built in memory of Dr. Albert Trieschman, one of the foremost leaders in residential group care in the U.S., Canada and abroad. Dr. Trieschman was Director of the Walker Home and School in Needham, Ma., for more than two decades before his death in 1984. He is one of the authors of the classic group care book, The Other 23 Hours.

The conference theme, "Whole Days, Whole Lives: Building Competence in the Child Caring Environment," is based on Dr. Trieschman's vision and efforts to establish a knowledge base, and to develop skills for those who provide care and treatment to troubled children.

Haimes, Risk and Garner have a long list of accomplishments in the field of group care. "We're very excited about presenting an Institute at a conference that honors a man as important in group

What brings the most meaning to our living? Our relationships with people. What brings the most hurt to our living? Our relationships with people.

Most of us come out ahead in our relationships, survive the hurts, go on caring and finding meaning in our lives. But what about those who come out behind; learn that it doesn't pay to care; cannot risk caring; cut themselves off from people and grow more and more lonely?

As the Thanksgiving and Christmas Holidays approach, let us celebrate with those who bring meaning to our living. And let us care deeply about those who are lonely and cannot celebrate.

CHARTING YOUR FINANCIAL COURSE

Seven Great Ways to Save on This Year's Taxes

There's something about the holiday season that brings out the best in people, inspiring us to express our Christian care and concern for our fellow human beings more generously than at any other time of the year.

Because of favorable tax treatment of many types of planned gifts, you may be able to reduce your taxes this year and give more generously than you thought possible during this holiday season.

Here are seven ways you can save:

1. Outright gifts of cash or long-term capital gain property are 100 percent deductible in the year of the gift up to 50 percent of your adjusted gross income or 30 percent for long-term capital gain property. A carry-over provision allows you to apply unused deductions for five years. You also avoid long-term capital gains tax with this type of gift.

2. A charitable remainder annuity trust pays a fixed income each year of at least five percent of the market value of the assets at the time you establish the trust. The term of the annuity trust may be for the life of one or more persons or for a period of not more than 20 years. The present value of the charity's remainder interest is deductible in the year of the gift, based on the age of the income beneficiaries and the amount to be paid each year. You avoid capital gains tax with this type of gift and may qualify for tax-free or capital gain type income from the trust.

3. A charitable remainder unitrust pays you a fixed percentage return of at least five percent. The income varies because the agreed-on percentage is based on the net fair market value of the trust assets as determined annually. Besides getting a current income tax deduction for the present value of the charity's remainder, you avoid all capital gains taxes with this type of gift. The principal may be invested in securities that pay tax-exempt income, an attractive feature if you're in a high tax bracket.

4. A charitable gift annuity lets you retain a life-long source of income for yourself and one other beneficiary, if you choose, with the amount paid determined by your age and the age of the beneficiary at the time you enter into the contract. You may deduct the amount transferred to the charity, less the present value of the annuity retained for the life or lives of the beneficiaries, with a higher deduction possible if you defer receiving payment for several years. If you fund your gift with appreciated property, you reduce capital gain and spread it over your life expectancy. Annuity income is partially tax-free.

5. With a pooled income fund trust, your gift is combined with the gifts of other donors in a common investment pool. You, and/or another beneficiary, receive an income for life and an income tax deduction in the year you make the gift for the present value of the remainder interest in the amount transferred to Barium Springs, based on the age of the beneficiaries and the fund's highest payout rate for the past three years. Payments you receive will be taxed as ordinary income.

6. If you plan to bequeath a home or a farm to Barium Springs, you can qualify for a current income tax deduction by giving a gift of a home or farm with reserved life estate. You retain lifetime use of the property for yourself and others. The amount of the deduction is based on the present value of the charity's remainder interest in the land and buildings, less depreciation on the buildings during your remaining life expectancy.

7. By giving a gift of cash-value life insurance, you may deduct the interpolated terminal reserve value of a whole life policy, which amounts to slightly more than the cash surrender value. For a paid-up policy, you may deduct the policy replacement cost, up to a maximum of 50 percent of your adjusted gross income. Future premium payments are also deductible. If you retain ownership of the policy and designate Barium Springs as beneficiary, you receive an estate tax deduction only.

The form your gift should take to receive the most favorable tax treatment depends on your current financial situation. For more information about how you can save on this year's taxes by making a planned gift to Barium Springs or about any other aspect of planned giving, please feel free to call, Mr. Reade Baker, Director of Development, at 704/872-4157. Or send in the coupon below requesting information and/or a visit.

care as Dr. Trieschman," said Haimes.

Haimes received her Masters in Social Work in 1971 and has extended experience in group care services including child care, social work and program development and supervision.

She is also scheduled to teach a Workshop at the conference with Kathryn Donley, Executive Director of the Spaulding for Children adoption agency in New York, entitled "New Dimensions in Child Placement: Residential Group Care/Adoption Collaboration." Haimes and Donley are co-authors of a paper of the same title, written for the book "Prevention, Permanence and Family Support: A New Practice Context for Group Child Care," edited by Dr. Richard Small.

Paul Risk, Director of the Adolescent Center at Barium Springs, has been responsible for implementing the program's transition from a traditional departmental model of organization to an organizational structure that uses an interdisciplinary team made up of social work, teaching and child care staff. Risk received his Masters in Social Work in 1981.

Dr. Howard Garner received his Ph.D. as an Associate Professor of Education in 1970. He was a Campus Director at Starr Commonwealth for Boys in the early 1970's when that program adopted the total team model of organization and administration. He now directs a university based program committed to interdisciplinary training, service and technical assistance. He is the author of Teamwork in Programs for Children and Youth (1982) and a new book, Helping Others Through Teamwork which is being published during the fall of 1986.

Please be on the lookout for posters in your Church announcing the upcoming offering, and pay close attention to the inserts you will find in your church bulletins. Use the available offering envelopes to the best of your ability, and know you have helped continue a tradition of faith, hope and love through your church.

In Memory of J.C. Walker

On September 8, 1986 Barium Springs Home for Children lost a dear friend, a family lost a loving father, and the Statesville and Troutman communities lost a conscientious citizen.

Johnny Calvin Walker, Sr., better known to us as J.C., passed away after an illness of three months on Sept. 8, 1986, at the age of 47. He left behind a wife, the former Mary Lois Moore; three children, Johnny C. Walker, Jr., Denise Walker and Benita Walker; three brothers and two sisters; and scores of friends and work associates who miss him dearly.

At the time of his death, J.C. was employed by the Barium Springs Adolescent Center as the night supervisor. In the two years, ten months J.C. worked at Barium, he spent many late night and early morning hours talking with children who were having problems.

J.C. devoted his life to helping others. He served his country as a member of the United States Army during the Vietnam War and was the recipient of the Vietnam Service Medal with two Bronze Service Stars. He served his community as a member of the Troutman Police Force for five years, two of which he served as Chief of Police. Also, he served a number of children and their families as a member of our family at Barium Springs Home for Children.

J.C.'s presence, thoughtfulness and determination will be missed.

Adolescent and Pre-Adolescent Centers

Eighty children and staff from the Adolescent and Pre-Adolescent Centers went to the Shrine Circus in Charlotte on October 17 and 18 and in Winston-Salem on October 25.

Our thanks go out to the local merchants who purchased passes from the Oasis Shrine Temple so that the Shriners could distribute those passes to children who otherwise might not get to go to the circus.

Seventy-five children and staff from the Adolescent and Pre-Adolescent Centers are going to attend a North Carolina State University football game at N.C. State, thanks to Mr. Frank Weedon, States Senior Associate Athletics Director.

Weedon has generously donated football tickets to Barium for the last 6 or 7 years. This year he donated tickets to the State vs. Western Carolina University game, which begins at 12:15 p.m. on November 22.

Day Care Center

Connie Tate, Special Services Coordinator at the Family and Child Development Center, was able to get two hot air balloons to launch from behind the Center on September 19, the first day of the National Balloon Rally.

The day care children were delighted to see the balloons inflated and launched in their own back yard. Youths from the Adolescent and Pre-Adolescent Centers also came to watch.

The Parents Advisory Committee (PAC) at the Family and Child Development Center has created their own monthly newsletter for the parents of children at the Center.

The newsletter is called "Bug in the Ear" and will contain columns from Center Director Anita Payne, PAC, Campus Administrator Rochelle Haimes, and Nutritionists Jane Recktenwald and Jane McDaniels. There will be space for an employee spotlight, parenting tips, a calendar of events and a "swap shop" where parents and staff can advertise items for sale or trade, babysitting needs, yard sales or community events.

Anyone wanting to contribute to Bug in the Ear, must do so by the 15th of each month.

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance Program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS:

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. The amount is not mentioned.

BARIUM SPRINGS, NORTH CAROLINA, WINTER 1987

FUNDS BRING CHEER TO CHILDREN

Every year for the past 46 years, Barium Springs Home for Children has received money from the Joseph F. Cannon Christmas Trust. Since November 8, the day when the funds from the 47th distribution arrived at Barium, staff have been planning ways to use these funds to bring "happiness and cheer at Christmas time" to Barium children.

Cannon, in a will dated 1932, set up a trust naming 10 North Carolina institutions, including Barium Springs, to each receive 10 percent of the trust's annual income. The only stipulation of the funds is that they be used to bring "happiness and cheer to the children at Christmas time."

The Adolescent Center used their share of the funds in several ways this year. Each child received a very nice individual gift from the staff, and each of the 6 cottages was given money for game needs to be used throughout the year. On December 17 the children were treated to a pizza lunch and afterwards, an ice cream sundae making party.

The children at the Pre-Adolescent Center also received individual gifts and each cottage received money for games and toys to be enjoyed by the children year round.

The rest of the money is being used for something very special. The Pre-Ad's new school should be finished early in 1987, so the Center decided to use what was left to buy items for the enrichment classes (sewing, typing, cooking, aerobics and weightlifting) so that the children could enjoy learning throughout the year.

The Family and Child Development Center presented their annual Christmas program on December 16. They used some of their funds for Santa's visit to the children after the program, with each child receiving a gift from Santa.

The Center was also in need of tricycles. As the Center's Director Anita Payne explained, "45 3- and 4-year-olds and only 4 tricycles can create problems. We decided we needed 4 more."

... Or So It Seems

W. Earle Frazier
ACSW
Executive Director

A former resident "made our day" when he stopped by to say thank you. His note to the Board of Regents read: "Due to the Board's . . . concern and support, I was able to finish my college education in December. I sincerely thank the Board . . . for the kindness extended to me. I am currently searching for a teaching position and should add that I will find one. Again, as an alumnus of Barium Springs, I hold what the Home stands for as dear."

For your part in his achievement, Thank You!

CENTER HONORS McCLURE

On December 17th, the Adolescent Center honored Social Worker Beverly McClure, who is leaving Barium Springs Home for Children after working here 8 years.

McClure, who came to work at Barium in 1978 as a child care worker, is the daughter of the late Reverend Albert B. McClure, who was Superintendent at Barium from 1950 to 1966, and Mary McClure, of 522 Davie Avenue, Statesville, N.C.

CHARTING YOUR FINANCIAL COURSE

Charitable Donations of Life Insurance

You may have wanted to give more to charitable organizations such as Barium Springs Home for Children, but thought you couldn't afford the expenditures. However, you can donate more without spending more by donating a gift of life insurance.

One of the most attractive benefits of life insurance in a deferred giving program is that it may enable you to make a substantial contribution beyond your present capability at a reasonably small annual cost. For example, an individual may make a planned gift of $25,000 to an institution by purchasing a life insurance policy in which the institution is both owner and beneficiary, and have payments of less than $100 annually, all of which are tax deductible. In many cases, an individual will not make payments totaling the face value of the policy to be received by the beneficiary institution.

A planned gift of life insurance may be made by purchasing a new policy or donating an existing policy. Some individuals may own policies which have out-lived their purpose and usefulness, and which require no further payments. In this case, it is quite easy to change the beneficiary to a charitable institution thereby creating a gift at no further cost to the individual. Examples of these types of policies are those purchased at a young age for amounts not in line with current earning power, policies to insure the education of children who are now grown and out of school, or policies bought to cover a mortgage which has now been paid.

The tax implications of a charitable donation of life insurance are significant. When ownership of the policy is transferred to a charitable institution and the institution is named as beneficiary, the cash value of the policy may be deducted as a charitable contribution from Federal Income Tax. Any further premium payments are also deductible in the year in which they are made. It is important to note that for the deduction to be allowed, the change of ownership and designated beneficiary must be irrevocably assigned to a charitable institution.

In the event of the death of the insured individual before the payment schedule is complete, the insurance policy is satisfied and a substantial gift is realized by the institution. In addition, because the institution is owner and beneficiary, the proceeds of the policy do not pass through the insured's estate and, therefore, do not diminish the estate for other heirs.

For more information about charitable donations of life insurance, or about any aspect of planned giving, please feel free to call Mr. Reade Baker, Director of Development, at (704) 872-4157. Or send in the coupon below requesting information and/or a visit.

1986 GIFT SOCIETY MEMBERS

Since its founding nearly 100 years ago, Barium Springs has benefited from the generosity of thousands of Presbyterians and others whose gifts have helped sustain the Home's important ministry. Barium Springs has also benefited from the dedicated service of staff members and leaders who have devoted their lives to the loving nurture of those the Home has served.

Therefore it is altogether appropriate to recognize the exceptional contributions of four individuals from Barium Springs' past by naming the Home's individual gift clubs in their honor. The four—Jethro Rumble, Joe Johnston, Rebekah Carpenter, and Buck Jackins—truly exemplify the loving, giving spirit that has sustained Barium Springs throughout its history.

Your gift to Barium Springs makes you an active participant in its Christian ministry which exerts an enormous positive influence on the children, adolescents, and families served.

COTTAGE 'ADOPTED' BY CLASS

For the past year, an Adult Sunday School Class at Park Road Baptist Church in Charlotte has participated in several activities with Sanford Cottage, a boys cottage, at Barium Springs Home for Children.

Frank Crawford, Supervisor for Juvenile Court Counselors in Mecklenburg County and a member of that Sunday School Class, said the class had "adopted" the cottage of 8 to 10 boys and that they try to plan activities for the class and cottage every two or three months.

"As a Sunday school class, we feel it is very important for us to put back into the community as much as we can," said Crawford. "We have many missions outreach programs, but we found we were missing a youth program. Our children are the adults of tomorrow, so we felt this was an especially necessary relationship for us to have."

Crawford said the class reached out to Barium Springs on his recommendation. "In my job I've seen so many children get into trouble just because they don't have anyone to take an interest in their lives," said Crawford. "We hope to show these boys that they can make a difference in someone else's life as well as in their own."

In the fall of 1985, the class visited the Barium Springs campus and helped the boys of Sanford Cottage make wooden bathroom shelves as gifts for their parents and they also participated in Sanford's 1985 Christmas party. This past summer the class invited Sanford Cottage to visit Park Road Baptist Church where they played volleyball and attended a cook-out. The boys returned to Charlotte on Nov. 15 for the class members to help them with another wood-working project.

On December 19 the class attended Sanford's covered dish Christmas dinner and party at Sanford Cottage.

"It has been great fun for all of us," said Betty Cowan, Social Worker at Sanford Cottage. "The fact that these adults have taken an interest in their welfare has made a wonderful impression on the boys. It's so good for them to receive attention from adults on a one-to-one basis. To be treated as an adult by adults, makes the boys feel, and act, more responsible and mature."

GRADUATE TO ATTEND MSU IN FALL

Lisa Pauna, who came to the Preparation for Adult Living Program (PAL, part of the Adolescent Center) in May of 1985 and graduated from South Iredell High School in June of 1986, is planning to attend Michigan State University in the Fall of 1987.

Lisa had planned to enter the Air Force upon graduation from high school. She was interested in pilot training and computer technology. Due to some unforeseen circumstances though, the Air Force was unable to accept her.

After her graduation in June, Lisa worked full-time caring for children varying in ages from 6 weeks to 10 years at the Family and Child Development Center on the Barium Springs Campus. Working gave her some time to investigate several different colleges, and she finally decided to return to her home in Michigan in December and attend college there.

Lisa has applied to Barium Springs for the scholarship funds to further her education. She plans to study computer science at MSU.

Depending on her study-load, Lisa also plans to either take a part-time job or be in a work-study program while she is in college.

Though she will be missed by friends, staff and co-workers here at Barium Springs, we would like to wish Lisa the best of luck in her future endeavors.

Lisa Pauna

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance Program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS:

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. The amount is not mentioned.

CONNIE TATE DEVELOPS WORKSHOP: TYPES, PREVENTION OF CHILD ABUSE

Connie Tate, Special Services Coordinator at the Family and Child Development Center, has developed a course designed to teach young children about the different aspects of child abuse.

The course teaches children about: good, bad, and confusing touches; who is and isn't a stranger and how to tell the difference; when it is all right to say "no" in a loud voice; good and bad people and how to tell the difference; what to do in situations where an unknown, or known, adult tries to lure you away from your familiar setting; "funny-tummy" situations' and about private parts.

"The course teaches children, in a non-threatening way, what they should do when they find themselves in a bad situation," said Tate. "It teaches them that it is okay to remove themselves from a situation that they don't feel right about, even if an adult or authority figure is involved. We don't want to create exaggerated fear, we just want them to be aware of the happenings around them, and to learn to be careful."

Tate said she began developing the course last Spring, after completing a parent survey and finding overwhelming response in favor of such a course. At a quarterly parent meeting, Tate described the outline of the course to parents and was again met with very positive reactions.

BARIUM RECEIVES ENDOWMENT FUNDS

Barium Springs Home for Children received $50,610 of the over $3 million in operating grants awarded by the Duke Endowment to 167 hospitals and 41 child-care institutions in North and South Carolina at a February meeting of the Endowment's Trustees.

Ashley H. Gale, Jr., director of the Endowment's Hospital and Child-Care Divisions, said that nearly $1.6 million of the total went to help hospitals cover costs of caring for the poor, and another $350,000 for data-gathering services used by hospitals.

N.A. MEETS ON CAMPUS

A Narcotics Anonymous group was formed on the Barium Springs Campus in early November of 1986 and has been meeting on the campus every Sunday from 7:30 to 9:00 p.m.

Seven to ten NA members meet in the Conference Room of the Adolescent Center for one and a half hour sessions to give each other support and fellowship. Six of the members are adolescents living at Barium Springs.

The idea for forming a group on campus came from Bruce Steadman, a social worker in Sullivan Cottage, one of the five cottages in the Adolescent Center. Steadman had two girls in his cottage who had drug-related problems so he began looking into outside help for them. He contacted the Cup of Water in Statesville and found the NA to be very helpful.

"They were willing to come out and form a group even if I only had one girl with a problem," said Steadman. "They came out and talked to us about their program and we talked about ours, and we figured out a way to make the two programs compatible. It has worked very well so far."

The NA group was formed on a

Gale said over $1 million was awarded to help child-care institutions meet regular operating expenses. In North Carolina, 21 agencies received $689,832, and in South Carolina 20 agencies received $374,168. Together, the 41 institutions have a combined capacity to care for 2,759 children. In 1985, the agencies averaged 2,327 children per day; in 1986, the number rose slightly to 2,369.

The Endowment was established in 1924 by James Buchanan Duke and today is one of the nation's largest private foundations.

Two recent letters caused us to give thanks, once again, for the tradition of caring entrusted to us.

"In the late 1890's and early 1900's, my mother and four of her sisters were residents of Barium. In their memory, I would like to give the enclosed check in the amount of $10,000 as the . . . Memorial Endowment."

"This check (for $1,000) is in loving memory of my seven years at Barium —1914–1921."

What a beautiful testimony to the caring of these people who labored here many years ago!

ALUMNI NEWS

We are sorry to report the death of Mr. George Dewey Barnhill, class of 36, who passed away in Ventura, California on January 30 as the result of a stroke.

Mr. Barnhill was born April 27, 1917, in Rock Hill, S.C., and came to Barium Springs in 1928. He also graduated from Appalachian State Teachers College and held the degree of Doctor of Philosophy from UNC at Chapel Hill.

Surviving are his wife, Mavis Barnhill of Ventura; one son, Dale Barnhill of El Toro, Calif.; one sister, Sarah Milton of Camden, S.C.; and two grandchildren.

Mrs. Annie Blue Southard, who came to live at Barium Springs with her three sisters around 1904, passed away on February 19, 1987.

Annie, Lela, Lottie and Bessie Blue were 11, 6, 9, and 12, consecutively, when their applications were made to Barium. Annie was living with her sister Lela when she died. She is survived by two sons and two daughters.

We were informed that Ms. Ruth F. McElrath, a retired housemother from Barium Springs, passed away on November 6, 1986. Her niece, Mrs. Robert (Tillie) Allred, was kind enough to inform us of her Aunt's death.

Ann McDonald Shroyer, class of 1944, recently received recognition for her good works by the Alamance County Beautification Commission. Mrs. Shroyer's daughter, Amy Beth, wrote us to tell us of her mother's recent award, and said that her mother was also recognized by the city of Burlington for similar good works in 1986.

Mrs. Shroyer is married to another Barium alumni, James Shroyer, class of 1941.

Mrs. Bernice Stone Thompson, class of 1938, passed away on March 20 at N. C. Memorial Hospital in Chapel Hill, after a lengthy illness. A retired trust officer with First Union National Bank in Charlotte, she is survived by a son, two daughters, and three grandchildren; and by her sister, Mrs. Joy Stone Summers, class of 1935, of Phafftown.

Mrs. George (Ernestine) Baldwin Jones, class of 1948, wrote to us from Atlanta Beach, Florida, to tell us of the death of her sister's son, Ronald Stone. Her sister, Mrs. Beulah Jane Baldwin Stone, graduated class of 1943 and lives in Brunswick, North Carolina. Apparently, Ronald died on February 14 of pneumonia.

Mrs. Jones also advised us that the class of 1948 will be having a special anniversary reunion in 1988.

Charles Taylor Fort, Sr., class of 1931, passed away in Winston-Salem on March 14, according to Don Bolton, class of 1943.

Charles was the twin brother of Ben Fort, also class of 1931, both of whom came to Barium Springs with their brother Leonard, and sisters Irene and Sarah.

Charles is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ruth Short Fort; daughters, Mrs. Dorothy Brown of Greenbelt, Md., Mrs. Judy Cowen and Mrs. Nancy Sapp of Winston-Salem; sons, John Fort of Winston-Salem and Charles Fort, Jr. of Elsworth Air Force Base, South Dakota; sisters, Mrs. Irene Fort Smith, who graduated class of 1936 and is living in Boise, Idaho, and Mrs. Sarah Fort Mather, of Forest Hill, Md.; and his brother, Ben B. Fort, who is retired and living in Greensboro. His other brother, Captain Francis Leonard Fort, was killed in action in World War II.

CHARTING YOUR FINANCIAL COURSE

Give To Barium Springs and Do Yourself a Big Financial Favor

This year careful and detailed tax planning is an absolute necessity for the charitable gifts you are going to make during the year. The strategy you choose must include not only this year's contributions but plans for contributions in future years if you want to get the highest possible tax benefit this year—and in the years to come.

Tax reform has not directly changed any of the rules for itemizers who make charitable gifts. However, the lower tax rates will have an indirect, yet crucial, impact on the amount you'll be able to save. As tax rates get lower, your deduction's worth becomes less. When income was taxed in the 50 percent bracket, a $100 deduction really cost you $50 and cost the government $50. But when your income is taxed at 28 percent (which is what the rate will be in 1988), a $100 deduction really costs you $72 and Uncle Sam only $28.

One solution: Give the most you can during 1987 so you'll get the highest benefit—a 38.5 percent deduction. There are alternatives that allow you to give (and deduct) a large up-front contribution in 1987 that will actually benefit Barium Springs over many years in the future.

Charitable lead grantor trusts are irrevocable trusts that are set up for a time period not longer than 10 years. You find a trust with cash that will be invested in income-producing assets. The trust will pay an annual annuity to Barium Springs. At the end of the trust's 10-year term, you get back whatever assets remain in the trust after its investment and distribution activities over the years.

You get one up-front deduction, this year—a big one—for a gift that Barium Springs will receive annually for up to 10 years. The actual deduction you can take is found on special Treasury Department tables that account for the discount on money to be received over the years.

For example, an annual gift of $15,000 over 10 years isn't worth $150,000 today. Because distributions to be made in future years are subject to a discount, the table shows that this gift is worth approximately $92,000 today.

We can also assist you in establishing an advised fund arrangement. These funds are special arrangements where you make a one-time gift that is fully deductible this year. And we put the money in a fund set up in your name. You are allowed to "advise" but not direct when and how the funds get distributed. The advantage is you can watch your contribution accumulate income for one or more years or you can suggest that it be distributed right away or periodically.

