

DUKE MEMORIAL MESSENGER

VOLUME XVI

AUGUST 1, 1982

NUMBER 31

Our church community had a wonderful celebration of St. Swithin's day on Sunday, July 18. We shared together in games and many desserts, ending our celebration with songs and devotions. In the meantime, Ed Hammond and Mandy Mixon were crowned King and Queen for the festivities.

It was a rare opportunity for us to remember and celebrate one of the saints of our faith. It seems in this time when heroes are scarce, we have also lost the heroes of our past. It can be very threatening to behold the heroes of our faith if we are not aspiring to follow their example. Yet the example of the saints can also provide inspiration for our lives as well. In the saints, we see how men and women have struggled to make their faith active in their lives. It is helpful to remember the saints both those of the entire Christian heritage and those of Duke Memorial. If we forget the saints, we may also lose the virtues which they practice. Certainly in the case of St. Swithin, the example of a man who could counsel the rulers of a people while remaining a saint in the Kingdom of God could well be recovered for today.

They marked the footsteps that he trod; His zeal inspired their breast.
And, following their incarnate God, they gained the promised rest.
Our glorious leader claims our praise, For his own pattern given,
While the long cloud of witnesses show the same path to heaven.
("Give Me the Wings of Faith")

-- Richard Haverly
