ABOUT THE INSTRUCTORS

Dr. Holton, a member of Duke Memorial, is Professor of Education at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. He has long been interested in the educational program of the church, and has served in many positions of leadership here.

Reverend Brogan is currently the Director of Children's Work for the Board of Education of the North Carolina Annual Conference. An experienced worker with children, he has served pastorates in Moncure, Yanceyville, and Swepsonville. His experience also includes serving as instructor and director of the Leadership Schools at Lake Junaluska. He is married, and the father of two girls. He is active in the life of his church in Raleigh, where he serves as a church school teacher.

SPECIAL NOTE

Although this course is primarily designed to help persons prepare for teaching, each one enrolled will be given an opportunity to serve, and in no way, is one obligated to serve after having been in the course.
LEADERSHIP TRAINING OPPORTUNITY for prospective workers with children

PURPOSE

This leadership training opportunity is designed to give prospective workers and other interested persons some of the basic skills and understandings with regard to working with children in the Church School setting. Goals and objectives, methods and techniques, as well as observation in classroom situations will help to achieve this purpose.

CLASS SCHEDULE

The Class will be held during the regular Church School hour on Sunday morning, beginning at 9:45 and concluding at 10:45.

The Class will meet in Room 221 in the Youth Building.

Under the proposed schedule, there will be seven Sundays; however, if after the class has met, and they would like to extend it further, this may be done.