You'll get an up-front deduction in 1987 for a donation that may be distributed to us over a number of years. Barium Springs isn't legally bound to distribute money according to your wishes, but in most cases, as long as you choose a legitimate charitable purpose, we will go along with your choice.

Pooled common funds are available at Barium Springs also. This type of charitable gift is for tax payers who want to have guaranteed control over what we do with their gifts. Under this arrangement, many donors' contributions are pooled together and you get a number of unit credits equivalent to your proportionate contribution to the pool. You have absolute control over the income distribution from your unit credits. All pooled common fund income is required to be distributed each year, rather than accumulated over the years. However, you can arrange to have the income distributed to an advised fund and prolong making your decision as to what to do with the money. Your contribution is fully deductible in 1987 even though you are able to control all charitable distributions for the rest of your life.

Charitable remainder trusts are trusts that are funded (generally with highly appreciated assets) so as to pay an annual annuity to you over your lifetime. At your death, the trust assets go to Barium Springs. You can take a charitable deduction in 1987 for the value of the "remainder interest" in the trust. Again, you must use Treasury Department tables to figure the exact amount of your deduction. The deduction depends on your age and the rate of return that you are entitled to receive from the trust. The new tax law has added some additional considerations to the gifting of appreciated assets, so contact our office or your accountant before taking any action.

The 1987 tax year is an excellent time to make charitable donations to Barium Springs Home for Children. You can make a donation that can save you taxes now even though you control how the dollars are spent later. You can get tax benefits this year and get your principal back in 10 years, or you can get an income for life with a remainder trust that will benefit Barium Springs later, but has tax benefits today.

WORKSHOP PRESENTED TO CHILDREN

Using a film called "What to Do," a 15-minute filmstrip which focuses on helping the average five-year-old decide what to do in certain uncomfortable situations, and books like: Never Talk to a Stranger, by Irma Joyce; It's My Body, by Lory Freeman; and Safety Zone: a Book Teaching Child Abduction Prevention Skills, by Linda D. Meyer; Tate developed and refined the course until she felt it would teach the children what they needed to know without making them feel threatened.

Between February 23 and March 5 the course was given to the three- and four-year-olds and to the children in the Afterschool Program. Each of the groups were taught the course in two daily sessions, with each session lasting from 30 minutes to an hour.

"At the end of each session we broke up into small groups of three or four children and a teacher," said Tate. "We did this to give the children an opportunity to ask questions they wouldn't feel comfortable asking in front of a group. It also enabled us to reiterate the points of discussion and to see for ourselves who was comprehending the information and who wasn't."

Tate said that she would probably do a follow-up of the course in six months because some of the children were very young and wouldn't retain the information very long. "We don't want the children to dwell on the bad things that could happen to them," said Tate. "We just want them to remember their options of what to do if something does happen."

One of the sessions was taped with a video camera and displays the children's reactions as well as the content of the course. The tape has been made available to parents at the Center for viewing at their convenience.

25-YEAR-OLD SWIMMING POOL TO BE REPAIRED THIS SUMMER

As summer approaches and everyone on the Barium Springs campus is preparing for outdoor activities and field trips, we here at Barium have been forced to face an unbearable reality . . . our swimming pool is in desperate need of repair!!

After 25 years of dedicated service keeping children cool and occupied during the summer, the pool has raised a white flag. The pump, the filter, and the pumphouse itself are all in need of repair. Pipes have been corroded by chemicals in the water, and there are several leaks which need attention.

Things were so bad last year, that the pool had to be closed a few weeks before schedule. The leaks were causing the water to go down rapidly, and the drought prevented the constant addition of water that was needed to keep it at a safe level.

"The cottages don't have air conditioning, so the children and staff depend on the pool for a refreshing break on summer days," said Bruce Steadman, social worker at the Adolescent Center's Sullivan Cottage. "The kids would really be disappointed if we couldn't keep it open again this year.

Not only do the older children in the Pre-Adolescent and Adolescent Centers use the pool, but the younger children at the Family and Child Development Center have a wonderful time at the pool in the summer. Many day care children, from ages three to ten, have had their first experience with learning to swim at the Barium pool.

"We hope to get all of the repair work done before summer gets here," said Bobby Nesbit, head of maintenance. "It will take time and money, but we are trying to get it done as fast as we can."

The pool is scheduled to open around Memorial Day weekend.

N.A. MEETINGS HELP ADOLESCENTS

volunteer basis. The six teenagers (boys and girls) now involved in the group chose to join without being pressured. Robert Pinkney, the Adolescent Center Night Supervisor, said the teens chose to go to the group over the regular Sunday night movie shown in the dining hall; a treat not many of the youngsters ever like to miss.

Both Steadman and Pinkney said that what they liked the best about NA was the fact that the teens were hearing from other adults, besides staff, about the hazards of drugs. And that these are adults who have been through real drug addiction; who know firsthand what it is like and have chosen to give it up.

"It is hard to tell a child that something is bad or good for him when you yourself have never experienced it before," said Pinkney. "The teens listen to these adults because they have experienced some of the same things these youngsters have; and they have lived through those experiences, found a way to overcome them and moved on."

NA is not affiliated with any other organizations. There are no fees or dues to pay, no pledges or contracts to sign, and they aren't connected to any political, religious or law enforcement groups. They do not solicit funds, nor do they receive funds from the government. They are a group of recovering addicts who meet regularly to help each other stay clean. Anyone with a drug problem, no matter how big or small a problem, can join the NA.

CAMPUS NEWS

Adolescent Center

A mixture of athletics and fun helped cure the mid-semester "blahs" at the Adolescent Center in February.

On February 7, the Adolescent Center and four other North Carolina agencies met at Barium's gym for a basketball tournament. Teams from Mills Home of Thomasville, Sipes Orchard of Conover, the Methodist Home of Winston Salem, Boystown Campus of Elon Home for Children in Charlotte and Barium Springs played from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. About 65 people attended.

Then, on February 15, about 15 boys and girls from the Davidson College Presbyterian Youth Group came to Barium and played the Adolescent Center in volleyball. The teams were mixed with youth from Barium and Davidson on each team, and everyone had a great time.

Former Pre-Adolescent Center Director Eddie Beach, now in charge of the Davidson Youth Group, expressed hopes that the youths could get together again. The Adolescent Center has tentative plans to visit Davidson on May 3rd, weather permitting, for some outdoor activities.

On February 14 the Adolescent Center had a Sock Hop at the Hub. Fifties music was played, and everyone was dressed in their fifties best . . . blue jeans, black t-shirts and poodle skirts were bountiful. The teens enjoyed cake, vegetables and dip, and punch.

Pre-Adolescent Center

The Pre-Adolescent Center has been busy playing basketball this season. Some of the games they have played are: Mills Children's Home from Thomasville on January 29, Sipes Orchard Children's Home from Conover on February 5, and Methodist Children's Home from Winston-Salem on February 12.

On February 11, the Pre-Adolescent Center had their Valentine's Day Dance in the Hub, an area set aside in the basement of the gymnasium for dances and parties for the youth and training for staff. Valentine's were exchanged, and there was dancing and an apple race. Then everyone enjoyed cake, cupcakes, punch and other goodies.

On March 28, the Pre-Adolescent Center participated in Statesville's March of Dimes Walkathon. About 15 children and staff collected donations for the March of Dimes and turned them in on the day of the Walkathon. Everyone had a great time talking, laughing and getting exercise, while at the same time doing something for a worthy cause.

Family and Child Development Center

On March 19 the four-year class at the Day Care went to the Ringling Brothers Barnum and Bailey Circus at the Charlotte Coliseum. The children left at 9:30 a.m. for the circus, which began at 11:00, and got back around 3:30.

On March 17 the children at the Day Care Celebrated St. Patrick's Day! A Leprechaun of unknown origin (but suspected of sliding over from Ireland on a rainbow) snuck into the kitchen and made all of the lunch food green! the milk was green, the mashed potatoes were green.

The three- and four-year classes have been learning to rollerskate at the Statesville Skateland! Every Wednesday the children go to the skating rink from about 9:30 to 11:00 and learn to skate, play games and eat popcorn. After the first few Wednesdays it was evident that several of the children were very good, and all of the children are now able to skate at least a little, and are steadily getting better!

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance Program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS:

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

PAL GRADUATE ATTENDS KING'S COLLEGE

Annie Smith, a resident of the Preparation for Adult Living (PAL) Program, part of the Adolescent Center, graduated from South Iredell High School on June 5, 1987.

Annie came to the Barium Springs PAL Program in January of 1985 from Asheville, North Carolina. During her two years at South Iredell, she was the School Mascot and a member of SADD, Students Against Drunk Driving.

While at PAL she worked part-time at the Family and Child Development Center with children ranging in ages from 6 weeks to 10 years.

In July, Annie began attending King's College in Charlotte where she is studying Medical Office Occupations.

She recently received a $500 scholarship from the Fort Dobbs Chapter of the American Business Women's Association to help her in her continuing education. The Home is also providing Annie with scholarship assistance while she is at King's.

The PAL Program is for older youth who experience less significant behavioral problems, but who needs specialized programming to help them prepare for adulthood. It is located in Howard Cottage, one of six cottages in the Adolescent Center, and houses

NEW REGENTS CHOSEN

Five people were elected to serve three-year terms on the Barium Springs Home for Children's Board of Regents, at the Board's April meeting.

Rev. Gary R. Califf of Asheville, Mr. Heman R. Clark of Fayetteville, Mr. Calvin W. Hood, Sr. of Zebulon, Rev. R. E. Cogswell of Charlotte and Rev. Gerald L. Niece of Rocky Mount, were all elected to serve on the Board until 1990, when they may be nominated for a second term of three years.

Mrs. Richard A. (Judy) Vinroot of Charlotte was chosen to finish the term of Mrs. John (Claire) Tate, III of Charlotte who was to have rotated off the Board in 1988.

Staff and children at Barium Springs wish everyone on the Board a fulfilling and successful term.

Level Four Club

The Level Four Club at the Adolescent Center is for youths who have reached the highest stage of the Center's program.

Level Four is the highest of six levels in the Level System. Each level has certain responsibilities and rules that youth must learn and maintain in order to receive the privileges of that level.

Night Supervisor Robert Pinkney, who is advisor to the Club, said that teens who are on Level Four have shown that they can handle extra responsibilities and therefore are entitled to extra privileges.

NEW DIRECTOR

Welcome to Abe Wilkinson, who joined our agency on May 18 as Director of the Adolescent Center. Abe comes to us from Camden, Arkansas, where most recently he was Assistant Director of South Arkansas Youth Services, Inc.

"Why doesn't my mother love me?"

How would you answer 15-year-old Dottie who has little evidence that her mother cares and not much evidence to the contrary?

Any answers which blame either mother or daughter are damaging—not helpful. After many months, the acceptable answer proves to be two more questions:

"Is it possible that we learn to care by being cared for? And is it possible that your mother was inadequately cared for and does not know how to express her love for you?"

After a pause . . . "Yes-yes-that's it!!"

a maximum of 12 youths, ages 16 to 20.

The youth living in the PAL cottage attend public school in the Barium community and many hold part-time jobs. This enables them to learn to form relationships with adults and peers outside the Home, and they to learn and practice skills that are a part of daily living.

We wish Annie the best of luck in her bright future, and we're glad that she could find the help and support she needed at Barium Springs Home for Children.

CHARTING YOUR FINANCIAL COURSE

Deferred Giving — Some Basics

One of the most significant forms of charitable giving is that which is commonly referred to as "deferred giving." That term, however, is somewhat of a misnomer because it implies that the gift itself is deferred; in fact, it is not. Barium Springs unquestionably receives an immediate gift of an interest in the gift property. It is only our enjoyment of the gift that is deferred to a sometimes certain, sometimes uncertain, future time.

Here is how deferred giving works. Suppose you are age 53 and plan to add $10,000 of securities to an investment portfolio. Anticipated future needs require that the income from those securities be retained during your lifetime. You, however, would be willing to leave the securities to Barium Springs at death. That eventually could be assured simply by making provision for it in your will — truly a deferred gift. Instead of the bequest, you can make an immediate gift of the remainder interest in the new securities and retain the income interest for life.

The result of the transaction just described is this: You receive all of the income from the securities during life; upon your death, Barium Springs will succeed to a full interest in the securities, which may then be worth more or less than their original value.

What you actually have done is to divide the property into two parts — a life estate and a remainder interest — each of which has a value at the time that the transaction is consummated. Under Treasury regulations for valuing life estates and remainders, the present value of your life estate is 82 percent of the value of the securities or $8,200. The present value of the Home's remainder interest is 18 percent of the value of the securities, or $1,800. Thus, you have made a present charitable gift of $1,800, although our enjoyment of the gift is deferred and you still get the income.

In its simplest form, that is how deferred giving works. However, a charitable gift in the form described does not yield an income or gift tax charitable deduction. How those are obtained in a gift of a remainder interest is explained below.

It is clear from the deferred giving concept described above that the gift of a remainder interest is a gift of a partial interest since the gift represents something less than your entire interest in the property. In such a case, a contribution deduction is allowable for income tax purposes (with some exceptions) "only to the extent that the value of the interest contributed would be allowable as a deduction . . . if such interest had been transferred in trust." A contribution of a remainder interest in trust is allowed as a charitable deduction for income, gift and estate tax purposes only if the trust vehicle by which the gift is made meets certain stringent standards.

The three approved trust forms that may be used for qualifying charitable gifts of remainder interests are: charitable remainder annuity trust, charitable remainder unitrust, and pooled income fund. Although these trusts share certain attributes, each is a separate and distinct form of giving with its own distinguishing characteristics. Those distinguishing characteristics must be closely observed when developing a particular deferred giving transaction, since failure to conform to the precise rules that govern the qualification of each can have dire consequences — loss of the income tax and gift tax charitable deductions or the estate tax charitable deduction.

LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL DONATES TABLES

The FHA/HERO (the Future Homemakers of America and Home Economics Related Occupations), and the FFA (Future Farmers of America), at South Iredell High School have been working together to donate two picnic tables to the four-year room at the Family and Child Development Center (FCDC).

Through Valentine's and Mother's Day cake sales, members of the FHA/HERO were able to raise enough money to buy the materials to make the picnic tables. The members of the FFA donated their time and labor to make the tables.

Last year, through a similar project, the FHA/HERO and the FFA donated two picnic tables to the three-year room. The children so enjoyed the tables that the South students decided to do it again this year.

The FHA/HERO is made up of 27 girls at South Iredell who are taking a course called "Child Care Services" taught by Marie Fitzgerald, a home economics teacher. Four of the girls are in their second year and will meet the state requirements for certification in child care upon completion of the course. These girls will be eligible for employment in the child care field once they are 18 years old.

A very important part of the Child Care Services course is the twice weekly visits the students make to the FCDC. These visits help the girls learn about child care through first hand experience, and they also help the teachers at the FCDC by supplying them with volunteers who are eager to help and learn.

Staff at the FCDC, and at Barium Springs Home for Children are very grateful to the FHA/HERO and FFA for their support and have enjoyed having a part in their training.

If your group or club is interested in helping the children at BSHC, please contact Reade Baker, Director of Development, at 704/872-4157.

CLUB ENCOURAGES TEENS

mall to shop by themselves," said Robert. "Or sometimes I'll drop them off at the movies. The Club helped to sponsor an End-of-the-School-Year Party for everyone in the Adolescent Center, and they went to Carowinds in the early summer."

One of the problems of being on Level Four, said Robert, is the constant pressure from peers to conform to the ways of the larger group, which are those youths on Levels One, Two and Three. Robert said he encourages the Level Four Club to maintain their status, and to realize that they earned their privileges.

Youths begin the program on Level A, the Admissions level. Here they learn basic program, cottage and school information and rules. They get to know the staff and residents, and they get accustomed to a daily structured routine of chores, school, homework, group discussions and meals.

Youths on Levels One, Two and Three have proven that they can follow the rules and responsibilities of the previous levels and are ready to receive added responsibilities and privileges on each level.

Level D is the disciplinary level of the system. Youths placed on this level for whatever reason, must follow a schedule designed specifically for them, separating them from others in their cottage. They must have more direct communication with all staff, and less with their peers. They lose many of their privileges and are sometimes confined to their rooms. Level D action is strictly up to the individual Cottage Team.

Any decisions to move a youth up or down on the Level System, or to keep the youth on the same level, takes place in a cottage team meeting which includes teachers, child care workers, social workers and sometimes parents or Department of Social Service workers. After the team makes a decision, they meet with the youth and carefully explain their decision.

The Level System is a very important component of the total plan of care for each youth at the Adolescent Center. By moving up through the system, the youths learn to take responsibility for their actions, and subsequently, learn how to function more appropriately in society.

PRE-ADOLESCENT CENTER HOLDS WORKSHOP

The Exceptional Children's Advocacy Council (ECAC), in cooperation with the Pre-Adolescent Center (PAC) of Barium Springs Home for Children, sponsored a parent workshop at the Adolescent Center Dining Hall on the Barium Springs Campus, on Saturday, June 6, 1987.

Parents of children in the PAC, and parents of exceptional children in the Iredell County area attended the workshop from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Connie Hawkins of the ECAC discussed the "Special Education Law", Public Law 94-142. This law requires states to have special education plans for exceptional people, two to 21 years of age.

Frank Graziadea, also of the ECAC, discussed "Parent Acceptance and Adjustment", including perceptions of others, feelings, needs of the parent, stress, and coping strategies.

Other topics were evaluations, communication skills and Individual Education Plans (IEP's).

The ECAC is a parent training and information center (PTI), funded by the U.S. Department of Education.

All-Campus

The campus pool opened the first week of June to the delight of children of all ages on campus (including staff). The date, and even reality, of the opening was uncertain due to a number of needed repairs for the 25-year-old pool, but thanks to our donors those repairs were completed.

Mr. James (Al) Caldwell, from Winston-Salem, North Carolina, was hired as the summer Pool Manager and has started swimming classes. He is also teaching a course on life-saving to interested staff and eligible children (must be 18 years of age).

Al is a Red Cross Certified Instructor and has most recently worked at the Winston Lake YMCA.

Adolescent Center

The youths in the Adolescent Center celebrated the end of a school year filled with hard work, determination, success, failure, realization, frustration, happiness and sadness with an end-of-the-school-year dance.

"Everyone has worked so hard in school this year; there has been a lot of laughter, and a lot of tears," said Melanie Stroud, a teacher at the Adolescent Center School.

Stroud said the dance gave youths the praise and recognition they deserve for making special efforts in school.

Two youths from the Preparation for Adult Living (PAL) cottage, Kenny Michaux, (left) and Joe Arguello, were recently recognized by South Iredell High School for their athletic abilities.

Kenny was awarded the Coaches Award in Track for best sportmanship and overall team effort. Joe won the Conference Championship for his weight class in wrestling.

Mary Lois and Denise Walker, Night Supervisor Robert Pinkney.

On June 3, 1987, the Adolescent Central School dedicated their 1986-87 annual to the memory of J.C. Walker, who died on September 8, 1986, at the age of 47, after a short, three-month battle with cancer.

Teacher Melanie Stroud made the presentation of the annual to Mrs. J.C. Walker and her daughter, Denise Walker, in the presence of the Adolescent Center school children and staff. Another daughter, Benita Walker, and a son, Johnny Calvin Walker, Jr., could not be present for the dedication.

At the time of J.C.'s death, he was employed by the Barium Springs Adolescent Center as the Night Supervisor.

Pre-Adolescent Center

The Pre-Adolescent Center had their annual year-end Fun Day on June 1. To celebrate the end of the school-year staff planned a combination of 17 cooperative and competitive outdoor games for the children and staff to participate in together. Events such as the parachute games, steal the bacon and tug of war helped the children learn to cooperate with each other in a team fashion.

Children at the Pre-Adolescent Center proudly show off their new uniforms. In May the Center played Sipes Orchard Home in a game of softball; and on June 29 they played the Methodist Home in kickball.

Day Care

The Parents Advisory Committee of the Family and Child Development Center sponsored a Hot Dog Supper on June 11 from 4:30 to 7:00 p.m.

The Supper served double duty as a fundraiser for the Center as well as a time for fellowship among parents and children.

Tickets were $2 and included a hot dog with a choice of toppings, chips and a drink. Families also donated many deserts which were sold for 35 cents per serving.

Teachers at the Family and Child Development Center have created a summer program for the children focused on the world of Children's Literature.

The program will include plenty of outdoor play, and special activities such as swimming, field trips, picnics, special visitors and parades, such as the "Sesame Street Parade" pictured above.

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance Program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS:

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. The amount is not mentioned.

CHILDREN PARTICIPATE IN DRILL

On August 12 the children from the Pre-Adolescent Center were invited to participate in a "Disaster Drill" for Iredell Memorial Hospital.

At 3:00 p.m. two ambulances appeared at the Center and whisked the children away to the Iredell County Emergency Medical Service (EMS) base where the drill was conducted.

"The children absolutely loved it," said Pre-Adolescent Center Director Miriam Johnson. "When we got to the base the EMT's (Emergency Medical Technicians) radioed the hospital to inform them that there had been an explosion at the Pre-Adolescent Center School and that they had about 15 victims."

Johnson said the EMT's hung tags describing injuries around each person's neck, and called in the injuries to the hospital. Then they transported two or three victims at a time to the hospital emergency room. There, hospital staff read the tags, and depending on the injuries, took the patients to surgery, X-Ray, recovery, the morgue, or wherever was necessary.

The children took their role-playing and the drill very seriously. One of the boys, Mike B., claimed responsibility for the explosion.

"I mixed chemicals C and E in the science lab and Boom!, it blew me out a window," said Mike. "I had a broken C Spine, was paralyzed from the waist down and had abrasions and burns on my hands. They took me in first because I was in the worst shape."

Bryon B., another "victim", said he was in the room next to the lab work-

BROWN RETIRES

After working 41 years at Barium Springs Home for Children, Bill Brown decided it was time to retire.

Bill began working at Barium in 1946, tending crops on the Barium Springs farm. After the Home closed its farm Bill took over the maintenance of the lawns and grounds. In 41 years he never missed a day of work, except for a brief hospital stay in 1986.

On August 7, Barium Springs gave

TEENS LEARN FROM SUMMER JOBS

Renee, Kenny and Mike, three youths from the Adolescent Center, spent their summer vacations working at the Family And Child Development Center (FCDC) providing quality day care for 124 children from the Iredell County area.

FCDC Director Anita Payne said that the youths loved working with the children and looked forward to coming to work each day.

"They were a great help to the teachers," said Payne. "The job provided good life experience for them. They learned job skills, punctuality, and employer expectations; not to mention learning first hand what an enormous responsibility children can be."

Mike was a volunteer at the FCDC, and worked with the school-age children. He came to the Adolescent Center in 1986, and is a resident of Sanford College, one of five cottages in the Center. Each cottage houses a maximum of 10 youths ages 13 to 18.

The Center provides specialized residential group care to adolescents with significant social, emotional and academic problems. Staff try to quickly stabilize family situations and reunite the family when possible. An alternate permanent plan of care is the goal when families can't be reunited.

Betty Cowan, Social Worker in Sanford Cottage, said this job helped Mike to forget his own problems.

"Mike loves kids, and they love him," said Cowan. "It was a privilege and a relief for him to be able to leave campus for work each day. He was so involved with the children that he forgot his problems for a while, and then when he came back to the cottage, his problems didn't seem as bad as they did when he left."

ALUMNI NEWS

Mrs. Sara Donaldson Christie, Class of '32, passed away in Mount Mourne, North Carolina, on June 27, 1987, according to her friend and former classmate, Mrs. Nettie Miller Clarke, also Class of '32.

Mrs. Christie is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Nancy Barr of Mount Mourne and Mrs. Jean Snead of Cooleemee; a sister, Mrs. Carrie Knox of Mount Mourne; and three brothers, John and Lee Donaldson of Statesville, and Lafayette "Toe" Donaldson of Hiddenite, North Carolina.

July 14 brought four very welcome visitors to the Barium Springs campus.

Mrs. Mozelle Beck Swank, (Class of '31) of Kensington, Maryland, and her sister Mrs. Lucille Beck Jordan (Class of '33) of Venice, Florida, spent most of the day on campus, along with Mozelle's daughter, Mrs. Ann Mudd, and Mrs. Elaine Brown, who is the daughter of a third sister, Mrs. Elsie Beck Wright, who died in June of 1956.

The sisters spent a better part of the day visiting the Alumni Museum and reading their records from the time they lived at Barium. They also had time to visit with Mr. R.E. "Buck" Jackins, who worked at the Home when they were here.

Mozelle has not been to visit the campus in 21 years, her sister Lucille hasn't visited in 53 years.

Mrs. Bessie Blue, whose husband Robert graduated with the Class of 1932, wrote to inform us of the death of her brother-in-law, Colonel Miller M. Blue, Class of 1939.

Colonel Blue died on June 20, 1987, in San Diego, California, of lung cancer. He had only recently retired from the United States Marine Corps, after 45 years of service.

Colonel Blue is survived by another brother, Herbert Blue, Class of 1934. Bessie Blue's husband Robert died in 1969, about three months after his last visit to Homecoming.

Alumnus Charles Gallyon informed us of the death of Mr. Aubrey A. (Tommy) Clark, class of 1934, in Burlington on August 13, 1987.

Mr. Clark was born July 1, 1915, and is survived by his wife, Dona Parks Clark, and four cousins.

It's strange not to see Bill's familiar shape riding around on that tractor grinning with joy and waving at every child as they walk by. It's sad not to meet him coming out of the office in the mornings with a hot cup of coffee to warm his hands. Bill Brown will be missed by us all.

CHARTING YOUR FINANCIAL COURSE

The Deferred Payment Gift Annuity

The Deferred Payment Gift Annuity is a plan that enables you to share in supporting the valuable work performed at Barium Springs Home for Children and to take advantage of current tax deductions allowed for charitable gifts. In addition, you can get a guaranteed income for life!

How can the Deferred Payment Gift Annuity provide tax deductions now and a guaranteed income in the future? When you make your gift to Barium Springs Home for Children you can transfer assets, such as certificates of deposit, stocks, bonds or real estate, in exchange for a fixed income which may begin anytime after one year from the date of your gift.

The Deferred Payment Gift Annuity is especially advantageous for anyone wishing to set aside funds that will provide additional retirement income. This plan qualifies under IRS regulations for a charitable income tax deduction in the year you make the investment, and will assure you income benefits at retirement. A large portion of the amount you invest qualifies for immediate income tax deduction, depending on your present age and the age you will be when the payments begin. For example, the charitable deduction for a person age 45 who chooses to receive semi-annual annuity payments beginning at age 65 would be about 85% of the amount invested based on guidelines established by the National Committee on Gift Annuities. In this way, you can take advantage of tax deductions during the years when your earnings (and consequently your tax bracket) are higher than when you retire. Most of the annuity payments derived from gifts will be taxable, however, it is likely you will be in a lower tax bracket at retirement.

The assets you give to Barium Springs Home for Children may vary depending upon your particular circumstances. If appreciated land or stocks are used to fund the annuity, you will avoid a large portion of the capital gains taxes you would otherwise have to pay if you sold these assets and reinvested the proceeds. A small part of the gain is reported ratably over your life expectancy when you begin to receive payments. The large part of the capital gain will not be reported since the gain (with the gift estimated at fair market value) will be treated for tax purposes as a gift to charity.

If you desire, the Deferred Payment Gift Annuity can also provide income to your surviving spouse if you designate your gift a joint life and survivorship annuity. Your survivor will continue to receive the same benefits of your gift annuity as you received during your lifetime.

When you invest in a Deferred Payment Gift Annuity, you are helping Barium Springs Home for Children both now and in the future. A portion of your investment can be used immediately, just as if it were an outright gift. The balance is held in a reserve account to back your future annuity payments. At your death, the gift annuity is removed from your taxable estate and therefore not subject to federal estate taxes. The funds become immediately available to Barium Springs without being subject to probate, which saves both time and expense for your estate.

For more information about how you can help Barium Springs Home for Children maximize your tax benefits, please feel free to call Mr. Reade Baker, Director of Development, at (704) 872-4157. Or send in the coupon below requesting information and/or a visit.

ing on a math problem at the blackboard when the explosion occurred.

"I had a broken jaw, lacerations of the chin and an avulsion of the ear," said Byron. "The paramedics put me on a back board so I couldn't move in case I had neck or back injuries they didn't know about. It was great!"

Disaster drills must be performed periodically for hospital staff in order for the hospital to keep up its accreditation. Hospital Administrators set up the drill with EMS, so hospital staff didn't know a drill was about to occur until they received the call from EMS.

"Staff even went so far as to get information from the children for their insurance forms," said Johnson. "My tag said I had two crushed legs so they wheeled me off to X-ray, but not before they got my insurance information."

Nancy Puffenberger, a teacher at the Center's School, said the drill couldn't have come at a better time of the school year.

"We've been studying first aid for the last two weeks," said Puffenberger. "The children read their tags and knew what was wrong with them. They asked good questions about the equipment on the ambulances and at the hospital. I think once the EMT's realized the children understood some of their injuries, they began to explain to the children what they were doing to treat them, and why they were doing it."

Puffenberger said the experience helped the children understand what they were studying and how it relates to their lives and to the lives of other people.

"Watching professionals carry out their jobs with a sense of responsibility and pride provides an excellent role model for the children," said Puffenberger. "They may try harder to learn and become more responsible for themselves because of this experience."

"I think I want to be a paramedic when I grow up," said Mike. "The school only takes two years, and it's an exciting job where you get to help people."

Carroll Starrette, a Crew Chief at EMS, said the drill went very well, and that the Barium children were a delight.

"We were glad to see the children get so excited and so involved with the drill," said Starrette. "We'd love to have them participate in it again."

After the drill, the EMS took the children to Elliott's Ice Cream and ordered ice cream for everyone, compliments of Iredell Memorial Hospital.

cent Center School. He loves music and would like to be a disc jockey when he graduates.

Both Kenny and Renee are in the Center's Preparation for Adult Living Program (PAL), and live in Howard Cottage. PAL is for older youth like Kenny and Renee who are ready for more independence and responsibility, but need specialized programming to help them prepare for adulthood.

The Program has a maximum of 12 youths, ages 16 to 20, who attend public school in the Barium community. Many of the youths hold part-time jobs, which enable them to learn to form relationships with adults and peers outside the Home, and to learn and practice skills that are a part of daily living.

Kenny came to the PAL program in 1986, after successfully completing the Adolescent Center Program. He has worked with school-age children at the FCDC for three summers, the first as a volunteer, and the last two through the Job Training Partnership Act's (JTPA) Summer Youth Employment Training Program.

Kenny attended South Iredell High School last year, was very active in sports, and won the Coaches' Award in track for best sportsmanship and overall team effort. A rising junior, Kenny hopes to continue to play sports, and to go on to college and study pre-law.

"I love working with the kids," said Kenny. "It's not that I don't want a career that involves working with them, but I want to do something that will help everyone."

Renee

Renee came to the Adolescent Center in 1985. She successfully worked through the program and moved to the PAL cottage in 1987. She worked with the three-year-olds at the FCDC, also through the JTPA.

Renee is a senior at South Iredell this year. She is interested in writing, and recently won an award for a poem. She is still undecided about what to do when she graduates, but plans to give it a lot of thought during her senior year.

HOMECOMING 1987

Homecoming 1987 fell on August 1 and 2 at Barium Springs Home for Children. For those two days the campus was bustling with 450 people who grew up calling Barium home.

This year there was a new excitement in the air, caused by an unknown face with a video camera. The consultant firm ALLEN-MAC was shooting scenes for a video on the history of Barium Springs Home for Children which will be used at the Centennial Celebration of the Home in 1991. It will describe the history of the Home as it has transgressed from an Orphanage to a Children's Home to a group care facility which offers specialized residential services.

But with all of the remembering, eating and laughter, the video camera was soon dissolved into part of the scenery. Once again, everyone seemed to enjoy Homecoming immensely, and once again, we were glad to see everyone back.

FIELD TRAINING BEGINS

Adolescent Center Social Workers Bruce Steadman and Betty Cowan recently began a year-long field training requirement at the Pre-Adolescent Center, as part of their studies for a Master's in Social Work (MSW).

Betty and Bruce are in their second year of the three-year Master's program at the University of South Carolina's College of Social Work.

During this year they are to do at least 16 hours a week of field training for one academic school year under the supervision of an accredited field instructor (one with an MSW), all in addition to their full-time positions.

Bruce will be providing individual and family counseling for two of the children at the Pre-Adolescent Center. He also hopes to create some permanent support groups for families within their own communities.

Betty will be providing after-care to children who have recently been discharged from the Center and are living at home. She will also be conducting a study of the children discharged from the Center since its opening five years ago to see where they are today and what services they received that were most effective.

Betty and Bruce completed the academic part of the program their first year, by traveling to the University of Columbia. During their final year, another year of field training, Bruce would like to be at the Veterans Hospital in Salisbury, and Betty at either Charter Pines Psychiatric Hospital or Family Support Center in Charlotte.

For the second year in a row Bruce and Betty have been awarded scholarship funds for their graduate studies from the North Carolina Child Care Association (NCCCA), the only difference this year being that scholarship guidelines required the employing agency to pay 25% of the scholarship.

PRE-AD. CENTER SUMMER ACTIVITIES

The Pre-Adolescent Center School went on a field trip to Raleigh on Thursday, July 23, as part of their summer studies on North Carolina.

Freda Perry, a teacher at the school, said the trip served as a lesson on the state's history. During their all-day tour the children visited the Museum of Art, the Museum of History, the State Capitol, the State Museum of Natural Sciences and the State Legislative Building. The tired, but happy group returned at about 11 p.m.

Kenny C., 13, contributed a drawing to the 1987 National Association of Homes for Children Art Exhibition (NAHC). The exhibition was on display in September at the NAHC's Annual Convention. Childcare professionals from across the United States attended the convention in Chicago and viewed the exhibition.

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance Program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS:

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. The amount is not mentioned.

The remodeling of the old campus infirmary began in July of 1986, but was slow due to uncontrollable circumstances. But now the children and teachers can take full advantage of the large classrooms, the library, and the enrichment area of the new school.

"We spent most of the first day letting the children look out the windows," said Nancy Puffenberger, a teacher at the

After 19 months of patiently waiting, the newly remodeled Pre-Adolescent Center School opened its doors to about 20 very excited children and teachers on January 19.

The school, along with staff offices and the kitchen, has been located in a cramped Wallace Cottage, one of four

BOARD TOURS NEW SCHOOL

A tour of the Pre-Adolescent Center and its new school was the highlight of the recent Barium Springs Home for Children's Board of Regents meeting on November 15 and 16.

Board members visited the cottages and spoke with children and staff before touring the newly remodeled Pre-Adolescent Center school, which is due to open in January.

Remodeling of the old infirmary building for the school began in July of 1986, according to Executive Director Earle Frazier. So everyone will be glad to see the children finally have the advantages the new school will offer.

"The board seemed pleased with the reports they heard on the progress of the three programs," said Frazier. "The staff and children of the Pre-Adolescent Center really helped to make this meeting an enjoyable one."

Also in the meeting, the Board approved for the Agency to apply for Accreditation to the Council on Accreditation in 1988.

The Board meets again on April 17 and 18, 1988.

The Home had another good year of service in 1987—its 97th year. Two special groups of people were responsible—those of you “out there” and those of you “here.” In a very real sense, I speak for each group to the other.

On behalf of those here, our sincere appreciation goes to all of you out there for your gifts, prayers, volunteer work and words of encouragement, all of which made 1987 a good year.

Equally important, on behalf of those out there, our sincere appreciation goes to all of you here who worked and cared—often under great stress—to fulfill our purposes in 1987.

As for me, I’m thankful for the opportunity of working for both groups. You’re quite a team!

The Charitable Remainder Unitrust

How can you give a gift to Barium Springs Home for Children while producing a lifetime income and a hedge against inflation? By establishing a Charitable Remainder Unitrust, you may provide a significant gift to Barium Springs Home for Children and reduce income gift and estate taxes.

A unitrust offers flexibility and the most growth potential to you, the income beneficiary, and Barium Springs, which will ultimately receive the remaining assets placed in the trust. What is a unitrust? It is an irrevocable agreement which permits you to transfer certain kinds of property (cash, stocks, bonds or real property) to a charitable organization via a trust. The assets are placed in a trust and the trust pays you and your designated income beneficiary, if desired, an annual income based on a fixed percentage of the value of the trust assets. The Charitable Remainder Unitrust provides an alternative to a fixed return investment because the value of the trust's assets is revalued each year. If the value of the trust assets increases, the annual payments to you correspondingly increase. Thus, a Charitable Remainder Unitrust may be viewed as a hedge against inflation because the trust's income is directly related to its assets and the performance of the assets can be related to the national economy. The unitrust assets can be invested with increase in value as an objective.

There are five requirements which must be met in order to establish a Charitable Remainder Unitrust. First, there must be an irrevocable remainder interest in the trust to benefit a charitable organization. Second, there must be a pre-established term for the life of the trust. This may be either for the life-time of the beneficiaries or for a term not to exceed twenty years. Third, the trust must state that the assets remaining in the trust at the end of the term or at the death of the last beneficiary will be given to a qualified charity. Fourth, the trust agreement must give the trustee power to manage and invest the assets of the trust without restrictions. Fifth, the donor who establishes the trust must set a fixed percentage for the annual payout note. This percentage must be at least five percent and will determine the annual income paid out to you from the trust's assets.

A Charitable Remainder Unitrust will provide the donor with immediate tax savings. A partial income tax charitable deduction is allowed for the year in which the unitrust is created. The deduction is equal to the amount of remainder interest which is based on fair market value of the assets placed in the trust, the trust's rate of payout to you, and the ages of the unitrust's beneficiaries. The Internal Revenue Service provides tables to determine the correct amount of the deduction. Any unused portion of the charitable deduction may be carried forward for up to five tax years if the deduction exceeds allowable deductions for you in a given tax year.

Another advantage to establishing a Charitable Remainder Unitrust to benefit Barium Springs Home for Children is the potential savings of capital gains taxes. If a unitrust is created with appreciated property, such as stocks, bonds or real estate, the assets may be transferred to the trust without paying capital gains tax on the transfer. For example, you may have a portfolio of growth stocks which have increased in value but pay relatively low dividends. By transferring these stocks to a unitrust, you will not have to pay capital gains taxes on the transfer and you may receive a higher rate of return.

Tax treatment of income derived from a Charitable Remainder Unitrust is relatively straightforward. Income received from the trust is taxed according to the way the trust income is earned. Earnings are reported as either ordinary income, capital gains income (from long-term capital gains in the trust), tax-exempt income (i.e. interest on municipal bonds), or as tax-free distribution of principal (i.e. cost basis of securities sold).

The advantage of establishing a Charitable Remainder Unitrust for Barium Springs Home for Children are numerous. For you, the donor, the benefits may include immediate federal income tax deductions, avoidance of capital gains taxes, sound financial management of assets, and a regular income. For Barium Springs Home for Children, you are assuring future financial support for a most deserving institution.

For more information about how you can help Barium Springs Home for Children maximize your tax benefits, please feel free to call Mr. Reade Baker, Director of Development, at (704) 872-4157. # 1987 GIFT SOCIETY MEMBERS

Since its founding nearly 100 years ago, Barium Springs has benefited from the generosity of thousands of Presbyterians and others whose gifts have helped sustain the Home's important ministry. Barium Springs has also benefited from the dedicated service of staff members and leaders who have devoted their lives to the loving nurture of those the Home has served.

Therefore it is altogether appropriate to recognize the exceptional contributions of four individuals from Barium Springs' past by naming the Home's individual gift clubs in their honor. The four—Jethro Rumble, Joe Johnston, Rebekah Carpenter, and Buck Jackins—truly exemplify the loving, giving spirit that has sustained Barium Springs throughout its history.

Your gift to Barium Springs makes you an active participant in its Christian ministry which exerts an enormous positive influence on the children, adolescents, and families served.

CHRISTMAS AT BARIUM SPRINGS

The monies received in 1987 from the Joseph F. Cannon Christmas Trust brought much "happiness and cheer" to the children at Barium Springs Home for Children this Christmas.

Cannon, in a will dated 1932, set up a trust naming 10 North Carolina institutions, including Barium Springs, to each receive 10 percent of the trust's annual income. The only stipulation of the funds is that they be used to bring "happiness and cheer" to the children at Christmas time.

The funds which Barium Springs receives from the Cannon Trust are distributed to Barium's three programs, the Adolescent Center, the Pre-Adolescent Center and the Family and Child Development Center (FCDC).

This Christmas the Centers used the money to buy nice individual gifts for each child and for several activities, such as classroom and cottage Christmas parties, a pizza lunch, and an open house. The funds also made it possible to purchase books, games and school equipment.

Center. "We let them get used to the new building and explained to them that it was their responsibility to keep it as new as possible. They were very excited."

Nancy said that as soon as some of the newness wore off, they would be able to get back into a routine and she was sure that the new environment would make it easier for the children to learn.

BARIUM ANNOUNCES NEW CLUBS

Barium Springs Home for Children is beginning Corporate Sponsor Clubs. Corporations that show their concern for troubled youth through donations at one of three levels qualify for membership.

Donations of $500 to $999 qualify corporations for membership in the Treasurer's Club; donations of $1,000 to $2,999 qualify for the Vice President's Club; and donations of $3,000 or more qualify for the President's Club.

Shortly after a corporation begins their sponsorship, they will receive special thanks in an article in Barium's monthly page in the Presbyterian News called Presbyterian Family Ministries, and in Barium's quarterly newsletter, the Barium Messenger. In addition, at the end of their year of sponsorship, club members will receive a plaque in appreciation of their assistance to troubled youth.

SPECIAL THANKS TO...

PYA/Monarch, Incorporated has become a Corporate Sponsor Clubs member by joining the Treasurer's Club. PYA/Monarch is a whole-sale food distributor which has provided excellent products and service to Barium Springs for many years. We appreciate their generous gift to North Carolina's children.

North Carolina National Bank Corporation Charities is also a Treasurer's Club member of the Corporate Sponsor Clubs. The Statesville branch of NCNB has been a friend of children at Barium Springs through services and donations since 1975. Hundreds of children have benefitted from the caring spirit at NCNB Corporation Charities in Statesville.

A. B. Carter, Inc., of Gastonia has become a member of the Vice President's Club. The Company manufactures textile machinery and supplies. Owner Bynum Carter has been a member of the Home's Board of Regents for many years. He is a devoted friend to children in need. Mr. Carter's leadership and support have been outstanding.

The Adolescent Center

Annie Smith

Miss Annie Smith, a former resident of Barium Springs Home for Children (BSCH) and a 1987 graduate of South Iredell High School, was recently awarded a $200 scholarship from the Ebony Circle Pageant Committee of Statesville, North Carolina.

Each Spring the Ebony Circle Pageant Committee puts on a Little Miss Ebony pageant in Statesville. Part of the proceeds from that pageant goes in the form of a scholarship to a young woman in the Statesville area.

The money will assist Annie in her continuing education at King's College in Charlotte where she is studying to become a Medical Office Assistant. She plans to graduate in March of 1988.

Annie came to the Barium Springs' Preparation for Adult Living (PAL) program in January of 1985 from Asheville, North Carolina. While in the program she attended South Iredell High School, where she was the School Mascot and a member of SADD, Students Against Drunk Driving, and worked part-time at Barium Springs Family and Child Development Center (FCDC).

Currently Annie attends classes during the day and has a part-time job in the evening. She plans to remain in the Charlotte area after her graduation in March to look for a job as a Medical Office Assistant.

(Editor's Note: It was learned as this issue of the Messenger went to press, that Annie Smith has temporarily interrupted her studies. She hopes to be able to resume her studies in August.)

The Pre-Adolescent Center

Jeremy R. is going home. In the year and three months he lived in Cannon Cottage at the Pre-Adolescent Center, Jeremy, along with the help of his teachers, cottage counselors, social worker and recreation director, made a lot of progress, and now he is returning home.

He attended the on-campus, special education school, which is approved by the North Carolina Department of Public Instruction, and in November he entered the sixth grade at Troutman Middle School.

His teachers at Pre-Ad., Nancy Puffenberger and Freda Perry, worked hard with Jeremy to help him overcome the behavioral problems he had in school while living at home.

Cottage Counselors Greg Samuels and Mark Wellman successfully helped Jeremy adjust to the goals and responsibilities of living in Cannon Cottage with a group of 5 other boys.

Activities Coordinator Bill Ingram helped Jeremy realize and feel good about his natural talents as a basketball player. Ingram hopes that Jeremy's love for basketball will motivate him in junior high and high school to do well with his grades and conduct.

Jeremy also worked very hard on improving his behavior and academic skills, was very proud to be able to return to public school, and is very excited to be going home.

Jeremy, shown boarding the bus for public school earlier this year, is going home.

The Day Care Center

The Family and Child Development Center (FCDC) recently opened a children's library with 45 new books donated by the Center's Parent Advisory Committee (PAC).

FCDC Director Anita Payne said PAC began raising money to buy the books at the beginning of 1987, and plans to add more books as the money is available.

"Many of the new books are Caldecott and Newberg Award-winning books," said Payne. "We hope to provide the children with good experiences in all kinds of children's literature."

Payne said that parents, relatives and friends may also purchase books to donate to the library in honor of a child attending the FCDC. The honored child's name will be placed in the book on a bookplate, and Max the Library Bear will visit the honored child in their classroom to thank them for the book.

The PAC is a committee of parents at the Center, who have fund-raising projects, schedule and attend some childcare workshops and take an interest in the function of the Center. They have raised money for playground equipment, room furnishings and other Center necessities for over five years.

ALUMNI NEWS

20, 32 Barium Springs Alumni met at the Barium Springs Alumni Museum before going on to eat lunch at a nearby restaurant.

From as far North as Raleigh and as far south as South Carolina, these alumni came together to discuss the upcoming Homecoming on August 6 and 7, 1988. They also inspected some recent re-modeling work which had been done in the museum in October, and admired the newly hung pen & ink prints of the old campus buildings, which the Alumni Association commissioned Raleigh artist Jerry Miller to do in 1987.

At the Annual Homecoming of Barium Springs Alumni, which takes place the first weekend of August, Alumni from all over the United States come to Barium Springs for two days of being reunited with old friends, eating and reminiscing, and browsing through the Alumni Museum.

This mini-Homecoming was just proof that once a year isn't enough for "family" to get together.

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance Program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS:

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. The amount is not mentioned.

BARIUM CHILD HELPS CHILD IN NEED

Cheri came to the Pre-Adolescent Center (PAC) in August of 1986. A learning disability made it hard for her to develop social and academic skills. The PAC has been providing help she couldn't get living in her own community, attending public school. Cheri has made a great deal of progress due to the hard work and compassion shown by her mother and PAC staff. Now this 14-year-old shares this sense of compassion and wants to help others who are also in need.

In January Cheri began sponsoring a 7-year-old Guatemalan boy through the Christian Children's Fund (CCF). Her mother, Chris, said Cheri saw the CCF advertisement on television and immediately came to her saying she had to help those poor children.

"She called the toll free number and asked how she could help," said Chris. "I told her we couldn't actually afford to send $21 a month, but Cheri really wanted to do this, so much so that she offered to send her own allowance of $10 a month. I was extremely proud of her."

The CCF sent Cheri information and a picture of Oscar Gomez. He lives with his parents, four brothers and four sisters in a small hut constructed of mud brick with a brick floor. The hut has no sanitary facilities and water is obtained from a public faucet. Oscar's father works all day in the fields.

ACTIVITY CENTERS CREATED

The beginning of 1988 brought many changes to the Family and Child Development Center (FCDC) according to Director Anita Payne.

All eight of the rooms have received new furniture such as child-size shelves, storage units, tables and chairs. The furniture in five of the rooms has been re-arranged to form different activity areas, or centers, within each room.

"Activity centers are divided from other parts of the room by using low shelves or partitions," said Payne. "This creates a feeling of enclosure, helping children feel more secure in a smaller space. The enclosure also helps children focus more on an activity and less on distractions in other parts of the room."

Payne said that activity centers such as dramatic play, blocks, manipulative toys, books, discovery, art, and house-keeping facilitate the FCDC's philosophy of learning through play.

In the 4-year room the Reading Activities Center is in a loft above the Housekeeping Center.

"Children learn by using their senses," said Payne. "In activity centers, there's the opportunity to use the sense of touch, taste, smell, and hearing, as well as sight. By using this

I had a delightful visit recently with the Presbyterian Men of Anson County, W.A. (Bill) Johnson, former resident and former regent, arranged for me to address the group following dinner. Someone asked, "What is the Home's success rate?"

Now that's a tough question. I'm sure that the father of the prodigal son felt that he was a failure—but was he? I'm equally certain that our parents sometimes wondered about their success rate! This is not to evade the question, but to suggest that it really can't be answered.

I wish that we could guarantee that each child, youth and family we serve would have no further problems. Since we can't, we will go on planting and watering and leave the harvest to a higher Power.

CHARTING YOUR FINANCIAL COURSE

Charitable Gifts After Tax Reform

Charitable giving is an integral part of the human condition. Throughout history, men and women have given time and money to benefit others and the society in which they interacted. Voluntary gifts have built some of the greatest churches, schools and hospitals in America. Charitable giving has provided funds to care for elderly and indigent, to conduct medical research in order to prevent disease, and to promote cultural activities which have enriched the lives of all.

Long before our tax laws encouraged charitable giving, many people made generous gifts to Barium Springs Home for Children because of the quality and purpose of our institution. While tax benefits are seldom the primary reason for giving, they can permit many people to significantly reduce the after-tax cost of their gifts and therefore increase the size of their gift.

The Tax Reform Act eliminated many of the former deductions and exclusions of the tax code. However, Congress retained the charitable contribution deduction to encourage the support of institutions like Barium Springs Home for Children. In order to deduct your charitable contributions, you must itemize deductions on your return and you are limited to a 50 percent deduction of your adjusted gross income for gifts of cash. (Special limitations apply to certain gifts of appreciated capital gain property.)

One of the most rewarding means of giving to produce a tax benefit is funding your gift to Barium Springs Home for Children with appreciated securities rather than cash. Gifts of appreciated stocks, bonds, or mutual funds that have been held for longer than six months will produce a double tax benefit. First, the full value of the asset can be deducted as a charitable contribution. Second, you will avoid the capital gains tax treatment of the appreciated asset. As you are aware, this year long term capital gains are taxed as ordinary income with a top rate of 28 percent.

As an example, you are in the 33 percent tax bracket and wish to make a donation to Barium Springs Home for Children for $5,000. A gift of cash would result in a tax savings of $1,650, so the after-tax cost of your gift would be $3,350. However, suppose you have an investment portfolio which contains 100 shares of stock purchased 10 years ago for $1,000 and is now worth $5,000. By funding your gift with the appreciated stock, you could avoid a capital gain tax of $1,120 and also gain a tax savings of $1,650, so the after-tax cost of giving the appreciated asset is only $2,230.

As with the giving of appreciated securities, the same principal applies to gifts of real property. The full fair market value is deductible and there is no capital gain tax on the property's appreciation. There is also another advantage to funding your gift with real property. You will avoid the inconvenience and the high cost of selling the property.

As you can see, the federal tax laws encourage the sharing of your resources with charitable institutions like Barium Springs Home for Children. In many cases, careful tax planning can effectively reduce the after-tax cost of your gift.

Certainly we receive great personal satisfaction in sharing ourselves with others. We derive pleasure in knowing our gifts benefit the fine works of institutions like Barium Springs for Children. As Albert Einstein said, "A hundred times a day I remind myself that my inner and outer life is based upon the labors of other men, living and dead, and that I must exert myself to give the same measure as I have and still am receiving."

For more information about how you can help Barium Springs Home for Children maximize your tax benefits, please feel free to call Mr. Reade Baker, Director of Development, at (704) 872-4157. # BARIUM CHILD HELPS CHILD IN NEED

"Oscar loves to play games," said Cheri. "But he is not a healthy boy. It makes me feel good to know that I'm helping him a little bit, but I wish he felt better."

Nancy Puffenberger, lead teacher at the PAC school, said that everyone at the Center is very proud of Cheri for caring enough to sacrifice her allowance to help someone else.

"This is a child who used to hoard most of her allowance and spend the rest on chocolate and candy," said Nancy. "We reminded her that she wouldn't be able to do that anymore if she decided to sponsor Oscar. But she said she would rather go without than know he was suffering."

Nancy said the PAC recognizes that everyone—including children in care—needs to have an opportunity to provide nurture as well as to receive it. To be able to assist staff or to help peers increases the children's sense of competence and self-esteem.

Cheri is successfully completing the PAC program. She is on the highest level of the Level System, and is doing very well in her schoolwork and cottage responsibilities. A big part of Cheri's success in the program is attributed to her mother.

"Chris is very dedicated to her daughter and does everything she can to see that Cheri receives the best help available," said Nancy. "Before Cheri came here Chris spent every available minute after school until bedtime with Cheri, helping her understand her assignments and homework. Cheri was doing well in her school work, but her mother was exhausted from working a full day, keeping a home as a single parent, and being a special education tutor to her child. It was just too much for anyone to handle alone."

Chris came to PAC for help. Here Cheri would get the special attention she needed in school and have the needed opportunity to learn appropriate social skills by living in a group setting with other children and trained child care workers.

This summer Cheri will be reunited with her mom, and she will continue to live at home while attending a new school next Fall.

"I'm so pleased with Barium Springs," said Chris. "Cheri and I will miss everyone when she leaves. Everyone on the staff has been so helpful."

'learning through play' approach, we find that children are happier as they work at their own speed. There are also fewer behavior problems and the children gain skill in communication, problem-solving and independence."

Payne also said that the number of centers within each room, and the complexity of the activities increased with the age of the children.

"For example, it would confuse the two-year-olds if they had too many activities from which to choose, so their room has fewer activity centers, with fewer activities within each center," said Payne. "Because the activity centers enable a child to choose the activity in which he or she wishes to participate, the child will be more likely to stick to that activity and learn from it."

In addition, materials and activities within each center are rotated frequently to provide children with new challenges and a variety of experiences.

The five rooms which have activity centers are the rooms for the two-, three-, and four-year-olds, and the two rooms used for after school care.

PAL PROGRAM RECEIVES FUNDS

The Network was made up of ten private North Carolina agencies which sponsored Independent Living as part of their services. The purpose was to create a common bond among people working with children in Independent Living programs. This group met about three times a year for information-sharing, problem-solving and training sessions. The skills of staff were increased, and the children were the beneficiaries.

Campus Administrator Rochelle Haimes and PAL program staff submitted a proposal for funds to re-establish this Network. That proposal was accepted in early January.

Adolescent Center Director Abe Wilkinson and PAL staff planned and hosted a Strategic Planning Meeting in early March of 1988, at which representatives from private and public Independent Living Programs identified common issues and concerns in programming for older adolescents.

Also at this meeting, an agenda for a two-day Forum was developed. The Forum will include training, demonstration of techniques and program content, and displays of resource materials for youth and staff. A committee was appointed to secure leadership and make site arrangements for the Forum.

Wilkinson said another objective of the Forum is for the agencies to make some permanent ties so that the Network will continue into the year 1989 and beyond.

Bruce Steadman

CENTERS HOLD ACTIVITIES DAY

The Adolescent Center had an Activities Day on March 23, from 1 until 3 p.m. On this day each month the Center sets aside two hours for all the staff and residents to participate in relationship-building games.

Night Supervisor Robert Pinkney, coordinator of the day, said participants are divided into teams consisting of both residents and staff, with each team trying to win as many of the events as they can.

"This event enables staff and residents to work as a team towards a common goal," said Robert. "It gives everyone a chance to see each other as teammates and equals, not as 'staff' and 'residents.'"

One of the games played was shoe hunt. In this game, everyone's shoes are placed in plastic bags which are then placed around the inside of the gym. Everyone must run and look through each bag until they find their shoes and put them on. The first team to locate all of their shoes wins.

CENTER HIRES ASSISTANT DIRECTOR

Bruce Steadman has been hired for the new Assistant Director position in the Adolescent Center. He is presently the Social Worker for Sullivan Cottage and will assume his new position once his old one is filled.

As Assistant Director, Bruce will assist Director Abe Wilkinson in all administrative duties at the Adolescent Center.

Bruce came to Barium Springs in July of 1982. He is a graduate of Atlantic Christian College in Wilson, and is completing his second year of the three-year Master's program at the University of South Carolina's College of Social Work. Bruce has also completed one year toward a Master's of Divinity at the Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary at Wake Forest.

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance Program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS:

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. The amount is not mentioned.

Vol. 65

BARIUM SPRINGS, NORTH CAROLINA, SUMMER 1988

No. 3

BARIUM HONORS 1988 GRADUATES

June 3, 1988 was a proud day for Renee Marie Fullwood and Wilma Virginia Lenox. It was the day they graduated from South Iredell High School.

Both girls are in the Preparation for Adult Living (PAL) program of the Adolescent Center. Here are their future plans:

Renee Marie Fullwood

"I have lived at Barium Springs Home for Children for two and a half years. For the last year I worked part-time at the Family and Child Development Center on Campus. I

SCOTT RECEIVES NCCCA AWARD

Jimmie Lue Scott, an employee of the Adolescent Center at Barium Springs Home for Children, was named North Carolina's 1988 Support Worker of the Year at the Annual Awards Presentations of the North Carolina Child Care Association (NCCCA) on May 4 at Camp Caraway, N.C.

For 17 years Jimmie Lue has prepared some 140 meals per day for children and staff. For the last 10 of those 17 years she has managed the kitchen by herself.

Jimmie Lue has been nominated for this award by her co-workers several times. They know that even though her title is cook, her job does not stop there.

"For many years Jimmie Lue has been someone that the children respect and come to with their problems," said Adolescent Center Director Abe Wilkinson. "She listens and encourages them, and she is very open and honest. They know they can trust her. They help her with the kitchen chores, she helps them by listening. The children learn much more from her than they realize; they learn how to respect and trust adults as people who can help them."

Jimmie Lue was truly surprised when she won the award. She was invited to attend the dinner and awards presentation along with the other nominees, so she did not suspect that she had won.

HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS DONATE BOOKS

The FHA/HERO (the Future Homemakers of America and Home Economics Related Occupations) and the Child Care Services students at South Iredell High School raised $125 to donate to the Family and Child Development Center (FCDC) to buy books for their Children's Library.

This is the third year the students have raised money for the FCDC by selling home-made cakes for Valentine's Day and Mother's Day. In 1986 and 1987 the students raised money to buy the materials to make

I was sitting on the patio watching and listening as the birds busily gathered food and guarded their areas when my attention turned to the trees. The poplars growing straight and tall above the oaks - the dogwoods leaning out over the lawn - lower limbs of oaks growing extra long - all competing for sunshine - competing for life. The successful ones continue to flourish. The others become deformed and some wither and die.

And I thought that people - especially children - are also competing for the sunshine - the sunshine of caring, stimulation, challenge, encouragement, and respect. Those who are successful continue to flourish. But sadly, all too many spend so much time in the shade of neglect and abuse that they become emotionally deformed and lose hope and begin to wither.

Such a waste when there is enough sunshine to nourish all!

ALUMNI NEWS

Mrs. Dona Clarke will place the flowers in Little Joe's Presbyterian Church on Homecoming weekend in memory of her husband, Mr. A.A. Tom Clarke, Class of 1934.

Mr. Lacy Beshears, Class of 1942, died on March 28, 1988 of a heart attack in Clemmons, N.C. He was 63.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Pat Beshears; two brothers, J.D., also of Clemmons, and Howard, of Waco, Texas; and a sister, Mrs. Josephine Hildreth, of Winston-Salem.

Lee Jessup and Donnie Bolton, who informed us of Mr. Beshears' death, said that while at Barium, Mrs. Beshears was the Captain of the Wrestling team, and was the 1942 state Wrestling Champion of the 155 pound class.

Mr. Beshears worked for Western Electric for 35 years. He was a football official in the North State Association for 32 years, officiated wrestling for 30 years and was the booking agent for the Piedmont Wrestling Officials

EMPLOYEES RECEIVE SCHOLARSHIPS

Assistant Director Bruce Steadman and Social Worker Betty Cowan Hutcheson, both of the Adolescent Center, have been awarded scholarships for the third year in a row from the North Carolina Child Care Association (NCCCA).

The funds will help them complete their third and final year at the University of South Carolina where they are each pursuing a Masters in Association for the past 12 years.

Mr. Beshears last attended Homecoming in 1987.

Mr. Richard Moore, who lived at Barium Springs Home for Children from 1924 to 1937, died on March 2, 1988, in Fayetteville, North Carolina.

Mr. Moore had been in the Merchant Marines for over 40 years.

Mr. Joe Savage, Class of 1938, died on April 24, 1988 of a heart attack in Fayetteville, North Carolina.

Mr. Savage is survived by his wife, Agnes. He was an employee of the State of North Carolina for over 40 years.

Miss Olive Faye Blue, 67, who lived at Barium Springs in the 1940's, died in May. She was a former resident of Burlington and a native of Vance County.

She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Geraldine Martin and Mrs. Ann McAdams of Elon College; and two brothers, Herman Blue of Burlington and Scott Blue of Salisbury.

Social Work. The scholarship funds are included in the annual Consultation and Training Grant from the Duke Endowment to the NCCCA for disbursement to NCCCA full member agencies in North Carolina and the Duke Endowment-assisted agencies in South Carolina.

The children of Barium Springs certainly benefit from the professional growth of Betty and Bruce.

Charitable Giving: Gifts of Property

When most of us think in terms of giving, the first thing that comes to mind is our checkbook. Each of you may respond by saying we support our church, Barium Springs Home for Children, or any other charitable organization by writing a check and keeping the cancelled check as proof of our donation. However, there may be more effective ways to share our resources than with outright gifts of cash. Let us consider the gift of property, both personal and real, to support the ongoing needs of Barium Springs Home for Children.

Real estate constitutes a significant part of American philanthropy and this trend may increase as inflation rises and additional tax burdens associated with capital gains are incurred. Gifts of real property, such as land, apartment buildings, or other real estate may be given to a charitable organization. You will receive an income tax deduction for the full amount of the present fair market value of the property.

There are two rules to keep in mind when gifting real estate. One, if the property you want to give has a greater value than the original cost, deed the property to Barium Springs Home for Children. You save the capital gains taxes and are allowed a tax deduction for the present fair market value, not your original cost basis in the property. For example, you own a farm purchased for $10,000. The appraised value of the farm is now $50,000. You may deduct $50,000 as a charitable donation and avoid the capital gains tax on $40,000. Note that you are limited to deductions of this type to 30 percent of your adjusted income, but you are able to carryover the excess to the next five years.

The second rule to remember when giving real property is if the property you want to give has a value less than your original cost, sell the property yourself, take a capital loss on your tax return, then give the proceeds of the sale to Barium Springs Home for Children. When giving real estate to a charitable organization, it is essential to obtain an appraisal. The value of the gift must be consistent with the value of similar gifts and the documented value must be acceptable to the Internal Revenue Service.

There are three different ways you can donate gifts of real estate to Barium Springs Home for Children. You may give the property now, utilizing the charitable deduction on your tax return. You may also give the deed to your property now, but retain the use of it for as long as you live. You will receive an income tax deduction for a portion of the gift in the year it is gifted. By entering into a contract such as this, the donation of property will pass directly to the institution avoiding the delays and expenses of probate at the time of death. The third way to donate real estate is by giving the property in exchange for a guaranteed life income. This is accomplished by transferring the property to a trustee and receiving a stated percentage of income earned from the value of the property at time of sale, or if the property is already income producing, from the income generated presently.

A gift of personal property will generally follow the same procedures as outlined above. It is necessary to have the items appraised by a reputable third party and you need to make sure that your gift qualifies as a charitable contribution. In recent years, we have seen the value of collectibles increase. If you own a collection of stamps or coins, have them appraised and consider donating either the collection or the proceeds from the sale to Barium Springs Home for Children.

In summary, you can see there are other ways of donating your resources in addition to outright gifts of cash. Through careful planning, you can structure your gift to maximize tax benefits for yourself and possibly provide a more substantial donation. By giving "more effectively" you will help your favorite charitable institution more and will possibly improve your overall financial security.

LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS DONATE BOOKS

picnic tables, and then the South Iredell FFA (Future Farmers of America) put the tables together and they were given to the Center.

The FHA/HERO is made up of 29 girls who are taking a course at South called "Child Care Services" taught by Marie Fitzgerald, a home economics teacher.

Six of the girls are in their second year of the course and will meet the state requirements for certification in child care upon completion of the course. These girls will be eligible for employment in the child care field once they are 18 years of age and have graduated from high school.

A very important part of the Child Care Services course is the twice weekly visits the students make to the FCDC. These visits help the girls learn about child care through first hand experience, and they also help the teachers at the FCDC by supplying them with volunteers who are eager to help and learn.

Ms. Fitzgerald said the students voted to continue the cake-baking project because they wanted to show staff at the FCDC how much they appreciated being able to come to the Center to learn.

PAL WITHDRAWS FROM FUNDS

It was reported in the March issue of the "Presbyterian Family Ministries" that the North Carolina Department of Human Resources had awarded funds from a federal grant to Barium Springs Home for Children to re-establish an informal network of independent living programs which existed from 1984-87. The Home has decided that it would be inappropriate to participate in that program at this time.

Staff at the FCDC, and at Barium Springs Home for Children are equally grateful to the South students for their support and have enjoyed being a part of their training.

If your group or club is interested in helping the children at Barium Springs Home for Children, please contact Reade Baker, Director of Development, at 704/872-4157.

GRADUATES HONORED; FUTURE PLANS REVEALED

very much enjoyed helping the teachers with the three-year-olds. After graduation I will move into Statesville with a friend. Upon finding employment I plan to attend Mitchell Community College through the nursing department, get my degree and continue helping others."

Wilma Virginia Lenox

"I have lived at Barium Springs Home for Children for five and a half months. After graduation I plan to continue living at the PAL program, and working at a convenience store. I hope to later get my own apartment. In the future I plan to take classes at Mitchell Community College to become an office secretary."

The PAL program is for older youth who experience less significant behavioral problems, but who need specialized programming to help them prepare for adulthood. It is located in Howard Cottage and houses a maximum of 12 youths, ages 16 to 20.

The youth living in the PAL cottage attend public school in the Barium community and many hold part-time jobs. This enables them to learn to form relationships with adults and peers outside the Home, and to learn and practice skills that are a part of daily living.

The staff and children of Barium Springs Home for Children wish Renee and Wilma the best and brightest futures, and congratulations on their graduation!

SCOTT NAMED SUPPORT WORKER OF THE YEAR

"It was one of the biggest surprises of my life," said Jimmie Lue. "I don't have the words to express what this award means to me. All of the staff here work very hard, I just wish everyone could experience the feeling I had, and still have; it made me feel like a ten million dollar woman!"

As she busily peeled about 4 dozen potatoes, Jimmie Lue talked about her job, about the children and the staff at the Adolescent Center.

"I love the children here," said Jimmie Lue. "They respect me, even when I discipline them. They help me keep things clean and straightened and they even call me 'momma'. I really enjoy preparing meals for them because everyone seems to enjoy the food and that is a satisfying feeling. I have a good relationship with the staff and Abe, my supervisor. Don't get me wrong, we all have our bad days, but I generally enjoy my work."

Abe described the way employees of the Home feel about Jimmie Lue.

"Jimmie Lue has a very special way with children. She is nurturing, yet firm; she disciplines them without making them feel they've been punished. There is something about her you just can't put your finger on. She can ask children to help her do things that none of the other staff would ever dream of asking them to do, and they do it. Children who seldom clean their rooms, let alone a kitchen, will help clean out a big, greasy deep fryer just so they can be close to Jimmie Lue. It's truly incredible."

Jimmie Lue is a remarkable woman. She reared a 20-year-old daughter by herself, and four years ago took in the five-year-old son of a favorite niece to raise after his mother died of cancer.

"I wanted very much to rear him because his mother and I were very close," said Jimmie Lue. "I've worked very hard to instill the proper values and manners in him quickly because I'm getting older and he would be in someone else's care if something happened to me. He's really a good boy."

The Church has a big role in Jimmie Lue's life. She is a member of the Zion Wesley Church in Troutman, North Carolina, where she sings in the adult choir and is President of the young children's choir.

"I've had so many blessings in my life," said Jimmie Lue. "I have a wonderful daughter and son; a job that I love, working with children and people I'm fond of; this award which I'm so proud of, and much, much more. And I thank God for all of it."

Other recipients of awards from the NCCCA were: Sandy Waycaster, Crossnore School - Child Care Worker of the Year; Dr. William H. (Mace) Brown, Board of Trustees for Baptist Children's Homes of North Carolina - Trustee of the Year; and David Hunt Jernigan, Social Worker for the Department of Social Services in Asheville - Alan Keith - Lucas Friend of Children Award.

The Awards Presentation followed an annual two-day child care conference by the NCCCA filled with workshops for interested member agencies. This annual event occurs in May and is held at Camp Caraway.

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance Program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS:

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. The amount is not mentioned.

OFFERING TO BE COLLECTED FOR BSHC

Once again Thanksgiving and the Holiday Season is almost upon us; once again Barium Springs Home for Children is preparing for the Annual Thanksgiving Offering in Presbyterian Churches across North Carolina.

It has become a tradition each Thanksgiving for the Presbyterian Churches of North Carolina to pull together to help the children and their families at Barium Springs Home for Children.

"Our Church Can Make the Difference" is the theme for this year's Offering. Posters, bulletin inserts and offering envelopes were mailed to Churches on October 17 in preparation of the event.

For many, many years the Synod of North Carolina has given approval for

HOMECOMING 1988

Homecoming for Alumni from Barium Springs Home for Children was August 6 and 7 this year. About 350 people returned to the campus with their families and loved ones to see old friends and reminisce about growing up at Barium.

Alumni came from as far away as California to spend two days wandering about the campus, seeing old friends, visiting the Alumni Museum and enjoying a cookout, while their families got to know one another and their children and grandchildren enjoyed the campus swimming pool.

"For a few Alumni it was the first time they had been back in 30 years," said Executive Director Earle Frazier. "They

THE DREAM

The 25-year-old boy put aside his foolishness and decided to become a man. In the short time he had left, his dream of becoming a teacher became a reality. Though he was taken from us suddenly and at such a young age, perhaps we can find some solace in the fact that he had been happier in the last six years of his life than he ever thought possible.

... Or So It Seems

W. Earle Frazier
ACSW
Executive Director

A special tribute is due our sister agency, Alexander Children's Center of Charlotte, as it celebrates one hundred years of service to children and families.

Alexander was among the first traditional children's homes to become a treatment center in recognition of the growing number of children who needed more than basic care to become productive citizens. A recently prepared history notes that, "The Center's transition through its five stages closely parallels society's rising sensitivity to the needs of its most vulnerable members, women and children."

I have had close personal involvement with Alexander's staff and administration over the past dozen years and have found them to be thoroughly professional and totally committed to helping needy children and families. This commitment is a major reason the Pre-Adolescent Center exists on our campus today. Readers will recall that the Pre-Adolescent Center was established in 1982 by a joint effort of the two agencies.

I offer my congratulations to Alexander Children's Center as it begins its second century of service. And I appreciate the help it has given to Barium and to me.

this Offering to take place. The monies received from this Offering and the show of support from the Churches have been both a financial and spiritual blessing to the Home.

In this, the last year of the life of the Synod of North Carolina, the Home needs the support of the Church more

Gifts for Income

Many Americans believe they are unable to make the charitable donations they would like to make. However, with careful financial planning, charitable donations to Barium Springs Home for Children could help you achieve all of your gifting objectives while retaining current income. "Gifting for income" is a financial planning concept offering convenience, flexibility, and security, as well as the satisfaction of supporting the ongoing efforts of Barium Springs Home for Children.

A gift made in return for income can take many forms. Cash is one of the most prevalent, however, securities, real estate or personal property may also be given in return for current income. There are different methods used; depending upon your circumstances, that allow you to make a substantial donation to Barium Springs Home for Children and still retain the benefits of current income.

One such plan is a charitable remainder annuity trust. In this method, an asset is placed in the trust with the charitable organization as beneficiary. The trust will pay a stated percent of the value of the assets to you for the remainder of your life or until the trust assets have been exhausted. This provides a fixed income each year based on the original value of the trust assets and an income tax deduction for a portion of the amount used to create the trust, which is the estimated value of the charitable gift.

Another method which may be used to support Barium Springs Home for Children is a charitable remainder unitrust. An asset, such as stock is donated to create the trust. However, the donor may feel the stock has potential for appreciation and is reluctant to fund an annuity trust, where the annual payments are permanently set as a stated percentage of the original value of the asset. In a charitable remainder unitrust, the donor will receive a state percentage of the value of the assets as determined each year. Therefore, your income will be variable rather than fixed. As the stock appreciates, so does the value of the trust and your annual income payment will increase. However, note the value of the stock may decrease, and your annual payments will decrease in relation to the declining value of the trust assets. With a charitable remainder unitrust, you will also receive an income tax deduction in the year the gift is made equal to the estimated value of the gift, which will pass to Barium Springs Home for Children at your death.

The third way you can support Barium Springs Home for Children is through a charitable lead trust. This method provides that an asset funds a trust, with the annual income from the trust benefiting Barium Springs Home for Children. At your death or a predetermined number of years, the assets may be distributed to whomever you specify. In this way, you can provide yearly benefits to Barium Springs Home for Children and still pass on the assets as an inheritance to family members. The charitable lead trust also offers estate and gift tax benefits, so it is most important to consult your financial advisor to properly plan for the disposition of the assets.

Each of the three plans discussed allows you to make an important gift to Barium Springs Home for Children in exchange for benefits for yourself or your family. One of the most important benefits is the satisfaction of sharing your resources with Barium Springs Home for Children. With federal, state, and local cutbacks in social services, the opportunities provided by Barium Springs Home for Children become even more important and we are dependent upon your generosity for our continued growth.

For more information about these and other ways you can help Barium Springs Home for Children, please feel free to call Mr. Reade Baker, Director of Development, at (704) 872-4157. Or send in the coupon below requesting information and/or a visit to: Mr. Reade Baker, Barium Springs Home for Children, Post Office Box 1, Barium Springs, N.C. 28010.

couldn't get over how much the campus has changed. All of the older buildings have been replaced by modern facilities."

A new attraction in the Alumni Museum this year was 17 pen and ink prints by Raleigh artist Jerry Miller depicting the buildings which were standing on the Barium Campus while most the Alumni lived here. Only two of the buildings drawn still stand today, so the Alumni's sentiment towards these prints runs high.

Alumni (and anyone else interested) were able to order these prints between February 1 and May 31 of 1988 through the Barium Messenger and the Home's

ADOLESCENT CENTER

Stephen proudly displays his certificate

Stephen J., a resident of the Preparation for Adult Living (PAL) program in the Adolescent Center, attended the Broyhill Leadership Conference on June 22-26 at the Davidson College campus, in Davidson, North Carolina.

Stephen, who is 17 and a rising Senior at South Iredell High School, received a scholarship enabling him to attend the conference. He was one of over 100 high school juniors and seniors who attended.

The goal of the conference, sponsored by the Broyhill Foundation, is to teach leadership to young people. Conference counselors attempt to teach initiative, strength and better self-understanding.

Pedro Castillo, Life Skills Coordinator at the PAL program, said that Stephen returned from the conference very excited and optimistic about his future.

"Stephen has a more positive attitude about himself now than before he attended the conference," said Castillo. "He sees situations more objectively than he did in the past. Stephen is very proud of the certificate he was awarded for completing the conference. In fact, he is considering the option he has of applying as a junior counselor at next year's conference."

Stephen lived in Caldwell Cottage where he successfully completed the Adolescent Center Program. He has lived at the PAL program for one and a half years, and is very active at South Iredell, where he is a member of the Forresters singing group and the drama club. He is also a member of a dance troupe in Statesville.

Stephen has a part-time job working with after-school age children at the Family and Child Development Center, another program at Barium Springs Home for Children.

As for his future, Stephen plans to finish school at South Iredell and go on to Mitchell Community College where he might study social work. But whatever he decides, we wish him the best and have confidence he will succeed.

A new position became available at the Adolescent Center School beginning July 1st. With funds provided from a federal program called ESIA (Elementary and Secondary Improvement Act), a resource teacher will be hired to plan and implement a supplemental remedial program in reading and math at the school.

Abe Wilkinson, Director of the Adolescent Center, said ESIA administers funds by states to counties of schools needing such resource teachers.

Wilkinson said that each child coming into care at the Adolescent Center is tested for performance in school subjects and placed in classes according to their performance level. This performance scale ranges from basic to intermediate to advanced. Youth testing below basic in reading and math would be referred to the new resource teacher, who in turn would set up an IEP (Individual ual Education Plan) for each child.

"About 1/3 of the youth in our program need a remedial class in reading or math," said Wilkinson. "We have high hopes that this position will take care of that need."

Five residents and two staff from the Preparation for Adult Living (PAL) program went on a trip to Washington, D.C., June 17-19. The trip was a learning experience for all seven of them.

While in Washington the group stayed at the William Penn House only five blocks from the Capitol.

Pedro Castillo, Life Skills Coordinator for PAL, said the group walked all over the city, visting the Capitol, the Washington Memorial and several museums, including the Smithsonian.

"Most of our youth have never been in a large city," said Pedro. "So it was an experience for them just to ride the subway. One thing we could not get over was the number of foreigners we saw. Everywhere you turned there were so many different races of people speaking so many different languages. It was very interesting just to watch the people around us."

PRE-ADOLESCENT CENTER

The children at the Pre-Adolescent Center made some good memories this Summer by keeping up with the motto for the summer-school session, "Learn Through Having Fun."

Several times this summer the children visited the Wonderland Skate Center and the Pla Mor Lanes in Statesville to roller skate and bowl.

According to Recreation Director Bill Ingram, the children learn and practice coordination and skill while they are having fun skating and bowling. They also learn teamwork and sportsmanship.

The Skate Center had two instructors available to the children to teach beginning to advanced skating. Youths from the Adolescent Center and children from the Family and Child Development Center also skate at the Wonderland Skate Center.

As a refreshing treat the children went tubing once in June, July and August this summer. This retreat from the heat took place on the New River in West Jefferson, North Carolina.

A trip to Dan Nicholas State Park in July and to the Asheville Zoo in August rounded off the children's Summer. But the teachers at the Pre-Adolescent Center School already have lots of interesting studies, projects and trips planned for the Winter months ahead.

Because children at the Pre-Adolescent Center function better in a structured setting, they attend school year-round. A Summer full of fun, but meaningful, activities makes a better transition into the school year than a Summer of idle hands and empty time. A 12-month school year eliminates some of the emotional ups and downs that children have a hard time dealing with.

FAMILY AND CHILD DEVELOPMENT CENTER

Barium Springs Home for Children welcomes Fran Oliver, who began as Director of the Family and Child Development Center on August 2, 1988.

Fran comes to us from the Love-N-Care Child Development Center in Newton, where she was director for twelve years.

For the past three years, Fran has also been teaching courses at Catawba Valley Technical College and presenting a number of workshops at various churches, day care centers, and area conferences, all related to the child development field. She is a member of the Executive Committee of the State Day Care Association.

"I have always admired the Family and Child Development Center for its commitment to children, families and staff training," said Fran. "I feel honored to be the director here, and so far I've really enjoyed it."

Though born in Baltimore, Fran was reared in Wilson, N.C. where she attended college and earned a degree in Religion and English. She has a 16-year-old daughter, Shannon, who was recently accepted to the Governor's School of Math and Science where she will finish her last two years of high school.

Fran is replacing Anita Payne, whose husband was recently promoted and transferred to Atlanta, Georgia. We will miss Anita, and we wish her and her family the best in their new home.

Good! But Messy!

Day Care Children recently enjoyed some cold watermelon served up by the maintenance crew. It took a dozen watermelons to satisfy these appetites.

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance Program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS:

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. The amount is not mentioned.

BARIUM MESSENGER

PUBLICATION OF BARIUM SPRINGS HOME FOR CHILDREN

A Presbyterian Family Service Agency—Owned and Operated by The Presbyterian Church, (USA), Synod of The Mid Atlantic

VOL. 66

BARIUM SPRINGS, NORTH CAROLINA, WINTER 1989

No. 1

A BARIUM SPRINGS CHRISTMAS – 1988

During Christmas, 1988: The Adolescent Center youth had a pizza party and went roller skating...

The children at the Family and Child Development Center told Santa what they wanted for Christmas...

SURVEY OF STAFF IS COMPLETED

A survey covering issues that affect job satisfaction and tenure was administered to the staff in the Adolescent and Pre-Adolescent Centers in mid-September of 1988.

Agencies with programs of an intensive residential nature, such as ours at Barium, have a history of high staff turnover which is related to job satisfaction. The purpose of the survey was to identify factors which affect job satisfaction and thus affect the length of time a staff member might work in intensive residential programs.

A computer analysis of the information was completed and will be used over the next six months to reinforce those factors which are positively affecting the staff and to shore up those areas which need attention. The survey will be conducted at six month intervals and the results compared to the previous survey.

Campus Administrator Rochelle Haimes will be meeting with representatives of agencies with similar programs and populations to discuss the possibility of conducting the survey at those agencies. A comparison of data from different agencies is likely to show notable likenesses and differences in the area of staff turnover and Haimes hopes that several solutions might appear as well.

HOMEcoming 1989

August 5th & 6th

Looking forward to seeing YOU!

President, Alumni Association

SPECIAL THANKS IS GIVEN

The children, staff and Board of Regents would like to say a special thanks to Taylor Oil Company of Winston-Salem and to NCNB of Troutman for becoming members of our Corporate Sponsor Club for 1988.

The Corporate Sponsor Club is for corporations donating $500 or more for the children in our care. Corporate sponsors are very important to the lives of troubled youth. Their gifts help to provide special education, family and individual counseling, and structured group living. Thank you.

... Or So It Seems

W. Earle Frazier
ACSW
Executive Director

I am often asked what is our success rate. The only honest answer is, "I don't know." For example: Susie stopped by the other day; the first time since she left several years ago. Now Susie was not your run-of-the-mill trouble-maker. She was a pro! She could not be sure if she ran away thirteen or eighteen times. When she left under less than amicable circumstances, few who struggled with her would have placed her name in the success column.

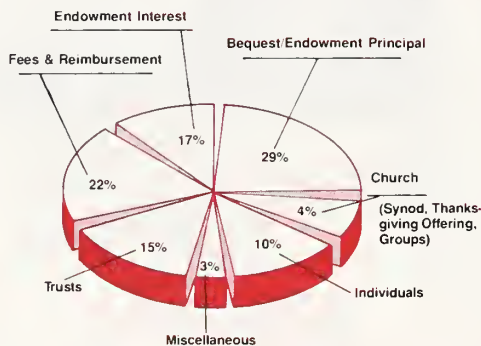

But what we saw the other day was a successful young woman - a reliable worker who had recently been promoted - a self-confident person who could talk about her past honestly and realistically but without excessive guilt and apology. One staff member recalled that Susie could take care of herself - it was the people around her you worried about. After her visit, we do not worry about her or the people around her. In fact, we think those people are kinda lucky!

What is our success rate? We don't know. What we do know is that we frequently say goodbye to a young person with little optimism about their future well-being and learn much later that he or she has done really well. We like to think that we had a small part in their success which makes us feel successful for a time. Thank you Susie for stopping by. We needed that.

Earle Frazier

Looking at IRA Substitutes

The 1986 Tax Reform Act significantly changed the provisions of individual retirement accounts (IRAs). While no one with earned income is precluded from making an IRA investment, the 1986 act severely limits the ability of many taxpayers to make deductible IRA contributions. The amount of deductibility will be determined by the taxpayer's adjusted gross income (figured before subtracting IRA contributions) and by the taxpayer's or spouse's participation in a qualified retirement plan.

If you have adjusted gross income of less than $40,000 for couples ($25,000 for individuals) you can continue to take the full IRA deduction even if you participate in an employer retirement plan. If you participate in an employer retirement plan and have adjusted gross income between $40,000 – $50,000 for couples ($25,000 – $35,000 for individuals), your tax deduction for IRA contributions is reduced by 10 percent for each $1,000 of income above the stated levels. If your adjusted gross income is $50,000 and up, and you and your spouse are covered by an employer plan, the amount deductible for an IRA contribution is zero.

If you find that you are unable to deduct an IRA, you might want to consider an IRA substitute that will benefit both yourself and Barium Springs Home for Children. A good choice for some taxpayers is the deferred gift annuity. In this arrangement, you pay cash to Barium Springs this year and get a deduction for part of the payment. Barium Springs invests the cash and promises to pay you an annuity in the future. The annuity usually is an annual fixed dollar amount for life or a period of years. Internal Revenue Service (IRS) tables are used to determine the present value of the annuity. Your deduction is the difference between your cash payment and the present value of the annuity. The longer the time between your payment and the annuity starting date, the greater your current deduction.

When you receive annuity payments at your retirement, part of each payment is a tax-free return of your principal and the remainder is taxable income. The rate of return on your annuity is determined at the time of your contribution and varies with your age. At Barium Springs we use a Uniform Gift Annuity Rate to determine your return, while others may offer a higher or lower rate of return.

Another advantage in establishing a gift annuity at Barium Springs Home for Children is the minimum payment required to fund the annuity. It is usually higher than the IRA maximum of $2,000 per year for an individual so you may be able to deduct a greater amount from your adjusted gross income for tax purposes as a charitable deduction.

A deferred gift annuity is a "win-win" proposition for both you, the donor, and Barium Springs Home for Children. You are able to take advantage of a current charitable deduction, while receiving future income for your retirement. Barium Springs Home for Children is able to utilize your contribution to continue its worthwhile mission.

With federal, state, and local cutbacks in social services, the burden of caring for those in need increasingly falls on charitable organizations like Barium Springs Home for Children. Such institutions are having a difficult time trying to deal with this additional burden and they are dependent on the generosity of people like yourself to help sustain their efforts.

1988 GIFT SOCIETY MEMBERS

Since its founding nearly 100 years ago, Barium Springs has benefited from the generosity of thousands of Presbyterians and others whose gifts have helped sustain the Home's important ministry. Barium Springs has also benefited from the dedicated service of staff members and leaders who have devoted their lives to the loving nurture of those the Home has served.

Therefore it is altogether appropriate to recognize the exceptional contributions of four individuals from Barium Springs' past by naming the Home's individual gift clubs in their honor. The four – Jethro Rumble, Joe Johnston, Rebekah Carpenter, and Buck Jackins – truly exemplify the loving, giving spirit that has sustained Barium Springs throughout its history.

Your gift to Barium Springs makes you an active participant in its Christian ministry which exerts an enormous positive influence of the children, adolescents, and families served.

A BARIUM SPRINGS CHRISTMAS – 1988

The monies received for Christmas in 1988 from the Joseph F. Cannon Christmas Trust brought much "happiness and cheer" to the children of Barium Springs Home for Children.

Cannon, in a will dated 1932, set up a trust naming 10 North Carolina institutions, including Barium Springs, to each receive 10 percent of the trust's annual income. The only stipulation of the funds is that they be used to bring "happiness and cheer" to the children at Christmas time.

The funds received by the Home are divided between its three programs, the Adolescent Center, the Pre-Adolescent Center and the Family and After singing carols, Pre-Ad. children went to their cottages and opened their gifts.

Child Development Center. The Centers use their shares for Christmas decorations and wrapping paper, to buy a nice individual gift for each child, and to pay for Christmas activities for the children. These activities are planned by each Center according to the age and interests of the children they serve.

The Adolescent Center youth were treated to a pizza party and roller-skating at the Wonderland Skate Center in Statesville.

The Pre-Adolescent Center children made luminaires, lined the cottage area with them and sang Christmas carols.

They used some of their money to buy games and necessities for their cottages that they can use the year through.

The Family and Child Development Center had a Christmas Open House so children could bring their parents to see all the decorations they made for their classrooms. In addition to their individual gifts, each child received a treat bag of fruit and candy from Santa Claus.

Some of the Cannon fund monies will also be used to renovate the "Hub", an area in the basement of the gymnasium that all of the children at the Home can use for indoor activities and parties.

Adolescent Center youth presented a delightful play called "I'll be cloned for Christmas."

BARIUM SPRINGS ALUMNI NEWS

Mrs. Denzil Cartrett Phillips, 912 North Third Street, Lake City, Florida, 32055, has written to the Home to ask that we inform her Alumni friends and staff that she would love to hear from anyone who remembers her. Mrs. Phillips was a resident of Barium Springs from 1925 - 1937.

Mr. Franklin N. Wise, 28-year-old son of Mrs. Irene Shannon Wise, Class of 1935, died on September 29, 1988 of leukemia. Mrs. Wise's address is 5509 Halcun Drive, N.E., Roanoke VA 24019 if you would like to write to her.

Mr. Frank K. Purdy, Sr., Class of 1933, died October 16, 1988 in Burlington. He was 73 years old.

Mr. Purdy was a graduate of Davidson College and was retired from Toledo Scales Company as a sales engineer. He was a member of First Presbyterian Church in Burlington.

He was married to the former Catharine Ritchie of Statesville, who survives. Also surviving him are two sons, Col. Frank K. Purdy, Jr. of Chalmar, Florida, and William Purdy of Jackson, Mississippi; and four grandchildren.

Mr. Purdy's mother was head of the dining room at Barium Springs in the 1940's and 1950's.

Mrs. Lucille McInnis Hall, 70, of 810 Executive Place, Fayetteville died on December 22, 1988 after a lengthy illness.

She and her husband, Mr. James A. Hall, Sr., who survives, began working at Barium Springs Home for Children in 1967 and 1969 respectively and both retired to Fayetteville in July of 1982.

Mrs. Hall was born August 26, 1918, in Cumberland County, a daughter of the late Angus and Mary Jessup McInnis.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Henry Player of Fayetteville; one son, James A. Hall, Jr. of Fayetteville; four sisters, Mrs. Tom Whitted of Charlotte, Miss Elizabeth McInnis, Mrs. Orva Perkins, and Mrs. Alton Edmondson, all of Fayetteville; and three grandchildren.

Mrs. Hall's funeral was held on December 24 at First Presbyterian Church of Fayetteville with Dr. Joseph Walker & Mr. Earle Frazier (Executive Director of Barium Springs Home for Children) officiating.

THE ADOLESCENT CENTER

Lieutenant Deaton from the Iredell County Sheriff Department recently showed a film to the Adolescent Center residents titled "Drug Epidemic in America."

Night Supervisor Robert Pinkney arranged for Lt. Deaton to show the film and lead a discussion about drug abuse with the residents afterwards as part of the monthly campus programming.

Troy and Richard are shown here holding baskets they made during enrichment class this December. Campus Dietian Jane Recktenwald is very accomplished in crafts of all kinds and is teaching the students crafts ranging from basketweaving to knitting to making Christmas ornaments.

PRE-ADOLESCENT CENTER

As children from the Pre-Adolescent Center watched in anticipation, the men from the Dixie Drifters Balloon Company from Greenville, South Carolina inflated a giant red, yellow, blue, white-and gold hot air balloon.

The balloon was one of 126 that participated in the annual National Balloon Rally in Statesville, N.C.

The Pre-Adolescent Center began using the "team model" approach to child care in late August of 1988. Staff at the Center are now divided into three teams, each of which are assigned to work with the children in one of the Program's three cottages.

Miriam Johnson, Director of the Center, believes that the team approach can better meet the needs of children and families and strengthen the support system among the staff.

In the team approach, each cottage is assigned a team consisting of a social worker, a teacher, a cottage coordinator and two team cottage counselors. This team works together to help the children in their group and their families find solutions and make changes in their lives.

FAMILY & CHILD DEVELOPMENT CENTER

The Parent Advisory Committee (PAC) of the Family and Child Development Center sponsored a "Staff Appreciation Day" this Fall. Parents took up donations and bought each staff member a little gift in appreciation of their services.

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance Program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS:

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. The amount is not mentioned.

BARIUM MESSENGER

PUBLICATION OF BARIUM SPRINGS HOME FOR CHILDREN

A Presbyterian Family Service Agency—Owned and Operated by The Presbyterian Church, (USA), Synod of The Mid-Atlantic

VOL. 66

BARIUM SPRINGS, NORTH CAROLINA, SPRING 1989

No. 2

THE ROLE OF EDUCATION AT BARIUM

A child's education plays a very important role in becoming a self-confident, successful adult. Therefore, the programs of Barium Springs strive to provide the best possible education available.

Youth in the Home's two residential centers, the Adolescent and Pre-Adolescent Centers, attend special education schools on campus where they receive the attention and focus they need. Small classes allow for extra help from teachers, individual lesson planning, and less distractions from others.

The on-campus schools give children who are failing the ways and means to catch up. Once they are able to achieve some success they can begin to have new expectations of their own abilities. Hopefully, they can return home at, or closer to, their true grade levels.

Pre-Adolescent Center children study a live boa constrictor.

In addition, the on-campus schools try to provide some activities similar to that of a public school such as dances, school-wide activities, events and field trips. These activities make an ordinary school day a more exciting learning experience, and they provide some familiarity for the children who need to learn to interact appropriately in similar settings.

For example: both schools recently had Valentine's day dances: the Pre-Adolescent Center School had a visitor from the North Carolina State Museum of Natural History in Raleigh to teach the children about reptiles and amphibians, complete with live examples; and the Adolescent Center School celebrated Black History month with a series of events.

The two residential centers work with families as well as their children.

CAMPAIGN OFF TO A GOOD START

Barium Springs is off to a great start in a capital campaign to air-condition the children's cottages.

We hope there will be no nights this summer when the children have to sleep on pallets on the floors of the few air-conditioned buildings on campus. Their cottages were built with a slab over slab design for fire protection which makes summer heat even worse. These children are often not able to cope with normal stresses of daily living. The added tensions of unreasonable heat make summers a much more difficult time than they deserve.

The overdue project received immediate priority at the Board of Regents meeting in April of 1988. Bids were accepted, plans were approved and contracts signed by July.

It will cost $277,258 to purchase, install, operate and maintain the equipment. Several Foundations throughout North Carolina are recognizing the children's urgent need, especially in view of the heat of recent summers, and are responding to our requests for help.

The campaign will end this summer with the help of generous churches, individuals, corporations and foundations. The children and staff are grateful for people who care enough for their well-being to help eliminate this depressing discomfort which can jeopardize hard-won progress.

Homecoming 1989

August 5th & 6th

Looking forward to seeing YOU!

Bette Kendrick
President,
Alumni Association

Special Gift

The enclosed $ _____ is a special gift to help air-condition the children's cottages.

I am making this special gift in addition to and not instead of my usual support.

I understand that my usual support goes to general operating funds and that special gifts must not decrease that important support.

Please clip and mail this coupon in the enclosed postage-paid envelope.

Thank you!

... Or So It Seems

W. Earle Frazier
ACSW
Executive Director

Guns in junior high schools...break-ins...teenage pregnancies...homeless children and adults...abuse of alcohol or other drugs...two divorces for every 3 marriages...child abuse...latch-key children...AIDS...teen suicide...illiterate high school graduates...and on and on and on.

It is enough to make one long for "the good old days." But then, what about flu epidemics... typhoid... diphtheria...whooping cough...polio... scarlet fever... rampant poverty...

world war... poor transportation... poor communications...almost total racial segregation...and on and on and on?

For ninety-eight years, caring people of each era have helped Barium offer help for the problems of that particular time. That the needs and problems facing families have changed is obvious. That the needs and problems facing families will continue to change is certain. Let us not waste time and energy longing for "the good old days." Rather, let us be busy identifying and addressing the problems of these days.

BARIUM ALUMNI NEWS

Lucille Long Wallace, Class of 1932, is a resident of the Masonic Home at 700 South Holden Road, Greensboro, North Carolina 27407. She would love to hear from alumni.

Mrs. Bertha Jane Eddleman Morgan, 88, died on February 10, 1989, in Charlotte, N.C. Mrs. Morgan came to live at Barium Springs Home in 1911, along with her sister, Mittie Eddleman, and two brothers, David and Sidney Eddleman.

Mrs. Shirley Inman Hudgins, Class of 1951, recently received word from two former Ministers at Little Joe's Presbyterian Church. The following are excerpts from their letters:

Reverend and Mrs. Tom Cook (Rosie Mae) write "Both of us have such fond memories of our years at Barium. Mr. Cook had a stroke this past June on his left side. His mind is as clear as a bell and he now walks with a 4-pronged cane. He will be 90 years old on June 12th and only retired in 1986—from 1930...We had hoped in retirement to get back to Barium, but found ourselves tired, and so far Mr. Cook cannot drive and this is a big handicap. Our love to each at your Reunion time."

Reverend and Mrs. Charles Sides (Virginia) write "We remember you with great affection along with all the other students at Barium Springs. I was there from Sept. 1, 1948 to March 1, 1954. Virginia and I were married on December 5, 1948. Even though all this is a long time in the past, we will never forget all of you who had such an important part in our lives. We retired two years ago but have continued to live in Abbeville (S.C.). We came here in 1974. We have two sons, "Bart", who was born while we lived at Barium, and "Danny", who arrived less than two months after we moved away...If you ever come our way, please stop by to see us. We live just beyond the Post Office at 308 Greenville Street."

Thanks to Mrs. Hudgins for sharing her letters with us.

A memorial fund for Dana Armstrong, a Barium Alumni who was killed in a swimming accident last July, was established by Barium Springs Home for Children shortly after his death.

Since that time numerous clubs, faculty and friends have raised $1,900 for the fund and donations are still being accepted.

Mr. Armstrong grew up at Barium and graduated from South Iredell High School in 1975. He was employed as a social studies teacher at West Iredell High School in 1986.

CHARTING YOUR FINANCIAL COURSE

Deferred Giving – Gifts Now That Help Down The Road

Many institutions such as Barium Springs Home for Children recognize the importance of targeted fund drives to raise money for day-to-day operations. But more and more institutions have discovered that current gifts are not the only answer to financial needs. Increasingly important now are deferred gifts – pledged gifts that will actually be received by Barium Springs Home for Children at a later date to solve long-term funding needs.

One vehicle that would benefit both you, the donor, and Barium Springs Home for Children is a gift of life insurance. Deferred gifts of life insurance, while similar to bequests in wills and trusts, differ in one very important respect: a life insurance gift is a guaranteed gift. So many times a donor intends to remember Barium Springs Home for Children in his will, yet when he dies, he leaves no such bequest, or his estate's assets are insufficient to provide the promised gift.

Giving strategies that use life insurance come in two general classes: direct and indirect. With direct transfers, a policy is given to an institution such as Barium Springs Home for Children or the institution is authorized to take out a new policy on the donor's life. The donor pays the annual premiums, which become deductible charitable contributions. When the donor dies, the institution collects the face amount of the policy. With an indirect strategy, life insurance is used to replace assets that are given away. This method is used when an immediate gift is needed or when a donor wishes to liquidate assets. For example, suppose you had a $1 million estate, of which $600,000 can be sheltered by estate tax credits. The extra $400,000 may be given to Barium Springs Home for Children and you may avoid a large estate tax payment and generate immediate tax benefits. The tax benefits may be used to fund a $400,000 life insurance policy to provide for your heirs.

Another technique that may use life insurance as a funding vehicle is a charitable gift annuity. Using this strategy, a donor will give money or other assets to Barium Springs Home for Children now in return for a lifetime income. The income can begin immediately or be deferred for a number of years. The donor's charitable deduction for income tax purposes is based on the size of the gift and the present value of the income to be received. A life insurance policy could be purchased with the proceeds of the gift by Barium Springs Home for Children on the life of the donor. Policy loans could be used to fund the lifetime income payments and at the donor's death, Barium Springs Home for Children would realize its bequest by collecting the policy proceeds.

Before embarking on a major charitable giving campaign, please consult your financial advisor. Your planned giving should be properly structured to maximize benefits to both yourself and Barium Springs Home for Children. Charitable trust and charitable gifts of life insurance must be irrevocable to qualify for tax deductions. When appreciated assets are used to fund a charitable gift, the unrealized capital gain is a preference item for the alternative minimum tax (AMT). To avoid the AMT a sizable gift may have to be made over a period of several years. Also, when assets other than publicly traded securities are donated, an appraisal may be necessary to back up the tax deduction.

Donors, like yourself, who pledge money to Barium Springs Home for Children are the lifeblood of the institution. Your financial support, although voluntary, is absolutely necessary to the survival of Barium Springs Home for Children. A deferred giving program using life insurance serves as a financial reserve for Barium Springs Home for Children, but it also serves as a financial foundation on which Barium Springs Home for Children can continue to grow and serve.

RENOVATION ALMOST COMPLETE

Having fun is an important part of life at Barium Springs. Our children like the same sorts of things most children 10 to 19 do; movies, TV, outings, time with friends, loud music, dances, table and video games. We do need to provide close supervision when dealing with troubled youth in order to teach appropriate ways of interacting.

Occasionally a cottage group will go

ARTIST TO SIGN PRINTS

Just a reminder that Barium Springs Home for Children is again offering pen & ink prints of the original campus buildings, and that artist Jerry Miller, of Raleigh, N.C., will be autographing prints from 2 to 4 p.m. on August 5 at the Museum during Homecoming.

To order, fill out the coupon below and send a check or money order to: Barium Springs Home for Children, P.O. Box 1, Barium Springs, N.C. 28010. Orders will be taken February 1 through May 31 and must be pre-paid before they can be filled. Orders not picked up at Homecoming 1989, August 5 and 6, will be shipped shortly thereafter.

out to dinner or to see a movie, but with cottage groups of eight or nine children it is hard for two or more cottages to do much together. Sixteen to eighteen troubled teenagers in a restaurant, movie theater or video arcade can be quite a handful to supervise for two to four staff members.

Now there is another alternative where our youth can have fun and learn to get along with others. With $3,000 from the Cannon Trust, an annual trust distribution, staff and children recently began working together to fix up the "Hub", an on-campus recreation room.

The Hub has been used for about 20 years so both the area and the equipment were well worn and badly in need of cleaning and repair.

Children and staff cleaned and painted the entire area and a parent of one of the children helped repair the table games. It was a group effort that really paid off. Video games, a drink machine, a stereo, and other table games have been added, and there are plans to add exercise equipment.

The Hub is an area where boy's and girl's cottages can get together to have fun in a supervised, controllable environment.

HAIMES IS CO-AUTHOR

Rochelle Haimes, Campus Administrator, and Kathryn S. Donley, former Director of New York Spaulding for Children, have co-authored a chapter in Permanence and Family Support: Changing Practice in Group Child Care.

The book was edited by Gary O. Carman, Executive Director of the Andrus Home for Children and Richard W. Small, Executive Director of the Walker Home and School and was published by the Child Welfare League of America.

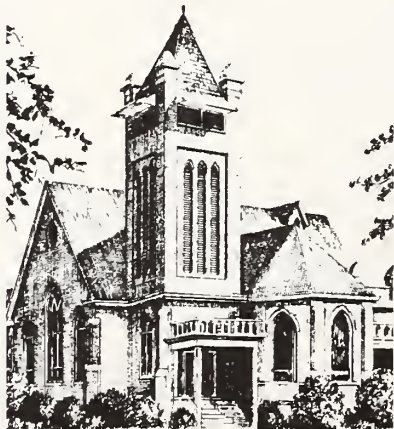

During the 1980's, a shift in child welfare policy has been concentrating on preventing out-of-home placement whenever possible. For those children already in foster or group care, a permanent plan must be developed; living in their own home or an adoptive home is often preferred.

Each author who contributed to this book writes about how the permanency laws have caused some change in the practice of residential group care.

The Haimes - Donley chapter is "New Dimensions in Child Placement: Residential Group Care-Adoption Collaboration." Recent legislation prompts adoption workers and residential care staff to work together on

EDUCATION AT BARIUM

This means that staff involve the child's family, legal guardian, custodian or relative as much as possible throughout the child's stay at Barium. For example, staff might arrange for the parent or guardian to help the child with a particularly tough subject, or do a parent-child project for school. Circumstances for every family and child are different, so there are many different ways to involve a family with their child's education.

Some of the children may always need special education. Our staff work with the officials in the child's school and with the family to find the most appropriate educational services available in their community. This makes transition for the child back into the family and back into school a little easier because the child, family and school system all know what to expect from each other.

Education is an important part of a child's life and goes beyond reading, writing and arithmetic. Helping a child and family get the most from the total education process is only one of the functions of the Adolescent and Pre-Adolescent Centers.

HAIMES CO-AUTHORS CHAPTER

behalf of the same child. Children in residential care are increasingly being identified as candidates for adoption when parental rights are terminated by the Courts. It is important for the adoption worker and the residential care staff to work closely together in preparing the child and the adoptive family to live together successfully. The field of residential care is serving increasing numbers of children with previous adoption experience. The staff of the group care facility can get valuable assistance from colleagues who understand the issues of adoption and how to best help the family while the child is out of the home.

The authors agree that this collaboration is "a partnership born of necessity." But, they encourage workers from both areas to respect each other's knowledge and ability instead of competing for the children. An effective collaboration, they advise, can improve the future of children in care.

(Editor's note: Ms. Haimes has been Campus Administrator since September of 1982. She is nationally respected in the field of child care. The Home is proud of her many contributions to the field and to the agency.)

BARIUM AWARD ED GRANT

Barium Springs Home for Children was one of 42 child-care institutions in North and South Carolina to be awarded an operating grant from the Duke Endowment.

Operating grants totaling $2,960,169 were awarded to 175 hospitals and 42 child-care institutions in North and South Carolina by the Endowment's trustees at their March meeting.

The annual grants to child-care institutions provide general operating support. Robert A. Mayer, II, director of the Endowment's Child Care Division, said that the funds are vital to these institutions because support for normal operating expenses is the most difficult kind of money to raise.

The annual hospital grants, which help cover costs of caring for the poor, are increasingly important to hospitals as the problem of indigent care continues to get worse.

The Duke Endowment also awards special project grants to eligible institutions who apply and are approved. Barium Springs recently received a grant of $20,000 to assist in their campaign to provide air conditioning for the children's cottages.

Barium Springs has been a beneficiary of the endowment since 1924. In fiscal year 1988, the Home received about $52,000, approximately two percent of its total budget.

CAMPUS NEWS

Adolescent Center

PAL program's Stephen Johnson was recently seen in the television movie "The Ryan White Story" which was filmed in Statesville, N.C.

Stephen is a junior at the local high school where part of the movie was filmed, and was asked to participate. It was an experience we're sure he will never forget!

Miriam nailing on shingles

Miriam said she learned a lot about Puerto Rico and how to hammer shingles and spread tar. Though it was a lot of work for a vacation, Miriam thoroughly enjoyed her stay and would gladly do it again. Her spirit of caring for others is obvious in her work or "play".

Day Care Center

Lynn Jenkins, dental hygienist, recently spoke with the 3 and 4 year-olds about good dental hygiene. Lynn's daughter Brenae is in the three-year room.

Pre-Adolescent Center

Director Miriam Johnson recently spent two weeks of her vacation accompanying a group from her church to Puerto Rico. Their mission was to re-roof the Church and fellowship hall of a sister church there.

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance Program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS:

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. The amount is not mentioned.

1989 GRADUATES MAKE PLANS FOR THE FUTURE

On June 2, 1989, four residents of the Preparation for Adult Living (PAL) program experienced the excitement and anticipation that many troubled youth never have a chance to experience. They walked onto a stage and received their diplomas. They graduated from high school.

There are many reasons why troubled children may never graduate from high school. Oftentimes social, emotional or academic problems upset a child's priorities, causing them to care less about grades and focus more on their problems. They may skip school, or give it a low priority compared to tragic circumstances facing their young lives. Either way, their grades suffer and failure may be imminent. The child may get so behind that he or she decides to drop out of school.

But fortunately for our four graduates, Jennifer Bauguess, James Goodine, Stephen Johnson and James Taylor, they had the PAL program. This program serves a maximum of 12 youth ages 16 to 20 who have some social, emotional or academic problems. The program helps youth finish school, get a job and learn how to live on their own.

At PAL, youth attend public school and may have a part-time job in the community. They learn "life skills" such as cooking, cleaning, laundry, filling out job applications, paying bills, balancing checkbooks, applying for student loans and for colleges, just to name a few.

PAL staff encourage residents to apply themselves in school, but they also let the youth know that if they want to succeed they have to help themselves. If a high school diploma does not look promising, staff encourage

FUNDS STILL NEEDED FOR AIR-CONDITIONING

Thanks to many caring friends, corporations, and foundations, we have air-conditioned cottages for the first time in our 98 years of service.

We have not yet met our total goal to cover the cost to purchase, install, and operate air-conditioning units in each cottage, but we're very close. Five of the nine cottages are enjoying comfortable days and pleasant nights. We are confident that donations from this

Special Gift

The enclosed $ _____ is a special gift to help air-condition the children's cottages.

I am making this special gift in addition to and not instead of my usual support.

I understand that my usual support goes to general operating funds and that special gifts must not decrease that important support.

Please clip and mail this coupon in the enclosed postage-paid envelope.

Thank you!

... Or So It Seems

W. Earle Frazier

Executive Director

In the last issue, I noted that we often are prone to long for "the good old days." But when we look realistically, the good old days had their problems too. As our work gets more complicated, we often wish for a return to the simpler "good old ways." However, the following quote from the 1898 report of The Orphans Home Conference Of The Southeastern States raises questions about the "good old ways."

"One of the brightest talks was that of Mrs. L. Kirkpatrick of Talladega... She said that when children in her Home told untruths she began by washing their mouths with soap and water. If this treatment failed she would wash their mouths with quinine and if this better preventive did not stop the falsifying she would try red pepper which she said never, never failed!"

So much for the good old days and the good old ways!

What is a Charitable Lead Trust?

The success of charitable organizations, such as Barium Springs Home for Children, depends in a large part on the contributions of our supporters. By donating your time, talent, and resources, Barium Springs Home for Children can continue its mission of service to the community.

One of the many ways to contribute to Barium Springs Home for Children is to include a charitable lead trust in your financial plan. A charitable lead trust will enable both you and Barium Springs Home for Children to benefit from your generosity. Charitable lead trusts are primarily an income shifting device designed to provide an income to be given to charity. By using a charitable lead trust, substantial amounts of property may be taken out of the gross estate at reduced, or even no, transfer tax cost.

In charitable lead trusts, the charitable interest precedes or "leads" the non-charitable remainder. Charitable lead trusts pay income to a charity such as Barium Springs Home for Children either for a stated period or the life of the individual donor. The remainder passes to non-charitable beneficiaries, such as members of your family, or it may revert to you. The beneficiaries usually reap the benefits of appreciation in the value of the trust property and also accumulations of any income in excess of the periodic distributions made to charity during the trust's existence. You may receive tax deductions for the present value of the charitable gift if Barium Springs Home for Children's interest is either a guaranteed annuity or a unitrust interest consisting of a fixed percentage of the fair market value of the trust property determined annually.

A "guaranteed annuity" is a determinable amount payable at least annually for a specified term or for the lives of one or more individuals. A charitable lead annuity trust requires valuation only at the time of the initial funding, which is an advantage if the trust assets are difficult to value.

A "unitrust interest" is the right to receive payment of a fixed percentage of the net fair market value, determined annually, of the trust property. The payment changes with annual fluctuations in the value of the trust assets.

As an example, Mr. Donor, age 60, plans to leave the bulk of his estate to his two nieces, Ann and Mary. He transfers $100,000 to a charitable lead trust which will pay Barium Springs Home for Children an annuity of $11,000 annually for 15 years. Mr. Donor anticipates that the trust will earn 11 percent and therefore, the $100,000 will remain intact. The value of the transfer to Barium Springs Home for Children is $83,667.10 ($11,000 x 7.6061 {IRS table}). The value of the to Ann and Mary is $16,332.90 ($100,000 - $83,667.10). The $83,667.10 qualified for a gift tax charitable deduction and the $16,332.90 is a taxable gift. The result is that $100,000 is transferred to Ann and Mary at a reduced transfer tax, $11,000 per year is removed from Mr. Donor's taxable income, and Barium Springs Home for Children is the recipient of an annual $11,000 gift for 15 years.

As you see from the preceding example, a charitable lead trust is an excellent planning tool for those individuals with large current incomes who need to shift the income into later years and for those individuals who have definite estate beneficiaries in mind.

As with any planned giving program, please consult with your financial advisor to evaluate the method appropriate for your situation.

For more information about these and other ways you can help Barium Springs Home for Children, please feel free to call Mr. Reade Baker, Director of Development, at (704) 872-4157. Continued from Page 1 residents to get a G.E.D. College or technical school attendance is also advised.

With the help of the PAL staff, our 1989 graduates have made the following plans:

Jennifer Bauguess

Jennifer came to PAL in August, 1988. She has excelled in the program and at South Iredell High School, where she often made the Honor Roll. Jennifer won a $200 scholarship from Credit Women's International to attend Mitchell Community College. She plans to work full-time this summer, and part-time while attending Mitchell. Her goals are to major in Accounting, and to continue living at PAL until February of 1990. At that time she wants to live independently with her daughter Latasha.

James Goodine

James came to PAL in 1986 after successfully completing the Adolescent Center program. He is especially proud of his graduation because he is the first in his family to do so. James plans to move to Winston-Salem in mid-June where he will attend Forsyth Technical College. He will work full-time to support himself, and go to school part-time. He hopes to eventually get a four-year degree in physical therapy.

Stephen Johnson

Steve came to PAL in 1987 after successfully completing the Adolescent Center program. He made the Honor Roll at South Iredell, and worked part-time at the Family and Child Development Center. His plans are to attend Mitchell Community College for a year while still living at PAL and working full-time at the FCDC. Then Steve wants to transfer to a four-year college where he will get a degree in Criminal Justice. Steve said "In ten years I will be a criminal lawyer, or be working in the field with juveniles, hoping to give them a second chance in life as Barium has given me." Steve is an advance dance student and will continue at Academy Dance Art in Statesville as a member of the Senior Troupe.

James Taylor (J.T.)

J.T. came to PAL in July, 1988. His plans are to attend Mitchell Community College while living at PAL at least one more year. He is undecided on a major. J.T. has made a lot of progress in the year he has been at PAL. He will work this summer through the JTPA (Job Training Partnership Act).

issue of the Barium Messenger, pending proposals, and special requests will provide funds for all nine cottages.

Because the youth we serve are so troubled, it is very important that we provide optimum living conditions for them. They can learn new skills, conquer old fears, and begin positive changes much more effectively without the burden of unreasonable heat. Coping with group living, family separation, and tough decisions about their futures is hard enough in the best of circumstances.

Please, we need your help to reach our goal. If you can make a special gift, without decreasing your usual vital support for general operating expenses, then clip and mail the coupon on page 1 with your check in the envelope provided. We have a lot of hot days and nights left this summer. Your help could make the rest of this summer, and future ones, much more productive for the children in our care.

PARKER HONORED FOR 25 YEARS AT BARIUM

Linda S. Parker, Chief Bookkeeper at Barium Springs Home for Children, was honored on May 25 for 25 years of superior service to the Home.

Linda was presented with an anniversary clock as a gift from the Home's Board of Regents and Administration. Also, Reverend Warren Brannon, President of the Board, presented her with a framed resolution of recognition written by the Board.

Thank you Linda for 25 years of dedication, loyalty and friendship to Barium Springs Home for Children.

"MESSENGERS" SOUGHT IN CHURCHES

Barium Springs Home for Children has begun a new program to provide for better communication between the individuals in the church and the Home.

The Synod of North Carolina, now the Synod of the Mid-Atlantic, has served North Carolina's children and families through Barium Springs for 98 years.

It is important that the people who support this arm of the church are as well-informed as possible about the needs and services of this vital and exciting mission.

Individuals will be recruited as "Barium Messengers" in each Church to serve as liaisons between the Home and their churches. Messengers will first be established in churches of the Presbytery of Charlotte. The Home expects to expand this process into other Presbyteries within the coming months.

If you are interested in serving, know of others who may be, or would like more information, please call 704/872-4157 collect and ask for Reade Baker, Director of Development.

FCDC TAKES PART IN DAY CARE AWARENESS WEEK

The Iredell County Day Care Association (ICDCA) sponsored the week of June 19th as Iredell County Day Care Awareness Week.

The ICDCA, whose membership consists of area day care professionals, used this week to inform the general public of the importance, needs, and costs of having quality day care in Iredell County.

Fran Oliver, Director of the Family and Child Development Center (FCDC), and Kim Mitcham, Secretary, are both members of the ICDCA's governing committee. They, along with the other members of the committee, worked hard to put the events for the week together.

Dr. Ralph Bentley, Mayor of Statesville, and Richard Nantz, Mayor Pro-Tem of Mooresville, were at the FCDC at 10:30 a.m. on June 9, to sign proclamations declaring June 19 – 24 Day Care Awareness Week. Troutman Police Chief Wayne Mills brought a signed proclamation from Troutman Mayor Loren Powell, who could not attend the Ceremony. Alice Stewart, Vice-Chairman of the Iredell County Board of Commissioners, and Commissioner Jessie Crosswhites presented a proclamation from their Board.

The Week was promoted in area newspapers and on local radio stations. Area centers had a display at Signal Hill

On June 20, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., there was a Motivational Seminar for Day Care Professionals at the Interfaith Youth Academy on Western Avenue in Statesville. A day care vendors display was also held at the Youth Academy on June 23 from 6 to 8 p.m. A reception followed for local business leaders.

To top off the week a Family and Children's Festival was held on Saturday the 24th from 10 a.m. to noon, at Lakewood Park in Statesville. McGruff the Crime Dog, Sparky the Fire Dog, and the Domino's Pizza "Noid" were some of the sights everyone saw.

Several dignitaries were invited to attend the signing of the proclamations including Vice-President Dan Quayle. Kim wrote to Vice-President Quayle requesting his presence at one of the functions scheduled for that week. She received a phone call from Quayle's scheduling secretary stating that Quayle would not be able to attend, but would send a signed letter commending the ICDCA for their good work in the day care field.

BARIUM CAMPUS NEWS

ADOLESCENT AND PRE-ADOLESCENT CENTERS

Staff at both Centers took a little time out of their busy schedules to play each other in volleyball in June. The children loved watching the staff from their Center use teamwork to try to win. It was a fun time for everybody.

The children at both Centers are enjoying the re-modeled hub this summer. Whether playing with the table or video games, or just socializing with friends, it's a fun, cool place to be.

FAMILY AND CHILD DEVELOPMENT CENTER

Approximately 100 day care professionals from Mecklenburg, Catawba, Wilkes, Alexander and Iredell Counties attended the Iredell County Day Care Association's Spring Conference on April 29 at the Family and Child Development Center (FCDC).

Participants attended one of four sessions offered at the conference, which included: art activities for the preschooler; enriching dramatic play; creative block play; and developing a resource book for activity centers.

Four staff from the FCDC were members of the conference planning committee, and three staff members were trainers at the conference.

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance Program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS:

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. The amount is not mentioned.

BARIUM MESSENGER

PUBLICATION OF BARIUM SPRINGS HOME FOR CHILDREN

A Presbyterian Family Service Agency—Owned and Operated by The Presbyterian Church, (USA), Synod of The Mid-Atlantic

VOL. 66

BARIUM SPRINGS, NORTH CAROLINA, FALL 1989

No. 4

BSHC IS ACCREDITED BY COA

Barium Springs Home for Children has received notice of its accreditation by the Council on Accreditation of Services for Families and Children (COA).

Only four of the many other child welfare agencies in the state, 30 of whom are members of the North Carolina Child Care Association, have received this distinction.

Over the last 20 months, Barium Springs has gone through an extensive study of its agency operation, including an intensive self-study and on-site review conducted by a carefully trained team of experienced professionals. The Home demonstrated that it:

- has effective management
- is fiscally sound
- designs its programs to meet community needs
- continually monitors and evaluates service quality
- has qualified personnel
- has safe, sensible facilities

COA is the largest comprehensive, private accreditor of social and mental health service agencies in North America. It is sponsored by the Association of Jewish Family and Children's Agencies, Catholic Charities USA, Child Welfare League of America, Family Service America, Lutheran Social Ministry System, National Association of Homes for Children, and National Committee for Adoption.

Accreditation, which is for a four-year period, is a private, voluntary form of quality control which examines total agency operation against standards which exceed the minimum requirements of state and provincial licensing.

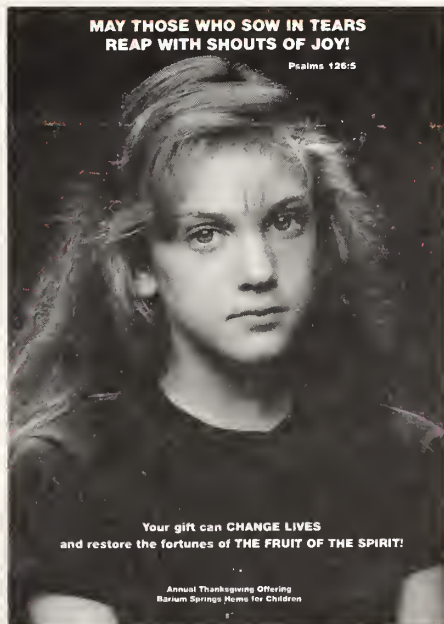

We are very proud of the quality of the services you have made possible through Barium Springs Home for Children. Your support helps change troubled lives through the highest quality of services available.

UPCOMING THANKSGIVING OFFERING CHANGES CHILDREN'S LIVES

It is time again for caring Presbyterians across North Carolina to change the lives of troubled children and families by participating in the annual Thanksgiving Offering for Barium Springs Home for Children.

This traditional offering has been approved by the Synod of North Carolina (now the Synod of the Mid-Atlantic) for many, many years. It is the major part of Synod's assistance to the Home. The show of support for troubled youth and families is a spiritual blessing, as well as a financial one.

In the Home's beginning almost 100 years ago, Synod provided 100% of the costs of ministering to the children and families in crisis. In 1969, that support was approximately 60%. In 1989, less than 5% of the income needed to help save families from collapse and turn children's lives around came from the Church. Three-quarters of this 5% is the Annual Thanksgiving Offering.

The above figures explain just how important this offering is to North Carolina's children and families. Myths that the "Home is rich" and that "Synod pays for all the services" are simply not true. While blessed with good financial management, the Home's Endowment generates only about 16% of the total annual operating cost. Never before in the Home's history has your support been more important to the many families and children that God has sent to us, and to you, for help.

Letters seeking pastors' support for the offering went out in early October. This year's goal is $3 per church

For in this world they have no voice.
They have no choice."*

DeVorsen Botkin

A speaker at a recent national meeting spoke on how to influence legislation and regulations. He emphasized the effectiveness of lobbyists who understand legislative and regulatory processes. One example given was the swarm of lobbyists on Capitol Hill when issues affecting the elderly were under debate. He also noted the lack of activity when the issues affect children.

When one considers that the elderly control much of the wealth and tend to vote in larger numbers than other age groups, it is not surprising that they favorably influence the matters affecting them. When one considers that children control no wealth and cannot vote, it is not surprising that their concerns receive short shrift. And until those of us who try to represent children's concerns learn how to do a better job with Congress, legislatures, the church, and the public, children in need will continue to have no voice – no choice.

Barium Springs Home for Children is owned and operated by the Presbyterian Synod of The Mid-Atlantic. Financial support is from gifts through Synod, church groups, individuals, business firms, fees and investments.

CHARTING YOUR FINANCIAL COURSE

Get an Early Start on your Holiday Gift-Giving

Many friends of Barium Springs Home for Children desire to make gifts other than cash during the Christmas Holiday season, and for them December is not soon enough to start planning. Many have been disappointed to find out on December 15 that they do not have time to transfer their stock certificates. Others have found that the real property they desired to contribute could not be given because the paperwork involved in making such transfers took too long. Many have simply not made the gifts because the demands of the Christmas season and other activities have simply overtaken their time and kept them from making the needed business decisions and transfers.

Why not review your tax situation early with your tax advisor or financial planner? Now is the time to sit down and assess your situation to determine what steps need to be taken to help to reduce your Federal income tax liability at year-end. Select the assets you intend to give. By doing this at this time of the year, you have an opportunity to consider adequately the best way to make those gifts. If you decide to make a gift of stock to Barium Springs Home for Children, request your stock certificates now. One of the situations that causes many of our donors difficulty is their attempt to get stock out of the brokerage accounts only a few days before the end of the year. It will generally take six to eight weeks for your broker to deliver your certificates to you. By having the certificates in hand, you can make your gift with much less difficulty and expense. You will also have the added flexibility of determining the exact date you wish to gift the stock to Barium Springs Home for Children to take advantage of price fluctuation on the underlying asset. You will be able to utilize the full value of the stock on the date you make the donation.

If one of your gift possibilities is real property, you need to know that you must have the property appraised within six months of the time you make the gift. A qualified appraisal at this time, or earlier, may help you determine whether or not it is an appropriate gift asset and will allow extra time to select a different gifting option if your original choice is unacceptable.

In order to assist you in planning for year-end giving, the following instructions dictated by the Internal Revenue Service must be followed to "complete" your gift for income tax purposes:

1. Personal property, which includes furnishings, artwork, automotive equipment, etc., must be under the dominion and control of the charitable organization for the gift to be complete.
2. Stocks, bonds, or other securities must be endorsed by the donor and transmitted to Barium Springs Home for Children before December 31. If given to a broker, the securities must be transferred into the name of the charity by December 31.
3. Deeds to real property must be dated and delivered to Barium Springs Home for Children by December 31 and the donor must have proof of delivery (i.e. a certified letter). The deed does not have to be recorded prior to December 31. We are very willing to accept your gifts at any time. However, sometimes in the hurry of the end of the year, these matters get overlooked and become difficult to handle "at the last minute".

Our Director of Development, Mr. Reade Baker, can assist you. He is trained to provide guidance in these very important considerations. For more information or a personal visit about these and other ways you can help Barium Springs Home for Children, please feel free to call Mr. Baker at (704) 872-4157. Or send in the coupon below requesting information and/or a visit to: Mr. Reade Baker, Barium Springs Home for Children, Post Office Box 1, Barium Springs, N.C. 28010.

HOMEcoming, 1989

One of the things we enjoy most is family reunions. Reminiscing with siblings, cousins, parents, grandparents...looking at old photographs and other memorabilia... walking around familiar places...

But what about those who grow up without – or apart from – their families; those who do not have the history and tradition to re-live? The people with whom they do grow up become a kind of family; a family with many members and much history and tradition.

Jerry Miller signing prints.

That is why Barium Springs Home for Children has Homecoming the first weekend in August each year. On August 5 and 6 of this year, about 400 Barium Springs Alumni returned to campus to renew old friendships, reminisce, and visit the Alumni Museum to look at old photographs, Yearbooks and Barium Messengers.

Most of the buildings that these Alumni lived in, ate in, went to school in, have been torn down and replaced with newer structures.

In order to preserve the memory of those buildings, the Alumni Association commissioned Raleigh artist Jerry Miller in 1987 to do pen and ink drawings of each of the buildings using old photographs. Twenty drawings are currently hanging in the Alumni Museum, plus a collage of 16 of the buildings. Prints of these drawings were available to order in 1988 and 1989 in certain issues of the Barium Messenger. Jerry Miller attended Homecoming on Saturday to personally autograph prints and to present a framed collage to the Home.

Looking at photos from days-gone-by.

On Sunday, after attending Little Joe's Presbyterian Church, lunch, and an Alumni Association meeting, Alumni returned to their homes, some going as far south as Florida, others as far west as California, but all vowing to return again next year to see the ones they love.

THANKSGIVING

(Continued from Page 1) member. Posters, bulletin inserts and offering envelopes will be mailed to the churches the last two weeks of October. Church pastors, secretaries or treasurers are asked to be on the lookout for the materials, and if they are not received by November 10, to please notify the Home.

As members of the Presbyterian Church, please do not miss this opportunity to change the lives of children and families. Let these children know that you are there, and that you care.

BARIUM SLIDE-SHOW AVAILABLE

Barium Springs Home for Children has just completed an agency slide-show. This is a wonderful way to show the members of your church, and other interested groups, how this arm of the church ministers to families and children in crisis.

The 12-minute slide-show is available to you on request. A member of the staff will gladly come to your church or organization to discuss the Home's activities and answer any questions.

BARIUM ALUMNI NEWS

Mrs. McEwan is survived by her brother, Sam Bernardo of Fayetteville; and sister, Miss Hilda Bernardo of Charlotte.

Ricky Eugene Greenwood, Jr. died Wednesday, September 13, 1989 in Raleigh, North Carolina. He was 20 years old.

Ricky was a student in Sanford cottage in 1983. He is survived by his mother, Debbie Greenwood, whose address is: 7731 Falcon Rest Circle, Raleigh, N.C. 27615.

Mr. Lloyd Parks Edwards, 83, of Statesville, died August 6, 1989. He was born in Iredell County on July 19, 1906 and attended Statesville City Schools and Barium Springs Home for Children's School.

Mr. Edwards was well-known in this area for typesetting. He had worked for the Statesville Daily, the Landmark, the Mooresville Enterprise, and Carolina Linotype Co. in Charlotte. He also operated his own company, Piedmont Typesetting, from which he retired in 1973.

Mr. Edwards was married to the former Lacy Beatrice James, who preceded him in death in 1987. Surviving him are one son, David F. (Bucky) Edwards of Statesville; one daughter, Dottie E. Gaither, also of Statesville; and three grandchildren.

About 50 members and spouses of the Class of 1939 had a 50th reunion in Wilmington on Oct. 27, 28, and 29. Lots of fun was had by all!

We are very grateful for how the Lord works through the Home and know you will be too. Call Reade Baker, Director of Development, at 704/872-4157 to schedule a presentation at your Sunday night suppers, meetings of the Women of the Church and Men's Bible Classes, Sunday School classes, etc. You need to see this ministry in action to fully understand its service to families and children in need.

DAMAGE FROM HURRICANE HUGO

This is just one of the 51 trees lost on the lawns of Barium Springs during Hurricane Hugo. Fortunately, no one was hurt during the storm, although there was damage to some of the buildings, and the Home was without power for seven days.

The roof of Cannon Cottage at the Pre-Adolescent Center was damaged when a large tree fell on it. Other damage occurred to roofs on Howard Cottage at the Adolescent Center, the gymnasium, a two-story storage building, and several campus houses and apartments.

BARIUM CAMPUS NEWS

ADOLESCENT CENTER

A resident of the Preparation for Adult Living Program (PAL) of the Adolescent Center received two scholarships in August.

Stephen Johnson has received a Pell Grant for the academic year which will cover costs of tuition, fees, registration, books and activities. He has also been awarded scholarship assistance from the Home to supplement the income from his part-time job for his personal expenses, such as food, clothing and medical insurance.

Stephen graduated from South Irledell High School in June and is attending Mitchell Community College while working part-time. He plans to continue living at the PAL program for at least the first year of college. He hopes to eventually transfer to a four-year college and get a degree in criminal justice.

During the next year the PAL staff will continue to help Stephen prepare for the independence and responsibilities he will receive once he goes away to college and is on his own.

PRE-ADOLESCENT CENTER

Four boys and four staff from Cannon Cottage in the Pre-Adolescent Center went on a camping/sight-seeing tour in Washington, D.C. July 18 - 21.

The cottage had been saving for the trip since the beginning of the budget year in October, 1988. It took team effort for the staff and children to save enough money in the cottage budget for the trip.

Instead of staying in a costly motel, the group camped in tents in a nearby campground. This gave everyone a chance to learn camping skills. The boys practiced pitching their tent for weeks before the scheduled trip.

The group was up by 7 a.m. each morning and sightseeing by 8. They visited the Ford Theatre, Natural Museum of History, Smithsonian Space Museum, Arlington Cemetery, Washington Monument, Lincoln Memorial, Library of Congress, Supreme Court, Vietnam Memorial Wall, toured the White House and Capitol, and listened to a Congressional Session at the Capitol.

The campus enjoyed watching a balloon launch behind the FCDC in September. The balloonists were in Statesville for the annual National Balloon Rally.

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance Program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS:

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. The amount is not mentioned.

CANNON FUNDS BRING CHEER

In 1989 the monies received for Christmas from the Joseph F. Cannon Christmas Trust were once again put to good use by each of the Home's three programs.

Cannon, in a will dated 1932, set up a trust naming 10 North Carolina institutions, including Barium Springs, to receive 10 percent of the trust's annual income. The only stipulation of the funds is that they be used to bring "happiness and cheer" to the children at Christmas time.

The funds are divided between the Adolescent Center, Pre-Adolescent Center and Family and Child Development Center and are used to buy Christmas decorations and wrapping paper, to buy a nice individual gift for each child, and to pay for Christmas activities for the children.

The Adolescent Center used part of their money to treat the children to a pizza lunch and a movie. Cottage staff picked out gifts for each child in their cottage and some of the money was also used to buy new books for the Adolescent Center school.

The Pre-Adolescent Center children made luminaires to line the sidewalks between their cottages. They gathered around their live Christmas tree, which they decorated with ornaments they made out of popcorn, cranberries, cereal and bird seed, and sang Christmas carols before returning to their cottages and opening their individual gifts. The Center used some of the funds to buy new books for the Pre-Adolescent Center school library.

PROUD TO BE COA ACCREDITED!

ALUMNUS' SON GIVES THANKS FOR BARIUM

We got out of the car on this sweltering August Sunday morning, and the first person I recognized was a guy who was one of my dad's closest friends in the orphanage. Dad said he'd been a football hero on campus over 50 years before.

The smile was the same, but the body was slow and fragile. My family and I had returned to Barium, the place where my father was raised after his own dad died of cancer when he was still a very young man. My grandmother Jessup had too many young'uns and not enough money to feed the whole crowd, so the Barium Springs Orphanage sponsored by the Presbyterian Church took three of the oldest, and there they stayed until graduating from high school.

When I was growing up, our family never missed a Homecoming at Barium Springs. All my dad's friends would be there, and their children became like cousins to me, for they were in a sense part of my family since our fathers were raised together. I remember the long tables of food after church, the "sweat" bees constantly hovering over my potato salad, and the cold

One parent – mid-teen son – early-teen daughter – neighbors report loud, angry arguments and pass judgement on one or all without considering the stress all must be experiencing.

Mother works long hours to sustain the family and household. Children are unsupervised. Someone must do the housekeeping, grocery shopping, grass cutting, laundry, cooking, auto maintenance, etc., all of the minor chores and major tasks necessary to home life.

Small wonder that so many families break down. Help is available to see the family through the stress, but is seldom sought until the rupture occurs and the family is separated. We must find ways to enable them to seek help earlier when saving the family unit is more likely.

Seven Ways to Help Barium Springs Home for Children

Today, with ever-changing tax laws and a volatile economy, financial planning is no longer a luxury. It is a necessity. By establishing a program of planned giving to Barium Springs Home for Children you can arrange your assets to benefit you, your family, and a worthwhile charitable organization.

There are many different methods that may be used to accomplish your goal of supporting Barium Springs Home for Children. The following are some of the options available:

1. Annuity Trust – You may transfer cash, securities, or other property into an irrevocable trust and direct that a fixed annual amount be paid to you for as long as you live. At your death, the same amount may be paid to any surviving beneficiary with the principal of the trust bequeathed to Barium Springs Home for Children at their death.

2. Unitrust – This works in much the same way as an annuity trust with the exception of the amount of income you would receive. This amount would vary annually based upon a percentage of the trust's fair market value as determined each year.

3. Revocable Living Trust – You may not want to permanently bequeath your assets to a trust. A revocable trust allows you to alter or revoke the trust based upon your personal desires. After the last beneficiaries death, the principal and income is gifted to Barium Springs Home for Children.

4. Pooled Income Fund – This is a variation of a basic trust. Your assets are pooled with other donors and your gift is assigned a number of units proportionate to its fair market value. The value of a unit will vary with the market value of the fund's assets. Your income is based on the number of units you hold and the performance of the fund during the year.

5. Charitable Gift Annuity – You may donate an asset to Barium Springs Home for Children and they in return, will pay you a fixed amount each year. The income you receive is determined by the value of the asset, your age, and the life expectancy of any other beneficiary. A deferred annuity is also available, which would allow you to receive income at a future date, such as your retirement.

6. Gift of Insurance – Barium Springs Home for Children is named either the owner or beneficiary of an insurance policy. This may be accomplished with an existing policy or a new policy may be purchased. Thus, for a relatively low cost, a significant benefit may be realized.

7. Wills and Bequests – If you want your wishes met and your estate distributed according to your desires, you must have a will. This instrument can include bequests to Barium Springs Home for Children as well as providing for your family.

Before committing to any of the above alternatives, please consult with your financial advisor to determine the best plan of your particular situation.

Our Director of Development, Mr. Reade Baker, can assist you. He is trained to provide guidance in these very important considerations. For more information or a personal visit about these and other ways you can help Barium Springs Home for Children, please feel free to call Mr. Baker at (704) 872-4157. # 1989 GIFT SOCIETY MEMBERS

Since its founding nearly 100 years ago, Barium Springs has benefited from the generosity of thousands of Presbyterians and others whose gifts have helped sustain the Home's important ministry. Barium Springs has also benefited from the dedicated service of staff members and leaders who have devoted their lives to the loving nurture of those the Home has served.

Therefore, it is altogether appropriate to recognize the exceptional contributions of four individuals from Barium Springs' past by naming the Home's individual gift clubs in their honor. The four – Jethro Rumble, Joe Johnston, Rebekah Carpenter, and Buck Jackins – truly exemplify the loving, giving spirit that has sustained Barium Springs throughout its history.

Your gift to Barium Springs make you an active participant in its Christian ministry which exerts an enormous positive influence of the children, adolescents, and families served.

CANNON FUNDS BRING CHEER

The Family and Child Development Center had a Christmas Open House so children could bring their parents to see all the decorations they made for their classrooms. Each child received an individual gift delivered by Santa Claus. Some of the funds were also used to buy materials which the children will enjoy all year.

In addition to these activities and gifts, the three programs got together and set aside some of their monies to buy things that children from all three programs could use, such as a video camera, picnic tables for the area around the pond on campus, and a new air conditioner for the "Hub", an area in the basement of the gym that has recently been renovated for the children to use for indoor activities and parties.

ALUMNI SON GIVES THANKS FOR BARIUM

lemonade which was kept in a huge ceramic pot over by the dessert table. I rode my first Model T at one of these gatherings, kissed my first girl, and learned my first lessons about how friends should keep in touch after childhood.

My sisters and I have our own families now, so because of busy schedules and other seemingly important obligations, we got out of the habit of going back to Homecoming at Barium with dad. This year, they invited me to preach at the 11 A.M. worship service and I was honored to be asked.

Looking over the aging crowd and realizing that these childhood friends of my father had grandchildren of their own now, I thought about all the Homecomings I'd attended in the past, and wondered where all my friends were, and what they were doing with their lives. But even more than this, I thought about the church, and how my own denomination has been ministering to young people at the Nazareth Children's Home for decades, and how other denominations built similar homes over the years in order to love and raise children who'd received nothing but bad breaks over the course of what should have been the happiest years of their lives.

Late in the afternoon before returning home, I watched my father sitting in a chair going over some old and worn high school annuals from the 1930's with his grandson. Boy and man stared intently at each photo, and laughed at the clothing and the leather helmets worn by the football team. The youngest of this pair got a kick out of reading scores in 1936 and 1937 when Lexington beat Barium Springs in football two years in a row. The oldest of the pair got a kick out of pointing to a picture of himself taken when he was the same age as his grandson is now.

Going back to Homecoming at Barium gave me a renewed sense of appreciation for churches and individuals who made homes like this possible. Had this particular home not existed when my grandfather Nathan Andrew died, I don't know what would have happened to my dad. So thanks Lord, for this place...which is sacred to my father, and remains special to me as well. And thanks for homes like it everywhere, where people believe children are not only worth saving, but worth loving too.

Reprinted from the Lexington Dispatch with permission from the author, the Reverend Lee Jessup, pastor of the First Reformed United Church of Christ in Lexington. Rev. Jessup is the son of Barium Alumnus Dalma Lee Jessup, Class of 1939.

TEACHER WINS GRANT

Joyce Shepard, teacher for Goodman cottage at the Adolescent Center School, was one of four Iredell County teachers, chosen from 94 applicants, to win a $400 grant from the First American Savings Bank for use in a special teaching project this year.

A local newspaper article challenged teachers to submit an idea for a field trip or project that they would like to do for their children, but didn't have the money available to cover expenses. A panel of local citizens judged the projects and selected four.

Joyce teaches English, biology and physical education at the Adolescent Center School, and plans to use the grant to create a science lab there.

She explained in her letter requesting the grant that the school recently received its first up-to-date biology books, but lacks a lab and basic equipment. New books are very expensive and the school can really only afford to update texts for one subject at a time during each fiscal year. Joyce felt that since the students now have updated material to learn from, they also needed the proper equipment to test out what they've learned.

Joyce teaching a class.

Orders have already been placed for test tubes and racks, prepared slides, measuring equipment and a new microscope for the lab. Joyce, and Deborah Ramseur, also a biology teacher for the Adolescent Center, will be able to use the new lab and equipment to help their students learn more about biology through experiments and demonstrations.

The lab will be a wonderful learning place for the children of the Adolescent Center school for years to come, thanks to Joyce's initiative and effort.

STAFF INVOLVED IN IMPROVING CHILD CARE

A part of Barium Springs Home for Children's Statement of Purpose is for agency and staff to be involved with training, outside agencies, and professional organizations to the benefit of the child care field, the Home and staff, and the children and their families.

Agency membership and staff involvement in organizations such as the National Association of Homes for Children (NAHC), the North Carolina Child Care Association (NCCCA), the North Carolina Day Care Association (NCDCA), or the Iredell County Day Care Association (ICDCA), allow learning and sharing with other child care agencies on a national, state and local level.

NAHC

The NAHC was formed in April of 1975 to give residential child care agencies a national organization through which to influence public policy in the best interests of the care and development of children.

Barium Springs Home for Children is a member agency of the NAHC and recently had two employees elected to committees.

Executive Director Earle Frazier is the southern regional representative to NAHC's Membership Committee. The purpose of this committee is to solicit and cultivate new members for the Association through its eight representatives from different regions of the country.

Barium's Campus Administrator Rochelle Haimes is a member of the Standards and Ethics Committee. The purpose of this committee is to serve as a Liason to the Accreditation process, to monitor the standards for accreditation, and to mediate any concerns and conflicts between member agencies and the Council On Accreditation (COA) or the Board of the NAHC.

NCCCA

The NCCCA unites its 26 voluntary not-for-profit child care agencies in their efforts to improve services and care for children, to improve the skills of child care professionals, to speak collectively regarding child welfare issues, and to develop material and human resources necessary to provide quality services.

BSHC is a charter member agency of the NCCCA and recently had 6 employees appointed to various committees.

Earle Frazier is Chair of the Nominating Committee, which selects nominees for annually-appointed offices.

Rochelle Haimes was appointed to a two-year term on the Awards Committee. This committee implements plans for annually recognizing outstanding individuals in the member agencies.

Abe Wilkinson, Director of the Adolescent Center, has been appointed Chair of the Education Liason Committee, which is responsible for keeping abreast of and informing member agencies about legislation, regulations, and funding issues that might affect the educational programs of member agencies.

Bruce Steadman, Assistant Director at the Adolescent Center, was appointed a two-year term on the DHR (Department of Human Resources) Liason Committee. This committee keeps abreast of and informs member agencies about changes in governmental funding, minimum standards, licensing procedures and other matters affecting child care agencies through contacts in the N.C. DHR and other governmental agencies affecting child care services.

Greg Samuels, Cottage Coordinator for Cannon Cottage in the Pre-Adolescent Center, was appointed to a two-year term on the Program Committee. The NCCCA sponsors an annual training conference in May at Camp Caraway. The Program committee recommends workshops, agenda, budget, and personnel, and implements those plans once they are approved by the NCCCA Executive Committee.

Miriam Johnson, Director of the Pre-Adolescent Center, was appointed a two-year term on the Research Committee. This committee identifies and informs member agencies about practice-oriented research, research projects, or gaps in research in relation to the child care field.

NCDCA

The NCDCA was created to unite day care centers across the state in an effort to influence legislature, increase staff knowledge of child development, and improve the quality of day care that children and families receive.

Fran Oliver, Director of the Family and Child Development Center, is a member of the NCDCA and was recently appointed as its Treasurer.

Oliver is also Vice President of the Iredell County Day Care Association (CDCA) and will be serving as President next year. Kim Mitcham, Secretary at the FCDC, is serving her second term as Treasurer for the ICDCA.

All of these organizations offer valuable training and information to their members which will sharpen agency purpose and improve staff performance, which in turn will provide better services to the children and families of North Carolina.

Barium Springs is proud that many of our employees are providing leadership to a variety of local, state, and national organizations for the good of children and families.

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance Program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS:

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. The amount is not mentioned.

VOL. 67

BARIUM SPRINGS, NORTH CAROLINA, SPRING, 1990

BARIUM YOUTH HOPES TO STUDY IN FRANCE

The following proposal was submitted to the Administration of Barium Springs Home for Children by Larry Wayne Buie, a resident of the Preparation for Adult Living program at the Home.

In this proposal Larry requests support from the Home to participate this summer in "A taste of France", an educational and cultural trip to France sponsored by the American Council for International Studies (ACIS).

"Even as a young child I was fascinated by French architecture, the romance of the language, and I have dreamed of the beautiful countrysides. It is also hard for me to get the pictures of the Swiss Alps and the rolling hills of France out of my mind.

An opportunity has finally come my way to receive "A taste of France." If I get this opportunity I will be able to experience places like l'Arc de Triomphe, a memorial for Napoleon; the Eiffel Tower, which overlooks Paris; the Louvre, the biggest and most fascinating art museum in the world; the Champs Elysee; and the French Riviera. Most importantly I will also be able to gain first-hand insight on the French culture, the history, the people, and the language itself.

My experience in France is intended to be educational and culturally motivated. My studies will encompass academic work in the French language and culture at the Universite deCan- nes. This educational program will include about five hours of class work per day. (Continued on Page 4)

CENTER RAISES MONEY FOR MARCH OF DIMES

DUKE ENDOWMENT FUNDS AWARDED

Barium Springs Home for Children was one of 45 child-care institutions in North and South Carolina to be awarded an operating grant from the Duke Endowment.

Grants totaling $3,261,631 were awarded to 177 hospitals and 45 child-care institutions in North and South Carolina by the Endowment's trustees at their March meeting.

Robert A. Mayer, II, director of the Endowment's Child Care Division, said that these funds are awarded every year to children's homes to support general operating funds because many foundations and other funding sources are reluctant to make grants for day-to-day expenses.

The Endowment also awards grants to children's homes in the Carolinas for capital and program support. In 1989, the total of these additional grants was nearly $1 million.

The annual hospital grants, which help cover costs of caring for the poor, are increasingly important to hospitals as the problem of indigent care continues to get worse.

Barium Springs has been a beneficiary of the Endowment since 1924. In fiscal year 1990, the Home received about $56,000, which is just under two percent of its total budget.

August 4th & 5th

Looking forward to seeing YOU!

... Or So It Seems

W. Earle Frazier
ACSW
Executive Director

My wife and I were in England recently doing some research on her family. We had identified her Great Great Grandfather and wanted to make connection with some of his descendants.

As we were busy with the project, I recalled a young woman here a few years ago who was so terribly excited and pleased to learn who her father was and how her mother died.

We, who know so much about our families, yearn for more information. Some know so little and, therefore, NEED information about their roots.

We believe that a most important part of helping children and youth is to help them maintain and strengthen ties with family. And if knowledge about family is lacking, that is where we must start.

ENDOWMENTS IMMORTALIZE LOVED ONES

A Memorial Endowment from Barium Springs Home for Children keeps the memory of loved ones alive, while also helping the young men and women at Barium Springs Home for Children.

A Barium Springs Memorial Endowment can be created by giving $1,000 or more to the Home in someone's name. Family and friends can continue to add to the Endowment at any time.

Interest from a Memorial Endowment goes into the Home's general operating funds, unless the Endowment's creator stipulates otherwise.

Presently, there are four Memorial Endowments keeping the memory of loved ones alive at Barium. The most recent was set up by Dr. Nat K. Reiney, former director of Barium Springs Home for Children (1966 to 1976), for his wife, Allie Cromwell Reiney, who died on September 7, 1989, in Roswell, Georgia.

The three other Memorial Endowments to Barium Springs are: the Albert Broadus Hamilton, III Memorial Endowment, created by Mr. and Mrs. A. Broadus Hamilton, Jr.; the Dana (Danny) Armstrong Memorial Endowment, created by family and friends; and the Milton J. Gaskill Memorial Endowment, also created by family and friends.

Anyone wishing to make a contribution to these funds, or interested in setting up a Memorial Endowment, may do so by sending their gift, along with the name of the Endowment, to Barium Springs Home for Children, P.O. Box 1, Barium Springs, N.C. 28010.

SLIDE SHOW AVAILABLE

The 12-minute Barium Springs Home for Children slide-show is available to church groups, or other interested groups, on request.

A member of the staff will gladly come to your church or organization to discuss the Home's activities and answer any questions.

Call Reade Baker, Director of Development, at 704/872-4157 to schedule a presentation at your Sunday night suppers, meetings of the Presbyterian Women and Men's Bible Classes, Sunday School classes, etc. You need to see this ministry in action to fully understand its service to families and children in need.

Alternatives to Retirement Plans

Due to the many changes in the laws that govern retirement plans, many people are questioning whether or not they should continue to fund their retirement plans to the extent they have funded them in the past. There are several reasons that retirement plans may not be as attractive for some people as they once were. For instance, it is more difficult for the owner of a small business to have a retirement plan that benefits him more than it benefits his employees. Also, the amount that is contributed to a defined contribution plan cannot be as large as it used to be in prior years. In addition, many taxpayers no longer qualify for full deductibility of their individual retirement account contributions. For these reasons, many people are looking for alternatives to provide income in retirement.

If a potential donor to Barium Springs Home for Children wishes to consider an alternative to this retirement plan, he has several options available for reinvesting the amount of money that he would normally contribute to the retirement plan. Let's look at some of the alternatives, and their pros and cons.

The small business owner could give himself the money as a bonus and then invest the net after-tax amount into an investment that generates a high after-tax return. While this option would continue to give his business a deduction, he still has to pay taxes on these funds at the individual level. This option will probably result in paying more taxes than before, which is not a very attractive option. Another benefit that would be lost is the tax deferred compounding of income generated inside a qualified retirement plan.

There is an option that would allow you to have your company bonus the money to you, whereby you receive a charitable deduction at the individual level, and defer taxation of the income generated by the bonus and provide a significant future benefit to the Barium Springs Home for Children. These advantages can be obtained by using a charitable remainder unitrust. Under this type of plan, a person establishes a trust for which he, or someone he designates, is the income beneficiary of the trust for his or her lifetime. If you are married, the income can be set up to last until the death of both you and your spouse. When the income beneficiary dies, the principal of the trust goes to Barium Springs Home for Children. Note that if you establish the trust you may be able to deduct a portion of the principal contributed to the trust on your individual income tax return. The amount you are able to deduct is based upon the age of the income beneficiary and the rate of income he or she receives.

One of the main benefits of a charitable remainder unitrust is the amount which can be contributed to the trust isn't limited in any way. For example, you could set up a charitable remainder trust and contribute $150,000 a year without any of the retirement plan limitations. Another benefit of a charitable remainder unitrust is that the trust's assets and accumulated income may be protected from professional liability suits, which makes this alternative worthy of consideration by those in professions typically subject to professional liability claims.

Since the income in the charitable remainder trust may be tax-free, your trustee will be able to take advantage of flexible investment strategies. The trust can be structured to ensure income isn't paid out until your retirement, or you can start receiving a regular income for life the month after your charitable remainder trust is established.

If you do consider the use of a charitable remainder unitrust as an alternative to or as a supplement to a retirement plan, please consider Barium Springs Home for Children as a recipient of your generosity. As with any charitable giving alternative, please consult your financial advisor to determine if this option is appropriate for your situation.

Our Director of Development, Mr. Reade Baker, can assist you. He is trained to provide guidance in these very important considerations. Please feel free to call Mr. Baker at (704) 872-4157. Or send in the coupon below requesting information and/or a visit to:

BARIUM YOUTH HOPES TO STUDY IN FRANCE

I have begun this endeavor by contacting all the private resources that are known to me at this time. This is a search I will continue until I achieve my goal. I am making a sincere request that Barium Springs Home for Children might offset some of the expenses for my project.

I hope to gain from this experience a broad understanding of a culture other than my own. If this trip to France materializes, then it is my hope to put together a program and slide presentation, which deals with what I have gained from my experience, for Barium Springs. I hope to share this with the students and also the staff of Barium Springs Home for Children.

Thanks for any consideration.
Larry Wayne Buie,
Howard Cottage, PAL Program"

Larry is working hard to raise the $3,262 that the trip to France will cost. He has saved $427 himself, working at a part-time job. He has also received a $1,000 grant from the Home and $581 from family and friends, leaving a balance of $1,254 still to raise before he can get his "taste of France."

Larry came to the PAL Program in April of 1989. With help from the PAL staff, commitment, and hard work, Larry has made some very sound goals and plans for his future. He is currently a Junior at South Iredell High School. He plans to remain at PAL until he graduates from high school in the spring of 1991, and then would like to attend either the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, or Baylor University in Waco, Texas, to get an undergraduate degree in psychology.

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance Program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS:

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. The amount is not mentioned.

1990 GRADUATE WANTS TO HELP OTHERS

"The PAL (Preparation for Adult Living) program helped me to finish high school," said LeMenniae Camack, the program's only graduate in 1990. "I had the discipline to finish, but nowhere to live in order to do so."

The PAL program, part of the Adolescent Center, is for older youth (ages 16 to 20) who experience less significant social, emotional or academic problems than youth in the Adolescent Center, but who need specialized guidance and programming to help them prepare for adulthood.

PAL youth attend public school, hold part-time jobs, and form relationships in the community while meeting program expectations. They learn certain life skills, such as maintaining checking and savings accounts, interviewing for jobs or college, fixing nutritious and economic meals, and many other everyday tasks which they will have to perform when they are on their own.

LeMenniae Camack

LeMenniae came to the PAL program in July 1989. She attended South Iredell High School, where she graduated June 8, 1990. Her plans for the future include two years at a local community college; then she hopes to transfer to the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, where she would like to study psychology.

"I know how it feels to be abused," said LeMenniae. "I'd like to get a degree in psychology, and then maybe I could help other kids who were abused too."

LeMenniae praised PAL Residential Counselors Lynn Gamble and Bob Shamrock.

"Ms. Gamble has been there for me," said LeMenniae. "She's not judgmental, yet she's stern when she needs to be. And Mr. Shamrock has been like a father to me. He preaches a little too much, but I love him anyway."

LeMenniae enjoys writing. She has written over 300 poems since the age of 14, and is writing an autobiography, which she has proudly titled "Scared of Tomorrow: Should I Live or Should I Die?"

"I've decided to live," she says. "Maybe I can make a difference for others who feel the way I've felt in the past."

BOSS OF THE YEAR

SUPPORT GROUP HELPS FAMILIES

Troubled families often feel singled out...like they are the only ones who have ever had problems. Parents feel alone in their struggle to get help. They feel that they have no one to talk to who would understand...who has gone through the same thing.

In order to help the families they serve, the Pre-Adolescent and Adolescent Centers have begun a Family Support Group, which meets one Sunday evening a month at the Home.

The main purpose of this group is to help our families see that others have similar problems...that they are not

... Or So It Seems

ACS
Executive Director

A letter from a Department of Social Services worker was very complimentary of our work with a youngster they placed with us. Such expressions are always appreciated but this one was special.

The youngster made no obvious progress, was removed for a more restrictive placement, and is expected to remain in that setting. Yet, the worker was most appreciative of the efforts of our staff and expressed the feeling that they could move the child with full confidence that every opportunity for progress had been provided.

It is not easy to measure the success of our work. It is harder still to fail miserably in our efforts to help. Yet, we need to remind ourselves often that we are laborers in the field and not Lords of the harvest.

Our thanks go to the worker who recognized and affirmed the quality of our labor.

BLACKMON CHOSEN CCW OF YEAR

Children at the North Carolina Child Care Association (NCCCA) annual training conference, which was held May 1 through 3 at Camp Caraway, in Asheboro, North Carolina.

Mr. Earl Blackmon, residential coordinator at Grannis Cottage in the Adolescent Center, was named Co-Child Care Worker of the Year during the awards ceremony at the conference.

The award, which is usually presented to only one person, was tied between two exceptional child care workers this year, so they both received the distinction of being Child Care Worker of the Year. Elouise Brown, of the Children's Home in Winston-Salem, was co-recipient of the award.

CHARTING YOUR FINANCIAL COURSE

Why do we give what we give?

As we have discussed in previous issues, charitable giving to Barium Springs Home for Children can be accomplished in many ways. While we have provided information on funding alternatives, many have not actually examined what motivates them to establish a planned giving program. Deciding to enter a charitable giving program may not be clear-cut or easy. We may question our motives and reasons for giving, discussing the pros and cons with others. But eventually, we must decide to seize the opportunity to offer ourselves and our resources.

As citizens of the United States, we have enjoyed the benefits of freedom of expression and choice as an integral component of our heritage. However, when we closely examine the choices we have made, we may discover that many decisions have been made for us. They are made by external circumstances beyond our control such as genetics, environment, and codes of behavior. If we reflect upon the events and people that have influenced our lives, we find they are characterized by high moral values and principles. It is these experiences that give meaning to our lives and it becomes our responsibility to promote these values throughout society. Therefore, when we "decide" to make a charitable contribution to Barium Springs Home for Children we are establishing the when and how of the donation. Our choices and decisions have been guided by the moral principles and events that surround us.

What are the benefits we receive by embarking on a planned giving program to Barium Springs Home for Children? First, charitable giving leads us into encounters that enrich us. We are directed away from our insular selves and exposed to other people and their needs. Charitable giving enhances our perception of those around us and helps make us aware of their needs. Secondly, charitable giving broadens our sense of responsibility. Based on our country's Judeo-

Christian heritage, we must love our neighbors as ourselves and do unto others as we would have them do unto us. When we behave responsibly toward each other, we are rewarded by receiving new meaning and direction to our lives. The third benefit of charitable giving is the pleasure we receive from sharing our resources to help others. We can take satisfaction in knowing our contribution will enable programs to be implemented, staff to be trained, and children to be nurtured. We are a part of the continual evolution of Barium Springs Home for Children and can feel good about our involvement.

In the words of poet Kahlil Gibran:

"There are those who give little of the much which they have – and they give it for recognition, and their hidden desire makes their gifts unwholesome. And there are those who have little and give it all. These are the believers in life and the bounty of life and their coffer is never empty. There are those who give with joy and that joy is their reward. And there are those who give with pain and their pain is their baptism."

A fourth benefit of charitable giving is the tax savings it can create. We usually concentrate in articles on this page on the potential income and/or estate tax savings that can be realized by instituting a planned giving program. These tax benefits are a result of your giving and not the main reason to support Barium Springs Home for Children.

It is important to take advantage of the tax benefits available to you. However, let your contribution to Barium Springs Home for Children affirm your belief in life, and give joy.

SUPPORT GROUP HELPS FAMILIES

alone. It gives them someone to talk to who might be able to offer support through experience.

Each month a staff member volunteers to lead the group in a discussion of a topic chosen either by someone in the group or by the staff. These topics vary from "how it makes you feel when you have to put a child in care" to "stress management" to "the basic needs of a family". Handouts on subjects that families have expressed an interest in are distributed, and staff sometimes do skits or presentations to demonstrate how children are helped in the Center's program.

A few times a year these meetings will be purely social, such as a pool party or Christmas party. This will give the families a chance to get to know each other better in a relaxed setting. Other times the meetings will be purely informational, with a guest speaker to address a certain topic concerning family issues.

But for the most part, these meetings will give parents a place where they can speak out, ask questions, agree or disagree, on issues concerning their children and families. Whether the topic be drugs, school, employment, stress, finances, girls with purple hair or boys with earrings, it gives parents someone to talk to who has been through, or is going through the same problems.

SLIDE SHOW AVAILABLE

The 12-minute Barium Springs Home for Children slide-show is available to church groups, or other interested groups, on request.

A member of the staff will gladly come to your church or organization to discuss the Home's activities and answer any questions.

Call Reade Baker, Director of Development, at 704/872-4157 to schedule a presentation at your Sunday night suppers, meetings of the Presbyterian Women and Men's Bible Classes, Sunday School classes, etc. You need to see this ministry in action to fully understand its service to families and children in need.

SOCGER INSTRUCTOR DONATES TIME

Greg Bannerman, from Aberdeen, Scotland, spent a better part of his three-week vacation in the U.S. teaching soccer tips to the youth at the Adolescent Center.

Bannerman was riding through Barium Springs when he noticed the soccer field. He went to the Adolescent Center where he spoke with Joyce Shepard, a teacher at the Center school who coaches the Barium soccer team, about donating his services to the Home as a soccer instructor during his stay.

Bannerman worked with an average of 12 boys and girls at the Center for an hour a day, three days a week, on their skills and game strategies. Some of these youth played for Select soccer teams in their communities.

Shepard said that the youths had learned a great deal about soccer from Greg, and also a great deal about comradery and team spirit.

"The change in them when they get involved in something they enjoy is remarkable," said Bannerman. "They let barriers drop when they get on the soccer field, and they learn how to help each other out in a common goal instead of shutting everyone out."

Bannerman began playing soccer when he was 4 or 5, but he had no one to help him practice, so he taught his collie how to return the ball to him. Since then, he's tried to help interested children when he can.

At the age of 15, Bannerman played for the British Army. Later he played in the Highland League, a semi-professional soccer league in Scotland.

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance Program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS:

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. The amount is not mentioned.

BARIUM MESSENGER

PUBLICATION OF BARIUM SPRINGS HOME FOR CHILDREN

A Presbyterian Family Service Agency—Owned and Operated by The Presbyterian Church, (USA), Synod of The Mid-Atlantic

VOL. 67

BARIUM SPRINGS, NORTH CAROLINA, FALL 1990

No. 4

HELP US CELEBRATE 100 YEARS OF CARING

Preparations are underway to help celebrate the Home's 100 years of service to North Carolina's children and families.

The following is a brief overview of a variety of events scheduled for our Centennial year. The first two of these events will take place before the next issue of the Messenger comes out in February, 1991, so please mark them on your calendar!!

More information on the rest of the events will be available in upcoming issues of this publication, and on the Home's page in the Presbyterian News.

On January 20, 1991, the Home will begin the Centennial year celebrations with a Worship Service and Open House.

At 2:30 p.m., Dr. John W. Kuykendall, President of Davidson College in Davidson, N.C., will deliver the message at the worship service at Little Joe's Presbyterian Church.

Following the service, from 3:30 to 5:00 p.m., there will be a campus-wide

Open House, beginning at the Family and Child Development Center, which is adjacent to the church. A slide-show and Centennial video will be shown, and those interested can take a tour of the programs. Refreshments will be served, and the public is invited to attend.

On February 11, 12, and 13 of 1991, if you shop at Food Lion anywhere in North Carolina and save your receipts for the children at Barium Springs Home for Children, Food Lion will give five percent of the total gross sales for those days to the Home. All you have to do is write your name and Barium Springs Home for Children on the receipts, and turn them in to your Presbyterian Church. If you have a friend who is not a member of your church, but would like to help out the Home, they may also turn in a receipt, with their name and the Home's written on it, to your church. You and your friend may each turn in up to 2 receipts from purchases made at Food Lion during those three days. A letter will be sent from the Home to North Carolina Presbyterian churches explaining what to do with the receipts at a later date. We are delighted that Food Lion is showing their leadership in caring for North Carolina's families in this way.

On April 10, 1991, the Home is sponsoring a Child and Youth Care Symposium.

The one-day symposium will be held at Bryan Park Center, just north of Greensboro, N.C. It is designed for child care workers, social workers, educators, juvenile court workers, youth advocates, politicians, lawmakers, clergy, and others who work with and have an impact on the lives of young people and their families.

The keynote speaker at the Symposium, Dr. Larry Brendtro, will address the theme: "Focus for the Future: The Challenge of Creative Collaboration in Services to Families."

It is most important that we keep up with the times which, inevitably, means change. # CHARTING YOUR FINANCIAL COURSE

Give and Ye Shall Receive

Charitable giving can be one of the most important concerns in financial and estate planning. Of course, charitable giving has been in existence since the beginning of time, but as a result of income tax law it has become an attractive means of reducing income and estate taxes and recognizing returns on appreciated assets without incurring a substantial tax liability. Recent clarifications in the structure of charitable trusts have proven this method of charitable giving a "win, win, win" situation for the donor, heirs, and the specified charity such as Barium Springs Home for Children.

The charitable remainder trust is essentially a way to sell low-income producing appreciated assets and reinvest the cash in income generating assets without paying any taxes at the time of the sale. Typically a donor might hold undervalued assets in his estate until death so his heirs will receive them at market value without triggering a capital gains tax on the difference. If you need additional income, but don't want to pay the capital gains tax to convert your low-income producing asset into an income generating investment vehicle, what do you do? The charitable remainder trust can allow you to take advantage of any income restructured assets could produce immediately.

You can donate some assets, for example a piece of real estate that produces no income but has increased in value from $10,000 to $100,000 since it was purchased, to a charitable trust. The trust, which is tax-exempt, sells the property tax-free and then buys a portfolio of securities that provides a regular income to you. Upon the death of the donor, or designated beneficiary, the assets in the trust pass directly to Barium Springs Home for Children.

You receive an immediate tax deduction, recognition from Barium Springs Home for Children, and a source of income to provide for income needs. At the donor's death, the income from the trust can be passed on to a spouse or child, with the death of the last designated beneficiary triggering the gift of principal to Barium Springs Home for Children.

At first glance, it may seem that the donor's heirs appear to have forfeited a significant portion of the estate they would have received at full market value, without paying taxes on the capital gain. However, this may be remedied by inventing a small portion of the annual income received from the trust in a life insurance contract on the donor that will pay a comparable amount upon the donor's death. Properly structured these monies can avoid estate tax too!

The most obvious advantage of the charitable trust is that it allows a donor to generate income from assets that might otherwise be difficult to sell without incurring a significant tax liability. By properly structuring the arrangement the donor can also provide for his heirs and reduce his potential estate or gift tax liability. At Barium Springs Home for Children we have access to computer software that can assist you in evaluating the use of a charitable trust in your situation without obligation.

As evidenced by the above example, a charitable remainder trust is an ideal solution in providing for a donor, his heirs, and a charitable organization such as Barium Springs Home for Children. As with any planned giving program, please consult with your financial advisor to evaluate the method appropriate for your situation.

BARIUM HOMECOMING 1990

Each Homecoming is special to the Alumni of Barium Springs Home for Children. They provide time to see old friends, to relive memories, and to be with "family".

Homecoming 1990, on August 4 and 5, was extra special to about 400 Alumni, as they used the opportunity to get together to plan for the special festivities during Homecoming in 1991, the Home's 100th year.

Admst the talk of "...how have you been?" and "what are you up to?..." was talk of "how can we make this Homecoming special?..." and "what do you think of this?"

Ideas were abundant, and finally it was decided that the group would have a dance at the local Moose Lodge and hire a band to play "big band" and "ballroom" music of the 30's, 40's and 50's.

A 1991 calendar designed by Raleigh Artist Jerry Miller was handed out to all the Alumni who registered at Homecoming this year.

The calendar includes Jerry Miller's pen and ink prints of the Home's original buildings and the dates of special events at the Home. The calendar was a big hit with the Alumni. It started and settled a lot of good-natured disagreements about the past.

Alumni are excited about the Home's Centennial Celebration in 1991. They will be very busy in the coming months, trying to help make it the best celebration it can be.

There are several different events planned for the Home's 100th year, and Barium staff are working very hard to make it an exciting year, gazing at the past while planning for the future.

The Alumni enjoying the Museum and each others company.

CENTENNIAL CALENDAR IS AVAILABLE

ADOLESCENT CENTER

"I would like to send out the warmest thank you to you. I deeply appreciate that you have enabled me with a chance to experience other cultures and to grow and mature..."

Thanks again for your support,

PRE-ADOLESCENT CENTER

The children of the Pre-Adolescent Center gained some hands-on experience in first-aid and emergency procedures during a disaster drill in which they participated on August 23.

The children arrived at the Iredell County Emergency Medical Service (EMS) in Statesville at 9 a.m. There they were told what the disaster was, what their injuries were and then were transported to Davis Hospital in ambulances.

The reported disaster was a wreck just off the interstate involving an 18-wheel tractor trailer, a school bus and school van. It appeared that the truck

HELP US CELEBRATE A CENTURY OF CARING

Throughout the year, "Centennial Celebration Dinners" will be held at selected locations convenient to all parts of the state. You will receive more information about these dinners in the coming months.

Homecoming, the first weekend in August, will be a special affair. Among other things, the Alumni are planning a special dance with a band to play "big band" and "ballroom" music of the 30's, 40's and 50's.

And finally, a complete history of the Home's 100 years, written by noted child care advocate Allen Keith-Lucas, is currently being published and will be available for purchase in the Centennial year.

All this and more will take place over the coming year. Look for more information in the upcoming issues of this publication, or call the Home for more details at 704/872-4157.

Disaster drills must be performed periodically for hospital staff in order for the hospital to keep up its accreditation. Hospital Administrators set up the drill with EMS, so hospital staff don't know when a drill will occur.

About 15 Center staff and children participated in the drill. They learned a great deal about the EMS and hospital procedures.

After the drill was over, the children were treated to lunch at the Davis Hospital cafeteria.

FAMILY & CHILD DEVELOPMENT CENTER

FCDC Director Fran Oliver began serving as President of the Iredell County Day Care Association as of October 1. She served as Vice President for the past two years and is very active in the Association's goal of improving day care in Iredell County, and of creating an awareness of the need for more day care centers in Iredell County.

The Home is proud of Fran for her accomplishment and her efforts.

SPECIAL THANKS TO...

The children, staff and Board of Regents would like to say a special thanks to:

Mr. and Mrs. James Work of Katy, Texas, for the donation of a set of 1989 World Book Encyclopedias.

Mr. and Mrs. Work also gave the Home a set of encyclopedias in 1988. The young people here are very grateful to have such nice encyclopedias to study and learn from.

Glen Pehl of Industrial Insurance Management Corporation for doing such a fine overview on our insurance package.

P & H Inc., for the donated communication services at a time of need.

Jim Staples of JTS Financial Associates in Statesville for another year of wonderful planned giving articles (Charting Your Financial Course) in the Barium Messenger.

MEMORIAL GIFTS: A Way To Say You Care

Do you have a friend or loved one you wish to remember in a special way? Barium Springs Home for Children can help you honor that certain person through our Memorial and Remembrance Program.

The program is a valuable source of income to help meet operating expenses. At the same time, it is a thoughtful way to say to a friend, relative or bereaved family that you care.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS:

MEMORIAL GIFTS are acknowledged immediately by a personal card to the bereaved family. No mention is made of the gift amount. Many find this "living memorial" more meaningful than sending flowers.

REMEMBRANCE GIFTS may be sent in honor of a birth, birthday, anniversary, graduation, illness, recovery or occasions such as Mother's Day or Father's Day. They are promptly acknowledged. The amount is not mentioned.
